where'd you GET your gun?"

Johnny.

From the supply sergeant, of course. He got it from the Ordnance Department—and they got it from a factory. It's the finest Army rifle in the world.

But before one factory wheel could turn—for the first model or the finished job—there had to be POWER—and most of it is ELECTRIC. Electric power helped put your Garand in your hands, Johnny.

It takes a tremendous LOT of power to make all the guns, tanks, planes and ships we need—but America HAS a lot. Power reserves, built up in advance by the business men who manage America's electric companies, have been able to meet almost every defense demand overnight.

Requirements keep increasing, of course—and the electric companies are working day and night to keep ahead of the nation's needs. In 1941, they built and installed almost 2,000,000 more horsepower in Democracy's busy arsenal.

You have the hardest part of the job, Johnny, but we're glad we can help by doing our share. We're glad to pledge our cooperation with you, the government, and other industries—TO MAKE AMERICA SO STRONG IT CAN REMAIN FOREVER FREE AND UNAFRAID.

This ad is sponsored by 52 local electric companies—all producing power for America under American business management.

This advertisement was run in several national magazines to tell the public that the electric industry, under private business management, is meeting needs of defense.

I Am Your Town

Make of me what you will — I shall reflect you as clearly as a mirror throws back a candle beam.

If I am pleasing to the eye of the stranger within my gates; if I am such a sight as, having seen me, he will remember me all his days as a thing of beauty, the credit is yours.

Ambition and opportunity call some of my sons and daughters to high tasks and mighty privileges, to my greater honor and to my good repute in far places, but it is not chiefly these who are my strength. My strength is in those who remain; who are content with what I can offer them and with what they can offer me. It was the greatest of all Romans who said: "Better be first in a little Iberian village than be second in Rome."

I am more than wood and brick and stone; more even than flesh and blood — I am the composite soul of all who call me Home.

I am your town.

Blackout 100 Per Cent

The test blackout, held Tuesday evening at 9:00 o'clock, and lasting until 9:15, was 100 per cent, so far as Kendrick was concerned, Edgar Long, marshal, announced Wednesday morning.

Wardens were on their beats, as originally planned, and not a single householder or place of business had to be told to "put out that light."

It is possible that another test blackout may be held soon, and in all probability it will come without previous warning. So listen for the siren signals, and be prepared.

Have Purchased Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stout have purchased a 160-acre ranch near Sweetwater, and expect to move on to it sometime shortly after the first of the month. They say the garage business, under present conditions, doesn't look "too hot" to them, so are locating on a farm.

A large part of the place is in pasture, and they plan on specializing in pigs and cattle.

Enlist In Army Air Corps

Latest word from Ted Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, is to the effect that he has enlisted in the Army Air corps, and expects to be stationed somewhere in Texas.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks — The war situation looks a bit better now than it did last week — and it is our belief that we should rise and salute those brave defenders of the Philippines and of the Dutch Island of Java. How many of the little snakey brown men they have made into shark food and into good Japs will probably not be known for many months, but there is no doubt but what they have given an accounting of themselves that will live forever in the pages of history.

But enough of the war news — you at home can do your part by producing more cream and eggs; requirements of our fighting men as well as of our brave allies. Remember — Cream is cash at this institution — and cash talks loudly anywhere. So bring in your cream and get your cash. And don't forget — we have cold boxes

"Could I see the captain of the ship?"

"He's forward, miss."

Home Defense Units Urged

After a conference with the executive committee of the State Civilian Council of Defense, it has been deemed advisable to prepare the state of Idaho for any eventuality. State militias have been organized and are being organized throughout the state, but we have deemed it advisable, in addition to this, to call on every community, upon Granges, and upon every service group, lodge, sportsmen's association, gun club and other organizations, in every community, no matter where situated within Idaho, to form armed groups of citizens known as the "Idaho Volunteers for Home Defense" who will be prepared to defend the homes and fire-sides of their communities against any eventuality.

The possibility of invasion by our enemies may seem so remote that a great many people may think this an idle gesture; but our homes and liberties are more sacred than our lives, and if such an eventuality should occur—that an invasion force should reach Idaho—let us be in position so that the Paul Reveres of today can ride again and with the cry to "every Middlesex village and farm" take their rifles from the wall and join their organization to protect ourselves against the invaders. Let us, who are not eligible to join the armed forces be ready to help them to the extent of giving the enemy a hot reception from "behind every fence and farmyard wall," if Idaho becomes a battlefield.

—County Defense Council.

It seems to us to be a real idea. There probably is, in this section of Idaho, as many good shots per 100 of population, as may be found anywhere, and they certainly could give a good account of themselves anywhere. And even if never called upon to fire a shot, the short drill periods that would accompany such a movement would certainly prove of benefit to all taking part.

The lamb population of the nation, according to estimates of the Department of Agriculture, will be 34,549,000 in 1941, a five percent increase over last year.

And Here's Our Side Of The Story
As the price of all merchandise is on the increase, it takes all the cash we can get — and then some — to keep our stock complete.
So when you receive a bill, instead of getting "all riled up" when the mail brings you a statement of your account, you should be genuinely pleased. For the bill is an indication that someone has faith in your honesty.
If you never received a bill, it would indicate that your credit is worthless, and that no one is willing to take your word that you will pay.

CREDIT is the most valuable thing a person can have. Money can be had by various means, but credit comes only from years of honesty, of paying bills when due. When you pay a bill, you are merely being honest.

When you receive a bill, meet it if you possibly can! If you can't, frankly tell your creditor when you can. You will find him more than ready to meet you half way.

Cherish Your Credit, as you do Health and Happiness.
