I'm bugs on cars.

I'd hardly think I'm a real American if I didn't always hanker after the latest thing in automobiles. Most everyone feels the same—wanting a new car. So even with Peace, is some new car with my number on it coming right off the assembly line? Who knows? I'm well off, though—still riding handsome—because I kept thinking of all the different oils to help a car. And I noticed ad after ad agreeing that your engine always forms acids inside...Risky...Bad danger of corrosion. But a station man showed me a can of Conoco Nth motor oil, and it said that a modern synthetic in Conoco Nth furnishes the working parts with OIL-PLATING—like a special surfacing to resist the acids; not letting them easily eat metal away. So you needn't fret too much for a new car, when a switch to Conoco Nth oil will safely OIL-PLATE your engine right now. Let the future car improvements try beating that!

Winfred Havens Tells Of Betrothal
 A charming May Day party held Sunday afternoon announced to friends the engagement of Miss Winifred Jean Havens, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Havens of 1208 Broadway avenue to William George Truemper, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Truemper of 127 So. Callow avenue.

Throughout the home the May Day motif was displayed by yellow and blue bouquets of spring flowers. The table was centered with a May basket flanked by crystal candelabra which held glowing blue tapers. Attached to the centerpiece were blue and yellow streamers leading to clever place cards bearing miniature photographs of the popular young Bremerton couple, and which read, "Winie and Bill; No Definite Date."

An enjoyable evening was spent making a scrapbook of cartoons representing the past and future life of the two. Dainty refreshments were served.
 Many invited guests were present to enjoy the occasion.
 Miss Havens, popular blonde graduate of Bremerton high school with the class of 1943, is now employed as secretary at the high school. Mr. Truemper, who was also graduated from Bremerton high school, was formerly employed in the navy yard. At present he is stationed at Farragut, Ida., for naval training.

The above item was taken from a Bremerton paper, the name of which was not given us.

We have been putting up May window decorations.
 They are cruel people — the Nips
 They beat their prisoners with whips
 Then we angrily sink their ships
 And shoot the commanders in the hips
 When there's a slip of the Jap lips
 We calmly sink their ships
 Then we shoot their planes into strips.
 That's how we end the Nips.

One Fourth... OF YOUR ELECTRIC DOLLAR GOES FOR TAXES!
Twenty-five cents out of every dollar you paid our company for good electric service in 1943 went for taxes. Year after year, the proportion grows larger. For 1943, our company's total tax bill was $2,647,000 — an increase of 25% over our 1940 taxes. Since the war began, other costs, too, of providing your electric service have gone up, but in spite of these increases, your electric rates are still as low as ever.
Like other electric companies over the nation, we are continuing to meet wartime demands for electricity, and supply all essential civilian needs as well.

Mark This Date On Your Calendar Now!
SATURDAY, JUNE 24TH, 1944!

This is the date of the third annual meeting of your company. It will be a big day! Make it a picnic and bring the whole family — Stay All Day!
We want every farmer, whether a member or not to be here. There will be things of interest for all of you!

We Want To Give Service

Incidentally, Folks, we want to give you the best service we can, but help is almost impossible to get — and so please don't wait until Saturday night to bring your eggs and cream in. We don't mind working all night Saturday to take care of it, but our wives object, and we are sure you don't want to see us sleeping in the park on Sunday morning.
— Thank You.

Teacher (trying to secure some originality of speech): "Jimmy, repeat these sentences in your own words: I see a cow. The cow is pretty. The cow can run."

Little Jimmy: "Boy, lamp de cow. Ain't she a beaut? An' I ask you, kin she take it on the lam?"

She: "If wishes came true, what would you wish for?"

G. I. Joe: "Gosh, I'm afraid to tell you."

She: "Go ahead, sap; what do you think I brought up this wishing game for?"

Advice to women warworkers: "If the sweater is too big for you, look out for the machines. If you're too big for the sweater, look out for the wolves!"

MORE ABOUT ARMED FORCES

Italian woman wash them and they are back in the bag now, and I may not see them again for another month or two. I've gotten so that about all I need is what clothes I have on and a few extra — and that's too much to carry around sometimes.

You asked if I'd been in sight of Mt. Vesuvius. Yes, I've not only been in view, but I climbed to the top of it. We were close enough to the opening of the crater that one could have spit into it with a favorable wind — of course that was before it started acting up. I also had an opportunity to visit the ruins of Pompeii. I was over in the Cassino area at one time. Believe me, it was just as rough as the papers told it. There were a few times when I thought I could have added to their version. They threw everything at us but the kitchen sink, but we retaliated and I'm damned glad I was on the receiving end of theirs instead of ours. I'll admit though, that at times it seemed like the hills of Idaho were a hell of a long ways off.

I saw the Mount Cassino Abbey, both before and after it was destroyed. Of course both times it was from a considerable distance.

Well, I am practically run down so will call this a letter.

As ever

Rupert.

The Gazette acknowledges with thanks the receipt of $3.00 from Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Galloway to aid in sending the paper to local men in the armed forces.

FARMERS! Here's ALL OUT FOOT DEFENSE!

WOLVERINE SHELL HORSEHIDES

ARE KID-SOFT... DRY SOFT... STAY SOFT!

YOU work so much more and harder you to do these days. Why make it harder still by wearing stiff, uncomfortable work shoes. Make your next pair Wolverine Shell Horsehides. They're kid-soft. That's due to Wolverine's secret triple-tanning process.

This secret triple-tanning process tans shell horsehide soft enough to make work shoes as comfortable as old house slippers yet retains all the wear-defying toughness for which shell horsehide is so justly noted. So, be sure your next work shoes are Wolverine Shell Horsehides. But, to help the war effort, make your present pair last as long as possible.
