Large Elevator Being Built

The Genesee Union Warehouse company is progressing nicely with their new 17-bin addition to their west-end elevator. The new addition, it is stated, will consist of 17 bins, each measuring 13 feet in diameter inside, and 100 feet in height, and will add 230,000 bushels to the capacity of that plant. A crew of 60 men are working in two shifts. The tubes are made of reinforced concrete.
This new addition will probably give Genesee as large an elevator capacity as any town in the entire Palouse country.

GRAIN MARKET

In certain local areas. In much of the western part of North Dakota and Montana, wheat is ripening very rapidly and present indications are that stem rust will not be an important factor.

Stocks of old wheat July 1, exclusive of merchant mill stocks, totaled 305,008,000 bushels; on farms 89,097,000; in country mills and elevators 73,240,000; and commercial stocks 142,671,000 bushels. This is compared with farm stocks of 83,146,000 bushels; country mill and elevator stocks of 33,518,000; and commercial stocks of 84,187,000 bushels for the same time last year.

Hot, dry weather and winds over most of the Canadian Prairie provinces has caused serious deterioration in spring wheat prospects in Saskatchewan and Alberta, while showers and good sub-soil moisture reserves in Manitoba has minimized the effect of high temperatures and only slight deterioration has occurred in Manitoba. Grasshopper damage is becoming more prevalent in southern Saskatchewan.

Wheat seeding in Argentina is well advanced. Conditions have been favorable to planting and a substantial acreage is anticipated. The slight drought conditions in the north and west areas have about disappeared and sub-soil moisture is now good and the appearance of young plants satisfactory. Fair rains in Australia last week relieved dryness, but main areas of New South Wales and Victoria still need rain. In Russia, harvest in early areas made rapid progress and 10 million acres were reported out to last week-end, compared with six million last year. Quality is reported very good. In the Balkan countries rain is delaying harvests. Production in Italy and Spain is reported below normal needs. Scandinavian prospects were somewhat improved, but still below normal.

In an almost unprecedented action effective July 25, following similar action already taken at other important midwestern terminals, the Association of American Railroads placed an embargo on all grain, including flaxseed or soybeans for movement to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Superior or Itasca, unless the shipper or consignor files an affidavit that the grain has been sold or is intended to be sold and is not for storage. If authorized by the CCC the embargo does not apply to grain shipped to or by the CCC nor does it apply to shipments for the account of others, provided the loading railroad is furnished satisfactory evidence that storage space is available and such shipment will be accepted and promptly unloaded on arrival.

Tough Luck By The Bunch

Over at Peshigo, Wisconsin, the other day—95 degree heat caused Jack Skowlund to stop for a rest. He sat down on a stump containing a bees' nest and got stung. He took off his shirt to apply a mud plaster to the stung area and his shirt blew into a barbed wire fence. His shirt was torn and when he recovered it, Skowlund seriously lacerated one of his hands. He started to jump into his truck, but missed the running board and sprained an ankle. When he got to the doctor's office, Skowlund learned he had also gotten into a patch of poison ivy!

All real success is built on failures. Those who are not discouraged by discouragement are the only sure winners of any undertaking.

Death Takes Many Americans

London, July 16.—A. P.—Britain's civilian war raid casualties from January 1, 1940, to June 30, 1941, totaled 41,900 killed and 52,673 hospitalized, W. Mabane, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of home security, announced in the House of Commons.

U. S. A.—During the same 18 months, while the people were killed by warfare in Britain, 51,760 persons were killed and more than a million and a half others were injured in peace-time traffic accidents in the United States. The economic loss due to the accidents was estimated at five million dollars, according to reports received by the Idaho Safety Bureau of the Department of Law Enforcement.

This calculable cost of the accidents has year and the first half of the current year, including the property damage, time and wages lost, medical bills of the injured persons, insurance, interference in production and the hampering of the national defense program, would pay 60 per cent of the money appropriated by Congress on the Lend-Lease bill, or it would be an amount sufficient to build 40,000 planes, thousands of tanks and anti-aircraft guns or a two-ocean navy for the United States.

Defense activities, both directly and indirectly, through making possible increased use of pleasure cars, are a source of a large share of the traffic deaths, which was about 20 per cent more for the first six months of this year over the same period in 1940. The increased traffic, occasioned by the extensive national defense program, together with the big increase caused by the closing of channels of travel abroad as a result of the war, have been some of the factors for the mounting traffic fatalities in the United States.

Gigantic sums are being expended in the bloody conflict which now embroils the world with its enormous loss of life, while the peace-time slaughtering of innocent people upon United States highways continues unchecked.

Last year 61,190 letters containing money reached the dead letter office at Washington, D. C. because they could not be delivered or returned to the sender, they were retained. They contained a total of $85,326.69.

Judy Canova In "Sis Hopkins"

This week's offering at the Kendrick Theatre will be a rip-roaring comedy-musical, Judy Canova in "Sis Hopkins." Also in the cast are Bob Crosby and his band, Susan Hayward, Charles Butterworth, Elvia Allman, Mary Almslee, Carole Adams and Jerry Colonna.

Laid in the home of a retired millionaire, who is sick and tired of his wife's social ambitions, and of her socialite friends, this picture opens with a bang, and keeps the fun humming from start to finish. It's said to be a merry mix-up of girls, socialites, college professors, etc.

It's good clean entertainment for those of all ages.

In addition, the usual shorts will be shown.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Here we are right square in the middle of harvest, and from all indications this will be one of the bumper years of the Potlatch — although just what the government is going to do with all the wheat it is going to own is a "puzzler" to us. But, perhaps, like F. D. R.'s fishing trips, it's just something we do not understand, for the papers are full of reports of terminal elevators crowded to capacity — and further shipments refused.

The bean market also seems to be a puzzle — for it's supposed to be a government pegged price — and still market operators are afraid to buy more than day to day needs.

Well, it seems that the thing to do is let somebody else worry about that — and let us tell you that we want to buy your cream, and rent you a locker box. Try us, you'll like our cash and our service.

A man received a couple of tickets for a show from one of his friends. Finding that he would be unable to attend he rang up some friends and said: "An unfortunate dinner engagement keeps me from attending the show tonight; could you use the tickets?"

"We should be glad to do so," was the reply, "but we are your unfortunate hosts."

Recreation is any work you don't have to do for a living.

"Your boy friend talks too much. He rattles on like a flivver. I'm afraid he's a flat tire."

"I know, Dad, but his clutch is grand."

Honeymoon is over when he starts looking in the morning paper, instead of her eyes.

The Editor's Beatitudes
 The following was copied from the Publishers' Auxiliary, sometimes called "The Printers' Bible." It was written by Mrs. May Converse, conductor of the "Conversations" column in the Wellsville (Kans.) Globe:

Blessed are the merchants who advertise, because they believe in it and their business, for their prosperity shall increase many fold.

Blessed are the country correspondents who send in their well written items every week, for some of their friendly neighborhood shall go abroad in the land.

Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or wedding, for she shall see the details of the functions and the names of her guests correctly reported.

Aluminum Drive Successful
 The drive for old aluminum in Kendrick, under the sponsorship of the Boy Scouts, assisted by their leader, Wayland Davis, and Edgar Long, has been quite successful, with somewhere around 100 pounds collected, and practically all of this from Kendrick, very little being reported as coming in from the outside.

The drive will be continued for a few days more.

Watch For Playgrounds
 Although the schools have been closed for the summer for some time, motorists should not relax their vigilance to the necessity for them to watch their speed when passing school house ground and playgrounds. Drivers should remember that there will be more children out-of-doors at vacation time than during the school season. The safety bureau of the law enforcement department urges that the same care should be exercised in driving by the school even in the summer, for the children after times use the playground equipment in the school yard during the summer.

Commissioner J. L. Balderston of the Law Enforcement Department pointed out that there will be more children using the highways during the vacation period than when the schools are in session. He said more children will be riding bicycles than ever before. The national statistics show that the sale of bicycles the first six months of the current year has exceeded all other years.

Windmills In Vermont
 Up in the rock-ribbed hills of Republican Vermont an experiment is going forward—huge windmills are being erected to furnish auxiliary electric power. Four years of research are behind these windmills. Private capital is building them. The huge propeller blades which will presently catch the winds atop Grandpa's Knob are no New Deal fantasy. Hardheaded stalwarts are staking their dollars on the venture.

We do not know how the experiment will turn out. Perhaps the Vermont individualists will lose the money they are putting in the venture. Perhaps they are starting something a thousand others will copy. But one admires them for using the good old American way to find out the value of their ideas.

These Vermonters did not take their ideas to Washington as the basis of a "project." They did not look to Uncle Sam to do the experimenting for them. They took the direct way. With their own money they developed their plans. With their own money they will complete them—for profit or loss. —Milwaukee Journal.

A Penny For Your Thoughts
 A man was discovered by his wife one night, standing over the baby's crib. Silently she watched him. As he stood looking down at the sleeping infant, she saw in his face a mixture of emotions: rapture, doubt, admiration, despair, ecstasy, incredulity. Touched and wondering alike at this unusual parental attitude and the conflicting emotions, the wife, with eyes glistening, arose and slipped her arm around her husband.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said in a voice tremulous with emotion.

Startled into consciousness, he blurted out: "For the life of me, I can't see how anybody can make a crib like that to sell for $3.49."
