VOLUME 52

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1941

NO. 2

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Leslie and Ernest Roberts closed a deal the first of the week for the lease of the concrete garage, owned and recently managed by Adam Wagner. The new managers took possession the first of the year. Mr. Wagner has conducted the business very successfully for the past two years, but decided to lease the building and sell the stock of automobile supplies, as he has other plans in view. Roberts Brothers will make good as proprietors of the "Kendrick Auto Co." which will be the name of the garage. Kendrick is now well equipped with automobile mechanics, there being a total of four in the two garages.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Hanson entertained the members of the Circle Card club and a number of friends at a watch party New Year's eve. It was one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the holiday season. The club's favorite game of "500" was an interesting feature of the evening and Walter Thomas was the successful competitor for high score. Walter McCrea, Jr., also won a prize. Mrs. Hanson, assisted by Miss Mabel Eichner, served dainty refreshments, consisting of fruit salad, chicken and sandwiches, nut sherbet, cake and coffee.

Kester Dammaroll returned to his school work at the University of Idaho, Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Mr. Oehler of the firm of Van Arsdal & Oehler of Lewiston brought a party of surveyors here Wednesday morning to finish the survey of the strip of road between the Bear creek bridge and the mouth of Wauncher Gulch. This work was finished Wednesday morning and the survey started around the Powell hill. The highway commissioners are anxious to get the survey finished as they wish to let a contract immediately for the building of a good, wide grade around this hill, not to exceed five per cent. This will eliminate the barrier between the two towns and will be the beginning of a new road, connecting the two places.

Amos Moore closed a deal last week for the purchase of the A. W. Jones cottage, located just back of the school house. Mr. Moore bought the property so that his children might have a convenient location while attending school in Kendrick.

The highest price paid on the Spokane market for steers was reached a few days ago when 28 fat animals, averaging 1121 pounds, brought $7.25 per 100.

John Waide drove here from Deary last Sunday to be with his family New Year's Day. He ruined a perfectly good tire making the trip and said the roads are very rough.

Jake Grinolds, a resident of Lewiston Orchards, spent the first of the week here visiting his parents. Jake has four acres of his orchard tract planted to head lettuce. He expects to get $3,000 an acre for it next spring, and if he does, has promised to divide 50-50 with ye editor.

Ben Callison and son Nora drove to Peck last Saturday to visit over the week-end with relatives. Ben said that while he was at Peck a party served a 40-pound salmon in the Clearwater.

Cold Clamps Down

January 1 — the New Year — came in very quietly in this section, for it was just a bit too cold to permit of any real "whoopie" even among those with an inclination to create it. For on that night the thermometer decided to co-operate with the weather man in giving this section a "New Deal" — and did they do a job of it. On that night the mercury column dropped to zero in Kendrick, and to 6 below on the ridges.

Friday night it was a bit warmer — the column indicating but 10 above. Saturday night it dropped to 6 above; Sunday night 6 below in town, and as low as 16 below reported on the ridges.

Plenty Of Coasting

The youngsters in town are certainly having the time of their lives coasting these days, although the dry snow and meager depth (about 2 inches) does not make for extra good going.

However, the school house hill and its approach on Main street are in use from the time school is out until late evening every night. The youngsters have somewhat of a system, taking turns standing at the foot of the hill and watching for cars, while the others coast.

It is, at best, rather a dangerous place, however.

Skating is reported as "N. G." — as those who have tried it. They say that snow, frozen on the ice, has made it too rough, as well as retarding the slicing runners.

He was active in community affairs, was a road overseer for 19 years, vice-president of the Bank of Juliaetta, served on the school board for 40 years, and at the time of his death was a member of the Juliaetta city council.

Cars Collide Near Juliaetta

Sunday afternoon, shortly after 1:00 o'clock, cars driven by E. N. Saldis, Juliaetta, and Norman Fritt, Spokane, collided with one driven by R. L. Blewett of Kendrick, on the Hamill hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Blewett were proceeding in the direction of Lewiston, when the two cars, headed toward Kendrick, the Fritt machine pushing the Saldis one, rounded the curve, struck the Blewett machine, throwing it into the bank on the right hand side, crumpling fenders, bending bumpers and two wheels, and generally causing severe damage.

Mrs. Blewett was thrown with great force into the windshield, and knocked unconscious. She sustained a cut over one eye that required medical attention, and a general shaking up. Mr. Blewett was not injured, nor were the occupants of the other two cars. All three cars, however, sustained considerable damage.

According to the report of Traffic Officer Harry Clark, both the Fritt and Saldis machines were improperly licensed, both carrying 1941 Washington plates. Both were cited to appear in Justice court in Moscow.

The Saldis and Fritt machines were brought to Kendrick, while the Blewett machine was taken to Lewiston.

Lewiston Lad Wounded In Air

James Austin Phillips, native son of Lewiston, 26-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wendell Phillips, 223 Twenty-sixth street, has been wounded in action "somewhere in the Pacific," according to a telegram received last Thursday by his parents from the office of the adjutant general of the war department at Washington, D. C.

The brief notification stated that Phillips, who was a member of a pursuit squadron in the Philippines when last heard from, was wounded Dec. 22.

He was graduated as an aviation cadet from Kelly Field in May.

Later information is to the effect that he was piloting an interceptor when wounded.

Mr. Phillips is a nephew of Mrs. Harold Thomas.

Walen Davis has been about town the past few days bidding friends goodbye, for he has enlisted in the United States navy, and leaves to report for duty on January 12.

His place will be taken in the store, until his return, by Ernest Davis.

Quite a number of the young men from this section have joined the navy, and their sentiments were well expressed by Walen when he said: "We'll take care of the Japs. You take care of things here at home."

New Track Patrolman

E. R. Hillebrandt and family of Rosalia arrived Friday evening to reside in their home here.

It is understood that a good many things of importance will be discussed at this meeting, and all members are urged to be present.

And remember, it isn't necessary to be a member if you have something you would like to say to the organization. You are more than welcome to attend.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE KENDRICK SCHOOLS

High School News

The members of the Home Ec. I class are very happy to report the completion of their living room project.

We're very sorry to say that attendance has dropped since the cold snap.

Hank is feeling a little better now, but Lloyd Farrington is still taking his place. Come on, Hank, we're betting on you.

The school house rang with the voices of many of our alumni last week. Those visiting were Betty Boyd, Mary Havens, Annie and Arlene Deobald, Harold Brammer, Bill Deobald, Vern Wegner, Kenneth Wilken, and Allan Johnson. Winnie Havens, not an old grad., but nevertheless one of our former classmates, also visited us.

The first semester ends the 16th of January, so the teachers and pupils are preparing for quizzes. In place of Physiography, Business Science will be offered to the Freshmen and Sophomores during the second semester.

Our Band sweaters haven't arrived yet, but we haven't, as yet, given up hope. We have, however, received some more new music. Due to the gym, being so cold, we may have to discontinue band practice for a week or so.

In Typing I, Arnold Zimmerman gave the highest average for last week, and LaDonna Galloway takes the honors in Typing II.

We're very glad to report that Estel Davis, who has been absent due to illness, has again resumed her studies.

In World History class, they have been drawing questions which can be answered from a "who am I?" Extra A's are being given to those who answer them correctly.

In F. A. class they performed a post-mortem on a pig the other day, and their diagnosis was pneumonia. (Very interesting!)

The hot lunch department wishes to thank District No. 91 (Pine Creek) for their $10.00 donation. We are having all the National Geographic Magazines bound, and now we find that one issue is missing. Anyone having a July, 1940 issue, who would like to turn it in, will find it much appreciated.

Athletics

We play our first conference game at Culesac Friday evening. We're all rooting for the boys and are sure they're going to win. Good luck, boys!

We played two games at Bovill last Friday and won both of them. The A team by the score of 25-15, and the B team by 33-16. Don Fry was high point man in the A game with 12 points. Bob Fraser carried away the honors in the B game with 19 points.

Grade News

First and Second grades — We have a new first grader. His name is Ervin Hillebrandt. The second graders are enjoying a new book called "Eye and Ear Fun."

Third and Fourth grades — A new pupil is attending in the fourth grade. He is Ronald Weststrom, from San Francisco, a nephew of Mrs. Everett Fraser. New officers elected were Patricia Long, president; Teddy Fey, vice president; Ronald Weststrom, secretary-treasurer.

Fifth and Sixth Grades — A new pupil, named John Weststrom, is enrolled in our room. We had the misfortune to lose our calceus plants, which we planted in animal-shaped flower pots. We have the pots named Blackie, Judy, Bessie, Mary, Jumbo, Donny, Shep, Squatty, Billy, Shorty, Herman, Sue and Johnny. All except Judy, the donkey, died, we're afraid, but I guess you can't kill a good democrat.

Seventh and Eighth grades — We have started drawing out the characters of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream."

Clem Lyons Writes Us

Camp Barclay, Tex., December 25, 1941

Dear Friends:

Thanks for the Kendrick Gazette, my first copy arriving yesterday. Mail call seems to be a rookie soldier's greatest pleasure, and I know why.

Camp Barclay is a new camp, only officially completed this past week. We were but in tents for two or three days when we first arrived, here then we were moved into the barracks — as the canteen's event named that large area east of the camp of 31 who came down from Fort Lewis together. Camp "B" is located about 10 miles southwest of Abilene.

I'll be very glad to hear from anyone or everyone around here. Maybe I can't write many letters, but you bet I can read all I get. Thanks again for the paper.

Sincerely

Clem Lyons

WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE IN MOST MARKETS

Both futures and cash wheat markets advanced about 1c per bushel in Pacific Northwest markets during the week ending January 2, principally reflecting firmer prices in other important domestic markets, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Trade reports indicated extension of certain farm control and aid programs into future years and the raising of price ceilings on fats and oils were factors in the stronger wheat markets. Trading in the principal markets, however, was of holiday character and averaged very dull. Cash wheat markets in the Northwest continued quiet, reflecting the holidays and generally slow demand from buyers. Current inquiry was mostly from mills and principally for high milling types, the lower grades being in very light request. New domestic flour business was reported light and export flour sales under the indemnity plan also were very small. Indemnity payments held unchanged. Moderate, but steady sales and shipments of Pacific Northwest wheat for rail shipment to Kansas were reported. Offerings by growers in the Northwest continued only moderate to light, but were reported as about sufficient for market needs. Wheat receipts by rail were only moderate, at 416 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals. Some producing areas in the Northwest are reported to have snow covering, while others are reported as still bare.

Cash wheat bid prices at Portland on January 2 showed soft white at 96½c; soft white with Rex not applicable at 98½c; white club at $1.00; western red at 98½c and ordinary hard red winter at 97½c per bushel, basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

The San Francisco wheat market turned somewhat stronger, influenced principally by advances in other markets and light local offerings. While current demand was only moderate, prices advanced around 2½c per 100 compared with the previous week. Central California growers continued to hold their remaining supplies quite firmly, although bids of around $1.75 to $1.80 per 100, country warehouse basis for No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white were around 55c per 100 above those of a year ago. Most mill needs were being placed in Intermountain and Pacific Northwestern states because of small central California offerings of good milling wheats.

At Minneapolis cash wheat traded within about the same range as that of the previous week. Demand averaged good for dry, sound milling wheat but a large share of the week's receipts was made up of damaged and high moisture qualities and this type was in slow demand. On January 2 ordinary No. 1 dark northern spring was quoted at Minneapolis at $1.23.

Cash winter wheat prices at Kansas City strengthened with futures, with premiums fully steady. Demand, however, was not urgent, and with most buyers holding off as much as possible until the turn of the year. Flour business remained light and although millers were working on a good back log of previous orders the holidays and inventory time restricted their operations to some extent. On January 2 No. 2 hard winter was quoted at $1.21 to $1.23 and No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at $1.22 to $1.25 per bushel.

Denver mills were bidding 98c per bushel for No. 2 hard winter and No. 2 northern spring, f. o. b. Colorado common points. Quotations on January 2, basis No. 2, f. o. b. Ogden mills were: dark hard winter and dark northern spring $1.05; hard winter and northern spring 99c; hard white $1.05; soft white $1.05 and western white $1.03 per bushel.

No. 1 soft or No. 1 hard white wheat was quoted at Los Angeles on January 2 at $2.10 per 100 pounds, sacked basis.

The condition of winter wheat continues generally satisfactory, with additional moisture helpful in more eastern sections. East of the Mississippi river grain fields were bare of snow, but temperature during the week were not low enough to be harmful. West of the Mississippi there is a substantial snow covering over the northern sections and generally in the Rocky mountain and plateau districts.

In Canada fall moisture averaged slightly higher than in 1940, but was well below the normal of 4.21 inches. Manitoba will have ample moisture reserves next spring, since rainfall prior to December was well above average. The average for Saskatchewan and Alberta, however, was only 2.28 inches this year compared with 4.45 in 1940 and a normal of 2.81 inches.

The 1941 Canadian prairie wheat crop is grading better than expected. Figures released by the Bureau of Statistics for the first four months of the season showed:

There was no material change in crop prospects in Europe. The Russian government has officially announced that large areas east of the Volga river and in Siberia and central Asia have been sown to winter grains to offset losses in occupied areas. The estimate of wheat production for the Union of South Africa places the 1941-42 crop at about 100 million bushels, or a million bushels under the 1940-41 production.

The successful business men generally met are neither optimists or pessimists, but men of just plain common sense.

INTERESTING SIDE-LIGHTS OF THE PRESENT WAR

Rangoon, Burma—"All we want is another go at the Japanese..."

That was the brief, pointed comment of two members of the American volunteer corps who with four fellow pilots hurled their six fighter planes into a formation of 27 Japanese craft which raided Rangoon.

They are A. B. Christian of Colorado and G. L. Paxton of Texas, who escaped without serious injury when their planes were lost. A third American plane was downed but its pilot was unscratched. The Japanese lost two bombers for certain and two more "probables."

Both Christian and Paxton, who are in a military hospital, trained at the Pensacola flying school and were among the first members of the American volunteer corps to arrive in the far east to guard the Burma road. The British radio reported the American volunteer corps has destroyed 60 Japanese bombers, in addition to the fighters downed, at a loss of only four of their own planes and two pilots killed. The BBC was heard in New York by NBC.

Free French to Stay
The Free French information service declared that Free French forces had not evacuated St. Pierre and Miquelon islands and that no diplomatic pressure had been exerted to this end. Replying to a German radio report claiming that the United States had caused Admiral Emil Muselier and his forces to leave these islands off Newfoundland, the information service quoted the admiral as saying: "There is no power in the world that can remove either me or any man alive from these islands. The people here chose us freely and we are bound by everything we are fighting for to remain with them to the end. If by some incredible circumstance an attempt should be made to oust us, then there is no democracy left on earth and there is nothing left for democratic men to do but die."

One Ship Per Day
The United States is launching commercial vessels at the rate of about one a day in the biggest ship-building program in its history, and the number is expected to be doubled by the end of 1942, Daily Meta-Trade said today.

Sent Out From Anchorage
Sunday evening Mrs. R. L. Blewett held a brief conversation with Mrs. Aaron Blewett from Seattle, in which she stated all army men's wives were sent out from Anchorage, Alaska, due to increasing danger at this strategic point.
Her parents live in Seattle, and she will remain with them for the time being.

America's War Victims Appeal for Your Help

YOUR RED CROSS NEEDS YOU!

First war poster of the new World War, painted by the distinguished artist James Montgomery Flagg, carries an appeal for a $50,000,000 war fund to aid the victims of aggression upon the United States and its island possessions.

To aid the victims of warfare being waged upon America and her island possessions, the American Red Cross has issued an appeal for a $50,000,000 war fund, Chairman Norman H. Davis announced from the national headquarters in Washington.

Mr. Davis urged men, women and children to give to this mercy fund through their local Red Cross Chapters. These funds will support the Chapter's war work with the families of men in the military services, as well as the broad relief program of the national Red Cross.

President Roosevelt, who is president of the American Red Cross, issued a proclamation urging all citizens to give to the Red Cross war fund.

In launching the appeal, Chairman Davis said:

"There are millions of our citizens who desire today to demonstrate their will to victory over the enemy. Not all can be in the armed forces, and not all can volunteer their services for humanitarian work, but all can volunteer their dollars to arm the Red Cross to be their representative at the scene of battle and distress.

"Today is the day to demonstrate our high morale, our unity, our determination not alone to support our President and our fighting men at the front, but also to insure to our wounded, homeless and suffering fellow citizens in our Pacific Islands that we stand one hundred per cent ready to aid them through the Red Cross."

Purchases Hund Home

According to information received by the Gazette a deal was closed last week wherein Claud Craig of Southwick became the owner of the Clarence Hund home in the west part of town.

Mr. Hund purchased this place some two years ago from H. B. Thompson, and since that time it has received considerable modernization, and is one of the finer places in town. Mr. Hund left it when he went to Seattle and accepted employment in the Boeing aircraft factory, and the place had been vacant until purchased by Mr. Craig.

He states he works eight hours a day, seven days a week, but that he thinks it the most wonderful place he ever saw. He further states that advertisements are everywhere, asking for workers. They are well fed and well housed.

No Word From Wake

HOW CHEAP IS Cheap?

How can you know that your electricity is cheap in these days of fast-changing prices? There are two ways here in the Northwest to judge electric rates. Here are your comparisons:

Your residential electric service (average cost) is LESS THAN HALF the average for the United States.

Your electric rates in Spokane, considering the taxes we pay, are LESS than the so-called Bonneville standard rates.

You can be sure that electricity IS cheap in the Inland Empire.

A PLEDGE REPEATED

Our company stands ready to distribute Grand Coulee or Bonneville power as soon as it is available, AND TO PASS ON TO ITS CUSTOMERS ANY SAVINGS WHICH RESULT. This pledge has been a part of our company's policies for many years, and we take this opportunity to restate it.

13,000 MEN PROTECT POWER PRODUCING-DISTRIBUTION

Fully trained and well equipped, an army of 13,000 electric company employees is on a 24-hour-a-day war footing to protect and maintain vital electric services to 1,150,000 users in the five Pacific Northwest states. It was reported at a meeting in Portland this week of the operating heads of the major utility companies in the area.
Any war emergency will find the companies organized to give each other prompt aid in the form of power supply, equipment, on construction and repair crews, on conference developed.

With 10,000 large and small industrial customers on their lines, many of whom are engaged in producing war materials, and with scores of airports, army camps and other defense establishments to serve, the power company leaders reflected the seriousness of their wartime responsibilities.
Plans for extending the existing power interchange and mutual assistance program to include similar co-operation between the private company group and the Bonneville-Coulee system were among important topics considered at the meeting.

Dr. Paul J. Raver, Bonneville administrator, assured representatives that his organization would work actively toward the full coordination of resources and facilities to back up the nation's all-out war effort.
Engineers have estimated that 100,000 kilowatts of effective capacity can be gained from existing installations through the complete pooling of power in the region. Already more than 250 widely separated power plants in the northwest are interconnected by 16,000 miles of transmission lines. It was reported at the meeting. Combined capacity of these plants, excluding Bonneville and Grand Coulee, is 1,800,000 kilowatts.
Served by the transmission network are the large copper and zinc producing mines and smelters of Montana and Utah, and the zinc, lead and antimony producers of Montana and northern Idaho.

These areas produce one-third of the nation's copper, now urgently needed for shell cases and scores of other critical war materials. Half of the nation's lead output comes from the region, a fifth of its zinc and important quantities of vanadium, cadmium and chrome. In addition, the region produces more than one-third of the nation's lumber.

The largest single block of the 8,000,000 kilowatt-hours produced annually by the interconnected companies goes into the production and recovery of war-needed materials.
With the demand for war materials increasing daily, the power company representatives checked over carefully their plans for meeting all possible emergency situations that might arise from accident or sabotage.

Mobility of construction and line crews through use of the companies' combined fleets of nearly 2,000 motor vehicles was brought out at the conference.

Attending the meeting were Frank Bird, president of the Montana Power company, Butte; C. J. Strike, president of the Idaho Power company, Boise; K. M. Robinson, president of the Washington Water Power company, Spokane; A. S. Cummins, president of the California Oregon Power company, Medford; Z. E. Morrill, president of the Mountain States Power company, Albany; J. E. Gretum, president of the Eastern Oregon Light & Power company, Baker; Franklin T. Griffith, chairman of the board, and J. H. Polhemus, president, of the Portland General Electric company; L. T. Merwin, president of the Northwestern Electric company; and Paul B. McKee, president of the Pacific Power & Light company.

Fun And Frolic At Theatre

This week's offering at the Kendrick Theatre will be another double bill, offering "Tropic Holiday" and "Disputed Passage."
The first of these, "Tropic Holiday," stars Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour and Ray Millard. In this picture Martha Raye "fights the bull" and Bob Burns "throws the bull." It's said to be more fun than "Waikiki Wedding." It will undoubtedly provide plenty of laughs and fun.

The second offering, "Disputed Passage," starring Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff and John Howard, is the gripping story of a young doctor torn between love and duty. It gives an insight to the scenes behind the scenes in a great hospital and research laboratory.
In addition the usual cartoon will also be shown.

Daylight Saving Law Likely

Early enactment of legislation to provide for daylight saving time throughout the nation was forecast by Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee.
Lea said he would call his committee into executive session this week to consider legislation which would authorize the president to order clocks moved forward all over the country during the war to conserve electricity.
President Roosevelt expressed a desire at a legislative conference for quick enactment of such legislation.

CONSERVATION STRESSED IN TRIPLE-A PROGRAM

The Triple-A Farm program for 1942 places greater stress than ever on conservation. H. F. Koster, chairman of the Latah county AAA committee, points out.
The "Food For Freedom" program in which all farmers in the county are participating calls for production adjustments to meet the war food needs of America and her allies. Production of foods rich in protein and vitamins, and stabilization of surplus crops such as wheat, cotton and tobacco, are equally important in making fullest possible use of the man and machine power American farmers will have at hand during the coming year.

To waste labor, machines and soil fertility to produce more than a minimum of such surplus crops as wheat would be a terrible mistake when efficient production counts as much as it does in this war.
The 1942 Triple-A program, which combines farm and range conservation programs for the first time, makes the use of 20 per cent of the cropland on each farm for "soil-conserving" crops or practices one of the requirements for qualifying for full AAA payments on wheat and potatoes.

Farmers are expected to devote one-fifth of their farm's cropland acreage to growing grasses or legumes, pasture grasses, forest trees, green manure, Austrian winter peas or vetch, or protected summer fallow on not more than half of the qualifying acreage when the balance of the qualifying acreage is devoted to one or more of the other uses.
The only other requirement for qualifying for wheat or potato conservation payments is planting within 1942 acreage allotments for these crops, as set up by farmer-committeemen. The balance of the farm acreage may be used for production of any other crop desired.
The "20 per cent conserving" requirement will make little difference on farms in irrigated areas where a substantial percentage of the cropland normally is used for production of forage crops. However, on dryland farms, it will require farmers to take active steps to build up their soil if they wish to participate in the 1942 AAA farm program.

Repair Your Machinery Now
A few pounds of repair parts for farm machinery may save a ton or more of steel for production of tanks, guns or ships, and guarantee a food supply for half a hundred allied soldiers.
"Repair Your Farm Machinery Now," was the slogan stressed this week by the Latah County USDA Defense Board in directing efforts of farmers in the county to contribute their share in the national "Food For Victory" drive sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
With a scarcity of workers and a shortage of new farm machinery facing farmers in 1942, necessity for putting present farm machinery in the very best of shape for a record-making production job during the coming year can't be over-emphasized, the board said.
By putting all equipment into condition immediately, farmers can be sure it will be ready to go when they need it, and they will avoid any possibility of losing their crops while they wait for repair parts at a later date.
Old equipment that can be repaired with parts made of a few pounds of steel will have to take the place of new machinery, releasing the extra steel for the production of equipment our armed forces will need to win the war.
Pointing out that progressive farmers regularly put their machinery in order during the slack period after the first of the year, the Defense board urged immediate attention to needs for repair parts during the coming season.
Farmers and ranchers were asked to check their machinery now for parts they will need to order the parts immediately, and to report to the Defense board any difficulty encountered in getting parts or having repairs made.
Worn out machinery on farm "junk" piles should be salvaged for usable parts and bolts, and the balance sold for scrap to fill a very serious need for reclaimed metal needed for new steel production.

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, folks — Now that the woodpeckers have ceased building a nest in our heads following New Year's Eve — It's again time to get down to business. As you undoubtedly know (if you read the papers or listen to a radio) — Uncle Sam is very desirous that all raise more cattle and pigs, milk more cows and produce more chickens and eggs. Here's a formula that will be found very effective — "Milk the cows; sell us the cream; feed the skim milk to the pigs and chickens." All will produce you a real income, as well as helping in our great battle against the Japs. If ever a nation needed a sound thrashing, they do, and it's up to Uncle Sam to do it — and we will. So you on the farms do your part — our boys in the service will do theirs.

cream when you sell to us!

"Who are those people who are cheering?" asked the recruit as the soldiers marched to the train.
"Those," replied the veteran, "are the people who are not going."

A little colored boy going by a cemetery read this inscription on a tombstone: "Not dead, but sleeping."

Scratching his head and pondering, he finally said: "He sure ain't foolin' nobody but hisself."

JAPS ALWAYS AGAINST U. S. A. IN HAWAII

British, Russian, French and Hawaiian flags rippled over Hawaii for a brief century of history before the hoisting of the Stars and Stripes in 1898 over the protest of the Japanese.

First came the British flag, planted on the islands by Captain George Vancouver.

Then the Russians erected a fort on Kauai island, bringing 200 Eskimos to the tropics from Alaska in 1816. With the Russians was "a German Fifth columnist" — long before the expression came into existence. He was a secret German officer, Dr. Georg Anso Schaffer, who commanded the erection of the fort and passed as a naturalist.

About the first shooting in Hawaii by outsiders was by "Madaep" Lieutenant John Percival of the U. S. S. Dolphin in 1826.

Angered by the refusal of officials and missionaries to allow Hawaiian women aboard his ship, he shot up the former capital of the islands, Lahaina, on Maui island. Missionaries protested to Washington and his promotion was held up.

Admiral Lord George Paulet landed British troops in 1843 and occupied the islands for 160 days. Captain Lawrence Kearney, crusading American naval officer after whom the destroyer Kearney was named, arrived in the islands as Admiral Paulet was negotiating a treaty to make Hawaii British, and protested vigorously. His protest brought Admiral Richard Thomas, commander of the British squadron, who ordered Lord George to haul down the union jack and run up the Hawaiian flag.

French troops landed in 1847 and occupied the islands for several days because of religious and treaty difficulties. They shot up Fort Oahu and sailed off with the private yacht of King Kamehameha III.

The American flag was raised provisionally in 1893 when a revolution overthrew Queen Liliuokalani. Thereafter United States troops, on their way to Manila, landed and the American flag was raised for all time in 1898 while the Japanese Admiral Toga, abroad the man o' war Naniva, protested vigorously with a written note.
