

KENDRICK GAZETTE

VOLUME 51

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JUNE 19, 1941

NO. 25

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Mrs. Byard Davidson of Colton, Wash., is recovering from an operation for appendicitis. The operation was performed at a Pullman hospital.

Frances Locke, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Locke of Pottlatch ridge, stopped at the Gazette office Monday to announce the arrival of a baby sister, born at Moscow, Sunday at noon. Her little sister is named Eleanor and she weighed 10 pounds last Sunday.

The Hupp brother of Little Bear ridge have over 100 acres of beans this summer. They say they never had better prospects for a bean crop, as the ground is in splendid condition and the stand very even. They feel optimistic over the bean situation and believe the price will be strong enough this coming fall to make the crop pay.

R. B. Parks of Leland was in Lewiston the first of the week on business connected with the new Leland school building. Mr. Parks is serving his ninth year as a member of the Leland school board. He is one of Leland's best boosters.

The promoters of the rattlesnake fight, which was to have taken place here some time ago, "started something." Since the request for a fighting rattlesnake, published in the Gazette two weeks ago, it was found necessary by the fight promoters to appoint a chief executioner and a burying squad to dispose of the various rattlers. The gutters have been fairly running blood from the executions. If you want to get a rise out of several young men of Kendrick, make a noise like a rattlesnake.

The point of rock that jutted up in the road a short distance up the Pottlatch from the McCrea place, was completely demolished last Friday evening. A blast containing 450 pounds of giant powder blew a great part of the point into the creek. It took a week's drilling to get ready for the blast, but an immense amount of work was accomplished by the one "shot."

G. A. Wayland, who owns a ranch up Bear creek harvested eight big loads of sweet clover hay from two acres of ground last week. The clover was seeded a year ago and this was the first crop. Mr. Wayland says that his stock will eat sweet clover as readily as any other feed. There were spots in the field where the clover was higher than the horses' backs.

Leland Items—R. B. Parks and young son Hugh drove to Spokane Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hoffman are visiting relatives in Spokane. Arthur Locke went to Moscow Sunday, returning Monday, walking straighter than ever, if possible and reported a new baby girl in his family, born in Moscow Sunday. Mr. DeWinter and little daughter, Marie, were Lewiston passengers Tuesday. Mrs. Collingwood of Agatha has been a guest in the Winegardner home for the past week.

Big Bear Ridge News—Mrs. Chas. Galloway, a former resident of the ridge, is here from Montana visiting with relatives and friends. Miss Johanna Hesby of Deary is spending the week with Miss Johanna Hooker. Miss Wilma Elliott has returned from St. Maries, where she has spent several weeks. Mrs. Ed. Lien and daughter Margaret were visiting in the Lewis Aas home in Deary last week.

Cameron News—Wm. Hartung finished painting his house this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heimgartner left Monday for Hanford, Calif., where they will make their home. Herman Meyer, Martha Meyer, Henry Brammer and Arthur Wegner returned from Spokane on Monday, where they have been visiting for the past week. Herbert Brunseik has been visiting his uncle, William Bleck, of Southwick for a few days. The young folks of Cameron enjoyed a dance at the home of Carl Koepf Friday evening.

Another Memorial Service

A second Memorial service will be held at Spalding Park on June 22, 1941, with the Rev. Daniel Scott, Presbyterian Indian pastor of Spalding delivering the address at 11:00 a. m.

Stephen Rubens, Methodist Indian pastor of the Indian Mission church at Lapwai will tell of early days at the Spalding Mission.

C. A. Christenson, pastor of the Saviour's Mission, at Spalding, and others, will address the meeting.

Sam Walters, Indian elder, will direct the singing.

Basket dinners will be served at noon. If you cannot come to the morning service, bring your baskets and stay for the afternoon services.

If it rains the Presbyterians will open their church, which is close by. — Everyone is welcome.

Speaking Of The Weather

As the saying goes, "everybody is talking about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." We have begun to wonder just what is going to happen if it doesn't put the brakes on pretty soon.

George Brooke said he had taken a little trip around the country last Sunday and that during his rounds he had driven by 17 bean fields, none of which had been planted, and some of which were not even plowed.

Convention At Twin Falls

Friday of this week, Marvin Powell, the new Vocational Agriculture instructor in the Kendrick schools will leave with some of the Future Farmers of the Kendrick chapter for the State convention and contests.

Among the contests in which the Kendrick boys may take part are: Farm mechanics, poultry judging, livestock judging, dairy judging, meat identification and milk grading.

The winners in the stock and mechanics contests get a free trip to the national convention of the F. F. A. at Kansas City, next fall.

INCOME TAX BASE TO REMAIN AT PRESENT LEVEL

Washington—Single persons making less than $800 and married couples earning below $2,000 would continue to be exempt from individual income taxes, under a decision made by the house ways and means committee.

Writing a $3,500,000,000 new tax bill to help finance the defense program, the committee voted to retain the current personal exemptions for all individual income tax purposes. This means also continuation of the present $400 credit for dependents, such as children.

New income tax rates, expected to be much stiffer than those now applying, were left to future determination. Committee members indicated a decision on that question soon.

In deciding to keep the personal exemptions at the present level, the committee followed treasury recommendations against broadening the income tax base to include lower income brackets. The treasury said present exemptions were low enough in the case of a dangerous rise in living costs.

The committee voted to retain the present exemptions for surtax purposes. The vote was to keep them for normal taxes also, meaning they would be the bottom level for all individual income taxes.

Another committee decision reduces the total exemption of "heads" of families, who are not husbands or wives.

New Whiskers Judge

Following the resignation of Bill Watts as "Whiskers Court" judge, Jack Kuykendall has been appointed to fill the place.

It is not known at this time just what effect it will have on those failing to produce "their crop" or those charged with "indecent exposure," but Judge Kuykendall is said to be very unbiased in his opinions and judgement will be meted out with a stern hand.

GOOD NEWS FOR THOSE WHO WILL SPEND 4TH HERE

Really good news for those who will spend July 4th in Kendrick was received in Wednesday morning's mail from Walter Thomas, Greenacres, Wash., secretary of the Kendrick Old-Timers Picnic association, indicates that Kendrick will be host to all old-timers this year — and really proud of the responsibility we will be. The note follows:

"The Kendrick Old-Timers Picnic will be held July 4th at Kendrick in conjunction with the Kendrick 4th of July celebration.

"There will be a business meeting of the club in the Village park at 12 o'clock."

Brief, but to the point, and it means a great deal to all, for combined with a day of sports, games and other attractions, will be the opportunity to renew acquaintances of long ago, to round out a full day with friends.

It means that the love of the Pottlatch section is deep enough in the heart of these old-timers to create the longing to see another Independence Day in Kendrick.

It is up to all of us to provide for them all the comforts they may desire — and Kendrick will fill that need.

Come on in, everybody, and renew those old friendships, as well as spending a day in fun.

Another Enlistee Writes

Gazette Editor: I am writing this letter or little note to give my sincere thanks for your sending of the Gazette. I now look forward for every Monday to roll around so that I may join my fellow service men in reading the hometown paper. I join with all the other boys in saying "Thanks a million, you are doing us a great favor."

My living in Kendrick for only about 20 months made me many very good friends, whose regard I would not trade for anything in the world.

Since I have joined the forces of Uncle Sam's navy, I have made many more new friends, some very good, some fair and some worthless. The old saying of: "A friendship made is a friendship lost" is very true, especially as far as service men are concerned. And that is why roll around by sending us the paper. It just brings back memories of the wonderful times and friendships we have had and made in the "good ole' town" of Kendrick.

I say once again, thanks a million.

Another Sailor— Judd Lee.

New Community Minister

Rev. Roy Murray, formerly located at LaCrosse, Wash., has been appointed minister for the Kendrick Community church and the Juliaetta and Arrow Methodist churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. S. T. Gray will soon leave for Hoquiam, Wash., where Rev. Gray will have charge of the Methodist church.

Rev. and Mrs. Murray have two children and come with very high recommendations. They will undoubtedly receive a warm welcome from the good people of Kendrick.

It is likewise certain that Rev. and Mrs. Gray will receive a warm welcome at their new home. They have been residents of Kendrick for the past three years and have made a host of warm friends who will be sorry to learn of their decision to leave Kendrick. Rev. Gray has always taken much interest in civic affairs, as well as in the church. He is at present the president of the Kendrick Commercial club and has been prominently identified with everything that made for the good of the town and the well-being of his fellow man.

It is understood that Rev. and Mrs. Gray leave for their new home next week.

Brought In Big Wheat

N. E. Walker brought to the Gazette office last week a hill of wheat that contained 51 stalks, the tallest of which was 52 inches. This fine specimen was taken from the road right-of-way, where the WPA crew are trying their best to finish the Texas ridge section of the road.

It is not known if they had to blast it out, or just use the bulldozer, but it surely was a fine specimen.

Is Improving

Jerry Herres, who has been very seriously ill for the past several months, is reported by her grandmother, Mrs. L. J. Herres, to be improving nicely at this time. Mrs. Herres came home from Spokane on Tuesday of this week, where she had been visiting in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnston.

WHEAT PRICES SHARPLY HIGHER IN NORTHWEST

Wheat futures markets in the Pacific Northwest advanced rather sharply along with the principal western markets during the week ending June 12, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Cash wheat followed the full advance in futures and most principal classes of wheat at Portland showed 5c to 6 1/2c per bushel higher compared with a week ago.

Lighter marketings by farmers on the advancing market was indicated by wheat receipts of 605 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals for the week against 669 cars a week ago. Indemnity payments on flour for export held at 80c to the Philippines and $1.35 per barrel to the Americas. Sales for the week to those areas were reported around 21,000 barrels for the week, about two-thirds of which were to the Americas. No further sales of flour were reported to north China from this area. Demand for cash wheat was mostly confined to current needs of mills, with market offerings about sufficient for needs since farmers were not offering freely at country points. Domestic flour business was reported as showing some improvement recently with considerable forward buying. Wheat mill feeds remained firm at current values. Crop prospects continued very favorable with further moisture received during the period, although warm and sunny weather would be very beneficial.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on June 13, showed soft white (hard white applicable) 90c; the same with red wheat not applicable 92c; white club 92 1/2c, western red 92 1/2c, and ordinary protein hard red winter, 92 1/2c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk. Protein premiums on hard winter over ordinary were 1 1/2c for 11 per cent; with 3 1/2c for 12 per cent and so on up to 7c per bushel for 14 per cent protein. Average protein on 54 cars hard white (short) tested during the week was 13.05 per cent against 12.70 per cent on 35 cars a year ago and 13.90 per cent on 32 cars tested during the corresponding week two years ago.

The spot trading basis on milling wheat at Chicago was unchanged for the week. However, feed wheat wasf somewhat easier. July futures closed the period at $1.02. Carlot receipts were very light during the week, being equally distributed to feed dealers, country points, and the local spot market. It was reported that considerable durum wheat was still coming from the Northwest for feeding purposes. At the close of the week, No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Chicago at $1.03 to $1.03 1/2; No. 2 soft at $1.03 1/2 per bushel. Primary receipts 6,919 and shipments 4,696 cars.

Marketings of wheat at nine mid-western winter wheat markets were 2,332 cars compared with 3,505 the previous week and over 1,088 cars a year ago.

The winter wheat crop continued to make favorable progress in central and eastern portions of the belt but in the southern Great Plains, heavy rains with high winds caused considerable damage with many fields completely lost. The crop in most sections is ripening rapidly and will be ready for harvest in a few days. Wheat is badly damaged in many places in Kansas and harvesting is being delayed by rains in Texas. Prospects in the spring wheat belt continued favorable.

The wet weather has increased rust hazards but reports indicate that the greatest damage from stem rust in Texas this year will be in an area roughly bounded by Fort Worth, Dallas, Gainville and Sherman. In this area, the total damage is expected to be approximately 20 per cent. Aggregate damage for Oklahoma will be relatively small and restricted almost entirely to soft wheats.

The only damage indicated at present in Missouri will be in a relatively small number of fields between Carthage and Jefferson City, where most wheat is ripe or nearly ripe. East of the Mississippi, stem rust has appeared in Illinois, in southern Indiana and in southwestern Wisconsin. There may also be stem rust in southern Ohio, but an examination of fields in central and northern Ohio and in Michigan indicates that stem rust has not yet appeared in these areas.

According to the Canadian Bureau of statistics, additional rainfall maintained and improved wheat prospects during the week over most of the prairie areas. Cool weather retarded growth slightly while light frosts occurred in northwestern Manitoba and northeastern Saskatchewan, but field crops were not damaged. In southwestern and east central Saskatchewan and north central Alberta, moisture is still lacking and while crops have not actually deteriorated, heavy rains are needed immediately to prevent setbacks when the weather turns warm.

The wheat crop in most of Europe is still backward as a result of cold and wet weather. The surplus of wheat in Roumania is expected to be small and conditions are similar in other Balkan countries, although Hungary appears likely to have a very moderate surplus. The harvest is very late in Italy with prospects only fair and old wheat stocks are running low in southwestern Europe. Lack of sunshine has retarded the growth and while moisture supplies are mostly ample, too much rain has been received in some sections.

Kay Kyser In "You'll Find Out"

On a night following one of their regular Wednesday broadcasts, Kay Kyser and his band travel to Bella-crest Manor to play for Janis Bella-crest's twenty-first birthday party. Chuck Deems, Kyser's manager, has arranged the engagement. He and Janis are in love.

The eeriness of Bella-crest Manor, a gloomy mansion, is intensified by a terrific storm. Shortly after Kay and his band arrive the only draw-bridge across a moat is destroyed, supposedly by lightning. That night after Kay and the band have enter-tained Janis' guests Salliano holds a seance. During the spooky affair a heavy chandelier misses Janis only because she fell in a faint from fright. Meanwhile it has been estab-lished that Salliano and others are in league to kill Janis to pre-vent her inheriting the estate, ac-cording to a newly-found codicil to her father's will. It's a good story—don't miss it.

GRAIN MARKET

Repayments on wheat loans by United States farmers to June 10, totaled approximately 67 million bushels, of which only about 15 million bushels were from farms. Flax futures were irregular but averaged firm and somewhat higher. July flax closed June 13 at $1.80½, a net advance of 3¼c for the week.

Real Strawberries

Eddie Galloway was in town on Tuesday morning and brought to the Gazette office a basket of real strawberries — and when we say real we mean just that — for but twelve of the red ripe and delicious berries were required to heap one of the regular pint baskets! They were picked from their patch on Big Bear ridge, and were just as delicious as they were pretty to look at.

CARELESSNESS WASTES EGGS NEEDED FOR DEFENSE FOOD

By taking good care of eggs on the farm, poultrymen will be mak-ing a valuable contribution to the food-for-defense program, points out G. T. McAlexander, Latah county extension agent.

Carelessness in handling eggs for market lost 5 per cent of the United State egg production in 1939. This loss represented 175 million dozen eggs with a cash value of nearly 30.5 million dollars. Careful handling means more eggs for food sup-plies of this country and other de-mocracies, and additional income for poultry producers, said Mr. McAlex-ander.

The steps in producing quality eggs on the farm are simple and can be followed on every farm with-out additional expense, he points out.

The steps include:
 Providing the flock with the proper quality of feed for good eggs.
 Keeping a deep, clean litter on the poultry house floor, and confin-ing the birds in the house until noon, if needed.

Providing plenty of clean nests, at least one to every five hens.

Producing infertile eggs for the market. This will require removing the male birds from the flock as soon as the hatching season is over.

Gathering eggs frequently, to re-duce the number of dirty eggs.
 Cooling eggs as soon as they are gathered, to as near 50 degrees as possible, to prevent spoilage. Never place warm eggs in the case.

Cousin Honored

Mrs. Lulu Buchanan of Juliaetta received a clipping recently from the east, regarding her cousin, Mrs. J. C. Bowman of Berea, Ky., and below we reproduce portions of it:

"Each member of the family of Prof. J. C. 'Clayte' Bowman, founder of the Bowman school at Bakers-ville, is an outstanding citizen. Re-cently Mrs. Bowman, the former Anna Mary Young, mother of their 13 children, has received her share of national recognition. She was a close second in the choice for 'The American Mother of 1940.' All of their children, nine boys and four girls, are living and in important professional or home-making posi-tions. Mrs. Charles H. Mayo, widow of one of the famous Mayo brothers of Rochester, Minn., was elected to first place as 1940's American Mother. Mrs. Bowman was considered until the final vote by the Ameri-can Mothers committee of the Gold-en Rule Foundation, which annually sponsors 'The American Mother' as 'representative of the best there is in womanhood, the voice of in-articulate motherhood.'"

"J. C. Bowman was born in Mit-chell county, the son of Elisha Bow-man. His grandfather, Joseph Bow-man, a famous bear and deer hunt-er, was one of the early settlers of this section. The story is told that Joseph Bowman killed a deer on the opposite side of the North Toe river. In order to get his booty across the stream he swam through the mush ice with the animal on his back.

"Before their marriage his wife was Miss Annie Mary Young, reared in the Green Cove section near Bak-ersville. Her mother, Aunt Susie Young, now well along in the nine-ties, is still living and staying with her son, Gene Young, at Minpro. The old lady was a Patton from Ten-nessee, when Annie Mary was born.

"Always a zealous exponent of education, J. C. Bowman started the Bowman Academy at Bakersville, when he was a very young man. He operated the school for many years.

"Many residents of Mitchell county today who are holding re-sponsible positions received most of their education at the Bowman Aca-demy.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

Prof. and Mrs. Bowman moved to Berea, Ky., about 25 years ago so that their children might be edu-cated at Berea College there. Prof. Bowman is now a member of the faculty there. Five of their nine sons fought in the World War."

About everyone is ready to cut hay, but are afraid to begin on account of the continued rainy weather.

Lloyd VanAirsdale had the mis-fortune to fracture a leg last week while working in the timber. He will be laid up for some time.

Elbert Herring is recovering very nicely from the gun shot wound in one foot.

Carroll Groseclose went down to Mr. Geidle's on Monday and pur-chased a horse.

A Children's Day program is be-ing prepared for next Sunday, to be given at the Cream ridge church. It is to be a joint program with the Cavendish Methodist, Teakean Bretheran and Cream Ridge U. B. churches.

Whiskering" Around Town

Strange things are taking place in the "whisker parade" to be seen about town these days. It's rapidly getting to be a stand-off as to whether Jim Keeler or his employer, Harold Thomas, have the finest combination lace curtains and "mustachoes" in the town — and now that L. S. Thurber has shaved off his fine "Kentucky Colonel" appendage and left just a "cookie duster" it seems to leave a clear field in that type of crop to Silvie Cook and Frank Curtiss.

It is believed that Marvin Long has the best set of "Lace Curtains" on his map — but George Brocke maintains that without the aid of burnt cork they wouldn't even show.

Wade Keene is very careful of his "mustn't touch-it" these days since he became a grandfather, as he says he's afraid they may turn from red to white.

And when it comes to color — by golly our money is on Vtg Dickinson, and he has a very novel arrangement of them too.

And as for Dick Blewett — after having a head start on the boys he weakened — and shaved, and now he is a case for the "Whiskers Court."

On the heavy side of the list we'll have to place Fred Newman, the Lohman Bros., Edwin Mielke, Jack Kuykendall and Albert Westendahl.

On the flashy side comes Oscar Slind with his "two two-bits worth" and many others too numerous to mention.

All in all, we'd hate to be in the judges places the night of the 4th when the award is made — for their certainly are some peachey crops.

And even if Bill Watts did resign at "Whiskers Court Judge" he's got a "simply b-e-e-c-a-u-t-i-f-u-l crop" on his upper lip.

Some economists tell us the way to stop national spending is to make all the people tax conscious. Well, we are soon going to see whether or not that idea works.

Pedestrian Deaths Increase

Pedestrian deaths continue on the increase in Idaho for 1941, as shown in the accident reports received by the safety bureau of the department of law enforcement, says Commissioner J. L. Balderston, in making another appeal to the walkers to use caution when crossing the streets or walking along the highways. He said that six of the ten pedestrians killed in Idaho since the beginning of the year were men 50 years of age or older and three were boys under ten years.

The following rules of safety for pedestrians should always be followed:

Before stepping off any curb, be sure you can cross the street in safety.

Cross streets only at intersections. Motorists expect you at the crosswalk, not in the middle of the block.

Evening rush hours are the most dangerous. Don't let home cares or business worries keep you from watching your step.

Jaywalking is a dangerous habit, saves very little time and marks you as a careless walker.

At night the motorist finds it difficult to see pedestrians clearly, especially if those on foot are dressed in dark clothing.

On the open highway, walk on the left side, facing oncoming traffic. Step off onto the shoulder as cars approach.

Assume more responsibility for your own safety, and depend less on the motorist, who must watch for both vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

In short, be careful, always.

Remember — Kendrick invites you to spend the 4th of July here.

WELL, Folks, the Fourth of July is coming nearer and nearer and nearer—some of you may go elsewhere to celebrate, or picnic, but Kendrick kids making big preparations to take care of everyone in that frame of mind—right here in Kendrick. Of course if you go some other place, that will take a sight more fun than if you should happen to stay and see what is going on in Kendrick and we will guarantee there will be more real fun right here with home folks than if you should go elsewhere and mingle with strangers. Just try it and see. But what we want to talk about just now is the supply of funds it is going to take. If you will supply the cream—and that's what we want to talk about just now—we will supply the funds. Bring a can of cream to us—take home the steam-sterilized can, and the dough—no waiting. Old Bossy musbe in a sweet frame of mind just now from wading in lush, fresh grass of all kinds, knee deep. Give us a fair trial.
