Langdon's Entertain—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Langdon of Crescent were hosts at a dinner given at their home in honor of a group of World War veterans of this section. The five young men, who were the guests of honor, happened to be on the same transport when they left the States for France, and have many things in common with regard to their war experiences. They spent the day talking over interesting happenings of their service together in the army and lived most of their harrowing experiences over again. Those present were Clarence Morey and Eddie Galloway of Bear Ridge; George Carr of Deary, and Bryan Deobald of American ridge. Mrs. M. A. Deobald assisted the hostess at the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. MacPhearson and son Donald, Miss Della Bunker and Silvie Cook, left late Saturday evening in Mr. Cook's car for the woods near Bovill in search of huckleberries. They found that the berries had been pretty well cleaned out in that section of the country. However, they succeeded in getting several gallons. Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ware and family, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Tupper and two daughters of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ware of Spokane were also in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kite, Miss Edith Compton and George Carlson motored to Big Island, on the North Fork, Friday afternoon on a fishing trip, returning Sunday evening. They reported a very pleasant time and good fishing.

LaHatt-Cooper Nuptials

According to a news dispatch in Sunday's Lewiston Tribune, Miss Beatrice LaHatt of Kendrick, and Albert S. Cooper of Lewiston, were married in Coeur d'Alene Saturday, July 19.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. LaHatt, long-time residents of Kendrick, and has spent nearly all of her life here. She is a graduate of the Kendrick High school, and was employed here as an operator in the local telephone exchange following her graduation. She later went to Lewiston, where she attended the Lewiston Normal. She is well and favorably known here.

Mr. Cooper is the owner of an Associated oil station in North Lewiston, where they will make their home.

MISS JUNE PARKS BRIDE OF WALTER ZUMHOFF

Miss June Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Parks, old-time residents of Potlatch ridge, became the bride of Mr. Walter ZumHoff, son of Mrs. Lena ZumHoff, at a very pretty ceremony, performed at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 12, at the home of the bride's parents on Potlatch ridge.

A bouquet of pink and white roses formed the improvised altar, where the Rev. Theo Meske of the Cameron Lutheran church performed the ceremony.

Acting as best man was Ernest Denner of Fix ridge, a cousin of the groom. The matron of honor was Mrs. Walter Crawford of Leland, an aunt of the bride.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk marquisette, and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Blue silk marquisette was worn by the matron of honor, in a dress of similar style. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

After the marriage vows a wedding luncheon was served. The lace covered table being centered with a large wedding cake, which was very prettily decorated. The cake was baked by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Hund of Leland.

Thirty immediate relatives were present for the wedding.

Leaving for a brief honeymoon to Coulee Dam and Spokane points, the bride's going-away outfit was a suit in gun metal gray, with saddle-top accessories.

Mrs. ZumHoff is a graduate of the Juliaetta High school with the class of '41, and is a prominent young lady with a sterling character.

Mr. ZumHoff is a prominent and favorably known young farmer of Potlatch ridge. Upon their return from their honeymoon they will make their home temporarily, with the groom's mother.

Kendrick-Deary Highway

The Kendrick-Deary highway job, more familiarly known as the "missus link," extending four miles from gravel-end to gravel-end on Big Bear ridge, a distance of about four miles, is said to be 60 per cent complete. Clifton & Applegate are the contractors. Work includes the rock crusher, pipe, culverts and timber structures. Thirty men are employed.

State forces last week finished building the detour around the old Waucher gulch bridge across the Potlatch just above Kendrick, and four men are now employed by Contractor J. F. Koenen in removing the old structure and excavating.

Both of these road improvements have been badly needed for a long time, and their completion will be a real cause for rejoicing in this section.

Child Found

Shortly after going to press last Thursday word was received in Kendrick that Daisy Ann, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Groseclose, had been found, safe and sound, in a wheat field about a mile above her home.

The child was tired and hungry, but otherwise not a whit the worse for having slept under the stars in the field of wheat.

And it was a very happy pair of parents who welcomed the little lady home.

Selma Hartung Married

Word was received by announcement, recently of the marriage of Selma Hartung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartung to Mr. Henry Taylor of San Francisco.

The Hartungs are old-time residents of this section of the country and many will be the good wishes that will go out to Selma on this happy event.

and mutilated the fingers of one hand. The little fellow had just about recovered fully from the effects of the first accident of his babyhood and the scars are gradually disappearing. But on Wednesday, while playing in the yard at his home, his right hand was caught in the revolving blades of the lawn mower and the end of the middle finger of the hand cut off. He received immediate medical attention and, aside from the pain necessarily present in such a wound, he is getting along nicely.

Bear With Us

We ask you to bear with us and with our correspondents, if news from any certain community is missing, for those correspondents, like anyone else, have work to do, and as their personal work must of necessity come first, they may miss a few weeks in sending in the news from that section.

So please don't think they have quit, are unwilling or are ill, they like anyone else, are undoubtedly plenty busy during this harvest season.

"HOT" WHEAT MAY BE PROPERLY DISPOSED OF

Wheat producers who planted over their 1941 wheat acreage allotments may handle their "hot" grain under marketing quota regulations in a number of ways besides paying the penalty of 40 cents per bushel, H. F. Koster, chairman of the La-tah county AAA committee, pointed out this week.

The county AAA committee, with the aid of community committeemen, have charge of the administration of the wheat marketing quotas which were approved by a referendum on May 31, in which all producers affected were allowed to vote.

Marketing quotas are set up to help farmers regulate the amount of wheat which is marketed in years of large surpluses, so they can realize a fair return for their crop. Excess wheat on which the penalties are paid tends to counteract the effect of quotas.

It would be much better for farmers with wheat produced on acreage over their 1941 acreage allotment to store the wheat under bond and keep it off the market entirely. Next year they may have a low yield or they may reduce their acreage enough to make possible the marketing of the 1941 "hot" wheat as free wheat.

Farmers may turn over excess wheat to the Secretary of Agriculture through the county AAA committee and thus may become eligible to receive his wheat marketing card which it is necessary to have before any 1941 crop wheat may be sold.

Wheat disposed of by this method will be used for relief purposes. A recent amendment to the quota provisions makes it possible for farmers to deliver excess wheat to any point within the county which the county committee may designate if it is impractical to deliver it to a warehouse and turn the warehouse receipt over to the county committee. Some farmers with small lots of excess wheat are expected to dispose of it in this manner.

Farmers with excess wheat also may store it, either in farm granaries or in a warehouse and execute a bond of indemnity or deposit warehouse receipts in escrow with the county committee.

Excess wheat stored under bond or with warehouse receipts deposited in escrow is eligible for a commodity loan at 60 per cent of the loan rate available to farmers who planted with 1941 acreage allotments. The extension of such loans to April 30, 1943 was announced last week, and excess wheat stored on the farm and delivered on the due date to the Commodity Credit Corporation is eligible for a 7 per cent storage allowance the first year and a 5 per cent storage allowance if the loan is renewed for a second year.

Excess, or "hot" wheat was defined by the county committee as the normal or actual production of the acreage of a farm over the 1941 wheat acreage allotment, whichever is the smaller.

Fire Destroys Farm Home

Thursday morning, about 11:15, fire at the Henry Kortemeier place at the top of the Big Bear ridge grade, completely destroyed their home and cellar.

Mrs. Kortemeier was working in the house preparing dinner for the haying crew, when the crew, working on a stack nearby, discovered the flames, of which she was unaware, rapidly eating their way into the roof on the upper floor.

The men rushed to the house and began carrying out household articles. They were joined by neighbors, and with their help were able to save practically everything in the lower story, and also confine the blaze to the house and cellar.

Mr. and Mrs. Kortemeier carried insurance, and plan to rebuild this fall when the rush of work is over. At present they are living in the tractor shed on the place.

The house destroyed was one of the early landmarks of the ridge, having been built, Mrs. Kortemeier believes, some 50 years ago, but despite its age was a very comfortable home.

Given Bridal Shower

A bridal shower was given for Miss June Parks at her home on Potlatch ridge, Thursday afternoon, July 10, with 65 guests present.

The table was centered with a beautiful silver fillgree bowl, filled with pink and white roses, as a reminder of the occasion.

Guessing games and visiting were followed by the presentation of the many lovely gifts. Miss Parks was assisted in the unwrapping of them by Miss Janet Halliday of Juliaetta.

Guests present came from Leland, Juliaetta, Kendrick, Cameron, Gifford and from California.

Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner and Mrs. Walter Crawford served refreshments of cakes and iced drinks.

Merton Dawald, brother of Arthur Dawald, broke his right ankle last Thursday while visiting at the M. K. Gregory home in Juliaetta.

He was helping Vernon Gregory cut wood, and slipped in such a way as to break an ankle bone.

Strikes Head On Rock

Jim Prater of Juliaetta had the misfortune to strike his head on a rock when diving in a Potlatch creek swimming hole last Thursday. Five stitches were necessary to close the wound.

POTLATCH PIONEERS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Joslin of Spokane was the scene of a very pleasant family gathering on Sunday, when the family and friends gathered to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Joslin was united in marriage with Della Peterson at the home of her uncle, Martin Peterson, near Troy, Idaho, on July 19, 1891. They then moved to the Juliaetta section, where Mr. Joslin was engaged in farming for a number of years. Later they moved into town, where Mr. Joslin operated a butcher shop. In 1913 they moved to Spokane, where they have since made their home.

On their fiftieth anniversary a very lovely dinner was served to the family and a few friends, honoring the day. Those present were Mrs. Art Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson and son Donald of Spokane; Mrs. Phil Hansen of Long Beach, Calif.; Charles Joslin of Seattle; Miss Andra Carlson of Leavenworth, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. William Brookman (nee Vivian Wegner) of Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Miles Peace of Spokane, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Carlson and daughters Barbara and Patricia of Juliaetta.

Mrs. Pearce was also a guest at the wedding ceremony 50 years ago.

After the dinner, open house was held for their many friends, at which time the callers were served fruit punch and slices of a three-tiered white cake, decorated with white roses and gold leaves.

All-in-all, it was a very pleasant and memorable occasion, and a day which but few married couples are able to celebrate.

Harvest Just Beginning

Harvesting operations in the Potlatch section are just beginning—about 10 days to two weeks behind last year's operations.

But it may be just as well that they are late for the wheat this year, as reported by the local grain dealers, is of a better quality, on the average, than that of last year.

The Leland and Fix ridge sections seem to be the first to begin any appreciable delivery of grain, and to date Forty Fold and Federation wheats and white barley have been received. These grains show no smut traces and the percentage of foul is said to be no greater than in ordinary years, as it was feared would be the case due to unusually heavy rainfall.

So far but three field yield averages are available, and these range from 41 to 45½ bushels per acre! From all indications this year's harvest will present a real problem to the grain men, especially at the terminals, for according to reports almost every available bushel of storage space is occupied, and grain traders are said to be doing business on a day-to-day basis rather than on the usual futures basis.

H. S. Weaver Passes

H. S. Weaver, one of the well-known pioneers of the Crescent and Gold Hill section passed away very suddenly at his home on Cedar ridge about 8:00 p. m. Saturday evening, following a heart attack.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning of this week from the Community church, Kendrick, at 10:00 a. m., Rev. A. R. Flke of Moscow, officiating.

Interment was in the Moscow cemetery.

Masons Picnic at Laird Park

The Masons enjoyed a picnic and get-together at Laird Park Sunday afternoon. Those going from here were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Long and family, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. McKeever and Chloë, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davidson and Barbara and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Woody.

Towns represented at the gathering were St. Maries, Elk River, Potlatch, Bovill, Moscow, Genesee and Kendrick.

Breaks Ankle

Merton Dawald, brother of Arthur Dawald, broke his right ankle last Thursday while visiting at the M. K. Gregory home in Juliaetta.

He was helping Vernon Gregory cut wood, and slipped in such a way as to break an ankle bone.

Strikes Head On Rock

Jim Prater of Juliaetta had the misfortune to strike his head on a rock when diving in a Potlatch creek swimming hole last Thursday. Five stitches were necessary to close the wound.

PACIFIC NORTHWESTERN WHEAT MARKETS DOWN

Wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest were relatively weaker than other domestic markets during the week ending July 18, the Department of Agriculture reports. The July option was down 7½¢ and cash wheat declined 3¼¢ to 7¢ per bushel during the period. Heavy offerings from the country and a general lack of demand at Coast terminals from all classes of buyers were important weakening influences in the situation. Due to the shortage of terminal storage space, created mainly by the lack of off-shore business, an emergency was declared by the directors of the Portland Grain Exchange with respect to wheat deliveries on the Daily Cash Bid and Offer market of the exchange. In order that daily trading in Pacific Northwest wheats in this market may be continued during the period of the emergency and values freely expressed thereby, trading rules were amended to provide that at buyer's option, to be declared on the date of purchase, seller shall deliver country warehouse receipts.

Wheat receipts totaling 933 cars for the week at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals representing largely consignments and movement of old wheat for terminal storage. Flour sales under the indemnity program were reported light at unchanged indemnity payments. Domestic flour business was also reported light, and offerings in the cash market were more than sufficient to care for the limited needs of mills. Wheat millfeeds were holding firm at recent advances. Wheat harvesting was rapidly getting under way in winter wheat areas, while excessive hot weather probably caused some injury to spring wheat. Winter wheat outturns are reported very good and early returns indicate generally excellent quality.

Cash wheat quotations at Portland, July 18, bid prices, showed soft white (hard white applicable) at 83¢; the same, except Rex wheat not applicable, 88¢; white club 88¢; western red 88¢ and hard red winter at 82¢ per bushel, bulk basis No. 1. Cash wheat quotations at Seattle on July 18, showed western white at 85¢, western red at 84¢, hard red winter at 80¢ and hard white (baart) at 95¢.

The San Francisco wheat market weakened during the week, influenced principally by sharp declines in northern and eastern markets, together with slower local demand. Prices were mostly 5¢ to 7½¢ per 100 lower compared with a week ago. Increased offerings from the Pacific Northwest provided the outstanding market feature. At the close of the week, Washington and Oregon shippers were offering No. 2 soft white, quick rail shipment at around $1.67½ per 100, bulk, delivered at San Francisco and the nearby points. Offerings met fairly active demand for poultry feeding purposes with trade reports placing local takings at several thousand tons. Movement of Pacific Northwest wheat to the Bay region for milling purposes remained rather light, local mills continuing to place most of their requirements in Intermountain states.

Wheat prices at Kansas City lapsed back into a downward trend during the past week, influenced by pressure of receipts at terminal markets, which were taxing storage facilities to the utmost. Trade uncertainty concerning possible price control of certain commodities, request for increased margin requirements on speculative trading in agricultural commodities and continued favorable prospects for the spring wheat.

Receipts of cash wheat continued liberal with Minneapolis arrivals of all classes amounting to 4,020 cars white Duluth unloaded 2,049 cars. The large offerings and lack of storage space collapsed the general premium situation and premium payments entirely disappeared for a day or two.

Demand was good at Ogden and truck lots of new wheat were expected at that market within the next day or two. Weather conditions were ideal for harvesting in that area. Quotations, basis No. 2, Ogden mills, on July 18, were: dark hard winter and dark northern spring, 90¢; hard winter and northern spring, 81¢; hard white, 88¢; soft white, 88¢; western white 86¢ per bushel. Denver mills were bidding 75¢ per bushel for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring, basis f. o. b. Colorado common points.

Demand for wheat was moderate at Chicago the past week and not equal to offerings as approximately 300 cars a day received and carried over unsold. The latter part of the week receipts were so heavy that storage space became an acute problem.

Winter wheat harvests continued to make good progress in northern sections of the belt and threshing advanced in the southern districts. Much overripe wheat is still standing in parts of the middle Atlantic area because of unfavorable harvesting weather. Cutting was also hampered by wet fields and lodging grain in the western third of Kansas. Weather conditions continued favorable for spring wheat which was beginning to turn color in North Dakota. Dry land crops were needing rain in parts of Montana and high temperatures were unfavorable in the Pacific Northwest.

Prospects for the 1941 wheat crop

GRAIN MARKET

 In the important producing areas of the world appear quite varied, according to reports to Foreign Agricultural Relations. Reductions indicated in several of the larger countries will about offset increases in others and the total outturn is expected to be about the same as that in 1940, when world wheat production approximated 6,100 million bushels. The North American crop from present indications will fall short of the 1940 harvest with the indicated increase in the U. S. Canada, where this year's acreage is about 25 per cent smaller than that harvested in 1940. The condition of the Canadian crop at the close of June was placed considerably below the comparable figure for 1940.
 In Europe, this year's wheat crop is expected to be equal to the average for the last 10 years but much better than the 1940 harvest, according to an announcement by the International Institute of Agriculture. The 1930-39 average production in Europe was 1,570 million bushels. Better harvests than last season are expected in North African countries where available information indicates record grain crops in Morocco and an increase of about 18 and 33 per cent respectively in Algeria and Tunisia. In Asia, the second official estimate of the Indian crop was about 30 million bushels under that of 1940. The production in the Orient now appears likely to exceed that of 1940 because of acreage increases and better than expected yields in central and west China. Increases of about 20 million bushels in this area will more than offset the indicated reduction of about eight million bushels in Japanese production.
 In the southern hemisphere, late reports indicate that acreage reductions are not as large as earlier estimates. Weather conditions in the Argentine have been favorable for seeding and germination and the early seeded grain made generally good growth. Seeding in Australia made good progress following early June rains but sub-soil moisture is still deficient and some reduction from the 1940 acreage appears probable.
 A continuation of the wheat flour and wheat export program into 1941-1942 was announced by the Department July 15. Under this program, payments at rates announced from day to day will be made in connection with flour exported from continental United States to the Philippine Islands, the Virgin Islands and to any country or place in the Americas and adjacent islands, except Porto Rico, Alaska and the Canal Zone and to islands east of the Americas lying on or west of 40 degrees west longitude. Under the wheat program, exporters will bid for wheat for export to such foreign countries as may be designated by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation.

"Down Argentine Way"

This weeks offering at the Kendrick Theatre, a great musical extravaganza, all in technicolor, and headed by two well-known and well-liked stars, Don Ameche and Betty Grable, plus Carmen Miranda, the "South American Bombshell" in a sensational debut, boasting eight new and weird songs, a 6,000-mile whirlwind romance—all take place in this fine show, probably the best one ever shown on the local screen for many months.
 It's all in technicolor, and some 35,000 miles were traveled by train, plane and automobile and a special crew was dispatched to Buenos Aires, where most of the film's action is set.
 These three performers are the finest in their lines, and the hot songs and dances of Carmen Miranda all spice and color to a fine show.
 In addition, motion pictures taken by local residents, of the Fourth of July parade, and Canadian scenery, as well as the usual shorts will be shown.

U. S. GOLD HOARD IS VERY ACUTE ENIGMA

What would you do with $18,187,875,598 in gold?
 Federal government officials, senators, representatives and some of the economists, fearful that the United States will accumulate all, or most of the world's gold and "be stuck with it," are pondering what to do with the huge gold hoard.
 Adolf A. Berle, Jr., assistant secretary of state, speaking at Yale university, suggested that the United States might be willing to make a gift of some gold to assist in the reconstruction of Europe after the war.
 "It seems fantastic today," Berle said, "to suggest handing over some of our accumulated gold as a free gift to reestablish international currency, to let other nations set their houses in order and thereby re-establish trade and normal life. But this may not seem nearly as fantastic a few years hence."
 Berle's suggestion is only one. Elsewhere have sprung up these proposals, plans and schemes:
 1. Purchase of foreign-owned islands off the American coasts for defense bases.
 2. Purchase of foreign-owned territories on the American continent as sources of rubber and other needed raw materials.
 3. Distribution of all, or a large portion of the gold hoard in old-age or other pensions.
 4. Purchase of surplus American commodities for free distribution to the unemployed.
 5. Reduction of the public debt.
 6. Purchase of large amounts of tin, manganese, chrome, nickel and other strategic materials to insure sufficient stocks in case of war.
 7. Expansion of the currency by issuing a larger volume of paper money, backed by the buried gold.
 8. Loans to "solvent" foreign countries to support their monetary systems and enable them to continue trading with the United States after the war.
 Some economists believe that, even if no deliberate action to reduce the gold hoard is taken, the amount held may diminish after the war. The gold piling up here, they explain, comes:
 1. From the favorable balance of trade resulting from the fact that the United States now exports far more materials than it imports. When the war ends this trend may be reversed.
 2. From war-frightened nations seeking a safe place for their treasure. It is expected that at least some of the gold will be recalled in peacetime.
 E. A. Goldensweiser, research director of the federal reserve board, and one of the nation's outstanding gold experts, sums up the situation as one which must depend, for its eventual solution, on restoration of world trade and monetary stability after the war is over.

Idaho National Guard 4,000

The Idaho national guard now has 201 officers, 1 warrant officer and 3,778 enlisted men, Adj. Gen. M. G. McConnell, guard commander, said on his return from inspecting new armory buildings at St. Anthony, Rexburg and Pocatello.
 "A fine new building is being erected to house company G of the 116th medical regiment at St. Anthony," he pointed out. "In Rexburg a $113,000 structure was started Wednesday for the anti-tank battery G of the 183rd field artillery. It will be completed some time this fall."
 "The new building at Pocatello is all completed according to original plans, but an addition will have to be made later for motor and gun storage."
 Three divisions, battery B and battery H of the 183rd field artillery and company C of the 116th engineers are scheduled to return there this fall, General McConnell said, but present moves in Washington to retain guardsmen in federal service would preclude that possibility.

Sunday Last Hot Day

Sunday seems to have been the last of our really hot weather in the passing parade of the thermometer tubes, when the mercury reached a high point of 95 degrees. Since that time the column has been hitting around the upper half of the 80 division, and there is a great deal easier for everyone, but especially for the man in the field, not to mention the business men of this section.
 However, there has been one real consolation and help during all of this weather — there hasn't been a night so far this year but that cover was required by the sleepers — and that means a lot.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—The recent hot wave has certainly been a "ring-tailed rip-snorter," but anyway, when you brought in your cream to the Thomas Creamery you didn't have to "pay the kitty" (put money in a parking meter) for the privilege of parking and delivering that cream to us — and we paid cash "on the barrel head" — and it was several degrees cooler in Kendrick while you were doing your shopping here.

But speaking of cool places — isn't it a nice feeling to step inside our cooler and notice the thermometer reading below zero — and know what your frozen fruits, vegetables and meats are safe and ready for use at a moment's notice? If you haven't tried our service on cream, try it today — and if you are not already using a locker box, get one on your next trip to town. Put up your vegetables and berries the modern way — freeze them!

War Talk

Major: "What is a maneuver?"
Recruit: "Something you put on the grass to make it green, sir."

Asylum Warden: "So you think you are sane now? If I give you your freedom will you leave women and liquor alone?"
Inmate: "I sure will."
Warden: "You better stay here. I think you're still crazy."

Just how serious a lady's injuries were in an accident which occurred recently, it is hard to tell, because the paper spoke thusly of the mishap: "Mrs. Wilson, in attempting to get out of the way of the auto, fell to the pavement, injuring her somewhat."

Present 1942 Program

County and community AAA committeemen were preparing this week to present their 1942 wheat crop insurance program to winter wheat producers in the county. A meeting of all committeemen was held July 23, at which new phases of the coming year's program were discussed. H. F. Koster, committeeman in charge of crop insurance, said the actual contract work will begin as soon as possible. Wheat crop insurance, which was taken out by 11,088 Idaho wheat growers last year on the crop now being harvested, may be signed up on the AAA wheat acreage allotment of any farm. Deadline for applying is August 30, or before seeding the 1942 crop, whichever is earlier, the committeeman explained, because selective risks must be avoided in administering a national program. Crop insurance guarantees 75 per cent of normal yield regardless of drought, hail, rust, insects, or any other natural hazard. The 1942 program contains four changes from the 1941 program, the committeeman said. First change makes possible premium payments by a deduction of the amount of the farmer's premium from any indemnity he might receive in the event of a crop loss, from his AAA benefit payments or his government wheat loan, whichever is made first. Second change requires that owners and cooperators insuring one farm in a county must insure all their farms in that county. The third change makes only one application for insurance necessary regardless of how many farms a man insures, although each farm is covered by a separate contract. The fourth, extends coverage of the insurance until the last day of October. Insurance has expired the first day of October formerly.

Donkey Softball Game

Tuesday evening of next week Kendrick ball fans will have an opportunity to see a side-splitting soft ball game on the local diamond, when Blewett's Grocery takes on the Kendrick Bean Growers in a game of B Z Donkey softball.

In this mad and hilarious scramble of ball and riding, all the players on the team taking the field, with the exception of the pitcher and catcher, are mounted on donkeys. If the batter makes a hit, he must select one of three donkeys standing nearby, mount it and ride to first base before any of the fielders can make the put out, which must be done from "donkey back."

This is softball at its most hilarious stage, and gives every indication of an evening of real fun.

In preparation for this contest the local diamond is to be lighted, and parking arrangements made for cars in the safety zones about the field.

It is stated that the donkeys' names are Eusebeus, Jack, Dynamite, Silver, Powder, Rags, Liz, Betty, Mollie, and Oreano, and that the players mount them at their own risk.

A nominal charge will be made for the game, the proceeds to go to the Kendrick Softball Association, which is "somewhat in the red."

All in all, it should be a riot to see our local players "galloping" madly about the diamond on donkeys (which are sometimes said to have ideas of their own) and this sport event is worthy of local support, since admission has never been charged for the local softball games.

Elsewhere will be found an ad. with more details.

Mass For Claude Stanton

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered next Saturday, July 26th, at 9:00 a. m. in the Catholic church, for the repose of the soul of Mr. Claude Stanton. Because of the circumstance of his death, it was impossible to have the full Catholic funeral service at that time, so this Mass will be offered instead. Immediately after Mass, the grave will be blessed.

IDAHO DRY BEAN CROP FORECAST AT 1,782,000 BAGS

A dry bean crop of 1,782,000 bags is indicated for Idaho, based on conditions as of July 1. A crop of this size would be about seven per cent larger than the 1940 crop, and about 18 per cent larger than the average. The acreage indicated is to be 17 per cent larger than last year, or 132,000 acres. Cool, wet weather at planting time was not too favorable for the crop, however, and prospects at the first of the month pointed to yields per acre somewhat smaller than have been harvested the past few years. The weather was more favorable toward the end of June and condition of the crop was improving. There have been some reports that curly top has been showing up in some fields in south central Idaho.

Plantings of all classes of beans are reported to have been increased this year, with small whites, contract seed beans, and beans classed as "other edible" apparently increasing between 20 and 35 per cent of 1940 acreages. The acreage of Great Northerns is increased about 15 per cent and that of small reds about three per cent.

The bean crop is off to a good start in New England and New York, where weather conditions during planting time were favorable and stands generally good. In Michigan, where the crop is in various stages of development, early plantings suffered slight frost damage in early June and some late plantings have poor stands but prospects are generally far above average yields. The favorable price situation has encouraged growers to expand the acreage in New York and Michigan, although there was a shortage of farm labor in western New York during spring planting. In Montana and Wyoming the cool, wet spring retarded growth and in Montana stands are reported spotted and considerable replanting has been necessary. In most western states, the outlook for summer irrigation water is good and in non-irrigated areas where the crop was planted later than usual spring moisture was above normal. Prospects in Colorado are good on a reduced acreage. Planting conditions were fairly favorable in New Mexico and in Arizona. In California, moisture conditions are very favorable and a moderate increase in large and baby lima bean and white bean acreage is reported. Stands of all varieties are good and the current condition of Limas is the second highest ever reported.

Garth Hill Writes Of Army Life

Vancouver Bks., Wn., July 16. Kendrick Gazette

Gentlemen: I am writing to express my thanks and appreciation for the copies of the Gazette I am receiving. I regret that I haven't written to you before this, but the first copies came during the maneuvers at Hunter-Liggett. As soon as the maneuvers were over we left for home—Vancouver Barracks, and I didn't have a chance to write, but I surely enjoy the paper. It gives a chance to find out what many of my friends are doing.

It is sure great to be back in barracks. The regiment spent 11 weeks in California, and now we can really appreciate many things we did without. The day the regiment returned was the first time many of us had had hot water to shave and bathe in. Now we have comfortable quarters instead of tents with beds on the ground.

Now the regiment is receiving advanced training and practice in pontoon bridge and footbridge building, training with assault boats for landing during bridge building, and various other subjects relative to active combat. More than likely some of these bridges will be used during August maneuvers at Fort Lewis.

The pontoon bridges are built with steel girders and braces hold the boats in their proper positions. Heavy planks are used for decking. The pontoon bridges will carry from ten to 25 ton loads, the loads varying with the size of pontoon boat used. Most of the army's mobile equipment can use these bridges.

After the Fort Lewis maneuvers are over, we go in the rifle range again. Everyone is looking forward to the time when we go up to the range. Competition on the range always creates a lot of interest among the men.

This seems to cover all of our present activities, so will close. Thanks again for the Gazette.

Sincerely yours,
Garth Hill.

Sponsoring Aluminum Drive

The Boy Scouts of Kendrick, in cooperation with Edgar Long and Scout Leader Welen Davis, are conducting a drive for old aluminum, in line with the national defense drives for that product being conducted all over the country.

A stockade or collection pen is now prepared at one end of the city park, and housewives, or anyone else having any old aluminum kettles, pans, etc., of that metal that have outlived their usefulness, are asked to please add them to the pile at the park.

The Boy Scouts of Kendrick will conduct a house-to-house canvass of the town, and possibly of Juliaetta in an effort to keep this pile growing.

Scrap aluminum of any kind is welcome.

Garands At 1,000 Per Day

The production of Garand semi-automatic rifles now has reached the 1,000-a-day mark and, in the opinion of Robert A. Patterson, the under secretary of war, the nation's rifle problem has been solved. "Right now we have more than 200,000 Garands with the troops," Patterson's statement said. "It will be only a few months before every soldier who is authorized to carry one... will have one of these fine rifles."

Describing production of the rifle last year as 250 a day, he said 1,500 a day would soon be turned out.
