"WHERE BELLS DON'T RING"

It seems to me I'd like to go Where bells don't ring nor whistles blow, Nor clocks don't strike, nor gongs don't sound And I'd have stillness all around. Not real stillness, but just the trees' Low whisperings, or the hum of bees.

Or brooks faint babbling over stones In strangely, softly tangled tones. That it doesn't pay all he knows to Or the songs of birds in the hed-ges hid,

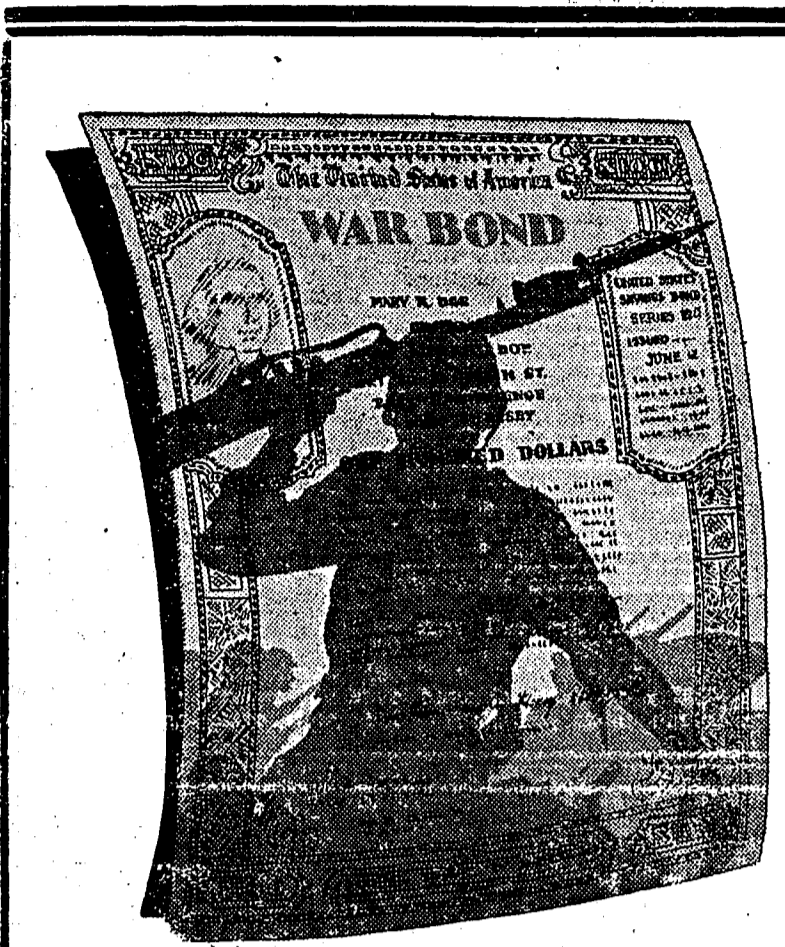

Or just some sweet sound as these To fill a tired heart with ease. If it weren't for sight and sound and smell,

I'd like the city pretty well. But when it comes to getting rest, I like the wild woods lots the best.

Sometimes it seems to me I must Just quit the city's din and dust, And get out where the sky is blue— And, say, how does this seem to you?

Turn It Over Customer—Last week I bought a tire cover from you, and now I want my money back.

Clerk—Why? Customer—I put it on one of my tires and hadn't driven ten miles before the blamed thing wore out!

BACK THE ATTACK with WAR BONDS

The sooner this war is over, the sooner the men in uniform whom you know will be back home . . . and the more chance they have of surviving. The war bonds you buy tangibly help win the war . . . but you don't give the money they cost to the government . . . it's just a loan that will later be repaid with interest.

Uncle Sam asks that we finance the third War Loan . . . and it may pinch us individually to scare up the necessary coin to buy an extra $100 bond in September . . . but it's not much to ask in the name of FREEDOM and the safe return of American Boys!

* BONDS BUILD FORTRESSES FOR FREEDOM!

That's the way most electric company men got their start. It's the American way. And it works so well that the electrical companies under experienced business management were able to push power production up and up.

The same business system that is helping to win the war today will also enrich the peace.

It's hard to believe that ordinary mortals could ever master that maze of dials, buttons, levers and switches. It takes intensive training and practical experience.

The electric power business is like that. You can't make kilowatt-hours with theories. You've got to learn how—by growing up in the business.

THE SITUATION IS SERIOUS!

FOLKS — The Baby Chick situation is serious. We have just received word that our source of supply of last year will be unable to supply us, as their entire capacity of 50,000 chicks per week is sold out for the season. This fact, coupled with the scarcity of hatching eggs, makes it pretty obvious that it will be next to impossible to get baby chicks. However, we are endeavoring to find a dependable source of supply from some other source, and will notify you if we are successful. Maybe it would be well to keep those old hens — and get them to laying, for nobody knows what the future may hold.

Cream And Eggs
Keep both cream and eggs cool and bring them in often. Don't wait to come to town — send them in with your neighbor — or bring his when you come.
Remember — both are vital war foods.

"Darling," she confided, "if I marry you, I'll lose my job, you know."
"But why can't we keep our marriage a secret?"
"We could, but suppose we have a baby?"
"Oh, we can tell the baby, of course."

A modern Miss asked a pro if he could tell her how to play golf.
Pro: "Sure, it's easy enough. All you do is smack the pill and then walk."
Modern Miss: "How interesting. Just like some auto rides I've been on."

Then there was the traveler who asked a native of a remote region in the Ozarks if he didn't have trouble getting the necessities of life in that inaccessible spot.
"Yes, we do," said the mountaineer, "and half the time when we do get it, it ain't fit to drink."

S. 1-c Doyle Biddison, navy veteran, who has been home on leave, left Friday afternoon for Yakima, where he will visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Biddison. Doyle states he "got rather lonesome" while here, as all his old friends are in the service and away.
Doyle expects to be assigned, on his return to one of the new ships of Uncle Sam's fleet.

Dale Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, left Monday for Spokane, where he will enter the armed forces. Dale has been enlisted in the Air Corps Reserve for more than a year.

RM-2-c Bob LaHatt, U. S. Navy, arrived home Monday on a 15-day leave, his first trip home since he enlisted some 19 months ago, and he must leave Friday, Oct. 1, in order to report back on board ship within his leave time. Bob has been stationed in Brazil since October of 1942, and that he likes navy life, but much prefers the hills of Idaho to the jungles of Brazil.

In talking of that country Bob said he greatly enjoyed the fresh pineapples and bananas, which could be obtained by walking a short distance from ports or station. He said he had seen many jungle huts, built by the natives. They are constructed of double walls of bamboo, filled in between with mud — a typical South American style. The natives in that country, like almost all southern natives carry everything on their heads, are straight and tall, but generally in need of a bath.

The upper class in that section have nice homes, with lawns and flowers. Of his work Bob could say but little, other than it was very interesting.

The navy has certainly done things for Bob. He now stands about six-foot-three, and weighs about 170 pounds, and looks the very picture of health.

Bob just missed Doyle Biddison, but hopes to get to see him before having to leave.

Harvest Is History!

Well, Folks, as the 1943 harvest is only a matter of history, we must now begin thinking of the year that lies ahead.

We will attempt to help you with cleaning and treating to the best of our ability, but as our bins are all full, we will not be able to serve you too well.

We will not permit the return of treated grain once it has been taken out, as parties abused the privilege last year to the point that in the future it can not be permitted.
