KENDRICK'S ANNUAL SALES DAY BE HELD OCTOBER 13

Kendrick's Annual Sales Day will be held this year on Saturday, October 13 — and something new in the way of a daily program will be used. This year, to date, there have been no local auction sales, and taking this into consideration, it was felt that there would probably be an unusually large amount of farm machinery, equipment and produce put under Roy Glenn's hammer, and therefore more time would be needed for the auction sale, which is scheduled to begin at 10:00 a. m.

Therefore it was thought best to eliminate the regular sports program and put in its place a football game — Kendrick High school meeting Lapwai High school at 2:30 o'clock — this arrangement permitting an auction sale of three and a half hours.

The football game will provide plenty of thrills and action — and Ross Armitage says it will be played, rain or shine!

In the evening, beginning at 9:00 there will be the big public dance — benefit of War Memorial Swimming Pool Fund.

In regard to the auction sale — no goods will be auctioned off for residents of Kendrick until all farm produce has been sold — and then only if time permits before the football game! This is a farmer's sales day!

On that day, as in the past, the Kendrick stores and other business houses will offer special bargains in one kind or the other. Sales and specials are rare these days — but there will be some in Kendrick!

Bailey Family Hold Reunion

Lewiston Orchards, Sept. 15 — The seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Bailey gathered this weekend for the first family reunion in 37 years. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, who will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary on October 28, came to Idaho in 1908 from Lincoln, Neb., where all but one of their children were born. They lived first at Kendrick and came to Lewiston Orchards 15 years ago.

Besides their children, many of their 27 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren were here for the festivities.

Present at the family dinner today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Slocum were the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey; Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bailey, Los Angeles; D. L. Bailey, Los Angeles; M. L. Slocum, Lewiston Orchards, and daughters, Mrs. T. C. Mahurin and Mrs. Walter Schnabel, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bailey, Lewiston.

A new family portrait was made today, the first since 1908. Also present for the dinners and other gatherings were Mr. and Mrs. Will James, Fullman, friends of the Bailey family for more than 37 years.

Kendrick Loses To Clarkston
On Monday of this week the Clarkston Bantams defeated the Kendrick Tigers in the first football game of the year. The contest was scheduled to be held at Kendrick, but due to heavy rain the football field here was too muddy.

In the first quarter the Bantams made their first touchdown and then converted for the point. Kendrick held them scoreless for the remainder of the quarter.

During the second quarter of play the Bantams scored another touchdown, but failed to gain the point following. As the half ended the score stood 13-0.

In the third quarter Clarkston made a safety on us, counting two points for them. The Tigers then tightened down and held the Bantams scoreless the balance of the third quarter and throughout the fourth quarter. When the final whistle blew the score stood 15-0 in favor of Clarkston.

The entire game was played in a steady rain and the ball was slick and hard to handle.

The next game will be on Tuesday, October 2, on our own field. Troy is to be our opponent.

Truck Tire Increase
To help meet heavy demands for bus and truck tires and cut increasing backlogs of unfilled applications, an additional allocation by the regional office has been granted the Spokane district office of OPA, on the September bus and truck tire quota. Backlogs are due to applications exceeding monthly quotas of local War Price and Rationing boards, so that purchase certificates cannot be issued.

The supplemental allocation for rationing to consumers throughout the district consists of 600 small size truck tires (7.50 and under) and 100 truck tires, 8.25 or larger.

While the increased allocation will not take care of all approved applications on file for small truck tires, it will provide tires for most of the applicants.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

September 9, 1945
Camp Detroit, Laon, France

Dear Mac and Bill:
I suppose I should have written you sooner, so I won't try to offer any excuses. You guessed it — too lazy to write. I am really ashamed of myself, but will try to make this one complete now that I have started.

First of all, I want to thank you all ever so much for the paper. I really get a lot of enjoyment out of reading it.

At the present I am in one of the 17 assembly area camps which our division is operating. I am assigned as a jeep driver for the Post Engineer of this camp. It is a pretty fair camp and has changed a lot since I first came here. When I arrived here on June 12th there was nothing here but an airport — and weeds growing over everything. Now we have a nice Red Cross building where we can get coffee and doughnuts free at all hours of the day, and there are nice ping-pong tables, a very complete library, and we also have three theatres with shows nightly. They have all sorts of sports and many other facilities.

I joined the 75th Division the last of January in the Ardennes, Belgium. From there we went on and fought in the battle of the Colmar pocket, in the Alsace-Lorraine area. Following that we went to Venlo, Holland, and thence to the Rhine.

We fought all through the Ruhr pocket as our last big action. These three major battles give me 15 more points, but still not near enough to go home on.

Well, at any rate the big shooting is over — we all can be thankful for that. I must say it was far from pleasant up there during the hostilities. I was in a machinegun company all through combat. After we had cleaned out the Ruhr pocket we were in the army of occupation in several cities in that area, including Dusseldorf, Ludenschied and Duisburg.

They are pretty liberal with passes and furloughs to the U. K., and Switzerland, the Riviera and Rome, but as yet I have only taken one pass, going to Besancon, France, where I saw Norma Olson, my sister-in-law, who is a nurse in the 46th General hospital.

Well, I must close, at least for this time as I have no more news. Thanks again for the Gazette.

Sincerely,
Pfc. Knut A. Knutson.

Revised, Germany
Sept. 1, 1945

Dear Friends
How is everything back home? I suppose bean harvest is on full tilt now, and grain harvest should be about over by this time.

I wish I was back in Linz, Austria. Linz is about the nicest town I have been in since I have been in the E. T. O., and I find the Austrian people to be much more friendly than the Germans.

I guess I am stuck in the army of occupation for a while yet. At present I drive a jeep in a convoy between here and France. We only stay in France one night, then back here — so I haven't had much of a chance to look over much of the country.

Am enclosing my new address. Well, so long for now and thanks a heap to all for the paper.

Always,
Leroy Miller.

Mrs. George Havens has kindly allowed us excerpts from the following interesting letter, written by her brother-in-law, Lt. Stanley Mills:

Barvaria, Germany
Sept. 6, 1945

Dear Martha and George:
Perhaps you have already heard the good news, but if not you can continue writing, as I don't think I will be here by the time an answer to this letter could arrive.

Yes, at last, I am supposedly going home. It will probably take at least two months to go through the entire process from this point, but at any rate I shall soon be starting. We completely finished closing out the 65th Monday, and the four of us officers plus six enlisted men who were left, journeyed down to our new home to hear the good news.

I thought the country around Linz was pretty. It was, really, but it wasn't in comparison to this. This is the place where the 1936 Olympics were held and is the scenic resort for the whole of Germany. It is a resort, too. All the lakes are just pure glittering green, and of course, are surrounded by tall mountain peaks. The mountains always did have some sort of mysterious appeal to me. Most of the troops are quartered at the resort hotels which were evidently built to accommodate the traveling rich. They are quite fancy. This would be an ideal spot for a soldier staying in the occupation army to have his wife join him.

Close by here there is also another one of those "30,000,000" castles that King Ludwig had built. I fully intend to see this one, as I never did get to see the one at Massberg. They say the inside is mostly of gold, silver and marble.

This is also the scene of the famous Passion Plays, which were held yearly just before the war. They are practicing now for continuance of them next year. The cast, in actual life, is supposed to live exactly as did the Bible characters they represent, and they keep the same cast from year to year.

Guess these are the main points of interest around here. My main interest happens to be wishing I knew whether or not I have the points an officer is required to have in order to get a discharge. We are getting so many rumors I don't know what to believe.

As ever — Stan.
Note: Lt. Mills is quite well known here, having visited here many times in the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens.

Pfc. Dale Miller arrived here Monday afternoon to spend a short "delay-in-route" furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, and with other relatives and friends. Dale expected that his unit would soon be sent overseas when he was home on furlough the early part of this month — but now he doesn't know what to think, as he reports back to Kearns, Utah, at the conclusion of his "delay." He says it's anyone's guess just what they will do with his unit — ground crew, A. A. F.

Wallace (Wally) Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newman, Cameron, left Tuesday at noon for Fort Lewis, Wash., from which point he will go to Fort Douglas, Utah, to begin army training.

Wally passed his physical exams some weeks ago, but was put on the deferred list until after harvest.

Boyd Wesley Blankenship, Kendrick, and Roland C. Calvert, Lenore, have passed their physicals, and will probably be in the next draft call.

S/c Donald R. Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bateman, arrived home Sunday to spend a 15-day leave at his home here, and with other relatives and friends. Don is a veteran of many months duty in the Pacific, as a member of the Armed Guard on the U. S. S. Hardlock, a merchant marine vessel under army control.

Don's last bit of duty was a 3-day stretch off the shores of Okinawa, where he was privileged to witness as well as to take part in some of the naval action in those waters.

Don called at the Gazette office Tuesday afternoon to thank all concerned for the paper. He said it was certainly a welcome item, not only to him, but to all the navy personnel — and that by the time all had read it, it was worn out.

During the latter end of the fighting the crewmen abroad ship were privileged to go ashore to see the country and in search of souvenirs, and one of these he acquired, he values above all others in his quite extensive collection — and that is a Jap printed American invasion bill — money intended for use in this country when the Japs "took it!" He also has a Jap made map of the city of San Francisco, with the routes they intended to follow plainly marked on it.

Don said the Jap-American money cost him quite a bit, as he was forced to trade a new Jap army rifle for it.

On shore the boys had always to be on the watch for Jap land mines, which he said are superior to ours. These mines, about two inches thick and as big around as a large dinner plate, had a heavy spring on the bottom of them, and when touched, jumped into the air some five to six feet and then exploded. In addition to their shrapnel casing they had a large quantity of steel balls inside, which the charge threw in every direction, making them especially deadly.

The late model Jap hand grenade was also quite deadly. Its casing was marked off in tiny squares, which, when the grenade exploded, covered quite a large area with a close pattern of small shrapnel. The fuses on these grenade were six seconds, making them quite fast.

The smaller pieces of shrapnel in the Jap grenade produced many wounds among American troops, but lacking the power of our grenade, killed far less men.

On his ship's return from Okinawa they carried an American wounded, and Don says it was rather a pitiful sight — he hopes he doesn't have to see another boatload of them.

At the end of his leave he reports to Boise for reassignment to some boat in the Third Fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newman, Cameron, have received word from their daughter, Helen, who has been in California for the past several months, that she had joined the Cadet Nurses Corps in San Francisco.

Sgt. John Jones arrived home last week from Fort Douglas, Utah, bringing with him his honorable discharge papers, received September 11. Johnnie is a veteran of the African and Italian theatres of war, and has certainly earned those papers — having been overseas almost three years.

Major Aaron Blewett, who is now stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah, was a caller in the Gazette office Tuesday morning, extending his thanks to all concerned for the paper. He is now connected with the separation center at that army post and says that he finds his work intensely interesting, since there is always something new coming up.

Mjr. Blewett says he enjoys the enthusiasm of the men as they prepare to again become civilians. He does not find their impatience at necessary delays galling, but rather to be expected of the soldier who has spent many months in service.

He is a veteran of the Aleutian campaigns, and at their conclusion was transferred to Fort Benning.

Word From Swansons

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stedman received a personal letter from Mrs. Axel Swanson of Wheeler, Oregon, who says in part:

Boy, Axel is sure getting well fast. All the pain has left him, and his crooked leg "came loose" today and almost straightened out. We are sure happy and have something to thank the Lord for — for he has done so much for us.

WET WEATHER IMPERILS VALUABLE BEAN CROP

The rainy weather which began last Friday is imperiling the local bean crop, worth many thousands of dollars, the almost continuous downpour which has soaked several inches into the ground, having thoroughly soaked all beans now in the field.

Some beans, of course, have already been threshed and are safely in the dry, local dealers estimate that 20 per cent of the crop is now in warehouses — 80 per cent in the field. Estimates of threshed beans by ridges, are:

Potlatch ridge, 25 per cent.
Flx ridge, 75 per cent.
American ridge, 10 per cent.
Big Bear ridge, 2 per cent.
Texas ridge, none threshed.
Far Southwick area, none threshed.

A good many acres of beans have been cut, some lying in winrows for combines, some piled, and these, of course, will have to be turned at least once, and possibly twice, before they can become dry enough to thresh, granting the coming of warm, dry weather.

Beans not yet cut also pose a serious problem, for there must be warm weather and dry ground before the cutters can go to work — and there is always the danger of "second growth" with its attendant green beans. A frost would probably help some, but would not solve the problem.

All-in-all, a serious harvest situation has been brought on by the still inclement weather.

Swimming Pool Fund Growing

The list of donors to the Living War Memorial Swimming Pool fund this week includes the names of a number of former residents, who now live many miles away. We think it only proper that we give their addresses, as follows:

Pocatello$ 10.00
Evea M. Thompson, San Diego, Calif. 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, The Dalles, Oregon 15.00
A. J. Sheneman 10.00
Chas. Keeler 5.00
Mrs. Chas. Keeler 5.00
Herbie Millard 25.00
Ewald Hinrich 5.00
A. H. Blum 10.00
Harley Perryman 5.00

Total$ 95.00
A. O. Kanikkeberg, drive chairman, announces that plans are almost complete for committees to begin the task of calling on residents throughout the area, but says he feels it desirable to await the completion of bean harvest if possible before beginning this work.

We feel that Fred Bailey will have no objection to our using his name when he made the statement that he considers this swimming pool to be one of the finest moves that any community could make — not only from the standpoint of a Living War Memorial, but from the standpoint of the health and recreation for the youth and women of the country. He says he would feel remiss in his duty to the old home town had he not given toward its construction — and being a veteran of World War I, he believes he understands what the area boys who gave their lives would like in the way of a memorial.

Disposes Of Business
A deal was consummated Saturday, September 22, in which Kendrick's oldest business firm, Crocker's blacksmith shop, passed into the hands of Jim Farrington. The consideration was not made public.

The firm was founded by Mr. Crocker and a partner in 1892, and has been in continuous operation since that time. From 1892 until 1904 Mr. Crocker had a partner, but in 1904 purchased his interest and in 1904 operated it himself.

After a rest, which will include a hunting trip, Mr. Crocker plans on opening a gun repair and sporting goods shop — however he may delay this venture until such items become more plentiful on the market.

Mr. Crocker says he has enjoyed generous patronage throughout the 53 years of his business operations here, and is duly appreciative of this fact — therefore plans on the sporting goods venture in the future.

Celling Prices On Used Goods
Even in sales from consumer-to-consumer, certain used goods still greatly in demand are under strict price control, the O. P. A. said today.

Specific dollars-and-cents ceilings are set on used refrigerators, washing machines, gas ranges, metal bed springs, vacuum cleaners, cameras and typewriters. Ceilings vary with the year, model and condition, and it is the responsibility of the householder or individual selling such an article to charge no more than the ceiling price. Ceiling prices may be obtained from price clerks of local War Price and Rationing Boards.

Tonsillectomy
Marion Souders, Southwick, underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils in Dr. Christensen's office Wednesday morning.

Double Feature Scheduled

This week's offering at the local theatre will be a double feature. The first of these stars Roy Rogers, Gabby Hayes and Sunset Carson in "Bells of Rosarita," a western.

The second offering is entitled "Rookies On Parade" and has as its stars Bob Crosby, Ruth Terry and Gertrude Niesen. It is just what its name, "Rookies On Parade" implies - plus plenty of fun.

The usual news and cartoon will complete the entertainments.

Is there a better recreation than swimming? Many doctor's say "No." So let's raise the money for that Living War Memorial Swimming Pool with a rush!

I'm the guy who looked at you from a U.S.O. poster some time ago. I'm the guy for whom you and millions of others gave and gave so generously. I'd like to tell you what was done with your money.

The money you gave last year helped give the boys the tonic of entertainment...personal appearances by the world's leading radio and motion picture stars - talented men...and by lovely women in remote places where just the sight of a feminine face is enough to make up for weeks and months of loneliness and isolation.

Your dollars made possible the U.S.O. - in addition to many other great services at home and abroad - 2,500 U.S.O. clubs and U.S.O. Camp Shows.

The job is bigger this year...much bigger. Won't you be bigger than ever this year, too, and give generously?

A jobber, vacationing in the country, asked a local farmer one day what he would do with his enormous peach crop.

"Well," replied the farmer, "we eat what we can, and what we can't eat, we can."

"We do the same thing, brother," replied the jobber, "we sell what we can sell and what we can't sell, we cancel."

Our country's in a good shape. (Go on my friends and grin!) Our country's in a good shape. So long as we can sit around and raise hell About what a bad shape it's in!

MORE ABOUT ARMED FORCES

Ga., as an instructor — so having taken part in one of the toughest campaigns, as well as the monotony of camp life he really feels he understands what makes a G. I. tick, and tries his best to speed the fellows on their way home.

Mr. Blewett said that on his way here he met his brother, Lt. Rex Blewett, at Portland and Rex told him he expected to leave soon for duty in the army of occupation in Japan.

Pvt. George S. (Bud) Magee, arrived home Friday of last week to spend a 15-day furlough at his home here with his wife and family. Bud, who has been stationed at Camp Wolters, Texas, has just completed his training, so isn't too sure just where he may be sent next — but thinks he is probably destined to "help sit on the emperors fence" at Tokyo.

Sgt. Ernest Schwarz returned on Monday from Fort Douglas, Utah, bringing with him his "sheepskin," as honorable discharge papers are known in G. I. language.

Ernest, who saw 26 months of service in the E. T. O., wears the battle stars of six major campaigns, the Presidential Unit Citation, Good Conduct, etc. With the 9th Armored Division he saw plenty of action, and says that he is mighty glad that it is all over and the old farm is going to look mighty good to him.

He went on to say that the Battle of the Bulge was his unit's toughest, and that the critical shortage of artillery shells, bombs and heavy machine gun ammunition told in the papers was correct — the shortage really did exist and plenty of worrying over that condition resulted. It was during this time that the newscasts to which they listened, as well as the papers reaching them told of strikes here and strikes there, in steel mills and transportation systems, strikes that were cutting into that vitally needed ammunition — and these raised a feeling of bitterness among the troops that time can never erase.

Ernest said that had any so-called union organizer shown up in that area, as they did in some, he would have hated to have had to answer for what might have happened to him.

Ernest also said that the men in his unit did not feel that they had gotten a square deal on the election ballots, since some were allowed to vote state absentee ballots and some were forced to vote the so-called "hob-tailed" or federal ballot — nor did they feel the election results were as they should have been. For one thing, the men were not allowed to "talk politics" in their barracks or while in the assembled unit which didn't seem to them quite the American way of doing things.

The so-called "Work or Fight" bill produced some real laughs in his outfit, especially when the going was the toughest, for it was then strikes were the thickest, and the boys believed the bill was just a dose of "G. I. soothing syrup," for it apparently meant nothing.

However, all that is now past, and Ernest is looking forward to re-summing farming operations with his brothers on Potlatch ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyons, Sonwick, have received word from their son, T/Sgt. Clem Lyons, not to write any more and to cancel his Gazette, as he was soon to be headed home. Clem has had over three years service in the Pacific, so un-
