...Now Has THIS Life Protection

Protect YOUR Family in 1941

Men know the importance of giving their families financial protection for the future. Men also know the importance of dependability in the protection they select.

The greater dependability of Idaho Mutual protection is at once evident to anyone who investigates. Family men of Idaho who take care to get all the facts invariably select this protection—protection that is recommended to YOU by more than 30,000 persons like you, who are now members of this association.

YOUR family deserves this dependable, highly recommended protection TODAY. You can easily afford to give it to them. It has never cost more than $10 a year to maintain $1000 of Idaho Mutual protection. Resolve NOW to give your family this PROVEN, easy-to-pay-for protection in 1941. Arrange to investigate at once by mailing the attached coupon.

Idaho Mutual Benefit Association has promptly paid more than $860,000.00 in claims. Has more than $36,000,000.00 of protection in force.

DOINGS OF SOUTHWICK NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eckman are visiting at the Joe Tschantz home. Mrs. Eckman and Mrs. Tschantz are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Southwick left Friday morning for Spokane, where they will have some dental work done. From there they will go to Newport, Wn., to visit their son Neal, and go on to visit a cousin, Marvin Hoffman, at Priest River. They will return home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Longteig and son John were shoppers in Lewiston Friday.

John Westgate spent Saturday and Sunday with Hank Bleck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Southwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schoeffler visited in the Given Mustoe home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Harris and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Harris and family of Pullman spent Sunday at the home of their folks. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Harris remained for a week's visit.

The Milton Benjamin family spent Sunday with the Harvey Morris family.

Richard Benjamin is spending his vacation in Clarkston with his parents.

Gordon Harris and grandchildren, Helen and Jerry, spent Saturday in Lewiston.

Lloyd Bounds and son of Lenore spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Southwick.

The flu epidemic is spreading very rapidly in our vicinity. Quite a number are shut in with severe colds and some with the flu. Among those on the sick list are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thornton, Mrs. T. J. Armitage and son Arlie, Mrs. Given Mustoe and son Jack and little Carol, Mae Mustoe, Helen Harris, the Arnie Cuddy family, Nels Longteig, Jean Morris, James Whittinger and Henry Bleck.

Mrs. Shenaman is staying at the Given Mustoe home caring for those who are ill.

Globe Trotters To Play

The Harlem Globe Trotters, professional basketball champions of the world, return to Latah County on December 28, to perform in a Kiwanis benefit game at Memorial gymnasium in Moscow against the North Idaho Super All-Stars, a carefully handpicked aggregation of ex-collegiate players.

Hoping to avert the disappointment that the last visit of the negro maple court magicians occasioned, a Kiwanis committee will have seating space available for 3,200 fans. Hundreds of Moscow residents and others from every part of the county were turned away in 1939 when the Trotters strutted their stuff before a roaring crowd that was packed into the rafters of the Moscow high school gym.

The personnel of the dusky squad has been unchanged, according to advance notices, which stated that every effort had been made to preserve intact the team that won the 1939 professional title late last winter.

Inman Jackson, the veteran center, who can pick up three basketballs at one time. Ted Strong, the internationally known athlete, and all others who contributed last year to the most amazing floor show ever seen here, will be back.

The game, which begins at 8:00 p. m., will offer a surprise half-time entertainment that the sponsors maintain will be "worth most of the admission price."

Humdrum isn't where you live, but what you are!

THIS AND THAT ABOUT FRIENDS AT CAMERON

Miss Helen Newman, U. of I. student, is spending her vacation at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Newman.

Rev. and Mrs. Mesike called on Mr. and Mrs. August Brammer Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schoeffler, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mielke and Ted Mielke were visitors in Lewiston on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farrington were visitors in the Fred Newman home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Peck and son Bobby Dean are spending their holidays in Lewiston and Peck with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silflow and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ida Silflow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Lohman, Ted Mielke and Harry Newman spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mielke.

Mrs. John Schwarz, Mrs. F. W. Newman and Miss Helen Newman, were guests of Mrs. Ida Stoneburner and Miss Emma Hartung Friday, it being Mrs. Stoneburner's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Harrison spent Monday in Lewiston.

LINDEN NOTES

The Christmas tree and program given Thursday evening by Miss Bocklund and her pupils was well attended and greatly enjoyed by all. Many compliments were given Miss Bocklund on the program and the hall decorations.

Mrs. James Farrington and children of Pierce arrived Saturday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Weaver, over the holidays.

Our ridge was well represented at the Community Christmas tree in Kendrick Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. McPhee is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Claude Pipping and husband, at Orofino.

Miss Bocklund left Friday evening to spend her vacation with her mother at Eugene, Oregon.

Miss Pearl Weaver is staying with her sister, Mrs. Adolph Demmler of Juliaetta, helping care for the new baby girl.

Lester Weaver went to Pierce Friday to get his sister, Mrs. James Farrington and family.

Miss Wiletta Grayson returned from Lewiston last week to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Grayson.

Orofino Youth Shoots Teacher

Robert Kress, 18, was arrested last Friday night at Lewiston as he stepped from a taxi, and turned over to Sheriff George Pankey of Orofino, who said the youth admitted he shot Mrs. Mabel Hinkley, 30-year-old school teacher, at her home that night.

Pankey, who said Kress fired three shots at his uncle three years ago and was sent to the state custodial school for two years, reported the youth's only explanation was that a "little spell came on him."

Mrs. Hinkley was reported "resting easily" in an Orofino hospital. She was shot as she stood in the doorway of her home at Sunnyside, near Orofino, after answering a knock.

The bullet, from a 22-caliber rifle, lodged in her spine, but she struggled to her car and drove away while her assailant fired several more shots.

She told authorities she had "never met" Kress.

Pankey said the rifle belonged to the boy's uncle, Frank Kress of Lewiston, who left town Wednesday after warning Robert not to "fool with that rifle" while I am away.

GRAIN MARKET

The December estimate places the United States wheat crop this season at 816,698,000 bushels. Of this quantity, approximately 268,000,000 bushels were under government loan at the middle of December, leaving about 548,698,000 bushels for domestic utilization and export. This is about 133,000,000 bushels more than was exported or used for food, feed and seed in the United States last season.
 Acreage seeded to winter wheat in the fall of 1940 in the United States is officially estimated December 1 at 46,271,000 acres, an increase of 5.6 per cent over seeding in the fall of 1939.

1,700 TIMES, EVERY DAY, WE ASK: "How Can we Serve you better?"

Neuman H. Rice, shown here, who tells this story, is one of the veteran service men of The Washington Water Power Company. He has been on the job for 25 years.

"Call us and we'll have a man out to your home to replace that blown fuse or help straighten out anything that may go wrong with your electric service."

"That's the job of us fellows in the Water Power service department. All told, in the 120 communities the company serves, there are about 170 folks doing this work all the time. Our department makes many calls every day to help you get the most for the money you pay for electric service and to help you use your electric appliances more efficiently."

"We like helping you. It's pretty nice, too, to be working for a company that gives you dependable electric service at rates that for the average residential customer are less than half the national average."

1941 IDAHO LICENSE PLATES TO BE LEMON AND BLACK

Idaho trucks and passenger cars will sport license plates of a brilliant lemon hue in 1941, according to Latah County Assessor Walter Q. Taylor, who said that the plates will go on sale at his office on January 1.

Several thousand of the new plates have been received at Taylor's office, but the assessor's staff still is waiting for forms for writing the license applications. Plate letters and figures will be a shiny black against a bright lemon background. Sale of the plates before the first of the year is illegal, Taylor said.

He revealed that the practice of reserving "pet" numbers for county motorists would be discontinued and that it would be a "first come, first served proposition from now on."

"So many people wanted special numbers I got to be just a whole job for one man to take care of the reservations, and we couldn't afford to put on a special helper," Taylor remarked.

Regardless of action by the 1941 legislature, the deadline on old plates will be March 31, and the passenger car fee of $5 will stay unchanged for 1941, it was believed.

The rate schedule on farm, private and commercial trucks will be continued as follows:

Up to 5,000 lbs., farm $5; private $10; commercial $20. 5,000 to 10,000 pounds, farm $10; private $20; commercial $30. 10,000 to 15,000 pounds, farm $20, private $35, commercial $45. 15,000 to 20,000 pounds, farm $30, private $50, commercial $60. 20,000 to 25,000 pounds, farm $40, private $75, commercial $100.

GOLDEN RULE

Martin Bros. have been battening up the cracks in the bus station and putting in a stove the past week.

Howard Starr and Carl Finke finished their work at Headquarters and have gone to work at Clarkia.

Oscar Laurence called on Russell Betts Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Cowger and Frank were among the Orofino visitors the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finke were Lewiston shoppers the first of the week. On their return home they were supper guests at the George Wilken home near Cameron.

Russell and Glen Betts put up ice this week, as did Martin Bros.

Mabel Cowger, Mrs. Glen Betts, and Eugene were Clarkston visitors Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Starr and family are visiting Mr. Starr's sister, Mrs. Harry Prough, at Spokane. His mother, Mrs. Jack Kelsey, received word that Mr. Starr, Kenny and Marlene are ill with the flu there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pearson and baby, Clifford Martin, Irene Martin and Bruce Tarbert, all of Spokane, visited Saturday night and Sunday at the Roy Martin home.

Mrs. Erlwine and her pupils gave a very good Christmas program Friday night, with generous treats to the children. There were lots of popcorn balls for everyone. All in attendance reported a very enjoyable evening.

The Oscar Laurence family are ill with the flu.

Archie and Ray Betts visited at the Russell and Glen Betts homes the first of the week.

Home For Holidays

Quite a number of the local boys who are wearing Uncle Sam's uniforms, are at home for the holidays on leave. Among those seen were Irvin Haiseth, Jimmy Kuykendall, Fred Clemenhagen and Roy Fairfield.

State Senate Be "Wired For Sound"

Idaho's state senate and house chambers are to be "wired for sound," but maybe not quite the way you think.

Long strips of cloth attached to a circular rod just below the conical ceiling of each chamber, and fanned out to marble pillars lower down, are to be replaced with copper wire meshed across the base of the ceilings.

The idea, explained Custodian Fred Rosene, is to get legislators' voices to stay where they belong, not rattle around all over the place.

Rosene said the wire would reflect sound without shutting out light.

New Year's Resolution

HERE'S a New Year's resolution — Any one can make and keep; It will help one's constitution, And enable one to sleep.

"I will try to keep from fretting When I cannot see the sun; I will try to keep from getting Into quarrels I may shun."

"I will try to keep from grieving Over troubles that are past; I will try to keep believing Things will all come right at last."

"I will try to keep from sighing When I ought to smile, instead; I will try to keep on trying To deserve to get ahead!"

—Montreal Herald.

New Year Cavalier

by Helen Gaisford Waterman

FENTON DUMONT was bored with the party. All right welcoming in the New Year so smugly for people like these—but he was an adventurer, a cavalier, and the formal drawing room, the lovely ladies so ready to smile upon him, the classical music, the slow, pompous talk of the men suffocated him. He stepped to the balcony.

It had stopped snowing. In another hour the year would be dead. A grand year. But another would be beginning. He slipped over the balustrade, wound his leg around a pillar, and slid down to meet it. To the east, far away, the year was already new, and so he set off in that direction.

He was almost half way across the bridge before he noticed the girl, but then he strode quickly to her side. "Please don't," he said gently. She started. "I should only have to jump in after you, and can't you imagine how cold I'd be?" he ended, and shivered with clown-like intensity. "I might even catch my death," he continued lightly, but the girl looked back to the river, and he realized his error. "You may want to die," he said earnestly, "but I don't. Please!"

"Then leave me be," she answered. Her voice was soft, musical, but passionately desperate.

He gathered her in his arms and kissed her. She struggled fiercely. He kissed her again, and again, pinning her arms to her sides with his strong clasp. And suddenly she went limp in his arms, and cried against his shoulder. He took off his overcoat and wrapped it around her, for she was shivering. "Why did you come off without your coat and hat?" he chided, and stroked her soft hair.

Behind him, bells and whistles proclaimed another year. "Happy New Year, lassie," he said gayly. She dried her eyes. "I'm being a fool," she apologized.

"Not at all," he answered, gallantly. "Methinks I behold a restaurant across the bridge. How about some coffee?"

She let him lead her, and he found a corner table. When their order had been placed, he turned to her.

"Why should you love a man like that?"

She looked up quickly, studying him. "How did you know?"

"Why else should a lovely girl like you be spending New Year's eve that way? You should be dancing—"

She smiled. "I don't know. It seemed terribly important half an hour ago. But I'm all right now. It doesn't matter any more."

"Off with the old," he quoted, "on with the new. This is the season for lovers as well as years. The old is off?"

"Yes."

He took her hand. "The new—would like very much—to be on." His gaze caught and held hers.

"May I take you home now?"

She nodded her thanks. Outside, it was snowing again, but they scarcely noticed. At her door, he kissed her, and this time she did not resist. "On with the new," she murmured gently.

"That's O.K. this time," he answered, "but I won't let it happen next New Year's."
