KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1940

N. 5

VOLUME L

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Mrs. O. E. MacPherson gave a birthday party at her home Wednesday afternoon in honor of her son Donald, age two years. Games were enjoyed by the little folks; after which dainty refreshments were served at a tiny table, decorated in pink and white. Jello and whipped cream, sandwiches, milk and birthday cake delighted the little folks. Each received as a favor a kewpie doll. Those present were Marjorie Newton, Roy Long, Nona May Compton, Neva and Lloyd Ware.

The Farmers Bank of Kendrick is planning to have a harvest exhibit some time early next fall. The exhibit will be made up of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables that are raised in the Golden Eagle. Farmers will be urged to save some of their best produce. Prizemoney lists will be prepared and prizes awarded for the best displays received from all over the county. The flu is as much of a menace now as it was any time last winter. Kendrick has had a few light cases at any time. The ridges tributary to Kendrick have reported a number of cases, a few of which were quite severe. At an unofficial meeting of the village council it was decided not to put a ban on public meetings. No dances will be allowed, however, under any circumstances.

The jury list for Latah county for 1940 was drawn last week. The names of those drawn from this locality are: Bear creek precinct Ole Lien and Sever Nelson; Boulder creek precinct, George Torgerson; Gold Hill precinct, A. G. Wilson and Fred Darby; Kendrick precinct, J. O. Long, M. V. Thomas, Guy M. Lewis, E. P. Atchison, Wm. Watts and John F. Walde; Texas ridge precinct, Geo. Drury and Alfred LaBelle.

Mrs. N. B. Long entertained a number of little friends for her grandson, Roy Edgar Long, Thursday afternoon in honor of his fourth birthday anniversary. Dainty refreshments were served after the children had enjoyed a number of games. The birthday cake with the four candles was the center of attraction for the little ones. The little guests were Elizabeth and Frederick Carlson, Marjory Newton, Kenneth Davidson, Elbert and Lillian Long and Clifford Sandberg.

O. S. Fletcher, county agent for Latah county, was in Kendrick the first of the week on business. The flu epidemic throughout the county is interfering seriously with the farm bureau plans for the spring work, particularly the squirrel poisoning campaign. The meetings on Bear ridge and American ridge scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week had to be postponed on account of the flu.

An ice jam carried away the ferry at Lenore Monday. There is now no ferry service on the Clearwater between Spalding and Pack.

On account of the railroad yards at Lewiston being flooded Monday morning the passenger train did not arrive in Kendrick until after noon.

Wheat Crop Insurance

February 29 — the day that arrives but once in four years — is the final date on which Latah County wheat growers can take out "all-risk" insurance on their 1940 spring wheat crop.

The date was stressed this week by H. F. Koster, Chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee, which administers the federal crop insurance program in the county.

The same date is set for all other areas in which spring wheat is grown. It is in line with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation's policy of writing insurance before the crop is planted.

Federal crop insurance is finding great favor with Idaho wheat growers. Crop insurance was inaugurated with the 1939 wheat crop, and more than 1,700 policies were written. This year, 1,800 policies were written on winter wheat alone, and to date both winter and spring wheat policies total about 3,000. On the 1939 crop, policyholders were paid 77,000 bushels of wheat as indemnities on insured crops, which was practically the amount collected in premiums by the corporation.

Growers can insure their 1940 harvest for 75 per cent of an average yield for between one-half bushel to two bushels per acre, depending on the loss history their farms have had. The insurance protects the crop against all unavoidable hazards that might reduce or destroy the crop.

The county agricultural conservation office is all ready to complete applications for any wheat grower. The premium rate and the insured yields have been determined for all farms in the county. All the grower has to do is fill out the application, indicate the acreage he intends to seed, and pay the premium.

Premiums may be paid in any one of three ways: 1. With a warehouse receipt for actual bushels of wheat, 2. In check or cash for wheat at the current market price, or 3. With an advance against payments that may be earned under the AAA program.

First Buttercups

On Tuesday of this week Barbara Stedman brought to the Gazette office a nice bunch of buttercups and in full bloom. She states the flowers are plentiful on her parents' ranch near, and that some of them were out New Year's Day.

We think this is something of a record.

Mrs. J. C. Bean Passes Onward

Mrs. Emma Etta Bean, 74, wife of Joseph C. Bean of the Big Bear ridge district, near Kendrick, died Monday morning at her home following an illness of several months.

Mrs. Bean was born January 18, 1866, in Davis county, Iowa. Twenty years ago, she, with her family, moved from South Dakota to Idaho, locating on a farm on Big Bear ridge.

Mrs. Bean is survived by her husband and five children, Irvin of Grants Pass, Oregon; Ernest, Mrs. Ada Fairfield and Mrs. Edith Fairfield of Kendrick; and Mrs. Alice Byers of Deary.

The body was taken to the Short Funeral Chapel at Moscow, where funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Owen J. Beadles delivered the sermon.

MACHINERY LEADING SAFETY HAZARD IN FARMERS' WORK

Safety on the farm is largely home made, says G. T. McAlexander, county extension agent. One of the reasons there are so many accidents on the farm is that farm families are operating, largely on their own responsibility. For city people at work or at home there are numerous safety precautions, and someone to enforce them. But the farmer, to a great extent must be his own safety engineer and almost entirely his own disciplinarian.

Mr. McAlexander points to a statement on farm accidents made by S. H. McCarty, assistant chief of the federal bureau of engineering, who believes there will be more legal control of farm safety, especially of the ways in which electricity is used.

Among reasons why the farm is a fertile field for accidents Mr. McCarty found there: Much work is done by individuals at some distance from others so that an accident may be serious because help is not at hand. On the farm there are frequent changes in work and the machinery used, which may mean unfamiliarity with equipment and less accuracy of movement. Under the pressure of summer work there often are long hours in the field and chores done in a hurry after dark — both conducive to accidents.

He found that in spite of improvements, farm machinery is a top hazard in farm work. The older hazard of animals, such as unruly bulls and kicking horses, is next.

But in checking hundreds of accident records, he also found that most of them were caused by carelessness, by haste, by the use of makeshift repairs, by taking chances and by using machinery without guards or with guard removed.

The suffering, the loss of time, and the actual cash cost of these accidents shows the need for avoiding them. It has been shown time and time again that the well ordered farm, with well-ordered activities, is good insurance against accidents.

Facemakers Elected

Thursday afternoon, a Student Body meeting was held for the purpose of electing "Facemakers" from this year's group of Seniors. These two students, one boy and one girl, are chosen from the Senior class each year by the entire High school as the most outstanding people of the graduating class. Factors considered in choosing these representatives include scholastic standing, interest in school activities, sportsmanship, personality, character, and popularity among other high school students. The honor this year was given to Barbara Long and Kenneth Wolff, two of the most deserving Seniors.

Basketball Games

During the past week, the Kendrick Tigers have been victorious in the three games played, one conference and two non-conference. Last Friday night, the team went to Juliaetta, winning over the Pirates by a score of 34-10. At the half the score was 18 to 5 in favor of the Tigers.

On Saturday night Elk River, considered the finest team in the White Pine conference, and victors over a number of "A" teams met defeat when our Tigers were the long-end holders of a 24-26 score. Many of our basketball fans say this was the best game of the season, both teams really fighting in a clean, fair game. With two of our opponents' main players fouling out, and three of our own first string men doing the same, one can easily imagine how exciting the last half of this game was.

Our second stringers weren't quite so lucky as the other boys. Twenty-five to 11 was the final score of this B game, with Elk River on the long end of it. In both games there was plenty of action, and though our B squad didn't win, they were really in there fighting.

Tuesday night a team composed of some of the fifteen main string men on the Moscow squad played the Tigers on the Kendrick floor. Kendrick was again victorious, this time by a score of 28 to 24. In the first half Kendrick was really making points, 24 of the 28 being scored in this period, with Moscow trailing with 12. But in the second half the Tigers scored only four points, while our opponents doubled their score. But at least we managed to keep ahead of them, thus adding another victory to the Tigers' record.

Friday night Lapwai comes to Kendrick to play our Tigers, this making the eighth conference game played. So far Kendrick has won two conference games from Juliaetta, one from Genesee, and one from Lapwai, and has lost two to Culdesac and one to Southwick. This puts the Tigers in third place in our conference. However, the teams to go to the District Tournament in Lewiston will be decided by the sub-district tournament, which will be held sometime this month in one of the four towns with leading

U. Of I. Man Speaks To Farmers

William Colwell of the Soils department, University of Idaho, gave an interesting lecture to Bear Ridge farmers last Thursday evening on "Soil Formation on Bear Ridge." He depicted in the general the difference between prairie made soils and forest made soils.

He later gave some interesting fertilizer suggestions, in part as follows: 1. Never buy a large quantity of fertilizer from high-pressure salesmen, but try a small amount of the different kinds, noting the effects of each kind. 2. If one can notice a decided improvement in one fertilizer, that is the one to buy providing the cost is not prohibitive.

He told of how a lack of "boron" in the soil causes "drought spots" or corky core of apples. At the present time we are applying some borax, which is the source of boron to some apple trees affected with the disease at the Oscar Slind farm.

In the northern part of the state there has been a noted deficiency in alfalfa fields, causing a yellowing of the leaves and stunted growth of plant. Forty to sixty pounds of borax applied to an acre of alfalfa has shown a decided increase in yield in acres showing this disease.

To Be At Colfax

A Marine Corps recruiting party from Spokane, will be at the Post Office building, Colfax, Wash., from 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. February 10, 1940, for the purpose of interviewing and examining young men who are interested in being accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps. Any young men between the ages of 18 and 30 years, single and of good character, who are interested in taking this preliminary examination can contact this party at the time and place above mentioned.

The Marine Corps Institute in Washington, D. C., offers Marines an opportunity to enroll for the various courses where they may learn, free of charge, some trade, art or science.

All applicants who pass this preliminary examination will be furnished transportation to Seattle, Wash., for the final examination, should they pass this final examination at Seattle, they will be transferred to San Diego, Calif., for training.

Saturday night Troy plays here in Kendrick. The Moscow team which we defeated Tuesday night were victorious over the Troy team by a 40-23 score, so this should be a good game. Come on out and root for the Tigers both Friday and Saturday nights. It helps them win to know the whole country is for them.

WHEAT MARKETS DECLINE WITH DEMAND DULL

Domestic grain markets declined during the week ending January 26, influenced principally by a dull domestic and export demand for current market offerings, states the Agricultural Marketing Service in the Weekly Grain Market Review. Lower foreign markets, especially at Buenos Aires, estimates of an increased world supply of wheat in July and small North American exports, were additional weakening influences. Feed grains also were barely steady to slightly lower at the principal markets.

Stocks of wheat in interior mills, elevators and warehouses January 1, were somewhat smaller than last year and totaled 128,846,000 bushels compared with 137,097,000 bushels in these positions January 1, 1939. With the exception of January 1, 1939, the present stocks are the largest for any which records are available. In Minnesota, Montana, Oklahoma and Texas, where considerable amounts of wheat under government loans are stored, January 1, stocks were the highest on record for this date.

Combining stocks of wheat in interior mills, elevators and warehouses with those on farms and in terminal markets on the first of January, 1940, gives a total supply, outside of merchant mills, of 500,873,000 bushels, compared with 545,933,000 bushels in these positions a year ago. Of the nearly 388,000,000 bushels remaining on farms and in country mills and elevators at the first of January, about 129,000,000 bushels are hard red winter; 65,000,000 bushels soft red winter; 98,000,000 bushels hard red spring; 28,000,000 bushels durum and 48,000,000 bushels white wheat.

Information on world trade is still limited but over 3,750,000 bushels were shipped from Argentina during the week. According to trade reports, Spain purchased 8,400,000 bushels of French wheat on a barter basis last week. At the close of the week, No. 1 Manitoba was quoted FOB Vancouver at 74½¢; No. 2 Manitoba at 72¢ and No. 1 Manitoba FOB St. John at 89¢ per bushel.

The first official estimate of the area sown to wheat in India for the 1940 harvest is placed at 32,381,000 acres against 32,255,000 acres.

Declines in midwestern wheat futures markets were reflected in lower futures in Pacific Northwestern markets, while cash wheat was relatively weaker than futures in this area, principal classes being down around 2¢ per bushel from a week ago. On January 26, at Portland, soft white, western white and western red were quoted at 85¢, with hard red winter at 84½¢ per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, in bulk.

Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals were relatively light at only 391 cars for the week, principally reflecting light offerings from growers at country points. Indemnity payments on flour for export were 90¢ to the Philippines and $1.15 per barrel to the China, with export sales to the Philippines reported of good volume and with around 5,000 barrels sold to China. A good inquiry was reported from China but further sales were restricted by lack of ocean freight space. Local mills were the principal buyers for market offerings of cash wheat during the period but light offerings in the country held down the volume of purchases. Wheat mill-feeds markets held steady and unchanged. Narrowing of the spread between Pacific Coast and midwestern markets resulted in light sales to the Midwest for rail shipment and lack of water freight space restricted shipments to gulf and east coast points. Despite extension of the wheat subsidy program, no sales of wheat were made to the Orient because of the low prices at which Australian wheat was being offered to that country.

The San Francisco wheat market was dull with a somewhat weaker tendency during the past week chiefly influenced by declines in northern and eastern markets and further improvements in central California wheat prospects. Slightly increased offerings were difficult to place and prices declined around 2½¢ per 100 compared with a week ago.

Influenced by a generally sluggish domestic and export demand, wheat futures declined 2¼¢ to 2½¢ this week with trading dull, at Kansas City, during the past week. Arrivals at Kansas City dropped to the very meager total of 145 cars and open market offerings were extremely limited. Nine important winter wheat markets reported only 563 cars against 663 cars a week ago and 1,547 a year ago. Cash prices on hard and red wheat at Kansas City declined 2¢ to 2½¢ per bushel for the week, reflecting the easier tone in futures.

At Minneapolis the cash wheat market was very dull and trade reports indicated a little more selling interest in the southwest but cash premiums were steady with possibly the best demand for the best grades.

O. E. Havens Resigns

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Farmers Bank, Kendrick, the resignation of O. E. Havens, cashier for the past three and a half years, was accepted. The directors state that Mr. Havens' work was found entirely satisfactory in every way.

Mr. Havens will remain at the bank for the next sixty days, but he tells us not in any official capacity.

Kendrick Gazette

Personal Mention

Oscar Hartung of Lewiston was in town last Friday, calling on Walter McCall, who is quite ill with the flu.

Mrs. Robert O. Stewart and little son of Spokane, arrived here January 20, for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Daugherty.

Maybe the reason the League of Nations has been so quiet lately is because it has switched jobs from umpire to scorekeeper.

Any Kendrick citizen can beat Wall Street by starting with a shoestring. The way to do it is to tie your shoelaces around your purse.

THUMB-NAIL IDAHO HISTORY

By Glenn Balch

President Thomas Jefferson was severely criticized over the so-called "Louisiana Purchase," which was made during this administration. His critics declared that the fifteen million dollars which he paid for that great area of country which runs from Louisiana to the Northwest was "an outrageous waste and unconstitutional." They were bitter about such extravagance of the people's money.

It is a more or less significant comment on hasty criticism that one little area of that vast country, known now as the Leesburg Basin, and lying in Idaho's magnificent Salmon river mountains, has produced in good yellow gold a sum not only equal to but actually in excess of the amount of the Louisiana purchase.

Early in the spring of 1866 a party of men composed of F. B. Sharkey, Elijah Mulkey, Ward Girton, William Spright and Joe Rapp outfitted themselves for prospecting at a town called Cottonwood in Montana, and headed for the gold fields. They were anxious to secure some of the riches which were bringing civilization to the Northwest.

Their first prospecting was at French Gulch, in the Montana territory, but the finds there were poor, so after a few days they packed up again and struck out over the Bitter Roots, high, rugged and frowning. Crossing the mountains, the party went down the North Fork of the Salmon until they struck the main river. They went up the river from there, passing the mouth of the Lemhi, passing the site of the present town of Salmon and presently crossed another range, lying west of the river, to a creek called Nappian by the Indians. Here the pans began to show "color" and the men realized they had made a discovery. Immediately they staked the ground and located water rights in the creek.

These original locations were made under the California mining laws, since at this time there were no laws for the territory. Then the miners called a meeting, formed and adopted a set of laws of their own to govern the new camp.

In a few short months there were 3,000 people in the town of Leesburg, then a booming gold camp of the first order, and a total of 7,000 people were in the district, an area said to consist of about 200 square miles.

The late John E. Rees made an extensive study of the Leesburg Basin in 1924, and it was his opinion that "The gold mines of Leesburg alone produced a total of sixteen million dollars—enough to pay the entire cost of the Louisiana Purchase—and more to boot."

THINK IT OVER

By F. R. Stevens

The Nazi government of Germany is involved in a foreign war in which we have no part — yet it finds time to effect an organization in this country ostensibly to keep us from the dangers of communism. Its honesty of purpose is questionable and its interference here is an insult to every American who has the spirit of freedom. We Americans realize the dangers of communism and will take care of them in our own way.

The real purpose of the Nazis is becoming clear to us. That crowd is evidently trying to establish in this country a dictatorship, and so line us up with the intrigues and trouble of the Old World.

Let us see what this Nazi Dictatorship stands for and whether it has anything in common with American principles. I quote from a speech by Reich Minister Darre before the Farmers' Congress in Germany. This was printed in English by "President Henrich Kessemeler of Hamburg" and distributed widely in this country.

"Our own generations of farm class are of ancient descent. . . Our laws are based on heritage, that is, on individuality. It is on this individuality and our confidence in its working power that we build up our task. National Socialism, that is to say Adolf Hitler, is the embodiment of a sacred will that regulates the affairs of our people in an orderly manner."

Again I quote from a National Bund speaker, as given in the Saturday Evening Post of May 27, 1939: "Our whole program at this moment has just one aim—to unite all German-Americans under the Bund banners and then bring National Socialism to replace Democracy in the United States." To be exact, this plan, from their own words, is to bring National Socialism, that is to say Adolf Hitler, into the United States!!!

We have always had farmers but never a farm class, and we do not propose to have one; in fact, we cannot have one without first destroying our form of government. Here we are, individuals with an inalienable right to change from farming to railroading to industry, or reverse the process as our inclination and judgment direct, and the laws of our land protect us in that right. This has been one of the strongest factors in building this country. The farm, with its intimate contact with the source of wealth, its many intricate problems which must be served by the individual, has so developed skill and rounded out the development of our boys and girls that they just naturally take leadership, not only in farming but in industry, law, government, or wherever their talents best fit them. I will gamble that if you take any five of our industrial leaders or statesmen, at least four of them can milk a cow or put on a load of hay so it will get to the barn.

To repeat the quotation from Reich Minister Darre: "that regulates the affairs of our people in an orderly manner." Since 1775 we each have regulated our own affairs and until the memory of Bunker Hill is wiped out we intend to do so!

We Americans respect the sterling qualities of the German people. Those of us, including the writer, who carry German blood, have more than respect for them, but the policy of the Nazi regime—of Adolph Hitler—has no place in this country. He doesn't fit. He conflicts with everything we hold sacred. His dictatorial power over the lives of men is greater than any king of modern times. We disposed of that form of government 164 years ago, now it comes creeping back again to our door.

Another Big Double Bill

People of this section don't have to go to the city to see a double feature show — and get all the entertainment they want for their time and money. One of the features, as the title suggests, "Road Demon" has to do with automobile racing, specifically with the annual classic at Indianapolis, which is, in motoring circles, what the Kentucky Derby is to the Sport of Kings, and you will get a thrill out of the hair-raising circles cut by Papa Gambini, who thinks he can really drive a racing car. But can he?

Marking a slight departure from other western stories, "Wall Street Cowboy" has many of the ingredients that constitute these outdoor melodramas. This latest of the Roy Rogers series is good entertainment, not only from the standpoint of western adherents, but of others who like a lot of comedy in their films. Rogers sings several songs—in fact he sings on the plains, in a baggage car of an eastbound train and in a night club—and you'll hear him sing in the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights.

Convalescing

Word has been received that Miss Genevieve Grimm, first and second grade teacher, who has been quite ill with flu at her home in Clarkston, is improved and will probably be back in her class room next week.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Here it is the first day of February — and so far we have really had no winter. However, the Indians have predicted zero weather in February and we, for one, believe them. Sometimes they are wrong, but not often. Even if it did go to zero, it still wouldn't be as cold as our cold boxes — today the thermometer in there reads 8 degrees below zero, and at night, when the door is never opened, it may go as low as 10 below — and these temperatures are perfect for the preservation of your meat and fruits. If you do not have a box, better get one today. Enjoy the natural flavors of the frozen goods all the year around.

By the way — are you using Pride O'The Potlatch creamery products? You will find them the tops in flavor and quality.

Read the Bullitin—keep posted.

Dr.: "How do you mean you are worried, Mrs. Brown? Did you give your husband the sleeping powder as I told you?"

Mrs. Brown: "Indeed, I did, doctor. You said to give him as much as I could get on a nickel. But I had no nickel so I used five pennies instead, and he has not woken up for three days!"

Fibber McGee: "Molly, dear, where will I plant the Baby Breath?"

Molly: "Why, between the popples and mums, of course!"

Gentleman (at police station): "Could I see the man who was arrested for robbing our house last night?"

Desk Officer: "This is very irregular. Why do you want to see him?"

Gentleman: "I want to ask him how he got in the house without awakening my wife."

AND YOU PAY THE BILL

By Glenn Balch

Most studies of taxation in the past have been carried on with the idea of determining how more funds could be extracted from the public. The principal discussion of these groups has been how to raise more money with the smallest possible howl from the people who pay the bill.

Such studies have resulted in the invention of those classes of governmental revenue known as "hidden and painless taxes", although they are really neither one and extract from our pockets as surely as the property or ad valorem tax. These taxes are painless only in so far as our feelings are somewhat deadened at the time by the need or anticipation of a new purchase, as in the case of the sales tax. The hidden taxes are merely included in other bills that we must pay, and we are prone to overlook the fact that they are taxes no less surely than if the collector had sent us a notice.

Discovery of these painful and hidden forms of taxation have proved a bonanza to many divisions of our government. More money has been raised and the people have been deluded into thinking that they were not paying the bill.

There is one quite obvious fact that the public should never lose sight of and that is that the money and all the money expended by the governing body must come from the people themselves. Government has no source of income other than taxes, licenses and fees, all of which the public must pay.

In Idaho the impasse — that point where real property could no longer bear the increasing burden of governmental functions — was reached about ten years ago. The levy was the highest that the owners could or would pay, but still nobody wanted the functions of government curtailed. We continued to insist on better roads, expanded educational programs, unimpaired police, sewer systems, produce inspections, etc.

In this dilemma, it was discovered that the great field of hidden taxes in Idaho was hardly scratched. Eureka! The problem was solved and in a short time a sizeable burden of special fees and licenses had been saddled upon the public — all this, mind you, without any appreciable lessening of the regular or property tax.

Everybody was happy then. But Mr. John Citizen awoke one morning to the realization that although the figures on his tax statement were not materially changed his pocketbook was leaner than ever.

These results are such as to make the public rightfully dubious of tax studies in general. It is therefore interesting to note that the present committee has entered into its work with the avowed purpose of not seeing new taxes or new revenue. It has emphasized repeatedly that its only objective is to find ways of equalizing and reducing the present tax burden.

That is a plan which merits the attention of those who pay the bill.

Heavy Fog Hanging Low Wednesday evening a heavy fog descended upon the hills surrounding Kendrick, and Thursday morning it was still there. The valley was clear, but on the hills travel was rendered hazardous by the thick white curtain.
