VOLUME 53

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1943

NO. 1

WHAT HAPPENED HERE TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benscoter and son Donald of American ridge were Lewiston visitors over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith and daughters went to Moscow Monday morning to spend the day with Mrs. Leith's sister, Mrs. King.

Miss Mable Eichner returned Wednesday to her school work at the University of Idaho, after spending her vacation at the home of her parents on American ridge. Last week saw the mile of road northeast of Kendrick finished. This week at a meeting of the Kendrick Highway commissioners a contract was let to Campbell & Barr for the construction of a highway within the limits of Kendrick to the boundary of the Kendrick highway district, which is about half way between Kendrick and Juliaetta. The road will be made standard width and surfaced with seven inches of crushed rock. Work will be pushed as fast as weather will permit and it is believed the two-mile stretch will be finished early in the spring. In connection with this work the Latah county commissioners have promised to finish the road from the boundary of the Kendrick highway district to the Nez Perce county line, a distance of approximately four miles—and then it will be up to Lewiston to finish it on to Arrow Junction.

Thursday night of last week members of the American Legion post assembled in the dining room of the Commercial Hotel for big feed and incidentally to elect officers for the ensuing year. The dinner was all it should have been and the officers elected were as follows: Tom Long, post commander; R. M. Spencer, post adjutant; Harry Benscoter, post treasurer; Harold Thomas, historian; Donald McCrea, chaplain; Harry Hupp, athletic officer; E. A. Deobald, employment officer; Caus Clark, sergeant at arms.

Ted and Brian Deobald made a deal this week with Adam Wagner for the lease of the concrete garage which has been operated for the past year by Roberts Brothers. They leased the building and fixtures and took over the stock of automobile parts and accessories. They will make this building their headquarters and will use the building next to the Kendrick Theater for storage purposes. Deobald Brothers have been very successful in the garage business here and leased the larger building in order to be better able to handle their growing business. Leslie Roberts will remain with them and will be employed in the mechanical department.

John Galloway writes from Dinuba, Calif., that he must have the Gazette as he doesn't feel at home there without it. He says he and his gang are going to spend the winter there and will drive back to Idaho in the spring.

Frank Souder, who has been employed in the Wright sawmill in the Crescent country, lost all the fingers and thumb of his left hand Wednesday morning. His hand was caught in the saw and was badly lacerated. He was rushed to Kendrick by automobile and from here was taken to Lewiston for surgical attention.

There were about 50 present at the installation of officers of the local Woodman lodge Wednesday night. N. Brocke served a very satisfying banquet at 7:30. Charles McKeever acted as toastmaster. Short talks were given by E. G. Dicks, N. E. Ware, N. B. Long, W. M. McCrea and R. B. Parks. After the banquet the newly-elected officers were installed.

Cameron News Notes—Saturday evening dinner guests in the Rein home were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Silflow, Sr., Hannah and August; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartung and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blum. Miss Ida and Walter Silflow and Wilbert Brunseik were dinner guests in the Blum home Saturday. Herman Ehlers is visiting in the Silflow home this week. Last week we had real spring weather—and, of course, mud, which is a close companion of spring. Miss Laura Blum was a dinner guest of Miss Wanda Brunseik Sunday. George Wilken and Gus Blum were Lewiston visitors last week, returning Thursday. Henry Wendt has been on the sick list—bachelor life doesn't seem to agree with him. Herbert Brunseik spent the week-end at the Russell Rogers home.

Big Bear Ridge—Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Penlund and son of Lewiston have been visiting Mrs. Penlund's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleth. Misses Dammarell, Strenberg, Jones, Berglund and Mrs. Ferguson resumed their school duties at the Fern Hill, Taney, Applequist, Rimrock and Steele schools Tuesday, after having spent their Christmas vacation with home folks. Ida and Elsie Morey, Rilla and Pearl May, Allen and Claribel Moore, Dwight Ingle and Anton Lien have resumed their studies at the Kendrick school after having spent their vacation at their homes here. Jack and Esther Whybark school in Deary, also are attending vacation at their homes here. John Heath was visiting friends at Southwick the first of the week.

Review Items—Miss Olga Wolff was a visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Schultz, several days last week. Jack Flesham spent the week-end with friends in Lewiston. Miss Agnes Byrne, who underwent an operation in Lewiston some time ago, is able to be home again and is much improved in health.

Commercial Club To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club will be held in the basement of the Community church next Monday evening, January 11, at 6:30 o'clock. Dinner will be served by the W. S. C. S. of that organization.

At the last regular meeting quite a number of special committees were appointed, and their reports are due, so plan to be on hand to hear them and take part in the discussions.

Remember the date — January 11. Remember the hour — 6:30 p. m. — and be there.

High School News

The Hot Lunch department wishes to thank Mrs. Harry Benscoter for a sack of carrots she donated. Latest word received from the W. P. A. is that they will drop their Hot Lunch program on January 15. At the present time the various rural districts sending students here are holding meetings to determine whether or not their districts wish to contribute the funds necessary to carry on the Hot Lunch program. Several districts have already indicated their willingness to contribute to the fund, and it is expected that the decision of all of them will be in by the end of the week.

The end of the semester is January 15. All the semester examinations will be given this week and next.

The Home Economics, Typing and Shorthand classes will have their semester tests this week. The Home Economics classes are now starting their second garments. Most of them are remodeling clothing.

The band has started the study of new music, and the Boys' Glee club is beginning on two-part books.

The Physics class saw a picture on electrostatics.

Kendrick Wins Two More

Setting a fast pace from the opening whistle Kendrick won a two-point victory over the fast Grangeville five on Friday evening, January 1.

On Tuesday evening of this week the Kendrick Tigers came back with a "double the score victory" over the big Troy basketweavers, winning the fast and furious contest 25 to 12. Troy jumped into an early lead, 6-2, but during the second quarter the Kendrick Tigers started an aggressive attack, soon overhauled and passed the Troy quintette, and were never headed from that point on. Troy used a three and two defense that the boys found rather puzzling for a time, but once the combination was solved the local boys went on through for their baskets. However fouls were quite numerous on both sides, but of all called, Troy failed to convert any free throws, and Kendrick made but one!

The Kendrick lineup consisted of Walter McCall, Ossie Kanikkeberg, "Tup" Baker, Don Fraser, Charles Deobald and Teddy Deobald, the latter two playing about equal periods. In the "B" string game which followed Kendrick defeated Troy 17-12.

Stunts For Home Town

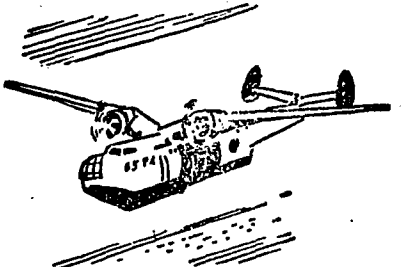

Dale Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, who enlisted some time ago in the C. P. T. program, gave local townspeople a thrill Tuesday morning about 9:30, when he flew up from Lewiston to stunt right over the home town. He completed dives, rolls, wing-over, up-side-down flying and various other stunts.

Dale takes his exam this week, which finishes his secondary training. He then will be sent to some other training center, probably La Grande, Oregon.

Dale has always wanted to learn to fly, and now his dream seems to be well on its way to fulfillment. We are satisfied that if he is later assigned combat flying he will be able to give a splendid account of himself.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

At Midway, in the Coral Sea and from General MacArthur's headquarters in Australia, the Navy patrol bombers are searching out enemy bases, ships and transports and "completing their mission." The Navy Patrol Bomber costs about $750,000.

Our factories are turning out hundreds of these bombing ships. Yet it is only through your investment in War Bonds and Stamps you can do your share to help provide patrol bombers for our rapidly increasing air force. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in these Government securities and do your bit to win and shorten the war. Our airmen are depending on your help.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

An Army motor trailer looks much like any other automobile trailer which may be seen on the highways or in the tourist's camps. The Army's trailers are used as traveling hospitals, dental clinics and testing laboratories.

These mobile surgical or dental units are hauled to their destination and the trucks released for other purposes. They cost from $1,200 to $3,000 and weigh from 1 1/2 to 8 1/2 tons. You can help pay for them . . . help keep our Army fit. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. You can join the Ten Percent Club through the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy Bonds regularly through the nearest bank or postoffice.

Grosbeaks Visit Kendrick

A flock of Western Evening Grosbeaks, estimated at about fifty, has been seen this week feeding on the Ash tree seeds at the Wade Keene and neighboring homes. This flock of birds is an unusual treat to local bird observers, as this bird has not been seen here for many years. They breed in the high mountains and roam the lowlands during the winter in search of food. Like the Waxwings, they travel in large flocks, but why they choose certain localities has yet to be explained. These plump birds, mustard-yellow in color, with black and white markings, have large sharp bills which they use to cut the seed from the winged pod of the maple and ash trees on which they feed. In the winter of 1926 the Lewiston Tribune carried a story about these Evening Grosbeaks appearing in the Lewiston valley that winter for the first time in the history of the valley. They have been seen there several times since.

Note: The above article was written for the Gazette by Mrs. Marvin Long, an ardent lover of birds.

Pickup Fire Damaged

Sunday of last week a late model pickup belonging to and driven by Fred Bailey, who was home for the holidays from Hermiston, Oregon, caught fire on the road between Kendrick and Texas ridge, and was badly damaged. The cause of the fire is presumed to have been the explosion of anti-freeze in the radiator. At any rate the machine was badly damaged before the blaze was extinguished. All wiring, the carburetor, generator, fuel pump, etc., as well as the instrument panel were a complete loss. Damage is estimated at from $250 to $300. Fred carried almost every kind of insurance with the exception of fire.

The Kendrick Bean Growers have rented the room in the Raby building formerly occupied by Rider's Food Store, for use as a warehouse, where they will store sacks, extra fixtures and some minor stock items. "Susie Q"
Susie Q she was a tank
And her driver Johnny Blank,
On maneuvers Johnny went
And Susie slept outside his tent.
All night Johnny studied maps
In hopes he might get at some Japs.
Susie's always greased and ready
Johnny's always cool and steady.
If the regiment decides to go
Susie's never tired and slow.
If it's snow or sleet or rain
Susie's on the go again.
If a tree on her should fall
Susie doesn't mind at all.
Susie to Johnny will ever be true
As long as the skies ever stay blue.
—Wilma Benstoyer.

"Solved Problems"

I once had four tires
But now I have none,
And where is the gas
To make my car run?
Over tires or gas
I make not a fuss,
Because every morning
I ride on a bus.
—Leonard Roberts.

Odd Happens At Farragut

Add this one to your ship's log, sailor: Even the deer are qualifying as expert swimmers at the Farragut Navy Training station in the Idaho woods.

And, boy, that's no scuttlebutt (rumor).

The deer, a big six-point buck, apparently had read an order issued by the recruit training department, that all bluejackets at Farragut must pass a swimming test. But the deer went at it the hard way.

Attracted by the lights in the Camp Waldron Drill hall, the 200-pound buck ploughed down a hillside near the camp and went through a window in the building, taking the sash and glass with him.

Seaman John Peterson, life guard on duty, said the deer plunged into the water and swam three-quarters of the way around the pool. The big buck didn't bother about the regulation side, back and breast strokes.

He went at it deer fashion and made the grade, his points knitting through the water like the periscope of a submarine.

"While the deer failed to show any outstanding form," said Seaman Peterson, "he swam the distance required and qualified."

Then, after showing the blue-jackets how to do it, the buck bounded out of the pool and crashed through another door to gain his freedom.

Recruits stationed at Farragut are required to pass their swimming test before receiving their first liberty" at the end of their detention period.

At last reports, Farragut's swimming deer had taken his "liberty," but probably had gone AWOL also.

In addition, one feathered naval enthusiast didn't realize that the service school for advanced training of enlisted men at the naval training station was not open yet and tried to enroll the hard way.

It was a Chinese pheasant whose anxiety to serve in the navy apparently became so great that it crashed through a window pane at the school (three weeks before the classes were to start) and was found in a classroom, slightly dazed, but all ready for advanced training.

To the best of knowledge of the service school officers, the patriotic pheasant hadn't as yet completed the basic recruit training, so after determining that the applicant was not seriously injured by the daring entrance, they released it.

It was believed the pheasant would next try the naval air corps.

Should Keep Accurate Records

Farmers who have kept accurate record books won't have much trouble filling out this year's income tax forms, says Karl Hobson, farm management specialist with U. of I. agricultural extension service. But those who rely on memory for their figures are apt to find themselves in a mess.

Most Idaho farmers gross over $1200, the minimum annual taxable income for married men. It is comparatively easy to determine gross income, but arriving at the net income is a different story. It is up to the farmer to establish his expense items. Unless he has kept a complete farm record he is certain to leave out some of the expenses incurred during the year. It is humanly impossible for any farmer or anyone else, for that matter, to sit down at the end of the year and recall all of them.

There are many other ways that a good farm record helps in making income tax returns. It will provide systematic and complete information on depreciation expense for buildings, other improvements, machinery, purchased breeding livestock, work stock, and sales of purchased livestock. It also provides the recorded information for changing from the cash receipts and disbursements method of reporting to the accrual method, which is much more satisfactory for most farmers.

This year a new Idaho farm and ranch record book will be available some time in February at county agent's offices. It has several new features that will be helpful in recording and summarizing information needed for income tax returns. It will also serve most other purposes for which a farm record is valuable, such as determining sources of profits and losses in his farm business and providing information needed for the preparation of net worth and operating statements that are valuable aids in obtaining or renewing loans.

About Face!

There is an old saying that it is better to be a big frog in a little puddle. Let's not quibble, this might be true and again it might not, but it doesn't go far enough.

Would it not be better to be a big frog in a big puddle than a big frog in a little puddle, or a little frog in a little puddle than a little frog in a big puddle?

In a case of this kind the mortality rate of frogs should also be considered. The lovers of frogs' legs are looking for big frogs with fat, juicy legs. Wouldn't it be better to be a little frog in a big puddle or a little frog in a little puddle than a big frog in a big puddle or a big frog in a little puddle? In any puddle the big frog has a louder croak than the little frog and is, therefore, easier to find and the easier to find the greater the mortality. Of course a big frog with a little croak is pretty well off but a little frog with a big croak is just sticking his neck out and asking for trouble. As long as he croaks to scale he is comparatively safe.

(Note: Sounds kind of foolish but I guess a little foolishness now and then is relished by the best of men.)

Gas Rationing Hits Hard

Gas rationing hit Kendrick, as all over the nation, with a "dull, sickening thud" Tuesday of last week, and despite the fact that everyone had a full tank, the sound was heard plainly in town. Stores report a sharp drop in sales, despite the fact that Christmas is near at hand. The theatre, confectioneries and garages also felt the blow in no uncertain way. As for the garages, on the first day of gas rationing, but one "T" unit of five gallons was sold!

However, as time has gone on people are beginning to discover that they can get along nicely on the gasoline allowed them, and are gradually resuming local travel, and stores report that business is steadily picking up again.

In connection with the gas rationing, everyone must write their license number on the back of each car or truck coupon, using ink.

For tractor gas or gasoline issued on other types of coupons, the serial number of the ration book must be written in ink on the back of each coupon.

If you will do this, it will save you time at the gas pump or gas distributors — for this must be done in order for the coupon to be of legal value.

Just What Is Business?

Business is getting up at 6:00 to meet a customer at 8:00, who doesn't show up until 10:00. Business is pleading with your customers to be patient, while you exercise the privilege of being impatient with your source of supply. Business is scheming ways by which you can help your customers make an extra dollar in the hopes that they will let you keep 10c for yourself.

Business is driving or waiting all day to see a man who is "in conference" when you get there. Business is reaching for the restaurant check and getting stuck with it nine times out of ten.

Business is getting indigestion and liver trouble from entertaining the trade.

Business is borrowing money to pay the tax collector.

Business is pretending that you are prosperous when you haven't made a cent in two years.

Business is showing a prospect how a job should be done and then having him give it to a competitor.

Business is feeling happy about landing a big job on which you will probably lose your shirt.

Business is fun — if you like it!

No Sympathy!

In the old days, when business was a complete mystery to women, a married man could come home at night and his wife and children would meet him at the door, as though he were a wounded soldier returning from the battle front. The wife would take his hat, assist him to remove his overcoat, lead him slowly to the most comfortable chair in the house. The children would race to get his slippers, a footstool for his weary feet and a downy pillow for his aching head.

What do we find today? The average wife, under 30, having served her time as a stenographer, secretary, telephone operator, bookkeeper, newspaper woman, buyer, or sales clerk, knows as much as her husband about business routine.

She knows how hard he works, or how little he works. The intricacies of business do not befuddle her.

When she compares her present job of running a house and raising two children without help, she often wishes she were back in a pleasant office. She actually envies her husband, and when he gives her a Big Boy look and begs for sympathy she meets him with a cold stare.

Manufacturers of straight razors are now turning out commando knives.

Guerrillas Join Sabotage Push

Poles, Albanians, Rumanians, Greeks and Jugoslavs Raid Nazi Lines.

LONDON.—Guerrilla bands in five southeastern European countries have opened a small second front of their own by sabotaging Axis lines of communication and supply and raiding isolated outposts repeatedly, according to reports reaching London.

It was understood that the guerrilla raids in Poland, Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Rumania recently were the result of pacts which Gen. Draja Mihailovitch, Yugoslav patriot leader, reached with guerrilla leaders in the other countries.

The aim of the guerrillas, it was said, was to harass Axis troops on such a scale that at least 1,000,000 soldiers would be pinned down in the occupied territories. The guerrillas also hope to force Reichsfuehrer Hitler to reinforce occupation garrisons with troops from the Eastern front, thus relieving some pressure on Russia.

Leads Rumanians. Representatives of the exiled governments here could not say what success the guerrillas had achieved so far. However, underground reports indicated that the Germans and Italians were compelled to send expeditionary forces into the hills of Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Rumania in an attempt to drive the patriots from their strongholds. Bulgarian, Rumanian and Hungarian troops also reportedly were called upon to reinforce the Germans and Italians.

The Rumanian guerrilla chieftain, Ion Minulescu, again was reported leading resistance in his country. His bands were said to have concentrated on raids against communications along the Yugoslav border. One report said his men attacked a Rumanian border outpost where some Germans also were stationed, killing 121 soldiers and wounding many others.

A few British and Australian soldiers who escaped into the hills when Greece fell reportedly were aiding Greek guerrillas and had derailed a train on the main line running through the mountains to Bulgaria.

In Poland, where patriots clashed with SS (Elite Guard) troops west of Warsaw, resistance reportedly was being stiffened by Russian guerrillas who infiltrated into the country.

Presses Attack.

In Yugoslavia, General Mikhalovitch followed up raids across the frontiers into Bulgaria and Italy with attacks on outposts of the puppet Croatian state and raided German garrisons in Bosnia. A communique issued by the Croat Ustashi (Fascist) militia claimed Italian and Ustashi troops had killed 100 guerrillas and taken 1,008 prisoners in Dalmatia.

Farther south in Albania, patriots reportedly massacred an Italian garrison at an isolated outpost near the Yugoslav frontier.

The Netherlands news agency Aneta reported that Netherland patriots blew up two German ammunition dumps in the Netherlands and derailed an ammunition train near Amsterdam in the middle of last month. Aneta said the report came from the Berne correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Nya Dagligt Allehanda, who also said that a paper factory at Houthaven was destroyed by fire about the same time.

Sign Admonishes 'Spit Straight for Victory'

OMAHA.—A sign near the Douglas county courthouse cuspidors reads: "Expectorate Straight for Victory." The notices were posted when the 315 mats upon which the cuspidors rested were contributed as scrap rubber.

Commissioner Edward Jelen explained that the mats served "no better purpose than to create a bigger target" and "a little straight shooting isn't too much to ask anyway."

London Man Regains His Eyesight After 30 Years

LONDON. — George Morley of Hornsey Rise Gardens, London, has suddenly regained his eyesight, lost as a result of injury in a 1918 air raid on London, and for the first time he has seen his wife, to whom he has been married 14 years. Mr. Morley, it was learned, was riding through Surrey on a bus a few weeks ago when he suddenly saw the fields as a greenish blur. He rubbed his eyes and realized that he could see. He had been completely blind since 1922.

Fido's Taste for Tags Ruins a Clever Plan

BRANTFORD, ONT.—The city fathers of Brantford thought they were accomplishing something when they substituted plastic dog tags for the metal ones.

The dogs apparently thought so, too. They discovered that they liked the flavor of the new tags—so they ate them.

Now the city council is looking for non-edible plastic tags.

Butter Is Important — Doubly So Today!

In today's daily papers and over the radio has come the announcement that Uncle Sam needs and will take 30 to 33-1-3 per cent of all the nations butter production for the use of our armed forces and that of our allies. Perhaps right at this moment that announcement does not appear startling — but an examination of the facts will very readily disclose what that really means to everyone — more butter consumption than ever before.

So don't waste a partical of cream. Save it all, bring it to us and let us add your production to the supplies needed by our men and allies to win this war!

Take, if possible, better care of your cows, get that extra pint of cream and add it to the victory march.

"Why not take doughnuts and milk?"

Mother: "When I was your age, young lady, a nice girl would never think of holding a young man's hand."

Daughter: "But, mother, nowadays a nice girl has to hold a man's hand."

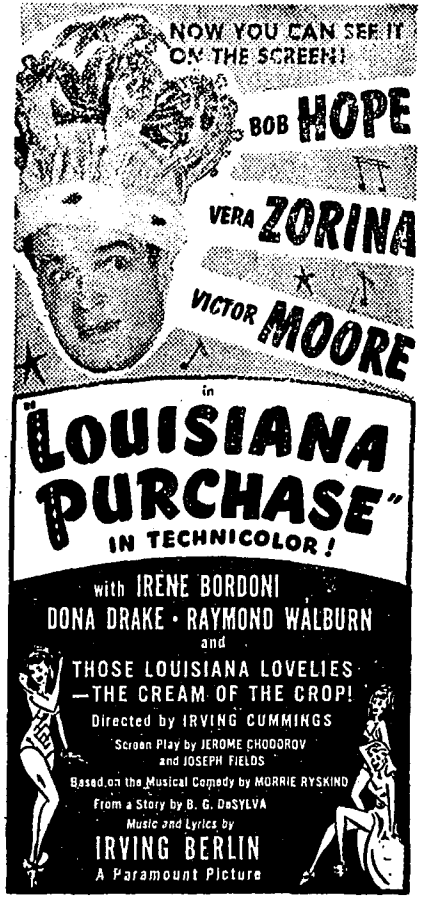

While driving through a town in Kansas a man who was at the wheel didn't think he was going too fast, but a speed cop thought otherwise. He signaled him to the curb and the man at the wheel said, "What! Were we going too fast?"

The cop answered: "No, just flying too low."

If you want to forget all your other troubles, wear tight shoes.

More Snow Falls

Following a number of warm days, topped by the brilliant sunshine of Sunday, snow started falling Monday night about 9:30, and before ceasing put about five inches of the fluffy stuff on the ground. The state highway snowplow was in Lewiston for repairs, and as a result the crew did not begin work until Tuesday at noon, but "made the snow fly" when they did get at it. By Tuesday evening the snow had settled to a depth of about half the original fall.

WORD FROM LOCAL MEN IN OUR ARMED FORCES

Will Rogers Field, Okla. — Staff Sgt. Harold A. Thornton, formerly of Southwick, Idaho, is one of the soldiers stationed at this army air force bombardment base, and has been assigned to a bombardment squadron here as a pilot. He is a son of Mrs. Lavina M. Thornton of Southwick, Idaho.

Tampa, Florida
Dec. 26, 1942

Dear Friends:

I just received the first copy of the paper, and was very pleased to receive it and read what all the Kendrick and neighboring people are doing.

I have been here in Florida since my army service began. I think it a very pretty country, but quite warm.

I appreciate the Gazette a lot and thank you very much for sending it. Please tell everyone "Hello" for me, and if they care to write they can get my address from home.

There has been a slight change in my address, which I am enclosing.

Sincerely,
E. A. Schwarz.

Avon Park Bombing Range, Florida — Cpl. Fred W. Schoeffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schoeffler of Kendrick, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant in the 380th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron at the Avon Park Bombing Range, Avon Park, Florida.

Sgt. Schoeffler heads the Base Message Center, through which all Base official papers are cleared, and the Range post office. Promoted to the grade of Corporal during November, he won his rating of Sergeant in little over one month's time.

While on furlough during October of this year he married Miss Muriel Kelly of Clarkston, Wash. Mrs. Schoeffler is at present teaching school in Clarkston.

Miami, Fla. — Ernest H. Brammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brammer of Kendrick, can expect to be assigned to a unit of the rapidly expanding Sub-Chaser fleet at any time.

Now a Seaman, second class, at the U. S. Naval Submarine Chaser Training center here. He enlisted for service with the fleet at the navy recruiting offices in Portland, Oregon, last April. Ernest is one of the many young men who have reported to this anti-submarine warfare training center for an intensive course of study and preparation, and who will see action fighting enemy U-boats in the vital shipping areas.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McDowell from their son, Herbert, that he is now stationed at Fort George G. Meade, in Maryland. He states he saw lots of new country on his trip east. The timber there consists of "brush" and small trees, nothing like the Idaho timber country. Herbert also states he failed to get his Gazette one week, and missed it "like the dickens."

Word from Hugh McDowell is to the effect that he is now across the "big drink," probably in Africa.

Pecos, Texas
Dec. 30, 1942

Dear Friends:

Just a line to let you know how much I appreciate your paper. It surely is nice to know what the people around home are doing.

A soldier's life isn't so bad once you get used to it — but truthfully, I haven't gotten used to it yet!

Thanks again for the paper.

Sincerely
Pvt. Chester Martin.

POEM ABOUT CENSORS

I've got a girl so far away,
And she is fair and pale.
But how can I send love to her,
When the censors read my mail?

This gal is, oh, so very sweet,
I love her willy-nilly.
But how can I tell her of my love,
When in print it looks so silly?

I hate the thought of tender words
Being read by strangers' eyes,
The soul-writ words for her alone,
The lies and alibies.

So read my letters gently, sir,
They are not meant for you,
But for a girl so far away,
I scrawl this silly goo!

And when you read each letter, sir,
And laugh with profound delight,
Remember sir, that another censor
Reads every word you write!

Hold Pinochle Party

Following a short business session on their regular meeting night, Tuesday, January 5, the local Grange held a pinochle party, with 14 tables in play.

Wilber Corkill held high score for the men, and Mrs. W. L. McCreary for the women.

Low score for the men went to Wm. Mattoon, and low for the women to Mrs. Wilber Corkill.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee at the close of the evening.

New Year's Eve Party

The Afternoon Bridge club held a New Year's Eve dinner and card party, the men taking the women to dinner at Tony's. Following the dinner all adjourned to the home of Mrs. Stella Leith, where bridge was played at six tables, and the New Year welcomed in.

Only score award of the evening was the "lowest of low," which was awarded W. L. McCreary.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Long were invited guests.

By eliminating metal signs for the duration, the War Production board is saving about 80,000 tons of steel a year — enough to provide the structural steel for four new battleships.

Still Making Improvements

M. C. Halliday has just completed the building of a very complete new women's rest and powder room at Kenney's Confectionery.

C. F. Hannaman is still busy painting and doing minor carpenter work at the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery. Latest improvement under way is remodeling and improving of the "sharp room." The doorway will be changed to permit entrance of butter and cream hand trucks, new coils installed and other improvements made.

Oyster shells, used to surface dirt streets, won't damage auto tires if the 35-miles-an-hour speed limit is observed.

NO ONE KNOWS WHAT 1943 MAY HOLD IN STORE FOR EVERYONE

Perhaps, under rigid gas rationing and mileage control it may bring an easing of the present tire situation, or emergencies may develop causing even more stringent controls — but at any rate, count on us to keep your present tires rolling to their limit, and when you have a tire permit or recap permit, bring it to us. We'll do our best to give you the most suitable tire.

Perhaps parts will be difficult to obtain for your car, truck or tractor, but count on us to do our best to obtain them for you and keep you operating. We advise the best of attention and lubrication for all your equipment.
