KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1939

NO. 43

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Offers on potatoes from certified seed on the Dietrich tract thus far have averaged from 40 to 50 cents more per 100 pounds than the market price. More than 50 acres of certified seed were planted on the tract last spring. On the most conservative estimate of the yield, these prices will net the farmers an extra $50.00 per acre.

Kendrick needs a commercial club or a business men's organization of some kind to look after the interests of the town and community. An organization composed of the business men of the town could do an immense amount of good in promoting the interests of this locality. There isn't enough team work in the town, etc. (It might be said right here that Kendrick now has one of the liveliest commercial clubs to be found anywhere, regardless of the size of the town—and that there is team work, too).

Congressman. Burton L. French wrote to Arnold S. Lyons, president of the Latah County Farmers union, asking for data relative to the cost of raising beans in Latah county. Complaints have been sent in from this locality by both the growers and dealers asking Mr. French to use his influence to protect the bean growers of this locality. It is said that beans from the Orient can be shipped in and sold here for 3 1/2 cents a pound. It would be useless for Pothatch farmers to try to compete with this price.

Commissioners of the Kendrick Highway district were sworn in last Saturday. The new commissioners who took the oath of office were Wm. Cox, chairman; G. F. Walker and Ole Lien.

Work on the grade around Powell hill, between Kendrick and Juliaetta, was at a standstill owing to the fact that funds were exhausted. To date there has been spent on the new strip $4,818.00, and it will take $15,000.00 more to finish it. The road is being built on a 50-50 basis, the county furnishing half of the money and Kendrick and Juliaetta furnishing the other half. Part of the money was subscribed last spring and it is believed there will be little trouble in raising the required amount.

Plans are now under way to prepare a program for the dedication of the new Methodist church, Sunday, November 2. Dr. W. W. Youngston of Portland will deliver the dedication sermon. Southwick Items—Since Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heath have named the latest, if perhaps the least, acquisition to their family, John, we notice the Uncle John stands mighty straight and the tiniest hint of a swager marks his gait. Mrs. Pete Stump has a brother, Just back from Siberia, visiting her.

Miss Clara Lien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Lien of Big Bear ridge, and Mr. Einar Bruseth were married at Coeur d'Alene last Saturday by Rev. Luvaas, the Lutheran minister. The marriage was a complete surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom. Mr. Bruseth is an engineer on a run between Spokane and Cheney. He was a fireman on a helper engine here before going to the war. While in France he was severely wounded and was in a hospital for a number of months. The bride and groom are both popular young people and their many friends here will be glad to learn of their happy marriage. They will make their home in Spokane, where they have purchased a residence.

Pasture for stock in this locality is very short. The long, dry spell has been disastrous to those who depend upon pasture for their stock in the fall. Unless the winter is an open one there will in all probability be a very serious shortage of feed for stock.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

"Hey, Mr. Armitage, we need some more paper for our booth. Can I go down and get some?" "Hand me a thumb tack, will you? I'll never get this streamer right." "Ouch, you hit my thumb. Now who swiped that hammer?"

All week exclamations such as these have been heard around the school. Everyone's busy decorating some booth or other for the annual carnival, to be held this Friday night, October 27. This carnival in past years has been good—but now promises to be bigger and better than ever before. Again we give you the names of the Carnival Queen candidates: Helen Halseth, senior; Alma Cox, Junior; Beulah Draper, sophomore; Irene Peters, freshman; Laurence Craig, Girls' League; Warney May, F. F. A.; Jean Crocker, seventh and eighth; Gay Deobald, fifth and sixth; Doris Clementhan, third and fourth; Patricia Long, first and second. The doors open at 7:00. The dance begins at 9:30.

At last the first edition of our school paper, "The Tiger's Jaw," has been published. After many long hours of work and worry, the masterpiece was given to the public on Monday, October 23. It was really a great day for the staff.

The Juniors are still in suspense about their play. It has been chosen and they are rehearsing parts of it, but no one has been told whether or not he or she has been lucky enough to be included in the cast. The title is "The Curse of the Crystal Ball." No definite date has yet been set for its production.

The Kendrick Tigers were again victorious last Friday afternoon, when they defeated the Southwick High school 13-6. The girls were also victorious, winning 20-6. We are proud of our softball teams. Each team has lost but one game during the whole season, the boys to Bovill and the girls to Juliaetta.

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons of last week mixers were held in the gym. And for a change, every single kid really tried. From the Seniors to the Frosh there wasn't a person who didn't at one time or other try. Everyone joined in the fun, and you should see some of our boys and girls who were afraid to try to dance, get out and "swing it." With the aid of our P. A. system and records which we borrowed, the music was just right. Anyway, it was lots of fun and everyone enjoyed them both.

A Halloween party is to be held Tuesday, October 31, at 2:15 p. m. in the grades from first to fourth. The public is invited.

Badly Injured In Runaway

Even horses are not safe!

Last Sunday morning while Vester Daniels of Fir Bluff was driving a six-horse team attached to a heavy disc the animals became frightened when Mr. Daniels dropped a line as he was rounding a corner and stopped to pick it up, causing him to get his right foot in the disc. He was thrown under the machine and was badly hurt. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, where it was found that a bone was broken in his right heel, a gash extending from his ankle to the knee on the calf of his leg, both bones broken in his left wrist and his nose broken.

The team dragged Mr. Daniels some 200 yards before going over a steep bank some 40 feet down. Only one horse was cut when the outfit went over the bank.

Mr. Daniels is a brother of Mrs. Silvie Cook and Mrs. Cook immediately went to Lewiston, where she reports her brother as doing as well as could be expected.

Cars Safer Than Roads

Motor car manufacturers are far ahead of road builders in the problem of safe transportation on our highways, says the bureau of safety. Each year cars are built more safe, more manageable in emergency; but road building is a slow and costly process. The road built 10 years ago was adequate then, but conditions change rapidly.

Improvements in lights, brakes, tires, side-sway control, weight distribution and other items contribute to the pleasure of driving; but our roads are still too narrow to allow safe passing at high speeds, and the toll of death taken on curves is a grim reminder of the wisdom of those "Slow" signs.

Apple Tree Blooming

and the way Gracie Allen unravels the mystery is one of the most laughable "solves" you have ever seen or heard of. Gracie not only solves murder mysteries, but she also sings several of the late songs. But take it from Gracie: "It's a crime the way people go around killing other people." And during the unraveling of the murder mystery Gracie meets a lady killer—who really means it. Then, too, there will be another episode of "The Lone Ranger," who was left in a very tight spot last week — as well as other features.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON (Wickliffe R. Smith) There will be a very interesting eclipse of the moon Friday night of this week, beginning a little before 9 o'clock. The shadow will appear first on the northeastern edge of the moon and travel southward until the eclipse becomes almost total. Perhaps you know that a lunar eclipse is always caused by the earth's shadow falling on the face of the moon, or, in other words, the earth comes between the moon and the sun. But do you know why such an eclipse does not occur every time the moon is full? Perhaps not.

Well, then, let us explain it this way: Imagine a great disc passing through the center of the sun and extending outward 95,000,000 miles and passing through the center of the earth along the equator. Now this disc would represent the plane of the ecliptic. The earth travels around the edge of this disc and the sun is in the center. Let us imagine this disc being made a little larger in diameter until it extends out beyond the earth a quarter of a million miles. The moon travels around the earth, and the outer edge of this larger disc is the farthest it ever gets from the sun. The earth is then between the moon and the sun. Now if the moon never went north or south of the plane of the ecliptic there would be two eclipses each month—one of the sun and one of the moon. But the moon's orbit does not coincide with the earth's orbit. It is inclined from a perpendicular to about five degrees—therefore the moon is half of the time north of the ecliptic and the other half south of it. The place where it passes through the ecliptic going from north to south, is called the descending node, while the point where it pierces the ecliptic on its northward journey is called the ascending node.

But as the plane of the moon's orbit is slightly inclined from a perpendicular to the earth's orbit-ecliptic, the only time we have an eclipse of the moon is when the moon reaches one of its nodes at or very near full moon. When the moon reaches a node at or near new moon, we have an eclipse of the sun. The moon is now north of the ecliptic and will reach a descending node Friday night almost exactly at the time of full moon.

HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Here it is the last part of October, and local hunters are still coming in bringing game with them. We note in the state reports that all over the state the wild game take has been less—but if you could see the way the deer and elk meat has been pouring into our locker boxes the past three weeks, you wouldn't doubt a bit but what the local boys have been getting their share of the forest produced meats.

Locker boxes have made practical the keeping of this meat over a reasonable period of time (two to three years) and have done away with the objectionable process of canning, boning, smoking, etc.

Perhaps you are not a hunter, but you'll find one of these boxes just as practical for the keeping of any kind of meat—and really the tops for fresh fruits of many kinds. Bring us your cream. We want it—you want our money.

Girls show more taste in their clothes now than they used to—and that isn't all.

Male Golfer: "Now's the time to use your brassie."
Female Golfer: "But I have not got one on."

Teacher (giving a lesson in charity): "Now, Tommie, if I saw a boy cruelly beating a donkey and stopped him, what would I be showing?"
Tommie: "Brotherly love."

A news item says that a Montana man sued his wife for a divorce because she stuck him with a fork. Probably just wanted to let him know he was "done."

Read the "Bullitin." Keep posted on local event.
