PROPOSED COURTHOUSE LEVY FAILS OF PASSAGE

Taxpaying voters of Latah county, balloting Saturday on a proposal by the county commissioners for authority to levy not to exceed three mills annually to create a sinking fund of $293,479 or less from which to erect a new courthouse in the postwar period, apparently defeated the proposition.

Unofficial returns from 23 of the county's 24 precincts today (Tuesday) showed the issue lost by 44 votes out of a total of 1121 cast.

Returns were not available from Cora precinct, east of Garfield, which was not expected to have had more than 20 votes cast.

The northern and western parts of the county generally favored the issue, with the eastern and southern most sections heavily opposed. Moscow voted overwhelmingly in favor, although its total vote of 536 (440 in favor), was less than half the approximately 1,300 qualified tax-paying voters accredited to the city.

A two-thirds majority vote was necessary to carry. The unofficial totals today (Tuesday) showed 677 voters in favor of the issue, 444 opposed. Needed to carry of this total were 721 votes.

R. E. Nordby, commission chairman, Genesee, expressed disappointment today that the proposal had been turned down, but at the same time said it "heartening that so many voters favored the issue."

The present courthouse, 57 years old, was condemned a score of years ago as unsafe by the state department of public works. It has been wholly inadequate during recent years, with many vital county records stored in cellars, hallways and closets without protection from fire or other damage.

The vote by precincts:

Precinct	Yes	No
Bear Creek	6	31
Bovill	13	1
Cora	13	1
Deary	16	62
Farmington	8	5
Genesee	53	13
Harvard	11	5
Juliaetta	7	24
Kendrick	8	75
Lenville	6	4
Linden	0	22
Palouse	18	2
Park	1	8
Potlatch	12	7
Princeton	13	18
Texas Ridge	0	17
Thorn Creek	3	6
Troy	5	8
Viola	4	8
East Moscow	130	30
North Moscow	23	5
Southeast Moscow	137	30
Southwest Moscow	72	12
West Moscow	73	19

Locally the proposed new county courthouse went down to a stinging defeat, the final tally showing 75 "Nos" to eight "Yes."

At Juliaetta there apparently was little interest taken in the matter, the score standing 24 "Nos" to seven "Yes."

It is our candid opinion that if Moscow would co-operate more with the rest of the county in road matters, even if that road didn't lead directly to Moscow, that they in turn would create a considerably friendlier feeling throughout the rest of the county and undoubtedly would get much farther in such matters.

Fire Near Ahsahka

Fire Wardens Henry Jones and Clarence Perryman were called to Ahsahka last Saturday morning to direct fire fighting on a grass, brush and timber fire that broke out near the Ahsahka store, and swept rapidly up the hillside toward comparatively heavy green timber.

Aided by local volunteer fighters, residents of that area, the Indian agency fire fighting equipment from Lapwai and some from Orofino, they had the blaze under control by Sunday evening, although not out, and it is still not extinguished.

By a miracle the sudden shift of slight prevailing winds at the fire scene enabled the fighters to save the Ahsahka store and other surrounding homes and outbuildings in the hillside path of the flames. So hot was the blaze that even green syringa and thorn brush was just a heap of ashes when the fire passed by, the tinder dry grass and dead brush going almost like it was soaked in gasoline.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts of American ridge are the proud parents of a baby boy, born to them August 3, weight seven and three-quarters pounds.

Now Improving

Mrs. Clifford Davidson, who has been confined to her bed the past three weeks, is somewhat improved, and able to be up.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

Col. Lester Gentry, son of Mrs. Nettie Gentry, Kendrick, arrived home Monday of this week, bringing with him his honorable discharge papers. Cpl. Gentry is a veteran of many months service in the Africa and European theatres of action.

He landed in Africa just three days before Christmas of 1942, and his first real battle experience came with the almost disastrous "Battle of Kassarine Pass," he being with the 2nd Armored Division under Patton, with whom he went on through the balance of the African campaign.

Following its successful termination his outfit was returned to England, and from that point went on to take part in the D-Day invasion, the Normandy battle, the battle of St. Lo, and enough others that Cpl. Gentry wears one silver and four bronze battle stars, for a total of nine major battles, besides the Africa and E. T. O. ribbons.

Cpl. Gentry was with the outfit that took Hitler's hideout at Bretschgarden, a job which he said all very thoroughly enjoyed. He also said that he was privileged to visit the bombed and thoroughly wrecked city of Berlin, in fact, just three weeks ago today (Monday) he was in Berlin. He says the city has a lot of fine building spots available now — and lots of material piled right on the spot, the only trouble would be assembling it into the shape of a building without first having cleared the ground.

Cpl. Gentry says he has but one "bobby" nowadays, and that is the "mollycoddling" of the German and Jap prisoner of war. He says he sees no reason why they should be any better fed and cared for than American army troops when in the field (living on C and K rations).

Cpl. Gentry said his trip home was a most pleasant one, since he traveled by air from France, via the Azores, Brazil and Miami, Florida, even though the air was a bit rough and you sometimes felt as though the plane were going off and leaving you, before you came back down to your seat.

He looks the picture of health, says he feels good, and is going to spend a few days with his mother and visiting friends and relatives before going to work.

He wishes to thank all for the Gazette, saying it reached him on a catch-as-catch-can basis until the fighting was over, and then came through quite regularly — and it was mighty welcome, for it brought the news of home.

S-Sgt. John Jones arrived home last Saturday to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones, and with other relatives.

Johnny, who first served in England, then in Africa and later in Italy, has been overseas more than three years, and has amassed more than enough points for a discharge, but being in the Air Corps (15th) he doubts that it will be awarded him. Johnny hasn't changed a particle, and still wears that friendly grin, as well as his Sgt. stripes and plenty of ribbons and stars.

Sgt. and Mrs. Glenn Newman left for Bremerton, Wn., Wednesday, where they will visit with Mrs. Newman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Fitcher. They will also visit with relatives in Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles until August 21, when Sgt. Newman reports to Santa Monica, Calif., for reassignment.

Col. Beryldean R. (Bob) Grayson, arrived home last Saturday from the E. T. O., bringing with him his honorable discharge papers. Col. Grayson has been overseas 25 months, and wears the European Theatre of Operations Ribbon, the Good Conduct Medal and three Bronze stars for three campaigns, Belgium, Southern France and the Rhineland.

Before entering the army in October of 1942, he was employed as a lumberjack by Potlatch Forests, Inc.

For the time being, at least, he plans on going right to work on the farm with his father, F. K. Grayson, Southwestick.

We have not yet had a chance to talk to most of these boys, but know from past talks that they are thoroughly enjoying home cooking, home beds, and the absence of military discipline.

Pfc. Raymond E. Hudson left Saturday to report for reassignment at Fort Douglas, Utah. He expects to go from there to North Carolina for an intensive 60-day retraining period before leaving for the Pacific Theatre.

Raymond was in Europe but a few months, but wears three battle stars and the Combat Infantry badge.

He says he doesn't mind the thoughts of going back into action again nearly as much as he does that 60-day "rooky" period all over again.

Crosby-Davis Nuptials

Sampson, N. Y., July 31 (Official Dispatch) — Miss Jane G. Crosby, 167 Nursery Ave., Geneva, N. Y., daughter of Mrs. Carl W. Crosby of Port Allegan, Pa., and Wayland L. Davis, Baker 2-c, of Kendrick, Idaho, were married at 2:00 p. m. Sunday, July 29, in Royce Memorial Chapel at this U. S. Naval Training center. The ceremony was performed by Lt. (jg) Nevin M. Kirk, Jr., ChC, U. S. N. R.

Attending the couple were Miss Louise Crosby of Jackson, Mich., and Miss Barbara Crosby of Port Alleghany, sisters of the bride, and Alfred McLean, Baker 1-c, of Great Falls, Mont.

The bride is employed in the Geneva office of the National Bank of Geneva. Her husband, a veteran of 30 months of duty in the Atlantic and Pacific, is now attached to the commissary department at this center. They will make their home in Geneva.

Note: Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weber, Juliaetta, have received a very interesting letter from their son, Cpl. Thomas Weber, and have allowed us excerpts from it, as follows:

Wetzlar, Germany July 26, 1945

Dear Mother, Dad and All:

I received your letter a few days ago, but knew I was being transferred, so thought I would wait until I knew my new address, so would get my mail that much sooner. They say this is one step closer to home and I sure hope so, but they also say it may be January before we get home. I sure hope I don't have to wait that long, but I guess I can if I have to — I've waited this long.

I surely hated to leave my old outfit. There was sure a swell bunch of fellows. There were seven of us that left, but only two of us are here now at regimental headquarters, the rest being sent out to the Bn. I sure wish we could have all stayed together. We tried to, but it was no-go. I don't know for sure yet what my job here will be, but think they will put me on driving again — I hope so, for at least you are kept busy then and don't have so much time for your mind to run around.

It's surely nice country around here, and real farm land. We are about 40 miles from Frankfurt — got down here last night about 8:00 p. m.

* It's so hard to write a letter, as it's just the same old story day after day.

Love to all

— Thomas

Note: His parents advise us that Cpl. Weber has been in the service 42 months, overseas 32 months, and has 112 points.

From "Somewhere in The Philippines" Coxn. Roy Weber writes briefly to his sister, Mrs. Ed. Brown, under date of July 10:

Dear Sis and All:

Just a few lines tonight to let you know that I am still all right. I know I haven't been writing very much, but I just don't seem to get started.

How is everyone around there now? I suppose you had a good time the Fourth.

* * I made my rate of Coxswain and now the work that I do is only every other day, but I have to get up at 4:00 o'clock in the morning, so I sleep most of the days that I am off.

Have you heard from Chris lately? I haven't had a letter from him for a long time.

Always — Roy.

From Mrs. Eula Greene Miller of Moscow, formerly of Juliaetta, comes a short note regarding her son, Lt. Keith L. Miller, as follows:

"He was recently promoted to first lieutenant in the Information and Education branch of the Quartermaster Corps. As an I. & E. officer he provides the soldier with world wide news, received three times daily by radio and by daily U. S. newspapers, received one week late. He is also acting as Special Services officer with the duty of providing the soldiers with entertainment, athletics, movies, music, etc. He can now tell that he is in Chabau, North Assom, India, a tea plantation section. In the movie, "Objective Burma," the air operations were staged in Chabau, and a number of scenes were taken in nearby Dibrugarh."

S-Sgt. S. A. Nye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Nye of Juliaetta, was discharged from the army according to a release from the Fort Douglas separation center. Nye is a veteran of 12 months overseas service and is wearing Bronze Stars for campaigns in Italy, France and Germany, the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf clusters and the E. T. O. ribbon.

Col. Earle P. Parks, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Parks, Juliaetta, while on furlough, left Wednesday of last week by plane for the Lincoln, Neb., army air base. Cpl. Parks recently finished instruction in B-29 gunnery at a Texas camp.

Pfc. Clarence Thornton arrived home here Sunday of last week for a visit with his wife and other relatives and friends. Pfc. Thornton is a veteran of the South Pacific area of operations and is home on convalescent furlough, having been wounded in one arm and thigh by a Jap grenade, thrown by a Jap woman civilian.

He, with his wife and children are at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ida Pemberton.

1-Sgt. Leo E. Peters arrived in town Monday to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Peters, and with other relatives. He has been stationed in California for the past several months.

Harvest Is Really On

Local warehouse managers say that in their opinion the peak of harvesting operations has about been reached, however, the flow is expected to continue almost unabated for the next two weeks. The marks of the wet spring can be seen in the wheat, nearly all of which carries some smut. Some kernals, too, are slightly shriveled due to the excessive heat of the past three weeks, but at that, the quality is "somewhat better than was expected. To date deliveries have consisted principally of Forty Fold, with a little club. No spring wheat has yet been brought in. This, of course, is expected to show the greatest heat damage.

Oats have been quite hard hit by the heat, which caught them in the dough stage.

Nothing accurate is yet available on barley, but it, too, is expected to show considerable heat damage.

The pea yield per acre was cut in most cases, some early-sown fields did well, however.

Beans, considering the heat, are said to be doing better than expected. They are now blooming and most raisers report them "setting on" better than expected.

Had the weather remained "seasonal" a really bumper crop would have been the result. However, the situation in general could have been much worse.

Really Hot Weather

The thermometer has had a lot of fun the past week sliding the red indicator up and down the column, the temperature varying from 85 degrees last Thursday to 99 degrees Monday. And it really was 99 degrees about 5:20 that afternoon, for not a breath of air was stirring and a few clouds in the sky seemed to make the heat all the more oppressive. About 10:00 o'clock that evening, however, the usual breeze sprang up and a blanket or two was in order before morning.

Tuesday the thermometer was down around the 90 degree mark, but an obscured sun and a hot wind didn't add much to comfort.

Equipment Being Examined

One hundred and fifty tons of new Japanese equipment, captured in the Philippines, was shipped to the United States, and are now being examined and tested at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, says an army dispatch.

Be Careful With Fire

Henry Jones, local fire warden, wishes to ask the co-operation of everyone during this dangerous fire season. He warns:

No burning permits will be issued during the fire season, and anyone caught starting a fire will face prosecution.

Don't throw matches, cigarette or cigar butts or empty burning pipe dotle out of car or truck windows, keep a receptacle in the vehicle at all times — and use it.

Be sure your truck or pick-up is equipped with a muffler and exhaust pipe, and that the same is in good shape. Also, when entering or leaving stubble fields, clean straw out from under your truck where it may have become lodged. To leave it there may be to invite a fire.

Plow fire-breaks around your fields and buildings whenever possible. Keep a barrel of water, old sacks and plenty of hand tools handy to fight fire should it break out on your own or neighbors property.

And above all — be careful with fire!

Word From Swansons

The Gazette is in receipt of the following letter from Mrs. Axel Swanson, which is entirely self-explanatory:

Wheeler, Oregon
July 31, 1945

Dear Friends:
Just a few lines to let everyone know about Axel. He is getting along swell, is gaining and looks much better. As far as his moving around or helping himself is concerned, there is no change as far as we can see — but that doesn't discourage us, because other cases have been the same way and come out of it just fine.

The doctor talks very encouragingly and seems to be quite proud of Axel's progress, but frankly says that it is going to take a long time. However, we expected that.

We like it down here just fine and it would be more pleasant if it wasn't for so many large fires. We are surrounded on three sides, and one fire is only ten miles from us now. We can hear them blasting, so you know it is really close.

One day recently a cloud of black smoke hovered over us and made it like night. Ashes were falling everywhere and it made you feel like you were going to smother. Axel said he had never seen such a black cloud of smoke in his life, and I haven't, I'm sure. It just made you frightened to look at it. Everyone is afraid of a high east wind, which would bring the fire right into Wheeler. We are at the edge of a large forest and are truly hoping nothing like that happens.

Sincerely yours
Mrs. Axel Swanson.

DON'T GET OPTIMISTIC OVER LUMBER RELEASE REPORTS

There has been little actual relaxation of lumber controls to permit private building, says P. W. Pratt, sales manager for Potlatch Forests, Inc., in Lewiston, when calling attention to the fact that lumber dealers should not be criticized for inability to fill low priority orders.

Much publicity has been given via magazines, radio and newspapers to the relaxing of order L-41 and to authorized H-2 and H-3 construction, said Mr. Pratt, but the lumber dealers are still bound hand and foot by Lumber Control Order L-335.

Repeated advice has been given the public to the effect that dealers have been allotted a sufficient quantity of free and unrestricted lumber to meet the demands for construction allowable under L-41, but this is not the case.

The war demand for lumber is so great that there is very little lumber available, either at the mills or in the lumber yards, that can now be channeled to the public for maintenance, repair and building permitted under L-41. Dealers can only secure a very limited supply of lumber at the present time, Mr. Pratt said.

Dealers below AA-1 are of very little value and most of the dealers have more AA-2 and higher ratings than they can find lumber to fill. Dealers cannot buy all their requirements, even though they have high ratings to offer the mills, and would be committing business suicide if they were to disregard the sales restrictions placed on them by L-335 and sell all of their lumber on uncertified and unrated jobs.

Officials of the lumber division of the WPE, have advised that lumber will continue tight for a month or two and that indications point to no easier market before September. They say order L-335 cannot be relaxed at this time because there are still high rated orders out that cannot be filled, adding that until those rated orders have been filled, and until the mills can build up a little surplus, the WPE cannot see their way clear to relax L-335.

The lumber situation, according to WPE, is tighter right now than it has been since Pearl Harbor. One reason is because of a drop in production. The other is the fact that the military is placing some pretty big requirements for the re-deployment of troops and materials from the Atlantic to the Pacific, plus the stepped-up war pace in the Pacific.

The dealers' inability to meet a pent-up demand for lumber is not wise his fault. The public has a right to know what they can expect when they are told that this or that regulation has been relaxed or liberalized and the lumber dealers have a right to expect that they will not be subjected to undeserved criticism because the buying public has been only half informed in announcing relaxation of lumber controls.

When information and publicity is given about building, word should also be given of the acute lumber shortage that now exists, Mr. Pratt stated. Lumber dealers, he concluded, are anxious to serve the public with their building needs, but they are also obligated to observe rules and regulations that have been laid down by various war agencies, boards and bureaus, and cannot fill orders for lumber until some way is devised for them to obtain lumber, which will not occur until the present war needs have been satisfied.

Home Nursing Classes

The first of the regular series of home nursing classes were held on Wednesday evening of this week with Mrs. Laurence, RN, as instructor.

The next class will be Friday evening of this week in the Home Ec. room of the high school, and next week's classes will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

With the war-time shortage of doctors and nurses, all who can possibly attend are urged to do so.

'Lid' Off Fishing Tackle

All fishing tackle except rods, reels and non-metallic lines and nets was exempted from price control on August 2, Dave S. Cohn, district director of the OPA announced.

Typical of exempted items are: Metal lines, hooks, snelled hooks, stringers, scalers, floats, swivels and sinkers. Sales of these items affect the cost of living only slightly, and the administrative and enforcement difficulties of maintaining controls outweigh the importance of holding prices at pre-war levels.

More Work Clothing

New fabric controls to insure increased production of 15 items in men's and boys' work clothing are announced by WPE. The 15 items include men's and boys' overalls, jumpers or coats and blanket lined overall jumpers and coats; dungarees and waistband overalls; one-piece coveralls; cossack jackets; work coats; work aprons; work and shop caps; work pants and breeches; work shirts and washable service material including gowns, suits or coats for doctors, dentists, druggists, butchers, etc.

Production of five types of work gloves will also be increased by priority allocations. Included will be leather combination gloves and mittens and Jersey gloves and mittens.

Science Develops Aids for Farmers

Crop and Livestock Improvements Seen

CONTINUED high production levels on American farms in 1945 should be materially aided by recent discoveries and developments by U. S. Department of agriculture research experts.
Some of the announced results of the Agricultural Research administration's program are:
1. Release of 43 new improved varieties of plants; such as corn hybrids, suitable to the South. Hybrid corn has been little used there so far, but the new variety shows promise of bigger acre yield increases than in the North. Hybrid onions give evidence of increasing yields per acre, as much as 20 to 50 per cent.
2. Working out of methods for conditioning and using ammonium nitrate, so that it can be readily used as a high-nitrogen fertilizer.
3. Confirmation by tests with DD (dichloropropylene - dichloropropane) of earlier reports that it is highly effective against the rootknot nematode.
4. Development of a mechanism for dispersal of insecticidal sprays by airplane.
5. Production of new allyl compounds, from ordinary sugars and starches, that form clear, weather-resistant coatings for wood, paper, or metal.
6. Development of a dual-stretch method which improves the phys-cal properties of cord made from cotton fiber, the result of research on tire cord.

7. Extension of the use of phenothiazine as a drug for livestock. Research has shown that it can be safely used for calves, and that wormy sheep taking regular small doses in their salt, show improvement from the medication.

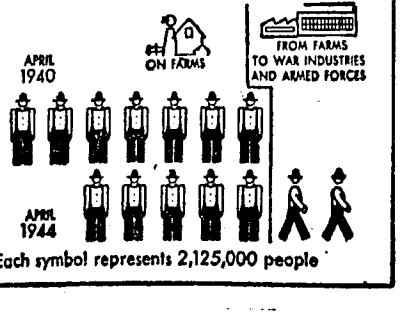

Postwar Locker Plant Expansion Promised

Model Locker Plants Increase.

As a result of prewar as well as successful wartime experience of farmers who have used frozen food lockers for quick freezing and storing of their surplus food supplies, a broad increase in construction of locker plants in farming communities is expected after the war, according to the National Frozen Food Locker association.
The frozen food locker industry, now operating more than two million individual storage units, serves one-fourth of America's farm families, and is making plans for further expansion.
Rental of lockers, in many cases, is far below the cost for low temperature refrigeration installed by individual farmers. Tests have proven that the quality of meats, fruits and vegetables can be maintained by properly regulated locker plants.
Not only do locker plants serve as a storage place for the needs of the farmer, but it is possible for him to develop a select retail trade, selling in winter direct from his locker supply.

Day Centers Must Be Licensed

Persons operating foster homes or day-care centers for children in Idaho were reminded today by R. G. Fredekind, Latah county supervisor, that a license from the State Department of Public Assistance must be secured immediately if they plan to continue operation.
The 1945 state legislature passed a law providing for the licensing and specified certain minimum standards that must be met before a license is issued.

Under terms of the law, any home giving either full-time care, or regular care by the day, to children who are not related by blood or marriage, must secure a license.
Licensing of such places is a recognition of the responsibility of the state for the welfare of all children, who for some reason must be given care away from their own homes. It was passed primarily to aid in supervision of such homes heretofore unsupervised by authorized child-placing agencies in order to assure maintenance of certain standards of care, protection of children from maltreatment, health hazards, and other threats to their welfare.

It is pointed out that under the law it is a misdemeanor to operate foster homes or day-care centers without the state license, which is issued by the Department of Public Assistance, without cost, after an inspection of the home has been made by qualified personnel.

To secure additional information about the law, call or write to your local Department of Public Assistance office at Moscow, Idaho.

Safer Sealing

A new type of cellophane, specially developed for wrapping pellets of ammunition for trench mortars, now enables American soldiers to keep their powder dry in spite of the wettest weather.
The material is made into an envelope, the powder is inserted, and the envelope is sealed. Flameproof, it gives off no tell-tale afterglow to reveal gunners' positions.
The new cellophane is expected also to solve many postwar packaging problems in industries in which an extra-effective moistureproof wrapping is required.

AN EXCERPT FROM IDAHO HIGHWAY HISTORY
Every interstate highway entering Idaho follows the trails of early-day history of the state, says the Bureau of Highways, after a research of early day history. Oftentimes those trails made junctions that survived the horse and oxen drawn wagons and stages until the coming of the railroad into Idaho in the early 80's. Fort Hall trading post was among the early posts established by the fur trappers and traders of the British Hudson Bay company. The fort was built upon the banks of the Snake river about two miles west of the present town of Fort Hall, 12 miles north of Pocatello on U. S. Highway No. 91. Fort Hall was the junction of the Overland road which branched off from the original road to the west coast for the Oregon country and the Montana road from Corrinne, Utah. In 1834 the Hudson Bay company evacuated Fort Hall and the Stars and Stripes were re-raised over the Fort by Nathaniel Wyeth in the name of the United States.
The Overland road followed then the trail of the present Highway No. 30 from the Wyoming border, and then turned to the west and followed the Blackfoot river to the juncture with the Snake river to Fort Hall. The Montana road was north from Corrinne through the present Malad valley and over the summit and thence north through Fort Neuf to Fort Hall. Another road now known as U. S. No. 91 went to the settlement of Logan in Cache valley and thence north to join with the road to Fort Hall. The Oregon Trail followed along on the south banks of the Snake river to the Raft river, where one road turned south to join the "Gold Rush" travelers of 1849. The Oregon country travelers continued on the south side of the Snake to a crossing of the river near Glenns Ferry and thence west to Fort Boise, and crossing the Snake into Oregon. Another road to the west crossed the Snake at Fort Hall and thence west on the south side of the Twin Buttes and then southwest to follow on the north side of the Snake river to Fort Boise.
Many Game Licenses Sold
It's getting to be a habit. Idaho fish and game license sales hit a new record in July. During May and June previous peaks were topped. Now it has happened again. Conservation officers have been reporting more fishermen than ever before on lakes and streams. Figures compiled by the department proved they were right.
In the month just ended, vendors sold 21,298 resident licenses, compared with 16,298 in July, a year ago which was the previous record for the month. Other sales were also records. There were 1,374 non-resident season fishing licenses, and 2,671 non-resident 10-day fishing licenses. In July of 1944, non-residents bought 714 season licenses and 1,873 10-day licenses. The report shows an increase of 5,000 resident licenses, 660 non-resident season licenses, and 998 non-resident licenses for the 10-day period.
Further evidence that the number of Idaho fishermen has soared is found in the total of licenses purchased in the first seven months of each year. Up to the end of July, 1944, the figure was 68,758. By the end of July, 1945, the total was 79,668, an increase of more than 10,000.
Sugar Stamp No. 37 Not Valid
Housewives who have been asking all the questions of the harried ration boards about sugar stamp No. 37 may stop worrying. Neither sugar stamp No. 37 nor spare stamp No. 37 is or will be valid this year, OPA says. The explanation is that so many persons mistakenly sent in sugar stamp No. 37 last year instead of the spare stamp No. 37 which was called for, that the agency decided not to validate either one this year, to avoid loss of sugar points by any person.
Sugar Stamp No. 36, now valid, expires August 31. Before that date the validation of another sugar stamp will be announced - but it will not be No. 37.

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

REMEMBER FOLKS:

There is a mistaken idea that so long as cream is sweet it must necessarily be good. Cream may be sweet and still have old, rancid and other undesirable flavors that make it unsuitable for butter-making. This sometimes happens when very fine cream is held on the farm longer than is good for it. Cream must be fresh as well as sweet to command top prices.

Certain producers hold to the notion that no matter what quality of cream is delivered to the creamery - good butter can be made from it. This is not true. It is a harmful idea, too, in that it keeps a lot of producers from doing as well as they know how in producing cream. Once cream has been allowed to reach a condition where it must be graded as No. 2, it can be made into nothing but low grade butter. All the skill and science of the butter-maker are of no avail here.

All he can do is to churn it into the lowest score butter and sell it for whatever such a low grade product will bring on the market. Just as "prime" cuts of beef cannot be obtained from a "canner" cow, so it is impossible to manufacture "extra" and "standard" grades of butter from second-grade cream.

Professor: "I forgot my umbrella this morning."
 Wife: "When did you realize that you had forgotten it?"
 Professor: "Well, I missed it when I raised my head to close it after the rain stopped."

The drawback to success which comes late in life is the fact that a lot of folks you wanted to impress have moved away.

There are two kinds of women - those who can get any fellow they like and those who can like any fellow they can get.

Dear Mac and Bill:

Well, here I am back at the base. I haven't gotten a paper yet, so will send you my new address. I would have liked to stay a few days longer at Kendrick and gotten to see all my friends - five days is an awful short time to try and see everyone. I had been (before my leave) getting the paper regularly and it sure helps me to keep up on what is going on in Kendrick.

I got to spend most of a day with Walt McCall and Phil Southwick yesterday, so had quite a "gab fest." We talked about the good old times we used to have and went over all we had seen since being in the navy.

I suppose everyone there now is right in the middle of harvesting, because when I was home operations were just beginning.

Are they having any more big fires around lately? When I was home it seemed something burned every day somewhere about the country.

Well, Bill, I have to close for this time and I guess I will have to follow up the other guys in saying: "Keep the home-town paper coming - they are really swell."

tallon, Cpl. Bartlett has seen many months of service with Patton's armor, having been assigned to that army in September, and was with it until the close of the war. His construction unit was the one that constructed the longest single span Bailey bridge ever built - 330 feet - details of which once appeared in Life magazine. In speaking of this job Cpl. Bartlett said it was a night and day proposition - for that armor simply had to cross to support the rapidly advancing infantry as the break-through came. But rugged as the job was, they did it, and got the armor across, and then went on, finally winding up in Czechoslovakia, where they formed units of the army of occupation until the time came to come home.

Harold says that part of the country they went through is very pretty, and the smaller villages, especially, neat and clean. The big towns and cities, or most of them at least, were so badly wrecked and burned by bombs and shells and the tide of battle, that it was hard to picture what they had once looked like.

With the advance units, Cpl. Bartlett had his choice of souvenirs, so brought home with him a brand new German 8-mm. Mauser sporting rifle; a World War I 8-mm. German Luger pistol with hand finished action; a Zeiss-Ikon camera which he said his commanding officer stated was worth about $400; a pair of very fine opera glasses; German coins and other souvenirs that made his barracks bag all he "cared to pack." In a previous issue we told of a shipment of souvenirs he had sent home some weeks ago, and he says that any time his friends care to stop at his home he will be glad to show them his collection.

Cpl. Bartlett is entitled to wear four battle stars, the E. T. O. ribbon, the Good Conduct badge and others, but he said that the thing that interested him most was the "85 points I needed for my discharge - which I brought home with me."

Harold is now engaged in learning about "points," gasoline coupons, shoe stamps, etc., and says that in many ways army regulations are much simpler.

Cpl. Bartlett wishes to thank all concerned for the paper. It reached him on a "once and a while" basis until the war's end, and then came through quite regularly, but then, he says, that was the way all mail traveled, and it was "dog-gone welcome" when it did reach him.

Harold has no definite plans for the future, and for the time being, at least, is going to get acquainted with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bartlett, and the ranch. He is thoroughly enjoying home cooking, Lt. Deryl Ingle, A. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ingle of Big Bear ridge, arrived home Tuesday evening from Santa Ana, Calif., bringing with his his "sheepskin" in army parlance, or in plain english his honorable discharge papers.

Lt. Ingle flew 35 missions from Italian bases over Italy, German, Austria, Czechoslovakia. In a previous issue we gave an account of his operations.

Just what his plans may be at this time we do not know - but - welcome home, Deryl.

Every day is Christmas in the navy - so far as the mailing of gift packages overseas is concerned.

So say postal officials at Thirteenth Naval District Headquarters, who are already witnessing the increasing flow of Christmas packages pouring through west coast postal distribution centers to navy men, coast guardsmen and Marines in the Pacific - and the navy heartily approves of this early-bird rush.

Mail your Christmas parcels to navy men now. Don't wait until fall, is the burden of their plea to all at home. And here are some important tips that most people don't know:

(1) You don't have to show a letter of request from a navy man, coast guardsman or Marine in order to mail him a gift at any time.

(2) You can mail packages any time you want to. The navy has no set Christmas-package-mailing time, but urges you to mail packages regularly throughout the year. In fact, the navy urges you to get busy right now with those Christmas parcels to insure their reaching their destination by Christmas.

If you think that from now until Christmas sounds like a long time, remember that the navy is busier this year sending food, ammunition and other supplies to the Pacific than it has ever been before, and ships and planes are crowded with war-vital materials. Remember there are millions more men in the Pacific expecting Christmas mail than ever before, and that these men are spread over five million square miles more than we held in 1941.

In short, the navy is faced with the heaviest work load by mail in history. You can help out by starting your Christmas packages now. A deadline for Christmas delivery has been set for October 15, but this connection the U. S. postal department has forbidden the mailing of newspapers or magazines without specific written requests from addresses overseas. The navy has vastly increased its bulk shipments of a wide variety of magazines to Pacific areas, so that individual subscriptions are no longer necessary. These represent a cross-section of America's favorite reading matter."
