HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO

Walter Benscoter of American ridge went to Peck Thursday to visit his sister, Mrs. Kaylor.

A. DeWinter of Leland returned Thursday from a business trip to Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Compton and children drove over from Orofino last Friday for a visit with relatives. Stuart and his father are buying cattle in the Orofino country.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Phillips arrived Thursday afternoon from Lewiston for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Harold Thomas, and husband.

There were 257 votes registered in Kendrick precinct for the general election, as against 303 two years ago—a difference of 46 votes.

Mrs. Harry Grindis returned last Friday from a visit with her son, L. A. Grindis, better known here as "Jake." She said that the day before she came home Jake had gathered 17 dozen eggs, laid by his flock of White Leghorns. One day's cash receipts from the flock was $7.50, and it isn't an extraordinarily large flock.

Fred Newman, Bill Mielke and Alex Larson, all of Cameron, and John Johnson of Moscow left this week for the Elk Creek country on a deer hunt.

It is said that George Carlson and Tom Long shot and ate so many Chinks last Sunday that when they got up from the dinner table they flapped their wings and crowded, and are growing white rings around their necks.

Grace Phillips of Lewiston and Harold Thomas of Kendrick were married last Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Phillips, Rev. Koper, Presbyterian minister of Lewiston performing the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives of the bride and groom, the ring service being used.

Mrs. Thomas is a charming young lady and has already made many friends here. She is an accomplished pianist. The happy marriage of these two young people is the culmination of a friendship formed a year ago at Lewiston, where Mr. Thomas was attending high school. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make their home in one of the Collins brick cottages west of the park.

Linden Items — Mrs. Clem Israel returned home Friday after a few days visit with friends in Moscow. Clyde Alexander returned to his home in Winchester after a visit here with friends and relatives. Mrs. Woods and two children, who have been helping at the Fongberg home, returned to Southwick Sunday. Mrs. Norsh, who has been visiting at the Fry home, went to Kendrick Saturday. Mrs. George Garner and children and Edgar and Roy Behr of Elk River came out to the McPhee home Sunday. They returned Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Bohm.

Leland Items — The election passed off very quietly here Tuesday. There were 169 votes cast. Mr. and Mrs. Llyod Kuykendall are spending a few days in Spokane. Miss Beryl Harrison spent Tuesday night with Miss Elizabeth Daniels. Miss Edith Locke is spending a few days with Mrs. Woodward. The ladies met at the parsonage Wednesday and made a quilt and tied a comforter. Those present were the Mesdames R. M. Smith, Jennie Hund, Ed. Fleschman, J. M. Woodward, V. Fleschman, Mary McCall, Jesse Hoffman, Herman Koepf, James Helton, R. B. Parks, Hugh Parks, D. Kuykendall, J. A. Hall and Grandma Parks. The J. M. Woodward family were dinner guests at the parsonage Sunday. Edna Fleschman was a visitor at school Thursday afternoon. Vera Peters of the Primary room was absent from school Wednesday on account of illness.

Fairview Items — The program and basket social at the Fairview school house Friday evening, November 3, was well attended. The sum of $23.05 was realized from the sale of baskets, doughnuts and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Harrison and Chas. Daugherty were Sunday dinner guests in the Roy Morgan home. Freddie Glenn, who is staying with his aunt, Mrs. Buchanan, and attending school at Julietta, spent the week-end with home folks.

Snow Fell Thursday

At last we can tell it — but we couldn't last week due to the government's "44-hour-old weather report decree" — that white stuff on the ground in Kendrick last Thursday was snow, which fell in town to a depth of about two inches — and a little bit of which was still with us on Friday.

At Southwick the ground was covered to a depth of about five inches. On Big Bear ridge the snow began about the blind place and extended back toward the hills, ever deepening as it advanced northward.

However, it is all gone but a few north-side traces now, the rain Sunday having wiped out the last of it. Scattered flurries have occurred since, but due to warm ground, have not stayed with us.

Start Observing Rationing

Even before gasoline rationing is put on a nation-wide scale, Mrs. America is urged to promote volunteer rationing in the use of the family car and save tires. The OPA urges you to adopt for your temporary self-rationing the same mileage schedule as you soon will be required to follow. Start now and do away with all unnecessary driving so that your tires will last longer.

Many Tires Coming In

Roy Ramey, local tire collection agent for Uncle Sam, stated Tuesday afternoon that he had received and sent out more than 200 car tires since the rationing notification, and designation of the Railway Express as collection agency.

And he also stated that tires were coming in faster and faster as the deadline neared.

It is hard to believe that a town of this size had that many tires "cashed away" but such is an undisputed fact.

Tuesday at noon every gas ration blank in town had been called for by car owners, and there were many who had not yet received one.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE LELAND COMMUNITY

Some difficulty is being experienced in obtaining books but we hope to have them by that time. The class will be taught by Miss Hattie Abbott of Moscow, with Mrs. Jesse Hoffman in charge of arrangements.

1943 Wheat Allotment

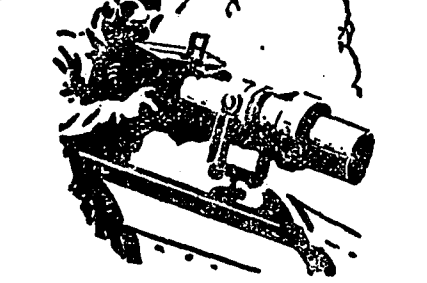

According to word received from the state office, the 1943 wheat allotment may be seeded to wheat or wheat and war crops. If 90 per cent of the wheat allotment or more is seeded to wheat and war crops, the wheat allotment acreage of the future will not be affected.

What's Busy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It is imperative that the ship lanes be kept free of ice. With American troops occupying Iceland and the Navy using the northern route for transportation of supplies to Russia, ice breakers are essential to Naval operations. The ice breaker is a specially constructed ship with heavily armored bows and powerful engines that crush the ice floes rather than ram through them.

Ice breakers of the Kickapoo class operating in the North Atlantic cost approximately $10,000,000. You can help our Navy build these ships by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Enroll in the payroll savings plan or apply at the nearest bank or postoffice.

CLUB HOLDS LIVELY MEETING WITH 24 PRESENT

The Kendrick Commercial club held its regular monthly meeting in the Community church Monday evening, with the ladies of the W. S. C. S. serving the 7:00 o'clock dinner.

Twenty-four members were present, and following the meal the regular business of the evening was taken up, and reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the approval of bills and reading of correspondence coming first.

George Brocke gave a short report of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce meeting at Moscow on October 29. Mr. Brocke stated that the chief items of interest were a discussion of gas rationing by Milton Kenworthy, of the Latah county rationing board, and the election of officers. In the latter event Dr. D. A. Christensen of Kendrick was elected vice-president. He also announced that the next meeting of the county organization would be held at Potlatch, and that at that time a decision would be reached whether or not to continue the holding of meetings or disband the group "for the duration."

A special committee consisting of E. P. Roberts and Frankie Benscoter of the Kendrick Grange were present and took up the matter of the proposed hog pool and other activities, but owing to a lack of complete information on the matter no decision was reached, but will be investigated further.

Tom Kaene, manager of the Lewiston Grain Growers warehouse at Juliaetta was present, and spoke briefly on his new home at Juliaetta. Tom stated he enjoyed the Commercial club meetings and wished such an organization could be formed at that town.

N. E. Walker of the Highway committee reported that bad weather had been holding up crusher operations of the local highway district, but that continued operations were planned as the weather would permit.

Dr. D. A. Christensen of the Agricultural committee reported that an effort was being made to complete organization of a 4-H club movement here, but that as yet the county agent had not been down to organize a group, and it was to be hoped that activities could be resumed along this line.

George Brocke, chairman of the local gas rationing committee, gave a brief resume of requirements for a coupon book. He stated that all motorists were entitled to an "A" book, which meant 16 gallons of gas per month. Those with more essential driving could apply for "B" books, which meant approximately 32 gallons per month, and professional men such as doctors, health inspectors, health nurses, etc., could obtain a "C" or unlimited ration book. Mr. Brocke also stated that speedometers would have to be kept in repair; that regular tire inspections and speedometer checks would be required; that gasoline must be delivered from the pump into a car tank, and not into drums or cans.

Roy Ramey, reporting for the Fish and Game committee, reported birds as very plentiful, fat and frisky. He also stated a number of deer had been killed locally, and several elk in the territory near Bovill.

Dr. D. A. Christensen also brought up again the matter of a bridge across the Potlatch to the City park, stating that he had 150 feet of 3/4-inch cable he would donate for use in construction of such a bridge.

After a short discussion the matter was turned over to Dr. Christensen and R. L. Blewett for more investigation and a report at the next meeting.

There being no further business to come before the meeting, on motion it adjourned.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the school house on Monday evening, December 14 — with members wives and sweethearts as club guests.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS AGAIN TIMELY

With another Armistice Day gone by and recorded in the pages of history — with American boys again fighting and dying for the flag on far-flung soil, we believe that the re-printing of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address would be more than timely — a reminder of our country.

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

"But, in a larger sense we cannot dedicate — we cannot consecrate — we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note or long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished task which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced."

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion — that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain — that this nation, under God, shall have new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, shall not perish from the earth."

"Bot" Conceded Election

After several days of see-sawing back and forth, it has probably been settled that Ex-Governor Bottolfsen has made a come-back and again will occupy the Governor's chair of the Gem state.

Latah county voted as follows: Clark, 1,476; Bottolfsen, 1,501, at least that was the last available report.

Thursday morning of last week, on incomplete returns for the state, Clark was leading by 195 votes, with 46 precincts to be heard from.

On Friday morning Clark was leading by 320 in a count of 818 boxes; on Saturday morning Clark was still leading by 29 votes — but on Monday morning Clark had wired Mr. Bottolfsen that he conceded him the election to the governorship and sent him a telegram of congratulations on his success, after "Bot" had forged ahead and held a lead of 498 votes.

Next to war news, it was about the most exciting thing in the papers — at least for some of those who take their politics seriously.

However, it is not likely that Gov. Clark will have to take his place in the bread line since it has already been hinted that he will probably be given the appointment of a Federal judge.

Politics makes strange bedfellows!

Operating Under Difficulties

The Kendrick Co-operative Creamery has been operating under plenty of difficulties the past few days — what with plastering work going on — scaffolding to dodge, etc.

But to cap it all off Frank Harris, the manager, is suffering with a badly infected left hand, and Kenneth Powell, butter-maker, was taken ill with flu.

And of course the cream was pouring in. So Harold Thomas jumped into the breach and pulled out a batch of butter and otherwise assisted.

At the present moment, however, Frank's hand is improving nicely; Kenney is back on the job; the plastering is making good progress — and the cream comes rolling in!

WHEAT PRICES HIGHER BUT TRADING IS LIGHT

Cash wheat prices at Portland averaged slightly better than 1c per bushel higher during the week ending November 6, as compared with the previous week, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The higher prices were not as a result of an active demand for wheat in this market but partially reflected the advance in the option market at Chicago, which amounted to about 2c per bushel for the period. The only interest manifest on the part of buyers was for small quantities of special grades of wheat to apply on previous sales to milling companies. Milling operations were very much curtailed, on account of the decline in flour sales. Reports indicate that bakers and millers and flour dealers are not increasing their flour stocks, preferring to await the announcement of the permanent price ceilings expected about December 3. Export sales of flour to the Americans under the Wheat Flour Export program were only moderate during the week. The Commodity Credit Corporation reports that sales of feed wheat, through the Pacific Coast regional office, continued very heavy for the period. Wheat receipts at Portland were 97 cars, as compared with 92 cars the previous week.

Cash wheat bid prices at Portland on November 6, for 15-day shipment were: soft white $1.14; soft white, no. 2, $1.17; white club, $1.17 1/2; western red $1.18; hard red winter, $1.10 1/2. For deferred shipment, on basis country warehouse receipt: soft white $1.14 1/2; soft white, no. 2, $1.17; white club, $1.18; western red $1.16 1/2 and hard red winter, $1.11.

The San Francisco wheat market averaged quiet but held about steady during the week ending November 6, with prices mostly unchanged compared with a week ago. Light offerings generally offset the rather slow demand from all classes of trade. Growers continued to hold remaining supplies rather firmly with large amounts of central California wheat under government loans. The growers were mostly being bid around $1.82 1/2 per 100 county warehouse receipt basis, for No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white wheat, sacked, but generally were not ready sellers at these levels. Bay region mills reported a rather slow flour business and were taking only enough wheat to meet bare requirements.

Cash wheat at Kansas City followed closely the action of futures, registering gains of 2c to 3c. Receipts were increased moderately over the previous period, but open market offerings were not representative of daily receipts and at times the demand was not fully satisfied, especially for the better milling grades.

At Minneapolis grain markets showed strength during the week ending November 6, as demand improved and market offerings lessened. Cash movement to the Minneapolis market was of only moderate proportions. Flour demand became slightly more active, which, in the face of small offerings, lifted wheat prices higher and a marked improvement was noted in the demand for all the feed grains. Minneapolis received 1928 cars during the week, while Duluth unloaded 1428 cars. Practically all diversion point wheat went via Duluth, as bid premiums were stronger from that direction.

The winter wheat outlook continues bright in the western portions of the main belt, with the crop making an excellent growth and furnishing good pasturage in southern sections. In the Ohio valley and other eastern areas, rains were beneficial in helping late seeded grain to germinate and make sufficient growth to establish a good root system. Rains were also quite helpful in the Pacific Northwest but came too late in some places for seeding which had been delayed because of dry weather. Spring wheat will be substituted for the winter variety in many of these sections.

Approximately 341,500 contracts have been written by the Federal Crop Insurance corporation on the 1943 winter wheat crop covering about 450,000 farms. This compares with a total of 394,000 contracts covering 504,000 farms written on both winter and spring wheat for 1942. Spring wheat growers have until March 15, 1943, to apply for insurance. Up to September 30, a total of 67,076 indemnities, totaling 7,357,000 bushels had been paid under the 1942 wheat insurance program.

The 1942 wheat under government loan at the close of October totaled 266,166,000 bushels. Earlier crops totaled 269,226,000 bushels. Barley loans on the 1942 crop totaled 6,287,000 bushels, of which 1,210,000 bushels were in California.

NOBODY WANTS AN Electric Connection
AT THE COST OF A GUN
IN AN AMERICAN SOLDIER'S HAND!

That's the choice facing America today! One mile of copper wire that might be saved deprives our boys on the firing line of 60,000 bullets! One foot of it may save one of them his life!

That is why the War Production Board's regulations* prohibit utilities from making service extensions (even where the materials are in the customer's possession) without permission. Until the Axis is defeated the aluminum, copper, iron, steel and zinc that normally go into line construction must be saved to back up our boys at the front.

We appreciate the patriotic cooperation of our customers who may be deprived of full use of electric service due to military requirements. This company is doing everything in its power to continue to give cheap and dependable electric service, despite war difficulties. If you plan to make any change which requires wiring of any kind, kindly call our local office before work is started. Sometimes we can help you avoid difficulties.

*Applies to all utilities—sewer, water, electric, gas, etc.

Loans For Small Farmers

Every small and part time farmer in Latah County who can add even as little as one cow, two hogs, 10 chickens or a family garden to all-out war food production for 1943, can secure needed help through the Farm Security's "War Loan" program, announces G. W. Thomas, county FSA supervisor, Title Building, Moscow, Idaho.

War loans to boost Food for Freedom production for market or home use can be made to:

1. Purchase livestock, feed, seed, equipment, building repairs and all operating goods.
2. Share ownership and use of new or existing farm equipment to aid machinery rationing.
3. Join new or established co-operative associations for purchasing, marketing or processing of war foods, or providing co-operative health services.

War loans can be made up to $2,500, but preference will be given to smaller loans so the greatest number of farmers in the area can be reached. Farmers unable to secure adequate financing from local production credit associations and banks will be eligible. Loans are repayable in five years on recoverable goods and one to two years on non-recoverable items such as feed and seed. Interest is five percent on individual and three per cent on co-operative loans.

Growing labor difficulties of larger operators and prospects of food rationing mean 1943 increases will have to come from smaller farmers with family labor, and experience to boost production of war foods. Secretary Wickard has assigned FSA the responsibility of providing credit, health and co-operative services to help meet the critical food needs ahead.

Hoarded Gas Of No Use

Little evidence of gasoline hoarding in anticipation of nation-wide rationing has been uncovered in the western states. OPA officials say the spirit of co-operation among motorists anxious to conserve rubber as a war measure is excellent.

All gasoline put into the tanks of automobiles after the plan goes into effect, must, in accordance with the rationing regulations, be accounted for by coupons removed from ration books. Stored gasoline must not be used in amounts greater than those permitted under rationing. Compulsory periodic tire inspection will show whether wear on tires has exceeded that to be expected under gasoline rationing.

OPA has called upon local War Price and Rationing Boards to appoint all competent tire men in their communities as inspectors.

SCHOOL NOTES

At 2:30 Friday afternoon an interesting assembly program will be given at the High School assembly by Robert T. Young, young Australian, who will tell of the "Wonders of the Telescope" which is to be mounted on the mile high mountain in southern California. His fascinating story is highly recommended by the California Institute of Technology. We believe everyone will enjoy his talk and seeing his models and picture of the giant telescope. This "eye" will reach a billion miles into space, bring the moon within 25 miles of us and reveal the glories and mysteries of creation, intriguing the imagination of thinking people to the world over.

Pictures to be shown this week are on "Clothing," shown to the Home Economics club. It deals with the clothing worn in different countries. B. E. class started for girls last Wednesday. They will be 45-minute periods every Monday and Wednesday, 3:15 to 4:00.

"Patterns and Materials" will start the Home Economics classes I and II off on the second part of their program Monday.

The Typing I class has started speed testing.

May Enlist In Navy

It makes no difference to the Selective Service system which branch of the military service any draftee desires to choose, and he has the opportunity and privilege of enlisting in the United States navy after he has received his first call for induction, which is the first physical examination.

Further, any draftee can enlist in the United States navy after he has received his second or actual call for induction, which will be approximately ten days to two weeks after the first call. But application for enlistment in the U. S. navy must be made at least four days before the induction date so the necessary physical examination can be made, the enlistment papers completed and the actual swearing in prior to the date of induction, so that the main recruiting station can inform the local Selective Service board as to his enlistment in the navy.

When the selective service records are completed at the end of each month, they receive credit for any enlistments in the navy against their original quota.

Sets New Swim Record

In the first inter-regimental swimming meet held at the naval training station at Farragut, Camp Bannock, first area to be occupied by recruits, captured the championship, while one of its swimmers set what is believed to be a national training record for underwater swimming.

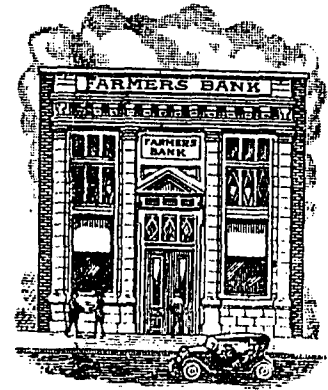

Louis Danison, apprentice seaman from Redondo Beach, Calif., in a gallant effort to win a first for his regiment traveled 254 feet in the underwater swim. The standing record for this event at the Great Lakes naval training station is 220 feet, and Farragut athletic directors

Urges Sharing Of Equipment
"Sharing farm equipment" to insure the fullest use of all new and existing equipment in Latah county is the goal of Secretary Wickard of FSA, announces G. W. Thomas, county farm security administration supervisor, Moscow, Idaho. Co-operative use of machinery is not only expected to relieve critical shortages next year but make more steel and labor available for tanks, guns and planes.

FSA is authorized to make co-operative loans for joint use and ownership of nearly every type of new or existing farm machinery and equipment. Co-operative use of the standard farm equipment by two to five farmers is possible in many communities, especially among the smaller farms. Operating costs are proportionately reduced as well as savings effected in vital war materials.

Three different types of co-operative machinery services can be set up for both new and existing machinery. These include joint ownership and use of equipment by two to five farmers; participation in the use of existing machinery on a fee basis and written agreements, transportation or similar organizations including a number of farmers. Farmers unable to participate because of inability to secure adequate credit may apply for an FSA commodity and co-operative service loan.

A heavily increased demand for co-operative loans is expected as the machinery rationing makes it imperative that every piece of equipment be used 100 per cent of its capacity and shared with a neighbor wherever possible and practical. FSA co-operative loans are made for repayment during the average life of the equipment purchased, with interest at 3% annually on the unpaid balance. Applications will be received at the county office on any week day from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., except Saturday, which will be from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Pre-fabricated Granaries
Difficulties experienced by Latah County wheat producers in obtaining nails and other critical materials for building farm storage bins have turned attention to pre-fabricated granaries, a county AAA dispatch says.

Producers who need farm storage for their 1942 crop may obtain information at the county AAA office through the Commodity Credit Corporation. The county office will act as go-between for farmers to help get the 1942 grain crop under cover. The storage situation is critical in the nation, and may be serious in Latah county if all possible means are not put to use to provide storage space.

Granaries handled through the Commodity Credit Corporation may be ordered in carload lots through the county office, and are available to all wheat producers who are eligible for commodity loans. They will cost between 12c and 15c per bushel of storage capacity, delivered in the county.

Pre-fabricated granaries come complete except for foundations and roofing material, in some cases. They can be set up without expert help, require a minimum of critical materials, and store the grain adequately to meet eligibility requirements for government commodity loans.

These granaries are available immediately, and will be shipped as soon as the orders are received, the dispatch said. It is necessary for farmers who want such storage to contact the county AAA office as soon as possible so requirements of the county can be learned.

Request Less Driving
An urgent appeal to owners and drivers of an estimated 635,000 passenger automobiles in six western states to immediately eliminate all pleasure driving came this week from Clem W. Collins, regional OPA administrator.

The appeal followed in the wake of the Baruch rubber report to the President, which recommended that nation-wide gasoline rationing to conserve rubber be invoked as soon as possible.

"Let the motorists of Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah and Montana, who have a great temptation to drive through this beautiful country during Indian summer set an example for the rest of the nation by foregoing pleasure driving until victory is won," Collins said.

Definite gasoline rationing rules for the Rocky mountain states will be invoked in a matter of weeks.

Inspectors from all the mountain states have been in the east in recent weeks observing the gas rationing program along the Atlantic seaboard, and are prepared to administer the program in this part of the country.

Collins also announced that all local boards have been instructed to tighten up inspections for tire and recap certificates and are instructed to "get tough" in treatment of persons who waste rationed rubber.

Many Tons Of Meat Taken
A million dollars worth of wild meat for the Idaho food larder should be a conservative estimate of the value of big game, upland birds and waterfowl taken by hunters during the past season, says a University of Idaho dispatch.

As supporting evidence checking station figures are quoted, which show 287 elk and 453 deer, averaging 300 and 110 pounds in weight, taken last fall in two districts of the Clearwater forest alone. Figured at 20c per pound, this meat was worth more than $27,000. A total of $67,500 is placed as the value of meat from all five districts in the forest.

On the basis of these values, the Idaho dinner table probably benefited to the extent of nearly $1,000,000 of wild meat when the total kill of big game, upland birds and waterfowl is taken into consideration, the dispatch says.

Last year the big game population on national forests is believed to have passed the 2,000,000 mark—10 times greater than 30 years ago.

Compregnated Wood New Item
Representatives of the army, navy and aircraft manufacturers have followed with interest a process of compregnating wood, which may be useful in producing a smooth, tough and durable material for fuselages, that has been developed at the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis., a research unit of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In making this product thin sheets of wood were treated with resin forming chemicals and then compressed by means of heat and pressure into a material impossible to make by the old method of treating wood so that it can be molded. The new method differs from ordinary gluing in that the resin chemically binds together the wood cells when the wood is pressed.

The Forest Products laboratory test samples showed the new material to be as smooth and as hard as glass and practically free from warping and shrinking. Although machining much harder than wood, but easier than steel, it can be tooled to any desired shape. Chemists at the laboratory report that the material is highly resistant to alcohol and water, indicating it is more resistant to weather than paint or lacquer.

The smoothness of the material as well as its good molding properties increase its potential value in plane construction because of the constant effort to get great speed by reducing wind friction. The material could be used to advantage in making propeller blades varying in specific gravity from one end to the other, or even in molding the propellers to their final shape. There is a distinct possibility that the propellers can be molded to the finished dimensions, thus eliminating the exacting lathe work that has been necessary heretofore.

Several other types of uses are also possible for this new material. It should be highly satisfactory for flooring and paneling in houses. The hard finished surface should be very resistant to marring and grain raising. The upkeep cost should be negligible as no finish, other than the high polish obtained in the molding itself, is necessary.

Plywood with compressed faces could be used to advantage in furniture manufacture. The possibility of refinishing by merely sanding and buffing is also of considerable importance.

Hen House Calamity
The man was a farmer. One night he awoke at the sound of a disturbance in the hen house. There had been chicken thieves in the neighborhood, and not even pausing to put on his slippers, he grabbed his shotgun and made his way as quietly as possible out of the house. It was late summer and he was wearing an old-fashioned knee-length nightshirt.

Taking advantage of every bit of cover he could find, he finally gained the shelter of a picket fence leading toward the hen house. Stooping over, he followed the fence. Sure enough, the door was open. Pointing his gun at the opening, and still in his bent-over position, he was just at the point of demanding that whoever was in there come out with his hands up, when he felt something as cold as an icicle touch him from behind.

"I got the story out of him the next day," our friend said, "when I stopped by to see him about a cow. He and his wife were in the backyard, cleaning chickens. I never saw so many dead chickens at one time, not even for thresing. There were 18 of them by actual count. I suppose I never would have got the story but for noticing that some of the chickens seemed extra bloody and bruised. Sam was looking awful sober, too, and so was his wife, although now and then I thought she was trying mighty hard not to smile.

"What had happened was this: Unknown to Sam, his dog had followed him, and just as Sam was about to shoot, had touched him with his cold nose on such part of his anatomy as his short nightshirt and his stooping position exposed. Sam let out a yell and pulled both triggers of his gun at the same time. The gun direction, the open door, and the chickens bunched on the roost did the rest.

"Sam never did find out what had caused the commotion in the first place, but later on when he could smile about it a little, he said picking out No. 6 shot from canned chicken was a new experience."

Who Is Necessary Man?
Keynoting a new interpretation on occupational deferment from service in the armed forces, Brig Gen. M. G. McConnell announced today that: "Every activity now must be considered in relation to its value in supporting the war effort."

McConnell said that the activities essential to the prosecution of the war are properly developed and maintained, a new interpretation must now be placed on the phrases "national health," "safety, or interest," and "war production."

Now that we are at war, these phrases no longer refer to mere convenience and comfort. Activities essential to the national health, safety or interest are now limited to those activities, other than war production, which support the war effort. Activities supporting the war effort include those which are predominantly devoted to the purpose of providing food, clothing, shelter, health, safety and other requisites of our daily life.

With reference to men placed in Class II-B because of employment in a critical civilian occupation, Gen. McConnell said: "The phrase, necessary to the war production program" now means the work of processing or producing ships, planes, tanks, guns and other machines; instruments, articles and materials directly used to prosecute the war."

Chaplains with U. S. armed forces are using chalices made of gold plate over an iron base; copper and brass will not be used to manufacture articles of religious devotion until after the war.

Silk Hose Salvage Campaign
The silk and nylon women's hose collection program will begin Nov. 16 throughout the Rocky Mountain region and the nation, WPB announces.

Women and girls are asked to wash their discarded hose and turn them in at collection depots at the nearby counters of retail stores. They will not be paid for the old hose, and the stores also will receive nothing in the collection campaign. Hose will be shipped, freight collect, to the Defense Supplies Corp., a U. S. agency, to be made into gunpowder bags and other weapons of war.

New Record Set
A record output of more than 3,500,000 bushels of garden vegetables and small fruits will be produced this year by 4-H club members throughout the nation, in response to the government's call for super-production of these foodstuffs to meet war needs. This output is an increase of 60 per cent over last year's production by the clubbers.

Roughly 350,000 members participated in the 1942 National 4-H Victory Garden contest conducted in cooperation with the Extension Service. This also is an all-time high enrollment in the 4-H garden project, and shows how vital 4-H production can be to the war effort in this as in all lines.

County winner in this competition received gold-filled medals and four representatives of each state's blue award group were awarded a $25.00 War Savings bond. One of the latter will be considered in selecting sectional and national winners. All-expense trips to the 21st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 2, will be awarded to the two highest scoring participants in each of the four extension sections, who will also receive a $100 War Savings bond apiece.

P. U. D. Measure Defeated
The proposal to establish a Public Utility district in Adams county, Wash., was rejected by a vote of 1,053 to 766 at the general election last week. It was the only P. U. D. measure on the ballot in Washington.

This was the third defeat for the Public Utility District proposal in Adams county. The first election on the subject was in 1938, when it was defeated by a margin of 70 votes; in 1940 it was defeated by 109 votes, and this year the margin of defeat was increased to 287 votes.

Still Another Double Feature
This week's offering at the local theatre will be still another double feature.

The second offering of the evening brings forth those two well-known radio stars, Lum and Abner in "The Bashful Bachelor," assisted by Zasu Pitts, Grady Sutton and Oscar O'Shea.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week another double feature has been billed. The first offering of the evenings is "Moscow Strikes Back," actual war pictures taken on the Russian front — and they are not recommended for children under the age of 15 — so terrible are they in their stark realism.

The second offerings on those two evenings will be "Sailors On Leave," a rollicking comedy from start to finish — three sailors and a girl.

Moving Day In Kendrick
Wednesday was another moving day in Kendrick. Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt, who purchased the Jay Stout home some months ago, and have been living there, sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greenwood, and moved to the Section house Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood moved from their home (the Brocke place) to their new home the same day.

We did not learn who will occupy the place vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood.

May Stop Drinks
The great American habit of quenching thirst at the soda fountain more than likely will be affected by a recent WPB order placing caffeine under allocation control. Caffeine is used extensively in cola beverages as well as a medicinal drug. Just how much the beverage output will be affected will be determined by the amount of imports of the raw materials from which caffeine is made, as well as the demands for its medicinal use.

Staggering Figures

In 1917, 1918 and 1919 the United States built a total of 1,299 ships of all categories. By December 1, 1943, we expect to complete 2,300 merchant ships and 700 smaller craft, altogether more than 2 1/2 times — within a two-year period — the tonnage of ships built during the three-year period of World War I and after.

Some Difference!

During the last war we built a total of 64 light tanks, weighing 7 1/2 tons each. "Light tanks" today weigh almost 15 tons, heavy ones around 56 tons, and they now cost about $1.00 per pound to build.

"PRAISE THE LORD"

Considerable has been written regarding a remark by a young Presbyterian minister — a Marine Corps chaplain, who, at Pearl Harbor, is said to have made the remark: "Praise The Lord, and pass the ammunition." This editorial, taken from the Lewiston Tribune, so nearly fits almost everyone's idea that we believe it well worth reprinting:

"Members of the clergy in Seattle have issued statements denouncing the song 'Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition' as a jazz tune of blasphemy against Christ and the church. Referring to the young Presbyterian navy chaplain, author of the phrase from which the song was born, they observed that such language was 'unbecoming to members of the clergy.'"

"The only ammunition of a chaplain is prayer with and for our men in the service," one of them said. "His only weapon is the cross, for spiritual and moral welfare of those men. When he starts passing the ammunition he becomes subject to the same treatment as regular prisoners of war and is not then classed as a non-combatant."

"There is something very strange and Godless in the vision of a chaplain, ignoring a combatant service during a surprise and treacherous attack by savage killers, so that he may remain immune to 'pray with and for' the regular prisoners of war. That the chaplain in question, who was caught at Pearl Harbor in the most devastatingly anti-human, dishonorable and thoroughly uncivilized treachery of modern times — who fought as he prayed and prayed as he fought — should be rebuked by the clerics of Seattle, is almost inconceivable.

As for the song itself, we are of the opinion that a better World War II song will be written. It is catchy, swifty and it has a tone. But it drags in spots; and we predict it will not survive the better battle song, when it is written. However, that clerics should consider it blasphemy against Christ, indicative of "modern paganism" and "irreverence" is unfortunate for the church as an institution.

The American people enjoy this song because it blends in principles of their Christianity with the practical problems of fighting a war for freedom of the human being to live, to speak and to worship as he chooses. 'Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition, and we'll all be free.' Is it blasphemy to praise the Lord while fighting and dying for principles of conduct that have been made a part of American character through spread of the Lord's gospel? May we suggest that perhaps a great majority of Christian men, walking into what they know may mean sudden and blinding death, repeat to themselves, and with meaning, The Lord's Prayer. The last line of that prayer reads: 'For Thine is the kingdom, and the power and the glory forever.'

"Thus 'Praise the Lord and give 'em the works.' 'Praise the Lord, they must be beaten.' 'Praise the Lord, we'll run 'em bow-legged.' Now someone has put it in song, removed it from the silence, the unexpressed but universal prayer of our side. It has been put in modern terms, with a tune for all voices and articulating a spirit of holy conquest, our sense of obligation for welfare of human kind shall prevail over those of the enemy.
