INTERESTING NEWS BITS FROM OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL

For examinations will be completed Friday of this week, and no additional work is needed. They will be excused for the week. Baccalaureate service will be held in the church at 8 o'clock Sunday, and Commencement exercises will also be in the church Wednesday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock.

Following the custom of the past years there will be no all-high school picnic so far as the school is concerned. It is felt that such an occasion, with so many different means of transportation, the risk is too great to be undertaken by the school and the community—hence no picnic as a school activity will be sponsored. It may have been the case in previous years that there will be groups or parties by many of the students, who go on an outing of this kind, for the benefit of the parents, school and district will not be responsible for the students on an outing of this kind.

John Weeks, with an average of 90 on a basis of 100 (perfect) has been selected to deliver the Valedictory address at Commencement. He is being the highest average for 25 years' work, it automatically carries this honor with it. Lorraine Body, with an average of 5.46 on the same basis, will be Salutatorian of the class, she having the second highest average. The third and fourth members, all receiving 5.00 or over are Wayne Thornton, Lewis, 5.38; and Betty Nelson, Bear, 5.00. Nolan and Lorraine have attended Kendrick high school for the full four years. Lorraine has been here one year and Betty has attended here two years. State Eighth Grade examinations were held here Monday for Kendrick students from Pine Creek and American Ridge.

All the pictures have been received for the Annual and it will be completed and ready to hand out on Thursday of next week.

The caps and gowns to be worn by the Seniors at Baccalaureate and Commencement activities have arrived. The Seniors will practice on Friday afternoon for these processions.

The May Day Festival, which is being staged by all the grades, is progressing nicely. This Festival will be held in the city park on Wednesday, May 18, at 10 a. m. It is urged that all parents and friends attend this activity on which the youngsters are working. There will be sports following the festival in the afternoon. At noon there will be a big basket lunch, to which everyone is invited. Each family to bring its own lunch. The Kendrick School Band will participate in the activities also.

On last Thursday the Southwick baseball team came to Kendrick, where they competed with our team in a close game. The final score was 19-17 in favor of Southwick.

At a baseball game played at Southwick on Monday, Kendrick was again beaten by a score of 20 to 3.

F. F. A. News

Delbert Hoffman and Charles Bower entered the Farm Mechanics contest held at Moscow Tuesday. Lapwal placed first, Kendrick second and Moscow third. The contest consisted of tool identification, rope work, soldering, leather work, rafter cutting and saw filing.

The boys of this unit are planning a camping trip during the latter part of May. It is hoped that most of the boys will be able to go.

Improving Gas Station

The Conoco Gas company, Oscar Raby, local manager, has recently completed an addition to the local station warehouse, which is now 16x34 feet in size. The entire warehouse is being given a new coat of paint.

It's the little things that make big ones, and this will be just one more bright spot in our little city which we hope later to make the cleanest and best place to live in the entire Northwest. That may be a large order, but it can be done.

Eight-Eight Bridge Club

Members of the Eight-Eight bridge club enjoyed their semi-annual dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Higley last Thursday evening. Following a delicious 6:30 dinner, bridge was played at four tables.

High scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. S. Cook and J. M. Lyle, Jr., while low scores went to Mrs. O. E. Havens and E. Roberts.

Miss Jean Winegardner is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Winegardner.

Fire Destroys Farm Home

Gil Erlwine, living on Cedar creek lost his house and entire contents by an early-morning fire last Monday. The family had gotten up early, eaten breakfast and secured a man to help them in the field for the day, while Mr. and Mrs. Erlwine, with Fred Magee, were planning a business trip to Moscow, and Mrs. Erlwine to see an oculist.

They had left home, taking the children to school, but upon stopping to let the children out, noticed smoke pouring from the house. They rushed back, but by the time they reached the house the entire interior was ablaze and they were unable to save any of their household goods or personal belongings.

William Zimmerman, living but a short distance away, also noticed the smoke and hurried over. Arriving before the Erlwines returned, he thought it possible some of the children or Mrs. Erlwine might be in the house. Trying the door, which was locked, he broke it down, but the heat was so terrific that he was unable to enter, or to save any of the contents.

The property was covered by insurance.

Family Reunion

On Mother's Day Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pearson and Grandma Sutton motored to Asotin, Wash., where a family reunion was held at the home of Mr. Pearson's mother, there being 22 of the family present, besides a few friends. This is the first time all of the family have been together for 16 years.

A very enjoyable day and a wonderful family was had by all.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held Monday evening with dinner being served at 6:30 by Mrs. Edgar Long and Mrs. Paul Lind, 16 interested persons being in attendance. While the attendance was rather small, the meeting was interesting. Several of those who are ordinarily in attendance were out of town, hence not a great deal of business was transacted.

A report was made that Gov. Barzilla W. Clark would again visit Kendrick within the coming month or so to look after road matters, which are just now attracting the attention of all sections of the state where road improvement is desired or underway.

It was also reported that on May 23 there will be shown more moving pictures of wild life. These films are furnished by the Forestry service and are free to the public and everyone is cordially invited to attend. They will be shown in Fraternal Temple.

It was also reported that the magpie contest is coming along in good shape and that boys are bringing in many heads, which are worth four cents each—cash on delivery.

H. B. Thompson of the Civic Improvement committee, reported that the city council was co-operating in the fixing up of our parks and had made a special levy of one mill for park purposes. This will give ample funds for keeping our city park in excellent condition and it is hoped eventually to make a real park out of the beautiful hillside just across the creek to the south, so generously donated to the village by the Vollmer-Clearwater company last year.

N. E. Ware, who is an occasional visitor at the club meetings, was present brought before the club a subject that has been discussed many times, but from which it seems only meager results have been obtained, and that is the dumping of garbage along highways, on vacant lots—in fact, most any place where there is room.

Mr. Ware did not come with malice in his heart, but with a plea to the general public to "please be kind," saying that instead of defacing the natural beauty of our roads and other places, trees and rosebushes should be planted to make them slightly instead of unsightly.

A. O. Kanikkeberg reported that the baseball team is getting along very nicely and would develop as the season advances. He also announced that the baseball boys would give a dance in the Kendrick Gymnasium on this Friday night, to which the general public is invited.

Old Grain Tubes Being Repaired

Word has been given out that the Lewiston Grain Growers association has purchased from the Vollmer-Clearwater company the big cement grain tubes that have been standing idle and as an eye-sore to the town since the elevator and mill structure burned, many years ago, and will again be put to use.

Work was started Monday morning pumping the water from the sump and just as soon as that is completed and materials can be gotten on the ground, work will be commenced on rebuilding the elevator, which will be made modern in every way as a grain-bulking institution.

While it has not been learned just what the grain capacity is of the tubes, it is estimated they, with the bins, will hold in the neighborhood of 100,000 bushels, which, added to the 150,000-bushel capacity of the Kendrick Rochdale company's elevator, will give Kendrick perhaps the largest bulk grain capacity, for a country town, outside of Genesee, which, we are told, has a bulking capacity of near 500,000 bushels.

This new addition to the grain storage capacity in Kendrick, added to the warehouse capacity, will give something like half a million bushels storage facility.

Pinochle Club

Mrs. Hiram Galloway, Miss Alma Jones, Emil Levi and Henry Emery entertained the pinochle club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lunders Tuesday evening.

High scores for the evening were won by Mrs. L. Lunders and Ira Havens, while low went to Rilla Davidson and Don Lyle. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of play.

Kendrick Loses To Pomeroy

The Kendrick baseball club played at Pomeroy last Sunday and was defeated 13 to 5. It was a good game up to the eighth inning, with Pomeroy leading 5-2. W. Brammer striking out 10 men and keeping hits well scattered. At this point Triplett went in for Kendrick and the Pomeroy boys fell on him for eight hits and as many runs before he was lifted in favor of Brammer, who again took the mound.

Kendrick put on a ninth-inning rally to score three runs, when Millard parked one over the fence for a home-run, with two men on bases ahead of him, but it was not enough to win.

Kendrick meets Orofino on the Juliaetta ground next Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Lyle has been at the head of the Kendrick school for the past five years and, be it said to his credit, the school has run smoothly all these years and he is to be complimented in more ways than one on the success the school has been and the ratings it has received from the state accrediting department.

A full list of teachers and their assignments will be made just as soon as they have all been placed.

WHEAT MARKETS FAIRLY STEADY FOLLOWING DECLINE

Domestic wheat markets held fairly steady during the first week in May despite further declines in foreign markets and continued favorable prospects, both for winter and spring wheat, states the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Oats held steady but barley was slightly weaker, influenced principally by excellent prospects for the new crop.

The Federal Crop Insurance corporation announced average county loss figures for determining wheat crop insurance premiums for Ohio, Indiana, Texas and Oklahoma. Insurance policies will be offered shortly to farmers on their 1939 wheat crop. Farmers may insure their crops at either 75 per cent or 50 per cent of the average yield for their farms. The crop insurance premiums are payable in wheat or the cash equivalent of the wheat at the time the premium is paid. These premiums are payable in advance. Any losses which may be paid to farmers will also be paid in wheat or the cash equivalent at the time the loss is paid. The average county premium rate to insure 75 per cent of the average yields ranges from .6 bushels to 2.2 bushels per acre in Ohio, .6 to 1.6 in Indiana, .7 to 2.6 bushels in Texas and from .3 to 2.6 bushels in Oklahoma. The rates to insure 50 per cent of the average yields are from one-third to two-thirds as large as the rates to insure the 75 per cent coverage. On any policy the regulations provide for a minimum rate of one-half bushel per acre for an insured percentage of 75 per cent and a minimum of .3 bushels per acre for an insured percentage of 50 per cent.

Remaining supplies of old wheat are over 50 per cent larger than a year ago and on April 1 totaled 332,235,000 bushels against 211,196,000 bushels April 1, 1937. Marketings of winter wheat were well maintained with a total of 1,558 cars at the principal terminals compared with 571 for the corresponding week last season.

Intermountain and Pacific coast markets were rather unsettled with prices fluctuating with local supply and demand conditions. Mills at (Continued on Inside)

Idaho's state capitol covers 50,000 square feet and was erected in 1906.

The Oregon Short Line was completed across southern Idaho in the year 1884.

The first census of Idaho was taken in 1870 and showed a population of 14,999 people.

Farms occupy but 17 1/2 per cent of Idaho's 83,354 square miles of area.

WHEAT MARKETS FAIRLY STEADY FOLLOWING DECLINE

Denver were bidding on No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring to 85c per bushel FOB shipping points. Mills at Ogden lowered prices about 1c per bushel with No. 2 soft white quoted at 56c, hard white at 54c and northern spring and hard winter at 53c per bushel, FOB Utah-Idaho common points.

At Portland prices held unchanged on some classes and advanced materially on others. Light offerings at country points were the principal market influence since demand was not broad. At the close of the week, hard white (baart) was quoted at 81 1/2c for 12 per cent protein, soft white at 81 1/2c, western white at 80 1/2c and western red at 80c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, sacked.

Receipts of wheat at Columbia river and Puget Sound terminals dropped to 664 cars, a large percentage of which represented deliveries to mills on earlier purchases. Local milling demand was moderate and limited mostly to special lots for immediate needs. Export trade was fair with sales of about 2,500 tons of white wheat in parcel lots to Continental European countries.

California markets weakened with approaching new crop movement. Prospects were generally favorable in central California and growers were more inclined to dispose of remaining supplies of old wheat. Pacific Northwestern barley markets were quiet but prices held about steady with light trade. Malting quality Henchen barley from the Willamette valley area was in light supply and demand from middle-western maltsters was also dull and prices were nominally quoted around $1.35 per 100 in bulk, FOB cars Willamette valley shipping points. Feeding types were practically unchanged from a week ago, with No. 2 bright western barley testing 45 pounds quoted at Portland at $1.40 per 100, sacked.

Oats markets were somewhat irregular with light offerings in only fair request. Pacific Northwestern markets were about steady, although trading and movement were light and only four carlots of oats were received at Portland during that period. Inquiry was limited but offerings were also light with farmers generally busy with field work which restricted country marketings. No. 2 gray oats and No. 2 white oats testing 38 pounds were quoted at Portland May 5, at $1.30 per 100, sacked, while oats from eastern Washington were quoted higher than Willamette valley oats at around $1.40 per 100, sacked, reflecting favorable transit privileges.

NEEDS WALL, NOT BRICKS, SAYS SAFETY COUNCIL

Highway safety needs a whole wall, not bricks," says the Idaho safety council.

In letters of representative citizens of communities on the Yellowstone highway, the council recently sought opinions regarding causes of motor crashes that have taken heavy toll of life on that thoroughfare.

Analysis of replies indicated, says a statement issued by the council, that consent of sentiment is lacking, as to both causes and remedies.

Narrow roadway and deep narrow pits were agreed upon as contributing factors. Improper lighting of stalled truck, glaring headlights of cars, incautious driving, were cited in various letters.

"Suggested remedies, however, were at wide variance," the statement says. "Some thoughtful citizens advocate a campaign of arrest for all traffic offenses. Others want severe penalties to follow casualties. Some prefer revision of statutes and increased enforcement personnel; others think 'tightening up' with the present laws and force would suffice."

"But it is significant that not a single letter embraced a complete approach to the problem—a continued effort in a definite path."

"A definite plan, universally endorsed and of proven effectiveness, is offered the people of Idaho. It calls for statewide work in this field through a central organization. Until the public will adopt and support this plan there is justification for a widely quoted saying of the Iowa council: 'We can have highway safety if we want it.'"

"Divergent opinions, fragmentary plans, scattered effort, have but little effect in redeeming the death toll."

"Highway safety needs a whole wall, not single bricks."

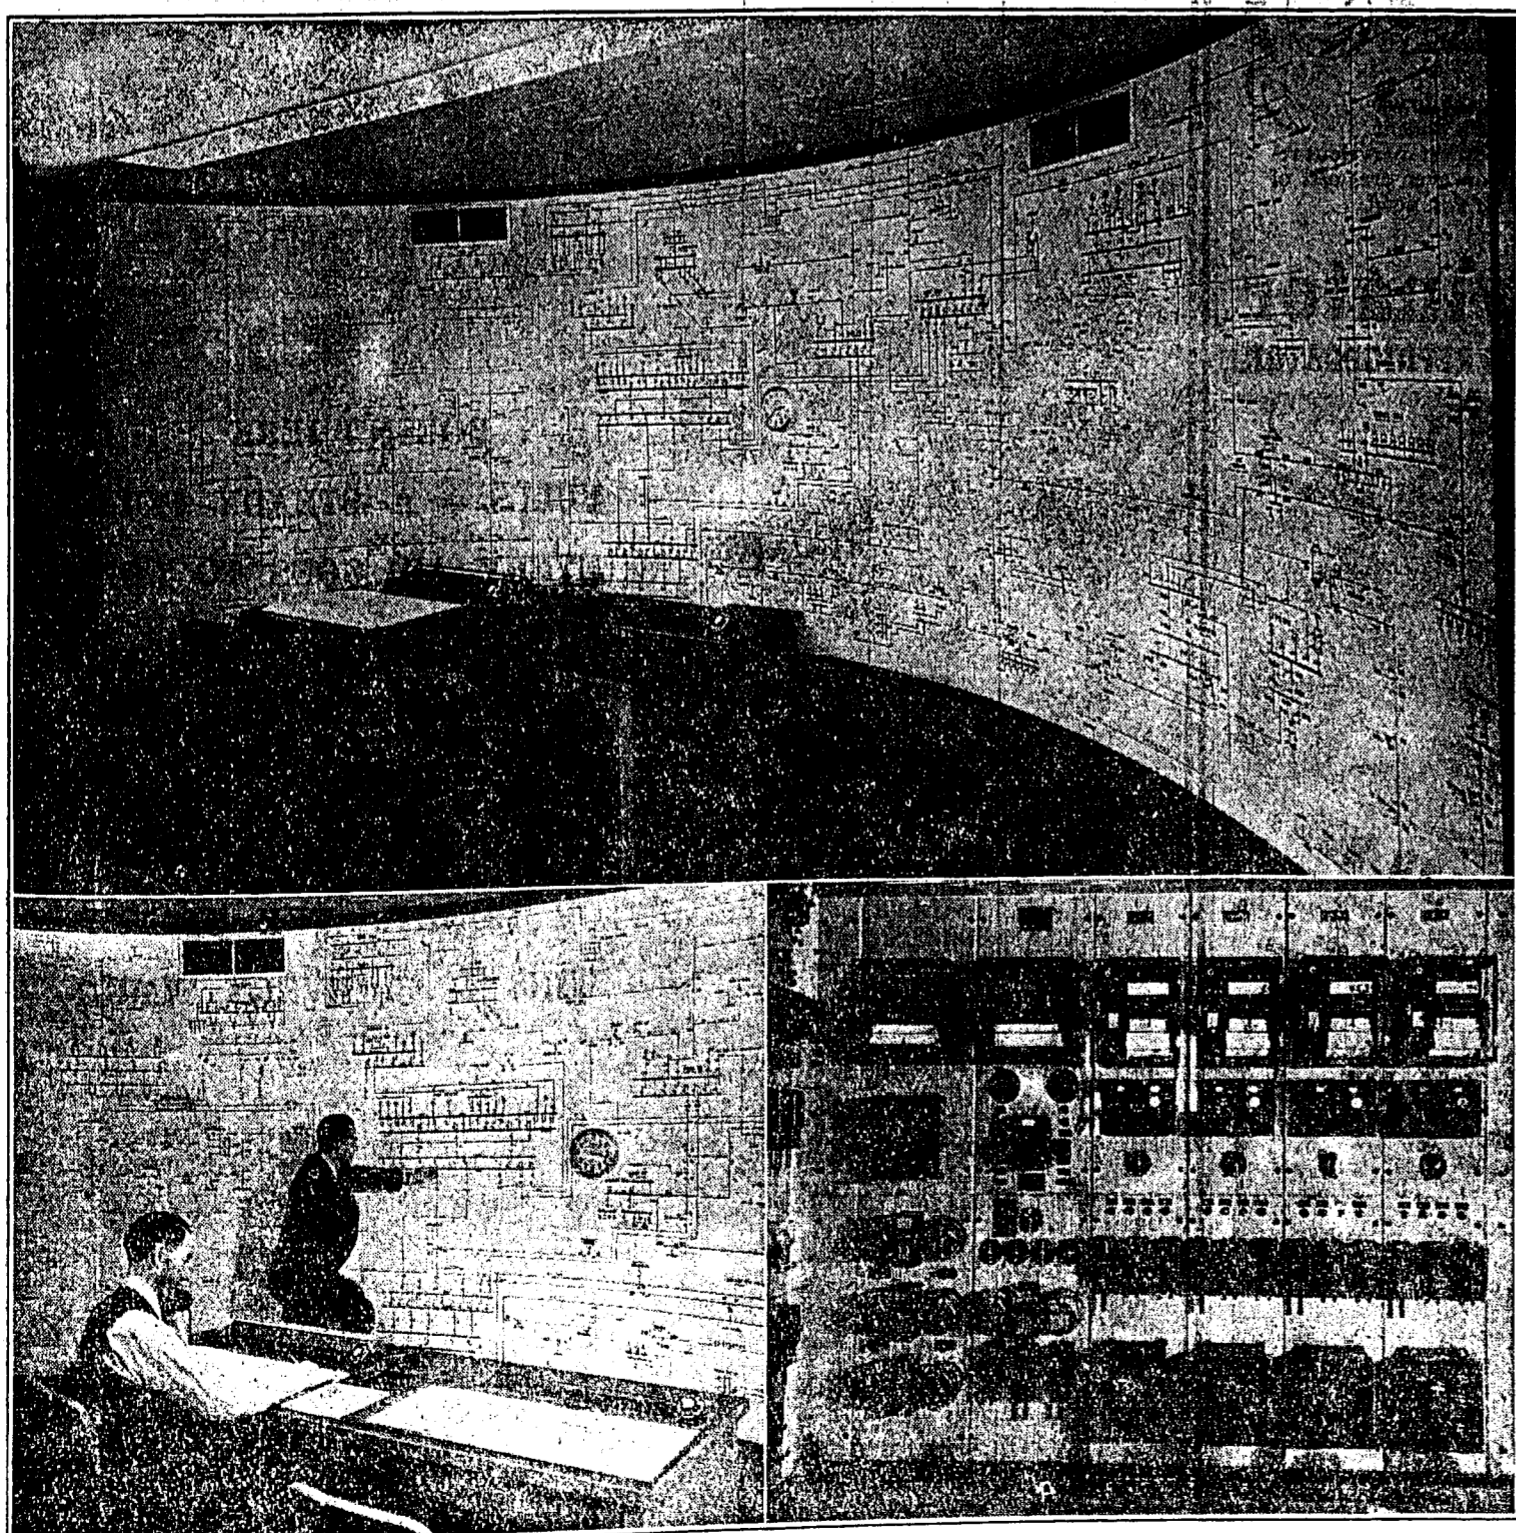

The Idaho Safety Council is encouraging a formation of local councils to apply in Idaho the plan of the National Safety Council for approach to the traffic problem. D. F. Banks is executive secretary, at Box 2367, Boise, Idaho.

Too Much Competition

Benjamin Franklin's mother-in-law thought twice before giving consent to her daughter's marriage with a printer. Her greatest objection was that there was already two printing presses in the United States and she doubted whether a third would find enough business to make a living.

Gold was discovered at Leesburg, Lemhi county, in 1866.

Maze of Electric System Lines Provide an Operation Map

A complete picture of the Washington Water Power company's electric system is provided the system operator on the power board shown at the top. The plan is a miniature, enabling the system operator to provide an immediate service for maintenance of power over the network of lines between the Cascades and Rocky mountains. At the lower left Engineer M. L. Blair is to be seen at the power board, while Ray L. Wetherell, system operator, is handling the telephone on an incoming call. In the photograph at the lower right is to be seen the automatic operator at Long Lake. The panel has been designed to increase accuracy in frequency control over the company system, which results in a higher efficiency of operation of synchronous motors and electric clocks. In other words, this panel holds the instruments which maintain the accuracy of electric time pieces throughout the Pacific northwest.

Salt Superstitions Are

Numerous in Other Lands

There are almost as many salt superstitions and legends as there are stories of bread, and it is interesting to look back over them, notes a writer in the Montreal Herald.

It is a common thing to say that a person is not worth his salt and that it is bad luck to spill salt, but where did these ideas originate? In India, people do gather the sea water and from it evaporate their own salt, and by their ability to prepare the salt their value as salt workers is determined. Our counterpart of this expression is, "He isn't worth his keep."

The spilling superstition may have come to us from the Arabs or from the Hebrews, although they hold somewhat divergent views as to what causes the bad luck. In the Hebrew language, "salty" is synonymous with "barren," and in the ancient biblical times it was customary to spill salt over the site of a destroyed city because it would render the ground barren and the city, therefore, unfit for rebuilding. Consequently, the idea developed that to spill salt was bad and from that has come the modern superstition.

On the other hand, among the Far Eastern nations salt is recognized as an emblem of friendship and so it is easy to understand how the spilling of salt would be construed as an unfriendly gesture and would lead to the superstition that such an accident would foretell a quarrel.

Sandy Hook Once Island,

According to Old Record

The log of the Half Moon, kept by Alfred Juet, the mate, in describing Henry Hudson's discovery of what is now the coast of New Jersey, states, under date of September 8, 1609, that the explorers came to "three rivers." Historians have been guessing ever since just which waterways Juet referred to.

Writers of the American Guide have found two editions of a map of New Jersey in the library of Rutgers university. The maps were published by William Fadden, of Charing Cross, London, England, in December, 1777, and in December, 1778, from a survey made by Bernard Ratzer, while he was a lieutenant in the king's army.

The earlier maps show Sandy Hook as a peninsula, the second map shows it as an island. The publisher placed a legend in the water separating the Hook from the mainland, which explains that "the sea broke through in September, 1778." The sea, doubtlessly, was flowing through the channel in 1609, when Hudson arrived. This branch of the sea was probably mistaken for a river by the explorers.

Chief Town of Dalmatia

Split, the center of the Yugoslav Riviera, is the chief town of Dalmatia. In the Third century Emperor Diocletian repaired to the site — then the little village of Aspalatos — to "plant cabbages"; but instead he built for himself an immense palace. This palace, occupying some ten acres, stands, forming a town in itself with several hundred families. In the Seventh century the emperor's mausoleum became a Dom, or cathedral, and his Temple of Jupiter is a baptistry. No building in the world, perhaps, boasts as great a mixture of architectural styles as this cathedral. There are examples of the antique, the Roman, the early Asiatic, the early Gothic, the Renaissance and other arts, all accumulated as the building underwent changes and repairs in the course of sixteen centuries.

Pygmy Hippopotamus

The pygmy hippopotamus is found only in a few lakes and rivers of Liberia, the Negro republic of Western Africa, although his ancestors in prehistoric times inhabited southern Europe, northern Africa, and the islands of the Mediterranean. The pygmy is not so well equipped for swimming as the giant hippo. His eyes are set in the side of his head, instead of on top, and his legs and tail are longer. He has a larger brain and spends more of his time on shore in dense jungle than in the water.

Heidelberg

Heidelberg, a university town of Baden in southwestern Germany, is the seat of the university, which was founded in 1385. The town has an ancient castle which contains in its cellar a cask with a capacity of 46,732 gallons. Near Heidelberg, in 1907, the lower jawbone of a prehistoric man was found, and this city has given its name to the racial type which is believed to have existed many hundreds of thousands of years ago.

Strange Animal Alliance

One of the strangest alliances of the animal kingdom is that of the rattlesnake, the prairie dog and the owl on the western plains. The prairie dog is an involuntary host to the two intruders who move into his underground home. The owl gets shelter and the rattler demands both shelter and food — young prairie dogs for choice. In some rattlesnake families, observers say, the mother opens her mouth when danger approaches and her young crawl inside.

American Library Given

for the Use of Indians

The earliest known printed book is the "Diamond Sutra," a Buddhist scripture, printed in China in 868 by Wang Chieh, the first known printer of a book. One copy of this book is known to exist. The earliest known library was a collection of clay tablets in Babylonia in the twenty-first century B. C.

In the United States, the earliest known library was one given in 1621, for use of the Indians at Henrico, Va. The first university library in the United States was the one founded by John Harvard in 1638. The first public library was established in Boston in 1653.

Originally printers performed all the functions of publishers. Probably the first publishers, in the present sense of the profession, were the Elzevirs.

The founder of the house of Elzevir, Louis, published his first book at Leyden in 1683. Elzevirs—for such are their books known—were published until 1712.

Elzevirs were good textually, legible and inexpensive; they were sturdy rather than elegant, and typically the books were of small size (12mo to 32mo), and were prepared especially for the impecunious scholar. The house of Elzevir had agencies all over Europe and published in many languages, including Latin, Greek and French.—From the Pleasures of Publishing.

Vancouver, B. C., Had Two

Names in Earlier Times

Before the coming of the railway Vancouver, B. C. was a tiny settlement, known as Gastown, after a somewhat disreputable character named Gassy Jack, who sold liquor to the loggers and fishermen, and also as Granville, the designation chosen by one of the earliest inhabitants who had claimed most of the waterfront as his own.

The name was changed to Vancouver in honor of the young British midshipman who had sailed under Captain Cook on his third voyage of discovery into the Pacific and who subsequently did a great deal of exploring on his own account. Vancouver was one of the first white men to glimpse the great landlocked harbor that today welcomes the flags of every maritime nation.

Like many another pioneer city, Vancouver went through the ordeal of fire shortly after its birth. Flames swept the entire community, but the disaster served only to stir the imagination of her people and hasten reconstruction along bolder and more carefully planned lines.

Odd Postage Stamp Error

One of the most interesting stamp errors in existence is the regularly issued five para stamp of Egypt, sold in 1875. From 1867 until 1875 the stamps of Egypt were printed by V. Penasson in Alexandria (the 1868 set was made in Genoa by Pellas Brothers), but in that year the manufacture of postage stamps was taken over by the government, which installed a printing plant at Boulou. The printers, all native Egyptians, were ignorant of the European inscription and numbers, so when a die for the five para stamp was made they reckoned only with the Arabic, adding the figure "5" in each corner last. In doing this they inverted all four "5s" and the word "Para." The printing of these stamps was so unsatisfactory that the next set was ordered from De La Rue, in London, in 1879.

Abraham's Gardens

Gardens are recorded in ancient accounts of the journey of Abraham from Ur of the Chaldees to the Land of Canaan, says the New York World, gardens that flourished in approximately 2000 B. C. The record is, as follows: "When the caravan stopped for a long time in one place the women cultivated the soil. They raised lettuce, onions, radishes, beans, lentils, cauliflower, cabbage, carrots and beets. The seeds they carefully saved and carried from place to place. Sometimes when they found a new root they planted it. In larger fields they raised wheat, rye and barley to feed their cattle and make bread for themselves. The men could not help much in cultivating the soil because they had to care for the herds, hunt and fight."

Home of Wild Sheep

Wild sheep of many species occupy mountains in most of Asia, Southern Europe and Northern Africa. Asia has by far the greatest number of species and individuals, and scientists believe it to be the region where wild sheep originated. They must have been fairly early migrants to North America, however, probably crossing from Siberia to Alaska long before the first human beings to populate the New World came over by the same route.

Appropriate School Sign

Of all the building signs in existence that indicate by symbols the kind of goods sold or the sort of service rendered by the establishment, writes Edward J. McGowan in Collier's Weekly, the one that would probably take the prize for simple originality is nailed on the front of a schoolhouse in Punaaula, Tahiti. It reads: "2x2-4."

About Social Security Numbers
Boise, Feb. 22.—The collector of internal revenue for the District of Idaho states that many employers who have paid the taxes under the Social Security act have failed to forward to his office the informational return for the period July to December, 1937. This return shows the social security number, name and amount each employee has earned during this six months. Without such information these employers are depriving their employees of the correct amount set up to their credit by the Social Security board. The collector urges all who have not filed the information return to do so at once.
