Crescent Clippings

Thursday morning saw plenty of excitement down by the lumber piles in Darby's mill yard. L. A. Watson and Garrett Lunders were loading lumber at the time, when Frankie Loeser spied a black cub bear crossing the field. The two men and Herman and Frank Loeser chased it under a lumber pile and between them managed to rope it. Garrett, who crawled under the pile with the rope, received a few bites and scratches as souvenirs. They later put a collar and chain on the cub, with the aid of advice from various bystanders, who stopped to see the fun. Lunders kept the bear until Sunday. During that time it was undoubtedly the most photographed subject in the neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farrington of Linden adopted the bear Sunday as part of their barnyard livestock.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

One of the most pleasant and entertaining evenings the Kendrick Commercial club has ever held was that of Monday night in Fraternal Temple, when the club invited the wives of members and a few others to enjoy the evening with them. There were some 50 persons present and a delicious dinner was served at 6:30 by Mrs. Paul Lind and Mrs. Edgar Long, assisted by Barbara Long and Ellene Benjamin. After dinner had been finished, guitar music was furnished by Glen Stevenson and Basil Packwood, and two cowboy songs were sung by Earl Hund, who accompanied himself on a guitar. The music, as well as the dinner, was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

R. K. Bonnet of Moscow was next introduced by President Christensen. Mr. Bonnet, who represents a well-known seed firm, and who has traveled extensively in Europe in the interest of his firm, gave a very interesting talk on his trips, which he later illustrated with full-color moving pictures, taken by himself. This, too, was much appreciated and enjoyed for it gave those present an insight of many parts of Europe, the people, their habits and customs.

In his talk Mr. Bonnet stated that Europeans had begun to appreciate the tourists that annually flock to their countries and they are beginning to cash in on the travelers. They are putting "their best foot forward" at all times and are offering many inducements to the traveling public and Germany is not behind the other parts of the continent in showing their appreciation.

In going from one country to another Mr. Bonnet gave an insight of what they have to offer in the way of entertainment for the tourist, showing pictures of their very beautiful gardens and buildings, rivers and the countryside.

In speaking of Russia he said their efficiency was nil, but that they, too, were quick to grasp the idea that the tourist is an asset. He said that Russia owns one-seventh of the land of the entire world and cannot be overlooked as a world power but that it will take many generations to bring it up to standard. There are 155 millions of people and they speak 136 different languages or dialects.

In speaking of Germany and dictation by Hitler, he stated that Hitler had stepped into the breach in 1930 and saved the country from Communism. He said they like to be ruled and dictated to and there is no question but that Hitler is making a success of many undertakings. Business is good there and is a decided improvement over the old regime. No German money can be taken out of the country. Foreigners can bring their money in, but must not take any German money away with them. He stated that Hitler had oppressed the Jews, but that there was a reason; that the Jews, in times gone by, had almost gotten hold of Germany, but that he had put a stop to their machinations. There is very limited freedom of speech—in fact, none that does not favor Hitler and the newspapers are censored very closely—in fact, Hitler controls the lives and thoughts of the German people.

Passing through several of the smaller countries, he took his audience to England, where, he stated, one feels a stability from one end of the country to the other. They do not jump at conclusions, unquestionably hold the balance of power in Europe, and are careful with it, but that they do not know what is going to happen from day to day in European politics.

At this point the regular business of the club was taken up and disposed of, the minutes of the previous meeting being read and approved and a communication from E. A. Johnson, highway district engineer, expressing appreciation of a communication from the Commercial club in which the district, state and Nez Perce county had been commended for work done on the Kendrick-Arrow highway in the way of making it smoother for travel. He stated that he had received many complaints, but very few compliments.

N. E. Walker, chairman of the Highway committee, stated that grading is almost finished on the Bear ridge project on the Deary end and the Bear ridge people were lending every effort to get the work

Hunters Return Home

While we have been unable to get the names of but a few of the big game hunters who have gone from this section, there are some of them who "brought home the bacon," and some who just "got back."

The party made up of Jay Stout, Fred and Spud Crocker and L. D. Wallace and son split up with Jay, Spud and Glen Wallace returning home with two deer and an elk, the others staying for a longer hunt.

Vester and David Daniels of Lenoire and Silvie Cook returned Thursday from a big game hunt, each bringing out a fine big elk.

Returns From Extended Visit

Mrs. Theresa Schultz, a former resident of the Cameron section, has returned home from a visit of almost a year with relatives and old friends in the north central states, spending much of her time with a brother at Mankato, Minn. She also spent some three months with her two sons and daughter, John and Fred Schultz and Mrs. Hiram Hodges, at Dutton, Montana. Coming to Spokane, she visited for a time there and also in the Big Bend country.

Mrs. Schultz expects to soon leave for Nampa, Idaho, where she will spend the winter with her son, A. W. Schultz, and family.

She said that while she was very glad to be back in Idaho, she had a wonderful time and still held a warm place in her heart for the old home of her girlhood.

A Show Place

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Perryman are entitled to very honorable mention because of the transformation of their home and grounds from a rather dingy-looking place to one of beauty and it is easily entitled to the honor of the prettiest residence property in the west part of town. Mr. and Mrs. George Leith hold the place for the prettiest home and grounds in the east part of town.

These places have both been highly improved during the past summer and Kendrick is just as proud of them as beauty spots as are their owners.

Control of Communicable Disease

Prompt reporting of illness which may be contagious, to local or county physician, or to the public health nurse, is the most efficient method of controlling communicable disease. Suspicious cases will be isolated, thereby cutting down contacts and markedly lessening the incidence of all illness, communicable or otherwise. Success in protecting the general public depends on the co-operation in the program of reporting, isolation, immunization and release from quarantine after the necessary length of time has elapsed.

"This Is My Affair"

This coming Friday and Saturday nights picture fans will have an opportunity of seeing Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck in "This Is My Affair," at the Kendrick Theatre. Thrillingly these two stars achieve their true greatness—in the most important story either of them has ever had—their fire and power given full scope for the first time.

The title does not lead one to believe that "This Is My Affair," is a first-class crook story, but that is really what it is, Robert Taylor taking the part of a crook, who joins the navy and, while he is really doing the work of a spy instead of being a real crook, he is arrested and accused of killing a secret service man, for which he and his buddy, Victor McLaglen, are sentenced to be hanged. Taylor is in a tight place but finally gets things straightened out and is set free. Barbara Stanwyck has the leading feminine role.

Well, Folks—Seems like all the hunters this fall are having lots of luck—at least by the way our locker boxes are renting. By the way, do you have one? If not, why not? The cost is so little and fresh meat the year around—or fresh fish—or fresh vegetables—or fresh berries taste mighty good later on in the season. If you haven't a box not, better come in and get one for the season. You'll like the results.
