At present prices, a large volume of spring wheat is expected to go

Lewiston and Troy.

At the conclusion of the introductions Mr. Harris called on Mr. Reed, state highway engineer from Lewiston, who, in a brief but concise talk, outlined present road classifications. He explained that "Primary Highways" are main or through roads and that "Secondary Highways" are feeder roads. These in turn fall into different classifications and are built with money from several different sources. They may be 50-50 state and federal funds; 50-50 state and highway district funds, or from other sources. Mr. Reed went on to state that at the present time no monies were available for road construction of any kind, and that federal permission was necessary for even the rebuilding of a road. He also stated that in the process of the prices, at large volumes of spring wheat is expected to go under government loan.

The cash wheat market situation at Portland largely reflected local supply and demand conditions on various types of wheat. Prices at the close ranged from slightly lower on western red to 2c per bushel higher on soft white, as compared with a week ago. The general situation continued to be featured by the extremely light offerings by growers at country points. Trade reports indicated that sales in considerable volume could have been worked to the midwest if the wheat had been available for shipment. Dealers, however, could not accept bids from that area because of their inability to secure the grain. Wheat receipts were relatively heavy at 340 cars at Portland and about 1,000 cars at Portland and about 1,000 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river sary for even the rebuilding of a road. He also stated that in the post-war period local planning boards would play a large part in new construction locations.

Successful farmers are saving money on oil . . .

saving the time commonly wasted changing

oil . . . and protecting their motors by installing

FRAMS on their tractors:

There is no doubt that clean oil will last longer than dirty oil, nor that motors lubricated constantly with clean oil will cost less in repairs. The FRAM

Oil and Motor Cleaner keeps both oil and motor clean and free of dust, dirt, abrasives.

sludge and harmful acids.

That is why successful farmers are equipping their tractors with FRAMS — saving money
