NO. 36

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Kendrick schools will start September 11. A full corps of teachers has been secured and the building put in first-class shape.

Mrs. Homer Betts returned last Saturday from a trip to California, where she had visited at the home of her parents since last June. She was called there by the illness of her sister, who was in a critical condition, but is getting along somewhat better at this time. Mrs. Betts said the train service is very poor and connections hard to make, as so many trains have been discontinued.

Last Tuesday evening the town council met for the purpose of opening bids for street construction work. Five contractors submitted bids for the job. There was little difference in the bids, but that of Campbell & Barr of Colfax was the lowest, and while the contract has not actually been signed at this time it is generally understood that Campbell & Barr will do the work their bid being the lowest—$26,716.60.

Ethel and Ruby King returned to their home in Moscow the first of the week after visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Geo. Leith, for some time.

E. H. Dammarell and family drove to Lewiston last Sunday afternoon. They took the river road, but found it closed below Arrow, a big steam shovel blocking the road. The reports of this road being opened and closed are a good deal like Finnegan's story of the railroad wreck.

There will be five Kendrick young men registered at the University of Idaho this fall. They are: Rex Pickering, Nora Callison, Kester Dammarell, Donald and Walter McCrea. This is the largest number Kendrick has ever sent to the University in one year.

The Kendrick Highway District and Good Road District No. 1 are advertising for bids for the repair of the bridge across the Potlatch. Steel arches are to be put in along the sides to brace the structure.

The Okoke Kloutchman club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Knepper Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Tupper and daughters and Miss Maude Pounds of Clarkston spent Wednesday in the home of Mrs. O. E. MacPherson.

Fairview Items—Ercil Woody of the U. S. Navy spent the past week at the home of his uncle, John Glenn. Mr. Woody is stationed at San Diego, Calif. Jack Flesham spent the week-end with relatives and friends at Lewiston. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Flesham and family were dinner guests at the T. H. Daugherty home Sunday. Walter McCall and Mr. Hunter motored from Gifford and spent Saturday evening and Sunday at the McCall home. Mr. Miller had 25 acres of straight summerfall wheat which threshed 460 sacks. That is remarkable for this year.

Leland News—Threshing will be completed on the ridge this week, except for beans. Mr. Yenni had the misfortune Monday of having a load of hay upset with him, throwing him off and breaking some bones in one of his wrists, besides being pretty badly bruised up otherwise. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hoffman were Orofino visitors Tuesday. If we didn't know different, we would say Mr. Woodward is a North Carolinian, judging from the fine melons he raises every year—this one being no exception. He presented us with a big one—"the best ever."

An unusual and very interesting recital of solo and ensemble piano numbers will be given Thursday evening, August 31, at 8:00 o'clock in the Methodist church of Kendrick by the Kendrick and some of the Clarkston pupils of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gatenby. The Kendrick talent includes Mrs. Leo Raeborg, Edith Dammarell, Alberta Walker, Dorothy Erickson, Hester Knepper, Jane McConnell, Wilson Rogers and Maud McConnell.

Harvest About Over
Grain dealers and farmers locally are agreed that this week (provided the weather holds good) will about see the wind-up of harvesting operations for wheat in this section, but quite a little late-sown oats and barley will remain to be cared for.

And the warehousemen will certainly breathe a sigh of relief and wipe the sweat from their brows, for the problem of storage and handling this year's bumper crop has certainly been a headache for them. With terminal storage facilities filled to the overflowing point, the storage situation has been handled almost entirely locally, and despite the thousands upon thousands of bushels of extra storage space constructed—it has all been or shortly will be filled. So it's easy to see the spot the warehousemen have been in—and you can't blame them for wanting to relax when it's all over!

Marines Taking Older Men
Numerous men who have been interested in the Marines, but heretofore have been beyond the age limit for the regulars, now have the opportunity to enlist in the regular corps. The age limit has been raised from 33 to 36 inclusive. The minimum age being 17 for general service.

First Beans Come In

On Wednesday of last week the first new crop beans of which we have heard arrived in Kendrick, coming from the Reinhard Wilken farm on Potlatch ridge, and were delivered to the Kendrick Bean Growers.

Complete yield figures are not yet available, but apparently the field was yielding between four and five sacks to the acre, or an average crop.

The quality was said to be very good—and August 26 is a plenty early date.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Essential in the equipment of every Soldier, Sailor, Marine or Flyer is a first aid kit, consisting of bandages and antiseptics for instantaneous use. These materials are packed into a compact box and cost about $1.50 each.

We need millions of these first aid kits for emergency treatment. They are also used by Red Cross workers, in field hospitals and wherever needed until hospital treatment may be obtained. Even a child could buy one or more of these kits through purchase of War Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps every pay day and invest at least ten percent of your income in these government securities.

FINAL PLANS FOR SCHOOL OPENING NOW COMPLETE

Following is the schedule for High school classes which prospective students may study before Registration Day, September 7.

The student should have his course of study quite well planned by that time. Every effort has been made to provide a well-balanced curriculum, that could be efficiently handled by a one less teacher staff.

With the exception of Smith-Hughes Agriculture, only one class has been dropped—that being a Sociology elective course usually offered to Juniors and Seniors. In its place one boys' and one girls' P. E. class has been added.

Mr. Alexander, county agent at Moscow, will be contacted in regards to carry on 4-H club work with those boys who have been deprived of Future Farmer work, but who still wish to remain active in the field of agriculture.

It is anticipated that a few may register late because of harvest work and the shortage of help. However, this should be kept in mind by those who do, and who may wish to take part in inter-scholastic activities—they must register before September 25 to be eligible, and if they register before September 25, they must be in attendance 75% of the time between the date of their registration and September 25.

Unless it is absolutely necessary, students should plan on starting to school the first day. Late starts and make-up work handicap the students the rest of the year in most cases, especially in technical courses such as math, physics, typing and shorthand.

Below we list the tentative schedule of classes by teacher and period:

Following the policy of the County School Trustees association, no primary school children, who have not reached their sixth year before January 1, 1943, will be taken as students in the Kendrick Public school.

First Aid Course Completed
Thirty-two people from Kendrick and the surrounding communities completed the Standard First Aid Course, conducted by Dr. Walter McWilliams of Moscow, Thursday evening of last week. As yet no returns have been received on final examinations.

As soon as plans are completed for teaching the advanced course in First Aid, they will be published in this paper.

A Business Hint
Make every letter a sales letter for yourself and your firm. Start with attractive letterheads printed on good paper—and give your message a pleasing and more reliable tonal effect. A matching envelope and matching corner card complete the ensemble.

Let the Kendrick Gazette design and print this necessary stationery for you.

New Daughter
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benscoter of American ridge are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born to them Sunday, August 30.

Commercial Club Postponed

Due to the fact that the regular monthly Commercial Club meeting falls on a date far earlier in the month than usual—and due also to its coming on Labor Day and the day for the registration of school students, it has been decided to postpone it for one week.

The new date for the meeting will be on Monday, September 14. Just where the meeting will be held has not been decided at this time, so watch next week's Gazette for the time and place of gathering. Remember—Monday, Sept. 14.

B. Hoffman has been helping the Junior girls of the Sunday School make a Service Flag for the church. This was one of the Daily Vacation Bible School projects. It will be presented Sunday morning. All parents and friends of the boys from here in the armed forces are cordially invited to attend.

Ideal Weather Continues

Ideal weather for the continuance of harvesting operations still continues, with warm days and cool nights, although combine operators say the fall of dew is so heavy at night that their starting time does not begin to "jibe with F. D. R.'s War Time."

However, wheat, oats and barley still are pouring in.

Bridge Flooring Completed

Work was completed on the re-flooring and surface approaches to the bridge across the middle Potlatch near Juliaetta last week.

The old flooring was torn out completely, and new, creosote-treated flooring (or plank) laid. The approaches also received an oil-cast mat, and the whole is a real improvement.

Enrollment Day

Sunday School at the Community Methodist church has its Enrollment Day next Sunday morning at 9:45. There will be classes for all ages.

Special elective courses are being offered for adults.

CASH WHEAT ADVANCES DUE TO LIGHT OFFERINGS

The cash wheat market at Portland was independently firm as compared with futures during the week ending August 23, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Cash quotations at this market showed advances of 1c to 4c per bushel as compared with the previous week, with variations according to the principal classes and time of shipment. Strength in the cash market principally reflected very light offerings by growers at country points. Demand was not especially urgent although mills were in the market for special quality lots and were bidding firmly in an effort to secure current needs. With current cash prices around 12c per bushel under Federal loan values on soft white, growers awaited further market developments and placed their grain under loan. Wheat receipts totaling about 650 cars for the week at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals continued to represent largely the movement of government owned wheat to the coast since current market offerings remained extremely light for the season of the year. Domestic flour business was reported only moderate, but fairly heavy sales for export under the indemnity program were reported during the past week. The weather was generally favorable for farm work and harvesting was progressing very rapidly in most districts of the Northwest and nearing completion in some areas. Considerable difficulty was being experienced in obtaining storage in the country, according to trade reports.

Cash wheat bid prices at Portland on August 23, for 15-day shipment were: soft white $1.09; soft white, no Rex, $1.11; white $1.11; western red $1.11; ordinary hard red winter, 97c. For deferred warehouse receipt basis: soft white $1.09 1/2; soft white, no Rex, $1.12; white club, $1.12; western red $1.12; ordinary hard red winter $1.00.

The cash wheat premium basis was only reduced slightly at Kansas City and the demand showed some improvement. Receipts dropped to 991 cars compared with 1,126 the previous week. Shipments were approximately 175 cars fewer. Public elevator stocks increased 320,354 bushels and stood at 40,801,069 on August 23. Premiums on soft wheat over hard widened slightly and offerings of the former were exceedingly limited. No. 2 red winter was quoted at $1.16 to $1.23 per bushel as the week closed.

Much larger arrivals at Minneapolis weakened the grain market early in the week, but toward the close the flood of offerings subsided and prices on all grains firmed from the week's lows. Wheat receipts continued fairly large, but an embargo on barley shipments to Minneapolis except by permit caused a sharp drop in the movement of that grain. Mill demand improved sufficiently to take care of the increased offerings of wheat in good shape, and premiums were steady to firmer.

The San Francisco wheat market held quite steady with light central California offerings and advances in other markets tending to offset the rather slow local demand. Prices held largely unchanged compared with a week ago. As in other recent weeks, growers in nearby producing sections continued to market supplies very slowly with considerable wheat being placed under government loan. Bids for No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white were mostly about $1.85 to $1.90 per 100, f. o. b. country points.

Threshing of winter wheat has been practically completed except in the later northern and southwestern districts. Spring wheat harvesting is progressing and rapid progress during the week as a result of the favorable weather conditions. The harvest is now well along in North Dakota and has begun in Montana where the crop is ripening fast. In the Pacific Northwest winter varieties have been mostly harvested and the cutting of other small grains is progressing. Considerable grain is reported piled out of doors because of the shortage of storage space.

Harvesting was quite general over most of Europe but rain caused lodging and delayed cutting in some areas. Fair yields are still indicated over much of western Europe but a below normal harvest is in prospect in central and southwestern areas. Early yields in the United Kingdom have been fully up to average but some lodging is reported. In Bulgaria and Rumania harvesting reports remain unfavorable and trade reports state that it is unlikely any surplus will be available from these countries. Indications are that the grain harvest in Germany will be under average and severe measures are being enforced to compel growers in occupied countries to deliver their full grain quotas, according to trade reports.

The quality of the barley crop in the central west is considerably below that of last season, but barley in the far west is grading higher than last year. In the far west 87 per cent of the August 1 to 15 receipts graded No. 3 or better, compared with 83 per cent last season. Seventy-eight per cent was classed as bright western compared with 69 per cent last year.

How Much Is A Billion?

Speaking of a billion dollars, do you know that if you had borrowed that amount in the year of E. C. 799, and had paid back one thousand dollars every day since and hadn't paid a cent of interest in all that time, you would not have paid off that indebtedness until January 1, 1942? Doesn't that make you shudder?

Successful Fire

They tell a story of a storekeeper who took out a large fire insurance policy on his stock and on the very same day the store burned down.

The president of the insurance company put two of his best claim men on the job but they could prove nothing. Chagrined, the president wrote this letter:

Dear Sir:

You took out a fire insurance policy with this company at 11:00 a. m., and your store did not catch fire until 4:30 p. m. on the same day. Kindly explain the delay.

"I Wake Up Screaming"

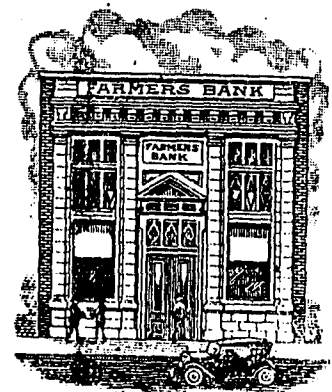

The title of this week's offering at the local theatre is "I Wake Up Screaming," and from the advance press notice this is a very appropriate title, for the picture is laid about a deep murder mystery, Broadway hot spots and night clubs, and the way the mystery is unraveled forms a very interesting story.

Starred in this unusual production are Betty Grable, Victor Mature and Carole Landis.

In addition the usual cartoon and comedy will also be shown.

Jim:
Here's another NP ad appearing in Newsweek, U.S. News, Business Week, Nation's Business and Forbes magazines—telling the country how the Northwest is helping win the war.
Frank

Count 20 and you've got a soldier

THIS KIND of sheep-counting should keep you awake! The fleece of twenty, more or less, is what it takes to equip one soldier. Although we raise in this country much of the wool we normally need, a soldier or sailor requires 4 to 10 times as much new wool as a civilian. Remember that, if you soon have to do without clothing or blankets made of virgin wool.

Because America is practically self-sufficient in new wool for our fighting forces, Northern Pacific may take some pride in the fact that it has always "talked sheep". From the grassy plains and mountain pastures along the "Main Street of the Northwest" comes over one-fifth of the nation's wool production—enough for half a million soldiers.

Confusion On Enlistments
 A navy dispatch says: Any man who can pass the physical and mental requirements for enlistment in the navy may enlist in the navy right up to the moment he is inducted into the army. The navy is taking volunteers and will continue to do so indefinitely. Any remarks which have been circulated to the contrary are propagated by people who are either misinformed, or are working directly against the best interests of this government.

The physical requirements have been considerably modified for enlistment in the naval reserve and it is quite probable that any man who is placed in class 1-A, by his local Selective Service board can pass the physical requirements for enlistment in the Naval Reserve. The navy is taking men with false teeth (full dentures, both upper and lower), and it is taking men from the ages of 17 to 50. Any information to the contrary is untrue, and every precaution should be taken to suppress such rumors.

Progress
 The safety razor enabled us to save so much money that we bought a washing machine, which saved us so much money that we bought a refrigerator, which saved us so much money that we bought an automobile, which saved us so much money that we bought a house, which saved us so much money that we now own the washing machine outright and have to make only eight more payments on the refrigerator, seventeen on the automobile, and 180 on the house.—William Feather.

Perfect Wife
 In the eyes of the average husband the perfect wife is one who:
 Gets up first in the morning, closes the windows and turns on the heat.
 Makes sure that breakfast is on time and busies herself pouring coffee and supervising the service while he reads the newspaper.
 Spends the morning carefully planning meals for the day and going to the grocery store to make a personal selection of meats, fruits and vegetables.
 Inspects the house and, when necessary, calls in the plumbers, carpenters, electricians.
 Examines his clothes for suits in need of pressing, for shirts and collars to go to the laundry, for missing buttons and holes in socks.
 Devotes an hour or so to writing letters of thanks or of consolation and including him in them.
 Gets a bit of relaxation and fresh air by taking a brisk walk to the postoffice to collect the mail.
 Puts coal in the furnace so that the house will be nice and warm when he gets home.
 Drives to school to bring the children home, and, if possible, drops in for a call on his parents or other relatives.
 Tidies the living room, arranges hair, and puts on a becoming dress in anticipation of his return home.
 Greets him at the door and inquires if he is tired. Retires to the background while he looks over the mail.
 Makes sure dinner will be on time, listens with rapt attention to anecdotes of his childhood, and spares him the ordeal of hearing a domestic tragedy.
 And, at last, when dinner is over, collects the darning and works in silence on it, looking up now and then to admire him and to congratulate herself upon having him, while he sits engrossed in the day's news.

It Is Happening Here!
 According to a United Press dispatch, the Secretary of the Interior recently appeared before a joint congressional committee to testify in favor of a bill which would give the Interior Department complete and czar-like control over all the power resources of the Pacific Northwest, and which would inevitably result in the swift socialization of all the private utilities of that region. In his testimony the Secretary said that it would be "governmental stupidity" to sell power generated at the government's power dams to private utility companies for distribution, and added: "I don't believe that we have any right to invest the people's money to make money for the stockholders of private companies."

That is a very remarkable piece of testimony. How does the Secretary square his statement with the fact that he favors selling power to private manufacturing concerns whose stockholders are "making money" from the government power? To be fair, he should demand the socialization of such plants, as well as the electric industry. That will be the next step. And don't complacently think: "It can't happen here"—it is happening here.

At the present time, large blocks of this government power are being distributed over the lines of private utilities for the use of many private industries. The government determines the rate at which this power is sold to the utilities—and both federal and state regulatory commissions determine the rate at which it is resold to homes farms and industries. To even intimate that the utilities are profiteering on the resale, is to insinuate that federal and state regulatory officials are conniving with the utilities in a plan to rob the people.

The political attack against the utilities has one main objective—the absolute and final destruction of the industry as a private enterprise. The leaders of that attack want to build a federal power monopoly at a needless waste of money, labor and critical materials. They seem to give no consideration to the relation of their program to the war effort. If they succeed, a precedent will be established which can be used to plan the socialization of any other kind of business in any part of the country. That is the tremendous issue which the bill to socialize electric power in the Pacific Northwest has brought to a head. It affects every state in the nation because it completes a pattern for the extension of national socialization of industry—and the destruction of private enterprise.

Steel Wheels To Come Back
 Farm tractors which were originally fitted with steel wheels, but have been changed to rubber tires will not be granted certificates to purchase tires whenever steel wheels are locally available and can be put back into service, OPA officials have ruled. However, where the vehicle is already on rubber tires and no substitute wheels can possibly be obtained, certificates may be issued in the regular manner.

Let Me Die In Peace

Lady if you see me lying On the ground I may be dying Let my gore run—bright and free Don't attempt to bandage me. While there's life there's hope —so, Pet,
 Don't apply a tourniquet. If I'm suffering from shock Take a walk around the block. If you must keep busy, pray, Help to keep the crowd away. So whatever my condition, Phone at once for a physician. Let me lie, I'll take a chance Waiting for an ambulance. From First Aid, I beg release Lady, let me die in peace.

Grandpa Used To Say

My Granddad was in the Civil War. He had a limp all his life from a bullet that hit him in the leg. He carried that piece of lead to his grave. He was a great old fellow and on Sunday afternoon he used to come over to our house and all the neighbor kids would gather around and listen to his tales of the war. His side was always outnumbered . . . to hear him tell it. And his side won all the battles he was in! The other fellows always ran. He used to tell us: "Why, hell-fire and damnation, the squirrel hunters of this country can lick any other two nations."
 He isn't here today. But this war is not a squirrel shooter's war. It's a war of machines. That's why we can't have automobiles and washing machines and refrigerators. But as for men . . . well, I don't mind . . . all I want to see is the end of the war with Old Glory still waving.

Still Hunting Japlopes

An intensified drive to increase the turnover of discarded japlopes from the auto graveyards of the Pacific Northwest to meet the increasing demands for scrap iron and steel is being urged by the Auto Graveyard section of the WPB. Auto grave yards are a rich mine of scrap metal from which the furnaces must obtain a good share of the 2,500,000 tons of scrap a month in order to keep operating at full capacity during the coming winter.

Coffee Consumption Be Cut

You'll have to go easy on the "java" from now on. Coffee consumption has been cut 25 per cent because of uncertainties of future supplies. The government will not at this time attempt to ration coffee at the consumer level, but the wholesalers are expected to pass the cut along to their customers as equitably as possible.
 This action was taken to conserve supplies now on hand for the army, navy and civilian population and to make future supplies go as far as possible.

Well, Folks — The wheat harvest is rapidly drawing to a close and the next week should see its complete finish — but then comes bean harvest — and that also means many more days of long, hard work.

Don't make that work-day any longer than it absolutely needs to be, either for yourself or your household — and you can save many hours by bringing us your cream. Remember, we pay spot cash, and return a steam-sterilized can, so saving you even the labor of washing the can.

And remember how handy that locker box was during harvest? Well, you'll find it equally handy during bean harvest and the rest of the year. If you are not already using one of these boxes—come in today and select yours.

When you tighten your belt, it's a recession.

When you have no belt to tighten, it's a depression. When you have no pants to hold, it's a panic!

It seems the gate broke down between Heaven and Hell. St. Peter appeared at the broken part and called out to the Devil, "Hey, Satan, it's your turn to fix it this time."

"Sorry," replied the boss of the land beyond the Styx, "my men are too busy to go about fixing a mere gate."

"Well then," grumbled St. Peter, "I'll have to sue you for breaking our agreement."

"Oh, yeah," yeathed the devil, "where are you going to get a lawyer?"

Freshman: "What kind of oil do you use in your car?"

Sophomore: "Oh, I usually begin by telling them I'm lonely."

Aberdeen Residents Out $240

Five residents of Aberdeen, Wash., lost $240 in hard earned currency, thirteen tires and all prospects of getting new tires or recaps for the duration last week, because they purchased "hot tires" from a "bootlegger."

The "bootlegger" is alleged to have stolen the tires and is in jail. The fact that the tires may or may not have been stolen did not influence the status of the five purchasers, according to the OPA. Under the Second War Powers Act, illegal purchasers of rationed items may be punished by a fine of $10,000, a year in jail, or both. In this case, one of OPA's first "crackdowns," they were only forced to return the tires to their former owner for rationing.

The "bootlegging" was discovered when a waitress in a tavern happened to mention she knew where tires could be purchased—and OPA heard the whisper.

MRS. AMERICA MEETS THE WAR

Women who make their own clothing will be following the government restricted silhouette for ready-made garments. For, you see, paper patterns used in making dresses, lingerie and lounging robes have been brought under the same measurement restrictions which apply to clothing you buy in the stores. The pattern order allows a leeway of five per cent, so that existing patterns which exceed maximum measurements slightly can still be used. Furthermore, existing stocks of patterns won't be cast away yet for you'll be able to buy those exceeding maximum measurements by more than five per cent until February 1, 1943. But all master forms from which patterns for sale are made must follow the government restrictions from now on.

There will be "V for Victory" imprints across the country as soon as the new "Victory" rubber heels are made available in shoe shops. The "V" trademark must be stamped on these heels being turned out from scrap rubber for the increasing army of pedestrians. The OPA consumer division advises us that the new type of rubber heels may not last as long as those which we have worn in the past, but they will give satisfactory service. They are available in black only and are marked according to the four grades in which they come — V-1, V-2, V-3 and V-4. For the time being, top-lifts for women's high-heeled shoes will not have the V-grade mark because of lack of space for the imprint.

Here's a tip you can pass along to your husband or son. There will be no more woolen lounging robes for men and boys after manufacturers use the fabrics they have on hand. The ruling covers bathrobes and beach coats, too. The main idea is to save wool, and heretofore a considerable quantity of men's robes have been made of wool cloth.

There's no shortage of mohair, and as a matter of fact, the government is hopeful that its use in civilian clothing will be extended. Practically all of our mohair—which is the hair of the angora goat, comes from Texas. The largest market for its use was closed when automobile production stopped, since about 85 per cent of the mohair supply went into pile fabric for car upholstery. Mohair formerly was under the restrictions placed on wool, but it has been removed from that category. At present its civilian use is unlimited.

The conservation being practiced by Mrs. America in her home is not new to laundries and dry cleaning establishments. Raw materials for these plants cannot be obtained for the duration. Whatever equipment there is will have to go to the most essential users. Furthermore, it means more care of the machinery now in use.

If young America wants footballs or basketballs this fall, the price which comes out of the family pocketbook will be much less than it might have been. OPA estimates that the reduction of price increases for certain sporting goods used in the fall will save consumers about $150,000,000.

Although there is to be a rise in the price of the 1942 frozen fruit, berry and vegetable pack, rest assured, Mrs. America, that the increase passed along to you will be the amount—and no more—which will cover extra costs to the packer since last fall. Probably the new regulations will bring retail prices up about 15 per cent on each package.

Chocolate soldiers are losing ground to the real soldiers and sailors, now that part of the candy industry is being converted to war work. Factories which formerly turned out products for the American sweet tooth soon will be making radio detector equipment for the army and navy. The deft hands of the girls who used to make chocolates might have become idle because of the reduced supply of cocoa. But now those skilled hands are being tuned to precision work.

STONY POINT VICINITY

Miss Evelyn Heath visited in Colfax over the week-end.

A farewell picnic was held at Spalding park Sunday honoring Clarence Heimgartner and Loren Hoisington. Clarence was inducted into the army and was to leave Wednesday, Sept. 2. Loren enlisted in the army and was unassigned as yet, pending physical examination. Nearly all their friends and relatives of the neighborhood were present.

A fishing party made up of David, LaVerne and Vester Daniels, Glen Stevens, Bob Coffland, Alvin Steigers and son Carl, Ernest Steigers and wife and children and Merle Brown left Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening. We did not learn of their luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown and children and Carl Dye were Lewiston visitors last Thursday.

Carl Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dye of Pine Creek, has been employed for several days at the ranch of Alvin Steigers, near Rosetta.

Turkey Crop Be Larger

The number of turkeys raised this year will be 33,786,000, an increase of one per cent over last year, but one per cent less than the record crop of 1940, according to preliminary estimates just released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Producers intentions last February indicated an eight per cent increase in the turkey crop this year, but cold wet weather and floods during the spring months, especially in the mid-west, resulted in low fertility and unusually heavy death losses.

Join Scrap Drive

Regional officials of WPB's conservation division this week issued an appeal to wholesalers and retailers of the region to make a clean sweep-up of critically needed scrap material accumulated in their store-rooms and shops.

The appeal was made as a part of the National Scavenger Program, currently underway in almost every town and city in the mountain region.

Recreation

It has been established that the American people spent as much for recreation in a recent year as the national treasury collected from all taxes. To be exact, we spent $4,300,000,000. Cheap and harmless recreations are herewith suggested for those who, with much higher taxes today, wish to cut down their outgo: Play solitaire.
