Please Bring In Bands

Any hunter having killed any Chinese pheasant on whose leg there was a band, is requested to bring the band in and deposit it in the box provided for the purpose at the Kendrick Bean Growers, together with a note telling where the bird was killed.

This is being done in an effort to trace the migration of the Chinks, and Marvin Long, chairman of the local Fish and Game committee says that the cooperation of sportsmen in this vicinity will be greatly appreciated.

W. S. C. S. Meeting

The W. S. C. S. met last Friday afternoon in the church basement with Mrs. R. L. Blewett presiding. A short business meeting took place, at which time the stove committee gave a report on the used electric stoves available. The group then voted to accept the electric range donated by the Kendrick Bean Growers, and to pay for the necessary wiring in the church.

The treasurer's report was presented, showing approximately $40.00 on hand, and with but few small bills to be paid.

The Circle chairman reported their work would be finished in time for the bazaar on Nov. 27.

The devotional meeting was then lead by Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

Mrs. Lowell Mason, program chairman, took charge. Her topic was: "The Things That Make For Peace." Mrs. R. L. Blewett and Mrs. W. L. McCreary also read papers on different phases of the same subject.

Mrs. Marvin Powell gave a piano solo, and Mrs. Roy Murray sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Schupfer.

Refreshments were then served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Harry Benson, Mrs. Paul Lind, Mrs. R. L. Blewett and Mrs. W. L. McCreary.

A Correction

In setting the article last week regarding the Court of Awards held by the Girl Scouts, an error was made regarding those wishing to join the Scouts, the statement saying "the six graduates and their mothers were invited guests," when it should have read: "The sixth grade school girls wishing to join the organization, and their mothers, were invited to attend the meeting."

Girls receiving the second-class rank badge and the cooking badge were Ruth Biddison, Margaret Cook, Gay Deobald, Barbara Stedman, Erma Landon, Beverly Schupfer and Patty McCreary.

"Brigham Young"
One of the greatest historical pictures since "The Covered Wagon" will be seen at the Kendrick Theatre this coming Friday and Saturday nights, when "Brigham Young" will be shown. This fearless plainsman with 20,000 of his followers fled from persecution at Nauvoo, Illinois, to the promised land in the west, and where Young later caused one of the best known cities in the nation today to be built—Salt Lake City. He led his followers through torments, freezing cold, blistering heat, across 1800 miles of trackless wasteland—and in a blistered basin of salt and sageland he made a verdant farmland—the Great Salt Lake valley. Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell carry the leading roles.

Red Cross, OCD Look to Volunteers For Civil Defense

Washington, D. C.—To the question, "What can I do for America?" the Red Cross is providing an answer for hundreds of thousands of men and women who want to do their part on the civilian defense front.
For women, the Red Cross is providing an 80-hour training course to recruit a corps of 100,000 Nurse's Aides. It is the Red Cross' newest project, undertaken at the request of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense to relieve the current pressure on nursing facilities.
With thousands of nurses being taken into military service with our armed forces, civilian nursing has suffered a direct blow, the Red Cross points out. Moreover, the defense program has created additional health problems which has heightened the need for civilian nursing.
Red Cross Nurse's Aides will serve as assistants to registered nurses, performing scores of important duties which will enable nurses to care for more cases. The Red Cross stresses that Nurse's Aides will not take the place of the registered nurse, but will serve in an auxiliary capacity.
On the more dramatic side of civilian defense, the Red Cross is gearing its far-flung disaster fighting machine to handle mass feeding, housing and clothing of exacuses under wartime conditions. In cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense, chapters are strengthening disaster relief committees to cope with man-made disaster much on the same scale as relief operations following natural catastrophe. Organization along these lines include preparedness measures for fires, explosions and epidemics which may be expected to result from accelerated industrial activity incident to national defense or sabotage.
Strictly as a precautionary measure, the Red Cross is devising means of confronting emergency relief in the event of sporadic air or sea attacks, considered conceivable hazards in some coastal and boundary areas.
The need for First Aid in civilian defense has not been neglected by the Red Cross. Last year nearly 600,000 were trained in emergency treatment of the injured. This year the figure is expected to go much higher with special emphasis being placed on the formation of detachments which would serve as units in factories, office buildings, schools and other places where persons are concentrated.
Red Cross courses in Home Nursing and in Nutrition also are being expanded as a feature of the civilian defense program, it was pointed out. Mounting health hazards and the shortage of civilian nurses may at any time obligate the housewife—or even the man of the house—to assist in caring for the sick. Likewise, the Red Cross is placing greater emphasis on Nutrition courses designed to teach householders the art of purchasing and preparing well-balanced meals within the range of the family pocketbook.

Bean Prospects In Idaho

Idaho bean crop prospects remained unchanged during September and production is still estimated (October 1) to be 1,914,000 bags (100 lbs., uncleaned). A crop this size would be the third largest Idaho crop on record, being surpassed only by the 1930 and 1931 production of 1,915,000 bags and 2,024,000 bags respectively. Favorable weather conditions during September for maturing and harvesting of beans in the eastern states and in Michigan, caused the total bean crop estimate for the United States to be increased by 681,000 bags. On October 1 (this year) the U. S. bean crop was expected to total 18,226,000 bags, 13 per cent larger than last year's production and 37 per cent above the 1930-39 average.
Normally a crop this size would have a depressing effect on prices received by producers for beans. However, the government bean purchase program, together with a greater consumer purchasing power, is expected to offset the effect of large supplies on price.

Think It Over?
If you find yourself growing set in your ways, if you demur about making new friends, going to new places, unsetting your habits about food, sleep or recreation, hesitate to take on new work, read the same kind of books, what you need is a mental jarring. Today, a man must keep mentally alert and young irrespective of his belltime or arteries.

EDITORIAL

Well, folks—Here it is almost the middle of November—and the Republicans have succeeded in wresting a few more nice days from the Democratic politicians. But now, to cap it all off—comes F. D. R.'s proclamation of another Democratic Thanksgiving Day—Thursday, November 20. It just seems as if that man can't be satisfied with more power than most kings—he's just got to issue proclamations about this and that every now and then—and tinkering with the calendar seems to be one of his favorite pastimes.

By the way—the recent influx of game has caused us to rent a number of locker boxes—have you got yours? If not, come in and make your selection today. And remember—those cans of cream, brought to us, will give you the where-with-all to purchase those added "fixings" for that Thanksgiving dinner.

Mother: "Why are you angry at your boy friend?"
Daughter: "He promised not to kiss me . . . and he kept his word!"

Mary: "What kind of a dress did Betty wear to the party last night?"
Jack: "I don't know, but I think it was checked."

Mary: "Boy! What a party!"
Young Miss: "If I take this castor oil will I be well enough to get up in the morning?"
Doctor: "Oh, yes! Long before morning, in fact!"

Farmer: "And this, Madam, is a cider press."
Citybred: "How interesting! When do you run off the next edition?"

GRAIN MARKETS

In Europe the weather has been more seasonal recently, and work in the fields has been rushed. Plowing and seeding operations are still backward on the continent as a whole. With the continuation of favorable weather conditions it may still be possible for a normal acreage to be seeded. Moisture supplies are ample, and the condition of the early seeded grain is reported as favorable.

In Argentine moisture supplies in most sections are sufficient for the immediate needs, but additional rains soon will be required if the recent improvement in crop conditions are to be maintained.

Wheat stocks on October 1 totaled 1,165,121,000 bushels. Of this quantity 154,902,000 bushels were stored in merchant mills; 223,975,000 bushels in country mills and elevators; 492,324,000 on farms; and commercial stocks were 284,920,000 bushels.

Wheat on loan through November 1 totaled 295,156,000 bushels. Of this quantity 78,405,505 bushels were on farms and 216,751,171 bushels were stored in public warehouses. The Federal Crop Insurance corporation on October 15, had issued loans to 437,633 farmers, mostly in 1942 winter wheat, in contrast with 420,886 written on both winter and spring wheat acreages for 1941.

Does Congress Understand?

The fact that the defense program has not lived up to forecasts, largely because of a shortage of certain basic materials, should cause Congress to turn thumbs down on any and all construction projects which are not absolutely necessary.

The St. Lawrence project would be an excellent place to start. If this grandiose project were approved, it would require, over a period of many years, tremendous quantities of materials, plus billions of man-hours of labor, which are needed for real and indispensable defense activity.

"All out" defense effort involves two things. First, it means that all the energies of the country be given to building an impregnable military machine. Second, and equally important, it means that all governmental non-essential spending must be abandoned. Does Congress understand that obvious fact?

Judson Lee Writes Of Navy

San Diego, Calif.
November 5, 1941

Dear Friends:

I am writing this short letter to let you know of my change of address, and also let you know how this 'little 'ole' Kendrick boy is getting along.

Last week I was transferred from Mare Island to San Diego, where I am attending Dental school. I surely hated to leave Mare Island, but I have gotten the school I have wanted for some time, so I guess I can stand it. Our barracks are not nearly as good, and our chow is nothing compared to what we had at the Island. Everyone gets fat on it, however, so don't guess it will hurt me.

I mentioned that I was going to dental school, but it really isn't what I'd call a school. It is all practical work. So far I have helped the doctor with drilling and filling teeth, kept the instruments sterile, mixed amalgam, and kept the records straight. Eventually I will start doing a little more. I believe that I am going to like it very much.

I only have to stand one watch out of six, so they are pretty well spread out. I stand them at the main dispensary here at the training station. I get liberty every night and every week-end except the times I have to watch. I believe I'll stick pretty close to home though, because there are about a million, and one too many sailors in San Diego.

I have talked to Donald Jones, Floyd Swenson, and some other boys from Deary since I arrived here. All are fine.

Am looking forward to getting my next issue of the Gazette, and thank you.

A Sailor Boy,
Judson I. Lee.

Chink Season Over

Yesterday (Wednesday) marked the end of the 1941 bird hunting season, with chinks and huns more plentiful at this time than for many years past.

The earlier season, coupled with the reduced hunting days and reduced bag limit, has undoubtedly gone far toward leaving more birds "for seed" than ordinarily.

Birds, at the start of the season, were more plentiful than for years past, and if a mild winter again occurs, that, coupled with the abundant feed remaining in fields and draws, will undoubtedly make for an even better season next year.

To Select AAA Committeemen

Farmers cooperating with the AAA program in this section are urged to attend the meeting to be held this coming Saturday, Nov. 15, at 1:30, in the town hall for the purpose of selecting committeemen for the ensuing year.

At this meeting the 1942 farm program will be discussed, with special stress placed upon changes from the 1941 program, and new provisions which have been included. You, as a farmer in this county, are responsible for selecting farm program leaders for next year, says H. F. Koster, chairman of the Latah county ACA.

Bridge Now In Use

The new bridge at the mouth of Wauncher gulch, was finished last week, with the laying of the black-top mat on the planking, and now trucks are busy putting gravel on the approaches, which also were completed last week-end.

A state shovel has been busy the past two days hauling trucks from the stock pile of gravel between Kendrick and Julietta, and they in turn are surfacing the road.

The American Ship of State will never be sunk, if we have enough battleships for defense. You can help build them by making a habit of buying Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps.
