NO. 13

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Issue of March 18—High Water in Kendrick: Both Potlatch and Bear creeks went on a rampage Wednesday and Thursday, caused by the continuous downpour of rain which visited this section for a period of approximately 48 hours up to the time of going to press, and with prospects of more to follow. The creek overflowed its banks near the warehouse of the Vollmer-Clearwater Co., the first time since the flood years ago. Considerable uneasiness was felt the greater part of Thursday, that the town might be flooded to an extent that would do considerable damage, but so far the railroad grade has confined the creek to its regular channel. A quantity of water seeping under the track near the old Sturdevant Lumber yard filled the flat in the upper end of town as far down as Grinolds Livery barn, until noon on Thursday, and in the afternoon the water crossed the walk at the corner of the Standard Lumber yard and from there ran around to the post office corner on Main street. The Vollmer Clearwater upper warehouse was completely surrounded with water as was the residence of T. Y. Ellis and Grinolds Livery barn. Issue of March 25—The only serious damage done to property in the vicinity of Kendrick last week by the high water was the carrying away of the barn at the place now occupied by the Bolon family, which is located up Bear creek and to the property of C. G. Compton and A. Onstott. Their garden ground was so badly cut up and much of the soil washed away, as to be practically valueless now. Frank Crocker says that in 1900 after the flood there was 18 inches of mud on the floor of H. P. Hull's store. That fruit jars which were on the lower shelves were filled to the top with mud which settled in them.

To Build Community Hall—The Stag Club of Big Bear Ridge met last week to formulate plans for the building of a community hall. There was a good attendance at the meeting and the members of the club were enthusiastic over the idea. It was decided definitely to begin work immediately. The plans as outlined at the meeting call for a building 40 feet wide and 70 feet long, which it was thought would be ample for anything in the way of entertainment that might be given on the ridge. Bill Hecht offered a strip of ground near the Steele school house for the building and all present volunteered to donate money and labor to put up the hall. Logs were sawed and taken to the mill last week and will be sawed into lumber next week. The logs were donated, the labor of sawing will be donated and the use of the sawmill has been donated, so there will be no cash outlay tied up in the lumber. There are approximately 50 members in the club.

A delightful evening was spent by the members of the Circle card club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Tuesday. Twelve guests just filled the three tables for progressive "500." Frank Boyd and Mrs. Wm. Rogers tied for high score while O. E. MacPherson carried away the consolation.

Emulus Brown arrived the first of the week from Fossil, Ore., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown. His wife and little daughter have been visiting in this community for several weeks and will return home with him. Southwick seems to be a community of good spellers. Last year Dan Ziemann was first in the county spelling contest held at Lewiston. This year Elmer Stainaker took the first place. This is certainly a good record for Southwick.

G. F. Lewis and Tom Sturdevant attended the convention of the Odd Fellow lodges of northern Idaho, held at Lewiston Tuesday of this week.

James Winegardner, who is attending the University of Idaho, spent Sunday in Kendrick with Marvin Long. He and Marvin went to school together at Milton, Ore., some years ago.

Southwick News—Ziemann Bros. were unable to send their freight wagon to Kendrick for several days, but made the trip Monday by returning over the north road.

Cameron News—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blum and daughters were Sunday visitors at the Carl Lohman home. . . Paul Silflow of Clarkston is visiting friends and relatives on the ridge this week. . . Little Erna Wegner was a visitor in school on Monday. . . Mrs. Aug. O. Wegner and children spent Tuesday at the Fred Silflow home. . . On account of the bad roads Cameron could not be represented at the spelling contest in Lewiston last Saturday.

Linden Items—Mr. and Mrs. Art. Bohn visited at Park Saturday. The dance given at C. H. Fry's Friday night was well attended and everyone reported a good time.

Leland Items—A little boy came last Friday to be a permanent boarder of Mr. and Mrs. George Flesher. . . Mr. Goudzward and sons Donald and Herbert, R. M. Smith and son Raleigh, Mrs. Daugherty and daughter Ruby, went to Lewiston Friday. . . The I. O. F. and Rebekahs have placed a brand new player piano in the hall.

Completed Picket Fence—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hund have completed the installation of a new picket fence at one side of their home. It is painted an indeed presents a very neat appearance, as well as keeping their young son within bounds.

Entertain At Cards

Monday evening of this week the ladies of the Afternoon Bridge club entertained their husbands at a 6:30 bridge-dinner in the W. L. McCreary home, with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. McKeever and Mr. and Mrs. McCreary acting as hosts and hostesses for the evening. At cards, played at six tables, Mrs. Mildred Rider received high score for the women, and Mrs. R. L. Blewett, low. High score for the men, went to W. L. McCreary and low to Geo. Leith.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE KENDRICK SCHOOLS

The Glee Club has received some new music which will be used at the Lewiston Music Festival, April 25th and 26th. These new pieces are: "Beautiful Dreamer," "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" and "Russian Folk Song." The band is also working on some new pieces to be used at Lewiston.

Last Friday the Girls' League held their monthly meeting. The chairman of the entertainment committee was Evelyn Farrington, and helpers on her committee were La Donna Galloway, Jean Crocker, Paula McKeever, Barbara Davidson, Elsie Knutson and Leona Wilson. After a business session, presented over by Betty Boyd, the meeting was turned over to Evelyn. The first number on the program was a song by Joyce Lyons and Ruth Cuddy. This was followed by a talk on personality by Mrs. Mason. Then came the final number, a song by the Peters sisters. During this meeting members were chosen to represent the league at a conference to be held in Lewiston on April 19.

Last week the nine week's quizzes were given and report cards given out on Wednesday of this week. Monday of last week another of the National Assembly programs was presented before students of the school. This show was a marionette program, presented by Mrs. Evans. It was greatly enjoyed by all.

The band went to Nez Perce on Saturday to participate in a music festival held there. They entertained the gathering there for some 15 minutes, and then played in the mass band. Some very good reports of their performance was heard. Following the mass band presentation a dance was given by the Nez Perce student body, and all remained to attend.

Harry Newman, who suffered a badly sprained ankle last week at play practice, is walking with no appreciable sign of a limp, although it is still very sore.

Annual "Open House Day"

Saturday, May 3, has been circled on the University of Idaho's spring activity calendar as all-university day, annual open house.

All departments of the university will arrange exhibits and demonstrations of their work. Advanced students and faculty members will be on hand to answer questions and serve as guides.

Headline event for the students of the college of agriculture will be their eighteenth annual "Little International," miniature livestock show which features blue ribbon animals from the fine flocks and herds on the university farm. Fitting and showing contests, a campus parade, and an evening livestock show are also listed on the program.

Idaho forestry students will wind up on that day the state's second forestry week. Their displays will be among the most elaborate on the campus.

A picnic luncheon and band concert will be held on the campus at noon. Special facilities, including hot or cold drinks will be provided for high school groups wishing to bring their own lunches.

Following a conference with Dr. E. L. Berry, director of the state department of public health, county commissioners Monday authorized the Latah county health unit to continue the practice of administering spotted fever vaccinations in the "outlying areas of Latah county where the ticks are most numerous."

Commissioners said the reason it had not yet been done this spring was because of some objection made by members of the medical society, but added: "We feel that these objections should not apply to the outlying areas, and that the director of the local health unit should proceed with the vaccinations."

A sheriff's sale of Latah county property was also authorized by the commissioners at yesterday's meeting. The auction is to be held at the court house on May 12.

Plan On Scout Camp—The Kendrick Boy Scouts plan to make Atwater lake a summer Scout camp. It is planned to start work this week-end, weather permitting, and invite any parent or person interested, to come and lend a helping hand.

A group of the boys are going up to spend the week-end and lay-out the camp.

Big Aid Bill Passes Senate

The senate passed and sent to President Roosevelt Monday a seven-billion-dollar appropriation to finance the administration's all-out British aid program.

The appropriation, already passed by the house, was approved without change. During the two-hour debate preceding the vote, many senators who opposed the original lend-measure said they would vote for the appropriation to carry out the law.

Arrangements were made to fly the bill to the President, now cruising in southern waters.

The senate vote was 67 for to 9 against. Clark of Idaho was one of three democrats voting against the measure, while Thomas of Idaho lined up with four other republicans in the "no" column.

Senator Adams, floor manager for the bill, told the senate that if this nation added other countries than Britain, more money would have to be appropriated to carry out the bill.

Flushing Streets

Ed Long has been busy the past week sweeping surplus gravel from the oiled streets, and then giving them a thorough washing with a fire hose to remove the winter's accumulation of mud.

PIONEER JULIAETTA MATRON PASSES AWAY

Mrs. E. M. Richardson, a resident of the Juliaetta section for more than 40 years, and well known throughout this entire country, passed away March 19, 1941, at the Gritman Memorial hospital in Moscow at the age of 76 years, eight months and 19 days, following an illness of but a few weeks.

Elizabeth Dresher was born near Cincinnati, Ohio, June 29, 1864. When but a small girl she moved with her parents to Topeka, Kansas, coming west from there to Oregon City, Oregon, in 1882. There she was united in marriage to Edgar M. Richardson in 1886. On January 6 of this year the couple celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary. To this union five children were born. In 1898 she moved with her husband and small children to Idaho, settling near Juliaetta, where they have since resided.

She leaves to mourn her passing her husband E. M. Richardson, one daughter and three sons: Mrs. Roy Glenn of Kendrick; David of Los Angeles; Ralph and Paul of Juliaetta; 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

F. D. R. Gone Fishing

We can't understand how the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries can hope to keep the big puddle supplied with fish when F. D. R. has to go and look after them every few weeks.

But this time he has taken a destroyer along so he can shoot those he hooks that are too large to land. The U. S. destroyer Benson is the escort.

One local fisherman said: "Gee, but it must be great to be the president!"

Report Cold Weather

Word received from Otto Schupfer and E. A. Deobald, who are visiting in the east, was that the weather was just "detroit cold" back there, at least at Pontiac and Flint, where Mr. Schupfer took delivery of a new pick-up, the thermometer standing near the zero mark.

(And at home daffodils and tulips are blooming and shrubs leafing.)

Workmen were busy Monday and Tuesday of this week installing a new awning in the front of the Thurber Dry Goods store.

CASH WHEAT PRICES UNCHANGED IN NORTHWEST

Strength in midwestern wheat futures were reflected in an advance of 2c per bushel on the May delivery at Portland during the week ending March 21, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service. Cash wheat, however, did not follow the full advance in futures and prices at the close of the week were mostly unchanged compared with a week ago with the exception of western white, which advanced 1c per bushel. With current prices above loan values growers have been more inclined to dispose of their wheat and increased marketings were reflected in carlot receipts of 850 cars of wheat at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals for the week, against 733 cars last week. Sales of a number of cargoes of wheat to the Orient during recent weeks resulted in an improved inquiry from exporters, and along with takings by mills absorbed current offerings in the cash market quite readily. Export flour sales under the indemnity plan were only fair during the week due to a lack of space in ocean freight. Indemnity payments held at 60c to the Philippines and 90c per barrel to the Americas.

Another sale of around 7,000 short tons of flour to Shanghai was reported made late in the period. Generally, cash wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest were more active during last week than for some time past, with a good demand for offerings all during the period. The wheat millfeed markets were about steady compared with early in the week. Crop conditions are still reported as very favorable over the Northwest.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on March 21, showed soft white and ordinary hard red winter at 76c; with western red and western white at 77c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk. Cash wheat prices at Seattle on March 21 showed western white at 76½c, western red at 77½c and hard red winter at 76c; all basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

The San Francisco wheat market turned slightly stronger during the third week in March, influenced principally by advances in other markets, together with somewhat improved local demand. Prices were around 2½c per 100 higher compared with a week ago. General trading and movement were not especially broad but the market tone was considerably firmer than in other recent weeks. Bay region mills reported somewhat improved demand for flour and entered the local market for scattered lots of wheat to complete milling mixtures. The bulk of the wheat purchases, however, appeared to be mainly in Intermountain and Pacific Northwest states. Demand for feed wheat broadened slightly following advances in other feed grains.

Denver mills were bidding 66c per bushel for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring, basis f. o. b. Colorado common points. Demand was reported good at Ogden for all types of wheat and offerings were larger with the rise in prices. On March 21, quotation basis No. 2, f. o. b. Ogden, prices were: dark hard winter and dark northern spring 77c; hard winter and northern spring 70c; hard white 80c, soft white 74c and western white 72c per bushel.

Encouraged by the higher market values and influenced also by the favorable new crop outlook, growers marketed wheat in a larger volume during the week. Kansas City arrivals increased to 426 cars for the week. The relative proportion for open market sale remained about the same and provided buyers a broad selection to choose from.

Receipts of cash wheat at Minneapolis were quite large and amounted to 826 cars of all classes while Duluth unloaded 201 cars. The general market tone was inclined to be a little slow.

Reports that some of the non-warring foreign countries might take large quantities of wheat, together with strength in other commodities and a better flour demand from small and medium flour buyers, and the decrease in acreage in farmers' intention to plant, provided the stimulus for increased buying in wheat during the week at Chicago.

The cold wave which overspread the eastern half of the United States during the week was unfavorable for winter wheat but possible damage cannot be determined at this time. The extent of winter damage is also still undetermined in the southwest, where the crop made but little growth. The condition continues mostly good, however, in Oklahoma and Texas. West of the Rocky mountains conditions continued generally favorable with the spring wheat seeding completed in many of the drier sections of the Pacific Northwest. Soil moisture in grain areas is unusually abundant and growth is expected to be rapid when the temperatures become more favorable.

In Europe the weather continued stormy with heavy snow and rain in many sections of the Balkans. Growers were unable to prepare soil for spring planting and plans for increased seedings were threatened. Prospects for winter wheat remained below normal but with plentiful moisture, warm weather may promote rapid growth. In the remainder of Continental Europe, plowing was proceeding actively under favorable weather conditions and increased acreages are indicated. In German occupied countries prospects for winter grains were mostly below normal.

A '49 Auction Sale Bill

E. V. Weeks brought to the Gazette office an old clipping, a copy of a sale bill of the days of '49. Just how old it may be, or from what paper, he has no idea. We believe it will be interesting to all, so reprint it.

The Firemen Of London

The "battle of Britain" has brought to the notice of the world a new kind of war hero—the fireman of London.

These men aren't bemedalled. They don't march about to the playing of martial music. Individually few of them are known. But the fact that London still exists is largely of their doing. They take the most extreme risks calmly and without fanfare, in the line of daily duty. They go for days on end without sleep or rest, battling the fires the enemy's great bombs create. A considerable number of them have died at their posts, that others might live and the seat of the Empire be saved.

Here in our own country there are no bombers to devastate our cities, no long-range guns to blast at our homes and industries and national monuments. But, all over the nation, firemen are doing a peace-time job that should be given far more recognition than it usually obtains. There has been many a jest concerning easy-living firemen, sitting about in their comfortable stations, talking and yarning and playing cards. But it isn't funny when an engine crew must enter a burning building that may collapse into an inferno of flame any minute. It isn't funny to have to fight a great fire when the temperature is 20 below and the spray from the nozzles turns at once into ice. It isn't funny to put on masks and asbestos suits and try to control an oil fire generating thousands of degrees of blazing heat.

The fire department is any town or district's first line of defense against an enemy that is as destructive as war. And a first-class fire department is any town's best investment. The fire fighters of London are making the headlines with a service that is as vital in peace as in time of battle.

Gen. McConnel Lauds Civilians

Without the usual recognition of bands and fanfare which accompanies many of those who give their services to the nation in times of great need, an army of approximately 66,800 civilians is serving without pay in the work incident to the induction of 800,000 men a year for peace-time military training, according to Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnel, state director for Selective Service. Of this number, some 551 are serving in Idaho.

Extending a well-deserved tribute to those members of local boards and to other civilian agencies who are administering the Selective Training and Service Act, General McConnel said that there are 240 members of local boards, 48 examining physicians, 48 government appeal agents, 144 members of advisory boards, 21 members of appeal boards and 50 members of medical advisory boards in Idaho.

"It is only through the splendid and unselfish work of these agencies," declared Gen. McConnel, "that Idaho is able to carry on the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act fairly, impartially and according to its true spirit, so that the manpower the nation needs for its defense may be raised with the most delicate regard for family ties without disrupting the social and economic life of the nation and with the utmost justice to every individual, to the community and to the nation."

Books Should Be Changed

Dr. Ralph West Robey of Columbia university said a survey of 600 social science textbooks used in the nation's high schools showed a "substantial proportion" of them tended to criticize this country's form of government or hold the system of private enterprise in derision or contempt.

The study, in which he was assisted by several other educators, was made for national association of Manufacturers, which sought to learn if un-American concepts and principles had crept into secondary school textbooks recently.

THINK IT OVER

By F. R. Stevens
Evidence is daily reaching those of us who are watching, that the two largest anti-American organizations are boring into our farm groups.

An officer of an automobile insurance company recently called the writer's attention to a claim of a farmer for damage to his automobile. The investigation brought out the fact that the accident occurred while it was being driven by a young man for the purpose of distributing literature for the communist organization in this country.

I want to talk to you, young man. I am calling your attention to the fact that if the communist program is adopted in this country, your father and every other farmer must turn over to the government his farm, his stock and his tools, and from then on, that farm must be run as the government agent directs. You may be moved to a distant point and when harvest comes the agent will take the crop, leaving as many potatoes, apples, pumpkins, hay, etc., as he thinks you may need for your own use.

The agent will then criticize you for not producing more, complain that the wheat had been allowed to sprout in the shock, and that the apples were covered with scab.

You will then be told how much clothing and food you can have during the year, how many movies you can attend, how long, and where you may go to school and church.

You probably will not starve. You certainly will not be out of a job, and in the end you will be buried without individual accomplishment, without experiencing even the joy or pain of having tried. You will simply be "The Man With The Hoe."

Today you are sitting on the sound limb of liberty and saving it off because someone has told you that its fruit is sometimes off color and a better graft can be put in its place. Slippery elm will not grow on that stock. Liberty, Freedom and Happiness have a fibre different from dictatorship and communism and they will not knit.

The Grange teaches you the dangers of all collectivistic government, whether it be led by a Stalin, a Hitler or a Mussolini. Your history teaches the wonderful story of this country's growth and happiness under Freedom. When you start after the cows at daybreak and realize that they and the farm are yours and that the satisfaction and profit at the end of the day will come from your own knowledge and efforts — isn't there an extra heart beat? A surge of pride in your freedom.

That freedom was worth fighting for in '76 and it is worth keeping now.

Old Lumber Still Good

The U. S. Forest Products laboratory at Madison, Wis., very frequently is asked if wood that has been used in old buildings is satisfactory for other purposes or for reconstruction. Age in itself does not cause wood to deteriorate in strength or in many other qualities, but on the contrary, age greatly enriches the value of wood. Violin makers, for instance, prize very highly spruce taken from buildings erected a century ago, claiming that such material has an even moisture content and is free of all interior stresses that might affect the use of wood for high grade violins.

If the material is free from decay, insects attack, checks, splits or other defects, it should be good for re-use for any purpose for which the lumber was originally suitable, the Forest Products laboratory points out. There will, of course, be some damage done to the lumber in wrecking the building, but with some care in taking it down, the loss from this should not be much.

The principal cause of damage to wood in buildings is decay, and decay cannot occur unless a certain amount of water is present. In old buildings in which the sheathing, roof boards, floors and other wooden parts have been well protected from the weather the wood will, in practically all cases, be as sound as when first erected. Wood may darken with age, but it has lost none of its original strength characteristics.

There can be no objection to the re-use of lumber simply because it has been in use. The question of the desirability of using second-hand lumber depends upon the character of the lumber, its requirements for the new use, and the cost of reworking the material.

All Yours

Mrs. Smith was particularly fond of reminding her husband that the silver was hers, the piano was hers, and the furniture was hers, and Smith was getting tired of it.

One night Mrs. Smith was awakened by noises downstairs.

"Henry," she said, "get up. There are burglars downstairs."

"Burglars!" echoed Smith wearily. "Well, let 'em burgle. There's nothing of mine down there."

Economic Costs Huge

$7,380,000 was the economic loss to the state of Idaho caused by motor vehicle accidents during 1933, according to figures of the National Safety Council.

The council says that a state may determine the cost of all its traffic accidents by multiplying the number of deaths by 45,000, which is, on the average, the cost of a death plus the cost of 35 personal injury accidents and 150 property damage accidents.

The economic costs of motor vehicle accidents consist of damage to property, hospital and medical treatment for injured, wage losses of those disabled, and calculated life values of persons killed.

Roughly, these figures may be accepted as reliable. If in a county only ten deaths occur, the method might prove unsatisfactory; but for use all over the country, it has been generally approved.

Certain conclusions may be interesting: During 1933 there were 164 traffic deaths, with 175 in 1932. This reduction of 11 points to a fiscal saving of nearly a half million dollars—$495,000 to be exact. For the present year, the reduction of seven in traffic fatalities suggests a saving in dollars and cents of $315,000.00.

Politics Come First

Adjournment of this session of Congress is practically "guaranteed" by the Democratic leaders, and with apparent approval of Republican chiefs, around June 15 to 25, in order to give clear get-aways for the republican and democratic conventions that are to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President. Thus a rather anemic session will come to an end.

Should We Pay It?

Senator Guffey, Pennsylvania New Dealer, has introduced a bill in the Senate directing Uncle Sam to pay to Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, U. S. Ambassador to Poland, the sum of $243,361 for antique furniture and other personal property lost during the Nazi invasion of Poland. Antiques must be about as expensive in Poland as they are in our own country!

Bright Child

Three-year-old Nancy's father had installed a new radio. Nancy listened with rapt attention to everything—music, speeches and station announcements.

That night she knelt to say her "Now I lay me." At the end she paused a moment and then said: "Tomorrow night at this same time there will be another prayer."

Transplant Many Beaver

The Idaho State Game department transplanted 1,121 live beaver during the period from July 1 to October 1 at a total cost of $297 per beaver, it was announced this week by Dud Dillingham, leader of the Federal Aid in Wildlife restoration project under which the work was conducted.

Cost figures were held down remarkably well. Neighboring states which have conducted similar programs figure the minimum cost at $7.00 per beaver.

Six state trappers, assisted by conservation officers, caught 1,180 beaver. Loss during transportation and from chilling in traps was 59 beaver, or five per cent. During the hot dry weather of July and August, most of the beaver were transported at night to prevent loss.

Of the total beaver caught, 11 per cent were planted by the Forest Service; 35.5 per cent by the Division of Grazing; 30 per cent by conservation officers and 37.5 per cent by the trappers.

But one per cent was planted by individuals and wildlife organizations.

Beaver were taken generally in irrigated or low land areas where they were causing damage and were transplanted to higher reaches of the same watershed. When taken to other streams where beaver did not occur, they were removed from overpopulated areas and planted upon the recommendation of the Forestry Service or grazing or conservation officials.

Moot Question

"I never can find a thing in this house," grumbled a local resident. "I certainly would like to know where my hat went."
"So would I," agreed his wife. "You weren't wearing it when you came home last night!"

GRAIN MARKET

Soil conditions in Australia were reported favorable for new wheat seeding which will start soon in several districts. The Australian wheat stabilization plan, which is expected to be in operation before seeding begins, is based on a marketable crop of 140 million bushels, plus 20 million bushels for seed. Since this is only slightly below average production growers will be able to prepare for the seeding of the normal acreage in the 1941-42 season.

The Federal Crop Insurance corporation announces that it has written a total of 420,000 contracts on the crop to be harvested in 1941. This exceeds the number of contracts written in 1940 by 42,000 and in 1939 by 254,000. The 1941 sign-up represents all risks coverage on 11 million acres and in insured production of 110½ million bushels. Premiums totaling 14,539,000 bushels of wheat are stored by the corporation with which to meet the 1941 indemnity payments.

Repayments of wheat loans to the Commodity Credit corporation reported to March 29 totaled 7,281,546 bushels, of which about 1,500,000 bushels were from firm storage.

THE LURE OF DEATH APPEALS TO DEFEATISTS

The defeatists in the United States have been raising their voices again. They seem to believe that we have reached a state of "economic maturity"—in plainer words, economic senility.

The whole world, their argument runs, has been tending toward some form of dictatorship. No nation has been immune from the trend. Democracy after democracy has collapsed, from weakness within or attack from without. Therefore, they reason, this country must eventually fall into line. The forces of state socialism are too powerful to withstand. And the wisest policy is to swallow the medicine now and make the necessary readjustments to conform to the new and revolutionary "world order."

That is an insidious argument, baseless and fallacious. This country has not reached economic senility. It has met great crises in the past. It has survived storms which many times threatened to destroy it. It has won through, not by shelving democracy, but by making democracy work harder. It has kept always to the principle that strength comes out of freedom, not out of slavery. It has known that wealth and power are best created by free men, working under a free system which makes the welfare and happiness of the individual the nation's first concern.

What has state socialism ever accomplished? The world has watched it in many forms for long years—in Russia, in Italy, in Germany. Has it made the common man and woman happier and more secure? Has it raised the standard of living? Has it produced abundance and wealth for all? Has it advanced the causes of art and culture? Has it made for great progress in the fields of science and medicine? Has it given the people freer, fuller lives? To all these questions there is but one answer, and that is No! In the lands where socialism and dictatorship rule, the people fear to speak their minds lest they be imprisoned or executed. Disease increases. Malnutrition is commonplace. Men work long hours under inhuman conditions for pay barely sufficient to keep their families alive. Only the ruling class is rich—only the ruling class lives well—only the ruling class has inalienable rights.

It is the first duty of those who believe in this country, in this system which we call democracy, to oppose socialism in any and all forms. When socialism takes command, real progress ends. When men are enslaved, they are no better than dumb brutes, responding mechanically to the whips of the masters. Socialism, as we see it in the modern world, means death to all that men have fought and bled for during a thousand years of history—a thousand years of striving toward the light of freedom.

It gave the entire grounds a clean and neat appearance. We can but humbly say: "Thank you."

Orderly Cutting Promote Growth
 Timber growth on the commercial forest lands of north Idaho could be doubled by orderly cutting and adequate protection, according to Robt. K. Winter of the Northern Rocky Mountain Forest Experiment station.

Efforts to increase the present timber growth should be intensified because the annual drain on timber supplies amounting to 712 million board feet, exceeds the annual growth by 76 million board feet. The inevitable result of a continuation of present trends will be a further reduction of merchantable saw timber followed by the closing down of sawmills with a consequent loss of employment.

In order to increase timber yield the Experiment station recommends:

- (1) An orderly cutting of approximately a million acres of decadent old-growth timber stands in order that they can be replaced by young, growing trees.
- (2) Increased protection against fire, insects and disease.
- (3) Restricted cutting in thrifty stands.

Trees Being Trimmed
 Many of the tall locust trees about town, especially those near power lines, are being trimmed by Herman Schupfer and Phil Johns. A good deal of radio interference, especially during wet weather, will be eliminated, as well as improving the shade from the trees.

Kay Kyser and "Hopalong"
 These are the two shows to be shown at this week's double feature offering at the Kendrick Theatre. The first will be "Hopalong" in which "Hopalong" takes an important part, with his saddle mate, "Lucky" Jenkins, who are riding at the head of a pack train bearing gold bullion to the express office of Jane Travers, when their attention is drawn to the office by gun-fire—and so it goes. Just one adventure after another.

The next feature will be Kay Kyser and Adolph Menjou in "That's Right—You're Wrong," which is said to be real entertainment, not only from a musical standpoint, but from plot interest. May Robson, a 75-year-old bathing beauty, also has a prominent part.

EDITORIAL

Well Folks—Spring seems to have really "sprung" at last, and we here in the canyon would know it by the rattle of small arms fire, as the local boys "pull a blitzkreig" on the unsuspecting squirrels and groundhogs that infest the sunny south slopes. We hope the price of ammunition doesn't go too high, for squirrel shooting is still the sport of sports for most local residents.

And now that spring is here—how about that locker box—are you prepared to keep your cured and fresh meats? If not, better see us today about that box.

And by the way—don't forget that can of cream when you come to town. You'll like our cash—and our service.

Diner: "Two eggs please. Don't fry the ma second after the white is cooked. Don't turn them over. Not too much grease. Just a small pinch of salt on each. No pepper... well, what are you waiting for?"

Waitress: "The hen's name is Betty. Is that all right, sir?"

The Young Man: "What time is it getting to be?"
Young Lady: "I don't know; but it was Sunday night when you came!"

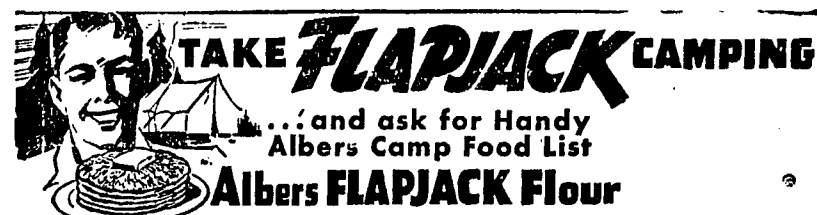

The aviator had crashed into the ground and scattered parts of his ship about the landscape. Farmer Brown dashed over as the pilot crept out of the wrecked cockpit, bruised and aching in every joint.

"Had an accident?" inquired Farmer Brown.

"No!" roared the pilot in disgust. "I just came down to lay an egg!"

What Do You Think?

In spite of the fact that some of our internationalists declare Uncle Sam's safety depends on the British fleet, we refuse to get an inferiority complex over Uncle Sam's own fleet, which is admittedly the strongest in the world.

May Hear Prominent Speaker

At the 43rd annual convention of the Inland Empire Education Association in Spokane, April 9 to 11, the featured woman speaker will be Miss Josephine Roche, chosen by the American women in 1936 as one of the outstanding industrial and professional women in the country.
