ATTY. GENERAL TAYLOR WRITES OF STATE PROBLEMS

Like the poor, of Biblical allusion, questions of criminal trial and procedure are always with us. Change of industrial conceptions, social conditions and general enlightenment have, from time to time, brought about alterations in the method by which violators of the criminal code have been brought to book. As heretofore in this series of articles pointed out, the early days of Anglo-Saxon judicial history were characterized by methods of prosecution based upon disregard of the rights of the accused in criminal cases. A reform in the legal practices of England brought about a remedy for this unfortunate situation by guaranteeing the protection of those charged with crime had not previously enjoyed. Numerous devices and technical defenses were introduced for the purpose of avoiding discrimination and resulting injustice. In America, this reform movement was carried to such an extreme that the well-protected defendant and generally triumphant party is the person who is charged with crime and the public at large are left without that measure of security which they are entitled to enjoy. Consequently, men with known criminal records and equally well known criminal attorneys have been able to "beat the rap" time after time and it is perhaps not a fantastic exaggeration to say that one element of our population might properly be termed an aristocracy of crime. In fact those who have investigated our courts and are thoroughly familiar with judicial history do not hesitate to tell us that our criminal procedure has broken down and is inadequate to serve its purpose.

But a few years ago men like Al Capone, John Dillinger, Pretty Boy Floyd and a number of other triumphant rats terrorized large sections of this country and amassed great wealth by their felonious activities. Sermons were preached, editorials were written, laws were passed, but the crime wave rolled triumphantly on. After the inauguration of President Roosevelt, stern methods were employed to combat the marauders and murderers who were powerful enough in many instances to overawe the authorities. Capone, it is true, was convicted in court, not for his numerous murders and other criminal activities, but for violating the income tax law. But a number of others, Dillinger and Floyd, for instance, were not accorded a trial; the officers shot them down on sight apparently because the machinery of the law was not sufficient to bring them to terms and it was of course, by such severe methods—somewhat resembling the tactics of the vigilantes—that the undoubted power and domination of these individuals were ended.

While people generally have approved of such harsh treatment of the crime barons and seem to be well satisfied with the results, there are, nevertheless, a great many who seem bitterly opposed to the infliction of the death penalty even after a trial in which the advantage is all with the defendant, and whenever, after long and tedious trial and appeal after appeal, a murderer is brought face to face with the fatal consequences provided by law for his conduct, they raise a storm of protest against the execution. The full fury of this assault is visited upon the unfortunate individuals who constitute the pardoning authority in the state. These persons are bombarded with letters, generally unsigned, from people giving all varieties of reason, sensible as well as silly, for their attitude. It seems somewhat strange that such persons would leave the exercise of their conviction until the precise moment when justice, as provided by our laws, is about to be vindicated. No one tries to interfere with the courts in such matters—for obvious and well-founded reasons. Such reasons, however, do not apply to the helpless pardon boards which have no power of punishment for contempt.

The proper way to attack the question of capital punishment is not by making miserable the lives of those on the pardon board but rather by inducing legislature to change the law. It is somewhat remarkable that those who feel so strongly should pass by session after session of the legislature without raising the slightest protest and then descend in their wrath on those who have the duty of seeing that the law is enforced and trying

ROWENA RAMEY BECOMES BRIDE OF WALTER KOEPP

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey last Sunday afternoon, December 12, at 2 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Rowena, became the bride of Walter Koepf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koepf of Cameron, the Rev. Theo. Meske of the Cameron Lutheran church reading the beautiful ring ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Jeanne Ramey, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Henry Wendt as best man. The bride was attired in a traveling suit and wore a corsage of roses, while the groom wore a dark blue suit.

After the ceremony a dinner was served by the bride's mother, assisted by Mrs. Rose Farrington.

Those present at the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koepf, parents of the groom; Roy Ramey, Jr., Miss Jeanne Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt and daughters, Margaret and Esther; Miss Betty McCarty and Auburn West of Plummer, Idaho; Rev. and Mrs. Theo. Meske, Cameron.

Both bride and groom are graduates of the Kendrick High school and both attended the University of Idaho and are well and favorably known among the younger people of Kendrick and Cameron. They left Sunday evening on a honeymoon trip to Spokane and coast points. They will reside on a farm near Cameron.

Everyone in both communities extends congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. F. W. Whybark Passes

Mrs. Eva Leona Whybark, 22, wife of F. W. Whybark, Southwick, died at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, Monday morning of uremic poisoning. Survivors include a widower, F. W. Whybark; her mother, Mrs. Leona McCoy; three sisters, Mrs. Nadine Hanks, Southwick; Mrs. Nyda Smith, Leland; Mrs. Elsie Grant, North Bend, B. C., who is coming for the funeral; a brother, Elton McCoy, and a grandmother, Mrs. Ella Locke, both of Southwick.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the United Brethren church at Southwick, Rev. C. Edward Lichty delivering the sermon. Interment was made in the Southwick cemetery. Brower-Wann funeral parlors were in charge.

Contract was played at four tables after which delicious refreshments were served. High scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. Roy Bacharach and Roy Ramey.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. L. J. Herres, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bacharach, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas.

INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL

The Kendrick Tigers played a double-header basketball game with Asotin here last Saturday evening, December 11. Both games were very exciting. The final score for the first team game was 17-10 in favor of Kendrick, while the score for the second-teams game was 18-5 in favor of Asotin.

Kendrick	Asotin
Abrams, 4	F 1 Miller
Kuykendall 2	F 1 Lovejoy
Keene 5	C 2 Hilding
Blewett 4	G 4 Jefferson
Wallace 1	G 2 Hazeltine

Substitutes for Kendrick were: Weeks (1), Newman and Thompson. Substitute for Asotin was Cliff.

The Kendrick second team consisted of the following: Forwards—Vincent and Wolff; center, Rider; guards, Hughes (2) and Thompson (1); Substitutes, Newman and Weeks (2).

On Friday, December 17, the Kendrick basketball team will play the Orofino team here. The game will start at 7:15 and will be followed by the F. F. A. dance at 9:00 p. m.

On Tuesday, December 21, the Kendrick boys' team and the Kendrick girls' team will go to Southwick to play a double-header with the Southwick teams. This is the first conference game to be played this season. This will also be the first game of the season in which the girls will have a chance to show their ability.

Christmas vacation will begin on December 22 at 3:15.

In the Honor Roll printed last week the names of Homer Jones and Nolan Weeks were accidentally omitted.

The F. F. A. dance, scheduled for this Friday night, will not be a costume dance as announced in the school notes last week.

Saves Life Of Young Brother

Trapped by fire while sleeping on the second floor of his home five miles north of Genesee on the North & South highway at 8 a. m. Sunday, with the stairway the only avenue of escape enveloped in flames, Verne (Buddy) Lang, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lang, saved himself and his brother, Davy, four years old, by kicking out the window pane and screen nailed in place with his bare feet and holding his brother at arm's length dropped him to the ground unharmed.

After seeing that his brother was safe Buddy poised himself on the sill of the window and leaped to the ground. His first question was: "Is Davy all right?"

Mr. and Mrs. Lang and three daughters were sleeping on the lower floor and escaped unharmed. The house was completely destroyed.

Mrs. Lang is a daughter of George Davidson, American ridge.

Christmas Tree and P.-T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers association will be held in the school Gym this next Monday night, December 20, to which the entire countryside has been invited. There will be the regular business meeting and a Christmas program will be given by the children. Treats will be served.

The Kendrick Commercial club, instead of giving their usual tree and treat down town, have transferred the "treats" part of the program and have joined with the P.-T. A. in one big get-together meeting.

Old St. Nick will be there and look after the kiddies. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 in the evening. Remember—its public and for the entire countryside—so bring in the kiddies—let them meet St. Nick.

Poultry Show At Lewiston

About ten boys of the Vocational Ag. department attended the annual Poultry Show at Lewiston last Friday. The boys had an opportunity to see some fine birds on exhibit.

In the poultry judging contest Lapwai placed first and Kendrick tied with Moscow for second place. A coin was flipped for second place and Moscow won. The boys doing the judging included John Wallace, Rex Blewett, Homer Jones, Frank Arnett and Kenneth Woody. Frank Arnett tied with two other boys for first place as individual judge and Kenneth Woody tied for fourth place.

The other boys making the trip included Lloyd Farrington, Glen Newman, Harold Silflow, Kenneth Reid and Dan Fairfield.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

Another interesting meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held in Fraternal Temple Monday evening, with 30 persons in attendance, four of whom were visitors.

A delicious chicken dinner was served at 6:30 by Mrs. Paul Lind and Mrs. Edgar Long, after which the group listened to the Schmelting-Thomas prize fight over a radio brought to the dining room for that purpose, after which the regular business of the meeting was taken up. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and a communication from the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce read inviting the Kendrick club to attend a meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in Lewiston on December 16 and 17.

N. E. Walker, chairman of the Highway committee, stated he had made a trip to Lewiston on Monday and had contacted various members of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce regarding the Kendrick-Arrow road and had received assurance from that organization that this was their No. 1 road project for 1938.

Marvin Long stated that Wade Keene and himself had attended a meeting of the Wild Life Federation at Moscow last week and, among other things, the state game department had assured him that more fish and birds would be forthcoming from that department during the next season. They stated that game authorities, in accounting for the scarcity of birds of all kinds, especially Chinese pheasants, said it was due principally to parasites gathered around barnyards and that this, more than any other cause, was the reason for a shortage of upland birds.

E. A. Deobald reported that there had been $130.00 worth of stuff brought in by farmers and others disposed of at the Sales Day auction.

Supt. Lyle reported that the Kendrick school is running smoothly and that attendance is holding up well. He stated that the local basketball team was 100 percent the winner so far this year—playing four games and winning four.

It was suggested that the attention of the city council be called to the fact that no Christmas trees should be cut from the hillside across the creek from town, as the ground will later be made into a park and while thinning may be necessary in places, it should be done under supervision. The matter of whether or not the usual community Christmas tree should be sponsored by the Commercial club was discussed at length and various theories and opinions advanced. Some suggested that the club ask to be permitted to assist the Parent-Teachers association in their entertainment for next Monday night and eliminate the usual community tree in Main street. A tree will be erected in the city park and properly decorated. The matter of treats and final tree arrangements was left with the Merchants' and Entertainment committees.

J. W. Shepard of Lewiston, manager of the Lewiston Grain Growers, owners of the former Vollmer warehouse interests in Kendrick, was present and made a very interesting talk, among other things complimenting the Kendrick Commercial club on the splendid work it is doing and the apparent interest taken by the business men of the town as shown by their splendid attendance. He said it would be complimentary for a town three times the size of Kendrick and also stating that he had attended many meetings of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce when there were not as many present as were at the meeting here Monday night. He also spoke in detail regarding the proposed waterway from the Pacific up the Columbia and Snake rivers to Lewiston, explaining in detail just what effect it would have on the freight rates in this entire territory. He also stated that Lewiston is very much interested in the building of the highway from Arrow to Kendrick during the coming year and is ready and willing to lend all possible aid to that end. Mr. Shepard is a pleasant talker and his remarks were listened to with attention.

Herb Powell, assistant manager of the Lewiston Grain Growers at Lewiston, was also in attendance at the meeting and made a few appropriate remarks, complimenting the Commercial club.

Millions For Roads Available

Boise—Highway Director J. H. Stemmer said Monday, "It looks now" like Idaho would get $3,400,000 from the federal government for all kinds of highway construction. The amount would be for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1939.

The figure is the same as last year. The state puts up an additional $2,000,000 for construction and $2,000,000 for maintenance, administration and equipment.

Stemmer said he had received assurances from Senator Hayden of Arizona there would be no change in the appropriation.

LEWISTON FAVORS THE ARROW-KENDRICK ROAD

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce, the following was noted as part of the proceedings, according to Wednesday morning's Lewiston Tribune:

Seeking prompt action for completion of the Arrow-Kendrick highway, the board authorized E. V. Lorenz, highway committee chairman, to arrange a conference with state officials expected to attend the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce convention here Thursday and Friday.

"The state highway department has promised that this long-sought project will be included in the 1938 program, but we should take every possible step to prevent any slipup in that program," Mr. Lorenz said. "Completion of the road not only will give the Kendrick-Julietta region and surrounding rich farming territory a watergrade outlet to the outside but it will be an important trade artery. Kendrick people have been seeking completion of this road for many years and we are backing them to the limit."

J. W. Shepard told of Kendrick enthusiasm for the highway as expressed at a meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club he attended Monday evening. Kendrick will be asked to send a delegation to the proposed conference with state officials here.

Set Up First Aid Stations

According to reports coming out of Boise, it is expected to set up 73 more first aid stations along Idaho highways. Twenty-three are already in operation and Gov. Clark has promised to lend his aid to the establishment of the additional stations.

Our comment: First aid stations are a wonderful thing and we are very heartily in favor of the move. But it seems to us that if a little more "first aid" were given the traffic officers in the enforcement of the drunken driving, poor lights and brakes laws, speeding and hosts of others, there would not be nearly the need for the stations that now exists. We have all known that for years every traffic officer has had more territory to cover than could be done efficiently. So why don't we lop just a bit off the swivel chair polishers in some of the offices and really try to save more lives?

Idaho and Maine Battle To Tie

Now that the big battle of "tastes" as to which is the better, the Idaho or Maine potato, has been called a draw, it might be well for some of those Washington connaisseurs to get busy and help someone decide just what is the cause of the present "recession" of business—and a cure. Failing that, they might call in Andrew H. Brown or Lightnin'.

Latah County "Has the Measles"

According to a report from Boise, up to last Saturday there were 49 cases of measles in the entire state of Idaho—and 43 of those cases were in Latah county. It is rather a "measly" county at this time, sure enough. The cases are said to be confined to the northern part of the county.

Moscow's New Depot Almost Done

The new Union Pacific-Northern Pacific union depot at Moscow, is nearing completion and will be ready for dedication on December 20, according to newspaper reports.

Other out of town guests of the club were Earl Alden, of Short's Funeral Parlors, from Troy, and W. R. Smith of Southwick.

All-in-all, it was a very pleasant and interesting meeting—the kind that everyone who is interested in Kendrick and the surrounding territory should attend.

JAPAN SINKS AMERICAN BOATS, THEN APOLOGIZES

After Japan had bombed and sunk four vessels flying the American flag, one a gunboat, the Japanese government "made haste" to apologize to the United States for what one Japanese termed a "great blunder, a great mistake" and expressed "deep regret."

It has ever been thus since Japan has been pursuing her undeclared war on China. They have "apologized" for having to pursue war in China, stating they wanted only peace and understanding, while killing untold thousands of defenseless non-combatants by dropping bombs from the air. They have bombed English ships and wounded several officers. They, as usual, apologized.

News of the bombing apparently stifled Tokyo's joys over the announced capture of Nanking. Lantern parades which had been scheduled were cancelled. Although great celebrations long had been prepared, the streets were abnormally quiet.

At the naval ministry the staff stood around smoking nervously. One of Naval Minister Adm. Matsumasa Yonai's aides sat holding his head in his hands, eyes shut. Another exclaimed: "I would like to resign my life."

One high naval officer said: "We have been doing everything in our power to cultivate the friendship and understanding of the American people and government. The extent of our eagerness to keep America's friendship was shown by our efforts in behalf of the grounded liner President Hoover. Now I'm afraid it is all nullified."

Warden Gess Seems To Be Fired

As an aftermath of the famous Van Vlack hanging fiasco, a pair of skids were placed under Warden William H. Gess, allegedly for allowing Van Vlack too much freedom and allowing him to commit suicide instead of having the intended hanging. However, Gess has refused to vacate the office or give up the keys to the newly appointed warden, E. F. Prater, sheriff, of Twin Falls, who Gov. Clark immediately appointed in his stead. Prater was the one who arrested Van Vlack for the murder of his wife, Nov. 25, 1935. Gess is under a $10,000 bond to insure the performance of his official duty and says he is going to "stick it out."

"I am now officially in charge, as warden of the Idaho state penitentiary and if proceedings to question my right to hold office are instituted all questions involved will be thoroughly gone into in order that the public and press may have the full facts."

Where We Go In?

Just last week a learned college professor, or someone, said, "Man may revert to Apes (or monkeys), for various reasons, and now comes forth another from back in Muncie, Indiana, saying that 'The United States may become a nation of grass eaters.'"

And just to think, President Roosevelt picked for his advisors some of these learned men to help him run the government. Where are we going, anyway?

Revival Meetings Concluded

The revival meeting which have been in progress at the Full Gospel church during the past three weeks have been brought to a close. The pastor states that much good to the church and community has come as a result of the meetings. Evangelist Francis E. Chausee will go to Kellogg, where he will next hold meetings.

Enjoy Fellowship Meeting

Monday, Dec. 13, was an active and enjoyable day for the Full Gospel churches of Kendrick and vicinity. About 200 people attended a Fellowship meeting sponsored by the local assembly.

The first service was held at 2:30 p. m. at which time the I. E. A. students of Lewiston were given full charge. Each student was given an opportunity to express himself as to his Christian life and experiences. Two students preached short sermons on the subjects of "The Christian Armor," and "The Love of God."

At 5:30 o'clock the local church served lunch to those present, after which the combined groups of young people from Kendrick, Juliaetta and Lewiston held an interesting street meeting.

The evening service was record breaking in attendance and interest. The local pastor expressed appreciation and welcome to those present. Following this Rev. L. G. Baker of Lewiston responded. Many special numbers were rendered by the Lewiston choir and orchestra. The message of the evening was brought by Francis E. Chausee.

"It Happened Out West"

Another of those "Wild and woolly" westerners will be shown in the Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday nights when Harold Bell Wright's latest and greatest adventure story will be told in pictures with Paul Kelley and Judith Allen in the leading roles—"It Happened Out West." The wild west goes wilder when a fist-swinging dude from the east tackles a gun-slinging gang from the west.

The other feature—"Sing and Be Happy" concerns a boy and girl who are in the advertising business and their fathers are business rivals. There is a radio broadcast mixup and there is lots of trouble—but everything comes out right in the end. It promises to be a jolly picture with a series of mirth-provoking incidents.

HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—December we still have with us, with its ups and downs of weather. First warm and rainy, then clear and frosty and then warm and rainy again. But, anyway, the more we have of this kind the less we can have of snow and cold such as we had last year. Here's hoping.

Now that Christmas is coming we must consider our eats on Christmas Day. We hope that our butter is on the table, and may we suggest, for dessert, either straight or on mince pie, our ice cream. It is delicious and nutritious. Try it.

Jim: "Jack was pinched for speeding yesterday."
Joe: "Why?"
Jim: "His wife wanted to go home to her mother."
Joe: "Well?"
Jim: "He was taking her there!"

Frisby: "My girl has a beautiful gown she wears only to teas."
Frump: "Who?"
Frisby: "Me!"

Prisoner: "It is hardly reasonable to charge me with being a forger, when I can't sign my own name."
Judge: "You're not accused of signing your own name."

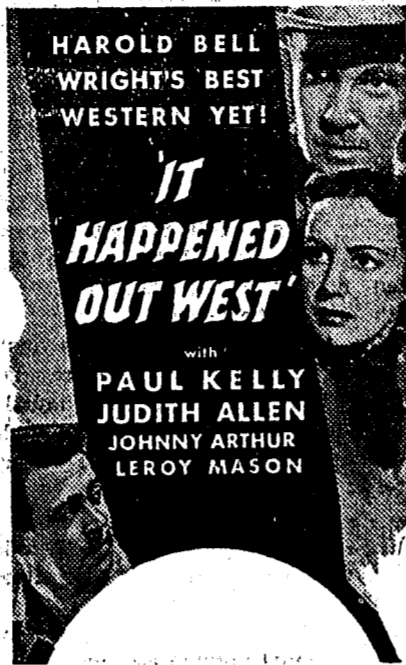

Don't worry so much about the business outlook. The best thing to do nowadays is to keep on the lookout for business.

Speaking of sit-down strikes, the fellow who has the hardest time pulling one is the tightrope walker in the circus.
