Get More Childrens' Wear
To insure sufficient production of infants' and childrens' wear the industry has been included by the WMC in its list of essential activities. Also, W.P.B. has ordered approximately 18 million yards of cotton fabrics set aside for the manufacture of certain specified items of infants' and childrens' clothing. Worsted and cotton yarns will be allocated for manufacture of knitted outerwear and infants' ribbed long hose, half socks and anklets. Coulee is the World's Greatest Dam ~

The WASHINGTON WATER POWER COMPANY IS YOUR Friendly Electric Service Company

- The Washington Water Power Co. has served the Inland Empire over 54 years.
- Thirty thousand square miles of territory are served by the company, which maintains approximately 5,000 miles of power lines.
- Electric rates to W. W. P. Co. customers are among the lowest in the nation — the household average is only 1.6 cents per kilowatt hour, and 22 cents of every electric service dollar goes for taxes.
- Lines of the W. W. P. Co. are interconnected with Grand Coulee and other power systems of the Northwest. This

- interconnection has provided added kilowatts of power for war purposes. The same kind of cooperation between government and private power companies after the war can do much toward creating a prosperous industrial Northwest.
- 40% of company customers cook with electricity; 75% have electric refrigerators; 30% enjoy automatic electric water heating.
- As a result of cheap electricity, W. W. P. Co. customers use electric service to a high degree — twice the national average — an average residential consumption of 2679 kilowatt hours.

Pick-Up State Income Tax Slip
In order to save the state and incidentally the taxpayers a considerable sum of money each year, the Income Tax department of Idaho is abandoning the old method of mailing forms to those individuals who filed a return the preceding year.
As this old method has always been more or less confusing to the public for the reason that "new" taxpayers never had forms sent to them and for that reason many became delinquent by assuming there was no liability unless they had received a form direct.
However, the principal objection from the Department's standpoint is the mounting expense. The state has to pay postage the same as anyone else and year by year this has been a constantly growing sum which this year would have closely approached $2,000.00. In addition to the cash expense, a lot of time is consumed in preparing the mail before it leaves the office.
Therefore, it has been decided to ship forms in quantities to Court houses, banks, city halls, country stores, and other conveniently located places, where the taxpayers can pick up the form needed when convenient for them to do so.
This plan applies only to individuals, as corporations, partnerships and fiduciaries will have forms sent them direct as in the past.
So far the public reaction to this plan has been very favorable, especially so when it is realized the change is in the interest of economy. There has been no change made in the State Income Tax filing requirement. Returns filed on a calendar basis for 1943 are due to be filed on or before March 15, 1944. The personal exemption being $700 for a single person, $1,500 for a married couple and the credit for dependents is $200.00 each.
Taxpayers are cautioned that this applies to State Income Tax only. All returns, communications and remittances to be addressed to Tax Commissioner, Box 1399, Boise, Idaho.

Breeders decided to limit bulls offered for sale to those under three years. The committee in charge of the sale is Hollis Shelton, Almota, Wn., Bill Platt, Pomeroy, Wn., and Ted Gehring, Keuterville, Ida., with J. W. Thometz as manager.
The annual Stockmen's Banquet will be held Thursday evening, March 9, at 6:30 p. m., at the Bollinger hotel.
Stock will be judged Friday morning and sold at 1:00 p. m.

Fact Or Fiction
Periodically notices appear in the press informing the country of changes in the point value of rationed commodities. After they are made, it is explained that they were necessary in order to "adjust" demand to meet dwindling supplies.
For example, if, in the opinion of the rationing authorities, too many people went to buy a certain item, it is a simple matter to raise the point value of that item. Demand promptly falls off. It works smoothly and quickly. To all appearance, the old-fashioned laws of supply and demand become crude by comparison.
But there is one catch. Under the old natural laws mechanics knew what to expect from consumers. They knew that their customers would buy so many shoes, so many barrels of flour or so many tons of canned goods. And they planned the operation of their businesses accordingly. By planning and shrewd calculation of future consumer demand, the American distribution system was brought to a state of unequalled perfection.
Under the present method of juggling the laws of supply and demand, the merchant is helpless. After the war, production and distribution must be freed as quickly as possible of artificial handicaps. That is the only way to achieve, in fact, the fiction of future abundance now being created for the people by planners and dreamers of every stripe.
In the meantime, don't blame your merchant if he is out of one or more everyday items - it isn't his fault he couldn't obtain them.

Prices Must Follow Wages
With the milk, butter and cheese situation daily becoming more critical, not to mention many other agricultural crops, Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League co-operative association, says:
"Food scarcity could have been avoided had the government treated the problem as realistically as it has the problem of producing tanks, planes and ships.
To obtain the materials for war the government has followed a policy of paying prices for equipment that encourage manufacturers to expand their facilities and production. In the case of agriculture, particularly dairying, the policy has been just the opposite. Limiting milk sales will not cause any increase in production. The only way that a greater reduction in the supply of milk, with its attendant dairy products, can be prevented is through a price to producers that will enable them to meet steadily rising costs of production."

18-Year-Olds May Enlist
Naval flight training was open today for the first time in a year to 18-year-old high school boys, an official announcement states. The previous age limit was 17. A five-fold increase in quotas also accompanied the change.
Boys apply to the navy first, and if they qualify they may volunteer through Selective Service for induction into V-5.
All 17 and 18 year old high school graduates or seniors are eligible excepting those graduating in June who become 18 prior to January 1, 1944. They may apply only after their last term begins.
Because the flight training is the equivalent of a $27,000 education and the longest and most thorough in the world, only boys in the top 50 per cent of their class and in good physical condition are eligible.
Cadets who enlist before they finish high school must graduate before they can go on active duty. Flight training lasts about two years.
Application may be made by mail or in person, locally, at 518 Welch Bldg., Spokane.
Boys being given serious consideration will have their travel to Seattle or Portland and home again paid by the navy so they can be interviewed, given flight physical examinations and aptitude tests.

Can Openers Still At Work
Rationing has not emptied the shelves of Latah county residents of canned foods, it was revealed today. A total of 126,927 cans being used monthly, recently compiled figures reveal.
This figure is based on the government's compilation of 18,804 ration book holders in the county and the statement by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics that the per capita consumption of canned goods so far this year is 225 cans a day.
On the basis of the average size pre-war can, approximately 307 pounds of pure metallic tin is reclaimable for the war effort from these cans.
Men in service eat 8,000,000 cans of food a day and millions of pounds of canned items are being shipped abroad for lend lease, the dispatch states.
Many foods strange to American palates are being packed in cans for shipment over-seas. One of these is "Tushonka" for Russian consumption. This product being highly seasoned pork packed in lard. Squid, a variety of octopus, is being canned for Italian consumption. Canned foods for England are usually seasoned quite differently to those intended for American use, the dispatch added.

Items No Longer Rationed
Pressure cookers, feed grinders and crushers have been removed from rationing. Because the supply of pressure cookers will not meet all uses, the approval of WFA is necessary for purchases of pressure cookers for other than food preservation uses.
Move To New Home
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemenhagen moved to their new home last weekend. They purchased it from L. S. LaHatt some two weeks ago.
The Helman apartment, vacated by the Clemenhagen family, is being occupied by the Sheneman family of Southwick, who moved into town Monday of this week.

Should Have Right to Vote
"Every service man and woman, either in the United States or overseas, should be provided the opportunity to vote next year by full secret ballot," according to Reilly Atkinson, Republican state chairman. "This right should be exercised under state supervision. The constitution grants to the states the power to determine the qualification of voters. There is the factor that a federally produced ballot would not enable soldiers to express their preferences as to state and local candidates, which are equally important to the processes of democracy."
"A resolution at a recent meeting held in Salt Lake, follows: 'The meeting of western Republicans urge upon the 11 western states here represented to examine their present voting laws so as to provide the time and legal procedure which will permit our service men and women to exercise their American right of franchise through absentee voting.' Governor Bottolfsen, the dispatch continued, is determined to do all in his power to insure the right of every citizen to vote, even if necessary to the extent of calling a special session of the legislature."

CO-OPERATION IS A REAL NEED TODAY!

We believe the need for true co-operation is much greater at the present time than ever before. The need for unity of action, for protection and the furthering of the farmers' interests is certainly needed now with so many fierce disputes and conflicting opinions filling the air waves and newspapers.

So why not start the New Year right by taking out a membership in our organization? If you are not now a member, why not? We want to make this the largest and strongest dairy co-operative in northern Idaho — and we want every cream producer, large or small, to be a member.

Come in and let us explain some of the real advantages of this type of organization. By the way — we still have a few calendars left. Better call for yours at once.

December 30, 1943

Dear Mac and Bill:
Just a line now, and more later. I wish you would send me the paper so I can get the news of the old home town. I got here today, (Wednesday). I'd sure appreciate it if you could send me a copy of the papers I've missed. I left on December 19, so have missed several.

Sincerely
Pvt. Kenneth B. Woody.
Kenny, we'll do our best to send you the back copies, but don't think we have all of them. You see, the way the paper situation is at this time, we don't print any more than we absolutely have to fill the list.

From Archie Candler, Stockton Field, Calif., comes a jolly Christmas card, thanking us for the paper and wishing all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Mrs. James Whalen has received word from her grandson, James Bennett, who is stationed in Florida, that he had received another promotion in rank. He is in the navy submarine division.
