KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1939

NO. 21

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Art Hartinger returned from overseas on the 25th of the week. He saw his mother and wife and the daughter wearing three sewing machines on their sleeve. Five months before he left France was spent in the line and much of this time was with the British army. He was with the British when he received the medal of bravery in action.

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Morey have received word that their son, Clarence, is home from the army.

The county commissioners were in session this week looking over the proposed new route of the highway from Kendrick and Juliaetta, Idaho, to Lewiston, Idaho, and to the further down on the hill and down the grade down to much less than five per cent and will start on the road on Monday, May 29, to be built by the state.

Items—The graduating class of the senior class, following Mrs. Mustoe, Mabel Smith, Mrs. McClelland and Murray Bennett, Fred Darby owns a new car and brought his folks out to see it Sunday evening in Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Hartinger is home from overseas in the United States. Homer was a member of the 81st division and was in the service.

As mentioned in the previous issue, Art Hartinger is home from overseas in the United States. Homer was a member of the 81st division and was in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Wegner of Pullman is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Ida Silflow, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Cridlebaugh and Herbert Schwarz spent Sunday with Mrs. Ida Stoneburner and Miss Emma Hartung.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mielke, Helen and Ted were Orofino visitors on Monday.

Many Pheasants Be Released
The Idaho Fish and Game department announced this week that the two state game farms at Jerome and Lapwai will release more than 25,000 pheasants to all parts of Idaho this year.

At the beginning of the incubating season at the Jerome farm, considerable difficulty was encountered with inexperienced help," said Harold Harvey, director of the department. However, at the present time, operations at both farms are humming along smoothly.

Our 1,900 brooder hens at both farms are working day and night on their end of the business and eggs are being placed in incubators just as rapidly as conditions permit.

Big Egg Contest

We are wondering just what the hens (or perhaps it's their owners) have been doing about the production of big eggs the past few weeks, since the entries in this year's big egg contest don't seem to amount to much, either in quantity or quality.

Norla Callison brought in a couple of big ones Monday with the remark: "These aren't very big, but they're the best the hens have produced since the contest opened."

Come on, folks, bring in those big eggs. One egg may be worth a six month's subscription to the Gazette.

If you wish to take the egg home with you, bring it in, let us measure it, take it home with you.

This contest runs until July 1.

THIS AND THAT ABOUT FRIENDS AT CAMERON

Miss Helen Mielke arrived from San Francisco Sunday to visit with relatives and friends here for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bechtel of Lewiston and Mr. and Mrs. Lot Manson of Moscow were Sunday visitors in the Russell Rodgers home. Mr. and Mrs. August Brammer and children called there in the evening.

Mr. L. S. LaHatt of Kendrick spent several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Mielke and family.

The Cameron school closed its term of school last Friday with a picnic at Cedar creek. A delicious picnic lunch was served at noon. The afternoon was spent in playing baseball. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Everett Blackburn, Mrs. Murray, and Miss Ivaloe Blackburn called on Mrs. Geo. Wilken Thursday.

Mrs. A. O. Wegner of Pullman is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Ida Silflow, this week.

TEACHERS SELECTED FOR COMING SCHOOL YEAR

Completion of the hiring of teachers for the Kendrick School occurred last Monday evening, and have been announced as follows, with the subjects they will teach:

First and second grades — Miss Genevieve Grim.
Third and fourth grades — Miss Lily Henningsen.
Fifth and sixth grades — Mrs. Elsie Deobald.

Seventh and eighth grades — Ross Armitage.
The high school instructors will be as follows:
Lowell Mason, superintendent.
Miss Jean Greham, science and home economics.
Miss Mary Fattu, commercial and history.
Raymond Vaught, English and music.
Don Lyle, Smith Hughes agriculture.

The above subjects do not represent the entire field which the teachers will handle, but a general lineup.

The new instructors all come very highly recommended. Mr. Mason, who is to be superintendent, comes here with nine years school experience in Washington schools and at Lewiston. He is married and has one child. His wife is a former teacher in the Lewiston High school.

Mr. Armitage, who will teach the seventh and eighth grades and coach high school athletics, comes very highly recommended, and has had successful coaching experience at the Southwick school. He has purchased the A. L. Dawald residence in the west part of town and is renovating the building preparatory to moving in.

Mrs. Deobald is to teach the work she has done very capably during the past two years.

Miss Henningsen assumes charge of the third and fourth grade from a successful term in the Cameron school.

Miss Grimm, who is a graduate of the Lewiston Normal, with a Primary certificate, has had teaching experience before accepting the Kendrick position.

It is not known when the teachers will take up their residence here, but probably for most of them, not before the last of the summer.

Where They Will Summer
The teaching staff for the term just closed will spend their vacations as follows:
Mrs. Simons at her home in Boise part of the summer, and may attend the World's Fair later in the summer.

Mrs. Cook, undecided at the present time, as to where she will spend all the summer.

DOINGS OF LELAND FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

Everyone in our community is enjoying the rain. We have had an unusually dry spring, but if it continues to shower, farmers will have the necessary moisture to get beans up, when planted.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Hall visited at the home of Mrs. Hall's sister in Anatone, Wn., Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Grandma Robinson and sons Jim, Mark and Zeb, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Johnson of Agatha visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Craig Wednesday.

Howard Flesham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Flesham, had the misfortune to injure his arm while playing Friday. He was taken to Dr. Christensen and his arm put in a cast.

Word was received here that Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fry are the parents of a 10-pound baby boy, born Wednesday, May 17. Mother and babe are reported doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie May and Bob Weyen were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gertje of Southwick. The dinner was in honor of Bob's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Johnson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jordon and daughter Helen of Kellogg, came down Saturday and brought Mrs. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craig and daughter Marcella, Mrs. Oral Craig and son Ronald and Elgin Flesham were Lewiston-Clarkston visitors on Friday.

Mrs. Julia Flesham is home for an indefinite stay.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peters the past week were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Yenni, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Flesham, Mrs. Frances Crawford, Mrs. Minnie Blankenship, Mrs. J. A. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Harrison and Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, Bill Johnson, Mrs. Woodrow Flesham and daughter Yvonne, B. E. Lotsplech were Lewiston visitors on Friday evening.

Elder P. D. Hartman of Spokane was visiting here Monday and Tuesday.

Lowery-Long Nuptials

Miss Martha Lowery, Pullman, Wash., and Marvin Long, pioneer merchant of Kendrick, were married Saturday afternoon, May 20, in Woodlawn Park at Pullman, in the presence of a few friends and relatives, and are now honeymooning somewhere in the north part of the state.

Rev. and Mrs. Gray and Mrs. N. E. Long were the only Kendrick attendants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chisholm, pastor of the United Presbyterian church at Pullman.

Both parties are well and favorably known in this section, and all join in wishing them the best in their journey through life.

DOINGS OF SOUTHWICK NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gertje were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McIver.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whittinger and James and Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Whittinger were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wells.

Guests Sunday at the Given Mustoe home were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schoeffler and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mustoe.

I. J. Longteig and family from Craigmont visited in the Nels Longteig home Sunday.

Clarence Henderson took a load of hogs to Lewiston Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whittinger and James were visitors at Dave Schoeffler's at Kamiah Thursday and Friday, and attended the Commencement exercises there.

Archie and Odetta Betts visited their mother, Ola Betts, in Clarkston Thursday. Mrs. Betts is taking treatments there again.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Benjamin visited with Joe Tschantz Sunday.

MARKET CONTINUES TO ADVANCE—FEED GRAINS LOWER

Domestic markets continued to strengthen during the third week in May but feed grains turned somewhat weaker, states the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in its Weekly Grain Market Review. Further deterioration in prospects for winter wheat and increasing moisture in the spring wheat belt were principally responsible for the advance in domestic wheat prices.

Some slackening in demand as pastures provided increased feed were weakening factors in the corn and oats markets. Rye was independently firm reflecting the less favorable condition of the new crop. Barley held about steady with current offerings in good demand.

The general wheat situation changed very little during the week and foreign markets did not follow the advance in United States prices. The Canadian market declined despite threatened damage to spring wheat from lack of moisture in the Prairie provinces. Prices at Winnipeg declined 1 1/2c with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted at 65c and No. 2 Canadian western durum at 55 1/2c per bushel. Liverpool prices averaged about 1c lower with demand only fair and Argentine shippers offering supplies more freely.

Argentine Rosafé was quoted May 19, at 61 1/2c and No. 3 Canadian Manitoba from Atlantic ports at 75c, Australian wheat at 69 1/2c, French wheat at 53 1/2c and Yugoslavia wheat at 57c per bushel.

Cash wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest moved within narrow ranges during the period and closed 1/4c higher to 1/2c lower than a week ago, with variations depending upon different classes and local supply and demand conditions.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on May 19 showed soft white at 71 1/2c, western white at 70 1/2c, western red at 70c and hard white (barr) at 75c, hard red winter at 70c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, in bulk.

In the United States, further deterioration occurred in winter wheat and moisture was urgently needed in the spring wheat area. Winter wheat continued to make fair to good progress in nearly all sections east of the Mississippi river but west of the river moisture was badly needed in some areas.

Most of Kansas continued dry, although local rains were received in southeastern and south central districts. Unfavorable dry weather continued in Nebraska and the crop deteriorated both in this state and in most of Kansas. In western portions of Texas and Oklahoma the crop was suffering from lack of moisture. Little or no rain was received in the spring wheat belt and the soil dried rapidly in most places. In the Pacific Northwest high temperatures were retarding growth and rapidly reducing moisture supplies.

As a result of less favorable prospects, domestic wheat markets continued to strengthen and prices advanced 1c to 2c per bushel. Premiums for cash grain were fairly steady for most classes and current offerings were readily taken. Market receipts were slightly above those of the previous week with a total of 6,289,000 bushels received at the principal terminals. Marketings of winter wheat were slightly above those of a week earlier. Arrivals dropped off sharply at Minneapolis but were quite heavy at Duluth where grain was arriving for lake shipment to eastern markets. Receipts were also heavy in the Pacific Northwest as a result of large deliveries on recent government purchases. Export business was slow for both wheat and flour but wheat exports during the second week in May totaled 1,910,000 bushels which brought the season's total to 73,230,000 bushels. Sales of United States wheat and flour for export from the first of July, 1938, to April 30, 1939, totaled approximately 109,300,000 bushels. Approximately 85 million bushels of this quantity has been assisted by the Federal Export program.

Reflecting the action of futures, cash hard and soft winter wheat prices at Kansas City closed 1/2c to 1c higher, with premiums generally unchanged. Receipts at that market decreased somewhat from the previous week but were of good volume.

Pacific Northwest barley markets were firm and higher during the past week. Demand was good for the light offerings of local barley at firm prices. Trade reports indicate that remaining supplies of barley in Northwest producing areas are very light, and occasional cars of feeding barley are being shipped into this area from eastern points to supplement local supplies. At Portland, No. 2 bright western barley, weighing 45 pounds, was quoted on May 18 at $1.30 per 100, sacked, an advance of 5c per 100 for the week. At Seattle, heavy white barley from eastern Washington was quoted at $1.32 1/2 per 100, sacked. Receipts of only three cars at Portland and two cars at Seattle for the week reflected the light current movement. No interest was shown in malting barley.

Oats markets in the Pacific Northwest were also firm and slightly higher for the week. Trading was light, due to small current offerings, which was reflected in receipts of only six cars at Portland and one at Seattle during the period. On May 18 No. 2 white oats were quoted at Portland at $1.40 per 100, sacked, with No. 2 gray oats nominal. At Seattle, white oats from eastern Washington were quoted on May 18 at $1.45 per 100, sacked basis.

Only the coward fears life.

SWINE DISEASES DISCUSSED BY DR. POWELL

In an effort to eradicate diseases that are menacing the swine and livestock industry in Idaho, Dr. E. T. Powell, State Veterinarian outlined a five-point program, that if applied, will prove an important step in disease control.

"Only by the most active cooperation of all concerned can these diseases be controlled," Dr. Powell said. His program follows:

1. Use the best sanitary methods possible in growing swine. In raising the pig crop, follow the MacLean County system to eliminate parasites and other abnormal conditions affecting young pigs. (For information on the MacLean County system, see your veterinarian or County Agent).

2. Do not keep the pigs in the same old hog lots year after year. Change these frequently and do not permit the hogs to be penned in areas that have stagnant pools or accumulated filth. Make use of all pasture land as soon as possible. Most especially is alfalfa or clover land suitable for growing pigs or brood sows. Hogs in the fattening pen should not, of course, have access to large areas. However, these should have clean pens, dry and with good drainage. Nothing offers more of a suitable source of infection than feeding troughs that are not clean. These should be scrubbed regularly with hot water and soap or lye.

3. If any of the hogs become sick, it is best to segregate these at once from the well ones and if there is evidence that it may be an infectious disease, notify this office or a deputy state veterinarian at once. In segregating the sick animals from the well ones, it is advisable to move the ones showing no symptoms of sickness to other grounds of good sanitary surroundings, feed lightly and supply plenty of good clean water. Watch the herd closely for sick animals and if any show symptoms segregate these at once. If you have an outbreak of an infectious disease among your hogs, keep all visitors away from your pens and do not visit the neighbors' pens. To do so may be to spread the disease to your neighbors' hogs.

4. Do not offer for sale any hogs that show any symptoms of sickness or any hogs that have been exposed to any infectious or communicable disease for at least thirty days following the exposure. Do not buy hogs showing any evidence of sickness and all hogs purchased through sale yards or otherwise should be kept separate from any other hogs on the farm for at least 25 days.

5. Follow competent advice in regard to quarantine regulations and immunization and treatment.

"If Idaho farmers will follow these instructions, I feel confident that in a short time infectious diseases in Idaho will be greatly curtailed," Dr. Powell added.

Entertains At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer and family and Miss Edwardine Bechtol of Seattle were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. M. A. Deobald, at one of her famous chicken dinners.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Deobald and family and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sather and family of Genesee were guests of Mrs. Deobald, as was Miss Bechtol.

Afternoon Bridge Club

The Afternoon Bridge club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Geo. Leith. The game was played at four tables, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. High score was awarded Mrs. Wade Keene while low went to Mrs. F. H. Rider.

Invited guests were Mrs. Wayne Herres, Mrs. Lester Crocker and Mrs. S. Cook.

Eight-Eight Bridge Club

The Eight-Eight Bridge club was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Jr., last Thursday evening. A dainty dessert was served after which bridge was played at four tables.

High scores were awarded Mrs. W. L. McCreary and Lester Crocker. Invited guests were Don Lyle and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

Handkerchief Shower

The Ladies Aid of the Community church met last Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. L. McCreary, with Mrs. H. Galloway as assisting hostess.

The ladies surprised Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Jr., with a handkerchief shower at the close of the afternoon.

Went Fishing

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald and family and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sather and family of Genesee went fishing on the Potlatch Sunday. They reported fair luck.

Poultry And Eggs

Total United States egg production on April 1 appeared to be 1 per cent larger than a year earlier and the largest since 1930. The number of layers was about 4 per cent larger than a year earlier, but the rate of laying was about 3 per cent lower than the all-time record established last year, but higher than in any year except 1938.

Total United States cold storage holdings of eggs (both shell and frozen) on April 1 were almost identical to the 5-year 1934-38 average, but were 30 per cent smaller than on April 1, 1938.

A Tip For Henry

OUT FISHIN'

A feller gets a chance to dream,
Out fishin';
He learns the beauties of a stream,
Out fishin';
An' he can wash his soul in air
That isn't foul with selfish care,
An' relish plain an' simple fare
Out fishin'.

A feller's glad to be a friend,
Out fishin';
A helpin' hand he'll always lend,
Out fishin';
The brotherhood of rod an' line
An' sky an' stream is always fine;
Men come real close to God's design,
Out fishin'.

A feller isn't plotting schemes,
Out fishin';
He's always busy with his dreams,
Out fishin';
His livery's a coat of tan,
His creed: to do the best he can;
A feller's always mostly man,
Out fishin'.

Conflicting Reports Received
The Gazette is in receipt of two reports regarding services Sunday at the Bear Ridge chapel, neither of which we have been able to verify—therefore print both—for what they may be worth:
W. R. Johnston, Lewiston, Idaho, representing the American Sunday School Union, will give an illustrated lecture at the Bear Ridge Chapel, Sunday, May 28th, at 8 p. m. There will be special music.
The second follows: "A speaker from the Multanomah School of the Bible will deliver a lecture in the Bear Ridge Chapel at 8 o'clock, Sunday, May 28. There will be special music by Margaret and Selma Swan."

The Washington Monument is 555 feet high, which seemed to be pretty high all around there until they got to working on the national debt.

Sonja Henle in "My Lucky Star"
This coming Friday and Saturday nights the people of this community will have an opportunity to see Sonja Henle, the world's champion ice skater in "My Lucky Star."
This play presents Miss Henle in an entirely different setting, far from Switzerland's Alpine peaks and Norway's remote peasant villages. This time she is cast as a modern girl having a good time on a co-ed campus, wearing swank clothes and having swell dates—that's Sonja as you will see her this time—but of course there will be an ice skating scene, with Miss Henle doing one of her finest and best skating pieces—"Alice in Wonderland."

Report In Error

In our combined report of the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises our informant did not mention that the Sophomores were the decorators for the Baccalaureate services and the Juniors for the Commencement. We are glad to make this correction—for both jobs were indeed beauties, and we wish to give credit where credit is due.

One thing at a time, and that done well.

Well Folks— Seems like the first installment of that "million dollar" rain has fallen. But just a good rain or two more won't hurt it a bit — and as hay time approaches we're pretty sure to get it. The past few rains seem to have been mighty spotted, varying from cloudburst proportions in the Leland-Southwick sections, to light showers here and there. Nevertheless, the needed moisture for bean planting is here — and we hope that the price rises as the old crop fades away.

By the way— Are you using our "Pride O' The Potlatch" butter? If not, why not ask for a pound at your favorite store today, or if you prefer, from us direct. We're mighty sure it will please you. Once you try it you will become a steady customer. Like ice cream? Take home a quart today! It's good and good for you.

The treasurer of the ladies aid approached the preacher, who was somewhat deaf, and handed him a number of one-dollar bills, saying: "This is our aid money." The preacher, thinking she said "egg money" replied: "The old hens must have been working overtime."

"What's your idea of civilization?"
"It's a good idea. Somebody ought to start it."

Fat Man (in movie, to a little boy sitting behind him): "Can't you see, little fellow?"
Little Fellow: "Not a thing."
Fat Man: "Then keep your eyes on me and laugh when I do."

A man wrapped up in himself makes a very small package!

THUMB NAILS OF IDAHO HISTORY

From Idaho's lusty infancy of the gold boom period came an interesting and picturesque nomenclature. Names like Oro Fino, Ora Grande, Stibnite, Baboon Creek, Placerville, Quartzburg—but few tantalize the imagination like "Vinegar Hill."

Located in the Salmon river wilderness, a country still comparatively unknown and described by geologists as having mineral potentialities outstanding in the United States, Vinegar Hill has been seen by only a small percentage of Idaho's citizens.

A rocky unassuming point, it lifts to a not impressive height from the north bank of Big Creek, which empties into the mystic Middle Fork only a short distance above "Impassable Canyon."

In 1879, Lt. Henry Catley's command, consisting of some 45 mounted infantry and hot on the trail of the Sheepeaters, bumped into an Indian ambush on Big Creek. The first volley wounded two of Catley's men and threw the command into a panic which later drew censure from Catley's superiors, who quite possibly never knew what it was to be fired upon in a rocky canyon by an unknown force of hostile Indians.

Withdrawing apprehensively, his wounded on hand-litters, Catley started his command up a ridge which he hoped would lead him out of the Big Creek country. This maneuver among the rocks brought on a game of hide and seek much to the Indians' liking. There were only a score or so of them, but they must have seemed several times that number to Catley and he was greatly disturbed presently to learn that they were not only behind but in front as well. He halted and prepared for defense on the nearest point.

The Indians fired the brush and soon Catley's command found itself in an extremely warm predicament. "The wind was high," so the commander himself reported later, "and the terrible roaring of smoke and flame seemed to approach us from every direction."

A first sergeant, by the bold name of John A. Sullivan, took a detachment and did some brave back-firing around the position. This and a fortunate shift of the wind is credited with saving the command.

They found fire-fighting exceedingly dry work. In the smoke and heat on top of that hill thirst soon became maddening. Water . . . water . . . water . . . but there was no water. The only liquid they could find was vinegar, from the food packs. Sour and bitter, it nevertheless moistened parched throats.

When, under cover of darkness at 2 o'clock the following morning, Catley's men, disorganized and having abandoned most of their equipment and supplies, scooted down the fire-blackened hillside and slipped for the safety of the gold camp, Warrens they left behind a landmark which has endured on Idaho maps to this day and the mere name of which, to them, must have tasted a little "Vinegarish" for years afterwards.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

We have been having some nice showers of rain and it has all been very welcome.

Wm. Groseclose and son have been busy with their strawberry patches. The weeds have all been cleaned out nicely and the plants have been in full bloom for more than a week. They are hoping to have a fine crop.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Fike held services here last Sunday. Some wild animal, probably a cougar, has been killing Wm. Groseclose's angora goats. A game warden from Orofino and another man with three trained hounds came up one day last week, but as there was no fresh sign that day, the hounds could not trail the animal.

The county assessor is making his visits here this week. Carroll Groseclose and his mother were Orofino visitors Tuesday. Don Miller was also an Orofino visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Choate were callers at the Ed. Choate home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. A. Harless and Marie visited at the Preussler home Sunday afternoon.

Refinishing Interior

Perryman's Confectionery is undergoing a beauty treatment these days at the hands of Harley Perryman. Walls are being re-kalsomined in a light silver-gray, woodwork repainted, and other improvements made. It is going to present a very pleasing and cool-like appearance when complete.

NORTH IDAHO CHAMBER MEET AT GRANGEVILLE

The good will tour of Idaho county to the rest of the state will be expressed Tuesday night, June 6, at a banquet featuring the annual spring meeting of the North Idaho chamber of commerce, according to J. D. Flannigan, vice president, who is in charge of arrangements.

High-light of the banquet will be a menu in which the viands and delicacies grown in Idaho county will be served to an estimated 250 people. Principal item on this menu is chicken. The rest of what usually goes with chicken, Mr. Flannigan states, including strawberry shortcake.

Program for the chamber session, June 6 and 7, has been worked out as a "get-together" for farmers and business men. While both Governor C. A. Bottolfsen and Agricultural Commissioner Pettigrove have been invited, they have indicated it will be impossible for them to attend.

The sessions will open Tuesday with registration at 10 o'clock, followed by an automobile tour of Idaho county farms starting at 12:30 p. m. The caravan will return to Grangeville at about 5:30 o'clock and the banquet, at which Dean E. J. Iddings, head of the college of agriculture at the University of Idaho, will be the principal speaker, will begin at 7 o'clock. A motion picture of rural electrification will also be shown at the banquet.

Wednesday there will be a soil conservation program and several speakers.

Leland School Notes

The 1938-39 term of school came to a close last Thursday. An exhibit of some of the year's school work was on display in each of the rooms and proved quite interesting to the parents who attended. Beginning at 10:00 a short program was presented, during which the diplomas to the graduates were awarded and other awards made. Following the program the children, their parents and friends enjoyed a picnic at the Peters' grove.

The following students, who were neither absent nor tardy during the entire term, received perfect attendance certificates: Margaret, Wesley and Georgine Arnold, Dorothy and Hermine Meyer, Linda and Luther Parks, Beatrice Smith, Elroy, Cleo, Richard and William Kuykendall and Neal Walker.

The following were given certificates of faithful attendance because they had few absences, all of which were excused: Jane and Irene Peters.

William Arnold, Don Hoffman, Dorothy Thornton, Fleshman and Clinton Smith, Delores Thornton was awarded the Achievement pin for made the most advancement the year. The winner of this is determined by the scores from two different testings at Stanford Achievement Tests.

The Citizenship Pin for boys awarded Neal Craig. The Citizenship Pin for girls was awarded atrice Smith.

The eighth grade graduate of the year were Irene Peters and Blankenship.

With an average daily attendance of 33.25 students, the percentage for the entire term was 98.7. We are quite proud of our record.

Always give the other fellow a chance to say something — you learn anything listening to people.
