WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Halvor Nelson sold another farm Thursday of this week, to Albert Meth. The place contains 160 acres of fine land, adjoining the Rogstad farm, on Big Bear ridge. It is underbid the price paid was in the neighborhood of $21,000. This is the second place Mr. Nelson has sold this week.

L. A. Grinolds this week purchased the 40-acre farm belonging to Nedvedek, on Cedar Creek. The place joins 120 acres owned by Mr. Grinolds. The place is well improved. Linden Items—Mrs. J. P. Alexander and Miss Eva Smith left Sunday for Enid, Okla., where Mrs. Alexander's sister is seriously ill. Will Starr and Miss Lillie Zimmerman, who were married in Lewiston, August 29, were charivariated at their home in Crescent Saturday night. A large crowd took part in the affair. * * * I. E. Foster and family, who have been living on the Edar Dell farm, have moved to their home in Linden so the children may attend school. * * * Grain harvesting is in full swing on the Big Bear ridge—Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Emmett and children are expected to arrive here this week from Haver, Mont. They are shipping their farm implements and household goods, as Wallace expects to farm his father's place. * * * A pound boy has arrived to make a home with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lemehagen. * * * Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Halseth and two children arrived here last week from Dutton, Ont. Ed. will run his father's farm this coming year. * * * Grain harvest is almost completed in this valley. Grain hauling will be the chief rush for a time, while a large number began cutting beans the first of the week. * * * Oscar Slinn, Harry Bruseth, A. Hooker and daughter, Miss Johanna, autoed to Enese and Moscow Monday.

Walter Thomas visited folks in Kendrick the first of the week. He is assistant cashier in the bank at Ohomish, Wash., and is also the leader of the largest band in Seale. He goes back and forth from Ohomish to Seattle three times a week to instruct the band.

The Misses Agnes and May Byrne lived in Kendrick the first of the week. They will make their home in Lewiston.

W. V. Thomas, Wesley Thomas, A. L. Simpson, Harold Thomas and Chas. Simpson left last Saturday for a hunting trip up in the Clearwater country. They expect to be gone a month or six weeks.

Vade Keene of American ridge arrived in Spokane the first of the week. While there he purchased a residence property. It happened to be next door to Dr. Hoyt's home, and the Hoyts were moving into their new home when Mr. Keene made the deal. The Keene family expect to leave the farm this fall.

Fair Time
In almost all such communities as we folks are busy with plans for the county fairs. There is concern over live stock, poultry, farm and home products, various 4-H club projects, and others. Under way to make each fair the biggest and best ever. The usual bits for prizes in canning and serving intrigue and tempt the wits of us all. The handwork is beautiful, while the livestock is some of the fairest points of any perhaps the most successful feature of any fair is the social time. Many faces of friends appear at the fair, not seen at any other time. It may mean a family reunion or community homecoming. It may mean renewals of old friendships. Everyone enters a fair with pleasure and support. There have been many things that have changed in our day, things that would puzzle a grandfather or father, perhaps, but they would feel pretty much at home at our fairs. Old friends, like pigs and cats, fat cattle and pumpkins, work quilts and apples would find them today as yesterday. There may be popcorn and peanut stands crowding the bandstand, but it is the same as always. It is good to have the institution of the county fair remaining, as are other American institutions from the picture.

Road Work Progressing
Construction work on the new link between Juliaetta and Arden is progressing at a rapid pace. Big hill at the edge of Juliaetta has been very neatly cut down. Curve taken out, widened and graded, and a fill made in the low place just beyond. The point of the hill is being cut off, and a new being made on either side. From there to the Leland place, the old road is still complete, but from the Leland place to the Jonas Waters place near the Little Potlatch a fill is being made along the railroad tracks, to give, when finished, one of the longest straight stretches of road in this entire section.

To date only one detour is necessary that being across the Juliaetta hill diamond, but take it from us, the rest of the road is a "honey terry."

Lumber Business On Boom
That the lumber shipments throughout the country have increased recently is indicated in the number of heavy trains that are being sent through Kendrick every day, carrying lumber, a great deal of which is from the Potlatch mill at Lewiston, and the balance from the various mills throughout the Orofino country.

Another indication is the increasing number of logs that are being shipped from Kendrick almost every day.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

School started Monday, September 4th, with every student trying to gather enough courage to face another year of hard work. Registration in the High School has reached a total of 89 students, with six or seven more to register soon. Grade school registration totals 89 students. However, these numbers will probably be larger by this time next week.

In the High School Social Science has been substituted for Business Science and is offered to the Juniors and Seniors. Business Principles is offered to Freshmen and Sophomores rather than to the upper classesmen, as has been the case in former years.

Spanish has been substituted for Freshmen and Sophomores, in place of Home Economics, due to the fact that registration for this course was exceedingly low. Spanish will be taught by Miss Fattu, and rumor has it that this has been her life-long ambition.

Shop, a course somewhat on the order of Manual Training, will be taught by Don Lyle, and is open to all High School boys.

A full music schedule has been planned for the year with band, glee club and chorus work every day. Individual instruction in both voice and instrumental work is also part of the daily program.

Athletics, as yet, have not been organized, but by the first of next week Mr. Armitage plans to have them well under way. Touch football will be started next week. As in music, athletics will have a prominent part in the daily program of both boys and girls.

The boys in Vocational Agriculture are anticipating a most successful year. At present they are preparing for the Latah County fair and hope to have some excellent exhibits for this occasion. They plan on building lockers for the new dressing rooms being built beneath the gymnasium. Officers in this organization will be elected soon.

This week's news was rather a hurry-up job, as the Journalism class has not yet been organized. Next week, however, we will plan to have a more complete report for you.

New Bus In Operation
Monday morning, with the opening of school, the school buses parked about reminded one that it was again "School Days."

But the largest one was unfamiliar to residents, and that was the new 42-passenger Studebaker bus belonging to Districts No. 32 and 33, which carried its first load Monday morning, with Bob Clemenhagen as driver.

The new bus arrived in Kendrick Saturday afternoon, having been driven out from Lima, Ohio, by Mr. Clemenhagen. This new vehicle has the most complete protection available for its passengers. The body is all of steel, even the seat frames being steel. It is equipped with a new type of ventilating system, double heaters, turn indicator lights on the rear, double side signal arms, clearance lights, first aid kit, etc. It is understood that it meets every safety law known.

Two ten-passenger busses are operating, and two pickups, in addition to several private cars.

Survey Office Closed
The local engineers office, for some seven years an institution on Kendrick's Main street, was closed last Friday afternoon, and the crew transferred to Orofino.

Roy Jump and family will remain here for the time being, as he is supervising the building of the new road below Juliaetta. Mr. and Mrs. Bacharach have moved to Orofino; Mr. and Mrs. L. Lundens and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Henry and family will continue to make their home here, and the men will "batch" at Orofino, returning home on week-ends.

It is with real regret that we see them take the office from Kendrick, but as one of them put it in this section, so I guess they figure we are needed worse elsewhere.

Visit Relatives Here
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bechtol and daughter Edwina of Seattle arrived at the E. A. Deobald home late Friday evening to spend the week-end and Labor Day. On Saturday Miss Edwina was taken to Moscow, where she caught a train for her school at DuBois, where she will teach this year. Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edward Thompson and baby arrived at the Deobald home from Moscow, and all drove to Orofino to get Mrs. Eva Thompson, who also spent the Labor Day holiday here. On Sunday, all were guests at the home of Mrs. M. A. Deobald on American ridge.

Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer returned Mrs. Thompson to her home.

MRS. BEN DAVIS DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Ben Davies died suddenly from a heart attack at her home on the Potlatch Tuesday night about midnight. While she had been suffering with heart trouble for the past two or three years, she had been feeling as well as usual on Tuesday and went out in the garden, and helped Mr. Davis pick tomatoes, and upon retiring she was seemingly feeling quite well. Mr. Davis was assisting at the Kendrick hotel and did not know of his wife's condition until he reached home, just after she had passed away.

Mrs. Davis was born at Poplar Bluff, Mo., Nov. 22, 1885, and would have been 54 years of age had she lived until next November.

On November 23, 1908, she was united in marriage to Ben H. Davies at Malden, Mo., where they resided until 1913, when they came west, moving to a farm near Genesee, where they resided for seven years. Later they lived at Southwick and Culdesac, coming to Kendrick in 1931.

To this union ten children were born, nine of whom are living, one son, Homer, died in January, 1929. Those surviving besides her widower, are: Henry, Lenora, Chester, Kendrick, E. J., now in the U. S. navy; Willard, Moscow; Lloyd, Grangeville; Mrs. Ethel Hunt, Southwick; Estel, Charles and Harold, at home. She also leaves two brothers, E. D. Welch, Drumbeller, Alta, Canada, and W. O. Welch, Orofino; also an uncle, Wm. Blakeman, Craigmont.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, awaiting word from relatives.

Mr. Clark was born in Kentucky August 3, 1865, and was 74 years and 27 days of age at the time of his death. He was united in marriage with Ida Richardson July 2, 1885, who preceded him in death nine years ago.

Mr. Clark had been a faithful member of the re-organized Church of Jesus Christ of the L. D. S. for more than 50 years.

He leaves to mourn their loss, a brother, Walter Clark of Juliaetta; two half sisters, Mrs. Sprague and Hattie Sills of Spokane, Wash.; a half brother, J. H. Olney, Lewiston, Idaho, and a step-brother, John Olney, Culdesac, Idaho; a step-sister, Mrs. Zetta Stephens, Kelo, Wash.; also a foster son, Wm. E. Butler, besides many other relatives and friends.

Mr. Clark was president of the Bank of Gifford many years ago and had always been considered a conservative business man, and his advice along business lines much sought after. He owned considerable land in Canada, where he resided at the time of his death.

Interment was made in the Fix Ridge cemetery. Pallbearers were William, Oliver, Caus, Keith and Claud Clark and Clarence Hill. Music was by Ira Fix, Mrs. Geo. Calvert, Jr., Warren Peters and Mrs. Loye Tacker, with Kena Weatherby at the piano. Selections were "The Old Rugged Cross," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "In The Garden."

In the Intermediate room the enrollment is 20, evenly divided between boys and girls. There are at least three more expected to enroll during the week, which will bring the total enrollment to 38.

After the exchange of books and other details were taken care of, the students were excused for the rest of the day, to return Tuesday to begin school in earnest.

GRAIN MARKET ADVANCES SHARPLY DUE TO WAR

Grain markets were quite unsettled during the week ending September 1, but advanced sharply toward the close, influenced almost entirely by the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, states the Agricultural Marketing Service in the Weekly Grain Market Review. On September 1, futures markets advanced the legal limit and the difficulty in placing and releasing hedges and determining the relationship between cash and future prices restricted trading in cash grain. Uncertainty as to currency values, together with a sharp advance in war risk insurance made export business difficult.

European war news overshadowed all other influences in the wheat market situation during the last week in August. United States futures markets fluctuating over a wide range and on Friday, September 1, advanced the legal limit of 8c per bushel on the September and 5c on the December delivery. The Chicago Board of Trade clearinghouse increased the margin requirements of its members 2c per bushel on wheat, corn and rye, and 1c per bushel on oats. War risk insurance rates on vessels under the American flag plying between North and South America were advanced to 12 1/2c per 100 coverage, against 5c earlier in the week. The rate on vessels of other registry was advanced to 25c. Winnipeg October futures closed 6 1/2c per bushel higher for the week. The Harbor Commission announced that no information as to stocks and movement of grain in Canada would be made public until further notice.

Futures trading in wheat and corn was suspended on the London and Rotterdam grain exchanges and no offers of foreign grain were being made at Liverpool. France prohibited all exports of grain from that country and also from North Africa except to France. The legal price of wheat in France for the coming year was set at the equivalent in current exchange of $1.31 1/2c per bushel. In Belgium, the quota of native wheat was reduced to 10 per cent. Trade reports indicated relatively large purchases of Argentine and Canadian wheat by England and France. World shipments of wheat were small with only 2,771,000 bushels from Argentina; 292,000 from Australia and 712,000 bushels from Black Sea ports.

No important changes in crop developments were reported. Local rain interrupted harvesting in Canada, but at the close of the week cutting was reported complete in Manitoba, about 85 per cent finished in Saskatchewan and 70 per cent in Alberta. Threshing returns indicated better yields than expected and deliveries at country elevators are exceeding seven million bushels daily. The quality is above last year.

Rains caused a delay in harvesting in some European countries, and all field work was being rushed. The quality of the new wheat was reported greatly inferior to last season's crop. Cooler weather favored the new Argentine crop and new wheat was reported doing well in the southern hemisphere.

Domestic cash wheat markets were higher with futures but trading was restricted by the unsettled situation in futures. Marketings of winter wheat dropped off materially with only 1,271 cars received at the principal terminals. Receipts of spring wheat, however, remained fairly heavy with 6,457 cars received at Minneapolis and Duluth. In the Pacific Northwest receipts dropped to 1,051 cars, much of which went to terminal elevators for storage for Federal loans. Only about 25 per cent of spring wheat receipts at Minneapolis were offered in the cash market, the remainder going into storage. Export business dropped off at the close of the week and no offers were accepted in the export plan of Friday. Sales of wheat and flour under the plan since the first of July, however, have totaled 13,090,000 bushels in terms of wheat.

Wheat quotations at the close of the week were mostly nominal. Very few cars of contract quality were sold in the sample market but cash prices appeared to follow the advance in futures and No. 2 hard winter was quoted nominally on September 1, at 74c to 78c and No. 2 soft red winter at 76c to 79 1/2c per bushel. Offerings were light at St. Louis. Choice wheat was in active request at unchanged premiums but demand for the medium grades, which comprise the bulk of the shipments, was only moderate. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted nominally at 79c to 80c per bushel and No. 2 hard winter at 78c to 79c per bushel. At Kansas City No. 2 hard winter was quoted at 70c to 72c and soft red winter at 69c to 74c per bushel.

Cash wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest advanced sharply toward the close of the period, along with futures, with principal classes showing advances at Portland of 8c to 9 1/2c per bushel, as compared with a week ago. On September 1, cash wheat quotations at Portland were: soft white, 73 1/2c, western white 78c, western red 75c, ordinary hard red winter at 73 1/2c and hard white (baart) 78c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

Flour indemnity prices at the close of the week were $1.45 to the Philippines, $1.50 general from Pacific coast ports and $1.55 per barrel to China. The market was very unsettled at the close of the week, reflecting European war news and the situation in middlewestern markets.

The San Francisco wheat market strengthened materially toward the

Headless Body Of Man Found

The headless body of a man was found last Saturday afternoon at the foot of a steep embankment, about 400 yards from the junction of the North and South highway and the Inland Empire highway, in Whitman county, Wash., by a hitchhiker, said the Lewiston Tribune of Sunday. The head and the right shoulder and arm were missing, and officers who investigated the finding of the body were inclined to the opinion that the man had used an explosive to commit suicide.

If you don't believe Franklin D. Roosevelt to be the greatest President this country ever had, just figure up what he has cost us.—Douglas, Kansas, Tribune.

THUMB-NAILS OF IDAHO HISTORY

By Glenn Balch

A drinking spree that was a drinking spree took place in Rock Creek during the days when men were sifting Snake river sands for the elusive dust. Charlie Walgamott tells of that nostalgic occasion.
A freight outfit from Kelton, Utah, dropped off a broke and hungry bum, who was permitted to go to work for Mr. Hopkins for his board. A few nights later, preparing to move on, the tramp stepped into the saloon where the "boys were hittin' it up" to say goodbye.

When he lowered his sack to the floor in response to an invitation to "name his pizen" there was a suspicious clunking not made by any extra socks. Immediately the boys investigated and found that the man had pilfered some canned goods from the station cellar, three or four tins of condensed milk and one or two of jelly.

The combined and lubricated sense of justice in the place was outraged. It was decided that the culprit should be tried. A judge was named and a jury selected, and everybody gathered at the bar to hear the testimony. Drinks were on the house.

The judge laid down the law. Either the man must be found guilty of murder in the first degree or exonerated on grounds of self-defense. In view of this demonstration of judicial fairness the complaining witness insisted that it was his turn to treat.

The attorney for the defense was the barkeeper. He performed his duty without missing a round and when business slackened a little he stimulated with: "This one's on the house."

In due course the prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to hang. A cowboy tossed his lariat over a beam and volunteered to tie a hangman's knot. He failed, and the drinks were on him. Finally, after considerable wrangling as to the place to put the knot in order to assure a quickly broken neck, they got the man on a chair and the rope around his neck. The jury—twelve selected men now tipsy—laid its weight along the line to make certain it didn't slip.

"Anything to say for yourself?" the judge demanded of the doomed man, who, by the way, had never been shown the discourtesy of being omitted when the refreshments were passed.

"Well," said the prisoner, "if I gotta go, I gotta go," or words to that effect and, without waiting to be pushed, he toppled off the chair. The rope held, he began to choke and strangle. His face darkened and his tongue protruded.

"Turn loose," the complaining witness yelled at the jury. "You fools, do you want to kill him!"

It is reported that three shots of brandy, served all around, were necessary to bring the man to. When presently the poor man was able to sit up, the prosecutor said: "Men, it ain't right to send a man into a country like this with nothing to eat but condensed milk and jelly." He then proceeded to order a bill of goods, which included a side of bacon, a bag of coffee and sugar.

It was evident that the man could not carry all this, so after mulling it over with a brandy neat they decided to pack it on his back. Every packer in the house had a try at throwing his favorite hitch, diamond square or squaw, and had to buy the drinks if the man could buck it loose.

It was in the wee hours when the parting "shot was fired" and the man staggered away through the starlit sage. A stocktender unpacked him, half dead and cold sober, at Desert station, sixteen miles away, the next afternoon.

Neutrality Act Restrictions

This country's neutrality act, when invoked by the president, puts the following restrictions into effect:

Americans are forbidden to sell, and American ships are forbidden to carry, arms and implements of war to any warring power or to any other nation for trans-shipment to a belligerent belligerent.

American ships, however, may transport any other materials, anywhere they choose. Foreign ships, including those of belligerents, may come to the United States and get cargoes other than actual arms and munitions.

Americans cannot make loans to warring nations except normal, short term commercial credits and are forbidden to collect money for them or travel on their vessels.

American merchantmen trading with belligerents cannot arm themselves for protection against attack on the high seas.

The president may close United States harbors to submarines and armed merchantmen of belligerents if such action is deemed advisable to safeguard this country's neutrality or other interest.

"Midnight" At Kendrick Theatre

Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche, two of filmdom's top-notchers, will be seen at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights in "Midnight." The story concerns an American girl's hectic romance with a Paris taxicab driver and a wealthy man about town, and her adventures when she crashes international society as a Hungarian baroness. Miss Colbert, as the Yankee adventuress, has a fine role, while Ameche's differs from his previous parts in that, for once, he gets the girl.

The usual comedy and shorts will also be shown.

AAA Administrator To Speak

Farmers in Latah County will undoubtedly be interested in a speech to be broadcast next week over various stations in the nation, according to an announcement by the County AAA committee.

On Tuesday, September 12, R. M. Evans, Administrator of the AAA will speak. This broadcast is one of a series by the heads of various farm agencies.

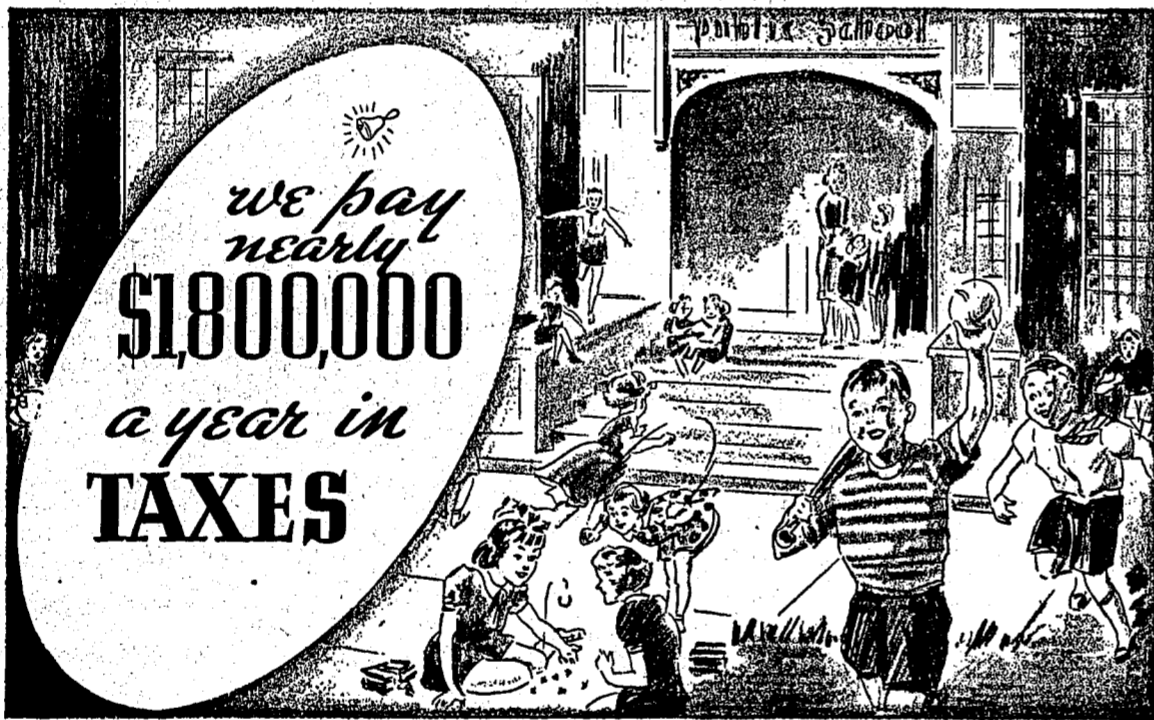

The talk is said to be of such a nature that it will be of interest to farm program workers and cooperators, and to the general public as well.

Sations in north Idaho over which the program will be broadcast are KRLC, Lewiston, at 7:45 p. m. and KFIO, Spokane, at 11:30 a. m.

Holiday Death Toll Above 300

At least 317 persons lost their lives in the United States during the prolonged Labor Day week-end—195 in traffic accidents, 46 by drowning, and 76 in suicides, shootings, falls and other forms of violence. Two Idahoans lost their lives, while Illinois led the list with 34 fatalities, and California came second with 23.

...this is enough to cover the Entire cost of educating 2,000 School Children

Another year of school is on its way. In the cities and the villages and in the rural schools, throughout the territory we serve, thousands of boys and girls are sitting in their class rooms.

They are acquiring knowledge; they are preparing themselves for future citizenship. Soon they will be guiding the affairs of our nation.

The importance of the public schools is apparent to every thinking person. But where does the money come from to operate the public schools? This money is collected in the form of taxes. All functions of government are paid with taxes.

Last year the Washington Water Power Company paid $1,800,000 in city, county, state and federal taxes. If all of this amount were used for the operation of the public schools it would pay for the education of more than 2,000 children ...or meet the annual payroll of many, many teachers.

Like all good citizens we are willing to pay our share of taxes because of the benefits enjoyed by all. In addition we aim to do our part in helping any cause for the development and prosperity of the territory we serve.

GRAIN MARKET ADVANCES SHARPLY DUE TO WAR

Close of the week, influenced principally by increasing tension in the European political situation and advances in other markets. Prices of California wheats mostly gained 5c to 10c per 100, to the highest point since April, 1938. At the close of the period, however, trading was almost at a standstill because of light offerings.
 Trading in cash wheat at Kansas City was brought to a virtual standstill as the week closed, as receivers withdrew offerings for possible further advances and transactions involving hedging were prohibited by the inability to trade in futures. Prices closed 4½c to 5½c per bushel higher. Demand was good from all classes of trade. Receipts of wheat at Kansas City totaled 337 cars, while arrivals at nine winter wheat centers aggregated 1,271 cars against 1,906 the previous week and 2,416 cars a year ago.
 Receipts of cash wheat were liberal at Minneapolis with 3,907 cars received while Duluth unloaded 2,670. Trading in the cash market Friday was restricted because of the advance in the futures market to the full limit and none offered for sale at the top.

The Lady and the Park Bear
 Cody, Wyo.—A Cody doctor tells this one:
 "A young woman was focusing her camera on a Yellowstone park black bear, which was being fed by another tourist.
 "Food gone, the tourist threw the wrapper in the direction of the photographer.
 "The bear jumped for the wrapper; the young lady thought he was after her. She screamed and ran. The bear, excited, dashed in pursuit. He was a fast-running bear and caught up with the young lady. He nipped her southernmost portion as she fled northward.
 "The bite accelerated her speed. She easily outdistanced the bear and he never got a second nibble. I heard the story when she came in to me to get the wound sewed. Meanwhile, the tailor was repairing the southernmost portion of her slack suit."

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE HANDLED FROM SPOKANE

Federal crop insurance cases in Latah County hereafter will be handled from a newly established branch office in Spokane, Wash., the County Agricultural Conservation Association has announced.
 Idaho formerly was split into two areas, with crop insurance business from northern Idaho being handled from Minneapolis, and southern Idaho cases from Kansas City.
 It is expected the closeness of our new branch office will facilitate the writing and handling of crop insurance. It is indicated that the establishment of the new office reflected increased participation by farmers in the seven western states served by the new office.
 The Spokane branch office will handle actual work, auditing and acceptance of insurance applications, purchase and storage of wheat, and payment of indemnities for all of Idaho, as well as Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona.
 Announcement of the new status of the Spokane office, formerly only a sub-branch handling purchase and storage of wheat, came at the same time. Chicago was announced to be the central grain office for the Federal Crop Insurance corporation.
 Crop insurance in Latah County is administered by the county AAA committee. Insurance up to 75 per cent of the crop to be harvested in 1940 is being written now.

Bean Harvest Full Till
 Rapidly in this section of the country, with the yield reported as very poor, the hot weather having caused the blossoms to fall instead of beans "setting on." The majority of reports we have heard are about two sacks to the acre, with Denner Bros., Fix ridge, leading the list with a yield said to be just under four sacks to the acre.
 At present prices, a two-sack yield is hardly worth harvesting.

HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL
Well, Folks—This has certainly been a really dry summer — and as for grasshoppers, well, I don't believe I've ever seen so much good fish bait hopping around loose as this year. The pests have eaten gardens, trees, pastures, and many other articles too numerous to mention. It rather seems like the only way to cash in on the pests is to raise turkeys — for they certainly fatten on them. However, as the grasshoppers have added to the heat in the destruction of things — you can add to your income by bringing the cream your cows produce to us — and you'll really be surprised how it will help your income. If you are not already delivering cream to us — start it today. Our service and our cash are sure to please you.

Ice cream is good and good for you these hot days. Try ours.

"It isn't sanitary," protested the traveler, "to have you house built over the hog pen that way."
"Well, I dunno," replied the farmer, "we ain't lost a hog in fifteen years."

And right now the average man is pretty well satisfied with the bare essentials of life — enough to eat, a place to sleep, and a used car.

The office boy took off his cap, presented the bill and stood at ease.

"My boss says I'm not to go back until you give me the money you owe him," he said.

"H-m-m," replied the debtor, "I wonder if he'll recognize you with a beard?"

The fellow who believes only half he hears generally gets along pretty well if he selects the right half.

promise of a better record this year, says a Boise dispatch.

With reports received for more than three-fourths of the month, only six deaths have been recorded. The August average for the past six years is 21.5.

Excess speed is clearly indicated as the probable cause of two of the six deaths during the present month and gross disregard of the rules of safe driving on the part of the two drivers involved is charged by a coroner's inquest in the third. Another fatality is apparently due to driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

School buses will soon be on the roads again, and the public is asked to exercise extreme caution. No driver may pass a school bus that has stopped to let children on or off. If the bus has stopped the presumption is that children are going to get on or off—so don't pass. State police will enforce this statute strictly.

Britain has halved her tuberculosis death rate in 25 years.
