KENDRICK HAPPENINGS OF TWENTY YEARS AGO

A. W. Jones, road supervisor on Big Bear ridge, has been busy replacing culverts which washed out during the spring thaw. He has been dragging the roads on the ridge and reports them to be in good condition.

Orphie Hupp writes from Valleyford, Wash., that he is starting a poultry business there. Last week he purchased 600 baby chicks as a start for his flock.

A. K. Carlson was a Lewiston visitor the first of the week.

Mrs. Gregory Eaves of Lewiston arrived Tuesday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Helpman.

Pete Stump of Southwick was in Lewiston on business the first of the week.

Claud Craig of Leland returned on Wednesday from a business trip to Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Onstott and family spent the week-end in Clarkston, where they helped celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of her mother.

Ben Callison of American ridge was a Moscow visitor the first of the week.

Jake Grinolds was in Kendrick the first of the week visiting his parents. He made the trip in his truck. Jake has 1,000 White Leghorn chicks which he is nursing through the cold spring weather. He has a "nursery" heated with a stove and keeps fire going day and night. As a side issue he is raising several acres of head lettuce.

At a meeting of the Nez Perce county commissioners at Lewiston Wednesday, a deal was made for the purchase by the county of a one-half interest in the bridge spanning the Clearwater river at Peck. The Northfork Highway district purchased the other half. The price paid was $25,000. This bridge has heretofore been a toll bridge.

The burglarizing of Long's Store this week makes the third time since last October that robberies have been committed in a similar manner at the Long Store.

M. G. Cariton of Juliaetta sold a hog on the Kendrick market last Thursday that weighed 660 pounds. After having it weighed 70 pounds it brought $41.30 on a basis of 7 cents a pound.

Garth Hill Writes Gazette

April 7, 1942

Dear Friends:

Just a few lines to express my appreciation of your paper. To a snowbound soldier near the arctic circle it is certainly cheering to get news from home and find out what friends are doing. So it is with real thankfulness that I send you these few lines.

We were quite recently moved from our home station to * * *. We came by boat most of the way and finished the trip with a spectacular train ride. In order to reach this section of the country a high mountain range has to be crossed. In this crossing several planes were taking it felt like flying. Five engines and a snow plow were used to haul eighteen cars over * * *. Pass. We traveled forty-two miles the first seven hours. The snow was certainly deep in places. At times as high as the top of the coaches.

So far we haven't found out a great deal about the country here. It is quite mountainous, with broad valleys — of course all snow covered yet. The * * * river is frozen over, and is just an unbroken white ribbon. There are some stands of timber around here, stunted spruce and black pine. The weather, however, has been cold. The temperature ranges from 40 above during the day to below zero at night. We have been told that spring is here, but it is hard to believe after seeing flowers and fruit trees in bloom before leaving Vancouver. Anyway, weather induces one to wear quite a bit of arctic clothing.

The strangest thing, though, is the number of planes as compared to cars and trucks. They are about equal in numbers. Planes are coming and going all day long from the airport, while not more than a dozen cars and trucks can be found in the town. The roads are very short — and very few.

Again I thank you for the copies of the Gazette I have received — and hope to receive many more.

Sincerely yours
Garth Hill.

Busy Painting House

Harley Perryman is quite busy these days repainting his home. It is a shingled residence, and he is using a soft gray color. It will indeed add to the home's already neat appearance when the work is completed.

New shutters have been added, and these will be painted in a contrasting color.

Magpie Head Drive On

Marvin Long has been authorized by the Latah County Wildlife Federation to pay 2c per head for magpie heads, beginning now.

Bring your magpie heads to Marvin Long and receive cash for them. The Wildlife Federation in turn will be re-imbursed by the State Game Department at the conclusion of the drive.

Marvin says there are lots of the pests this year, despite the intensive drive put on last year — and that most any kid willing to hustle can make good spending money and at the same time help destroy these pests by a bit of idle hour work.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HEARS NEW CREAMERY PLANS

Monday evening of this week the Kendrick Commercial club met in regular session in the Community church basement, with sixteen members of that organization present.

Following a delicious 6:30 dinner served by the Ladies Aid of the church, the business of the evening was taken up. The first, of course, being the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, and the allowing of bills.

Geo. Brocke, president of the club, and A. O. Kanikkeberg, then presented a short resume of the new co-operative creamery plans. They reported that the articles of incorporation for that organization had been prepared and sent to Boise. From Boise they were to go to Washington, D. C. for inspection and approval, from that point to the county recorder's office, and then back to Kendrick, and that as yet they had not completed their circuit.

According to the plans preferred stock will be offered the public at the rate of $5.00 per share; and common stock (limited to producer members only) at $1.00 per share. The common stock carrying with it a vote (limit one vote to a producer). They also announced that an option to buy the Thomas Creamery had been signed. For this first year of operation it is not planned to attempt operation of a cannery, but the articles of incorporation permit such operation if deemed advisable at a later date.

N. E. Walker reporting for the Highway committee, stated that the local WPA project on Brady gulch had been withdrawn by the government, but that the Highway District was going ahead with the erection of a culvert, and would proceed with road work, such as grading and surfacing as far as their money would permit. At least, he stated, the bad spots in the road would be repaired and surfaced.

W. A. Watts of the Agricultural committee reported that crops were making fine progress locally, that spring work was going ahead, but perhaps slightly behind schedule. It was believed that bean planting would be under way within two weeks.

W. P. Fitzpatrick of the Education committee reported that but six weeks of school remained, and that work was proceeding nicely.

Edgar Long, speaking on the paper collection drive suggested that inasmuch as the Boy Scouts were no longer functioning as an organization, that the Girl Scouts be invited to participate in the work, and that the proceeds be divided equally between the two organizations. In the meantime, the Boy Scout paper collection money was being deposited in the local bank, looking toward the day when that organization would again be functioning.

L. S. Thurber of the Merchants' committee brought up the matter of a Fourth of July picnic and gathering in Kendrick again this year, and after discussion by the organization, the matter was referred back to the committee to ascertain sentiment in the town and report at the next meeting.

The matter of postoffice boxes was brought up, and after discussion, the secretary was asked to write the postoffice department and make inquiry about boxes discarded from larger postoffices. If such boxes could be obtained, they would make a real improvement in the appearance of our local office.

F. M. Long of the Fish and Game committee reported the bass fishing season opened locally last Sunday, and that a number of good catches were reported at Atwater lake. He also stated that perch have been promised for planting also announced that the local magpie drive was now under way, with 2c per head being paid for these pests. Bring the heads to Long's store, and receive the money.

George Brocke announced the coming meeting of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce, which will be held in Kendrick on the evening of Thursday, April 23, at the school house at 6:30 p. m., with dinner served promptly at that hour. It is not known at this time just what the program will be, as no information has been received here to date — but a good one is assured. A good turnout from town, and from the surrounding territory is requested.

Edgar Long gave a brief talk on the dangers of fire sabotage during the coming dry season, and urged the formation of fire protection companies on all the ridges — with the suggestion that a fire deputy be appointed on every ridge, and that proper fire fighting tools be made available on each ridge. Mr. Long stated that fire fighting tools belonging to the state were available for instant use in Kendrick, but that if fire should hit more than one ridge at the same time, the situation would indeed be serious. If tools were available on each ridge, instant action could be had.

There being no further business to come before the meeting, on motion it adjourned.

Fishing Trip Near Tragody
A group of boys went to Atwater Lake week-end for an outing and a little fishing.

It seems "Porkey" Fry was casting for bass, when the large hooks on the bass plug caught in Dickie McCall's neck. They tried to remove it, but it was too deeply embedded, so the boys hurriedly broke camp and came to town, where Dr. Christensen removed the hook, considerable difficulty being encountered in the job.

Dickie was a pretty lucky lad, at that, as Dr. Christensen stated the hook just grazing the jugular vein.

DOMESTIC WHEAT MARKETS SHOW SLIGHTLY EASY TONE

Wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest developed a slightly easier tone along with other important domestic markets during the week ending April 10, according to the Department of Agriculture. Weakening influences in wheat were the same as they have been heretofore during recent weeks, including good new crop prospects, heavy carry-over supplies and a slow demand as a result of quiet flour trade. Cash wheat prices at Portland ranged from unchanged to 2c per bushel lower compared with a week ago, with price variations according to local supply and demand conditions on the various classes. A generally slow demand was reported for cash wheat from all classes of buyers in the Northwest, and trade reports indicated a very quiet market situation. Mills were mostly busy grinding on old orders and were mostly supplied with sufficient wheat for current needs, except for occasional special quality lots. Export flour sales under the indemnity plan were reported light and less than during the previous week. With current cash prices below loan values, very little cash wheat was available from growers at country points. Movement of Northwest wheat by rail to the mid-west was reported very light and California business was reported as small. Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled but 577 cars for the week, which included a considerable amount of CCC wheat moving to coast terminals. Trade reports indicate Pacific Northwest new crop conditions are considered generally favorable.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on April 10 showed soft white at 98 3/4c; soft white, no Rox, at $1.02; western red at $1.02; ordinary hard red winter at 97c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

Wheat prices declined steadily during the week at Kansas City and the losses of 2c to 2 1/2c placed values at the lowest levels since Pearl Harbor. Weakness again was influenced by the favorable new crop outlook, the limited amount of storage space available in all parts of the country, a quiet flour trade, and uneasiness in securities.

Although receipts of cash wheat at Minneapolis were somewhat larger than the week before, they were still considerably light. Limited offerings were more of a factor in holding the cash situation firm than any real activity in the demand. Mills are expecting a much larger run of wheat in the open market next month and were actively interested in filling only immediate needs.

The San Francisco wheat market was dull but held fairly steady with light offerings tending to offset any important demand. Despite declines in other domestic markets the San Francisco price held largely unchanged from a week ago.

Stocks of wheat on farms at the first of April were placed at 270,122,000 bushels, compared with 193,244,000 a year ago. When market stocks are taken into account, the total supply on farms and in terminals at the first of April, was approximately 172,000,000 bushels greater than April 1, 1941.

WAR-TIME POETRY

Mrs. Chas. Hicks brought the following piece of poetry into the Gazette office, sent to her by her son, Thomas J. McAllister, who is stationed in Hawaii. It was composed by the boys in his "outfit," and is without title or signature, but we think it well worth printing.

December the 7th came bright and clear,
And the boys on Oahu had no fear,
A day of rest and on pass we will go,
But on their way was a treacherous foe.

Over the mountains they came with a roar
To drop their bombs and start a war,
They hit Pearl Harbor with flaming guns,
Like a coward who strikes, then quickly runs.

Many an American died that day,
So listen to what I have to say,
In days to come let's do our best,
To avenge our boys who are now at rest.

Here in my outfit we're rough and tough
And we'll never say we've had enough,
We mount our trucks with plenty of speed,
Like we track a target with a zero lead.

We work on jobs of every kind,
From a sandy beach to a timber-line
We eat good chow and use good tools,
And believe it or not we're nobody's fools.

We can blaze a trail or dig a trench,
And change a tire with only a wrench,
We do our guard and we're on the alert,
To prove to the enemy they're going to get hurt.

Our long-barreled guns shoot straight and true,
And we reload like a good gun crew.
We throw hot steel through this tropical air,
And the slant-eyed Japs had better beware.

We can fight in the rain, we can fight in the sun,
As we know that our job has got to be done,
Freedom for all and Peace on this earth,
And Americans again will prove their worth.

We'll fight to the end like the boys in Bataan,
And "Remember Pearl Harbor" will be our song.
The soldiers in khaki, the sailors in white,
Will show the Japs our sting and our bite.

In days to come Japan will remember
The price she paid for that attack in December,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave
Forever and ever Old Glory will wave.

The fighting marines on Wake and Guam
Fought long and fierce through fire and bomb,
Remember our dead to you I say,
As we offer our prayers on Army Day.

Cleaning Streets

Ed. Long and assistants were quite busy last week-end sweeping the mud and rocks off the surface of Kendrick's oiled streets — and a really good job it was, too, for the winter's travel had certainly placed a real accumulation on them.
Ed announces that the final touch will be added with the fire hose this week, one block already having received that treatment.

It will indeed be welcome to the businessman, for a cloud of dust previously followed each car or truck down the street as the weather dried out the winter's deposit of dirt.

Remember Pearl Harbor!

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

The farmers have been very busy for some time, and quite a bit of seeding has been done. We had some rain Monday night and Tuesday morning, which will slow up work a bit.

Grover Groseclose and Louis Schliefer were visitors at the Wm. Groseclose home Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Johnson visited with Mrs. Carroll Groseclose Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Lottie Brock and children, Dale, Clara and Bobby were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lind Sunday.

Garden making is under way here now, and it seems most folks plan to raise bigger and better gardens this year.

Wm. and Carroll Groseclose are taking advantage of the wet weather to finish making some cedar shakes that were ordered some time ago.

Anna Harless is in Spokane visiting her sister, Mrs. Dean, and her father, Mr. Olsen. She left here on Easter Sunday, and expects to return next Sunday.

"Hey, Joe!
Wonder what we're worth on the hoof?"

Just in case Joe doesn't know, it cost his country $211 to equip him. Multiply that by an army, and you have a tidy sum of money.

We ought to know. Over 2,400,000 Joes could be completely outfitted with the $510,000,000 which America's electric power companies paid in taxes last year. That's much more than a million dollars a day!

We're glad our stake in Democracy is so large. The freedom America's fighting for is worth whatever it costs.

Even though our taxes have been going up, our rates have been going down.

Today, the average household electric user gets about twice as much electricity for the money as he did 16 years ago!

This record is directly due to the careful planning of the business men who manage the nation's electric companies. They were ready when the war emergency came. Ready to power shipyards, arsenals and plane plants.

And they'll stay right on the job of making America powerful until a couple of million Joes go back to civilian clothes again!

WPA Labor To Help Farmers

To further assist in the referral of WPA workers to farm jobs and other private employment, Frank Conway, re-employment representative of the WPA, will act as contact man in Latah county.

Mr. Conway may be reached by mail at Moscow, Idaho, or through phone number 2329 it was stated in a release from Dean W. Miller, state WPA inspector.

The chief concern is to see that every farmer or other private employer has an opportunity to hire men now employed on WPA projects, and the re-employment representative for the above mentioned county has been instructed to render every assistance along that line.

It was further indicated that WPA men only were to be referred through county representatives and that the plan in no way replaces normal functioning of the United States Employment offices, wherever they may be located.

Many Purchased Batteries

It seems quite obvious that the increase in the purchase of car batteries that has been reported from many sources, has not been for immediate needs. This is indicated by the fact that many of the purchasers took such batteries away in the luggage compartments of their cars. Some have even purchased two or three at one time.

If a car owner has purchased a battery to put away in anticipation of using at some future date, he should bring it back to the dealer for re-charging every 30 days.

Not all of the car-owning public realize that a battery is a "perishable" just as much as fresh fruits and vegetables are perishables. Of course, you can readily notice when fruits and vegetables become bad, but a battery, left idle for months, looks all right externally, but its utility has been utterly vanished.

A battery left in an inoperative condition deteriorates and becomes discharged. It becomes "sulphated" merely through standing idle. Unless a person buying an extra battery has charging facilities or remembers to have the battery recharged at regular intervals, it is useless to store it away. It is a waste of money and it is a waste of materials—some of which are quite vital to our war efforts.

It is both good common sense as well as patriotic not to purchase a battery until it is actually needed for your car—and then to have the battery placed in operation in the car. It is likewise well to remember that a car battery is a "perishable" but if you have such an extra battery on hand, make sure to have it recharged periodically to keep it "alive." It is also well to remember that the expiration date of the battery guarantee draws nearer the minute the battery leaves that dealer—not from the date you may later put it in active service in your car.

Only The Boss

They tell of a social worker visiting a prison, who was much impressed by the melancholy attitude of one man she found.
 "My poor man," she sympathized, "What is the length of your term?"
 "Depends on politics, lady," replied the melancholy one. "I'm the war-county, Idaho." 14-3

Pork Product Prices Pegged

An order placing a 60-day maximum wholesale price regulation on 90 per cent of America's pork products, including ham and bacon, has been announced by Clem W. Collins, Denver, regional director of the office of price administration.
 The new price ceiling on dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts applies to packers and their branch houses, car routes, brokers, jobbers, wholesalers, processors and slaughterers. It is expected to be an important help in holding down the cost of living, since these meats constitute a major item in the family budget.

The price regulation becomes effective March 23, and the maximum ceilings set are the highest prices that prevailed during the five-day period, from March 3 to 7 of this year.

Neither farmers nor retail outlets are covered by the order. However, officials say both will feel its effects. Packers buy farmers' live hogs for slaughtering. Lard, which packers also sell, previously was packed under a price ceiling. When price ceilings are placed on dressed hogs or pork cuts, they automatically limit prices which the packer may pay for the farmers' hogs.

The Things Money Can't Buy

The late George Horace Lorimer, for many years editor of the Saturday Evening Post, once wrote these words: "It is a good thing to have money and things that money can buy, but it is good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy."
 The things that money can't buy would make a long list—here are some of them:

- Money can't buy real friendship—friendship must be earned.
- Money can't buy a clear conscience—square dealing is the price tag.
- Money can't buy the glow of good health—right living is the secret.
- Money can't buy happiness—happiness is a mental attitude and one may be as happy in a cottage as in a mansion.
- Money can't buy sunsets, singing birds and the music of the wind in the trees—these are as free as the air we breathe.
- Money can't buy inward peace—peace is the result of a constructive philosophy of life.
- Money can't buy character—character is what we are when we are alone with ourselves in the dark.

Continue the list yourself. You'll agree among the things money can't buy are some of the most valuable treasures life has to offer. It is a good thing to check up now and then to be sure we are not missing these things.

Still Another Double Feature

This week's offering at the Kendrick Theatre will be still another double feature offering. The first of these will be that favorite of western stars, Gene Autrey in "Under Plesta Stars." And of course Gene will be assisted by his picture shadow, Smiley Burnette. This picture is perhaps a bit different from Gene's usual western, in that this time he is the operator of a mine, and the problems that confront him, as well as his cattle raising neighbors, keep interest well alive.

The second feature of the evening likewise needs no real introduction, starring as it does The Weaver Brothers and Elviry, who entertain with their songs and dances, as well as taking the role in the picture's plot.
 In addition the usual cartoon will be shown.

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks — The war news certainly don't look any too good these days, and, believing that a bit of fun may do something to relieve the darkness, we're going to devote this week's issue to just plain fun, we hope you enjoy it, and think of us when you come to town with that cream, or when you need a locker box!

Young Harry: "Father, what's the difference between a gun and a machine gun?"
Dad: "There's a big difference. It is just as if I spoke, and then your mother spoke."

A New Orleans mother noticed the other night that her high school son, who was getting ready to go to a dance, got dressed in record time.
"Son, did you take a bath?" she asked him accusingly.

"No," came the reply.
"Now listen, son," she remonstrated, "you wouldn't go to a dance without taking a bath, would you?"
"Sure I would, Mom," came the reply. "It's not formal."

"Does it make any difference on which side of you I sit?" she asked.
"Not a bit," he replied. "I'm ambidextrous."

He (to city girl): "I suppose you think you understand all about the country since you've been here a week. Well, what is buckwheat?"
She: "Wheat that sells for a buck a bushel!"

The old-fashioned girl who used to be afraid to go to bed alone in the dark now has a daughter who wouldn't even think of it.

F. S. A. Funds Exhausted

Heavy demands of family-type, small and part-time farmers in Idaho for equipment, livestock, feed, seed and co-operative credit to produce increased war foods and meet their war board pledges, has exhausted current Farm Security Administration loan funds, announces the Moscow office of the F. S. A.

While all-out "Food for Freedom" cooperation of Latah county and Idaho farm families unable to secure other production credit has been amply demonstrated, rush of farmers to do their part has exhausted funds set up for the present fiscal year, ending June 30, 1942. As a result, new Farm Security loans cannot be made until congressional action has been completed on appropriations for the new fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1942.

Indicative of the all-out "Food for Freedom" efforts of local farmers is the fact that food production loans totaling approximately $8,351 have been made this year to 22 county farm families, while special war loans to small and part-time farm families for production of food for home use and market, have been made to 21 families. During the same period two FSA co-operatives have been set up in the county for the joint use of farm machinery and equipment, and other cooperative facilities that save vital materials for the war effort.

Although additional FSA funds are not expected to be available prior to July 1, loan applications can still be accepted for immediate action when appropriations are made. In the meantime, every effort will be made to aid FSA borrowers in carrying out their "Food for Freedom" plans in cooperation with the County War board.

"Junk Arrangements" Made

A local organization, the Kendrick Bean Growers, have solved the junk problem with which the local Grange has been wrestling for about a month, by announcing that their organization was now prepared to handle all junk brought in, and to issue immediate payment for it.

George Brocke, manager of that organization, announces that the price will be $7.00 per ton for mixed junk, effective immediately.

All farmers, Grange members, and others who may have junk are requested to bring the same to town as soon as possible, since the government has announced that there is a serious shortage of scrap metal — and an immediate need.

The Bean Growers have prepared a place to dump the metal. When a farmer brings in a load it will be weighed exactly as would a load of beans or grain. It will then be dumped and his check issued.

Family Get-Together

Sunday afternoon the home of Mrs. Mary Deobald on American ridge was the scene of a very happy family reunion and get-together. One of Mrs. Deobald's famous chicken dinners being enjoyed by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deobald, Tonica, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer and family, Juliaetta, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson and son, Moscow; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Deobald and family of Kendrick; Patty McCreary, Kendrick; Mrs. Eva Thompson of Orofino, and Mrs. Elmer Bechtel, Seattle, Wash.

Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roberts and daughters, Mrs. Marsh and daughter from Moscow, Miss Betty Boyd, U. of I. student, Teddy Wagon and Ervin Draper of Leland.

Celebrate Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens and daughter Marie and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Havens and family drove to Pullman Sunday, where they helped celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Carl L. Wegner and the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Havens, at the Wegner home.

Idaho Crop Conditions

The 1942 winter wheat crop in Idaho as indicated by conditions reported April 1, is forecast at 14,750,000 bushels. This would be about one-sixth less than the crop of 17,584,000 bushels harvested in 1941, but one-eighth larger than the average production in the years 1930-39. The crop generally is in good condition although cool weather in most of Idaho has prevented normal growing. Winter wheat planted on the lower elevations of southern and eastern Idaho appears in good condition; that on the higher elevations is still covered with snow but good prospects were anticipated for this acreage.

The weather during March was cold for that month. The farming season is late and work has been delayed. Dry weather during the latter part of the month retarded operations, also.

Farm stocks of grain April 1 were reported to be heavy. Wheat on farms on that date was estimated to be 6,956,000 bushels, or 406,000 less than last year, but 2,384,000 more than the average April 1 stocks in the years 1930-39.

Rain Very Welcome
The steady, but gentle rain that fell Monday night, and again Tuesday night, was very welcome to almost everyone. It was especially welcome to cattlemen, since not enough surface moisture was present to cause good growth of pasture grass. It was also welcome to those with gardens, and to most of the farmers, especially those whose spring seeding was complete.
Lawns are now growing rapidly, maple and other early leafing trees are now rapidly taking on their summer dress, and a few fruit trees are in bloom.

Visiting Parents
Mrs. Ray Hathaway of Spokane arrived Tuesday evening to visit a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davidson.

Issued Marriage License
A marriage license was issued on Thursday of last week to John E. Walsh and Lee Ellen Porter, both of Juliaetta.
