ATTY. GENERAL TAYLOR WRITES OF STATE PROBLEMS

Not only does the laboring man and his family lose by the failure of the state to employ a Commissioner of Immigration, Labor and Statistics, but the employer as well is likely to be adversely affected. Workers' organizations, consisting of human beings, are of course not always one hundred per cent fair in their demands. Sometimes they are played upon by irresponsible radical forces and betrayed into strikes and disturbances which are not to their own advantage, and at the same time bring loss to the capitalists.

A straightforward and honest Commissioner of Labor would make it his business to bring about a mutual understanding between employer and employee and assist them as a referee or umpire in arriving at agreement as nearly as possible fair to both. The laboring man does not understand all of the questions and responsibilities that confront the employer and the employer too often is not fully acquainted with the situations which the laborers face. The knowledge of each regarding the other could well be supplemented from the Labor Commissioner's office.

I have before me a copy of the annual report of the department of Labor of the province of British Columbia for the year 1936, in which there is an impressive array of facts regarding both labor and capital. It contains also reports of various boards and the findings of investigations with respect to labor conditions, of employment, and the progress of industry—what might be described as a world of information most useful to the provincial government in dealing with problems such as Idaho and other states must frequently meet. Our state is placing both labor and capital at a great disadvantage by failing to carry out the provisions of the statute in this respect. In a state as large as Idaho, with its far-flung activities and wide diversity of industry, a compilation of this nature would be of the utmost interest. The state maintains a Planning Board at considerable expense, to investigate various conditions, with a view to development of natural resources and governmental policies with respect thereto, yet the actual conditions with respect to labor employment and industry generally, which are so essential to good government and human happiness, are completely ignored by those who have undertaken the responsibilities of state.

It is unfortunately characteristic of a great many of our states that they devote time, effort and money to great feats of civil engineering and other branches of scientific development while they utterly ignore the insistent problems of human engineering which press upon us for solution. After all, people are more important than projects. The chief purpose of government is to promote human security and happiness. It is something of a hysteron proteron to sacrifice the result to the effort—to make the machinery more important than its operator.

We have had several strikes in Idaho lately, struggles which have brought about loss, suffering and ill will. The cost of one strike usually would be greater than the expense of conducting the office of Labor Commissioner for a number of years. It seems foolish economy to refuse the necessary expenditure for the maintenance of an office required by our law—it is really a disregard of the plain mandate of the statute for any governor to let this office remain vacant.

Clarence Hund Leaves

Clarence Hund, who has been employed at the Kendrick Garage for the past two years, resigned his place last Saturday night, and left on Wednesday morning for Los Angeles, Calif., where he will enter the Aero Industries Technical Institute for a course of eight months intensive training in aero engine mechanics and aero-sheet metal work.

This school is the training school of United Airlines, Boeing and the Curtiss-Wright airplane companies. On completion of this course he expects to be assigned to work in one of the three companies mentioned.

Sale Well Attended

The public sale held by Mrs. Fred Weyen on Monday was well attended and it was said that articles brought a fair price.

Success

The editor of a country newspaper retired with a fortune. When asked the secret of his success, he replied: "I attribute my ability to retire with a $100,000 bank balance, after thirty years in the country newspaper field, to close application to duty, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, always practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the recent death of my uncle, who left me $98,500.00."

CUDDY FAMILY HOLD RE-UNION AT FAMILY HOME

Seventy-eight members of the Cuddy family and old-time friends met at C. A. Cuddy home, one and a half miles east of Southwick last Thursday for a picnic and to reminisce about early-day incidents of the district. L. J. Southwick, A. C. Baker and Mrs. Ben McCoy, who came to the district in 1882, were the earliest pioneers in the group.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cuddy and children, Elmer, Jim, Bill, Ruth, Rose Ann and Wilma, all of Southwick; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cuddy and children, Roland, David, Annabell and Virginia, all of Southwick; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cuddy, Southwick; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wright, Potlatch; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cuddy and daughter, Gifford; Stella Cuddy and Leslie Brannan, Craigmont; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wright, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henderson and daughter, Vera, Southwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wright and children, Virgil, Josephine and Eddie, Potlatch; Mr. and Mrs. George Christensen and Anna, Margaret and Betty Jo Christensen and Donna May Travis, Shirley Travis and Mrs. Emilie Christensen, all of Southwick; Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Reeve and children, Rosella, Maria Bea and Alice, Orofino; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baker and Claire Baker, all of Orofino; Mrs. Leona McCoy, Mrs. Lizzie Estes and Mrs. Eva Wright, all of Southwick; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hoppe, Mr. and Mrs. John Stal-maker and Mrs. Ben Baker, all of Southwick.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cuddy and Kathryn Cuddy, Cathlamet, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright, all of Longview, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wasem and children, Cecil, Alice, Florence and Pauline, all of Clarkston; and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Southwick, of Southwick.

Entertain At Cards

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen entertained Saturday evening at a dessert-bridge party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Snowling, mother and father of Mrs. Christensen.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Rilla Davidson and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Snowling of Salt Lake City.

High scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. W. A. Watts and H. B. Thompson, low went to Mrs. H. B. Thompson and C. L. Snowling.

To Our Correspondents

Now that the harvest season is drawing to a close we hope that our country correspondents will again get busy and send in a nice bunch of items each week—or as often as possible. We are proud of our large list of country correspondents and we feel they will in the future, as in the past, send in a representative batch of good live news items.

Not only will the folks of your neighborhood appreciate the local news items, but those who have moved from your neighborhood to other parts of the country, appreciate them even more.

If you need stationery and stamps, don't hesitate to say so. They will be sent you at once.

Need Waitresses And Cooks

The National Reemployment Service office, upstairs in the city hall in Moscow, is very desirous of securing applications of all ladies residing in Latah county who are qualified to do cafe work, cooking or waitresses. Many requests are on file for house work and girls qualified for this kind of work are badly needed.

All men residing in Latah county are requested to either make new registrations or renew their old registration card as soon as possible. Office hours are 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. for registrations.

OBJECTIVE MORE IMPORTANT THAN METHODS—F. D. R.

Aboard Roosevelt Train en route to Seattle, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt told a station crowd at Marshalltown, Iowa, late today that methods interested him only as they aided in accomplishing his objectives.

He remarked a lot of people "mix up objectives with methods and sometimes, when they don't like the objectives, they say, 'Oh yes, we do like the objectives but we don't like the methods proposed by this particular fellow'."

He said he was not in love with any particular method, so long as the main objective was achieved.

He said his present trip through the west to Seattle was not a campaign tour, but was for finding the best way to carry out the objectives of his program. One such objective, he said, was stabilization of farm prices.

"I think the time has come," he said, "when the government can devise ways and means of stabilizing prices farmers get for what they grow. 'And,' he added after a pause, "I think that can be done without bankrupting the government."

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 27.—Speaking to his "friends and neighbors" of Idaho's capital, President Roosevelt said today he was trying to think of "the bigger objectives of American life," instead of the petty quarrels and disputes of the moment.

He named the bigger things: Peace, better coordination and wider distribution of control over industry and a more prosperous agriculture.

Senator William E. Borah, veteran Idaho republican independent, was among those who welcomed the president, and twice Mr. Roosevelt said his words sounded like those of Borah's.

"I am trying to think of how to make a better America for those children," the president said, referring to thousands of girls and boys who "lined the streets on his 16-mile drive through the city."

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer and family spent Sunday visiting in Peck.

Thomas Luken of Lewiston visited his sister, Mrs. Frank Crocker, and husband Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hall of Spokane were visitors in the Wade T. Keene home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schupfer and Otto Schupfer were business visitors in Lewiston Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Rhodes of Lewiston were dinner guests at the McCreary home Monday evening.

Miss Eleanor Herres and Jack Johnston returned to Orofino Friday evening after a visit at the L. J. Herres home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nesbit and son Bobby came over from Moscow and spent Sunday with Mr. Nesbit's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nesbit.

Mrs. R. A. Cross and daughter of Colville and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Knox of Mason City, Wash., returned to their homes Sunday morning after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Thurber. Mrs. Cross and Mr. Knox are daughter and son of Mrs. Thurber.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Snowling left for their home at Salt Lake City Tuesday morning, after a week's visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen and family. They were driven to Lewiston by Dr. and Mrs. Christensen, and took a train from that place.

Suffers Heart Attack

Word has been received in Kendrick to the effect that Frank Ellis of Hector, Minn., a one-time resident of Kendrick, recently suffered a heart attack and was for a time in a serious condition, and is still confined to his bed.

Visit At Silvio Cook Home

Bonnie Daniels of Lewiston spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Silvio Cook. Mr. and Mrs. Claud Cook of Lewiston and Lester and David Daniels of Lenore were Sunday visitors in their home also.

THREE POTLATCH PIONEERS PASS TO GREAT BEYOND

C. A. Johnson

Charles A. Johnson, 78, a resident of Leland 31 years, pioneer of the Big Potlatch ridge section, died at his home Friday morning, September 24. He was a native of Sweden. Survivors include a widow, Elizabeth Johnson; two daughters, Mrs. Peter Siderous, Sumner, Mont., and Mrs. Clyde Daugherty, Kendrick; three sons, C. E. Johnson, Kellogg; Herman Johnson and William Johnson, both of Leland, and a brother and sister in the east.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church, Leland, Sunday, at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. J. E. Walbeck officiating. Burial was in the Leland cemetery. Brower-Wann, Lewiston funeral directors were in charge.

Pallbearers were Jess Hoffman, Orval Craig, Marvin Vincent, Enoch Harrison, Walter Cook and Charles Hoffman. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Goudward, Mrs. A. G. Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Baird.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our loved one; the minister for his comforting words; to those who sang and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Chas. Johnson and Family.

Herman Wilken

Herman Wilken, Cameron, pioneer of the Potlatch country, passed away at his home Tuesday morning, September 28, 1937, age 89 years, 18 days. He had been a resident of the Cameron section for 51 years.

Mr. Wilken was born in Oldenburg, Germany, September 10, 1848, and came to the United States in 1871, and to Cameron in 1889.

Funeral services were held at the Cameron Lutheran church on Thursday morning, September 30, at 10 a. m., with Rev. Theodore Meske of that church officiating. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Short's funeral parlor, Kendrick.

Mr. Wilken is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Anna Carper, Spokane; Mrs. Geo. J. Schultz, Spokane; Mrs. W. R. Johnson, Peck; Mary Wilken, Cameron; five sons, John H. Wilken, Walla Walla, Amos Wilken, Kendrick; W. C. Wilken, Walla Walla; Frank Wilken, Kendrick; George Wilken, Cameron. Eighteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

Rites For Mrs. Long

Funeral services for Mrs. Tillie Long, who died at her home near Crescent, Friday, September 24, were held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the Southwick Union church. Short's funeral home, Moscow, in charge. Burial was in the Southwick cemetery.

Mrs. Long was born May 1, 1874, in Helsingfors and came to the United States in 1885. She lived at Crescent since 1910. Her husband passed away in December of last year. Surviving are two sons, Walter, Crescent, and Herman, Hayward, Calif.; and one brother, Peter Polkilla, Cloquet, Minn.

Killed Rattlesnake In Park

Last Monday Roy Long killed a small rattlesnake in the city park, just south of the bandstand. The reptile had two rattles and a button, but was just as venomous as a larger one.

Infant Dies

Doyle Laverne Whitcomb, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Whitcomb of Deary, born Tuesday at the Grimsman hospital, died Saturday. Funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Harvard.

Given Charavari

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hund were given an old-fashioned charavari at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Pearson, where they are staying for the present. The self-invited guests were given treats of candy bars and cigars and were entertained with music by Mr. and Mrs. Hund and Clarence Hund.

Stork Shower

On Wednesday afternoon of this week Mrs. Everett Helmgartner was given a stork shower at which many useful miscellaneous articles were given.

Refreshments were served and a general good time was had.

146 Deaths Over Week-End

Another heavy week-end death toll was taken over the Saturday and Sunday holidays that most people take these days, press reports stating that 146 persons met violent death in automobile accidents on the nation's streets and highways. The heaviest toll reported was when seven lives were snuffed out, including a mother, father and four children at a railroad crossing near Montgomery, Alabama.

AGRICULTURAL EVENING SCHOOL—PART TIME WORK

(By Don R. Lyle)

The Evening schools in Agriculture are intended for the farm folks 25 years of age or older who are eager to learn more about farm problems. We find many agricultural books and pamphlets today, but the average farmer does not take sufficient time to study this material.

Competition is becoming greater on the farm each year. Scientific information is of more importance today than it was formerly; consequently farmers must obtain this information if they are to cope with their problems more economically and intelligently. It is not a question of producing a greater amount of commodities, but what we do produce must be produced more economically. The aim of present day farming should be not to see how much land we can farm, but how productive we can make each piece of land. Many folks of this community can remember the time when high yields were obtainable from the various pieces of land. Is it not our job then, as successful farmers, to build up the soil and maintain soil fertility so that we can have high yields again? Shouldn't we study market conditions and prospects for crop prices the following year or should we follow blindly our farming career?

There are many things of vital interest than can be obtained in evening schools and it is through cooperation of the people in the community that successful evening schools can be carried on.

When the rush of fall work is over the Vocational Agriculture instructor would like very much to contact farmers of this vicinity with the purpose of forming evening schools. Problems such as rural electrification, soil erosion, crop outlooks for 1938, the general trend of hog prices, etc., would perhaps be of interest to the farmers of the community. Between now and the latter part of October, be thinking over the things you would like to discuss and every effort on my part will be made through evening school work to give you my assistance.

The part time work is intended for rural boys eighteen to twenty-five years of age who would like a short course dealing with agricultural problems, mechanics, farm arithmetic and many other topics suggested by the boys.

This school is usually held in the high school agricultural room or shop. After the class is over there is ample opportunity for some kind of recreation.

I would appreciate meeting and talking with the young farmers of the community who would like to partake in part-time work.

Sams-Hund

Miss Wilma Sams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sams of Juliaetta, and Earl Hund, son of Mrs. Elwood Pearson of Kendrick, were united in marriage at Lewiston, Friday, September 24, Rev. Orville Mick performing the ceremony. The young couple are making their home in Kendrick for the present.

Walde's Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Walde of Deary are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy who arrived at their home Wednesday morning, September 29.

Mrs. Walde will be remembered here as Miss Edna Ferguson, who taught two terms in the Kendrick school.

Real Castor Bean Plant

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Peryman, who have several castor-bean plants of large size at their home in the west part of town, boast of a really large one. It measures exactly 11 feet in height, and measures some three inches in diameter at the thick part of the "trunk."

WHEAT MARKETS FIRMER WITH SMALLER RECEIPTS

Domestic wheat markets strengthened slightly during the week ending September 24, influenced by the smaller country offerings, a good milling inquiry and a generally firm situation abroad, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Rye, oats and barley were generally steady.

Considerable strength was apparent in the general wheat situation with advancing ocean freights and prospective reductions in Southern Hemisphere supplies firming influences. Scarcity of ocean freight space for grain has advanced rates materially. Ocean freight from New York to Rotterdam was quoted at about 16c per bushel and from the Pacific Coast to Rotterdam at about 27c per bushel. Rates from Argentina to Liverpool have been advanced to around 24c per bushel. Space from Black Sea ports to European markets was quoted at about 15½c per bushel. Preliminary trade forecasts of southern hemisphere production indicates crops of around 206,000,000 bushels in Argentina and 165,000,000 bushels for Australia, or a combination total of 370,000,000 bushels against 397,000,000 bushels last year. Stocks of old wheat are considerably under those of a year ago and when allowance is made for domestic requirements, the new crop seems likely to provide exportable supplies of from 225,000,000 to 230,000,000 bushels compared with about 225,000,000 bushels shipped from the southern hemisphere during the first nine months of the current season.

Domestic cash wheat markets strengthened slightly as country marketings declined and milling inquiry became more active. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal terminals dropped to 1,514 cars or about the same as for the corresponding week last year. The quality of recent arrivals has not been quite up to that of early shipments, but 38 per cent of the inspections of hard winter wheat at the principal terminals, July 1 to September 15, graded No. 1, 27 per cent No. 2 and 15 per cent No. 3. Millers, shippers and storage interests were fairly active buyers of current offerings and cash premiums were advanced slightly, resulting in gains of 2c to 3c per bushel for the week. At the close of the period No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.07 to $1.13. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Fort Worth at $1.18 to $1.20 with a good demand both from millers and exporters. Premiums held about steady at Chicago, where No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.12 to $1.14 and No. 2 soft red winter at $1.09 to $1.13 per bushel. About 200,000 bushels of hard winter were reported sold for export and further charters of boat space were being made to eastern ports. Marketings were fairly large at St. Louis but readily taken by millers and elevator interests. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at that market at $1.10, No. 3 at $1.08 to $1.09 and No. 4 at $1.04 per bushel.

The Portland cash market advanced about ½c per bushel, with hard white (Big Bend bluestem or Baart) quoted at 94c, dark hard winter at $1.04, soft white and western white at 94c, hard winter and northern spring at 95c and local northern spring at $1.14 per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, sacked. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 736 cars, most of which were taken by local mills or placed in terminal storage on consignments. A few hundred tons of hard winters were sold for export to Mediterranean points but advancing ocean freight rates tended to limit export business. Moderate quantities moved from country points to central western markets and some was also shipped to the Atlantic seaboard. California takings of northwestern wheat were confined to high protein lots and were relatively small.

California markets were slightly firmer, reflecting the strong holding tendency of growers and firmer outside markets. Milling inquiry was still limited but demand for feed wheat improved with advancing barley prices.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets were practically unchanged, with a fair volume of trading. Receipts at Portland totaled 88 cars and included a considerable portion of Hanchen barley from the Wil-

He Died Climbing

Somewhere in Switzerland a grave-stone marks the final resting place of a certain mountain guide, and on it are these words: "He Died Climbing." Could anyone ask for a finer epitaph?

To continue to grow and expand our personalities straight through to the end—that is valient living. As long as we have minds to think with, hands to work with, and a will to command them both, we can climb up to better things. Improvableness is the birthright of every man, woman and child.  Our worthy and esteemed J. D. Lewis, Palouse division head for the Washington Water Power Company is a sadder but wiser man, but the Palouse division is definitely and decidedly in the doghouse. "J. D." and his boys won this disgraceful trophy as a result of only making 111.1 per cent of quota for August in the company's range and water sales campaign.
 Friends of "J. D." are shaking their heads as they recall him in happier days—and wondering if he is going to survive the shock of landing at the bottom of the heap.

WHEAT MARKETS FIRMER WITH SMALLER RECEIPTS
 lamette valley which moved at around $1.50 per 100, sacked basis. No. 2 bright western barley testing 45 pounds was quoted at Portland on September 23 at $1.37½ and frosted barley from the Klamath Falls area at about $1.30 per 100.
 Pacific Northwestern oats markets held steady, reflecting the holding tendency of growers which counter-balanced the light inquiry from local and nearby mixed feed manufacturers. Elevator operators provided an outlet for some of the current market offerings. Receipts at Portland totaled 23 cars, including both white and gray oats, although supplies of gray oats are reported scarce as a result of winter freezing. Shipping demand continued dull. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland September 23 at $1.15 per 100, with No. 2 gray oats at $1.30 per 100, sacked basis.

Well, Folks—Now that Idaho has finally won a football game let's talk about cream again. It seems we're always sharpening on cream—but honestly it's important to us and should be to you—for from it you can gain an all-year 'round income—a cash income not dependant upon the weather, and the whims of harvesting machinery. It is cash, and cash right now. You don't have to ship—no fuss, no bother. Just try our service once—you'll come again.

Judge: "Where is your husband?"

Defendant: "I ain't got no husband. He been dead nigh onto ten years."

Judge: "Are those all your children?"

Defendant: "Yes, suh. Dey's mine."

Judge: "But I thought you said your husband is dead!"

Defendant: "Yes, suh; he's dead but I ain't."

First Girl: "I'm sure there's a man following us."

Second Girl: "Gosh! What shall we do?"
