VOLUME XXXIX

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1939

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Twenty Years Ago Last Week
The election held last Saturday for the purpose of forming Kendrick Highway district carried by a large majority. Both Kendrick precinct and Bear creek precinct voted in favor of the district. The vote in Kendrick was 120 in favor and 28 against. On Bear ridge the vote was 21 in favor and 16 against. A petition is being circulated and free-ly signed, asking the governor to appoint G. F. Walker of Kendrick, Wm. Cox of American ridge, and Ole Lien of Bear ridge, commissioners of Kendrick Highway district. An unusual amount of changes are to take place on Big Bear ridge this fall. A. W. Jones and family will soon depart for their new home in Montana; the Halvor and Alfred Nelson families are moving to Gardfield, Wash., while Mr. Russell is moving onto the farm he recently bought from Hiram Alber; John Mathes and family of Little Bear ridge are moving on the place to be vacated by John Nelson; the W. M. Blenden family will move on the James Nelson farm, for which they recently traded their place; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black are leaving this week for their new home near Cornwall, while the J. C. Bean family have already taken possession there. E. H. Dammarell announces that he has purchased a complete stock of merchandise and will open the Kendrick store as soon as the goods are received and the stock placed on shelves. To this stock he has added new goods which he expects to receive very soon. Mr. Dammarell and Mr. Florence made a marked success in the mercantile business here, but owing to the fact that Mr. Florence wished to retire, they dissolved partnership by selling their entire stock of goods to a Spokane firm. Mr. Florence expects to retire to his orchard tract on Clarkston Heights, early in the spring. Some good bean yields have been reported from American ridge. Bob Cain got an average of 4 1/2 sacks to the acre, and Wm. Watts' crop averaged four sacks. The Juliaetta Cannery is working a night shift part of the time in order to handle the large amount of fruit at that place. About ten cars of tomatoes have been canned this season and over 2,000 cases of pears. Richard Rauschke returned from France Wednesday. He is, so far as known, the last overseas man to return here. He and his brother Otto both saw service in France.

Twenty Years Ago This Week
The building formerly occupied by the Kendrick Store company is being remodeled inside and out and will be divided into two parts. One of which will be used for the Farmers Bank and the other by the new Kendrick Store, the stock of which is owned by E. H. Dammarell. The west half, or that on the corner, will be occupied by the Kendrick Store. While the east half will be used by The Farmers Bank. With contemplated alterations, it will be a very substantial improvement in the appearance of the block. These are surely troublesome times—even the hens are going on strike. Beginning with the first of October they began to act just like most of the union workers of the country—stopped production. Meanwhile, the cost of living continues ever higher. At the meeting of the Village board Tuesday night it was decided to raise the water rate and minimum meter charge to $1.50 per month. This extra charge of 50 cents per month will not work a hardship on anyone and it will eventually pay for the water system. The Orofino Creamery is rapidly installing the machinery necessary and will be ready to commence operation about October 15. Manager F. E. Weisenfluh purchased the Kendrick Creamery machinery, which is of sufficient capacity to accommodate the business at Orofino for a considerable period. A. G. Wilson states that the Juliaetta-Kendrick grade, which he has been working on for the past several months will be open to traffic the last of this week. There will still be some work to be done getting the road-bed smoothed up in the rough places but the main part of the road will be finished. Six dollars apiece for government wool blankets sounds cheap enough, but Tom Long says it takes about nine of them to make a good bed.

Afternoon Bridge Club
The ladies of the afternoon bridge club met this Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. A. Christensen. Bridge was played at three tables after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. High score for the afternoon was awarded Mrs. E. A. Deobald while low score went to Mrs. F. H. Rider. Invited guests for the afternoon were Mrs. A. L. Dawald, Mrs. Marvin Long and Mrs. John Waide.

More Hunters Return
Jay Stout, Cecil Emmett, Bill Hammond and Merton Pierce returned Tuesday evening with three deer, one elk and a bear.

Mosquitoes and doctors are vastly different. The mosquito presents his bill before he works on you.

Hunting Parties Return

Last week many hunting parties went to the mountains in search of big game and several have returned home within from five days to a week "with the bacon"—that is, if one gets bacon out of an elk or deer. Anyway here are a few of those who have returned and what they brought out: Archie May and Bud Gephart came out Saturday evening with two fine elk. Walt Bigham and Bill McCreary also returned Saturday evening with two elk. Clarence Hund, Otto Silflow, Asa Choate and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Choate came out of the woods Sunday night with four deer and an elk. Monday noon Stuart Compton and son Dean, Harry Langdon and sons Dwight and Larry and I. E. Foster of Kendrick and Frank Watson of Pomeroy returned from a six-day hunt with eight elk and one deer.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The Kendrick Commercial club met in regular monthly session in Fraternal Temple banquet hall Monday night with 25 interested people in attendance. A splendid dinner was served at 6:30 by Mrs. Paul Lind and Mrs. Edgar Long, assisted by Barbara Long, after which minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; also a communication from the Spokane Chamber of Commerce saying they would visit Kendrick on a good-will tour on Friday morning, October 13, arriving here about 9:45 a. m. The party will be met at Troy by a delegation from Kendrick, who will escort them down the gulch to our little city. There will be some 20 or more in the Spokane party and they will have a speaker, as well as musical entertainment. It isn't likely they will tarry long, but the general public is asked to be a part of the reception committee.

N. E. Walker, chairman of the Highway committee of the Commercial club, was asked for a report on the road question—one that has been uppermost in the minds of the people of this section for the past several years. He first mentioned the Kendrick-Juliaetta link, but gave little encouragement for its completion for at least another year. However, the Texas ridge WPA project was a topic that demanded and received much attention and discussion. Mr. Walker stated that the matter had been taken up with Mr. Flint of the Highway department and that there was a good chance of getting this road, providing, of course, that the necessary money could be raised. The project is estimated to cost around $34,750.00, of which some $23,000.00 would be furnished by the federal government in a WPA project.

Several land owners, who would be affected by the new road, were in attendance at the club meeting and expressed themselves as willing to do whatever they could to further the building of the road, but it seems there is something like $2,000 standing between the starting and completion of the project. It was proposed to hold a meeting soon on Texas ridge, inviting those interested in the building of this road to attend and express their views on the matter.

Don Lyle of the Fair committee, reported it a grand success and W. A. Watts reported in like vein, as did Geo. P. Barnum, who was in attendance at the exhibit all three days of the fair—and it was the general consensus of opinion that the Kendrick exhibit should have had first place among the exhibitors—however, they didn't get it, so that's that.

The question was raised regarding the loading of logs that have been brought to Kendrick for shipment, it being stated that there were no facilities at any place for such loading and that some shippers were being held up for want of room for their logs when brought to town.

Marvin Long, chairman of the Merchants' committee, reported that everything was being put in shape for Sales Day—October 14—and was looking forward to one of the most successful days of its kind held for a long time. There is to be the usual list of prizes and sports, as well as the sale of all articles brought in by farmers and others for sale, which will be done free of charge.

Supt. Mason of the Kendrick school announced that the annual school carnival would be held Friday evening, October 27.

The Latah County Chamber of Commerce and the County Planning Board held a joint meeting at Elk River on Wednesday evening, a report of which will be made at the next meeting of the Commercial club.

After considerable discussion, of road matters, the club went on record as favoring the completion of the road over Bear ridge and to Southwick in preference to the link between Kendrick and Juliaetta, which has virtually been promised for certain during 1941.

Rev. Gray made a short report on the activities of Mrs. Downer, a National Red Cross representative, who had spent some two weeks here looking after the needs of those who suffered loss in the recent big fire, stating she had helped in many ways toward rehabilitating their homes. Not only in their homes, but in any way they most needed help,

Rev. Gray also announced that the first Community Sing of the fall season will be held on Wednesday evening, October 18, and will be under the leadership of William Fitzpatrick.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned to meet again on Monday evening, November 13.

Craig-Weyen Nuptials

Miss Avia Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Craig of Leland, was united in marriage Saturday to Billy Weyen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weyen, also of Leland.

The ceremony was solemnized by Judge Phillips at Lewiston, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Craig and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weyen.

They were chapered Sunday evening at the Weyen home by a large crowd of well-wishers. Sincere congratulations and wishes for a long and happy married life are expressed by the many friends and relatives of the young couple, who are well and favorably known throughout this section.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM KENDRIK SCHOOLS

Boyd Reynolds, a former guide and ranger in Yellowstone National Park, gave a very interesting, as well as educational talk, illustrated by moving pictures, on the wonder National Park. He showed many points of interest throughout the park, including mountains, geysers, rivers and falls. He also showed many of the animals to be found in the park.

Friday afternoon, October 6, the Kendrick Tigers met the Bovill boys on the Kendrick diamond, where they were defeated by a score of 11 to 7. The grade boys also played the Bovill grade school boys and were victorious, winning with a margin of 11 to 5.

Saturday evening, October 14, the F. F. A. boys will give a dance. The orchestra will be from the University. Everyone's looking forward to this dance, since it is the first school dance of the year.

Vacation starts Thursday, October 12, when the teachers will attend institute at Lewiston. I guess everyone is anxious, as they usually are, at the thought of vacation.

The school has been receiving Classroom films from the Washington State College, which are shown to the different classes in High school and the grades. This week they included: "How Nature Protects Animals, Beetles, Animals in Modern Life, and Realm of the Honeybee," which were shown to the Biology class and grade school. Petroleum geology was shown to the Physical science class and Woodwind choir to the Glee clubs and band.

A trumpet trio has been started in the band. Those in the trio are Sidney and Allan Johnson and De Los Miller. The band is starting on some new fan-tare and spiral part music.

The Girls' chorus has two new songs which they plan to work up in the near future. They are "If I Had My Way" and "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

Monday, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades went to Lewiston to go through the Clearwater Timber company's mill, on Monday. They were served a free lunch. Everyone going reported a very interesting trip.

Sales Day and Fair Exhibit

On display for Sales Day, and we hope for many days to come, is the Kendrick Community exhibit as it appeared at the Latah County Fair—and it may be seen in the big west window of the Thomas Creamery. Many hours of painstaking work went into the preparation of this exhibit, and it is certainly well worth anyone's time to see.

We are glad that Mr. Barnum was able to preserve this exhibit in excellent shape.

When you come to Kendrick for Sales Day—Saturday, October 14. And of course you are planning on coming—be sure to see this fine exhibit if you have not already done so.

Bargains galore will be found in every store in Kendrick—plan to come and spend the day.

Young Peoples' Meeting

The Young People of the Community church met for their regular meeting Sunday, with Evelyn Farrington leading.

A short business meeting was held, following which plans were discussed for the banquet given Wednesday evening.

No Baby Contest

Owing to so many other activities planned for Sales Day, Saturday, October 14, and the possibility of inclement weather, there will be no baby contest this year, as was stated in the write-up of Sales Day in last week's issue of the Gazette.

GRAIN MARKETS SHOW BUT LITTLE CHANGE IN FACE

Grain markets held about unchanged during the week ending on October 6, but continued dryness in the winter wheat belt and European war news were unsettling influences, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the Agricultural Marketing Service. Wheat receipts were somewhat smaller but milling demand was slow and cash premiums were barely maintained. Offerings of feed grains were moderate but demand insufficient to move the supplies into trade or consumption channels at about unchanged prices.

Practically no change occurred in the general wheat situation but little information was available on world trade. Light rains benefited crops in Australia and conditions for wheat and flax were officially reported generally favorable in the Argentine. Rains in western Europe and parts of Germany facilitated seeding and favored germination. Some moisture was received in the Balkans but more was needed for satisfactory seeding conditions. Private trade reports indicated continued dryness in Russia. Slightly less than 2 million bushels of wheat were shipped from Argentina during the week but no estimates were available on the movement from Australia and Canada. England purchased about 3,700,000 bushels of Roumanian wheat for immediate shipment according to trade reports. Roumanian exports to England January through August were about 10 million bushels to Germany during the same period 11,750,000 bushels and to Italy nearly nine million bushels.

The British government lowered war risk insurance to American shippers to $1.50 per 100 on cargoes carried in ships traveling to the United Kingdom from the United States. No quotations were available on wheat at Liverpool but English millers were reported paying 57 1/2c per bushel at the farm for home-grown wheat. At Antwerp, Argentine Rosafe sold during the week at 88 1/2c and burroso at 84c per bushel excluding war risk insurance. No. 1 Manitoba for prompt shipment was reported offered at 70 1/2c fob Vancouver and 73 1/2c fob Montreal. Indian wheat for prompt shipment was offered fob Karachi at 75 1/2c per bushel.

Domestic cash wheat markets fluctuated over a rather narrow range during the week and closed from 1/4c to 1c higher than a week ago. Receipts at the principal terminals totaled slightly less than six million bushels or about 600,000 bushels less than during the previous week. Milling demand was dull, reflecting continued slow inquiry for flour and exports were negligible. A little over 500,000 bushels were exported during the last week in September, which brought the total for the three months to a little over 10 million bushels compared with about 24 million bushels during the corresponding months last year. Exports of flour to date this season, however, have been considerably larger than last season. Export sales under the payment plan totaled 10,500 barrels during the week. The export payment on flour from the Pacific coast ports was $1.00 per barrel to the Philippines and $1.10 to China and other ports. From Atlantic and Gulf ports the payment was $1.10 per barrel to all countries.

Cash wheat premiums were well maintained. At Chicago current offerings were in good demand generally but shipping inquiry was quite slow. At the close of the week No. 2 hard winter was quoted at 85 1/2c to 88c and No. 2 soft red winter at 86c to 88 1/2c per bushel. At St. Louis No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at 88c and No. 2 hard winter at 86c to 87c per bushel. Demand was fairly active at the latter market and off grade grains sold more readily than in recent weeks.

Cash wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest ranged from mostly unchanged to 1/4c per bushel higher on some classes as compared with a week ago, price variations depending upon local supply and demand conditions on various classes and varieties.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on October 6 were: soft white and western white 79c; western red at 76 1/2c, hard red winter at 76c, hard white (baart) 85c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled

GRAIN MARKETS SHOW BUT LITTLE CHANGE IN PACE

610 cars for the past seven days. There were no new developments in the general cash wheat market situation in this area during the period under review. Export flour business was also light and domestic mills continued to furnish about the only outlet for current markets offerings. Growers were reported as offering very small amounts toward the close of the period with many taking advantage of the government loans. Mill needs were only moderate and mostly for finest milling types.

Why Not Do It That Way?

Many Americans have been suggesting that the dictators, presidents, premiers, etc., of those European nations who are always desiring a fight, making "diplomatic coups," etc., all be dumped into a big "bull pen," given a club and a knife and allowed to fight it out. We believe this a good idea. It would save thousands upon thousands of lives of innocent men and women—men and women who ask for nothing more than to be let live in peace.

Items In The By-Lines

A sermon could be written on each of the following items gleaned from the week's news in Idaho:
 Eight were injured and two cars totally wrecked in a head-on collision. Both cars were traveling over the yellow line.
 Sleeping driver went into barrow pit, car turned over. Injuries to back of neck and face lacerations.
 Truck driver hailed into court and fined because owner failed to provide proper equipment and fuses.
 Four-year-old girl opened rear door of sedan and fell out while car was in motion. Fracture of skull and many bad bruises.
 Six young people returning from a dance. The driver fell asleep and car hit abutment of bridge. Car badly wrecked—so were the young people.
 Drunken driver got four months in jail and had license revoked for one year. Hit-and-run charge in previous skirmish with law.
 Drunken driver paid $106.40 and lost both his driver and liquor license for one year.
 City officer chased reckless driver all over city and environs at 30 miles an hour. City officer finally got off the road and ran his car clear into a residence. Still at the wheel he was accosted by the owner of the house (in night shirt): "I don't mind your coming any time, but don't make so much noise. You have waked the whole family!"

Crop Insurance Deadline Oct. 30.

Latah county wheat growers are warned by Paul Carlson, chairman of the county AAA committee, as far as we know now, there will be no extension of the deadline, October 30, for the "all-risk" crop insurance applications on their 1940 winter wheat crop.
 "The deadline is final," said Carlson. "We can accept no applications on winter wheat after close of business on the closing date."
 He pointed out that under the 1940 program, growers are eligible to make applications and pay the premium only before they have planted their crop. No applications can be accepted, even if the crop hasn't been planted, after the general deadline for the country. This means eligible growers in this county have only 26 more days to make application and pay premiums.
 A number of the growers who have applied have taken advantage of the new AAA "offset" provisions, under which the premium for the insurance can be paid by executing an advance against future payments to be earned under the Agricultural Conservation program.

PRODUCTION COSTS ARE DAIRY BUGABOO

Proper Choice of Feeds Results in Saving.

By R. H. RUFNER

Low production costs are essential for profitable dairying, as for any other business, and the ability to choose and use feeds properly helps materially to reduce costs, according to the animal husbandry and dairying department of North Carolina State college.
 Live stock farmers should take a tip from the automobile industry, which has lowered production costs by at least 25 per cent in the past 20 years, thereby making cars available to millions of Americans.
 Dairymen can reduce the cost of their products and make them available to more people by studying the advantages and limitations of feeds and their relative values.
 A wide variety of satisfactory feeds are available for dairymen to choose the combinations which are most efficient and economical in balanced rations.
 Among the low-protein, or carbohydrate, feeds are corn meal, ground threshed grain sorghums, ground or rolled barley, hominy feed, ground wheat, or ground rough feed. About one-fifth to one-fourth more of the following bulkier feeds should be used when they are substituted in the ration: Ground ear corn with shuck, ground grain, sorghum heads, and corn and cob meal.
 Excellent feeds that give best results when they make up one-fourth to one-third of the total ration are ground oats, wheat bran, rice bran, and alfalfa meal or other good quality legume hays that have been finely ground. These may be used interchangeably in dairy mixtures.

Milkweeds Poisonous, Sometimes Kill Stock

Whorled milkweeds are poisonous to live stock and sometimes cause losses among horses, cattle and sheep.
 Whorled milkweeds have slender stalks. The leaves are narrow and are from two to three inches long. They develop in clusters or whorls of several needlelike leaves around the stalk. The flowers are of greenish white. The botanist's name for this weed is Asclepias verticillata.
 Common milkweeds have a heavier stalk than the whorled variety. The leaves are comparatively broad, oblong in shape, and placed on opposite sides of the stalk. The flowers are of a rose purple. The botanical name is Asclepias syriaca. The swamp variety is known botanically as Asclepias incarnata. It has a larger, deeper-hued blossom than the common milkweed.
 Milkweeds are deeply rooted perennial plants, producing seeds in pods, with a flosslike material inside the pods. The pods of the common milkweed are larger than those of the whorled or swamp milkweed.

Infertile Eggs Will Hold Flavor Better

Infertile eggs will hold their flavor better and will keep fresh longer in hot weather. To obtain this type of eggs, all male birds should be sold when hatching is completed, and plans made to replace them for another year with pedigreed males from a dependable breeder, or at least with males from a reliable source.
 Experts offer these other suggestions for successful flock management: Don't sell out the flock of hens, but cull out instead. Keep the birds that are and have been heavy layers as indicated by worn feathers, plump red combs and wattles, bright and wide-awake eyes, bleached beak and shanks, and a full, soft, flexible abdomen free from hard lumps of fat.
 Since summer days are long enough for birds to consume enough mash without stimulating them, as is the case when a wet mash is fed, it will pay to start cutting down on the amount given each day until the practice is stopped entirely.

Farm Topics

Cold frames, hot beds, and sash houses are used to start early or tender crops.
 Farm economists are recommending that farmers pay cash and buy in quantity.
 With other things equal, the larger cows within a breed produce more milk and make more profit than smaller ones, according to animal husbandry specialists.
 Mechanical milk coolers are becoming popular on farms but the dairymen should remember that low temperatures only slow down the growth of bacteria and do not remove them. Strict cleanliness in handling milk should complement cooling.
 The many new materials for slip covers that are on the market this spring offer the enterprising homemaker an opportunity to deck her furniture out in new finery at a comparatively low cost.

Cupboards Once Used as Furniture in Churches

Cupboards were originally "bordes" and were used for setting cups on, so we read, writes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times. The earliest known were constructed like shelves arranged in steps and were used in churches to contain the utensils for conducting worship. In time a board or shelf developed into a movable piece of furniture and subsequently, in the days of wall paneling, into a wall cupboard. Such cupboards were in common use in the American colonies between 1720-1750.

Some of the early examples of cupboards are described as being closed in the upper part with one or two doors, the lower an open shelf. A drawer was added below the middle shelf and in time the lower part was inclosed first with doors and then with drawers. The shelf as a decorative motif was generally used. Another type is open at the top, the lower part closed with a door or doors.

The early cupboards were paneled in various geometrical designs. Carving was employed and ornamentation in the form of bosses and molding applied. Half spindles was another form of decoration. The wood used was generally oak, with pine for the tops, bottoms and backs. In the paneled examples the moldings are sometimes of cedar but more often of pine, beech or maple painted. The turned ornaments, drops, nailheads and turtlebacks are of the same woods and are also painted.

Houses with paneled walls and with cupboards built in to match were quite generally the style in the colonies in the first quarter of the Eighteenth century. Most of these cupboards were fastened into side walls.

Michigan Was Sovereign State About Century Ago

Michigan for about a year was a sovereign power, owing no allegiance to the United States.

True, Michigan didn't build a navy, establish embassies or design its own flag, but the question of its complete independence was quite definitely established in a legal decision, relates a Lansing correspondent in the Detroit Free Press.

Judge Edward Cahill, one time justice of the state supreme court, unearthed the decision given in a petition for ejectment brought by the Detroit Young Men's society versus Scott.

The corporation known as the Detroit Young Men's society was incorporated under an act of the state legislature which met in 1836 between the time the state constitution had been approved March 26, 1836, and admission of the state into the Union January 26, 1837. The defendant, Scott, argued there was no such corporation as the legislature had no legal existence in the interval between approval of the constitution and admission as a state.

Judge Ransom, in a long opinion, held that under Article 5 of the Ordinance of 1787, the right of a territory to have a permanent constitution and government when it should contain 60,000 free inhabitants was definitely granted, subject to no abridgement. Therefore, he held the act to incorporate the society was legal and valid as "the act of an independent and sovereign state."

Tombs of Mummies in Desert

On the desert of Paracas are tombs of mummies seated with knees to chin and swathed in voluminous folds of cloth. On the high plateau of Bolivia mummies are encased not in cloth but in neatly woven baskets made of the tortora reed, of which the famous Lake Titicaca balsas are made. The mummy baskets usually have a small opening from which the grisly mummy face peers out. In the quaint little museum at Valparaiso, Chile, are to be seen an earlier type of mummy, suggestive of the Egyptian—the only South American type not in a sitting position. They are crudely masked, laid out like very early Egyptian forms, and filled with mud.

The Early Christian Church

The division in the early Christian church, which resulted in the separation of the Greek Orthodox or Eastern church and the Roman Catholic or western church began with the political division of the Roman empire and the founding of Constantinople. After the "great schism" of 887, the two churches were reunited until the final separation came in 1054. The Baptist church, as a separate denomination, dates back a little more than three centuries. The first English Baptist church was founded in 1609 by Rev. John Smyth.

Death Valley, Lowest Point

Death valley in California is 276 feet below sea level and is the lowest point on the continent. It is a barren, desert, alkaline strip of territory, about 50 miles long, and averages between 20 and 25 miles in breadth between the crests of the inclosing mountain ranges. The name was given it by the survivors of a party of 30 emigrants who lost their way there while traveling to the Pacific coast in the days of '49, and of whom 18 died in the sands after enduring great hardships for days.

FARMER CAN SAVE BY CENTRALIZATION

Cornell Experiments Show Benefits of Plan.

By L. M. HURD

Centralization of buildings and operations to save travel, time, and labor is the main idea in planning a modern poultry plant, according to experiments in Cornell university's poultry department.

In a study of "chore routes" made in Oregon on 125 farms, it was learned how much time is spent and the distance traveled in a year going to and from the laying house, the brooder house, and pullet range.

Poultrymen who traveled the least, going to and from the laying house, covered 62 miles a year and took 37 hours for the chores. Those who traveled the most covered 450 miles in 270 hours. The long-distance group traveled from seven to fourteen times as far as the short-distance men.

As a rule all permanent buildings should face toward the south and be on land that slopes gently in the same direction. They should, however, be far enough below the crest of the hill to be protected from strong northern and western winds. If woodlands or orchard are on the windward side, so much the better.

The ideal plan for a rearing range is to allow enough land for a three-year rotation system. One to three acres of land should be allowed for each 500 growing chickens.

Karakul Sheep Raising Of Questionable Wisdom

Stockmen interested in raising karakul sheep should compare the karakul industry with the regular sheep industry before making their investment, says Con S. Maddox, Washington State college extension animal husbandman.

One of the best ways to learn about the industry is to visit farmers who have been in the business for at least four or five years and find from them the prices they receive for lamb pelts, the clip from ewes, the percentage of lambs produced by the karakul as compared to farm flocks of sheep, the price of breeding stock, and the prices received for mutton lambs.

Some southern Idaho breeders are reported to be saving their karakul lambs for marketing just as they would regular mutton lambs, instead of marketing the pelts. Those wishing to obtain breeding stock could probably buy these lambs at fat-lamb prices.

Because of its limited use, karakul wool usually sells for one-half to three-fourths the price paid for good quality wool, according to research done by the United States department of agriculture.

Stallions Should Be Given The Best Feed Rations

The choicest, soundest feeds should be reserved for a valuable sire. Main reliance will be placed on oats, bran, and light-mixed clover and timothy or timothy hay. A few ears of corn are of benefit to a stallion that is inclined to keep thin. Clean pasture grass during the season and carrots when grass is not available are valuable aids in promoting health.

The heavily used stallion requires as much feed as a hard-worked horse. A healthy, vigorous, muscular condition is greatly to be preferred to a soft, flabby, overdone condition. A stallion that loses weight rapidly during the breeding season is not likely to be a sure breeder. It is preferable, if possible, to start the season with the stallion in a lean condition and increase his weight a little during the season. The extreme fitting to which some stallions are subjected in being prepared for the show-ring has sometimes been a detriment to their future value as sires.

Shorts and Middlings

Some 60 varieties of celery are cultivated in the United States.

Turkey raising conditions were so favorable in 1938 that a further expansion of production has been predicted for 1939.

Ten per cent of the total of eggs produced in the United States in recent years is estimated to have gone into cold storage.

Gooseberries and currants are hosts for blister rust, and for this reason many states have passed laws against their cultivation.

Commercial canners decided there may be some merit in production control since they went into the present marketing season carrying 25,657,000 cases of the 1937 sweet corn crop. They will try an experiment this season to control the amount of sweet corn to be canned.

More emphasis is being placed by life insurance companies on the making of farm mortgage loans than for more than a decade, reports the Federal Home Loan Bank Review.

BURNED-OVER FIELDS SHOULD BE PROTECTED

The importance of taking steps this season to protect against erosion next spring on fields left bare by grain and stubble fires this summer was pointed out today by State Coordinator R. N. Irving of the Soil Conservation Service and Dr. K. H. Klages, head of the University of Idaho Agronomy department.

"These burned fields," they explained, "will present an erosion hazard next spring. Reports from service cooperators, county extension agents and others indicate that rough, fall tillage has proven to be the most effective way to prevent erosion on burned-over fields the first season. The effect of rough tillage will not extend beyond one year, however, therefore, fields that are rough tilled this fall, summer-fallowed during 1940, and then planted to fall wheat still will be subject to soil washing or bolwing in the spring of 1941.

"If these fields can be seeded to a crop next spring, it will be possible to re-establish protective crop residues. That is, there then will be stubble to go through the winter of 1940-41 and available for use in trashy-fallow the 1941 season. Of course, if there is absolutely no way to eliminate next year's summer-fallow, this use of the straw for erosion protection will have to wait until the next, or 1941, crop."

In the absence of crop residues in such cases, Irving and Klages said, the maximum protection can be had by summerfallowing in such a way as to keep a cloudy surface. Then the grain should be drilled on the contour, or across the slope, instead of up and down the hill.

"Carefully guarding against fire in the first place, including stubble burning," they remarked, "if, actually, the best guarantee of erosion-resisting fields in the grain growing areas."

1940 Chevrolet Be On View Oct. 14

Chevrolet's new 1940 models will make their public bow on Oct. 14, W. E. Holler, general sales manager, announced on Sept. 23.

The cars, he said, will be shown simultaneously at the National Automobile show in Grand Central Palace—where, as volume leader in the industry, Chevrolet again had first choice of space—at the General Motors special showing in the Waldorf-Astoria, at several important local auto shows, and in dealers' salesrooms throughout the country.

In line with the company's experience in recent years, Mr. Holler said, an important part of Chevrolet's announcement advertising has been scheduled in newspapers. Some 6,800 daily and weekly papers from coast to coast are on the schedule, other media being used to supplement and round out this effort. Pre-announcement advertising has already begun to appear, and space will be increased as the new car induction date appears.

Formal presentation of its new product, and the selling program for 1940, will be made to Chevrolet's wholesale field organization and the central office sales department staff at the annual national sales convention scheduled to open in Detroit September 28. The sessions will last two days, and will be attended by about 350 key members of the organization.

Recruits Flocking In

A marked acceleration in Army enlistments has been noted all over the Army's eight-state ninth corps area, and the campaign to bring it up to its authorized peace-time strength under recent Act of Congress and proclamation by the President is meeting success, according to an announcement released at Army headquarters. Each month's enlistments are showing a marked increase over the preceding month as the recruiting efforts get into full swing.

The applicant of today has a wide choice of branch and station, it was pointed out by Major Charles C. Quigley. He may make application for enlistment at the most outlying recruiting office and be assured of the same choice of branch and station as were he making application at a recruiting office in any of the larger cities.

Recruit depots are filled to overflowing with applicants sent in by the forces in the field, and prompt shipment to the station selected is promised. Current orders are to the effect that the new recruit will not be held for a period of longer than seven days at the place of enlistment. For those who select foreign service assignments, army transports are sailing on schedule to carry these men to their overseas stations.

The quotas for the air corps and anti-aircraft units seem to be the big drawing card. Here-to-fore men were usually placed on waiting lists for these services and sometimes it was many months before they were called.

Idaho 1940 Car Tags

Boise—Idaho's 1940 auto licenses will advertise to the nation the state's 50th year of statehood. Harry Rayner, state law enforcement commissioner said these lines would be printed across the bottom respectively: "Fifty years of statehood" and "1890—Idaho—1940." The background will be gold with green letters. Rayner said 176,876 sets had been ordered.

18½¢ of Your Electric dollar goes for TAXES

• Last year The Washington Water Power Company electric system paid a total tax bill of $1,617,905. This means that 18½¢ out of every dollar we received for electricity was paid to various tax collecting agencies! In other words, if your monthly electric bill was $5, the sum of 92½¢ went for taxes. We paid these taxes, the same as other citizens, as our share of the general cost of government. This tax money educates children, furnishes fire and police protection, builds good roads, maintains parks, assures sanitation and supports other functions of government.

YOUR TOTAL ELECTRIC BILL INCLUDES MORE THAN JUST ELECTRIC SERVICE!

"Charlie Chan in Honolulu" Picture fans will remember the late Warner Oland in his famous Chinese detective stories as being one of the best on the silver screen. Today there is a new Charlie Chan in the person of Sidney Toler, who, in general appearance and acting, cannot be distinguished from the original character actor, Oland. This coming Friday and Saturday nights the new Chan will be seen in the Kendrick Theatre in "Charlie Chan in Honolulu."

There has been a killing almost on Chan's very doorstep, and, as usual, Chan goes about unraveling the mystery in his methodical way. It is a challenge to Chan in his own home town—he meets new adventure and you will meet the new Charlie Chan.

There will also be Episode No. 3 of "The Lone Ranger," as well as the Louis-Pastor fight, and other entertaining features.

Girls League Banquet The banquet given by the Girls League in the church basement on Wednesday evening was well attended and very much enjoyed by all present.
