MANY SOCIAL ACTIVITIES ON BIG BEAR RIDGE

Farewell To Sneevs

On Thursday evening of last week a large number of neighbors and friends gathered at the Stanley Sneevs home for a surprise farewell party. The evening was spent in visiting and a nice lunch served by the guests. Mrs. Sneevs received gifts from the Ladies Guild members. Regrets were expressed at their leaving this community, however, their friends well-wishes will follow them to their new home.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Lien entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sneevs at dinner. In the evening they were again pleasantly surprised when another group of relatives and friends came in unannounced. The afternoon was spent in singing old-time songs and visiting. A lovely lunch was served by the guests. They were presented with a purse (of money) in appreciation of their help in Lutheran church activities.

Mrs. Sneevs is vice-chairman of the Home Demonstration club, organizer at the Lutheran church and was an active member of the Ladies Guild and Lutheran Ladies Aid, so it is needless to say they will be greatly missed here. They moved to Genesee Friday.

Farewell For Mrs. Ingle

A group of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. D. J. Ingle Tuesday afternoon, prior to her leaving. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all, and a delicious lunch served by the guests.

Mrs. Ingle visited Mrs. James Emmett in Kendrick and departed Friday to spend the winter with her son, Dr. Dwight Ingle and family, in Philadelphia, Penn. Dwight has recently accepted a splendid position in the east, having been with Mayo Bros. in Rochester, Minn., since departing from here after graduation from the U. of I. Mrs. Ingle plans to return to her home here in the spring.

Barney Malerich and his six-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

The Carnival held last Friday night proved to be a grand success. A large crowd attended and all seemed to have an enjoyable time. A considerable amount was taken in, which will be used for different needs of the school for athletic activities. The booths were decorated colorfully, and they all proved quite an attraction. After a neck-in-neck contest between Erma Jones and Bernadine Peters to determine the queen, the contest was won by Lois Deobald, the Freshman candidate, who forged to the front in the last two seconds of the race. The dance which followed was well attended and all-in-all, everything went off wonderfully.

The F. F. A. booth was a new item in our carnival. Their boxing proved to be very exciting for those participating and those on the side lines too. The bout between Jim Kuykendall and Dick Fry was plenty exciting, with lots of thrills and spills. From the opinion of those who saw it, Keeler and Magee mixed up considerably. This was a close battle as well. Felix Holt and Clarence Wilson furnished plenty of entertainment for the onlookers. The small lads, whose names are not known at present, furnished a good eye-opener for the start.

The English I class has started reading "The Ancient Mariner." The Sophomores have started "Silas Marner." The Junior class play, under the direction of Mrs. Simmons, is well under way. Poem By An Old-Timer

It seems that there is a movement on foot to tear down the American Ridge church. To those of us who lived there forty years ago, and whose parents made great sacrifices that the church might be built, this seems little short of sacrilege. Most of you perhaps have a little church somewhere that you hold dear, just as we do this one. Perhaps this poem expresses how we feel.

"The Old Church"
'Tis just a shabby, gray old church
High up on a hill
Yet to some of us it means
All things sacred still.

We hear again in memory lane,
The quaint old organ ring
And see the choir file slowly in
The dear old songs to sing.

Sometimes its walls have echoed back
A happy marriage strain
And children there have sat and learned,
Of sacred precepts plain.

Sadly yet we sometimes go
To lay our dead to rest
And sit and think that after all
The old true things are best.

The old church now seems to stand
In the way of progress gay
They say they want to tear it down
The place where memories stay.

This is a plea, to leave it still
So we may come home once more
To that dear old church there on the hill

When all our trials are o'er,
—Norma Carlton Taylor.

Tourist (at roadside spring)—Is this cup sanitary?
Native—It must be; everybody uses it.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER — FEED GRAINS SLOWER

Wheat markets turned firmer during the week ended October 14, influenced by governmental purchases, further advances in securities markets and dry weather in United States winter wheat areas and in Australia, states the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Feed grains, however, continued to decline with the increased movement of new grain and the relative abundance of supplies compared with prospective feed requirements, the principal weakening factors.

Some strengthening was apparent in the general wheat situation, largely as a result of threatened drought damage in Australia and in important areas of the United States winter wheat belt, together with smaller shipments from the southern hemisphere and Black Sea ports. The condition of the crop was becoming critical in large areas in Australia with trade agencies estimating production at around 130 million bushels. Widespread and very severe drought prevailed in the United States from the Mississippi river westward to the Rocky mountains except in local areas. The dryness was intensified by unusually warm weather in this area. Southern hemisphere shipments dropped to a little over 2 million bushels while Black Sea shipments were only slightly over 2 million bushels, including about one and a quarter million bushels from Russia.

The Liverpool market was steady to firm, with United States No. 2 hard yellow winter quoted at 69 1/2c, white wheat from the Pacific Coast at 71c, No. 2 Manitoba northern at 74 1/2c, high grade Russian wheat at 64 1/2c and Australian wheat afloat at 74 1/2c per bushel. Canadian markets advanced slightly, influenced by a steady Liverpool market and by some falling off in marketings. Prices at Winnipeg were up about 2c, with No. 3 northern quoted at 57c and No. 2 Canadian western durum at 45 1/2c per bushel.

Domestic cash wheat markets were steady to slightly higher with increased purchases by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation an important strengthening feature. The corporation announced during the week it's readiness to purchase wheat at the loan rate in Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska under the same terms as announced for wheat in Idaho, Utah and spring wheat areas. A large proportion of sales in some areas were to the corporation since the loan value is about equal to current market values.

Marketings of winter wheat were slightly above those of the previous week, totaling 2,569 cars at nine winter wheat markets as compared with 2,452 a week ago and 1,434 a year ago. Cash wheat held firm at Kansas City with some strength in the premium basis. Demand for open market offerings at Kansas City was only fair but with supplies of moderate volume, clearances were fairly satisfactory.

Spring wheat markets were inclined to be unsettled at Minneapolis with mill demand quiet and irregular but premiums were about unchanged on the average. Early in the week, premiums were independently weak toward the lower end of test weight range, but later in the period elevator buyers entered the market for these lower grades and prices firmed. Irregularity in mill demand was attributed to the spasmodic flour trade. Arrivals of all wheat at Minneapolis during the week totaled 1,032 cars while 911 cars were unloaded at Duluth.

Pacific Northwestern wheat markets were slightly firmer and cash wheat at Portland ranged from unchanged to 1 1/2c per bushel higher, compared with the previous week, according to supply and demand conditions on different classes of wheat.

Reflecting principally deliveries on purchases during other recent weeks, wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals advanced to 783 cars for the week. Mill demand continued rather slow and current market offerings appeared easily sufficient to supply their needs, which were mostly for special quality lots. Export demand was slow with trade reports indicating practically no new export sales during the period. California demand for Pacific Coast wheat remained extremely light. On October 14, flour indemnity prices to the Philippines were quoted at 30c, general indemnity from Pacific Coast ports 80c.

"Vote The Game Bill First"
"Vote the game bill first" was today adopted by the Idaho Wildlife Federation as its slogan in the battle to secure a non-optical game commission for Idaho. Suggested originally by the Latah county affiliate organization, the proposal met with instant approval of federation leaders. "If voters will mark their initiative ballots first," said R. G. Cole, federation president, "they won't forget them. Otherwise, wading through a long list of candidates may distract the attention of many voters and cause them to overlook the initiative—the first ever submitted to the Idaho electorate." The Wildlife federation chief pointed out that but 19 days remain before election and called for re-doubling efforts on the part of sportsmen throughout the state to take the game department out of politics.

Return With Meat
Just a couple of Douglas Corrigan—E. A. Deobald and W. A. Watts — for Friday morning, Oct. 7, about 4 a. m., these two gentlemen pulled out of Kendrick on what was supposed to be an elk hunt, but in the early morning fog and the excitement of their departure, they headed their machine west instead of east, and when the mists had cleared away, found themselves in Seattle, where they were joined by Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Watts.

Again getting mixed up in the early morning fog, the entire party turned north into Canada, instead of south into elk territory — and when the mists had lifted found themselves crossing the Canadian line and heading into Canada. Well, to make a long story short, they drove to Quenesel, were met there by a packer, and taken on a moose hunt, from which all emerged with a fine big bull moose each, and several big sets of horns. E. A. Deobald topped the party, bagging a bull with a spread of 44 inches to his big shovel shaped horns. W. A. Watts brought out a set of horns not to be "sneezed at, either. They returned Sunday evening, Oct. 16. The cool weather enabled them to bring out every pound of the meat — and some load it was, too.

Young People's Meeting
Young People's meeting was held last Sunday evening, with an attendance of 20. The leaders for the evening were Davida Craig and Alma Bailey. Davida led the devotional period, while Alma carried on the talk on "Alcohol," which was taken up for the meeting of last Sunday by Myra Kanikkeberg. The cabinet members met at the home of Myra Kanikkeberg and decided questions should be passed out by the leaders about their talks, so that the members will have a better chance for their consideration. Plans were also made for a Halloween party, which will be held in the near future. Refreshments were served by Myra Kanikkeberg following the meeting. Leon Lind will be the leader for next Sunday evening. He will talk on "Smoking."

PINE CREEK GOSSIP
Mrs. L. A. Bartlett has been visiting the past week in Oregon, at the home of her son, Wayne, and family. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Slead and Lawrence Slead visited Saturday evening with their mother, Mrs. Nellie Slead. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Riley and family visited Sunday in the Dorr home near Deary. Mrs. Fred Bailey visited Sunday evening and Monday in the Slocum and Bailey homes in Lewiston. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glenn were Moscow visitors Monday. Katherine Davis of Elberton, Wn., is visiting this week in the Frank Wilken home.

BIG BEAR BREVITIES
(By Deryl Ingle)
A telephone meeting was held at the hall Thursday evening. Quite a number from here attended the Carnival in Kendrick Friday evening. A goodly number from this ridge were present at the Kendrick Sales day. Mr. and Mrs. John Black of Dry Creek spent Sunday at the H. L. Ingle home. George Jones, student at the U. of I., spent the week-end at home. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilson were in Lewiston one day last week.

Here Comes the "Show Boat"
And you will all have an opportunity of seeing this splendid picture at the Kendrick Theatre this Friday and Saturday nights. It is conceded to be one of the best now being shown. It tells the love story of Magnolia and Ravenal on a Mississippi show boat, with Irene Dunne and Allan Jones taking the leading roles. The "Show Boat" is filled with music, dancing and heart throbs. The picture has 200 singers, with 3,500 people taking part, which gives reality to the production. High-stepping beauties in captivating dances lend charm and rhythm to the picture.

To Hold Jamboree
The fifth annual jamboree of Potlatch Forests, Inc., an annual gathering of foremen, supervisors and executives of the company, will be held in Potlatch, Nov. 5, it has been announced by J. J. O'Connell, manager of the Potlatch unit. Levity, which usually marks the annual jamboree as an outstanding event for some 500 persons, will give way slightly this year to the more serious trends of business, but a smoker in the evening at the Potlatch company town athletic club will revive the conferees to gayer moods, Mr. O'Connell said.
DR. SIMMONS COMING
Dr. Charles Simmons will be at the Raby Hotel from 1:00 until 5:00 p. m. Thursday, October 27th, on his next professional visit. We Hope That You Attended And Enjoyed Sales Day

It Was Meant To Be Your Day

The Kendrick merchants and business men, in making this day an annual event, have intended it to be truly Your Day. A sincere attempt is made to do the things You would like to do. An attempt is made to make it enjoyable for you, and to give you an opportunity to meet and visit with your friends in case you do not care to attend any of the sales or sports events. A sincere attempt was also made to provide You with things to do.

Not only is this day offered annually as a day of pleasure, but also a day of making friends. Every merchant or business man in the town put on specials of some sort as a good-will offering — an opportunity for both to become better acquainted, and enabling you to attend the Day at a profit if you so desire. Inclement weather last Saturday undoubtedly kept many at home who would have liked to attend — but even considering the weather, a considerably larger crowd attended this year than last.

But why wait for another Sales Day to come to town? Every day in the week you will find the same friendly spirit of cooperation in Kendrick every day in the week. The Kendrick business men want to be your friends. They have money invested in your community, are vitally interested in the education of your children, in the construction of your roads, and the many other things that go to make up communities, so why not make Kendrick your trading center?

We are prompted to sponsor this message to the people of Kendrick and vicinity through our interest in community welfare.

Political Treason?

It is charged that the work of some of the government departments at Washington is being slowed down by union employes. Slowing down the pump priming would come under the heading of political treason, wouldn't it?

MANY PEOPLE USE MUCH FREE TIMBER

Timber for fuel, fencing, building, mining, prospecting and other domestic purposes allowed resident users free of charge from the 17 national forests of this region during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1938, amounted to 42,400,000 board feet. Although all this timber was dead, insect infested, diseased or stagnated from growing in too dense stands, the forest service estimates that it had a commercial value of approximately $30,000.

Free use of national forest timber is granted to individuals for personal, non-commercial purposes primarily to aid in the protection and silvicultural improvement of the federal woodlands. In certain free-use areas which are marked off in the national forests, local people are allowed to remove timber as needed without any special permit.

In all other places, however, those who need wood must apply to the nearest forest ranger and receive written permission and instructions as to how and where to cut before any timber is removed. Except in cases of unusual need, the aggregate amount of material granted for use under free-use permits to any one individual in any one year cannot exceed $20 in value.

Free-use permits for removing national forest timber were issued to 555 people in the last fiscal year, and it is estimated that approximately 13,000 people obtained fuel and other forest products for home use from prescribed free-use areas.

What Is A Cow?

The cow is a female quadruped with an alto voice and a countenance in which there is no guile. She collaborates with the pump in the production of a liquid called milk, provides the filler for hash, sausage, and similar objects and at last is skinned by those she has benefited, as mortals commonly are.

The young cow is called a calf and is used in the manufacture of chicken salad, breaded veal and other uses of which no further knowledge is necessary.

The cow's tail is mounted aft and has a universal joint. It is used to disturb marauding flies, and the tassel on the end has unique educational value. Persons coming in contact with the tassel have vocabularies of peculiar and impressive force.

The cow has two stomachs. The one on the ground floor is used as a warehouse and has no other function. When this one is filled the cow retires to a quiet spot where her bad manners will occasion no comment. The raw material thus conveyed for the second time to the interior of her face is pulverized and in turn delivered to the auxiliary stomach where it is converted into cow.

The cow has no upper plate. All her teeth are parked in the lower part of her face. This arrangement was perfected by an efficiency expert to keep her from gumming things up. As a result she bites up and gums down.

REGIONAL FORESTER MAKES URGENT HUNTER APPEAL

In a statement to the press released this week, Regional Forester Ewan W. Kelley stated that fire-ganger measurements show drier and more inflammable forest fuels this fall than in any of the past three years. In view of these conditions he made an urgent appeal to all hunters using the national forests to be extremely careful with campfires, warming fires, stoves and burning tobaccos until the fall rains begin and danger is reduced.

"Since the fall of 1933," he said, "the number of hunter-caused fires in the national forests has been steadily increasing with each successive year. Last fall fires attributed to careless sportsmen numbered 41, or almost double the number reported in any previous year. This year, if a recurrence of such a bad record is to be prevented, every hunter in the woods will have to be doubly careful, and I sincerely solicit the help of every individual and sportsmen's organization in this behalf."

With the close of the season for dry lightning storms, practically all lookouts have been removed from the peaks in the back country and the danger of man-caused fires gaining much headway before being discovered is therefore very great. One forgotten campfire or one carelessly "ripped" cigar or cigarette might result in an extremely costly blaze. Campfires and warming fires should be closely guarded at all times while burning and when left should be carefully put out with dirt or water. A good way to be sure burned matches are dead is to break them between the fingers, and particular care should be taken to see that all waste tobacco, including cigarette butts, cigar stumps and pipe heads are ground into the mineral earth or dropped in water.

IDAHO SAFETY EDUCATION BUREAU GETTING RESULTS

Twenty lives have been saved upon Idaho highways during the first eight months of the current year, according to the reports from the Safety Education Bureau of the Department of Law Enforcement at Boise. The reports up to the last three days in August show that 14 lives have been needlessly sacrificed upon Idaho roads during the month, as compared to 23 for the same month last year. This makes the total 104 for the eight months, while in the corresponding period of 1937, there were 124 deaths. This shows Idaho's trend toward lowering its traffic fatalities, which is in step with 38 other states that have reported automobile death reduction for the first seven months of 1938, which surpassed or equalled their 1937 records. For the first time in history, Idaho occupies a good position in the honor roll of states that have saved lives.

In the fatalities for August, the collision between an automobile and a railroad motor car brings the accidents of that nature to seven, with 12 lives lost since the first of the year. The deaths show that only one person died in the collision of motor vehicles during August. There were six non-collision crashes that took one life in each. These accidents included two drivers losing their lives by driving their cars into rivers; three men lost their lives when trucks they were driving went off the road and turned over as the result of inattention; a driver whose license was under revocation wrecked his car, while under the influence of liquor, killing him. Two youths were killed while riding bicycles which were struck by automobiles, and killed in a collision with an auto. Four pedestrians were killed.

Ten of the males killed were between the ages of 17 and 30, two were 36 years of age, and of the pedestrians, one was 52 and the other 71. There were no female fatalities.

In the fatal accidents, there were 11 male drivers but no female ones involved. In the 18 non-fatal collision accidents, 25 persons were injured, while 28 were injured in non-collision accidents. Thirteen cars in the non-fatal accidents were exceeding the speed limit. Eight were injured in five accidents of cars that hit fixed objects. In the total of 14 deaths, ten were caused by the inattention of drivers.

and to China 80c per barrel. Flour sales under the indemnity plan during the week totaled 2,525 barrels to the Philippines, 27,390 barrels to China, and 6,012 barrels under the general indemnity.

On Oct. 14, soft white and western white wheat were quoted at Portland at 65c, western red at 63½c, with ordinary protein hard white at 65c and hard winter at 62c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, sacked. Hard red winter wheat brought 4c over ordinary grades.

At Seattle western white was quoted at 62c, western red and hard winter at 60c and hard white (baart) 64c per bushel in bulk. Dark northern spring from Montana was quoted at 84c per bushel in bulk.

The San Francisco wheat market was dull but steady during the week as light offerings tended to offset the slow demand from most classes of trade. Prices held practically unchanged compared with a week ago. Trading and movement were both slow.

EDITORIAL

Well, folks—the hunting season is rapidly ydrawing to a close—and our locker boxes are as rapidly filling up. Hundreds of pounds of elk and venison are reposing in their depth—to supply their owners with fresh, sweet meat all season. What better method of keeping meat can be found anywhere? To date it has not been invented. Adding to its being the best system, it is handy and economical. If you do not have a locker box—better get one before it is too late. We have a number of nice ones left. Cash, these days, seems to be a scarce article—so why not pick up more as you go along by selling us your cream? You do not have to wait for government approval of this and that, for it to pass through the hands of a lot of swivel-chair polishers—but get cash right now. Bring in a can today—now—and see for yourself. When we return the can it's steam sterilized, ready for use.

And comes a minister of the gospel to make the assertion that he does not consider "damn" and "hell" profanity.—This minister must be a taxpayer!

"I'd like a couple of hardboiled eggs to take out," said the young fellow to the girl at the lunch counter.

"All right," replied the waitress, with a smile, "you'll have to wait though. Mami eand I don't get off until 10:00."

He: "I was a lifesaver last summer."
She: "Really? What flavor?"

Give a woman an inch and she'll take a mile, but give a man a smile, and he'll take a clinch."
