

We Are "Getting Better All The Time"

I am beginning to get the Grocery business straightened out in my mind — to the extent that only twice during the past week I sold nails for maccaroni — and axel grease for lard!

I appreciate the way my customers have tolerated my inexperience the past week.

Come in and see us — for the best available groceries and prices.

Pioneer Association To Meet

The Latah County Pioneer Association will hold its annual picnic at the Elks Temple at Moscow, Sunday, June 17. The picnic dinner will be held at 1:00 p. m. instead of the noon hour, on account of church services. Coffee, cream and dishes will be furnished by the Elks lodge, and they are taking part in the program — but all members coming for the dinner should bring their own food, which will be served family style.

There will be a program at 2:00 o'clock, consisting of the Elks Flag, a colonial; an address by C. T. Stranahan of Lewiston, Idaho; community singing of old time songs, lead by Prof. A. A. Beecher of the U. of I. music department, some other musical numbers, as well as other entertainment.

Many old-time pictures and relics of interest will be on display; and the sure to bring along any other pictures and relics that you may have.

All who have lived in this section of the country for thirty years or more are considered pioneers, and are heartily welcome.

Susan L. Pemberton Called

Mrs. Susan L. Pemberton, 83, a resident of Kendrick and Lewiston since 1893, died Saturday evening at 7:00 after suffering a paralytic stroke Monday.

Mrs. Pemberton was born in Cadiz, Ohio, Dec. 22, 1861, a daughter of Samuel and Deborah Lukens. She was married May 23, 1886 to William D. Pemberton, a veteran of the Civil war.

Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton moved to Idaho in 1893, settling in Kendrick. Since 1931 she had been a resident of Lewiston. She was a member of the Methodist church at Kendrick.

Survivors include two daughters and two sons, Mrs. H. E. Hynes of Ellensburg, Wash.; Mrs. Roy Hatfield of Lewiston; William L. Pemberton of Clarkston, and 1st Sgt. Charles F. Pemberton of Camp Beale, Calif.; eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Brower-Wann funeral home, from where services were held at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, with the Rev. P. Malcolm Hammond as officiant. Burial was made in Normal Hill cemetery. — Lewiston Tribune.

Painting Store Fronts

Wayne Kuykendall has been busy the past few days painting the fronts of Floyd's Table Supply and Thurber's store.

The same color was used on both — a soft, creamy yellow. The painting not only improves the appearance of the stores, but of Main street as well.

CASH WHEAT LOWER AT PORTLAND: BY GRADES

Domestic grain markets were somewhat irregular during the week ending June 8, according to the War Food Administration. Cash grain in the spring wheat markets was generally firm, while the deferred oats and wheat options eased slightly toward a new crop basis. Winter wheat, averaging good quality, was moving to markets in the southwest with prices for ordinary grades barely up to the old ceilings. While the trade generally expects a reduction in the May 1 estimate of wheat production, most private reports indicate the possibility of a billion bushel crop. Demand for feed grains in the cash market continued broad.

The cash wheat market at Portland was independently weak toward the close of the past week. Bid prices on the Portland Grain Exchange on June 8, were 1½c to 3¼c per bushel lower for ordinary classes of wheat compared with a week ago. Only the hard winters and hard whites of the better milling types showed any strength, since these were the only types in which mills were interested.

For the most part, mills here appeared covered on their recent floor sales insofar as ordinary classes of wheat were concerned. Demand from other terminal buyers was not very active. A continued good demand prevailed from midwestern markets for soft whites from this area. However, almost complete lack of offerings from growers at country points restricted this business and most orders went unplaced. The lack of country offerings continued to be the most important factor in holding trading and movement in wheat to very small volume. Receipts of about 775 cars of wheat at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals, of which Portland had 240 cars, principally represented movement of C. C. supplies to coast terminals.

Mills still reported difficulty in obtaining sufficient supplies of Montana wheat. Winter grain is heading in Oregon and there has been some lodging due to wind and rain. Wet soil has prevented completion of spring seeding in some localities.

Bid prices for cash wheat on the Portland Grain Exchange, June 8, showed soft white at $1.53; soft white (no Rex) $1.55; white club, $1.55; western red, $1.55 and hard red winter $1.53½, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk, 15-day shipment, coast delivery.

The San Francisco wheat market remained quiet and inactive with a continuation of the scarce supplies and limited demand of other recent weeks. While the general market tone was quite steady to firm due to strength in other markets, local trading was practically at a standstill. Central California marketings were limited to a few small lots since old crop stocks have been reduced to low levels and harvesting of the new crop has been confined to a few earlier areas of the San Joaquin valley. Recent weather conditions have permitted the crop to fill out somewhat better than anticipated but fields were becoming quite weedy in some sections. The rather poor quality of current central California marketings limited interest on the part of mills, who were placing most of their orders in the Pacific Northwest or Intermountain sections.

On the cash wheat market at Kansas City, demand for better milling grades was as keen as ever, with ceiling prices and in special cases, extra mark-ups the ruling standard of trading and billing. Buyers were not interested in poorer grades of wheat. Open market trading was on a small scale as the bulk of arrivals moved direct to mills and storage plants. Shipments held up well as the car situation continued to improve.

Wheat prices moved upward 5c to 7c per bushel during the past year, but at the first of June were about 60c per bushel under prices at the corresponding period in World War I. No. 2 hard winter wheat at $1.67 at Kansas City is 5c higher than a year ago, while No. 1 dark northern spring at $1.71 at Minneapolis is about 8c higher than at this time last season. Oats, which were steady at about 70c on an average this season, were only 10c under World War I prices, while barley, which averages about $1.25 for No. 2, was 15c per bushel under barley prices of World War I.

Compared with the 10-year (1932-1941) May average, wheat prices are 70c per bushel higher for spring grain and about 80c per bushel higher for hard winter. Oats prices are approximately double the 10-year average, while corn prices are 50c per bushel higher and barley 57c per bushel above the 10-year average.

Comedy Is Scheduled
 This week's offering at the local theatre will be a comedy, "Take It Or Leave It", starring Phil Baker, Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager. It is said to abound in fun, music and surprises. In fact, it is billed as a "picture with plenty of it!"
 Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week there will also be a show, entitled "The North Star," which is said to be one of the better recent pictures. It is an inspiring and eloquent tribute to the undying courage of the Russian people. And, although it has the war as its background — it is not a war picture. It has as its stars Anne Baxter, Dana Andrews, Walter Huston and Ann Harding. On these two nights there will be but one show, beginning at 8:00.

 In every bag of Watkins Mineral Compound, you'll find the minerals which agricultural experts agree are necessary for proper growth and production. And minerals are necessary because neither home-grown grains nor mixed feed contains a sufficient amount.
 Watkins Minerals didn't just happen! They are the result of careful study, backed by years of experimental work on Watkins Experimental Farm and in the feed lots of America.
 Use Watkins Mineral Compounds for your hogs, stocks and poultry to insure against loss and to assure you of high production at lower cost.

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

Notice Of Annual Meeting Of The Kendrick Co-operative Creamery, Kendrick, Idaho

TO ALL MEMBERS:

The fourth annual meeting of the members of your above named company will be held in the Fraternal Hall at Kendrick at 7:30 P. M., on Saturday, June 23, 1945, for the following purposes:

1. The election of two directors to fill the expired terms of Mrs. Mabel Hayward, Southwick, Ida., and Asa Cook, Juliaetta, Ida.
2. A full report of the business activities of your company during the last year.
3. Open discussion of any problems in the industry which the members may care to bring up.

May we urge you to be there—non-members as well as members. While non-members can not participate in the voting, they are welcome to attend. Your attendance at this meeting will show your interest in the success of the company.

We have shortened this meeting and are having it at night for the convenience of those to whom travel is difficult and because of the rush of work at this time of the year.

Sincerely yours
Board of Directors

A foreign-born citizen, who spoke only a little English, waited into a building that housed a Red Cross center, ration boards and other war agencies. A nurse took his name and address and sent him into another room where attendants drained a pint of blood from him.

Then, obviously bewildered, he asked, in broken English, "Now do I get my gasoline?"

A young man who had failed in his college exams wired his sister: "Flunked all exams. Prepare Father."

He received the following wire in reply: "Father prepared. Prepare yourself."

MORE ABOUT ARMED FORCES

officers, especially members of the Air Corps, since the Italians felt they had been swept from the skies and their cities destroyed by our superior equipment and men.

Deryl completed his 35 missions a few days before the end of the war, spent a short time in a rest camp and then boarded a steamer at Naples for his return home. He was lucky in catching a fast boat, but nine days being required for the trip, via "the Rock" and then a smooth ride to old New York. He spent a few more days in a rest camp and then home for a well-earned 30-day furlough.

He was able to see Lt. Bill Deobald just before leaving for Naples and said he "was in the pink" and had at that time completed 13 missions, and believed he got in one or two more before the war ended. Deryl said he was under the impression Bill would probably be sent home for re-assignment — but of course it is anyone's guess.

Deryl brought home with him a number of souvenirs, among them an Italian made cigarette lighter, of aluminum, beautifully engraved and inlaid on the sides with Italian coins. It was made by hand, is simple, but very efficient. He also has a nice long string of "short snorter" money, autographed by Atlantic ocean crossers, various other foreign coins, including some Russian, and a German Luger pistol.

Speaking in the lighter vein Deryl says the much-touted Italian red and white wines taste and smell like they had been fermented by or with well-worn socks and other cast-off items of clothing — but that their vermouth was not bad. However, so far as he is concerned, somebody else can have all of Italy and its products.

Deryl reports to Sana Ann, Calif., July 1, for reassignment, possibly to B-29 work. He says, however, that he hates to leave the old B-17, considering them the ultimate in reliability. Deryl said he was privileged to see some of the famous British night bombers, the truck-horses of the R. A. F. — Halifaxes and Sterlings — and from their appearance wondered how they ever got off the ground, let alone carrying the 11-ton "volcano" bombs. The British "mosquito" bombers, however, are neat, sweet little ships — and they certainly carry a sting.

Deryl has but one regret since he got home — the weather has prevented him taking that long-desired fishing trip "way back in the hills," rain having kept the streams too muddy for piscatorial artists.

The Present "Tight" SUGAR and MEAT Situation Requires Careful Meal Planning

LET US SUGGEST —

Use syrups, of which we have a good supply and selection, or honey, in the place of that precious sugar for home baking or pastry making. There are many good recipes for pastries available that use sugar substitutes. Use them and save the sugar for the canning of berries and fruit.

For table use we have a good selection of jams and jellies. Their use will also help stretch that sugar!

YES — FRANKLY the meat situation is desperate, and gives no promise on an immediate improvement. However, we will do our best to supply you! We will also do our best to obtain fresh fish, as the market may afford.

We also pledge ourselves to do our level best to equitably distribute such supplies of meat and fish as we may obtain.

Bring that grocery list here. Quality groceries at reasonable prices!
