INTERESTING EXCERPTS FROM ROY LONG LETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long have received two of the new "V Mail" letters from their son, Lieut. Roy Long, who is stationed in Australia. These new "V Mail" letters consist of miniature photostatic copies of the letter written. In other words the sender writes the letter. After the communication is censored, it goes to army photographers, who photograph it, reduce it in size to approximately 5 1/2 x 8 inches, and then print it on a very light weight paper. The envelope used is also of extremely light but tough paper. This, of course, reduces the space and weight called for in the transmission of the thousands of letters that would naturally come from the boys stationed in far-flung points.

Mrs. Long selected from these letters things she thought might be of interest to residents and with her permission we reprint them:

"I'll try to tell you a little about the country and people over here. Houses are very nice, every home has a beautiful garden, lots of shrubs and flowers, and the homes here on the whole are much better than those in the states.

"Cars here use petrol instead of gas. It's the same thing except for name. The steering wheel is on the right side of the car and they drive on the left side of the road. Petrol is rationed two gallons per month. Most of the cars have coke burners in front that produce gas. It makes a funny looking outfit, but they get there just the same.

Clothing is another issue that is hard to get. Some stores close at 10:00 a. m. because they haven't anything else to sell. The clerks are not like Americans, they do not try to sell their products or wares, in fact, they will advise you to go elsewhere to buy. So many things are rationed that folks line up to get articles, like we see in the states when you want to see a good show.

I was out to an Aussie friend's home for a week-end and had a very nice time. First, the wife, husband and I went out to dinner (tea to me) then to a show, then home to meet the rest of the family, which was a two-year-old son and an 11-year-old daughter, who didn't like me very well after she found out I was a school teacher.

"I like my new job very much, which is in the quarter master's company and working in the office. There is lots of work to be done here.

"The money system runs in pence, shillings and pounds. A pound equals about $3.26 of American money.

"I believe I'm taking on a little weight since coming to Australia. Over here they weigh in 'stones' and not pounds, a stone equalling 14 pounds.

Tell everyone 'hello' for me. Again I say everything is fine. Your letters are coming very regularly, and maybe you can talk others into writing to me, which would help a lot. I'll answer all I get."

SERVICE MEN WRITE

Somewhere in Alaska
Aug. 18, 1942

Dear Friends:
Thought I had better drop you a few lines and thank you again for the paper. It sure is swell to read the news from home.

I got five papers today, so will have lots of reading.

Alaska is quite a ways from Kendrick, and I would a lot rather be there — but guess I can live through it.

I saw the Biddison Brothers and Don Kuykendall here the other day, and we had a lot of fun.

Always,
Harvey A. Thornton.
San Diego, Calif.
Aug. 15, 1942

Dear Frinds:
I have moved about half a mile from the training camp, so I have a new address, which I am enclosing.

I am starting to the hospital school now, and should be here for about six weeks.

I really do appreciate the paper and look forward to receiving it each week. Thank you again.

Most sincerely,
Lester Slead.
Madison, Wisc.
August 20, 1942

Dear Frinds:
I will drop you a line to let you know of the change in my address. I haven't been tracking down any more car thieves, but I surely have been tracking down the Morse code. I am going to radio school here at the University of Wisconsin. The weather is swell and this is one of the prettiest towns I have ever seen.

We have our own flag ship out in the Atlantic, and pick up most of our real messages from it, all of which makes the course more enjoyable, and I surly get a kick out of it all.

Well, tell all the Kendrick folks 'hello' for me, and keep everyone happy.

Thanks again,
Louis Hunt.

OFFICIAL UNITED STATES TREASURY

IDAHO

WAR BOND QUOTAS

FOR AUGUST

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today announced the August War Bond Quotas for the 3,070 counties in the nation totalling $815,000,000. The August quota for the State of Idaho is $2,150,000.

In arriving at the county quotas for August the Treasury Department took into consideration major factors affecting incomes which in turn cause significant variations in sales during the twelve-month period.

Hereafter actual Bond sales in the various states will be compared with quotas on a cumulative basis. The amount by which sales fall short of or exceed quotas in any month will be added to or subtracted from quotas for future months.

Quotas by counties are:

Ada, $490,300; Adams, $5,200.	Idaho, $31,100.
Bannock, $119,400; Bear Lake, $17,000; Benewah, $13,100; Bingham, $41,800; Blaine, $24,000; Boise, $1,400; Bonner, $26,200; Bonneville, $110,100; Boundary, $12,200; Butte, $8,800.	Jefferson, $15,000; Jerome, $26,400. Kootenai, $225,200.

IDAHO IS DOING HER PART TO HELP WIN THE WAR

Idaho's part in the war program has attracted special attention in Washington, according to Sen. John Thomas, republican, of Idaho.

In recent conferences and in correspondence with government agencies in connection with various problems affecting Idaho there has been revealed an appreciation in Washington of the part which citizens of the state are playing in the war program.

A letter from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, says that "Idaho's outstanding contribution in manpower to the war effort is general knowledge and a circumstance of which all may be mighty proud.

Besides the contribution of Idaho to the military services through the draft, the National Guard and voluntary enlistments, officials in Washington recognize a special distinction of the state in connection with civilian war workers in dangerous overseas areas. No state in the union has contributed as large a proportion of its manpower for work of this character. This is due to the recruiting of labor in the state by an Idaho contractor who has played a prominent part in military and naval construction in these areas. Many families in Idaho are suffering hardships because of the capture of the Wake Island civilian workers upon whom they were dependent.

War industries both in Idaho and elsewhere have drawn a large amount of labor from the state, which together with the drain upon manpower for military service and construction work in combatant areas have contributed to the serious shortage of farm labor.

Idaho agriculture is entitled to special credit for its part in the "Food for Freedom" campaign, despite great difficulties, and this fact is fully appreciated in Washington.

Idaho mineral and forest producers also have distinguished themselves. The Bureau of Mines and other government agencies are giving much attention to the possibilities for development of new sources of strategic and critical minerals in Idaho. Other departments have a special interest in the expansion of lumber production in the state.

The Treasury Department took notice of the achievement of Idaho in the sale of war savings bonds in a recent month when the state exceeded its quota by 52 per cent, ranking second only to the neighboring state of Utah, which exceeded its quota by 71 per cent. The record of Idaho throughout the campaign for the sale of war savings bonds and stamps has been highly creditable.

In other drives to enlist popular support for various war activities, Idaho has responded in a manner which has attracted attention in Washington. For example, in the rubber scrap drive, Idaho was third among the states in the amount of collections per capita.

Brother Of Mrs. Long Passes

Frank Lowery of Pullman, 45, assistant postmaster there for 10 years, died Monday morning at the Walla Walla Veterans hospital. He had been ill a year with cancer.

Lowery, a world war veteran, had been a postal employee since 1916 with the exception of a year and nine months spent in naval service during the war.

Lowery was a charter member of Maynard Price Post of the American Legion and had been active in Masonic circles. He was a past master of the Blue Lodge of Masons and a past patron of the Easter Star.

Surviving are his wife and two sons, Kenneth and David; four sisters, Esther at Sunnyside; Mrs. Anna Dow, Bremerton; Mrs. Martha Long, Kendrick; and Marion Lowery, Ellensburg; and two brothers, Robert of Glenns Ferry and Charles of Everett.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Pullman.

Churches Can Now Get Sugar

Sugarless socials are no longer the rule under an amendment to sugar rationing regulations, as announced by OPA. The original interpretation for institutional users made it mandatory for organizations wanting sugar to be serving at least four meals a week.

That ruling has been changed, and subject to certain rules and regulations, churches may now obtain special allotments of sugar for any special functions at which meals are served.

KENDRICK SCHOOLS READY FOR OPENING SEPTEMBER 7

The Kendrick schools will open for the coming term on Monday morning, September 7. The morning of this day will be devoted to registration, distribution of text books and short class period for assignments and organization. When this work is completed school will be dismissed for the day, to assemble the following morning at 9:00 for a regular full-day schedule. The completed schedule will appear in next week's issue of this paper.

The Kendrick teaching staff has been completed and their teaching assignments are as follows:

Donald Strok of Aberdeen, S. D.—English and Music.

Richard Kelly of Troy — Physics, U. S. History, Biology, Shop, and one course yet to be assigned.

Miss Irene Hinckley of Coeur d'Alene—Commercial Subjects, and Homemaking, and probably one mathematics class.

Lowell Mason, Superintendent — Geometry, World History and Visual Education.

Seventh and Eighth grades and High School coach, Ross Armitage. Fifth and Sixth grades, Mrs. W. B. Deobald.

Third and Fourth grades, Mrs. Philip Salisbury (Doris Pond). First and Second grades, Miss Dorothy Holt.

Much as it is to be regretted this district was forced to drop Smith-Hughes work because of the lack of an available Smith-Hughes instructor, so this year the High school will be operated with four instead of the usual five faculty members. This, of course, will necessitate some trimming of the schedule to meet the new situation.

According to reports from C. E. Roberts, state superintendent, received this week, there is at the present time a shortage of 175 grade school teachers and 135 high school teachers in this state. A great many schools have not as yet completed their staff. This situation not only exists in Idaho, but appears to be a national problem, according to reports from the National Educational Association. This organization estimates a shortage of 50,000 teachers over the nation.

Plans are being made to operate the hot lunch program is usual. Of course the final decision on whether the lunch program operates or not depends on the government policy in regards to furnishing help as well as commodities. It seems likely, however, that both will be forthcoming.

Registration fees will remain the same as in the past few years. The high school fee will be $4.50, of which $2.50 is for textbook rental; $2.00 for student body activities.

The grade school fee is $2.50 for book rental.

A Spine-Chilling Whine of a Police Siren

The spine-chilling whine of a police siren not only means bad news to an errant motorist in the state of Washington, but also means he'll get no tires for the duration.

That sobering fact, Floris Nagelvoort, state rationing administrator, believes is responsible for the finding that since July 23, only one war worker out of the heavily populated defense area of King County was convicted of a violation of a traffic law indicated "abuse of tires" and thus denied tires.

All convictions for reckless driving, speeding or driving while drunk are reported to the OPA and local war price and rationing boards. Those convicted automatically lose their eligibility status for tires and recaps.

We believe Chase Clark is missing a swell bet here. It would give him a chance to issue another proclamation, and besides the State Police in this section have been conspicuous by their absence since he took the governor's chair. He could hold a good shake-up there — and maybe make himself a vote or two — who knows?

Hunting Should Be Good

Idaho's 1942 fall upland bird shooting season promises to be one of the best the state has ever had if conditions continue to be as good as they are at present, says a dispatch from the state Fish & Game department.

Primary reasons for the anticipated good hunting include the adoption of the one-hen law last year, the exceptionally good hatch of young birds in the field this spring, and the elimination of many thousands of field pests.

The extremely dry weather during the past six weeks has also been very favorable for planting young birds from the department's bird farms at Jerome and Lapwai, where approximately 23,000 pheasants were raised this year.

Blue and ruffed grouse may be hunted on Sundays and Wednesday's only from September 9 to 27 in Clearwater, Lewis, Nez Perce, Latah, Benewah, Kootenai, Shoshone, Bonner, Boundary, Adams and Idaho counties. The bag limit is three.

CASH WHEAT PRICES UP IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Domestic grain futures markets continued to work within a narrow range during the week ending on August 21, with trade in the options limited, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Wheat futures held unchanged at Portland but cash wheat prices advanced 1c to 2c per bushel as compared with the previous week. The strength in cash prices mostly reflected light offerings from growers rather than any urgent demand from buyers. Mills continued to furnish about the only outlet for cash offerings but their needs were not large. Considerable congestion is reported at both Puget Sound and Columbia river mills, due to lack of shipping instruction. Mills are also reported experiencing some difficulty in securing labor for unloading cars and are requesting that shipments be delayed as much as possible.

Wheat receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals dropped to 812 cars and continued to represent largely movement of old crop government owned wheat to coast terminals. Growers were not marketing new crop wheat freely since values at terminals ranged from about 13c on soft white to about 24c per bushel on hard red winter below the government loan figures. Domestic flour business was reported as fair but export sales under the indemnity program were reported lighter than during the previous two weeks. A little demand was reported from the midwest for Pacific Northwest white wheats and lower grade hard red winters, but volume of sales reported was only moderate. Harvesting conditions continue generally favorable with at least average yields generally reported.

Cash wheat bid prices at Portland on August 21, for deferred shipment showed soft white at $1.08; soft white, no Rex, $1.11; white club $1.11; western red $1.11 and hard red winter at 97c. For 15-day shipment soft white was listed at $1.05; soft white, no Rex, $1.08; white club $1.08; western red $1.08, and hard red winter at 94c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk.

Premiums on cash hard winter wheat at Kansas City advanced 1/2c with an only fair demand evident most of the week. Receipts were slightly larger at 1,126 cars and with storage space still jammed to the bursting point, takings by the merchandisers and millers were governed by their ability to handle. There was an outward movement of 721 cars for the week. Wheat futures at that market continued to fluctuate within narrow ranges and closed the week with gains of about 1c per bushel over the previous week.

Cash grain markets at Minneapolis showed considerable activity, especially in the coarse grains as new crop movement gained in volume. Harvesting prevailed over most of the spring wheat area. While the coarse grain receipts showed a very marked pickup, arrivals of cash wheat continued light for this season in only 1,562 cars of all classes for the week, while Duluth unloaded 493 cars. Cash demand was only moderate.

The Commodity Credit Corporation announced August 19, that feed wheat will be supplied to any county in the United States. Any producer may have wheat delivered to him at his customary shipping point upon proper certification that he will use it for feeding purposes, either as whole wheat or mixed feed in their customary trade area.

Wheat harvesting is now general over a large part of Europe. Reports from the western countries continue to indicate average or near average yields but the outlook is less favorable in the central and southeastern areas, where yields are expected to be well below normal.

At the middle of August the Commodity Credit Corporation owned or held in producers pools 295,530,000 bushels of wheat. Loans on 1942 wheat totaled 63,588,000 bushels at the middle of August, an increase of about 16 1/2 million bushels for the week. Barley loans totaled 521,000 bushels, of which 349,000 bushels were in California.

Wheat threshing made good progress in the central states with the yields mostly satisfactory. In much of the spring wheat belt, however, heavy showers and dews caused some delay in harvesting, especially in the eastern and north central portions of the belt. In the Pacific Northwest, ideal conditions prevailed for harvest and threshing.

The oats market at Portland developed a firmer tone during the week with prices up about 75c per ton for the week. Growers were not offering freely and dealers were bidding firm prices to obtain good quality supplies. Receipts totaled 18 cars for the week at Portland, with 57 cars received at Seattle where cereal mills were important buyers.

Barley prices strengthened again the past week at Portland. Market firmness was attributed principally to the holding tendency of growers. Trade reports indicated Northwest barley growers were showing some inclination to place their 1942 barley production under federal loan rather than accept slightly lower market values. Comparatively heavy receipts of 53 cars at Portland and 56 at Seattle for the week represented largely deliveries on the comparatively heavy sales made earlier and during the first selling immediately following harvest in the earlier sections.

MEMORIES OF GHORMELY

By George Davidson

In the current issue of the "Time" magazine is an interesting article about Robert L. Ghormely, a Moscow, Idaho, boy, who received his appointment to the naval academy at Annapolis in 1903, from the University of Idaho, and who served during the World War with distinction, and who now is supreme commander of the land, sea and air forces of the allies in the southwest Pacific area, which includes the Solomon Islands.

At the time Mr. Ghormely received his appointment he was captain of Co. A, in the Cadet Corps at the school, and he gave me his sword. I was First Lieut. for Co. A, and acted as captain in his stead for the remainder of the school year. The sword, which, to be sure, I prize very highly, is on display at the Farmers Bank, in Kendrick.

When I recall to mind the old days and some of the things that happened in which "Bob," as we called him, had a part, I think of football, track, stag feeds, etc., but more particularly of football.

Ghormely was good enough at Idaho to play on the scrubs, and a pretty good quarterback he was, too. Bob had from birth an optical defect giving the impression that he was looking at you with one eye, and at someone else with the other one. This seemingly defective vision served him in good stead when calling signals. The opposing players were never able to guess which eye was trained on the player that was to carry the ball, nor where the hole was to be made for the player. I'll always remember some of the beatings I took in vain at the tackle position, for there it was, it seemed, that the hole was to be made—and the ball would go wide around the end.

Incidentally "Bob" played football at Annapolis and was rated well up with the best as a quarterback.

He was retired at the beginning of the present conflict, but recalled when he offered his services to his country. He was sent to England by the President to assist in the negotiations pending the exchange of the 50 destroyers for important air and naval bases in the Atlantic ocean island area adjacent to the U. S.

He has recently received the rank of vice admiral.

Equal Opportunity for ALL!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

Deep in the breast of every American boy flames the light of hope and ambition. Equal opportunity to "make his mark" is one of the many American principles our country will ever fight to protect.

American fathers have shown their sons that—in our country—individual initiative has brought success time and again. Throughout our country's history, the thousands of great Americans, who, by their own efforts, raised themselves high in America's state, professional and business life repeatedly illustrates this truth. In America—as nowhere else—every boy, rich or poor, has that cherished privilege of making his life worth while in the field of endeavor HE chooses!

Equal opportunity for all... the American ideal of free enterprise... the American way of life! Those things have made America great. Those principles will see America through to victory!

 The weather stays hot and dry, just right for harvest work and everyone is in the fields. Almost all of the farmers have combines of their own and are speeding the harvest work.

"All That Money Can Buy"
 This week's offering at the Kendrick Theatre will be that magnificent and world famous production, "All That Money Can Buy," starring Edward Arnold, Walter Huston, Jane Darwell, Simone Simon, Gene Lockhart, and numerous other stars.
 The story is based on a Saturday Evening Post story, and tells of the struggles for existence in early New England at the time of Daniel Webster, and embraces as a part of it epic scenes of that great orator. It is a picture that all should enjoy.
 Selected shorts and the usual cartoon will also be shown.

To Hold Child Health Conference
 The second of a series of monthly Child Health Conference will be conducted at the Kendrick School house on Friday, Sept. 4, sponsored by the North Central District Health Unit. It will be conducted under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.
 Medical examinations will be made by Dr. D. A. Christensen, with Dr. G. W. McKeever examining the teeth of the pre-school children.
 Mothers with pre-school children and infants in the surrounding areas are cordially invited to attend.

Yucca May Prove Valuable
 Newest recruit to America's war program is the familiar, spiked yucca plant of the western plains. Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes has issued regulations permitting the harvest of yucca from public lands to replenish the vegetable fibre stocks of industries whose raw materials normally are manila, hemp, jute and similar imported fibres.
Brings In Freak Egg
 Joe Niklosky came into the print shop last Saturday carrying an egg laid by one of his hens — and for freaks it just about takes the prize.
 The egg has two large ends, and tapers in the middle to about the size of a lead pencil.
 It could almost be called a "dumb-bell" egg.

Grange Meeting Scheduled
 The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Grange will be held next Tuesday evening, September 1, at 8:00 o'clock.
 Grangers, please remember the date and hour.
 The stingiest man we ever heard of bought his bride a nickel's worth of candy and took her on a trolley-ride honeymoon. When they got off the car he said: "Honey, suppose we save the rest of this candy for the children."

Bears An Meat Houses Clash
 A shortage of huckleberries in the woods has brought bears in increasing numbers to the scrap piles and cook houses of lumber camps this year. Trouble produced comes in two forms, say woodsmen. The bears attack and break into camp meat houses at night and in the daytime locate the camp's water supply and take a swim therein. A masterpiece of understatement is that both tactics have proven exceedingly annoying.
 Potlatch Forests, Inc., Camp 27, reports their camp meat house was really taken apart. A barricade of 2x4s with large spikes driven into them to discourage too close an approach by Mr. Bruin has now been erected. Other camps are reported to be similarly troubled and electric fences are in some cases, being tried around meat houses and water holes.
 Woodsmen say that bears have become so bold they often visit camp during the day when it is not too hot, appearing around the garbage cans and sometimes refusing to be driven away. In one instance a P. F. I. flunkie stepped out the rear door of the cookhouse just in time to run smack dab into Mr. Bruin. The flunkie wasted not a moment getting into quick action and headed streak-like for his quarters. Mr. Bruin stood in puzzled wonder for a moment and then took out after him. However, the bear's pursuit of the flunkie was just a coincidence, not part of the attack plan. The bear was simply retreating from a disturbance at the other corner of the cookhouse—men laughing. The flunkie's path, unfortunately for him, just happened to be the shortest one between bruin and the timber.

Cheese Urged In Place Of Meat
 Domestically produced cheese will be featured by grocery stores in Latah county as a "Victory Food Special" during the period ending August 29, in a nation-wide merchandising drive designed to focus attention on the abundant supplies now available for home consumption, says H. F. Koster, chairman of the Latah County War Board.
 Gem States should be particularly cooperative with this Victory Food Special in view of Idaho's importance as a cheese producing state.
 Production of cheese in the U. S. has been stepped up to all-time record levels to meet wartime requirements. Supplies available for home consumption are now at peak levels, and the amounts of cheese needed for Lend-Lease shipment and for use by this nation's military forces are being met.

EDITORIAL

Howdy, Folks — It don't seem like a week since we wrote one of these editorials, brief as it was — but the calendar says it was a week ago, so we guess it must be right — and that's one thing at least that F. D. R. hasn't tried to remodel, even if he did take a whack or two at the various holidays. Anyway, in the rush of harvest and other operations, time certainly has flown. Maybe, in view of these conditions we had better state again that we want to buy your cream — and of course we pay spot cash for it. While you are still busy with harvest better sell us that cream and buy what butter you need rather than spend that valuable time churning.

And, too, harvest has well proven the worth of one of our locker boxes — by a saving of time and money on meat. If you doubt it, ask your neighbor — he undoubtedly has one.

The patient had just come out of a long delirium. "Where am I?" he groaned, as he felt loving hands making him comfortable. "Am I in heaven?" "No," whispered his wife, "I'm still with you, darling."

If nature never blunders why did she make prunes more healthful than strawberries, and why didn't she make the mosquito a vegetarian with a yen for suin-ach?

Kelley and Cohen were having dinner together. Cohen helped himself to the larger of two fish and Kelley said:

"Foine manners ye have, Cohen. If O'ld ha' reached out first I'd have taken the smaller fish." Cohen: "Well, you've got it, haven't you?"

Captures "Porkypine"
L. D. "Bring 'em Back Alive" Crocker, assisted by Ossie Kamikberg and his daughter, Jean, made a very startling capture on the front porch of the E. H. Dammarell home (which is now vacant) late Saturday evening, when the trio bagged a nice, fat, prickly porcupine, using a wash boiler to affect the capture.

Just where the animal might have come from is something of a problem, but at any rate, when seen, it was grunting and rattling its way along the middle of the street in front of the C. H. Daugherty home — and followed by (of all things) a cat.

Anyway, with long sticks the trio prodded him onto the porch, cornered him, and then "plunked" the wash boiler over him, fished it, and carried away "Mr. Porkey."

After listening to it gnawing and rattling its quills about in its confines the balance of Saturday night, Lester took it out of town and turned it loose Sunday evening.

IT'S TIME SOMETHING WAS DONE; WRITE CONGRESSMEN

On or about September 15, in Washington, D. C. there is scheduled to be held a re-hearing of the proposed "Pacific Northwest Power Empire Bill (S. 2430 and H. R. 6390) in which it is proposed to take over all the properties of the Pacific Power & Light Company, The Washington Water Power Company and the Northwestern Electric Company, and incorporate them into a vast electric empire similar to that of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

As it is proposed, the hearings will be held in Washington, D. C. instead of in the Pacific Northwest. Were these hearings to be held in the northwest, farmers, business men and manufacturers would have an opportunity to present their views on this political proposal, and the results might be totally different than if held in the capitol.

We believe that the power users affected should have the right to be heard, and that, of course, is an impossibility for most, since few can afford the expense of a trip to Washington, and especially at this time when the government is discouraging travel of any and all kinds.

So vicious is this bill, that were the power authority to take over these properties it would have the absolute power to regulate electrical prices, service hours, service electrical draw, and all other phases. The consumer would not even have the right of appeal to present federal regulatory offices; or to state control boards — it would give the proposed electrical control board absolute power.

And just what would happen to investors money, at present in the stocks of these companies, we do not know.

It should be remembered that the power companies pay tremendous real taxes; keep at least one employe in every town; contribute to general town welfare drives, and town organizations — and under the proposed government ownership all this would probably vanish.

Do we want a repetition of the Tennessee Valley Authority, wherein the loss of taxes from privately owned enterprises closed schools, curtailed general government functions, and in general worked many hardships? Emphatically we do not!

And why, at this time, when even the school children are being urged to put their pennies into War Savings Stamps and Bonds, should the government want to spend all this money? Are the power companies not filling the power demands? Is there a shortage of power in the Pacific Northwest? No!

We believe that the proposed purchase (by force if necessary) is a clever and absolutely needless move on the part of someone to obtain real political power and patronage — rather than any contribution to the war effort, which is at this time the supreme need.

It is possible for you, at least, to have the opportunity of presenting your views if you will write your congressmen and senators asking that the hearing be held in the northwest. Drop D. Worth Clark, Senator John Thomas, Congressman Compton I. White a letter or card urging them to use their influence to have the hearings held in the Northwest, rather than behind closed doors in Washington, D. C. Don't delay, do it now.

July Breaks Fatality Record

It is obvious from the very magnitude of the toll in deaths and injuries that accidents constitute one of the serious impediments to our war production.

Fifteen lives were saved in Idaho during July according to reports received up to the last day. Nine deaths were recorded as compared to 24 for the same month a year ago.

The nation's traffic fatalities for six months as announced by the National Safety Council were 14,800, which was 15 per cent fewer than in 1941. If this reduction continues the 1942 toll would be only 30,000 compared with 40,000 in 1941. That would be the lowest since 1932 with a toll of 29,500 deaths.

One phase of the traffic toll this war time year, was that 3,400 of the victims were workers, many of them skilled craftsmen, who cannot be replaced and this will slow war production.

July established a all-time record for the reduction of traffic fatalities for the seventh month with nine deaths for 28 days of the month. Nine persons were killed in traffic accidents thus far, while three persons are in hospitals with serious injuries. The lowest fatality record for July was 14, in 1934, and the same month a year ago, 1941, there were 24 deaths. During the ten years of keeping records, July traffic fatalities have averaged from 18 to 28, according to reports on file in the Safety Bureau of the department of Law Enforcement at Boise.

Watch Railroad Crossings

Look out for the cars! Now that more and longer trains are running, railroad crossings become doubly dangerous and motorists need to observe unusual caution. Crossing accidents on the Northern Pacific system have increased this year more than 25 per cent over last year, despite the fact that there are now fewer automobiles on the roads.

Locomotive mileage on the Northern Pacific increased more than 1,500,000 miles in the first six months of this year as compared with the corresponding period last year, and crossings are proportionately busier and more dangerous.

Grade crossing accidents not only cause untold suffering and immense economic loss, but they slow down transportation of essential war materials and even kill and injure troops in transit.
