The score of the girls' game was 20-13 in favor of the Leland girls.

Good Reasoning?

It is funny
That some people
Who profess
To love their Children
Will delay and
Delay if one
Of the family is
Sick before
They call in
The Doctor
And sometimes
It is so
Necessary for
The Doctor to Come at once
I mean right now
If he is to
Do any good
And when the Doctor is finally
Dragged in and
It is too late
For him to
Help a great deal
The righteous-
Parent will
Claim the M. D.
Is a bum doctor
Because he wants to
Shift the blame
From himself
At any cost
So the poor
Physician is often
Made the scapegoat
For the parent's
Foolishness.

Athletics
Although the Kendrick Tigers did not end up on the winning end of the Tournament, they ended up with colors flying. Kendrick was beaten Thursday morning by Ferdinand. The Tigers shot many more times than the Eagles but couldn't seem to connect with the basket. Belvett and Weeks tied for high score for Kendrick with 6 each; Moody was high for the winners.

Sparked by the accurate shooting of Blewett, Kendrick took the second game Thursday night from Bovill by a large margin.
After leading the Orofino Maniacs most of the game, Kendrick went down to their second defeat Friday morning. Blewett again sparked for the Tigers, with 15 points, after making 17 against Bovill the night before.

Where Kendrick showed up best was in the all-district teams. Blewett was the first man to be called for the All-District First team, and Wallace and Weeks both found places on the All-District Second team. Kendrick was one of three teams in the conference to place three on the All-District lineups. Below is a summary of the teams:

Rex Blewett Kendrick
George Bell Grangeville
Bud Doane Grangeville
Clifford Carlson Grangeville
Leonard Kuther Ferdinand
Wilbur Montgomery Kootenai
Delbert Beal Orofino
Carl Thieszen Genesee

Second Squad
Bill Effmers Grangeville
George Makela Orofino
Victor Armstrong Genesee
John Wallace Kendrick
John O'Donnell Weippe
Obed Woody Ferdinand
Richie Sampson Genesee
Nolan Weeks Kendrick
Tommy Keene, regular center for the Tigers, was in bed with the flu at the time of the tournament. The boys showed their appreciation of Tommy pulling the Culldesa game out of the fire in the sub-district by placing his name upon the Vandal Booster cup as the most inspirational player on the team.

Kendrick coach, Art Dawald, really showed the way basketball should be played when the coaches played in a preliminary game. "Flash Dawald" outsped the other coaches in working his way down the floor to put in three field goals. All the boys had a good time and most of them are looking forward to next year.

Leland 4-H Club Meets

On February 26, the Leland 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Jesse Hoffman, for the second meeting of this year. The day was devoted to making soft custard, with first-year members working on their sewing. As before, four girls were chosen to demonstrate the making of soft custard. Avia Craig and Delores Thornton were one team; Lena Belle Hoffman and Margaret Arnold were on the other team. Following the demonstration the girls were served with a delicious dinner prepared by Mrs. Hoffman. Following dinner the older girls washed the dishes, while the younger worked on their dish towels.

Two new members were enrolled. They were Avia Craig and Laurene Craig, their subjects being canning and baking.
A demonstration on what kind of clothes flashy and slender persons should wear was given by Emma Lou Vincent and Beulah Draper. The entertainment of the day consisted of a game of "Automobile", played with statements which were answered by names of cars. It was given by Emma Lou Vincent and Beulah Draper. A very enjoyable day was spent by all.

Afternoon Bridge Club

Mrs. Geo. Leith entertained the Afternoon Bridge club Wednesday afternoon. Bridge was played at three tables, after which a dainty lunch was served.
Invited guests were Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Jr., Mrs. Lester Crocker and Mrs. O. E. Havens. High score for the afternoon went to Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS VERY INTERESTING MEET

The Kendrick Commercial club, meeting in regular session at the Fraternal Temple banquet room, held one of the most interesting meetings of many months, both from the standpoint of pleasure and business.

Following the regular 6:30 dinner, served by Mrs. Paul Lind and Mrs. Edgar Long, official pictures of the U. S. Forestry service were shown the club, and several later guests, by Fred Baker of the U. S. Forestry service, with headquarters in Missoula. These pictures are known as "Public Relations Information," and are shown extensively in CCC camps and schools, as well as to business and professional clubs. The main object of these pictures is the education of the general public in the proper use of the forests and the teaching of dangers of forest fires.

The opening film dealt with the freaks of nature known as "Albinos," or freaks of nature that are pure white. Shown were peacocks, pheasants, porcupines, opossums, weasles and many others. Shown also were polar bears, Kodiak bear, moose and deer, as well as monkeys.
The second phase of the film dealt with cause and prevention of forest fires, methods of fighting and the scenes of desolation following them. And last, a long section devoted to a Montana primitive area, without roads, lying almost on the Continental Divide, and showing a party going through on horseback, with numerous fishing scenes, that fairly made the local anglers present moan and tear their hair, for beauties were really landed.

The new game conservation pictures were not yet available, but perhaps can be shown at a later date. More pictures have been promised for the next meeting.

Present as guests were Mr. Fowler and Mr. Goff of Moscow, who addressed the club briefly.
The regular order of business was then taken up and N. E. Walker, reporting for the Highway committee, stated that $135,000 had tentatively been set up for completion of the Arrow-Deary highway from the end of the present oil to the bridge this side of Juliaetta, but that a desperate effort was being made for more funds to complete the road on to Kendrick. If this link could be completed, it was hoped the American ridge road to Moscow could be started and the Bear ridge road completed.

Mr. Goff, Moscow, stated that he believed the grand jury investigation at Boise was holding up proceedings. On the same subject, Wm. Ingle, Bear ridge, said that the results and requests of the road meeting at Deary on February 23, had not as yet been learned.

T. M. Long of the Game committee reported that Wild Life Conservation Week began March 20, and that seals and banquet tickets to help the cause would soon be available. He also stated that the wild ducks planted near the J. M. Cardinal home were literally eating Mr. Cardinal "out of house and home" and that he proposed the purchase of feed for them.

H. B. Thompson of the Civic Improvement committee suggested that the Village trustees set aside a definite sum in the coming year's budget for the improvement of the park across the creek and suggested that the CCC be contacted to see if it would not be possible for them to remove the brush and cut trails, in order to reduce the fire hazard and make the park more accessible. This met with the approval of the club, and the secretary was asked to contact the proper CCC authorities.

Supt. Lyle, reporting on the Educational situation, reported all work once again running smoothly at the school, now that the basketball tournament is over, and further stated that he considered the tournament showing was very good. From the Kendrick team, Rex Blewett was named on the first class B team for the entire district, and as such was awarded a gold basketball; while John Wallace and Nolan Weeks received honorable mention for class B honors. As the most inspirational player on the squad, Tom Keene is to have his name engraved on the cup already reposing at the high school.

Reporting on the Scout Committee R. L. Blewett reported that the Commercial club committee and Mr. West, district Scout organizer, met some two weeks ago and the organization formulated, with R. L. Blewett as Scoutmaster.

Wm. Ingle then spoke briefly on the proposed Latah County fair at Moscow and said the board would meet Thursday (today), in the banquet room of the Fraternal Temple building. Some ten members of the Commercial club promised their attendance.

Then discussion of the annual entertainment of the basketball squad was brought up, and it was decided that instead of having them as guests of the club, as has been the custom in the past, to tender them a party and dance at the gymnasium and to ask as well, the Southwest to be guests. This idea met with hearty approval and a committee promptly appointed to make arrangements and send out invitations.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Taxes on 42,120,290 packs of playing cards were paid to the government last year.

Advertise Idaho Potatoes

Santa Fe, N. M.—Irked by Washington eulogies over Wisconsin cheese and Idaho potatoes, Governor Clyde Tingley in an oratorical burst rushed to the defense of pinto beans, chili and sirloin steaks.

"Breathes there a man," declared the governor, "who would not be wooed from cheese by a New Mexico beef critter in the form of sirloin?—who would not dally with the dainty pinto bean in the face of any man's baked potato?"

"If senators in congress would be well fed, let them forget the grub from their own states and eat New Mexico food—even to those portales peanuts."

He hazarded the guess Senators Carl Hatch and Dennis Chavez are the best fed and plumpest members of congress and arranged to fix up a batch of "samples" for the senate restaurant bill of fare for their "starving collegues."

J. H. STEMMER AND OTHERS ARE PLACED UNDER BOND

Boise, March 7.—The Ada county grand jury added J. H. Stemmer, state highway director, tonight to its list of indicted high public officials.

He was charged with falsification of a certificate on a state voucher. Indicted jointly, with him was G. E. McKelvey, former commissioner of public works, who now is employed by the highway bureau equipment division, and a third person, whose name cannot be revealed—under court rules—until he is arrested.

Stemmer and McKelvey each posted $1,000 bond to retain their liberty.
McKelvey previously was indicted on a similar charge along with A. D. Stanley, state highway bureau maintenance engineer. Both were charged with falsifying certificates.

Stemmer is a veteran engineer, having served six years under former Gov. C. Ben Ross and since then under Gov. Barzilla W. Clark.
His present chief, Ira J. Taylor, commissioner of public works, democratic state chairman and former state prison warden, and Tony Phelan, ex-clerk of the penitentiary, face indictments for misuse and embezzlement of state funds.

Taylor announced he would not resign as commissioner.
Stemmer and McKelvey were arrested by Sheriff Don Headrick of Ada county late today.

District Judge Charles Winstead deferred today until Wednesday his ruling on a motion to set aside two indictments against Tony Phelan, former state prison clerk whom the Ada county grand jury charged with embezzlement and misuse of public funds.

Ira Taylor, former prison warden and now public works commissioner and state democratic chairman, must plead Wednesday before Judge Winstead on similar counts. The opinion was expressed in legal circles that Taylor's attorney, former Attorney General Bert E. Miller, planned to go more extensively into the validity of the indictments.

Taylor, back at his public works department desk today after a two weeks' illness, expressed the hope of a speedy trial.
"I am anxious that this matter go before the court just as soon as possible to get it cleared up," he said in a press statement.

Asked if he contemplated resigning, Taylor replied: "Why should I resign because a finger of accusation has been pointed at me?"
State Auditor H. C. Parsons last week ordered Taylor's $300 monthly salary warrant withheld until the charges against him are settled.

"My hope is that when the smoke of this investigation clears away," Taylor added, "everyone's conscience is as clear as mine is of the knowledge of any offense against the state or any individual."

Receives Word From Sons

Mrs. E. L. Pearson received word from her son, Clarence Hund, who is working at Paramount Pictures studios in California, building and rebuilding airplanes for the new picture "Men On Wings", these planes will be used in the actual finishing of the picture. He also states that he is safe from the flood, and witnessed a real cloud-burst, it rained for three days and nights very hard and very steady.

He also stated that in going home from work he pushed through water with the car that was over a foot deep and a mile in length at a stretch.
A brief line was received from Carl Hund, who is stationed at Shanghai, China, stating that they were to go to Manila for short range firing practice the 11th of February, and expected to be back in the states by April, and would see us before the pay-off.

He is well and enjoying life, only gets very tired of the same old faces on the ship all the time. He does not get to go ashore very often as he has to stand by his post of duty, ready for emergencies.
Still No Clue
There is still no clue to the fate of the big airliner that disappeared near Fresno, Calif., with nine people aboard. Fresh snow and dense fog have hindered search.
Covers The Ground
Prof.—Is it perfectly clear, now?
Frosh.—As clear as mud.
Prof.—Well, then, that covers the ground.

WHEAT LOWER DUE TO BETTER CROP PROSPECTS

Domestic wheat markets declined rather sharply during the first week in March, influenced principally, by more favorable crop prospects, and a slow milling and export demand.

The Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Feed grains also turned weaker, as wheat declined but a fair inquiry from feeders and industrial buyers held losses to 10 to 20 per bushel on oats and lesser amounts on barley.

Beneficial moisture in North American wheat areas and more favorable prospects for the United States winter wheat crop, were dominant features in the general wheat situation and more than offset the strengthening influences of reduced estimates for the Argentine crop, smaller southern hemisphere shipments and continued fairly heavy Spanish and Russian purchases of Australian wheat.

The moisture situation has improved in most of the great plains area where the top soil is now generally in good condition with wheat making some growth from the central great plains southward. A winter wheat crop well above the average but about 25,000,000 bushels under the 1937 harvest, was in prospect at the first of March, according to trade forecasts. Further snows provided additional moisture in the North American spring wheat area and top soil moisture is reported adequate both in the United States and Canada.

Wheat futures prices in domestic markets dropped to the lowest point since early January, with the September delivery at a new low for the season. Cash prices declined more than futures at some points with slow export trade and little inquiry from millers and industrial buyers. Exports of wheat during January were officially reported at $509,000 bushels, which brought the season's total to 39,451,000 bushels, compared with only 1,766,000 bushels during the corresponding period last year.

Marketing of winter wheat increased materially during the week with a return to milder weather and 1,193 cars were received at the principal terminals.
Marketing of spring wheat remained light with 303 cars received at Minneapolis and 60 cars unloaded at Duluth.

Intermountain and Pacific Coast markets were irregularly lower, depending upon local conditions. At the close of the week, Denver mills were bidding 80c per bushel for No. 2 hard white and No. 2 northern spring FOB Colorado shipping points while Ogden mills were offering only 65c per bushel for No. 2 hard white and No. 2 northern spring, and 67c for No. 2 soft white. FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

At Portland cash prices declined about 4c per bushel along with futures. Local milling demand was slow as a result of dull flour business while inquiry from California and midwestern markets was lacking, because local prices were out of line for shipment to those areas. Export business amounted to only about 2,000 tons mostly parcel lots afloat. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals were fairly heavy and totaled 731 cars. At the close of the week hard white (baart) was quoted at Portland at 89½c, with hard red winter at 91c, soft white and western white at 87½c and western red at 88c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, sacked.

California markets were unchanged to slightly lower, with growers continuing to hold remaining light supplies.
Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet, but prices held about steady with feeding types in fair demand. At Seattle, white barley from eastern Washington was quoted around $1.35 per 100. Unfavorable feeding ratios and mild weather which improved pasturage were the principal weakening influences in the market for feed barley. No. 2 bright western was quoted March 3, at $1.45 per 100, sacked, at Portland.

Oats markets were quiet and the price declined slightly, reflecting the slow inquiry for the light current offerings. Inquiry for gray oats in Pacific Northwestern markets was somewhat more active and prices for seed oats advanced. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland March 3 at $1.32½ per 100 with No. 2 gray oats nominally quoted at $1.40 per 100, sacked. At Seattle, white oats from eastern Washington were quoted at $1.40 per 100.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Seems like spring is really here, and work in the fields can soon begin, but don't let that interrupt an important item in your yearly income—cream. The way the new farm law looks, no one can tell just what is to be allowed, what the penalties will be for having one spear of wheat too many, or one too many hills of beans. You'll all find out when the government inspectors start making their rounds at the taxpayers expense. So far, there seems to be no regulation on the amount of cream you can market, so why wouldn't it be a wise move to plan for a bigger income from cream checks—to cash in in a big way on your cows?

Wanda: "He wore my photo over his heart and it stopped a bullet while he was in Spain."
Ethel: "I'm not surprised, dear. It would stop anything!"

Sally (in the moonlight): "Does the moon affect the tide?"
Jake: "No, just the untied!"

Lawyer, to client: "Do you understand the nature of an oath, Mrs. Scruggs?"

Mrs. Scruggs: "Well, my husband has tended the furnace for 30 years, been a dub golfer for 15 years and we have four big grown sons!"

Biff: "What part of the auto kills the most people?"
Boom: "That's an easy one—the nut behind the wheel."

It isn't always a good idea to go around with a chip on your shoulder—someone might take a notion to knock your block off.
