Crippled Deer Seen Again

Tuesday morning about 9:00 a.m. Mrs. M. A. Deobald of American Holdwine wheat without loss of ridge started down Brady gulch on her way to town, and saw a deer standing in the road looking at her. It turned and ran down the road about 25 yards, turned and started to cross the creek, but seeing it was too wide and deep, it turned back, jumped across the road and and took up the steep and rocky hillside.

The deer was crippled in the left hind leg. Mrs. Deobald says this is the first one she has seen for years and sincerely hopes that no one will molest it.

A. Bishop of Juliaetta, Ernest Schmidt of Leland, Norla Callison of American Ridge, Henry Kortemeier, and a number of others, we have been advised that the hens just "naturally wern't laying big eggs this year." So, on this basis, we are extending the contest until the first day of July, instead of closing it the 15th of June, as has been the custom.

Come on you hens, produce! However, in the line of freaks, Charley Keeler brought in one that porting as follows: For President, "really takes the cake." This egg O. E. Havens; for Vice-President, is of ordinary size and shape, and W. A. Watts; for Secretary G. P. of a dark brown color, but around Barnum; for Treasurer, A. O. Kanlikeberg. After a brief discussion, perhaps better called light cream. The belt is very clear, and gives the egg an unsual appearance, in-deed. We accused Charley of dipping both ends in kalsomine, ie says the egg color is the fesult of changing brands of egg mash. Anyway, it's a real freak.

Another freak was brought in Tuesday morning by E. V. Weeks, laid, he says, by a "Heinz" hen. It, too, is a light brown color, but about the size of a pigeon egg, and is perfect in shape and coloring.

Food is the first essential need of nankind, and its provision must precede all the other human activities. Farming is a basic occupation and if it does not function efficiently, all other industry must run at reduced speed, and in times of famine practically cease operation until food supplies more nearly approach normal. Agriculture has been of dominant importance during previous years and will no doubt revious years and will no doubt remain of paramount importance for ages to come.

The depression that started in 1929, was fundamentally due to low farm prices, which rendered it impossible for farmers to purchase the products of our industries, thus demonstrating from another angle the manner in which national pros-

3. Working in the open air. 4. Opportunity to deal with living things, animals and plants.
5. An opportunity to do a variety of tasks rather than the routine bit of work of the factory laborer, 6. Opportunity to try out new

The above are just a few of the advantages of farming.
Formerly, the farm lacked certain comforts and conveniences, but with rural electrification with its many conveniences, farm life has become worth living. Good roads, the radio and telephone, all have played their part in making rural home life

With increased governmental at-tention to balanced agricultural production, and possibilities of greater opportunity to tenants to purchase farms, a needed increase in number of farmers with less acreage than at the present time, may develop.

Soft Ball Teams Organizing Talk these days around Kendrick centers in the organization of a number of soft-ball teams to be organized up and down Main street.
These teams (according to the talk) will play a series of twilight-league games, beginning soon. Fred Newman and Dick Blewett are the main men behind these teams, so if you would like to play, contact either one of these men.

This movement should provide a lot of fun for all, and as no expensive equipment is needed, will be open to all soprts fans.

Being on the right track is not enough—you must not switch over to a side track.

Another Double Bill

There will be another double bill at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights, topped by "Tom Sawyer, Detective." from the famous book by Mark Twain. It deals with the adventures met with by the two boys when "Aunt Polly" sends them down the Mississippi river to Arkansas for a visit with "Aunt Sally Phelps" and her gentle but helpless husband, "Uncle Silas." The story hits a new high for youthful adventure and

"Red River Range" will be the second offering, which will give those fond of "westerns" a real thrill. There is plenty of fighting, shooting, and everything that goes to make up a real western picture which so many people love to see. If you like westerns, don't fail to see it.

Well, Folks-For the past two weeks we have devoted all our space to fun, but this week we feel that the serious matter of cream should be mentioned. As you all know, we need cream, and you need cash. Let's strike a bargain. With us it is unneces-sary to ship, wait for cream tests, then go get the can. We pay cash on the spot, and re-turn your can steam-sterilized, ready for use. We do not destroy-the can lining with caustics that necessitate scrubbing the minute it is returned to you.

And as for butter—until you have tried our Pride O'The Potlatch, you can't know how good creamery butter—can be. The cream we use is especially selected for its purity and flavor, and then pastuerized before being made into butter. Try a pound troder

And for sweet, pure milk and cream, try us. Remember, all are pastuerized, guaranteeing you the absolute protection your children and yourself are entitled to.
