WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Thirty-six new members have been secured for the local Rebekah lodge since the first of May, as a result of a membership drive that was started the first of this month. The annual district convention will be held in Leland on Saturday, May 26. Preparations are being made to entertain 150 guests. At 6:00 p. m. dinner will be served after which the work will be put on by the Rebekah lodge. Following this will be the installation of officers of the convention. The present officers of the district are: T. H. Daugherty, chairman; N. E. Walker, first vice chairman; Fren Moore, second vice chairman; G. Hogrefe, secretary; J. L. Taylor, treasurer.

The Standard Lumber yard purchased the Madison Lumber yard here one deal having been closed last Saturday. T. H. Sturdevant will now be manager of both yards and will have offices at the old Standard yard. Lumber will be kept at both places.

Miss Mabel McKeever, who finished a successful term of school at Avon last week, returned to her home here Saturday.

Mrs. F. B. Smith entertained a number of little folks at her home Wednesday afternoon in honor of her seventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Norma. Games were enjoyed after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Dr. Kelley then took the young folks home in his car. Following is a list of those present: Eloise Kelley, Edna Stanton, Waunita Stanton, Jane McConnell, Neva Ware, Grace Binney, Eleanor Herres, Norma and Russell Smith.

Miss Beulah Long went to Cheney, Wash. last Friday to visit her sister and to attend the May festival, given by the students of the Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. Byard Davidson of Pullman were shopping in Kendrick the first of the week. Byard finished seeding his grain last week. He is farming on a large scale near Pullman.

Home to Mr. and Mrs. George Christensen of Southwick, Sunday, a son.

Joe Rognstad and Arthur Lee of Clarkston rode to Kendrick on their bicycles Sunday to see the ball game. They visited Arthur Rognstad before returning home.

Most of the lower part of Potlatch ridge has been seeded, a greater part of the work having been finished by the first of this week according to a statement made by Ford Parks. Many farms in the Southwick section, however, have been too wet until recently and for this reason will have to be seeded very late.

Leland Items—Claud Craig is very busy renovating and improving his place. This, with Tom Daugherty's efficient road work, gives Leland quite a presentable appearance. . . The farmers will virtually finish seeding this week. . . Clyde Daugherty is now at home in his newly-erected residence southeast of town. Clyde is improving slowly.

Texas Ridge Items—The farmers are progressing nicely with their seeding. With plenty of moisture the grain ought to get a good start. . . May LaBolle is visiting her aunt in Clarkston. . . Tom LaBolle has been appointed registrar for this precinct.

Big Bear Ridge—Miss Bessie May came over from Texas ridge to spend Sunday at home. . . Miss Maymie Slind is spending the week with friends in Moscow. . . Mrs. Emma Gladden and son Otto autoed to Potlatch ridge Sunday to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Charles Schultz, and family. . . Isaac, Evan and Miss Anna Lien autoed to Genesee and Moscow Sunday. . . Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemenhagen of Avon spent the week-end at the Frank Whitcomb home.

Tigers Drop Final Game

Thursday evening of last week saw the Kendrick Tigers playing their final game of the school year at Bengal Field, Lewiston, under the lights.

When the final tally was counted Kendrick was the loser by a 5-0 score, but the game might have been far worse considering the fact that this was Kendrick's first under lights, and that they were playing a far larger Class A school.

Under the pitching of Watts the Lewiston Bengals suffered 11 strikeouts. Kendrick showed 2 hits to Lewiston's six. Kendrick showed two errors.

Big Egg Contest

Are hens in the Potlatch section becoming decadent? What's happened to the big eggs that used to come to the Gazette office? Are Potlatch section hens working on a quantity basis, rather than one of size? These seem to be the questions confronting us, for regardless of the cause the big eggs have definitely not been brought in this year as before!

We have had a few good entries, but to date the number submitted is far below the usual number. So if you have one, bring it in. It may be worth six-bits to you, and that's more than five dozen smaller eggs.

U. OF I. TO GRADUATE SEVEN FROM KENDRICK

Seven students from Kendrick will receive degrees at the University of Idaho's forty-fifth annual commencement on June 17.

Older by six months than the state itself, the university will observe the state's semi-centennial with a record graduating class and an appropriate historical exhibit featuring the late Senator Borah. Six hundred thirty-three degrees will be conferred, 60 more than the previous high of 573—a year ago.

Dr. Alfred H. Upham, president of Miami University, Ohio, will deliver the commencement address, and Bishop Edward M. Cross of Spokane, the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. Upham served as Idaho's president from 1920 to 1928.

A flower show and art and architecture exhibition will be special attractions for commencement visitors. Alumni will hold their business meeting and banquet Saturday, June 15. A reunion of the class of 1915 will precede an alumni ceremony at the Pioneer Steps memorial.

Kendrick's delegation will receive the following degrees: Mary Elizabeth Thompson, bachelor of arts; Ronald Jordan Ingle, bachelor of science in agriculture; Karl Barnard Emery, bachelor of science in agriculture; Roy Edgar Long, bachelor of science in education; Roy Ramey, Jr., bachelor of science in education; Elmer Hutton Emery, Jr., bachelor of science in business and Joseph William Watts, bachelor of science in business.

Two Kendrick Students Honored

Two University of Idaho students from Kendrick received signal honors at the annual May Day fete of that institution May 11, when Miss Arlene Deobald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald was elected to Silver Spur, national honorary women's organization. Miss Deobald was one of two students chosen from Forney Hall, where some 90 girls live.

At the same time, Roy Ramey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey of Kendrick, was elected to Silver Lance, national honorary men's fraternity.

To be elected to either of these scholarship organizations is an honor of which anyone may be proud and these young folks are to be congratulated on their achievement.

From the Moscow paper we take the following article: "Returning on Sunday from a Northwest regional convention in Portland, 22 Idaho Betas brought home the bacon in the form of chapter and individual awards in competition with seven other chapters of Beta Theta Pi in this section of the county.

"Roy Ramey, Jr., selected as outstanding senior from men representing seven camps, won for the local group a handsome maplewood and metal plaque which the chapter will keep until the convention meets in Portland again next spring. Ramey was unable to be in Portland to receive the honor."

In connection with the above we wish to say that the program was broadcast over station KOIN at Portland, and that Roy was supposed to appear on this program, but due to his playing in a ball game at Seattle, was unable to be present to receive this honor personally, and make his radio appearance, which carried with it a free air lines ticket and other expenses.

Picnic At Atwater Lake

Tom Keene, accompanied by 14 school chums, drove down from Pullman Sunday morning, and on to Atwater Lake, where they enjoyed a "house picnic."

A good aim isn't enough. You've got to pull the trigger.

LATAH COUNTY CHAMBER MET IN KENDRICK MONDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce was held in Kendrick Monday evening in Fraternal Temple. A splendid dinner was served by Mrs. Paul Lind, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Long, Mrs. Silvie Cook, Donna and Jeanette Galloway, Barbara Davidson, Lois Deobald, Annie Deobald and Mary Havens. There were 45 present and after the dinner had been properly taken care of the members and guests adjourned to the lodge hall where the meeting was resumed. Pres. O. E. Havens of the Kendrick Commercial club opened the meeting and introduced E. S. Sunkel, president of the Latah County organization.

"Sunkel," as always, opened the meeting with a few fitting remarks and it wasn't long before events were moving on regular schedule. Minutes of the last meeting of the Chamber were read and approved and then Mr. Sunkel asked representatives of the different towns and communities present to answer roll call by stating what they thought had been accomplished by the Chamber during the past year, also asking them to state what they thought the objective of the Chamber should be in the coming year, in order to best further the interests of the whole county.

Those called upon were C. W. Hunter and Harold Cornelison from Moscow; W. A. Bower, Avon; James Nelson, Bear Ridge; Axel Grandlund, Deary; N. E. Walker, Kendrick; R. L. Woerner, Elk River, and Geo. P. Barnum, Kendrick, secretary of the Kendrick Commercial club.

The general trend of opinion was to the effect that the Chamber had accomplished much good during the past year, especially in the way of bringing the different communities into closer touch and creating a better feeling by becoming better acquainted. Some of the speakers talked on different phases of wild life and fish, while others brought up the question of getting better fire protection for the sections that are in wooded districts, favoring the organization of volunteer fire protection bodies and the placing of fire fighting equipment at handy points, ready to fight fire at a moment's notice, whether it might be a grass or timber blaze.

Harry A. Brenn, state senator for Latah County, was called upon for a few remarks, he stating that he thought the Chamber had accomplished much good work and had created a far better feeling throughout the county than had heretofore existed, for the reason that they had become better acquainted and understood each other's problems. Harold Cornelison announced that the regular meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce would be held in St. Maries next month and that all were cordially invited to attend.

A committee consisting of C. W. Hunter, Moscow; W. A. Bowers, Avon, and N. E. Walker, Kendrick, was appointed by the chairman to look into the possibility of securing a fish pond, or ponds, and a suitable place for recreation and picnics. There are several sites that would be suitable, according to statements made; one, just north of Helmer, and one on Corral creek, being thought equally suitable.

County Commissioner Walt Driscoll made a few remarks regarding the Chamber and the Planning Board and suggested an even closer cooperation between the two in the coming year.

After much discussion of various things done and to be done, the meeting resolved itself into a card party and general social gathering.

Brought Home The Fish

A party made up of Otto Silflow and son Ray, Paul Silflow and Clarence Hund left Saturday afternoon for the wide-open spaces and brushy creeks that converge into Elk River below the falls, some miles from the Village of Elk River, Saturday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock, returning Sunday evening. They reported good luck in that they all brought home the limit. Fishing seems to be good if you know where they are and how to catch them after you get there.

Hope For Lighted Diamond

A petition was going about town Friday and Saturday of last week and up until press day of this week seeking pledges toward the cost of illuminating the baseball diamond for the playing of softball at night. The estimated cost of this equipment is approximately $200 and at last report some $134 had been pledged. It is hoped that by the end of this week the full amount can be realized and the necessary material ordered. The more money obtained the better the lighting system that can be installed.

As the matter now stands the minimum requirements will consist of 12 lights of 1500 watts each, each of these lights costing about $15.00. They will burn approximately 18 kilowatts of juice per evening, and at present rates this would figure out about 50c to 60c per hour to light the softball diamond. The cost of illuminating a full-sized baseball diamond would run considerably more.

At the present time work is under way in remodeling the present diamond. It is being given a half-turn, the batter now facing east instead of west. This new arrangement will permit of more parking space and will do away with a great deal of the loss sustained through balls landing in the creek. A new backstop is being erected, grass being cleared away and other improvements made.

In case the amount of money needed is realized all necessary lights, wires, etc., will be supplied at absolute cost. Poles and cross arms have been donated, and plenty of labor donated as well, and it is to be hoped that the necessary cash can be raised.

Present plans (if materialized) call for all games to be free. It is probable that the hat will be passed to supply the necessary equipment of bats and balls, and pay for the "juice" but surely that cost will be but a trifle compared to the good times that will result.

It's a worthy enterprise and should go over with a "bang."

Squawking Pets

Marvin Long was having lots of fun Monday morning with a couple of young magpies brought in by the boys working for the magpie bounty offered by the state these days.

Marvin set the box holding them out in front of the store, and used them to advertise with—and they certainly did a job of it. They could be heard the length and breadth of Main street, and nearly everyone on the street went up and took a look at the "pests."

Marvin said Monday he hadn't decided as yet what to do with them—but might retain them on the pay roll and charge the upkeep to "advertising."

We ask that our correspondents and advertisers please help us out by sending in their material a day early. We realize this rather upsets the regular schedule, but we just can't help what the calendar says is Decoration Day—so please.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST WHEAT MARKETS DECLINE SHARPLY

Wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest declined sharply during the latter part of the week ending May 17, principally influenced by an even greater decline in important midwestern markets, states the Agricultural Marketing Service in the Weekly Grain Market Review. Developments in the European war situation was regarded as the most important factor in the lower grain and commodity markets in the United States during the past week. Improvement in prospects for wheat in a number of areas was an added weakening influence in the wheat market situation.

Cash wheat markets at Portland followed the full decline in futures and the principal classes showed declines of 12½c to 13½c per bushel from a week ago. With price declines even greater at midwestern markets, the spread between values there and in this area narrowed still further and resulted in almost complete stopping of sales of wheat for rail movement eastward. Growers, however, were not inclined to sell on the sharply lower market, which further restricted trading and movement in cash wheat. Demand from mills at Coast terminals held up well and trade reports indicated that stocks of milling wheat in Northwest terminal markets were pretty well cleaned up. California demand for Pacific Northwest wheat was light and mostly confined to occasional lots to complete milling mixtures. Flour sales to the Philippines under the indemnity plan slackened materially following the market declines. These factors all made for an extremely unsettled market condition in this area, particularly at the close of the period, when declines in futures more than offset the gains of the previous day.

Growers and the trade generally were inclined to await more settled market conditions before entering into any important commitments. Cash wheat quotations at Portland May 17, showed soft white, western red and ordinary hard red winter at 74c, with western white at 75c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk. Dark northern spring from Montana was quoted at 97c per bushel.

Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals were very moderate at 496 cars for the week. Indemnity prices on flour for export declined slightly and were quoted May 17, at $1,000 to the Philippines and $1.30 per barrel to Hong Kong and China.

War developments overshadowed practically all other influences in the grain market during the week but improvement in prospects for wheat in a number of areas was an added weakening influence. The domestic winter wheat crop made good progress in eastern portions of the belt but growth ranged from good to poor in western areas. In the Ohio valley the crop showed decided improvement in most areas but was rather uneven, ranging from two to 18 inches in height. Conditions were fairly good in Texas and fair growth was made in Oklahoma. Wheat also made fair to good progress in Kansas with much in the boot in the southeast. Fields in the western half of the state are quite weedy. In the northwestern portions of the state the surviving grain made good progress. In Montana and the Pacific Northwest good to excellent growth was made with only minor reports of poor condition.

World trade, which was further interrupted by war activities fell off, but Argentine shipments were reported in excess of six million bushels. Trading at Winnipeg was light and mostly in grades of northern wheat, most of which was taken by mills for domestic use. Prices declined as much as 10c per bushel in a single session, a decline which had not previously occurred for almost seven years.

Arrivals of all classes of wheat at Minneapolis amounted to 1,651 cars while Duluth unloaded 1,136. On May 17, 60-lb. dark northern was quoted at 88½c per bushel. Wheat futures at Kansas City were 23c to 24c lower for the week. Receipts at that market dropped to 456 cars compared with 621 for the previous week. At the close of the week No. 2 hard was quoted in that market at 83c to 90c. Receipts at nine winter wheat markets totaled 1,163 cars compared with 1,571 last week and 2,229 a year ago.

Girl Scouts Have Good Time

Bread twists baked on a stick before the coals of an open fire and bacon and eggs fried on hot rocks were the accomplishments of members of the Girl Scouts at a breakfast held on Byrn's flat Tuesday morning, May 21. There was certainly nothing modern about the equipment used by the girls, but it was all part of the educational program which the girls are starting.

This was the second hike taken by the group, the first being to learn local wild flowers. The girls are making a wild flower calendar and hope to learn a common name for every flower found in this locality.

The Girl Scout organization, which is national in scope, has as its objective and ideals the providing of every girl with opportunities for wholesome recreation and the discovery of interests that may be of lifelong value to her.

The local troop is comprised of girls between the ages of 13 and 18. In order to join the national Girl Scouts it will be necessary for the local group to have eight members ready to meet the national requirements and also to have the backing of a local group of five interested citizens called a "troop committee." It is hoped these requirements may be met this summer so that the troop may have the benefits of the national connection.

Members now enrolled are: Lois Deobald, secretary; Lois Wolff, treasurer; Gene Crocker, Winnie Havens, reporter; Paula McKeever, Ruth Biddison, with Mrs. Marvin Long as leader and Beatrice LaHatt, assistant leader. A patrol for younger girls may be organized if there is enough demand for it.

Leland School Closes

The school auditorium was packed to overflowing Tuesday evening, May 14, when friends and patrons of the school gathered to witness the annual Closing Day program and Eighth grade Commencement exercises.

The first half of the program consisted of songs, drills, pantomimes, readings and playlets which met with the approval of the audience.

The second half (which follows) was devoted entirely to the graduation exercises for the eighth grade.

Former Cameron Girls Nurses

According to a clipping received from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schultz of Nampa, former Cameron residents, and well known throughout this section, their twin daughters, the Misses Madeline and Margaret Schultz, are now nurses, having completed the required work. We reproduce a part of the clipping regarding the exercises:

"Nursing takes its roots in duty and responsibility," Rev. H. T. Hayes said last night in the address at the annual commencement exercises at St. Paul's church for a graduating class of 11 from Mercy hospital nursing school.

"Rev. C. J. Tracey officiated at the exercises, conferring the medal of honor for the highest class grades to Misses Madeline Schultz, Nampa, Hilda Barr, Nampa, Margaret Woods of Twin Falls. . . .

"Sister Mary Alphonsus, director of the training school and Mrs. Mary Baxter, assistant director, were present among the 50 uniformed nurses who formed a processional into the well-filled church. . . .

"Sunday morning the graduates and their mothers were honored at a breakfast in the Dewey Palace. Today they were guests at the annual senior picnic at Starkey Hot Springs and Thursday night will be honored at a formal ball at the American Legion chateau.

"The graduating list consisted of the Misses Madeline and Margaret Schultz. . . ."

The two girls are well known in Kendrick, having attended the Kendrick High school here, and the well wishes of all go with them in their chosen profession.

"Geronimo" Is Coming
 The most feared Indian that ever ravaged the West. That cry rang through the burning, dust-choked air of Arizona and New Mexico thousands of times during the '70s and '80s, striking terror into the hearts of gold prospectors, hard-bitten ranchers and defenseless settlers.
 The story is historically sound and is based on America's last great Indian uprising, the ruthless campaign to kill and plunder undertaken by Geronimo, Apache chieftain, who swore to kill a thousand whites to avenge the death of four of his family.
 The picture is historically correct. And it is sure to please because it contains a love story of human interest.
 This picture will be the offering at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights.

Locust Trees Blooming
 Starting Friday of last week and continuing up to the present time, the locust trees lining Kendrick streets have been a bower of bloom. The odor has been almost overpoweringly sweet, especially in the still, cool air of the evenings.

On Thursday morning of last week a few scattered bloom were to be seen, but 24 hours later the trees were in full glory.
 Every stranger who visits Kendrick remarks about its beauty, and at this time, all have something nice to say about Kendrick.

We who live here like it—and we have much to be proud of. It is one of the cleanest, prettiest little towns to be found anywhere, and our Village park does not detract from the picture—it's one of our best assets.

Magpie Heads Coming In Fast
 That quite a few boys in this section are busy gathering magpie heads, and incidentally a few dollars at the same time, is indicated by the number of heads that have been brought in so far. Dick Reid is high to date, he having brought in 426 heads—and you know they are worth 2c per head—cash. To date 1153 of the pests heads have been brought in.
 The boys of this territory are requested to hurry, as the young birds will soon be leaving the nests and they will be harder to catch. Take them to Marvin Long and get your cash—no waiting, this time until the state pays for them. Your money is ready on delivery of the heads.
 It seems to us that this presents a splendid opportunity for the Boy Scouts to earn money for their summer encampment, uniforms, knives, and other Scout needs, and at the same time being doing a good turn for the game, birds and farmers.

HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—It rather seems as if spring has finally arrived. The bloom on the locust trees, the hum of bees, the scarcity of farmers on the streets, and hosts of other signs indicate that at last spring has come.

But folks—Don't get too busy working bean ground, planting beans, working alfalfa, and other spring chores, to forget that the old bossys out in the pasture are still a fine source of income. We note in last week's Gazette the lack of a wheat price, due to the rapidly changing market, but the price of butterfat was there—and the board of trade wasn't playing with it. So remember—we pay cash for butterfat —always.

"If I'm unable to get home this evening," he said, "I'll send you a note."

"Never mind," his wife replied. "I found it last night in your pocket."

The world is like a staircase—some go up and others go down.

The taxi driver applied his brakes suddenly and came to a stop.

"What's wrong?" asked the man in the back seat.

"I heard the young lady say 'stop!'"

"Never mind that. She wasn't talking to you!"

Sawmill Work Progressing

According to word from its owner, Harold Thomas, it is expected that the sawmill will be ready for a trial run sometime next week, with real sawing operations scheduled to start as soon as possible after the trial run, which will give an opportunity to make any necessary adjustments to machinery and permit a full cut at the start of real operations.

The whole mill has been completely rebuilt. Boilers have been bricked in, a larger engine purchased than formerly used, log chute rebuilt and enlarged, carriage rebuilt and enlarged, cut-off saws trimmer saws, lumber carriers and all underpinning and other parts of the mill have been rebuilt in preparation for the putting out of a real lumber cut.

At present plans it is thought some 13 or 14 men will be employed in its operation. The entire lumber cut is said to be contracted for.

Mr. Thomas feels that a great deal of timber remains to be cut about Kendrick, and that the cutting, with its attendant pay roll, might just as well remain in Kendrick, as to be done elsewhere, largely out of the state.

Everyone in this community sincerely wishes Mr. Thomas success in his new venture.

Child Health Conference

The first child health conference to be held in Kendrick this season will be in the Kendrick School building on Tuesday, June 4, from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., and will be held the first Tuesday of each month thereafter, sponsored by the North Central District Health unit, in conjunction with local school authorities. Dr. D. A. Christensen will be the examining physician, assisted by Mrs. Clifford Davidson. There will also be present two public health nurses—Miss Ruth Havenor of Lewiston and Mrs. Mildred Siefert, local school nurse.

Leave On Big Bear Hunt
Archie May and son Walter May left Wednesday morning of this week for the wilds of Canada to enjoy a grizzly bear hunt.

It will take them approximately two days to reach the point where they are to meet their packer and guide by car, then a two or three day trip up stream in a power boat, and then some three or four days more by canoe before they will see the haunts of the big boys.

We hope to have a real story of the hunt when they return.

Grange Meeting Held

On Friday evening of last week about a dozen people who are interested in the organizing of a grange in this territory met in the City Hall. Ralph F. Bain of Clarkston, organizer for the Grange for this district was present and explained the motives of the organization. Leslie Helmgartner of Juliaetta was appointed master of the local organization. It was stated the charter would be left open Tuesday, May 28.

Bott Be Candidate

A. R. Moffet of the Farm Planning Board gave an interesting summary of the work being done on Henry Kortemeier farm on Big Bear ridge. Beans are going to be seen on the contour and crops suited for various slopes are to be seen. It is hoped this farm will give an idea of this work and that it prove profitable to the farmers of the community.
