STONY POINT VICINITY

Evelyn Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newt. Heath, started for Alaska, December 10, after receiving word from her sister, Flora, that there was employment for her there. She visited with an aunt in Seattle until able to make connections with the boat.

Students of the Lapwai school were excused Tuesday, Dec. 14, because of the flu epidemic. School was called again Monday morning, but the school was again dismissed, as there is still too much flu.

A farewell party was held in the Al. Heimgartner home Dec. 14, for Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schetzle, who are moving to Juliaetta. Their sale was held Dec. 15, which was also their 46th wedding anniversary. They have lived in this community for over 40 years.

The Lapwai potato judging team, which includes Phil Hoisington, who was a winning member, placed second in the Inland Empire judging contest, held at Pullman, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steigers and family were Sunday dinner guests in the Stevens home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clotis Hoisington and family were Sunday dinner guests in the Al. Heimgartner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Heimgartner have received word of the safe arrival of their son, Clarence, in North Africa. While signing his name on a Red Cross register he noticed the name of his cousin, Lauren Hoisington, who is also in North Africa. Mr. and Mrs. Hoisington later received word from Lauren that he had seen his cousin's name. They are hoping to locate one another.

Several members of our community attended the Lapwai Valley Grange Saturday night. They included Mr. and Mrs. John Maund, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steigers and children and Glen Stevens, who was installed at gate keeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schetzle of Spokane visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schetzle, the past week.

"Grandma" Steigers was a Lewiston visitor Wednesday. She has been in rather poor health lately and we hope she soon is better.

Our community has been having its share of sickness from colds and flu, but so far, none have proven too serious.

War Expenditures Increase
U. S. war expenditures for November went to a new high — $7,704,000,000, an increase of 689 million dollars, or nearly 10 per cent over October, WPB reports.

PAPER SITUATION RAPIDLY BECOMING CRITICAL ONE

Newspapers and magazines will be slimmer and smaller in 1944 under a war production board order of this week which drastically curtails use of paper in all printing operations.

H. M. Bitner, director of the WPB printing and publishing division, said the order would force magazines and newspapers into fewer pages and reduced page sizes, since all other economies were utilized in 1943 to meet paper curtailment orders.

Paper tonnages allocated to all graphic arts industries in 1944 is roughly 75 per cent of 1941 consumption, the WPB said, and will result in a scheduled saving of 1,250,000 tons of paper.

The cuts exactly follow recommendations made by industry advisory committees when the shortage of paper became acute.

Paper consumption has been running far ahead of war-reduced pulp production, the WPB said. The curtailment orders will bring consumption in line with estimated production and preserve inventory reserves, which the WPB reported at dangerously low levels.

News print available to newspaper publishers in the first quarter of 1944 will be 23.6 per cent under the 869,296 tons consumed in the first quarter of 1941, the WPB estimated.

Note: So folks, you can see what we are up against today. Just how it is all going to work out, we don't know — but we're going to do our best. It may mean that we will be forced to cancel all subscriptions not paid in advance, and refuse new subscribers not now on our list. Time will tell, but it looks like that is the course we will be forced to pursue.

Many Ill With Flu

The list of victims down with the flu, or just recovering, is growing by leaps and bounds, and there is hardly a family in this community that has escaped.

With absenteeism so great at the school Supt. Mason began the Christmas vacation two days ahead of schedule.

Here are some of the names of folks that are nursing the flu this week: W. A. Watts; R. L. Blewett, Mrs. L. D. Crocker, Mrs. Everett Fraser, E. A. Deobald and son John, Mrs. Edgar Long, Beverly Schupfer and Vivian Draper — and at the present rate of increase this list many be out of date by the time this paper goes to press.

Christmas Decorations

Not much was attempted in the line of Christmas decorations about town this year, but even so, quite a number of the local stores have very prettily decorated Christmas trees in their windows, and matching interior decorations.

The big Kendrick Rochdale Star, as usual made its appearance, and indeed presents a beautiful sight outlined against its dark background.

Local merchants report a brisk demand for all types of available merchandise, and state that they could do many times their present volume if goods — especially of the practical type — were available.

Yule Season

A simple but lovely Christmas program was presented in the Methodist church at the Sunday morning worship hour.

With Christmas trees flanking the pulpit, and soft lights and evergreens as a background, the Christmas story was portrayed by the children of the Sunday school, followed with a story by the pastor, followed with a fantasia of well known Christmas carols were sung by the young people of the choir, and the congregation closed the impressive service.

Mrs. E. A. Deobald and Mrs. Harold Thomas managed the program, and presentation.

Big Egg Contest Not On Yet

Werner Brammer brought to the Gazette office last week-end two small eggs, one smaller than a bantam egg, and the other a little larger than a robin's egg. The little one is just about as small as a "small" egg could be and still be an egg — although we have never seen a hummingbird's egg.

However, it's too early to start an egg contest as yet, so we will just have to "lay that one away."

"Enjoying The Flu"

In her letter enclosing the word from her son Carl Hund, Mrs. Ellwood Pearson adds: "We have been enjoying a bout with the flu. I am able to be up now, but had to put Bill back to bed for a few days, as he tried to go back to work too soon. Hope this finds all of you folks well and we wish you a very Happy Christmas."

Big Wheat Carry-Over

The wheat carry-over in the U. S. on July 1, 1943, was 618 million bushels, and for July 1, 1944, is estimated at 300 million bushels, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This is in sharp contrast to the 40 million bushels of 1918 and 85 million bushels for 1919. Large supplies and reduced exports have made available record quantities for feed and industrial alcohol production in this war.

Completing Cement Floor

Gust Luckens, C. G. Arnett and son are busy these days completing the laying of a concrete floor in Bob's Conoco Service Garage.

Some weeks ago a concrete driveway was laid, and this work completes flooring the entire garage, making a very distinct improvement.

Purchases Home

A deal was completed this week whereby Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Clemenhagen became the owners of the L. S. LaHatt residence in the west part of town.

The house is probably better known as the Ellwood Pearson house.

Sauerkraut Now Available

All remaining supplies and the rest of this season's sauerkraut pack are now available for civilian consumption. The armed forces have obtained their requirements and the "freeze order" has been removed.

Buy war bonds and savings stamps this week.

Comedy For Christmas
The offering this week-end, which includes Christmas, at the local theatre will be a comedy, Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland in "The Major and the Minor." It's a rip-roaring comedy of what happens when a girl finds herself on the small-end of a ticket home from the big city — and becomes a kid again — just for the ride!
In addition a series of specially selected shorts will complete the evening's entertainment — plus the usual cartoon.

Facts Confuse Critics

The critics of the progress of Puerto Rico, under the colonial policy of the United States, are confounded by figures which show that the population of that island in 1901 was 978,000; in 1940, 1,377,000. Its exports in 1901 totaled $5,500,000; in 1940, $85,000,000. The value of Puerto Rico manufactures increased from $36,000,000 in 1909, to $111,000,000 in 1939. In the period from 1920 to 1940, illiteracy on the island was reduced from 55 per cent to 31 per cent.

Such figures fail to substantiate the strange charge made by Rexford Guy Tugwell, governor of Puerto Rico, that this island is no better off than when our country won it from Spain in 1898. But they may awaken the people of the United States to the importance of Puerto Rico.

As the President has already recommended that congress pass legislation to give Puerto Rico "opportunity for free exercises of powers of local self government in all three branches of government, executive, legislative and judicial," it is appropriate to recommend that Puerto Rico be admitted as the 49th state of the union, as permitted by our Constitution, and block propaganda to alienate it from this country. In considering Mr. Tugwell's charge it should be remembered that he was one of Mr. Roosevelt's original "brain trust" and having been subsequently retired from that position, was awarded the governorship of Puerto Rico "for his faithful services."

Plan To Save Truck Tires
Truck tire inspections will be double-checked to see that every tire in service gives its last possible mile of wear to essential transportation before being replaced. OPA stated recently, Central truck tire inspection stations will be provided in about 200 cities in areas where truck registrations are heavy. These privately owned and operated stations will re-examine all tires recommended for replacement by official OPA tire inspectors, and will return to service tires still good for more miles. Fixed fees to cover operating expenses will be charged by the stations. Tubes to be replaced need not be re-inspected.

Prisoner Of War Camps
More than 140,000 prisoners of war are now held in 56 permanent camps in the U. S., the War Department has reported. The ratio of Germans to Italians is approximately three to one. In addition to the permanent camps, there are many temporary ones set up to house prisoners in areas with labor shortages. Agricultural work done by prisoners includes harvesting fruit, tomatoes, potatoes, peanuts, cotton, sugar beets and corn. Only a few prisoners have escaped and every one of them has been recaptured, mostly within a few hours.

Help Is Received
The Gazette acknowledges with thanks the receipt of $15.00 from the Cameron Ladies Aid, to help defray the expenses of sending the Gazette to local men in the armed forces.

This check reached our hands on November 18 — but like so many other things, was overlooked in the line of credit giving until this week's issue.
The check was a welcome one — and the oversight unintentional. The Gazette, with this week's issue, reached a total of 155 going to local men in the armed forces.

Some Butter Prices Up
Consumers will pay 1c to 2c more a pound for butter in some stores as a result of a recent amendment to the butter price regulation by OPA, allowing jobbers a mark-up of 2 1/2c a pound to pay extra costs of many small deliveries.

Many Deer And Elk Killed
Hunters who reported at the Kooskia checking station during the recent big game season killed 565 elk and 226 deer, the game department reports. The figures are not quite complete, it is believed.
Results of the Selway-Moose creek hunt will not be known until after the special hunt ends Dec. 15. Hunting has been going on in this remote area since September 15. A few parties were still in the area in late November.

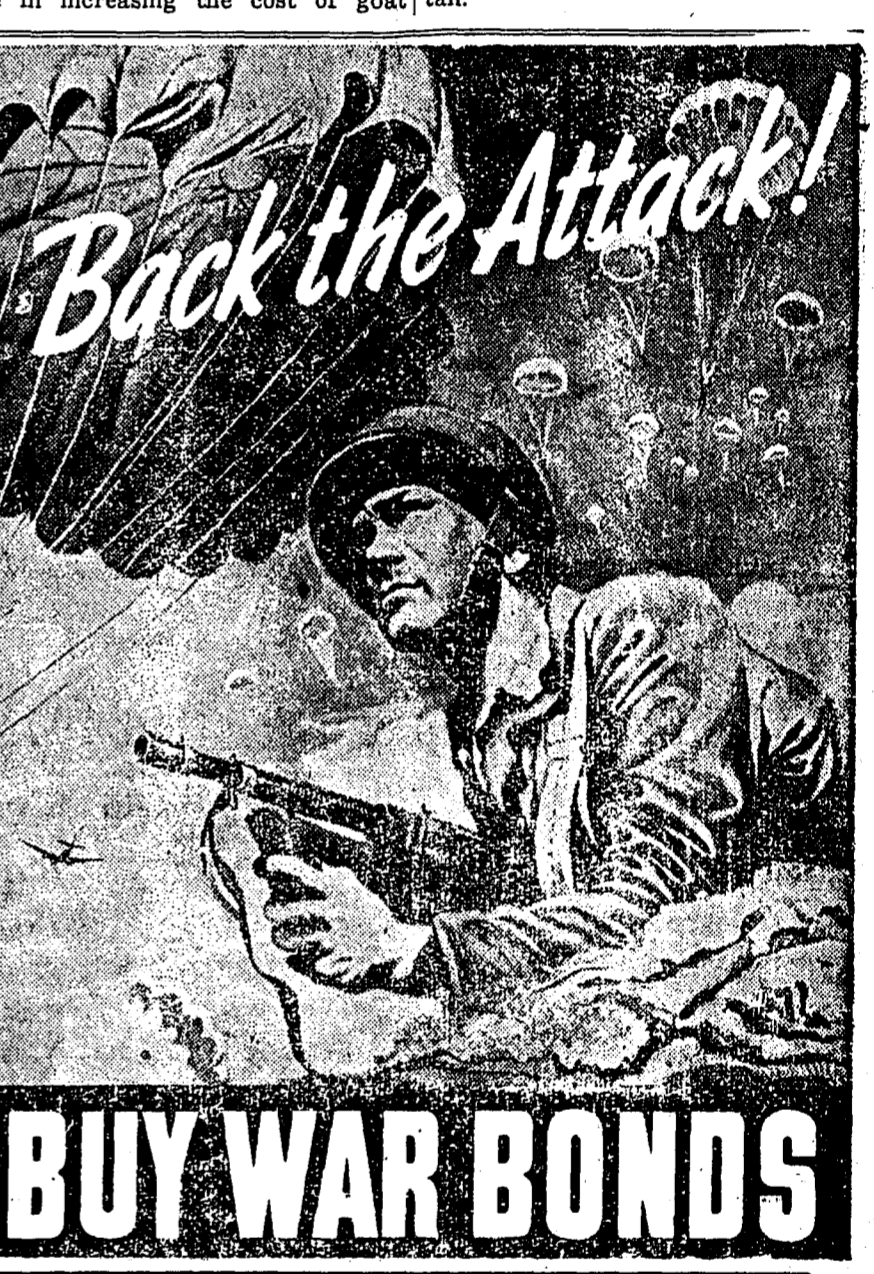

The Kooskia checking station report, prepared by Ray Kernan and Homer Woody, showed a kill of 306 bull elk, 259 cow elk, 109 buck deer, 117 doe deer, nine bear and one goat. They checked 1,684 hunters, 500 less than during the 1942 season. Total kill of 791 animals compared with about 1500 a year ago. Part of the reduction was due to gasoline and tire shortages, which kept hunters at home. Some of the decrease was undoubtedly accounted for by the fact that the Lolo and Elk City roads were open in 1943. They were mudded in last year. Many hunters who had previously gone through the Kooskia station, chose the other two approaches to big game territory this year.

Fewer bear were killed, not because they were in hibernation, the game men said, but because foliage afforded unusually good protection. There was a sharp reduction in the number of goats killed. This was believed to be a direct result of the state legislature's conservation measure in increasing the cost of goat tags from $1.00 to $10.00.

WORD FROM LOCAL MEN IN OUR ARMED FORCES

Camp Carson, Colo.
Dec. 16, 1943

Dear Mac and Bill:
I guess that I have found time at last to write you a few lines to let you know that I am still "a-kicking," but not quite so hard as the long-eared pets I have to put up with.

I have been receiving the paper right along, and I surely appreciate it. I want to thank all of you for the paper, and also thank all of my friends for the nice Christmas Card I received today.

I am enclosing a couple of pictures of the long-eared friends I previously referred to. You can put them on the picture-board if you like.

I must close for this time and want to wish you all a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! Thanks again for the paper.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Herman Loeser.
Note: Thanks for the letter and pictures, Herman, and since there is no picture-board in town at this moment, we're putting them on display in the Gazette office.

Dear McCrearys:
As Ellwood and I always enjoy the letters from the boys from around there, thought perhaps you would like to have excerpts from one from our boy to add to your column. He hasn't been able to send out any mail for some time now, but here are excerpts from the latest one, dated December 9:

Somewhere in the Pacific
Dear Mother and Bill:

I am enjoying the best of health as usual and hope everyone at home is well. Here it is almost Christmas time and I haven't done a thing about it. Guess I'll just have to send out some cards, if I can find any around here. . . . Uncle really fixed me up this Christmas by giving me "my next higher rate, which is "Chief Gunners Mate" (C. G. M.) it certainly was a surprise, and don't think I'm not going to do my best to be worthy of it. . . . Haven't all of my new uniforms yet. We are still wearing the grey uniforms which remind me of the kind mail carriers wear, but I rather like them. . . . Will get some pictures taken soon and send you some. . . . You folks are probably having snow by now (which I don't envy you a bit) but I would have liked very much to have been home for Christmas — but perhaps next year we can all be together. . . . I have a two-week leave coming, which is going to be a rather busy one, but pleasant. . . . There isn't much I can write about from here, so will close, wishing you a Very Merry Christmas and the best of health and happiness throughout the coming New Year.

Love to both
Carl Hund.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Ingle have kindly permitted us to publish excerpts from a letter by their son, Cpl. Wm. Ingle, as follows:
Somewhere in Iran
Nov. 25, 1943

Dear Folks:
This has been such a busy day that it is hard to tell just where to start. After all, this is Thanksgiving Day. I told an Arab cook that this was a day of Thanksgiving at home. He said: "We are all friends, so let's celebrate in Persia."

This afternoon I went Gazelle hunting in a party gotten up by a Sgt. Ingle, who is stationed here. We had barrels of fun and shot nineteen Gazelle, and captured one desert fox alive. The Gazelle will go far for food to supplement the usual run of canned beef, weiners and fish. The fox is still with us. I made a chain out of wire, and a collar, then fastened the chain to a telephone pole. The fox sure does a lot of back-pulling, but he will have plenty of time to get used to it.

Catching him was one of the highlights of the afternoon. We chased him at about thirty for several miles. Just when we were about to overtake him he would dodge to one side, so two of us got on the truck by the tail when he dodged out of the way of the front wheel. Finally the fox got tired and tried to crawl down a hole. We caught him and put him in an empty sand sack, and threw him in the truck on top of the dead Gazelles.

Gazelle hunting is a lot of fun.

We just take off across the desert and soon you see a herd running about a quarter of a mile in front. Sometimes it takes quite a while to catch up, but by going at least forty you can catch up. You single out a fat buck and start the fire works. If you shoot under him he will jump way up into the air and increase his speed. Boy, they sure have a marvelous pickup! The climax comes when you score a hit. He makes that final leap, comes down like a brick and slides to a stop.

I am going to try wild boar hunting next. You hunt them in the swamps. The meat is just like eating fresh pork. We had wild boar today for Thanksgiving dinner.

Today, or rather I mean this evening, an Army Public Relations officer was here and made photographic recordings of interviews with the fellows of our detachment. My recording is supposed to be broadcast over station KFPY, Spokane, Wash. The station is supposed to notify you of when the broadcast is to be made. It will probably be after Christmas.

This Sgt. Ingle is a fellow from Arkansas. He is descended from the "Tennessee" variety, too. His father was a preacher and his grandfather had a wagon factory. The family names are about the same — and his relatives of Civil War days all fought on the Rebel side.

Well, I must close, Cherrio!
Love
Bill Ingle.

RM-2-c Ernest Brammer arrived home Friday of last week, and departed Tuesday to report back to his ship at Miami, Florida — a very brief visit indeed to be his first one home in 21 months.

In his call at the Gazette office Tuesday morning, Ernest told of a number of his varied and interesting experiences since his naval enlistment — some pleasant, some far from pleasant.

Following completion of his "boot" training Ernest was transferred to the east coast, doing patrol duty — then to convoy duty, when he made a number of trips across. He is again on coastal patrol duty, but this time in southern waters, and he says he finds this latest duty very interesting and pleasant. Ernest states that one sight he never will forget was seeing an ammunition ship torpedoed off the east coast — and since that event was released to the public many months ago, he can talk about it as he pleases. Ernest says the ship was about 25 miles off shore, and so terrific was the blast that windows in a naval hospital on shore were shattered. His ship's duty was the picking up of survivors — and he states it was indeed a terrible duty! And made all the worse by the fact that he knew personally a number of the crewmen of the destroyed ship. He states his ship also saw anti-sub action a number of times — and had picked up a few survivors from sunken German submarines.

Going back to the pleasant side of his duties Ernest said he rode a big flying boat from the southern waters to Miami, Florida, a trip of some eight hours, and saw many beautiful sights on the trip, including a short stop-over in Havana, Cuba.

Ernest brought with him the skin of a boa-constrictor, measuring some 14 feet in length, one that he killed himself while on a shore inspection trip. Ernest stated that a boat-load of men from his ship were inspecting an apparently deserted island, when he saw the head of the huge snake rear-up from the jungle grass in a little opening, and since the inspection was almost over, shot the snake. He said he got the thrill of his life seeing the huge coils thrashing about in the grass and brush — talk about hunting elk — Ernie says that snake made an elk hunt look tame! Anyway, after the death throes were over other members of the party assisted him in skinning it, and despite the loss of the foot-long head, the hide still measures about 14 feet! And it makes a real souvenir.

Ernest pulled up his shirt and showed his body which is tanned to a deep brown, as are his face and hands. He states that life on the boat, without fans, would be almost impossible, since sweat pours from everyone at the slightest movement — and in-between-times also! However, he prefers the southern seas duty. Ernie states he has but one real gripe about navy life — that is the time that closes between leaves long enough to get home and see the folks!

Camp Callan, Calif.
Dec. 16, 1943

Dear Bill and Mac:
There surely isn't much news around here. I have now been assigned to the auto mechanics school and will go to this enlisted specialized school for about three months.

This is a nice camp here, my best so far.

I sure miss the paper. Haven't received it for four weeks now, and would appreciate it very much.

So long
Pvt. Donald E. Mattoon.

Note: Well, Gene, we have checked your address carefully, and see no reason why you should not have been receiving the paper. We have been sending it regularly and the address checks.

Pvt. Glen Newman of Lowery Field, Denver, Colo., arrived Thursday to spend his Christmas furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Newman.

Cpl. Herbert McDowell left Sunday to report for duty again at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, after spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McDowell.

Ensign John A. Wallace is expected to arrive home Friday of this week to spend his Christmas leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wallace.

Fellows, we are sorry that we can't comply with your requests for basketball news — but it just seems as if we can't get anyone at school to give us the dope on the games. Due to illnesses and a heavy work schedule we haven't been able to get out and get it from the floor-side but maybe in the future, someone

Treats Given Saturday

Saturday afternoon of last week saw Santa Claus make his annual pilgrimage to Kendrick under the sponsorship of the Kendrick Commercial club.

A total of 175 treats were given out to assembled youngsters — about half the number normally distributed. The lack of crowd can be laid to two things, the flu and the overlooking of promotion of the event by the Gazette, which in turn was due to illness of the Gazette crew.

Anyhow, those present received a fine treat, and Santa himself seemed to have a good time visiting with the children.

Merry Xmas, Everybody!
