WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

John Waide received notice that he had been appointed chairman of the Fifth Liberty Loan drive. Nothing definite has been learned about the date of the drive.

The wedding of Miss Ida Wegner Lawrence and Mr. W. W. Wegner was held at the home of the bride's brother, August Wegner, near Cameron, on Wednesday, April 16. It was a quiet affair and was solemnized in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the bride and groom, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. F. J. Walker at 9:30 a. m. At 1:30 p. m. the happy couple left for Spokane and from there will go to Ephraim, where Mr. Wegner has a railroad station.

Dr. H. B. Thurston has established an office in Kendrick and will engage in the practice of medicine in Kendrick and vicinity.

The towns of Juliaetta and Kendrick are the only ones in Latah county that have done nothing to secure permanent roads. Every other town is within an independent road district that has for its object the securing of permanent roads. (It is hoped to get this road built sometime this coming summer—1939).

A wrestling match is scheduled between Orville Hupp and Iron Ambersham tomorrow night in the gymnasium at the Kendrick Hotel. There is every indication that this will be one of the best matches ever held in Kendrick. The men are evenly matched in weight, strength, and knowledge of the game.

Miss Ruth Helman went to Lewiston last Saturday, where she will take the State Normal for the rest of the term. She expects to teach next year. Harold Thomas has been placed in the Kendrick State Normal.

Alex Larson of Cameron returned from his service overseas Wednesday. He saw some real service in France being wounded in the hand that two of his fingers were rendered practically useless.

Leland News—On Tuesday, April 18, George Flesham and Joy Wagoner went to the parsonage, where they were quietly married. They left for a short honeymoon trip to Montana. Their many friends wish them all the happiness and luck that may come their way. Word has been received that Henry Koepfer is now in the U. S. A. He is expected home in the near future.

Big Bear Ridge—Mrs. Flora Harrison and son Ernest have moved their new home on Texas ridge.

William Fairfield, Helen Slind, Ernest Lien and Edwin Forest took their eighth grade exam. in Deary last week.

Death Of Sister

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crocker received word early Sunday morning of the death of his sister, Mrs. G. C. Lukens, at the Deaconess Hospital, Spokane, following an operation performed some two weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker left as soon as possible for Spokane, to be in attendance at the funeral, which was held Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock from the Gothic chapel of the Hazen-Jaeger Funeral Parlors.

Mrs. Lukens will be remembered here as the former Nina Crocker, sister of Frank and Fred Crocker of Kendrick. Mr. and Mrs. Lukens were married in Kendrick some 37 years ago, going to Spokane two years later, where Mr. Lukens has since been in the drug business.

Mrs. Lukens is survived by her husband, G. A. Lukens, a son, Chas. Melvin, and two grandchildren, five brothers and one sister.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lukens of Craigmont, Thomas C. Lukens of Lewiston and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crocker, Kendrick, attended the last rites.

Seniors Sneak

Early Wednesday morning the senior class departed for Coeur d'Alene on their annual Sneak day. The Juniors, not to be caught napping, followed them, as was their privilege, if they could discover when and where the Seniors would depart. All returned last that evening, tired and happy.

Number On The Sick List

There are quite a number on the sick list this week, most of them suffering with flu. Among them are Mrs. Charlie Westendahl, Ralph Cairns, Dorothy Dammarell, Nancy and Carroll Lyle and Mrs. Everett Crocker.

Magpie Contest Coming

F. M. Long, chairman of the Latah County Magpie contest has announced that this annual event will be scheduled again this year, starting May 1 and running until June 15. A bounty will be paid for heads only, but the amount of this bounty is not yet known.

So far as is known, the local contest will be open only to residents of the Kendrick trade area, as the state has not as yet signified its willingness to cooperate to make the contest of wider scope.

It is expected that full details can be announced in the next issue of the Gazette.

LIQUIDATION OF FARM STORAGE WHEAT LOANS

Liquidation of farm storage wheat loans made to Latah county farmers by the Commodity Credit Corporation under provision of the Triple-A is now being effected, Paul Carlson, County committeeman said this week.

Idaho wheat producers were loaned approximately $3,250,000 last fall by the federal corporation. About 3,500 loans were made, involving nearly 7,000,000 bushels of wheat, which was placed under seal by the corporation as security for the loans, Philip E. Bishop, state crop loan supervisor has reported.

Grain involved in 1,318 of the loans was stored in approved bins on producers' farms, which when reinspected this spring revealed only four bins need attention to maintain quality of the wheat, and none had suffered so seriously as to require liquidation of the loan. The balance of the wheat was stored in approved warehouses and warehouse loans will be liquidated later.

"Latah County farmers who have had farm storage loans may liquidate their loans, which terminate May 31, at any time now," Mr. Carlson said. "Several procedures are offered by the corporation for effecting liquidation.

"First, farmers may turn their wheat over to the government at any time and will be released from their notes. This means that the grower has agreed to accept the amount of the loan as full payment for his wheat.

"Second, the farmer may pay to the government a certain, established price for the wheat, which price will be set this week, and may have the wheat for his own use in any way he wishes. The established price will be determined by deducting about 10 1/2% for farm storage credit, terminal weighing and inspection, elevator handling, and selling commission from approximate local market prices."

County Agricultural Conservation committees and the loan supervisor are now ready to terminate the farm storage loans in this county and urge producers to contact them as soon as possible in order to effect the liquidation.

City Election Tuesday

On Tuesday, April 25, will be held the regular two-year election of the Village of Kendrick, with three trustees to be elected for a period of four years.

At the close of filing time last Friday, two tickets were in the field. The first of these to be filed was the "Progressive" ticket, consisting of R. B. Parks, R. H. Ramey and Harold Thomas. The second was that of the "Citizens" ticket, comprising the present incumbents, Dr. G. W. McKeever, E. A. Deobald and Roy Ramey.

These filings placed Mr. Ramey in somewhat of an embarrassing position, as he "could not sail under two flags." So Roy flipped a coin, and his name now appears only on that of the "Citizens" ticket.

A reproduction of the ballot to be used, together with the official notice of the election will be found in another section of this issue.

New Bottle Washing Machine

The Thomas Creamery has just finished the installation of a new bottle washing machine which is indeed a marvel of efficiency.

Bottles are first put into a large tank filled with hot soap-suds, and are thoroughly cleansed inside and out by a high-speed revolving brush, driven by a steam turbine.

From this point they are put into their carrying crates and shoved into the "hot-bin" where they are deluged with boiling hot water driven by steam pressure, and are finally steam sterilized and "cooked," untouched by human hand.

They are then allowed to cool, and then put into the automatic bottle filling machine, attached to the pasteurizer, where they are filled and capped.

Mr. Thomas may not have one of the largest creameries in the north-west, but he certainly has one of the most modern in equipment efficiency, and is to be congratulated on his fine modern plant.

Mr. Thomas stated that his new equipment, together with the pasteurizer previously installed, enables him to meet every government requirement in the handling of milk.

GRAIN MARKET SLIGHTLY FIRMER—BETTER INQUIRY

Grain markets turned slightly firmer during the second week in April with a broader inquiry for the current offerings, states the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the Weekly Grain Market Review. Prices advances were small however, with large supplies and generally favorable prospects holding gains in check. The unsettled political situation in Europe was an additional strengthening influence in wheat. Further selling of corn in cribs on farms, relatively light market receipts and a good industrial and shipping demand largely accounted for the firmer corn market. Rye gained with wheat, while oats strengthened with corn. Barley held about steady with malting types readily taken and with feed barley in fair request.

Crop developments, large remaining supplies and the unsettled political situation in Europe were the dominant factors in the general wheat situation. In the United States, conditions continued generally favorable for the winter wheat crop. From the Mississippi valley eastward wheat continued to make fair to good progress. In the western and southwestern parts of the wheat belt, conditions were largely satisfactory with soil moisture ample except in some local areas. Conditions at the first of April indicated a winter wheat crop of 549,219,000 bushels, compared with 686,637,000 bushels harvested in 1938 and the 1928-37 average of 560,160,000 bushels. April 1 reports indicated that 16 per cent of the acreage seeded last fall would not be harvested. This will leave about 38,900,000 acres for harvest in 1939 compared with 49,711,000 acres harvested last year. Conditions at the first of April indicated a yield of 11.9 bushels per acre.

Little change occurred in prospects in Europe. Warmer weather favored growth in the Danube basin, France, Italy and Germany, but prospects are not so favorable as a year ago despite some improvement in recent weeks. Harvesting was making good progress in India with trade reports indicating an output of around 50 million bushels below last year's large harvest.

World trade was only moderate with Southern Hemisphere shipments totalling about 5,800,000 bushels. North American shipments during the first week in April amounted to around 3,750,000 bushels which brought world shipments August 1 through April 8, to 395,351,000 bushels compared with 351,442,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. Considerable quantities of Australian and United States Pacific coast wheat were reported sold to the Orient but sales of Argentine wheat were still relatively light. The Liverpool market was steady with Argentine Rosafe quoted at 58 1/2c, Australian wheat at 65c, Canadian No. 3 Manitoba at 71 1/2c, Rumanian wheat at 55 1/2c, French wheat at 56c, and Yugoslavian wheat at 52 1/2c per bushel.

Supplies of wheat are still unusually large with prospects of a near record carry-over at the close of the current season. Farm stocks of wheat in the United States at the first of April totaled 189,090,000 bushels, or about 65 million bushels more than was on hand a year ago. Market stocks were about 50 per cent larger than last season and totaled nearly 83 million bushels. Farm disappearance of wheat January through March this season was about 92,100,000 bushels against 83,858,000 bushels during the corresponding months last year. Estimates of total disappearance cannot be made until data on stocks in country mills and elevators and in merchant mills becomes available later in the month. Exports of wheat alone during the January-March quarter totaled approximately 25 million bushels against 25,674,000 bushels for the same months last season. Exports of wheat and flour July through March, based upon preliminary figures for March, totaled 54,292,000 bushels this season compared with 76,462,000 bushels for the corresponding months of last year.

Cash wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest were 1c to 2c per bushel higher for the week along with futures. At the close of the week, soft white and western white were quoted at Portland at 70c, western red 69 1/2c, ordinary protein hard red winter 68 1/2c and ordinary protein hard white (bart) at 70c per bushel, all

THUMB-NAILS OF IDAHO HISTORY

By Glen Balch
Gold

Since 1863, when Captain E. D. Pierce made his sensational discovery on Oro Fino creek, the bright thread of gold mining has been inseparably linked with the history of Idaho. Nuggets from her streams have paid for Idaho's birthright as a state, and her history really dates from that lusty period when from the East and the West and the South the hardy hordes of miners came, searching for that new El Dorado.

The "rush" is long over. The boom towns, in many instances, are now only ghost cities whose crumbling walls we like to think of as still being inhabited by the lusty spirits of men who once made those walls ring with the very boisterousness of their living. Weeds are growing over old placer grounds that yielded astonishing riches. Old sluice boxes have tumbled into decay. Known free gold bonanzas have been worked out, and we are prone to think of Idaho's gold in the past tense. We tell ourselves that the gold is "all gone".

But is it?
A few years ago John W. Finch, then dean of the Idaho School of Mines, now director of the U. S. bureau of mines, made the statement that central Idaho contained great potentialities for gold production. In view of the extensive searching and mining that had been carried on in that region for decades, the statement was eye-opening, to say the least.

However, subsequent activities are bearing out Mr. Finch's contention. If we but pause to look about us we find that Idaho today has a gold industry production comparable to any time in her history and of much greater importance.

Prior to 1900 few records could be made, but it is estimated that in that period Idaho prospects yielded some 113 millions in gold, or an average of a little over three millions annually. What was the 1938 production? As incredible as it may seem, 101,000 fine ounces with a value of $3,535,000 were produced in 1938.

The records, complete back to 1903 show that gold production slumped gradually from a high of 82,739 ounces, worth $1,710,365, in 1904 to a low of 14,754 ounces, valued at $304,978, in 1926. In the latter year it was assumed that Idaho's gold supply was exhausted, and during the subsequent six years the industry almost vanished.

But, amazing enough, production started increasing in 1932. It kept increasing. Ground believed to have been exhausted yielded more and more gold until, in 1938, all existing production records were broken by a margin of some 18,000 fine ounces. The answer is not new discoveries or new bonanzas, but scientific methods of recovery made possible by research and experimentation, and in the large scale methods of investigation, developing and operating made possible by experience and established capital.

Idaho Winter Wheat Forecast

A winter wheat crop of about average size is forecast for Idaho on the basis of information available to April 1. Fall moisture was plentiful and winter weather conditions were not generally unfavorable, but early spring conditions have not been too favorable for the winter wheat. As a result the indicated yield per seeded acre is considerably above average, but much lower than the very good yield obtained last year. The acreage seeded was rather sharply curtailed last fall. The crop now is indicated to be 12,578,000 bushels, in comparison with the 1938 crop of 17,500,000 bushels and the 10-year average production of 12,533,000 bushels.

The European Earwig

The European earwig, an insect pest of all small plants of the garden and yard, is rapidly increasing in numbers and spreading throughout most of northern Idaho. It is found in the country as well as in town. The adult insects are about three- quarters of an inch in length, of a reddish-brown color, and bear long forceps on the rear end of the body, those of the male being slightly curved. The eggs are deposited in the soil in the fall or early spring, and the mature insects live over- winter. The young, which appear in the spring, become full grown by about mid-July. Earwigs are active at night and hide in dark places during the day.

The earwig feeds on vegetable matter and also on various small insects, particularly plant lice. Most flowers and garden vegetables are fed upon to some extent, and the insect befouls vegetables. Ripe fruits also serve as food and peaches are especially attractive. The insect is often found in houses where its presence, because of its unsanitary and filthy habits, is a menace to health.

The preferred control for this in- sect consists of a poisoned bait made up as follows:

Bran, 12 pounds; sodium fluosil- icate, 1 pound; fish oil, 1 quart.

Mix the dry bran and sodium fluosilicate very thoroughly, add the fish oil, and mix thoroughly again. No water should be used in the bait. This amount of bait is sufficient for one application to an area of about 8,000 square feet. Do not sprinkle the lawn until the bait has been out at least two nights.

The bait should be scattered thin- ly over the entire yard, but special attention should be given to the baiting along board fences and about trees, telephone poles, wood piles, and other places where earwigs are known to lurk in numbers.

A few towns in northern Idaho are preparing for control campaigns this spring. The baiting should be done on a community-wide basis so that earwigs from unbaited areas will not move into unbaited areas after they have been once control- led in the baited areas.

W. W. P. GO TO SPEND $1,425,000 ON CONSTRUCTION

Proposed construction and replacement expenditures for 1939 will be made by the Washington Water Power Company of Spokane to the extent of $1,425,000, according to J. E. E. Royer, general manager.

This total will exceed by $354,000 the cost of the 1938 outlay for the same work. During the past year $1,071,000 was expended on construction.

The forthcoming construction program will embrace properties in both Washington and Idaho and includes production, transmission and distribution plants and general construction.

A breakdown of the 1939 construction work will include $131,000 for production plants, in comparison to $38,000 for last year. The sum of $71,000 will be used for transmission plants, against $107,000 for 1938. Distribution plant costs will be $1,052,000 this year, in comparison to $759,000 during the past twelve months period. General construction costs will amount to $171,000 this year, which is $4,000 in excess of like expenditures in 1938.

No increase was made in the generating capacity in 1938. A 115 KV oil circuit breaker of 1,000,000 KVA interrupting capacity was installed at the Long Lake station. The remainder of the construction consisted of miscellaneous improvements at a number of generating stations. The total capacity at the end of 1938 was 203,534 kilowatts.

In the 1939 budget, the following construction has been recommended for the system:

At the Long Lake station, frequency and load control will be modernized and some of the high-tension switch gear will be rehabilitated. A new outdoor high tension switching station will be constructed at the Little Falls station.

Nine miles of 60 KV transmission line in the Spokane valley will be rebuilt. Approximately 16 miles of 22 KV line will be rebuilt near Grangeville and Troy, Idaho.

Distribution systems in eight towns and cities will be completely rebuilt. In addition, sections of the distribution systems will be rebuilt in six communities. Approximately 46 miles of distribution feeders will be rebuilt and a new feeder five miles in length will be constructed. Five new substations will be constructed. The capacity of a number of others will be increased by the installation of new transformers or the interchanging of transformers. New equipment, such as oil circuit breakers, regulators and operating batteries, will be installed in eight substations.

War Vets. Be Enrolled In CCC

Word comes from L. W. Hooper, manager of the Idaho State Employment service, that there will be an enrollment of World War and Spanish-American War veterans in the Civilian Conservation Corps in Idaho, beginning April 1, and ending April 30.

The Idaho quota for enrollment of veterans during the announced period is 33. Veterans selected must be unemployed and in need of employment. Veterans who have been discharged from the CCC within the past six months will not be eligible for re-enrollment during this period. Veterans may be enrolled without regard to public relief requirements. Preference will, however, be given to veterans receiving aid from public relief agencies.

Veterans will be enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps only in the state in which they maintain legal residence. Transient veterans must return to their home states, therefore, to be enrolled.

All veterans interested in Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment should immediately communicate with the Idaho State Employment service at 102 So. Main St., Moscow, Idaho. Application forms will be secured for you upon request. You should register for employment at the same time.

An Unusual Response

My Dear Sir: In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to Federal laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-laws, brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, and out-laws.

Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, an amusement tax, head tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, sales tax, liquor tax, carpet tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, a hunting and fishing license, truck license, not to mention marriage license and dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life, to women's relief, the unemployment relief, and the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable organization in the city, including the Red Cross, the black cross, the purple cross and the double cross.

For my own safety, I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment insurance, old age and fire insurance.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need of the human race.

Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until I am almost ruined.

I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

Yours faithfully,

Swine Erysipelas

Many Idaho farmers are becoming concerned over reports that swine erysipelas is rapidly becoming second only to hog cholera as a serious threat to profits, asserts Dr. Glenn Holm, animal pathologist at the University of Idaho.

Thirteen communities in ten counties of the state have reported serious outbreaks of the disease with a relatively high percentage of mortality occurring in most instances.

"Symptoms of erysipelas are quite similar to those of hog cholera," Dr. Holm said. "The hogs run a temperature, become sluggish, show a tendency to pile up. In fact, the symptoms are so similar that in practically all cases it is necessary to resort to laboratory tests to distinguish erysipelas from cholera and other diseases."

There is no "home remedy" for erysipelas. However, a serum is available that can be used as preventive and treatment.

The disease attacks hogs of all ages but is most serious in suckling pigs and shoats. It has been observed in lambs, ducks, and turkeys, and it can be transmitted to humans.

Animals Infected with Swine Erysipelas

Animals infected with swine erysipelas should be isolated and the herd inspected daily for further evidence of the disease. Newly purchased stock should not be allowed to mingle with the stock on the farm without first isolating the animals for two to three weeks for observation.

Contaminated houses should be thoroughly cleaned by being scraped, brushed, and then scrubbed with boiling lye water—1 pound of lye to 30 gallons of water.

"It means a lot to the future profits of our Idaho swine growers to keep this disease in check," Doctor Holm concluded.

Skeleton of Ice Age Elephant Found

H. Flager Cowden, encamped near Saldale in the northern section of the Mohave desert, reported discovery of what he believes to be the remains of a complete skeleton of an ice age elephant, a terebellodon.

It was found in the moraine of a glacial deposit in Last Chance canyon.

Cowden, mineralogist and amateur paleontologist, estimated the remains to be about 25 million years old, and similar to fossils found in the Gobi desert of China.

Cowden said excavation of the skeleton will be undertaken next week. He expects to ship the fossils to the Smithsonian institution of Washington.

basis No. 1 grade, in bulk. Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals increased sharply to 1,533 cars for the 8-day period, April 7-14 inclusive, including deliveries on recent purchases as well as current marketings. Flour indemnity payments at the close of the period were $1.00 to the Philippines, $1.20 general from Pacific coast ports and $1.25 per barrel to China. Trade reports indicated export sales of wheat during the past week included one and one-half cargoes and several hundred tons in parcel lots to Shagghal. Export flour sales to the Orient were of fairly large volume. Local mill demand remained quite good and together with inquiry from exporters was sufficient to absorb current market offerings of wheat readily. Growers were not pressing their remaining supplies for sale at country points. Wheat millfeed markets remained fully steady with prices unchanged from early in the period. Crop conditions over the Pacific Northwest producing areas generally were reported as continuing favorable, except in scattered sections where rain was reported needed.

The San Francisco wheat market turned somewhat stronger during the week ending April 14, influenced principally by advances in other markets and prospects for a relatively light California crop. Prices were mostly 2 1/4 c per 100 higher compared with a week ago. Conditions at April 1 indicated a California wheat crop of only 307,110 tons compared with 381,990 tons last year and 381,360 tons the previous ten-year average. The relatively small crop this year largely reflects a sharp reduction in acreage together with under normal rainfall for the season to date. Warm, dry weather since April 1 has caused further deterioration and growers continued to market remaining old crop supplies very slowly. Due to light central California offerings, mills and feeders were turning more to Intermountain states for their usual requirements. Receipts of Idaho-Utah wheat for feeding purposes this season have been the largest in recent years. The present poor outlook for California crops both of wheat and barley points to continued heavy movement of Intermountain wheat to the Bay region during the coming season. Current demand, while not broad, showed some improvement compared with other recent weeks.

At Minneapolis, receipts of cash wheat continued to mount with the country showing a disposition to market old crop supplies. Receipts of all classes of wheat at Minneapolis totaled 955 cars during the week while Duluth unloaded 311. Despite the increased receipts the premium basis on cash wheat held fairly steady although there was a slightly easier situation in some special lots.

Advances of 1c to 2c per bushel were recorded in cash wheat prices at Kansas City during the past week with red wheat relatively stronger than hard. Arrivals increased to 638 cars at that market and the total at nine centers amounted to 1,620 cars against 1,337 the previous week and 710 cars a year ago. Demand at Kansas City was good to active throughout the week with millers, merchandisers and elevators identified as buyers.

Pacific Northwestern barley markets remained steady with prices mostly unchanged as compared with a week ago. Demand was only moderate and limited to occasional cars from local and country shippers but lack of selling pressure from growers for their light remaining supplies furnished a steady tone to the general market situation in this area. Receipts of barley at Portland totaled 10 cars for the week, mostly feeding types going to local mixers. On April 13, No. 2 bright western barley weighing 45 pounds was being quoted at Portland at $1.20 per 100, sacked, with the same quality quoted at Seattle and $1.17 1/2 per 100, sacked. Malting quality Hennen barley continued to be quoted at $1.30 per 100, basis FOB cars.

Pacific Northwestern oats markets remained steady and about unchanged during the period. No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland April 13 at $1.36 1/2 per 100, sacked, with No. 2 gray oats nominal. White oats from eastern Washington were quoted at Seattle at $1.30 per 100, sacked. Feeding type oats from Montana continued to be offered in the Portland market at around $1.31 1/4 per 100, but little interest was shown in these offerings because of lower quality than local supplies. Receipts of seven cars of oats at Portland and one car at Seattle were mostly from Oregon and Washington points.

FARMERS CAN GROW FLAX WITHOUT BEING PENALIZED

Farmers in Latah county may grow flax on their land in 1939 without penalizing their soil-depleting allotment, providing they meet certain provisions of the 1939 AAA program, according to announcement made recently by Harry L. Stafford, state AAA executive officer.

"If Latah county farmers meet with the provisions, their flax acreage will have no effect on the amount of their soil conservation payment," G. T. McAlexander, county agent and secretary of the Agricultural Conservation association, said this week.

"While the committee has recognized that flax is definitely a soil-depleting crop, it also is a 'deficiency' crop—one for which the demand far exceeds the supply, both for oil and for fibre, in this country," McAlexander said.

"As a result, the program provides for the growing of this profitable crop and will consider it non-depleting so far as 1939 crop classification is concerned."

The provisions are as follows:

1. That it be matched acre for acre with an established stand of legumes or grasses. This applies to the entire state.
2. That it be planted as a nurse crop to an established stand of legumes or grasses. This is applicable to all counties north of the Salmon river and irrigated lands of southern Idaho.
3. Where practical, that it be followed in 1939 after flax harvest with an established stand of legumes or grasses on the same acreage. This is applicable to irrigated lands only.

"The state committee has emphasized that the accompanying stand of legumes and grasses must be good enough to be considered as 'established,' or the flax will be judged 'soil-depleting,' and will be counted against the soil-depleting allotments and the conservation payments," McAlexander pointed out.

Chevrolet In Lead

Idaho's automotive registration figures for the year 1938, made public today, show Chevrolet in first place in the state, as in the nation at large.

"Chevrolet, the figures reveal, registered 2,711 passenger cars and trucks in Idaho in 1938. This represents 38.5 per cent of the state's total passenger car registrations in the low price class, and 37.4 per cent of the truck registrations in Chevrolet's weight classification.

This showing gives Chevrolet the leadership in seven out of the past eight years for passenger car sales in Idaho, while Chevrolet trucks have led in five out of the past six years.

Latah County May Win

Nationwide recognition may be in store for Latah County as a result of participation in the national AAA wheat acreage compliance contest sponsored by the Eastern Oregon Wheat league, G. T. McAlexander, County Agent and chairman of the Latah County Agricultural Conservation Association, announced this week.

A trophy for the county and a free trip to the 1939 convention of the Eastern Oregon Wheat league, nationally known producers' union, awaits the county in the United States with the best record of compliance with its 1939 wheat acreage allotment.

The announcement was received here in the form of a challenge from Wheat league officials at Wasco, Oregon, who announced that Oregon counties "are very much in the running" for the national trophy. The trophy will be a globe filled with choice Oregon wheat mounted on a base of Oregon's famous myrtle wood.

"We believe the immediate wheat problem is essentially a surplus problem. In Oregon we have already backed our belief with positive efforts toward readjustment of production, and have established about 100,000 acres of dry-land grasses on former wheat land," said Harry dent of the league. State awards, consisting of myrtle wood plaques for county in each state judge on same basis as the national award will be awarded also, the announced.

National and state AAA have agreed to cooperate in assembling records so winning counties determined.

BEAN PLANTINGS INDICATED FOR YEAR 1939

Reports from bean growers in Idaho indicate that plantings of dry edible beans in 1939 will be 2.5 per cent below the 1,753,000 acres planted in 1938 and 11.5 per cent below the 10-year average planted acreage.

Average per acre yields of beans for the entire United States established all-time record highs in the past two years (916.6 pounds in 1937 and 913.7 pounds in 1938).

As disappearance of beans has never been much over 14 million bags in any one season, and has averaged only about 12½ million bags in the past 10 years, large bean stocks have accumulated.

If yields in 1939 should be as low as the 1927-36 average (approximately 700 pounds per acre), if the intended acreage is seeded, and if acreage abandonment should be about as large as usual, only slightly over 11 million bags would be produced.

In view of the improvement in bean strains and other factors making for higher yields, it is hardly to be expected that bean yields during the next ten years will average as low as they did in the 10 years 1927-36.

The most likely occurrence, of course, is the production of a crop somewhere between the two extremes mentioned. The extent of abandonment and per acre yields will be important factors.

It is difficult to determine to what extent the high yields of the past two seasons are due to factors that are likely to be permanent and to what extent they were the results of unusually favorable growing conditions.

was used and how fire alarms are received. On the three story training tower, firemen demonstrated how they ascend and descend a building by means of ladders and ropes and how people are rescued and lowered from burning buildings by firemen.

The making of bread, from the first step to the last was seen by the youngsters. Many of the mothers got ideas which, no doubt, they will be trying in their homes the next time they bake.

The visit to the Telephone exchange proved quite interesting, if somewhat technical.

All-in-all, we feel the day was well spent and will look forward to another such field day.

Those making up the party, other than students, were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Peters, Mrs. Harry Smith, Jess Thornton, Mrs. Fred Arnold and Ben and Francis Arnold, Mrs. Herman Meyer and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt of Chicago, and Mr. Cridlebaugh.

The school will participate in the annual track and field meet at Southwick tomorrow (Friday). Let's all be out!

EDITORIAL

HI—THERE, FOLKS—Seems like spring is here again — this time to stay. Our recent snow storm and cold snap just served to remind us that there is no use in trying to rush the seasons — like trying to beat death or the tax collector — it just can't be done. Spring comes when it gets good and ready — and not a single minute before.

Easter has come and gone — gone too, are a lot of the funny looking hats the women wore — for when Jupiter Pelivious really took a notion to "do his stuff" those hats just melted right out of the picture. Pastures, however, aren't melting away, they're getting greener, and cream is increasing in volume.

Join the crowd who sell their cream to us and take home the cash.

Try our ice cream. It's good!

Lady hurrying through the train barrier with dog under one arm and a bunch of small birch trees under the other.

Ticket collector: "Lor mum! do you have to carry his trees about for him!"

First Working Girl: "I've been on this job now for five months, and the boss has never got fresh with me once."

Second Working Girl: "My Gad! Why don't you quit?"

"So you deceived your husband," the judge said gravely.

"On the contrary, my lord, he deceived me. He said he was going out of town, and didn't go."

"I think it's a shame," said one, "to send all those nice Marines to China. What will they do there?"

"What'll they do!" replied the other. "Ain't you ever been out with a Marine?"

Attend Club Meeting

O. E. Havens, Harold Thomas, E. A. Deobald, N. E. Walker, Bill Ingle and Bill McCreary drove to Bovill Tuesday evening to attend a meeting of the Latah County Chamber of Commerce, where representatives of practically all towns and communities gathered to discuss mutual problems. Among other residents of this section present were A. C. Wilson, John Galloway, Albert Nelson, Bob Clemenhagen and Merton Pierce.

After a delicious dinner served by the Bovill ladies, the usual business session took place, following which the meeting was turned over to the Wild Life Federation, who put on a program of about an hour and a half. Walter A. Fiscus of Potlatch spoke for about three-quarters of an hour explaining the new game commission civil service set-up, and among the point brought out was: "That a farmer does not—get it?" —does not have to have a license to carry a gun and shoot predatory birds or animals on his own or adjoining land — but must have one to hunt game birds or animals.

It was stated that there had been considerable misinterpretation of this law this spring, due to erroneous newspaper reports.

It was stated, however, that the shooting of squirrels (or for that matter the discharging of firearms) from a car, which is against the law — or shooting from a right-of-way which is also against the law, would be strictly enforced.

Entertaining Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schmidt, the former a brother of Ernest Schmidt, are visiting at his home, following an airplane trip from their home at Hinkley, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt took a plane at Chicago, flying from that point to the World's Fair at San Francisco. After viewing this they flew on to Seattle, thence to Pendleton, Oregon, arriving in that city Sunday, and at which point they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer and Ernest Schmidt.

This is their second visit here, the previous one being some 12 years ago. They will spend some time visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer, and other relatives.

Parent-Teacher Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the P.-T. A. was held Monday evening in the H. S. auditorium. Owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. R. L. Blewett, the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. W. L. McCreary. A short business session was held, in which outstanding bills were paid. The treasurer's report revealed $47.59 after all bills were paid.

The organization plans to use this fund in purchasing a piano for the school. It was decided to purchase this instrument next fall.

Miss Jean Graham gave a report on the trip to Walla Walla of members of the Girls' League and herself, where they attended the Tri-State convention, reporting it a very interesting and worth-while day.

Supt. Lyle announced that the grades would have a May Fete sometime in early May, and that this meeting was the last of the P.-T. A. year.

Installation of officers for the coming year followed, with officers inducted being: Mrs. W. L. McCreary, president; Mrs. A. O. Kanlikeberg, vice-president; Mrs. Edgar Long, secretary; Mrs. Hiram Galloway, treasurer.

The meeting was then turned over to Supt. Lyle, who introduced the new Superintendent-Elect, Lowell Mason, of Lewiston, and Mr. Carlson, superintendent of the Senior High school at Lewiston, who gave a very interesting talk on "Democracies."

The group then adjourned to the D. S. room, where refreshments were served.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

Our farmers are beginning their work now in earnest. Tractors are running and some are seeding.

Wm. Groseclose is busy cultivating his strawberry patches, and he hopes to have a good crop of them this year.

A school election was held at the school house last Saturday. Mrs. Orval Choate was elected as trustee for three years, and will be the clerk of the board.

Mrs. L. Clanin went to south Idaho last week to attend a District conference of the Bretheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Groseclose and Carroll attended the District Conference of the Methodist church at Leland last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Carroll Groseclose went with her brother, Ned Harless, last Friday to help her grandmother paper a room.

Orval Choate lost a fine big hog last week.

Mrs. Harless and Marie were visitors at the Geo. Kime home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Brock and Jehn Lind were Lewiston visitors on Monday.

Mrs. Ed. Choate spent Monday at the Brock home, taking care of the children while their mother was away.

Merton Preussler is planting some new kinds of strawberries as a trial to see which kind suits this locality best. Wm. Groseclose also sent for some new varieties.

Mrs. Don Miller and two small girls have been suffering with very severe colds.

The Wm. Groseclose family attended the Cavendish Sunday school last Sunday.

There is quite a lot of fence building being done this spring. Ed. Choate is building a new fence all around a place he has rented; Geo. Kime has started fencing the place he bought, known as the Langdon place; Cecil Choate is taking out a long string of old rail fence and replacing with barbed wire; Sam Harp has built some new fence, and several others are repairing old.

Genevieve and Julia Pitcher visited Sunday at the home of their uncle, Geo. Pitcher.

Mrs. Wm. Groseclose was a caller at the Geo. Pitcher home Monday afternoon.

Some of the men from Cavendish came up to the Wm. Groseclose place Monday and cut some more logs to finish the church at that place.
