MORE ABOUT TOURNAMENT

all were won. Eight of their games were played in the Valley League without a loss. Six of their games were against A schools, of which they lost three. Two of their games were Valley League tournament games — no loss. Six games were played in the District tournament at Lewiston, of which one game was lost to Kamiah. Three of their games were North Idaho tournament — winning all. Kendrick won the sub-district, the District and North Idaho State tournaments. This is the second time in history that any B school has won the Sub-District, the District and the North Idaho State championship the same year — Craigmont having duplicated this performance some years ago. Also, it is the first time that a B school has won the North Idaho State tournament two consecutive years. The individual scoring record of the team is as follows:

Player	PF	FG	FT	FTCT	TP

Cotton Goods To Small Towns
Distribution of the 10,000,000 yards of cotton goods that is being made available for the first quarter of 1945 to merchants in rural areas has been limited to merchants who, in 1944, received less than 20 per cent of their 1943 sales of cotton goods, the WPB reports. The allocation of the cotton goods was made specifically for the over-the-counter sale to persons who live in small towns and rural areas and who usually purchase such goods for use in making garments in the home. For the purpose of the distribution program, small towns and rural areas were defined as communities of less than 25,000. WPB explained. No priority assistance was granted to retailers in the towns with greater population.

Veterans Should Watch Allowance

Returning veterans are being encouraged to seek employment in order to further the war effort and at the same time conserve their entitlement to readjustment allowances under Title V of the G. I. Bill, reports H. F. Garrett, executive director of the unemployment compensation division.

Veterans have two years after the war or two years after their discharge, whichever is the later date, to draw their allowances. They should take into consideration the fact that for every week they are paid allowances, even though they may be reduced by earnings, one week is charged against their maximum entitlement. In the case of self-employment, five weeks are liquidated from their maximum entitlement for each month payment is made irrespective of the amount. Veterans who desire information regarding their rights to readjustment allowances may write direct to the Unemployment Compensation Division, Boise, Idaho. Claims for such allowances may be filed at their nearest United States Employment office.

When a veteran is discharged or released from active service and is available for employment, he may contact a local office of the United States Employment Service, where his application for work will be taken. If no work is available a claim for readjustment allowance is then filed. He should have his discharge papers with him when filing his claim as the total number of weekly entitlements depends upon the length of his active service and the discharge papers must be marked to show that the claim has been filed. The law further provides that to be eligible he must have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. He must be able to work at the time he files his original claim and reside in the United States. The regular weekly readjustment allowance is $20.00. This may be reduced by part-time earnings over $3.00. Veterans may also be entitled to readjustment allowances if the net earnings they receive during a month are less than $100.00.

Nation's Health Is Good
Despite the strains of three years of wartime working and living, and an increased shortage of physicians, nurses and hospital facilities, the physical and mental health of America's civilians shows no indication of a serious decline, the OWI states in a comprehensive report on the state of the nation's health.

It adds a warning, however, from the U. S. surgeon general, that our lines against disease are lightly held and that our shortages of nurses and medical manpower leave us vulnerable to a break-through on many fronts.

Therefore, it behooves everyone to do their best to remain in good health.

Tick "Shots" Available
With spring just around the corner it's time to take shots to prevent Rocky Mountain Spotted fever. L. J. Peterson, director of laboratories for the Idaho Department of Public Health states enough vaccine to immunize 2,500 individuals has been received from the U. S. laboratories at Hamilton, Mont., and is being distributed to physicians and health units throughout the state.

Replying to a number of inquiries, Peterson pointed out that ticks are found throughout the state, and during the last 10 years spotted fever has been reported from nearly every county.

Spotted fever is transmitted only by common wood ticks and the infection is maintained in the ticks by two methods," he said. "The first is the transmission of the infection from tick to tick through successive generations. The second is by a non-infected tick feeding on an infected animal. When the tick feeds on the susceptible host, the host animal becomes diseased and then in turn infects other ticks which attach to this host.

"Spotted fever is transmitted to man by the adult wood tick, and only a small percentage of the ticks carry spotted fever. However, the disease must be considered potentially present wherever wood ticks are found."

$85,000 For Victims
Approximately $85,000 has been spent to date by the Hartford, Conn., Red Cross chapter on hospital cases resulting from the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey circus fire in Hartford last year. Of this amount $46,310 was collected by the Hartford Times; $10,000 was donated by the circus and the balance came from the Red Cross disaster funds.

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

REMEMBER FOLKS:

First Grade Cream must be clean, smooth, free from undesirable odors and flavors, clean to the taste, not excessively sour, practically free from sediment and extraneous matters, low in mold count, and contain not less than 25 per cent butterfat.

Second Grade Cream is lower in quality than first grade, yet suitable for human consumption, such as cream that is lumpy, excessively sour, or that has certain undesirable flavors and odors, yet is fairly palatable. However, it must not contain an excessive amount of sediment or extraneous matter, nor have a high mold count.

In a few states a special classification is accorded sweet cream — cream containing not more than 0.2 or 0.25 of one per cent acidity. In all states cream falling below the standards for No. 2 is classed as illegal cream and severe penalties are provided for those who sell or buy it for consumption as human food.

Working with the various state dairy and food authorities, and closely cooperating with them in the maintenance of their dairy standards, is the Federal Food and Drug Administration. Its special task is to keep an "eagle eye" on the quality of all dairy products entering commerce between states. The Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act of 1938 authorizes regulatory officials to seize, condemn and destroy as adulterated food, unfit milk, cream and butter, and provides severe punishment — ranging up to "imprisonment for not more than three years, or a fine of not more than $10,000, or both imprisonment and fine" — for anyone who introduces such unfit milk, cream or butter in interstate commerce, or who delivers, receives or holds such products where they may become unfit.

And don't forget — we want to buy your cream!

MORE ABOUT ARMED FORCES

I got a real dunking and just about ruined all my pictures, and all my stamps were stuck together. Mom had sent me some at just the right time, so the first time I had a chance to write I had stamps.

I was back in Holland again on a pass. It's great to get away from the outfit for a few days. I bought a few things I was going to send home, but I had them in my pack and lost them all on the other side of the river (Ruhr).

The last letter I received from Mom she said the boys were going to the District tourney in first place — they have really done swell.

Paula wrote and said they had a very nice funeral for Tup. I wish I could have been there as he was one of the best pals I ever had.

So my brother Ted is a soldier now. I hope he is doing O. K., I'd really like to be with him. He will, no doubt, do a lot better than I have done so far in this army. But then, I am proud of being a Medic in the infantry.

There was another package from you last night. The fellows really made quick work of it, but I know how to take care of myself on things like that and I got my share O. K. That must be about all the packages I have coming, as there have been quite a few.

We have a German Victrola now and we have really been knocking ourselves out on some German records, and they aren't bad. Some are our tunes that we have at home. We don't hear any music sometimes for so long that it is a real treat. It is turning out the music right now — "Blue Skies" is one of the best records we have. There must be at least a dozen that are darn good and I would enjoy hearing them any time when I have time.

I have been wanting to send something home, but after they get through saying what you can't send well, I just don't know what it could be. Pop wanted a gun, but that is out all together in this place here.

Well, this seems to be about all I have for now so will sign off. It seems to be dinner time anyway. I'll be writing again when I have time.

Might send a box of goodies when you have time. Don't send cigarettes as we are getting enough now. Cigars are very welcome though (if you can get 'em).

Love, always your brother
Charles.

Dear Mac and Bill:
I have a new address now. It seems as though it is the only time I write you. I'm still in Seattle but in a different company. I'm not in the M. M.s any more — now it's a truck company. I don't have as much time off as I did, but I don't mind.

I have been in the hospital all winter, just getting out about three weeks ago. I would like to know if there is anyone around here from home or from the neighborhood.

I was supposed to get my next furlough in June, but as it is I don't know when I will get one — so suppose it will be quite a while before I get to see good old Idaho.

I got a pretty good break last night. I was on guard and all I had to do was sit in a truck for four hours. All the rest of the boys had to drive all night and today.

I sincerely want to thank everyone who help make it possible for we fellows to get the paper. I know it sure makes me feel good to get it. I just hope it means as much to the other fellows — and I believe it does.

Thanks again.

Sincerely

Ike Shore

Predatory Control Efforts

Efforts to control predatory animals and birds are being increased by the Idaho Fish and Game department, states James O. Beck, director. He called attention to the fact that the commission recently increased the bounty on cougar to $30.00. It had been $15.00. The commission also boosted the price on magpie heads to four cents. The bounty had been three cents. The four cent bounty will be paid until April 1. The campaign is concentrated into these months because it is best to kill predatory birds before they reproduce in the spring.

As in the past, sportsmen's clubs will pay the bounty to individuals collecting the heads. The clubs will be reimbursed by the game department on presentation of affidavits. To expand its coyote control program to a great extent, the department has requested the legislature to remove the $6,000 ceiling on the predatory animal fund and place in the fund at least 20 per cent of the state's share of revenue from the sale of beaver pelts. The bills have been introduced in the house. If enacted these bills will provide the department with sufficient predatory funds to conduct a vigorous campaign against the coyotes that have been getting very numerous in many areas.
