WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Kendrick Hardware company purchased some home-grown seed this spring that is exceptionally good. Mark Means was here a short time ago and asked Charlie McKeever if he wouldn't sell all he had. He said to ship it to Lewis and send in the bill. It was of such quality that Mr. Means wanted it regardless of price. It was not, however, as Mr. McKeever said, that was none too good for the time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Gieper, Thursday, May 6, a seven-month baby boy.

Miss Luda Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hewitt of Southwick and Roy Blankenship, also of Southwick were united in marriage Tuesday morning at Moscow, with Miss Adrian Nelson performing the ceremony. Miss Edith Hewitt and Raymond Blankenship accompanied them to Moscow. The happy couple returned on the afternoon train and went directly to their home near Southwick, where Mr. Blankenship is engaged in farming.

Mr. Kendrick Roller Mill shut down the first of the week. It is expected the mill will not be started until the difference between the price of wheat and flour have been equalized.

Mrs. Mary A. Deobald and family went to thank their friends who assisted in catching their team, which ran away last Sunday.

Mr. V. Dunkle and R. B. Knepper have had concrete sidewalks put in front of their property the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ahl have moved down from Spokane to their property recently purchased here on the school house hill.

James Ball Passes

Richard James Ball was born May 17, 1867, in Cornwall, England, and died in Spokane, Wash., April 30, 1940, at the age of 72 years. He was the son of William and Elizabeth Ball. He came to Canada August 12, 1868, and later moved to Idaho, coming in 1898. On July 31, 1900, he was united in marriage to Salla Parrish, who preceded him in death some 14 years ago.

He leaves to mourn their loss, one daughter, Mrs. C. E. Harris; five grandchildren, a great-grandson; his aged father, William Ball, residing at Onatnam, Ontario, Canada; one brother, John, and one sister, Mary, both residing at Gold Hill, and another, Ida Rosebrough, of Turner, Ontario, Canada, besides many other relatives and friends.

Mr. Ball was a kind and loving father and a good neighbor. He will be sadly missed, both in Spokane and Gold Hill, where he resided for many years. He had been a resident of Spokane for about 10 years.

There were a great many beautiful flowers, brought by his host of friends. Singing was by Mrs. Addison Alexander, Mrs. Frank Lyons, Mrs. Whybark, Eva Smith and Guy Foster, who sang "God Will Take Care of You," "Have a Rest" and "Saved by Grace," with Miss Elsie Whybark as accompanist.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock, with Rev. W. L. Turner officiating. The church was filled and many were standing outside.

Painting Homes

George P. Barnum is busy these days repainting the P. C. McCreary house and woodshed, the construction of the latter just having been completed by George Leith. The building will be transformed from their former dark, drab brown, to a pale cream.

The W. L. McCreary home was treated to a fresh coat of paint last week by its owners. The same color scheme as before being used, pale cream with olive green sash and screen trim.

Repainting Kitchen

Harley Perryman is quite busy these days repainting and redecorating the kitchen and lunch counter section at the Perryman confectionery.

The ceiling and drop border have been painted a gleaming white. The walls below the border are being painted a soft tan. The woodwork and back counter are to be painted in two shades of gray with red trim. When completed the appearance should indeed be pleasing.

Entertains On Anniversary

Friday evening of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crocker, a very pleasant birthday party was given in honor of Mr. Crocker's 67th birthday anniversary.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lawrence and daughter La Queta, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Minton and children Carylon and Freddie, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crocker and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Arlos Crocker and children, Douglas and Delores.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

The regular editors of this column were too busy doing this and that this week to write the news, so here are your ghost-writers, pinch hitting for the regulars.

Great Whistler

Ernest Mickels appeared before our assembly on May 1 and gave a whistling concert. He is the world's only concert whistler and we felt quite proud to have him appear before our small assembly. He has appeared all over the world and with many symphonic orchestras. Some of us thought we were pretty good at whistling, but after hearing him, changed our minds. Because he liked the appearance of the Potlatch valley so well, he gave a second performance Monday night at the Kendrick assembly, which was open to the public. At last reports the whole town was "ablaze" with whistlers. Mr. Mickels did all the whistling in "Snow White" and "Pinnocio." Some of his selections were: "The End of a Perfect Day" and "I Love You Truly," and many other famous compositions.

Baseball Schedule

The baseball game that we played last week with Juliaetta ended in a defeat for the Tigers, the score being 5-4 in Juliaetta's favor. Coach says we would have won in time, because we were gaining every minute.

The baseball schedule for this week—
Lapwai, Friday here
Juliaetta, Monday here.

Remember Birthday Anniversary

On Sunday, May 5th, Mrs. Berreman of Southwick, was very pleasantly surprised when about 30 members of her family gathered at her home for a big dinner and get-together, honoring her 79th birthday anniversary.

The climax of the delicious dinner was the presentation of a huge birthday cake baked by a granddaughter, Mrs. Riggers.

Among those present were Mrs. Berreman's two daughters, Mrs. F. C. Hassinger and family of Gifford, Mrs. Ola Betts and family of Clarkston, her son Edgar Lincoln and family of Clarkston.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lincoln and family of Walla Walla; Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Riggers and family of Craigmont, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Storey of Moscow, Dick Hassinger of Lewiston and John Westgate of Southwick. There were also eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren present.

Repainting Store Front

James Keeler has been busy in odd moments applying aluminum undercoating to the front of the Thomas Creamery, in preparation for the final coat of white. The front portion of the building was rebuilt some weeks ago by Tom Sturdevant, and Harold announced at that time that painting would begin as soon as the weather settled.

The holding of the Commencement Exercises in the Kendrick gymnasium is a distinct departure from custom, as these exercises have been held in the Community church ever since its erection some 20 years ago, but, due to the large class, and the greatly increased seating capacity required, it was felt that this year the public, and the graduates as well, could best be cared for in the big gymnasium. Carpenters have completed the construction of a new platform which will be placed in front of the stage, thereby allowing all on the side lines and balcony to see and hear all that is going on.

A large crowd is anticipated and with the present arrangement it is felt that seats for all will be available.

Store Be Redecorated

Painters have been busy the past few days repainting and decorating the interior of the Blewett Grocery. The woodwork and shelves are being painted a rich cream, with black trim.

Almost Missed

The big Indian brave stopped at a modern sandwich shop in Yuma, and ordered a sandwich. When it came he bit into it, then stared curiously at its make-up. He said to the man behind the counter:

"You slice 'im ham?"
"Sure," said the waiter. "Why?"
"Ugh!" exclaimed the brave. "You know you damn near miss 'im!"

PACIFIC COAST WHEAT MARKETS STEADIER

Wheat futures markets in the Pacific Northwest showed little change during the week ending May 3, but cash wheat prices advanced around 1/4c per bushel on principal classes, states the Agricultural Marketing Service in the Weekly Grain Market Review. Market developments in this area appeared to reflect local supply and demand conditions more than the fluctuations in important mid-western markets. Feed grains markets were somewhat irregular, with prices ranging from unchanged to slightly lower as compared with the previous week.

The past week was reported as extremely dull in cash wheat markets in Portland. Terminal mills reported slow domestic flour business and sales for export under the indemnity plan were light to the Philippines in contrast with other recent weeks. No sales of Pacific Northwest wheat for export were reported during the period. The comparatively heavy movement of wheat from this area to the mid-west, which has prevailed during the past few weeks, was reported to have slackened materially during the past week with the narrowing of the spread between prices at Chicago and the principal Northwest markets. Flour sales to the south-east and Atlantic seaboard also were reported as considerably lighter from interior Washington mills. Sales of wheat to California were light and confined principally to small lots of high quality for the completion of milling mixtures. The liquidation of loan wheat in Oregon and Washington is reported to have been heavy during the period immediately prior to the first of May and while complete figures are not yet available, trade reports indicate only small amounts remained under loan at the close of the period. The wheat millfeeds market continued to display a steady to firm tone. Crop prospects in the Pacific Northwest were reported to be very good with favorable progress during the past week.

On May 3, at Portland, soft white, western white and western red wheat were all quoted at 85c per bushel, with hard red winter, ordinary protein, at 85 1/2c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk. Wheat receipts by rail at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals were moderate at 605 cars for the week. Indemnity prices on export flour held steady at $1.15 to the Philippines and $1.40 per barrel to China and Hong Kong. Beneficial rains were received throughout most of the winter and spring wheat belt with precipitation better than average in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Montana and in the Pacific Northwest. For the season of Sept. 1 to date, however, rainfall has only been about two-thirds of normal in the soft and hard winter wheat belts and slightly below average in the spring wheat states. The top soil is now amply supplied with moisture for current needs over the north and north central great plains, eastern Nebraska and eastern Kansas, and all of Oklahoma except in the northwestern portion. Low temperatures have, however, continued to retard growth of winter wheat and spring planted grain. Private estimates placed winter wheat production, on the basis of May 1 condition, slightly above the official April 1 estimate.

In Canada seeding is reported well advanced in central and western sections of Manitoba and was around 50 per cent completed in Saskatchewan. Cold weather with moderate to heavy rains retarded seeding operations in Alberta but seeding was expected to get under way in the higher lands in the southern and central areas during this week. Crops continue backward and the outlook remains unpromising for both winter and spring grains in Europe. Field work had barely begun in the middle of April in much of the Danubian basin where floods have been of unprecedented severity. In Russia, the spring seeding is fully ten days behind normal with only 17,000,000 acres seeded by May 15, compared with 44,000,000 acres at that date last year. The extensive winter killing of wheat in France, Belgium and Holland has not been made good by spring seeding due to the late spring and a labor shortage.

reported by the Department of Commerce and adjusted to eliminate duplication with commercial and country mill and elevator stocks as reported by the Department of Agriculture were 94,266,000 bushels at the first of April, bringing total United States stocks on that date to 437,968,000 bushels, compared with 443,622,000 bushels April 1, 1939. Figures on stocks of wheat under loan are not yet available.

The San Francisco wheat market was quiet with a steady tone during the past week, with light offerings from growers tending to offset the limited demand. Stocks of wheat in California producing areas have been reduced to relatively light amounts and growers were holding their remaining stocks quite firmly pending more certain crop prospects.

Although receipts of cash wheat at Minneapolis were slightly lower during the week, a quieter demand prevailed which resulted in a slower market with a somewhat lower premium range. Minneapolis received 2,597 cars of all classes of wheat while Duluth unloaded 1,826.

Wheat futures at Kansas City closed 1/4c lower to 1/4c higher for the week. Demand from storage interests and merchandisers was supplemented by somewhat reduced buying by mills and a good day-to-day clearance was effected. April receipts on the Kansas City market totaled 3,365 cars and were the lowest for any month of the current year with the exception of July.

Demand for wheat was fair at Chicago the early part of the week with carlot receipts light, but as the week advanced with heavier deliveries against May futures than had been anticipated and rather light shipping sales, premiums became weaker and wheat futures ranged from 1/4c to 1c lower with May futures closing 1c lower.

Cash wheat prices at Seattle on May 3 were: western white and western red, 85 1/2c, hard winter 86c

One Wonders

"The final test of humility is to hand out money provided by others, and not regard yourself as a generous philanthropist," says Robert Quillen. One "sometimes" wonders if there are not some people in places of public trust over the country who do not meet that test.—Ft. Payne, Ala., Tribune.

More "Fan Mail"

Last week we had a small article about political candidates and "fan mail." Political "fan mail" isn't the only kind that is sent through the mail, nor all that the struggling weekly newspaper gets bombarded with. There are all kinds of circulars advertising this and that and several times a month everyone's mailbox is stuffed with extraordinary "bar-gains"—and many people "fall" for them.

Did you ever take one of these circulars to your local merchant and ask him if he could meet the price? or the difference in the goods — if there happened to be one? Just try this some of these days and you will find out that by the time you pay for your gas and oil — not counting your time or the wear and tear on your car—your home town merchant can save you money on goods you may happen to want.

It must be remembered, too, that the outside merchant—in whatever line—does not pay one cent toward the upkeep of the schools your children attend and depend on to give them an education; nor the particular church you happen to belong to, or attend. Just think these things over and then decide that you will at least give the home merchant a chance to demonstrate that he can make good.

We'll venture to say that there isn't a merchant in Kendrick who will not be glad to order for you goods that may not be in his store—and that the price will be right. Give the home merchant a chance! He can make good, and he will!

REMEMBER-

There's a "U" and "I" in Business!

The above few words express the modern-day cooperative need between business and professional men and those who make up the trade area of a town. Close-knit trade exchanges and loyalty go far toward the making of a successful business, educational and recreational center — and those three things are essential to modern life and living.

As an example of cooperation with success, let us consider the Kendrick schools! Only a few years ago there was a desperate struggle for existence for them, and this year they are graduating the largest class in school history — a class made possible by the cooperation of residents of the Kendrick trade area, through the medium of busses, and the residents of Kendrick.

This year's big class of thirty members, consists of the following young people:

- | | | |
|--------------------|-----------------|-----------------------|
| MAXINE BIGELOW | BARBARA LONG | LAURENCE C. BIDDISON |
| DARLENE CARDINAL | RAY McGRAW | JAMES KUYKENDALL |
| LAURENE CRAIG | HELEN NEWMAN | JAY L. ARMITAGE |
| ERVIN N. DRAPER | PETE STUMP, Jr. | HARVEY THORNTON |
| EILEEN FAIRFIELD | VERN WEGNER | GLENN F. NEWMAN |
| WALLACE FRASER | TED H. WEYEN | LOYD R. FARRINGTON |
| MARIE HAVENS | KENNETH WOLFF | SIDNEY A. CLEMENHAGEN |
| DERYL INGLE | HELEN HALSETH | ROY JOHNSON |
| WANDA JANE JOHNSON | DOROTHY OLSON | RICHARD J. FRY |
| MYRA KANIKKEBERG | FRANCES BARCLAY | JUDSON I. LEE |

We, the business and professional men of Kendrick, congratulate these young people on their achievement and wish them every success and happiness in their life to come, whether it be in more advanced schools, or in the work-day business life we all lead. We sincerely hope they will ultimately locate about their home town—Kendrick—but our good wishes go with them where ever they may go when school days are finally at an end.

We are prompted to sponsor this message to the people of Kendrick and vicinity through our interest in community welfare.

THINK IT OVER

By F. R. Stevens

"Rebellion to tyrants is obedience to God."

This principle—engraved in Thomas Jefferson's signet ring—is woven into the very fabric and pattern of American history. It has pointed the way for our democracy in peace and war.

The War for Independence was not fought until it became evident that we could no longer walk erect as free men and still wear the tyrannical yoke of George III. The War of 1812 settled for all time that America would never yield to foreign oppression without a fight.

Running through the entire bitter conflict of our Civil War, this guiding ideal pointed out to all mankind that a nation of free men can never subject fellow humans to slavery. Our freedom was a mockery while some were not permitted to live in independence. It was to rescue Cuba from similar servitude that we came to grips with Spain.

Our motives in participating in the World War were the same. And we lived to see our ideal of peace and justice trampled in a hate-torn, post-war Europe. Our very history renders us incapable of understanding the intrigues and prejudices ingrained in the nations of the Old World. We see tyrants depriving peaceful, neutral nations of their liberties. We see these same small nations weakened by propaganda and agents from within so that they are ready victims for the tyrant.

This same type of propaganda is now at work in our midst. This means greater awareness here so that we can resist this enemy from abroad. We must eliminate the propagandists from our household so that these termites will not weaken our nation. America is the sole great nation at peace in a war-mad world; it is here that the fruits of democracy must be preserved if civilization as we know it is to continue. If we are ever compelled to fight to maintain our traditions, the enemy within our gates will be our greatest danger; and this enemy is being created now by foreign propaganda.

Any form of tyranny that seeks to destroy liberty or to set one group or class against another cannot be permitted to exist on our shores. There is no room in these United States for the hatreds and prejudices that are tearing millions of homes apart, killing the best youth of Europe merely to settle the vainglorious cravings of power-mad tyrants. Their minions must not be allowed to gain a foothold here.

If these tyrants dare approach us from without we would seize arms to resist. If they dare to spread their poison from within we must resist. America has no room for these alien hatreds.

The principle that has pointed the way for so many generations is engraved upon the hearts of all true Americans. "Rebellion to tyrants is obedience to God"—and loyalty to the ideals for which this nation has always stood.

That Pot Of Gold

There are a lot of theorists still looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow despite the fact that the Washington professors buried it in Kentucky.

Chevrolet Sales Up

An average gain of more than 1,000 units a day, over the corresponding period last year, marked Chevrolet dealers' new car and truck sales in the first 10 days of April. The announcement was made in Detroit by W. E. Holler, general sales manager, who reported that sales for the period totaled 32,895 units, an increase of 51.3 per cent over the same period last year.

This upswing is also impressive in comparison with the first 10 days of March, when Chevrolet dealers retailed 27,148 units. The April increase is 21.2 per cent over the March figures, which contributed to a March total of 106,108, the best sales total for any month since April of 1937.

The used car showing during the first 10 days of April also showed a substantial step-up over the first 10 days of March, when 40,528 units were sold. This gain amounts to 33.5 per cent.

Wheat Really Growing

The past few days of sunshine have really sent local wheat fields to growing with a speed hard to believe. On the lower point of Potlatch ridge much wheat is higher than the lower wire on the fence, and some fields even had down sections. Plowing has been retarded somewhat by rains, but the farmers are certainly going after the fields now, and local blacksmith shops are doing a rushing business sharpening plow shears and discs.

It is predicted that at the present rate harvest will start in early July—and some say even before that.

Chevrolet Builds 700,000th 1940 Model

Keeping pace with a demand which, since announcement of the 1940 models, has resulted in a new all-time sales record for any corresponding period in Chevrolet history, that division of General Motors recently built the 700,000th of these models. The event took place less than a month after production of No. 600,000.

GOOD DAIRY COW PAYS ITS 'BOARD'

High Producing Animals Prove More Profitable.

By ELMER J. MEADOWS

One dairy cow that produces 545 pounds of butterfat a year will return as much money above feed cost as two cows that produce 350 pounds, or more than 13 cows that average 152 pounds of butterfat annually. That's what experiments at the Colorado State college indicate, says Elmer J. Meadows.

One 545-pound cow will return $108 above feed cost during a year, according to figures Meadows has compiled from actual experience. This figure is based on butterfat selling at 40 cents a pound.

Two cows each producing 350 pounds of butterfat a year will return only $4 a year more above the feed cost than the 545-pound cow and will cost $168 to feed, compared to $110, the feed cost of the large producer. Thirteen 152-pound cows will return $101.40 above feed cost during a year, and it will cost $689 to feed them.

If the extra labor required to milk and care for 13 cows producing 152 pounds of butterfat each compared to 2 producing 350 pounds each, is figured, it would further emphasize the necessity of keeping and breeding only cows with the ability to produce large amounts of milk and butterfat.

And so the question evolves—“Why not take a few cows that produce at least 350 pounds of fat a year rather than a whole corralful of the 152-pound group that produces only about 20 pounds less than the average dairy cow in the United States?”

Skim Milk Is Used In Making of 'Wool'

It has long been a wonder to many that when a black cow ate green grass it gave yellow milk, but it's even more of a wonder nowadays when a chemist takes the skim milk and makes wool out of it. The chemists extract the casein, soften it in water, and dissolve the resultant compound in a solution of caustic alkali. It becomes a thick, sticky mass.

After working into the proper consistency by aging and adding other liquids the mixture is forced through a spinneret, hardened, and it is ready to be spun.

The cost of the finished product will be about 50 cents a pound when put on a commercial basis. It may be used in preparing garments for persons allergic to natural wool and for other uses in which natural products have been undesirable.

Population Is Shifting From Cities to Farms

It has been apparent for some time that the population trend is away from the cities and toward the farm. Now the fact seems to be officially proved by the advance try-out in the 1940 federal census. Two counties in Indiana were selected by the government for the preliminary count. The first figures have been released, showing that while St. Joseph county has gained somewhat in its rural areas, the two principal cities, South Bend and Mishawaka, have decreased by a few thousand. The difference was slighter in the case of Marshall county and its county seat, Plymouth. The town gained a little, but the county gained more. These are only two small straws, of course, but they show which way the wind is blowing and the fact is significant after a long period when the “drift to the cities” was regarded as a serious social problem.

Farm Notes

In blocking a gate against hogs, swinging the foot back and forth is more effective in keeping the animals back than waving the arms.

Corn and sorghum silage may both be successfully fed to sheep, but the quality must be good. Moldy or spoiled silage will often cause colic, scours and other digestive ailments.

Whitewashing the walls in poultry houses where artificial light is being used will aid much in spreading the light over the roosts, as well as on the floor and feed hoppers.

Bots in horses may be controlled by washing the horse's legs with a 2 per cent cresol solution when the weather is freezing, and having the veterinarian give carbon disulphide capsules a month later.

The place to fight a gully is at the top of the slope. Ever notice how a gully forms at the foot of the slope and eats its way upward? Ever try to “doctor” a gully at the foot of the slope by filling it with trash or a brush dam? It washes out with each hard rain.

Drivers Not Engineers Responsible for Safety

Safety on the highways is a personal responsibility of every motorist who uses the roads, and is not a problem to be solved entirely by the engineer or the police, according to the chairman of one state highway commission.

While highway engineers are designing and building roads which have every safety factor known to modern science, and traffic engineers are doing effective work in marking roads and establishing regulations to eliminate hazards, success of this program must rest with the motorist. Unless a safety marking on the highways is observed by all motorists, it can not prevent continued accidents.

Disregard of “stop” signs at intersections is one of the frequent causes of accidents while many motorists pay little attention to other caution and warning signs which have been placed along the state highways for their protection. Even the construction of costly dual-lane highways, where traffic moving in opposite directions is separated by wide parkways, has not eliminated accidents which result from poor or careless driving.

Continued progress is being made by highway engineers in the elimination of hazards, such as narrow bridges and culverts, narrow shoulders and the elimination of sharp curves and grades. Similar progress is being made in traffic regulations by the establishment of speed zones, use of yellow lines to designate no-passing zones and use of signs. Maintenance practices have been improved as a part of the co-ordinated safety program of the highway commission.

Few accidents occur on the highway systems in which the motorists involved, rather than the roads, are not primarily responsible. Disregard of caution and warning signs, failure to give proper signals and violation of the ordinary rules of courteous driving usually make road conditions a secondary factor in accidents.

Granite Memorial Marks Abe Lincoln's Birthplace

Abraham Lincoln National Historical park, birthplace of Lincoln, comprises 118 acres and lies three miles south of Hodgenville, Ky. The Lincoln Farm association bought the site in 1908 and began the erection of a granite building in which to place a log cabin said to be that in which Lincoln was born.

The cabin is 12 feet wide and 17 feet long, 11 feet from the floor to the eaves and 14 feet from the floor to the highest point of the roof.

The memorial building, for which the cornerstone was laid in 1909 on the centennial of Lincoln's birth, is of Connecticut granite lined with Tennessee marble. Its inside dimensions are 44 feet in width, 34 feet in depth, and 45 feet in height. The association in 1916 transferred title to the farm and the memorial to the United States, to be administered by the war department. In 1933 the property was transferred to the jurisdiction of the National Park service.

Home Title Security

Title security is of the utmost importance to the home purchaser and deserves primary consideration when buying a home. In a recent opinion, one of the highest courts in the country held that “when a layman purchases real estate he is prone to think of his purchase in terms of location of the premises, its natural advantages, and the beauty or usefulness of the buildings and improvements thereon, when, as a matter of law, it is not the real estate itself but rather title thereto which he has purchased and if he loses his title, he loses all. The most dangerous and costly title defects often are hidden and undisclosed. Unknown heirs, forged conveyances, deeds by minors or insane persons, secret marriages, lost or undiscovered wills, void court decrees, and many other similar title defects never show up in an abstract, and consequently the examining attorney never has any opportunity to pass on them.

Russians Raise Polish Ships

Fifty-two ships of Poland's flotilla sunk by their crews in the Pripjat river have been raised by Russian seamen of the Dnieper naval flotilla and work continues in an effort to salvage the entire fleet. The vessels raised comprise some of Poland's warships, auxiliary transports, floating storehouses and workshops. They were sunk, according to Moscow, when trapped by the wreckage of the Muzhevichi bridge. The Polish infantry, it is alleged, destroyed the bridge when they mistook the sound of the ships' engines for that of tanks of the approaching Soviet army.

Dublin's Club of Unemployed

The Mount Street club of unemployed in Dublin has been so successful it is branching out by taking over Larkfield farm to supply produce to its members. It already has a carpenter shop, which supplies furniture; a tailor shop, a bakery, a barber shop, a weaving machine and a sock-making machine. The men work at the club producing any useful article they can, and in return receive tallies for the number of hours worked. These tallies can be exchanged for the products of other members.

STRIP CROPPING IS FARM ASSET

Steep Land Is Benefited by Contour Plantings.

By W. D. LEE

Erosion control and improvement of soil fertility are both accomplished by contour strips on steep farm land. And there is the third advantage from strip cropping in that it affords protection to terraces.

Many farmers in the erosion control demonstration areas, directed by the soil conservation service, are using strip-cropping to advantage.

On slopes where the fall is not very great, it is a common practice to have two strips in row crops and a third strip in a close-growing crop, alternating in this order all the way down the hill. But on steeper slopes, where the erosion problem is greater, it is advisable to increase the proportion of close-growing crops by sowing down every other strip.

The use of legumes in close growing strips enables a farmer to gradually improve the fertility of all fields, and at the same time protect them against erosion. Some farmers report a 20 to 25 per cent increase in crop yields since they first adopted the practice of strip-cropping.

By retarding and spreading runoff water, the strips of close-growing crops at intervals down the slope keep silt out of the flow lines of terraces and prevent them from overtopping. This is especially noticeable during heavy rains.

Usual Pasture Methods Favor Horse Parasites

Parasites attacking horses and mules are favored by the usual methods of pasturing live stock on farms, according to Dr. Benjamin Schwartz of the U. S. bureau of animal industry.

Common methods of pasturing and the habits of horses are particularly favorable to the serious parasitic roundworms or strongyles, a group which also includes the hookworm as a parasite on humans. Parasite attacks lead to a weakness and poor condition and waste of feed and may disable or kill horses and mules if the damage is not checked. Timely medicinal treatment is a desirable aid.

Once an animal is attacked by these roundworms, the natural tendency is for the infestation to increase and to spread to other horses and mules. The eggs of these internal parasites are scattered in the manure where they hatch. They are long-lived and persistent and can exist for months on the moist grasses in pastures where horses graze. Thus the animals take in parasites to renew and aggravate the cycle of infection.

For horse-breeding establishments where the high value of the stock warrants the expense, Doctor Schwartz points out the effectiveness of a relatively new heat treatment. Under this plan the manure is collected and placed in large insulated boxes where the natural heat, sometimes aided by steam pipes, raises the manure to a temperature that will kill eggs and larvae of the worms.

Hammer Mill Is Used For Cleaning Seeds

By slowing the speed of a hammer mill, a grain grinder used on farms, soil conservation service workers have a convenient tool for cleaning the seeds of many of the trees, shrubs, and vines used in conservation programs. With it they have cleaned dry-shelled fruits such as locust, catalpa, and reburd, and fleshy fruits such as plums, grapes, hawthorns, apples, and berries.

To prevent injury to the seed, the hammer mill is operated slowly, often at only 400 revolutions a minute. With dry fruits the mill cracks the shells, but not the seed. The seed can then be cleaned with a fanning mill. With the fleshy fruits, the hammer mill smashes the pulp and a stream of water floats it away, leaving the seed on the screens of the mill.

The usual nursery method of separating seeds from pulpy fruits has been to ferment the fruits until the seeds either float to the surface or drop to the bottom of the tank. Experiments show that the fermentation process often injures the seeds so that they do not germinate freely. The hammer mill method of cleaning is not only cheaper, but with intelligent management of the mill to avoid injury to the seeds, it results in better-quality seed with a higher rate of germination.

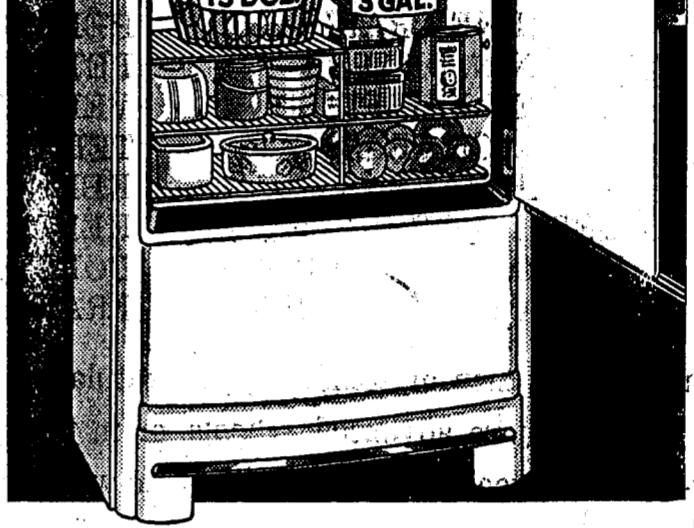

Tear Gas Is Used In War on Pests

Agricultural science is now making constructive use of tear gas, a weapon developed in the World war of 1914-18. The gas is chloropicrin, a heavy, oily, colorless liquid which vaporizes readily. Applied to the soil with a device which operates like a hypodermic needle, it kills disease-causing fungi, insects and nematodes. It is effective for the sterilization of seed beds. Extensive field use is limited only by its relatively high cost.

Mother's Day
 'Tis Mother's Day again and I am dreaming;
 Come memories thronging all to dear to last;
 The sweetest of life's golden days are beaming,
 They'll blossom on a memory of the past!
 Down orchard lands where once we used to wander,
 My hand in yours in childhood's happy day.
 In storming apple bloom I stand and ponder
 How May could come and you be gone away.

—Bert Gamble.

Chevrolet Stepping Up
 Chevrolet's domestic production has passed the 700,000 mark, it has been announced by M. E. Coyle, general manager of Chevrolet Motor division.
 Production is merely keeping pace with sales, said Mr. Coyle. "March domestic deliveries were 106,091 units, which parallels closely our production for the same period.
 Retail sales of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks since the announcement on October 14, 1939, have exceeded those of any corresponding period in the history of Chevrolet."
 She was only the optician's daughter—two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself.

ANNOUNCEMENT
 A school, devoted to the study of Vocal Music, Technique and Interpretation will be opened in Kendrick at the beginning of the school year and will be operated throughout the year by William Patrick Fitzpatrick.
 The school will consist of Private Lessons in all phases of Vocal Study.
 Each private lesson will be 1/2 hour in duration; 15 minutes of vocal exercise, drills and technique, and 15 minutes of song study and interpretation.
 A record of each student's progress will be kept by the instructor and a carbon copy of the same record will be given the student.
 After the first 4 weeks of study, the instructor reserves the right to advise each student to continue or to drop the study.
 Tuition Rate will be $1.00 per lesson, per week. No Tuition will be due until 4 weeks of study are completed.
 If advised to drop the study the student will owe nothing. If advised to continue, and the student wishes to continue the study, he will pay 4 weeks in arrears, plus 2 months in advance. Thereafter, all lessons will be paid 12 weeks in advance.
 This monetary stipulation will guard against a possible cessation of initiative and interest on the part of the student just when the student is becoming valuable, not only to the instructor but to the community as well. Also, by this means, the time and effort of the instructor will not be wasted.
 The instructor has had more than 15 Years Experience and Study in vocal music and is well qualified to teach the subject.
 Anyone interested in the course is asked to confer with Mr. Fitzpatrick any time before or during the first week of September.

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—It seems like this unusual weather of ours is still a safe topic of conversation, for we are still having it. It just can't quit raining, storming, etc. But, the weather is not what we want to talk about—it's the cream: your cows produce that interests us. We want to buy it. We need it in our business.

At the present price of time, due to the late season, you can't afford to churn at home. In fact, why bother? Let us do it for you! Our butter is sure to please. It's sweet flavor, even texture and general all-round goodness is your guarantee of satisfaction.

Remember, we still have locker boxes to rent. All sizes, all prices. If you are not already using one try it now.

Waiter: "There was some, but I wiped it off!"

"Doing business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark. You know what you are doing but nobody else does."

Would-be employer: "Have you any references?"

Would-be employee: "Sure, here is a letter: 'To whom it may concern—John Jones worked for us one week and we're satisfied.'"

Sweet Young Thing (a trifle shocked): "You mustn't kiss me like that before we're married."

He: "Can I help it if I have no pep. I'm tired."

You might be on the right track but if you'll just sit there you'll sure as hell get run over!

Customer: "I thought I saw some soup on the bill of fare."

"Eating, hey?"
"No, it's spaghetti."
