WE WANT TO SAY "THANK YOU"

At this conclusion of our business year we want to say "Thank You, Everyone, Farmers and Business Men alike," for your loyal support during our business year which just closed.

As the months roll along we pledge ourselves to make every effort to see that this, your organization becomes bigger and better able to serve you with every passing month.

The volume of goods handled has grown steadily, and with your help it can and will continue to grow — your support and that of your neighbor making this possible.

We pledge the best possible service consistent with good business and our co-operation in return.

Remember — it's your business! It's not so important what a man stands for as what he fails for.

Please Call for Checks, Stock, and Credit Statements

All members of this organization are asked to please call for their dividend checks and statements — and for stock certificates, which are now ready. Non-member patrons are also asked to call for their credit statements.

Bellhop (making lady and gentleman comfortable) — Anything else, Mr. Smith?

Guest: "No, thanks."

Bellhop: "Anything for your wife?"

Guest (absentmindedly): "Why, yes, bring me a post card."

Father: "Sonny, I'm going to tell you a little story."

Four-year-old: "Okay, George, but keep it clean; the old lady may hear you."

We know a lady who would be quite spic — if she had less span.

WORD FROM LOCAL MEN IN OUR ARMED FORCES

Charles A. Deobald, Eldon Baker, Eugene Lind, Arthur Fraser and Robert Kimbely went to Moscow Friday, and from there on to Spokane, where they took their final examinations for service in our armed forces.

Charles Deobald entered the army, and expects to be enrolled in the Air Corps.

Eldon Baker was accepted for service in the navy.

Eugene Lind will enter army service, the branch we did not learn.

Arthur Fraser and Robert Kimbely were not accepted.

Sgt. George F. Finke surprised friends and relatives by arriving home on furlough Wednesday evening of last week. He is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., and that southern sun has certainly given him a "coffee tan" — but he hasn't acquired any southern accent.

George says that so far as he is concerned the southerners can have the south — he prefers Idaho.

Pfc. Earl Harris, who is stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, arrived home Saturday on a 9-day furlough, and is enjoying a real visit with friends and relatives. Earl has been in Wyoming for a number of months, and would like to know where the fellow lived who wrote "My Home in Wyoming", as he hasn't yet seen any of that state that looked good to him. He says the wind blows "36 hours a day" every day — and the sand goes with it.

Camp Rucker, Ala.
June 24, 1943

Dear Mac: I would sure like to have the Gazette every once in a while, so guess I had better give you my new address. My mother has been sending the paper to me quite often, however.

I have seen 26 states in the 15 months that I have been in the service, and believe me, Idaho is the "tops."

Sincerely
Pvt. Marvin Grayson.

Somewhere In The Pacific
June 18th, 1943

Dear Friends: Just a line again to you to give you my new address — as I have moved again — and I want to make sure the Gazette reaches me in short order. When the paper comes it's like a letter from home, and I look forward to each issue.

The letters from the boys in the service are of great interest to me, and many of the boys here ask for the paper, so they can read those letters. So you see, your paper is very popular here with us, and I am not alone in looking forward to each issue.

Am feeling fine and it really feels swell "to be out in this country again!"

Thank you again very much for the paper, and will drop you a line again sometime later on.

Respectfully
Joe Forest.

U. S. Navy
June 19, 1943

Dear Macs: I guess it is time we wrote you a few lines to let you know we are still getting the paper, and can't begin to tell you how much we appreciate it and the folks that make it possible to send it to us.

Our last copy was of May, although the date never makes it less interesting to read, especially about the fellows in the service.

Thanking you again, we remain
Albert D. Biddison, S-1-c
Charles L. Biddison, S-1-c

John C. Thomas, F-2-c, arrived home Wednesday night of last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, on Little Bear ridge. This was John C.'s first visit home since joining the navy.

Ira Foster very kindly allowed us to use the following letter from his son, Fred M. Foster, as follows:
Somewhere In Africa
May 11, 1943

Dear Dad: This leaves me feeling fine, although somewhat warm, even in shorts. The country has been hot here, and not altogether due to the sun. Yes, we saw action in the Tunisian campaign.

Harvest is in full swing here, and pears are getting ripe, although small in size. Threshing is done the same now as 2,000 years ago — by cattle treading out the grain, with women and burros as the "beasts of burden."

Looks like rain here today, although it may blow around us — it nearly always does. We have had only one good rain in four months or better.

We are all almost as dark as arabs from the sun — and summer not here yet!

There isn't any news we can write as yet. However, you have the paper. We have but very few, if any, and they are mostly old by the time we receive them here.

I received four of your letters in two days' mail, so maybe you can picture some of the problems.

With love and best wishes to all, I remain, as ever, your son
Fred M. Foster.

Pfc. and Mrs. Felix Holt left on Wednesday afternoon for Ontario, California, where he is stationed. Felix came in before leaving to thank all concerned for the paper, and left the Gazette, as a souvenir, a horned toad from that state. The "critter" is a real curiosity in these parts, and will undoubtedly attract considerable interest.

Felix also left us the center or "boaring" part of an expended .50 calibre machine gun load, which is in itself a curiosity.

LINDEN ITEMS

The party Thursday evening given in honor of Pfc. and Mrs. Felix R. Holt, who are here from Ontario, Calif., was attended by a large crowd, and a good time reported.

Rose Ann Cuddy is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Rollin Armitag at Southwick, while recovering from a tonsil operation.

Our ridge was very well represented at the Co-operative Creamery meeting and picnic in Kendrick last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grinolds spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Tony Sails and family, at Orofino.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan and daughter Lois attended the 30th wedding anniversary gathering of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hoffman at Leland, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Darby, Annie and Jo Darby visited in the Smith home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Vaughan returned to Spokane Thursday, after visiting in the C. H. Keeler home. They were accompanied on their return by Peggy Berreman.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Berreman are having their buildings wired for electricity.

Mrs. Wesley Laws and children of Pierce are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Harris.

Pfc. Earl Harris arrived from Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, Saturday evening, on a nine-day furlough, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Harris. He was accompanied from Coeur d'Alene by Mrs. Cecelia Arensen and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Israel and daughter, Miss Aletha, were in Spokane Thursday and Friday.

Bert McAntire and Miss Lois Largent were callers in the Ray Cuddy home Sunday.

Mrs. Clem Israel and daughter, Miss Aletha, called in the John Cuddy and Smith homes Sunday afternoon.

Hogs Will Balance Own Diet

Hogs do a far better job of balancing their diets, if they have access to all the necessary food factors in sufficient quantities, than do human beings, says a University News release.

The ideal hog from the standpoint of both producer and packer is one that is medium in type. This desired type hog has ample length of body and arch of back combined with a wide spread of ribs, a long rump, and a deep, full ham, that carries down to the hock joint.

Such a hog combines proper type with ability to put on gains efficiently for the right market finish and weight. Decidedly not approved was the short, chunky type of hog, which is always fat, but a slow gainer. The extreme rangy type was classified as an excellent gainer but too thin at market time, and usually too light in the ham and narrow of ribs to be considered of high carcass value.

A Poland China gilt on the university farm was selected as most nearly meeting the ideal meat-type hog. This gilt was six months old, weighed 220 pounds, and from weaning time until marketed, made an average daily gain of 1.3 pounds on only 3.7 pounds of feed per pound of gain. The feed cost per pound of gain was 7.4 cents.

The gilt was self-fed on a concrete floor on a mixture of equal parts of rolled wheat and barley; 5 per cent ground alfalfa; 1 per cent oyster shell and 4 per cent salt. She also had free access to a protein mixture of 50 pounds meat meal, 25 pounds linseed oil meal, and 25 pounds fish meal. Records show that under this free choice system of feeding animal protein the gilt ate only enough to comprise 7 per cent of her total diet during the entire fattening period.

Farm Equipment Repair Sure

Farmers are assured a continuance of essential automotive and farm equipment repair services by a recent OPA order authorizing upward adjustments of maximum charges made for these services by small repair shops. The order authorizes suppliers of these services who have been exempted from National War

Labor Board orders, and who employ not more than eight persons, to redetermine their maximum charges. The authorization enables small repair shops to meet rising costs and the loss of manpower to higher-paid jobs.
