Take Care of Security Card
High school boys and girls who have been working in business or industrial jobs during the summer were urged today by Edna Alvis, manager of the Lewiston office of the Social Security Board, to take care of their social security account number cards.
"Students will need their cards again when they take other jobs during holidays, next vacation and throughout life. The card is the key to an insurance policy with Uncle Sam, and one number should be used by every worker throughout life. More than one number may cause some loss of the wage credits. And it's patriotic to take care of the card. Thirteen bullets could be purchased for the cost of issuing a duplicate."

A CHRISTMAS SONG

Back o'er the landscape of the years
The wings of memory beat,
Back to the golden long ago
When life was young and sweet.
And from that treasure chest of old
I bring a Christmas song,
Faded with age since I placed it there,
The years have been so long.
Not just a wish at Christmastide
Its tender lines convey,
Not just a hope that happiness
Be yours this one glad day.
But before God's holy altar
In the sunshine of his love,
May your Christmas prayers be answered
With His blessings from above.
— Bert Gamble.

TIGER TALES

PREPARED BY JOURNALISM CLASS OF KENDRICK HIGH SCHOOL

Kendrick Beats Lewiston
The Tigers really went to town with Lewiston, Dec. 16, in an exciting, hard-fought game. Kendrick was victorious by the close score of 27-24. Kendrick got the first basket, but Lewiston came back to lead at the quarter 4-2. The Tigers forged to the lead at the half 11-9. The Bengals opened the second half by tying the score and went on to lead 22-21 at the third quarter mark.

Early in the fourth quarter Lewiston lead 24-21, but Kendrick was not to be denied victory and went into the lead on three quick baskets by Junior Brocke, going on to win 27-24. Easterbrook led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Brocke with six points. Bickmore was high for Lewiston with six points. Wait McCall and Norman Fry, both from the starting lineup, were not in, due to illness.
After the game the team was treated to a dinner by the High school.

Tigers Edge Genesee
The Tigers journeyed to Genesee, Dec. 15 for their first conference game. Walter McCall, Tiger center, was ill, but the Tigers went on to win despite the handicap.
The first quarter score was 6-0. Kendrick; halftime, 15-11, Kendrick; third quarter, 15-17 and the final score 24-21 for the Kendrick Tigers. Herbie Millard led the Tigers with eight points, followed by George Brocke with seven points.

Shop News
The Shop students are now working on separate projects. Some of the articles they are making are waste baskets, small ironing boards, book shelves, book ends, radio tables, feeder troughs, coat hangers, skis and end tables. Mr. Markham is in charge of this class.

The Kendrick High school library has received 16 new books by well known authors. Their contents were briefly summarized at an assembly Monday afternoon by Mr. Bakken. Those received were: "Here I Stay," Elizabeth Coatsworth; "Jane Eyre," Charlotte Bronte; "Richard Carvel," Winston Churchill; "The Robe," Lloyd Douglas; "The Perfect Tribute," Mary R. S. Andrews, and "As The Earth Turns" by Gladys Hasty Carroll.

Christmas Party
The High School Christmas party will be December 22 in the auditorium, and after the party the show, "Adventures of Checo" will be given. And last — but not least — we will have a "Mixer." We are in hopes everyone will have a good time.
Mr. Bakken announced that school will be out Friday, Dec. 22, and will resume January 3, 1945.

Both are short Christmas plays with a patriotic theme. In the former we see what happens when Santa Claus finds himself with toys. The upper grades will show the difficulties involved when the bad elves try to do away with Christmas.
Directors are Miss Holt, Mrs. Gruell, Mrs. Deobald and Ross Armistage.

Three inebriated gentlemen attending an opera were disagreeing about the name of a composition the orchestra was playing. One said it was a symphony from Madame Butterfly. The second insisted it was the Sextette from Lucia. The third noticed a large sign at the edge of the stage and said he would go down and find out.

In a couple of minutes he returned.
"Well, who was right?" inquired his pals.
"You're both wrong," said he. "It's the 'Refrain from Spitting.'"

Plumber's Helper: "I guess I'm just a little pebble in your life."
Sweetie: "Well, why not be a little boulder?"

MORE ABOUT ARMED FORCES

San Diego, Calif.
December 16, 1944

Dear Bill:

Well, here I am back again in this hole they call San Diego. Guess I will be here for a while. Thought I would drop you a line so I will be able to get the paper.

Didn't get it for about six months before I came home — but suppose some day the missing copies will catch up with me.

Thanks, everybody — and a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

Donald P. Jones AMM 2-c
Note: As Don is in a hospital, his address is no military secret. It is as follows: Donald P. Jones AMM 2-c, U. S. Naval Hospital, Ward 222-1, Unit -2, San Diego, Calif. We know he'd be mighty glad to hear from his friends.

From Pfc. J. Donald Stroh, now at Camp Lee, Va., comes a Christmas card wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Word has been received that Pvt. Harry Newman is now stationed at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.
Note: Harry: Lt. Rex Blewett and Pvt. Everett Neumann are also there. You fellows better get together.

Roy Hill FC 2-c, left Friday afternoon of last week to report for duty again, after spending a 30-day leave here with his grandmother, Mrs. W. W. McAllister.

Roy and Wayland Davis reported for navy duty at the same time (almost three years ago) and had not seen each other until last week, when both were home. They spent many long hours visiting together. We'd have liked very much to be able to listen in — but probably wouldn't have understood the navy language if we had.

Word has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wallace, that their son, John Wallace, USN, has been promoted to the rank of Lt. Jg., and is now commander of his own ship, a Ventura bomber. Lt. Jg. Wallace is stationed in the South Atlantic theatre of war.

THE NIGHT BEFORE XMAS (G. I. Version)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through SoPac,
Not a creature was stirring — too damn much ack-ack;

The dungarees hung by the M-1s with care,
In case the Shambos quite soon would get there;

Each private was nestled all snug in his sack,
Expecting not Santa but Japs on SoPac.

The sergeant in scivies, machete in his lap

Had settled himself for a tropical nap.
The rats and the lizards were out on patrol.

For Christmas Eve visits to every foxhole.

No candy canes hung from the waving palm fronds,
Instead were signs saying: "Have you bought war bonds?"

This private named Jones who had corked off at last

Was dreaming sweet dreams of a blonde from the past,

When out on the beach there arose such a clatter,

He sprang from his sack to see what was the matter.

Away to a pillbox he flew like a flash

Fast loading his rifle while making the dash.

The moon on the breast of the white coral sand

Gave luster of mid-day to objects at hand;

When what to his wondering eyes should appear,

But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

"My God!" he exclaimed, and his face turned quite pale,

"Poor Santa got stuck with the SoPac detail!"

More rapid than Zeros his courses they came

And he whistled and called them (in cadence) by name:

"Yo Dasher! Yo Dancer!" and so on to each —

"It's H-Hour now and we're hitting the beach!"

And then in a flash before Jones knew the score,

Old Santa was standing right there on the shore.

His clothing was G. I., of plain Forest Green.

He looked like a very fat U. S. Marine.

Instead of a big sack of toys, for a gag,

He'd slung on his shoulder a large lister bag.

He spoke not a word, but went 'straight on his way,

And filled all the foxholes with stuff from his sleigh:

Machine guns and mortars and plenty of rifles,

Bolo knives, flamethrowers, and other such trifles.

But Jones' deep emotions were not greatly stirred —

He felt it was time St. Nick got the word.

Jones stepped into view and said, "Sir, lookit here.

A Marine would prefer a cold bottle of beer,

Some french fried potatoes, some pie a la mode —

And really that stuff wouldn't make such a load.

It'd still leave you room to bring pin-up with a zing,

And a portable vic with the latest by Bing.

A pinochle deck, a harmonica, too, The scoop on the folks back in Kalamazoo

"Now hold it my boy," said St. Nick with a frown,

"A lot of those items I'd gladly mark down,

"But what with priorities, red points and blue,

Paper curtailments and shortages too,

Marines must give up, as pal to pal, These things that maintain our civilian morale.

This isn't too much to be asked of the Corps,

Or, don't you guys know that we're fighting a war?"

Then he sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,

And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;

But Jones heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,

"Merry Christmas, Marines, and to all a good-night!"
