IDAHO WAR FUND DRIVE TO BEGIN ON MONDAY

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 28 — More than 2,000 Idaho citizens will take part in the final War Fund appeal, Earl A. Olson, assistant state War Fund director, estimates. "Organization is complete and we believe that Idaho, with its quota of $380,000 will again be the first state in the nation to make payment in full to the National War Fund," he said.

The state campaign, which starts Monday, is headed by C. J. Strike, Boise, president of Idaho War Fund, Inc., Olson, and six vice-chairmen: Ralph S. Nelson, Coeur d'Alene, district one; L. L. Gray, Nampa, district two; C. J. Westcott, Boise, district three; Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls, district four; Ralph Comstock, Jr., Pocatello, district five; E. F. McDermott, Idaho Falls, district six.

Lawrence E. Huff, Moscow, is chairman of the Latah county drive committee. A local (Kendrick) chairman and precinct chairmen have yet to be announced.

This final drive is to raise money to finance War Fund agencies for another 15 months or until liquidation, Strike said. The agencies are needed now more than ever, but when this money is expended it is expected that widespread demobilization will have been accomplished and that suffering in the liberated countries will have been somewhat alleviated.

Nearly 2,000 American actors and entertainers operating in 278 units are now overseas providing professional entertainment for troops in the European and Pacific theatres of occupation under the auspices of the USO-Camp shows, participating service of the National War Fund.

In commenting on the need of War Fund foreign relief, Strike quoted President Truman: "Europe today is hungry. I am not talking about the Germans. I am talking about the people of the countries which were over-run and devastated by the Germans, and particularly about the people of western Europe. Many of them lack clothes and fuel and tools and shelter and raw materials. They lack the means to restore their cities. As the winter comes on, the distress will increase. Unless we do what we can to help, we may lose next winter what we won at such terrible cost last spring." The situation is as bad if not worse in China, Strike pointed out.

Commercial Club Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club will be held next Monday evening, October 8, the meeting to be preceded by a 6:30 dinner at Burt's Confectionery. The actual business session will be held at the city hall about 7:30 o'clock.

At this meeting reports will be made on the Living War Memorial Swimming Pool drive, and a discussion of associated matters.

Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend. These meetings are open to the general public at all times.

J. G. Travis will be the "Rounder-upper" for the dinner.

SWIM POOL FUND DRIVE MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Donation toward this area's Living War Memorial Swimming Pool Fund are coming in steadily, former residents as well as present ones approving of the project by way of donations as well as accompanying letters of commendation.

The list of donors this week is as follows:

- John Halsey, Tacoma, Wn., $3.00
- Lewiston Grain Growers, 100.00
- Wade T. Keene, 15.00
- Elliott E. Fomer, 2.50
- Ernestine Kuykendall, 2.50
- Lewis B. (Tom) Keene, 15.00
- Frank Procker, 10.00
- Edie Galloway, 25.00
- Joe Piper, Lenore, Idaho, 10.00
- R. H. Ramey, 25.00
- Andy Cox, 50.00

Total $258.00

John Halsey says in his letter: "Enclosed please find $5.00 for which please continue our subscription to the Gazette for another year, the remainder to be applied to the area 'War Memorial Swimming Pool.' All success to that project."

A. O. Kanikkeberg, drive chairman says he feels that excellent progress is being made toward the collection for this project, and that the letters of commendation and donations from former residents is aiding greatly in this worthwhile movement.

As yet no personal calls have been made by committees, since rains have delayed bean harvest, and the biggest percentage of farmers are up to their ears in work. However, such calls will soon be made.

Rationing News

Service men leaving the armed forces may obtain shoe ration stamps from any local War Price and Rationing board, OPA states. Up to now, many veterans have been required to apply to their home boards for the two shoe stamps to which they are entitled.

Large-size sugar coupons R-1209 and R-330 are to be taken out of circulation and will not be good for use by consumers after Oct. 5. The sugar coupons affected were issued principally for furlough and illness rations. Dealers who do not have a ration bank account may not use the large size coupons after October 15, and after October 25 they can no longer be deposited. Sugar Stamp No. 38, the regular stamp in War Ration Book Four, now in use, is not affected by the action.

Red Stamps — Housewives will receive 50 red points for meats and fats this month, as before, as red stamps R1, S1, T1, U1 and V1, each worth 10 points, were validated on October 1. Red stamps V2 through Z2, expired September 30.

Lower grades of beef, consisting of utility, canner and cutter grades, and utility and cull grades of veal and lamb, together with sausages and other products in which these meats are the principal ingredients, will be point free from now until October 27, Hamburger, and all cuts of all grades of meat listed on the official consumer point chart under "other cuts" — such as short ribs, brisket and flank meat, are point free. All pork cuts, bacon, and other cured meats, the choice cuts of beef, veal and lamb — grades A, A and B, as well as fats, oils and dairy products will remain at their present point values. Canned fish are reduced two and three points a pound, depending on species.

New Fish Truck In Operation

The largest fish truck the Idaho fish and game department has operated was completed this week and started on its job of delivering trout from hatcheries to streams and lakes. It has a capacity of 1,000 gallons in comparison with the 600-gallon capacity of each of the two largest tank trucks that the department has been, and is still using, to distribute upwards of 20 million game fish every year.

The truck will soon be sent to northern Idaho where it will plant fish from several hatcheries.

The tank was constructed of steel by a Boise firm and mounted on a truck chassis. The tank has two inches of insulation to maintain an even temperature. It is equipped with two aerating motors — one a spare in case the first does not work properly while fish are aboard.

Not only does the big truck haul more fish at each load, but it can make longer trips without interruption. It has a 100-gallon gasoline tank. That amount of fuel will permit a trip from Boise to Sandpoint and back without a service stop.

Improvements In Store

Floyd's Table Supply has just completed the installation of a new section of shelves at the rear of the store for the display of cereals and like foods.

The new shelves are painted white and add materially to the interior appearance as well as utility.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

Cpl. Thomas Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weber, Juliaetta, arrived home on Monday of last week from the army separation center at Fort Douglas, Utah, bringing with him his honorable discharge papers, following almost four years of service in the Africa-Italy and E. T. O. theatres of operation.

Cpl. Weber, who was a member of the famous Third division, landed with his artillery unit in Africa on Christmas Eve of 1942, and from that point on saw action — and lots of it! Cpl. Weber's first big scrap came when he took part in the Battle of Kasserine Pass, one which might have turned out disastrously for the Yanks had it not been for Montgomery's famed British Eighth, which attacked the German flank and gave the Americans a chance to reorganize.

Cpl. Weber went on through the African campaign, and following its successful conclusion, took part in the landings on Sicily. At the end of that campaign his unit went on and was a part of the original landing party in southern Italy. After the establishing of a firm beachhead in that area, the unit was again withdrawn and he was a member of the units making the original landing on the Anzio beachhead — an operation which was in doubt for some time, but which in the end turned out very successfully. Cpl. Weber admits that all the action he had seen up to that time "was plenty rugged," but the Anzio beachhead with its hell of shellfire was the worst — and so far as he was concerned, remains that way, for the bitter fighting for that tiny bit of Italian soil lasted 154 days.

After the break-through at Anzio and the March on Rome had been brought to a successful conclusion his unit was given a short rest and then went on to take part in the original landings in southern France. At about this time Cpl. Weber was transferred from the artillery to the medical corps, and found his work greatly changed — but the fighting and going just as rugged. After the initial break-through in southern France they went on into Germany where his outfit took part in one of the most vicious of all E. T. O. battles — the Battle of the Colmar Pocket. From this point on they still saw plenty of action, but not the heavy fighting of previous engagements. At the conclusion of the war they were in Salzburg, Austria, from which point they began their long journey home.

Cpl. Weber wears five "hash marks" on his left sleeve, denoting 33 months of overseas service. He also wears the stars of eight major campaigns and battles, the Good Conduct Medal, etc.

Thomas says he is mighty glad to be home again. He has no immediate plans for the future, and is content just now to rest and enjoy home food and all the other things that go with it.

Cpl. Tommy Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emulus Brown, arrived home Sunday to spend a 50-day convalescent and rest leave at his home here. For the last several months Tommy has been stationed at the convalescent hospital at Fort Lewis, Wash., and says that he is feeling much better as time goes on. He says hospitals are just O. K. when you're really knocked out, but home is the place as you get to feeling better. He says he may go on down to Portland to visit his father at a later date — but for now it's home.

Seelman Field, La., 26 Sept. '45

Dear Mac and Bill: Just a few lines to give you another new address. I landed back here at Seelman Field again. Caribaid is closing, so they had to get rid of us. They have a navigator's pool here, so I believe I will probably stick it out here till they send us home.

It is quite warm and damp here now. I believe I like the desert heat better than the Louisiana dew. I see by the last Gazette that Don Benscoter is home — and here I thought he was going to be a 30-year man.

I surely appreciate getting the paper and hate to miss any more copies than necessary. Thanks to all for it.

Sincerely, — Ken. (Lt. Kenneth B. Woody).

Korea September 10, 1945

Dear Mac and Bill: I am writing you a few lines telling you that I haven't gotten the paper in a long while — but expect it to catch up with me when I quit prowling around.

I am now in Korea, as you can tell by the date line — and am partially settled and getting along fairly well with everything except the flies, and I hope that we will have them controlled in a little while.

It is a fairly pretty country over here. There are some trees like the ones back home. Saw some pretty good farming land, but not much of it.

The people over here live in classes. The higher class of people — or the ones living in the main part of the cities are well to do, but the lower classes live in little houses outside of town in what we would call slums. There are still a few Jap soldiers left on as guards and police. When we marched down the street of one town the Jap soldiers stood at attention, but turned their backs to us. They kept the people back from the street to let us go by. We didn't know the general attitude of the people toward us, but we think they like us better than the Japs. They gave us quite a cheery welcome when we entered the towns and cities.

I think it will be a pretty fair deal over here after we get settled down. So far nothing has happened but a man shooting himself in the foot. Some of the fellows are learning the Korean children to say: "Huba-huba." Almost all the civilians on Okinawa learned the words.

The weather here is a little different from Okinawa. It gets chilly during the night and warms up through the day. The first night we were here I came near freezing. We didn't have all of our equipment with us, so we didn't have much to sleep on or to put over us.

We rode a train about 20 miles the next day. It was the first train I had seen since we left Okinawa, Hawaii. That old train whistle sure sounded lonesome the first time I heard it. The trains here are fairly well built, but they are light. The engines are not nearly as large as ours.

All the cars here have the steering wheels on the right side. Sure does seem funny.

We aren't allowed to talk to the civilians unless it is official business — then we have to do most of the talking with hand signs. Well, Mac and Bill, I'll close for now. Be sure and send that paper. Sincerely

Frank Loeser. Note: Thanks a lot for the letter, Frank. We have been "firing away" regularly at your last known address, and can only hope the missing issues will catch up with you soon. By the way, where did you acquire that Jap stationery? We have had several previous letters on Jap paper, but this is the finest grade we have seen so far.

Tokyo Bay August 31, 1945

Dear Mac and Bill: A few lines to let you know where your War Bonds and Defense Work have put us. My being here seems ample proof of America's fighting spirit. From the crippling defeat suffered at Pearl Harbor to the final and ultimate victory here at Tokyo shows the world what you people can do and put out.

I haven't gotten to see very much as yet, but the first look gave the impression of more to follow. Far as I know the surrender documents will be signed aboard the battleship Missouri day after tomorrow. I guess we can all breathe easier when that's finished.

The paper has been making swell time despite the thousands of miles. I hope in the near future, it will only have a matter of a few blocks to travel. In the meantime I want to thank all concerned for it.

As ever Louis Hunt Sperry U. S. S. Chas. S. Chas. 2/c

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Benscoter have received a very interesting letter from their son, Ray, and have kindly allowed us excerpts from it:

Leyte Gulf Sept. 16, Sunday

Dear Mom and Dad: Got into port this morning and finally got some mail. It was the first mail in nearly a month. Since they took off censoring I can tell a little more than usual so I start at the beginning. I read in Don's letter how exciting it was listening to the official announcement that the war was over. I expect it was — but I doubt if they felt as exulted and relieved as these guys out here. To top it all off we were preparing to take on assault troops the next day. We were in Saipan when the great event took place and the first we knew about it our ship opened up with three dots and a dash on the whistle. I knew what it was the moment I heard it and in a minute every ship in the harbor was following suit. I don't mind telling you I had goose pimples all over. Some of the guys yelled, others laughed and even more than a few had tears in their eyes, cheering as loud as their throats. From Saipan we then dashed up to Cebu for, yes, occupation troops. As yet the great document hadn't been signed on the battle wagon Missouri and we had all occupation troops that were equipped for immediate combat. On September 2nd we were well on our way to Tokyo Bay. When the Japs got a good look at Halsey's Third Fleet I'll bet they wondered: "What in hell were we fighting for." We steamed right in through it, and I never saw such a conglomeration of battleships, cruisers, carriers and destroyers in all my life. It was really awe-inspiring. We sailed past a captured Nip battle wagon that looked a lot different than ours, but was undoubtedly a good ship, and then the Japs greatest naval base, Yokosuka. That evening we pulled into a dock at Yokohama, disembarked troops and Frankie got his visit and mine too — I got my feet on the Jap-ness mainland, in fact, spent all night on the pier, taking care of the vehicles as they came out of the hold. The next morning I got my first look at the Nipon populace, and though I never thought I'd actually see it, many of them were down on the dock, all with white arm bands, going through the trash piles for something to eat. There were quite a number of biscuits from K-rations that we had thrown away and they didn't care how dirty they were, what they couldn't eat they carried away. It was really sickening

Bean Harvest Going Good Bright, warm, sunny days and cool, crisp nights are permitting the local farmers to get their bean harvest well under way again.

Quite a bit of dew at night, has kept operations from beginning until about 11:00 in the morning, but from that hour until absolute darkness combines and threshers can be seen gathering in the beans.

It is reported that some discoloration has developed as a result of the severe wetting, but on the whole the crop can still be said to be of a fine quality.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of the crop is still out-doors, and a couple of weeks more will be required to finish it up. Let's all hope the weather stays good. Many thousands of dollars as well as a large quantity of vital food is represented by those bean rows.

If he can, you can!

WAR HAS BROUGHT some pretty grim sights to a doughboy's eyes. But some of the worst have not been in battle.

There's been the look of hunger in a little girl's face watching you eat a second helping of hash. The silent look of youngsters lined up at a garbage can waiting for refuse from your mess kit. The sight of thousands of "displaced persons", hungry and ragged, wandering the world over.

And the doughboy knows that his fight for peace is not won—while there are everywhere hunger and disease and desperation.

Emergencies arise quickly and call for medicine, clothing and shelter (500,000 destitute war orphans are roaming the countryside of Yugoslavia alone.)

That's why the allied relief societies — which your money supports through your Idaho War Fund—are so important.

And our G.I. knows that help that comes from the pockets and hearts of Americans is doing more than we know to bind up the wounds of war, and restore faith in the future. And without this faith there can be no peace—for the world, or for us.

You give only once a year to all the great causes combined in your Idaho War Fund, which, in turn, supports all the 19 agencies of the National War Fund. This year, make your gift bigger than ever before.

This Is the Final Appeal—Be Generous in Victory

LUMBER FOR HOME BUILDING NOW ON THE MOVE

Early relief for the home-building market, long starved of lumber by military necessity, is seen by Henry Bahr, director of economic and statistical services, National Lumber Manufacturers association. More than 80 per cent of current lumber production, he reports, is now moving freely into civilian channels.

Since the current rate of lumber production, while substantially lower than peak war-time levels, is about 20 per cent above the pre-war rate, the present rate of civilian supply is at least as great as in the pre-war period.

Of course, the pipeline must be pumped full again. Stocks at retail yards are at an all-time low as a result of diversion to military uses, and a substantial part of production during the net 60 or 90 days will be needed to restore minimum working inventories. It is not probable that stocks will reach pre-war levels in the near future, but lumber is now beginning to move to consumers in substantial volume and should be adequate to meet immediate construction requirements.

Available manpower is inadequate and governmental restrictions are retarding production in some areas. OPA, for example, refuses to make price adjustments as long as 75 per cent of an industry is breaking even or making a profit. In lumber, many of the marginal operators, representing the other 25 per cent, have been closing, and more may be expected to close.

While the labor supply situation is improving slightly, the gradual return to a 40-hour week, at the insistence of the unions in the west, probably will prevent any increase in production. In the final analysis, ceiling price limitations and curtailments of hours will probably mean further declines, but it is anticipated that total production will remain above the pre-war rate during the coming twelve months.

Throw Old Coupons Away

With the end of gasoline and fuel oil rationing, all rationing coupons and certificates for these products held by the trade or consumers, became valueless and may be disposed of, OPA said today.

The gasoline ration coupons are not needed to obtain a certificate nor will their possession aid in obtaining one.

Dealers, distributors and suppliers of gasoline and fuel oil need not retain records that were required by rationing order unless the same records are required by some other regulation, order or law.

How About "Booby-Traps"?

Is there a little "booby-trap" lurking in your home? That was the question Col. A. V. Dishman, ordnance officer for the Ninth Service Command, asks hundreds of persons in the west who unsuspectingly may have "sudden death" — ammunition souvenirs — in their homes today. The army ordnance officer, an ammunition expert, warned owners of grenades, shells, fuses and other war-time items that it is impossible to determine by external examination if "sudden death or painful injury" lurks inside the souvenirs. Disassembly of such articles by inexperienced persons is extremely hazardous, he added.

Although the post office has done an excellent job of detecting such dangerous items through scientific methods, a number of servicemen are returning daily from overseas with improperly inerted "loot" in their baggage, Col. Dishman says. Even though the main charge has been removed, he said, the explosive contained in a fuse or cap is sufficient to cause loss of fingers, a hand or eye, if discharged.

Only souvenirs accompanied by an army certificate can be presumed to be safe, he warned.

Persons in doubt of the safety of a war souvenir may arrange to have them examined by an expert munition officer by contacting the commanding officer of any army post. These classified as "sudden death" will be inerted and returned to the owner. However, those discovered to be too dangerous to be unloaded will be retained and taken to a safe place and destroyed.

Fats And Oils Critically Short

"The next six months will be the most critical we have yet experienced in fats and oils supplies." This statement was made today by E. M. Wilson of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. "Fat salvage is urgent, and our work in this program is more important now than before."

In asking continued help in spite of the Japs defeat in the Pacific, increased fat salvage is seen as the aid to meeting the ever-mounting needs. Although the scarcity of fats and oils has been one of the most serious problems confronting our nation, it is one shortage which the women of America can help to overcome.

Recent reports indicate there is little hope of an immediate major improvement in the domestic supply of inedible fats, and we cannot expect a rapid increase of imported oils from the Pacific.

For every pound of used fats turned in, housewives will continue to receive up to 4c in cash and two red ration points. Above all, keep the supply of used fats coming to your retail meat dealer. It's still important.

ODT Appeals For Conservation

In an appeal to passenger car owners to conserve their automobiles, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the ODT, warned that it will be at least three years before many millions of private car owners and prospective car owners who want new automobiles will be able to get them. Col. Johnson said this fact "has not been generally realized in the first rosy flash of enthusiasm over the limited resumption of passenger car production." Although it is expected that 240,000 passenger cars will be built this year, that number will replace less than one per cent of the nation's automobiles. "None of the cars produced in the near future will go to the average driver," he added. "They'll go instead to the most essential drivers — doctors, police, taxi drivers, war workers and others. And they will be short, yes, far short — of meeting the needs in these fields."

Pointing out that the foundation of a good recapped tire is a good casing, ODT outlined rules for the care of the casing before and after recapping. Proper care of the original casing is very important because the production of complete casings is the real bottleneck in the flow of tires to users. The rubber tread of a tire does not add greatly to the strength of the casing, but does cushion the fabric against damage from minor irregularities in the road. Tires that have not been abused by overloading, over-spreading due to low air pressure, or damaged by running over curbs or sharp obstacles in the road, will be suitable for recapping.

No permit is required to have a tire recapped, and it should be done when the tread begins to run smooth rather than waiting until the cords or breaker strips make their appearance.

Ration Boards To Consolidate

With fuel oil, gasoline and processed foods off rationing — and other commodities slated to go as soon as supplies permit — consolidation of local War Price and Ration boards now is underway under government orders. Harvey Guertin, district director of the OPA states.

But as rationing tapers off, increased emphasis is swinging to rent and price control and their strict enforcement, in an intensive effort to prevent the inflation which followed World War I.

As rationing now stands, most applications and issuance of certificates, books and coupons can be handled by mail, saving both consumers and boards time and effort.

The board consolidations have the general approval of merchants and citizens of the board areas, all of which will be represented on the enlarged panel section being set up to give increased service to consumers and merchants as inflationary pressures multiply.

Meatier Chicken Is Goal

America's $2,000,000,000 poultry industry has been challenged by 14 of its national leaders to produce a fast-growing, better meat-type chicken to help retain the markets poultrymen have won during the current meat shortage.

A 48-state contest to develop a broad-breasted chicken — comparable to the popular broad-breasted turkey, has been announced by D. D. Slade, secretary of the International Baby Chick association of Lexington, Ky., who was elected as chairman of a supervisory committee to formulate plans for the contest.

Consisting of representatives of all major poultry associations and key poultrymen of the U. S. D. A., the committee has been asked to draw up specifications for an ideal meat-type bird and to supervise distribution of $8,000 in awards which have been posted to encourage the poultry industry to place increased emphasis on the production of a better meat chicken to insure greater profits for poultrymen and finer poultry for the consumers' dinner table.

The program is designed to help crystallize thinking among all poultry breeders from the large hatcheryman to the owner of a small backyard flock, on a chicken with an abundance of carvings. Up to this time poultry meat has been mainly a by-product of egg production. The committee will set standards for a bird which will have a greater proportion of meat to bony structure, larger proportion of white to dark meat and a broader breast well filled with flesh. The bird must mature rapidly and the breeding stock must maintain high egg production.

From the poultryman's angle a broad-breasted chicken should mean more economical growth — more meat per pound of feed eaten, which has a lot to do with profits.

Mrs. Bricker, a returned missionary from Peru, who will be telling the intensely interesting story of her experiences on Tuesday night, October 9, at the Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene. Everyone is welcome. Time, 8:00 p. m.

WATCH OUT, MISTER...THOSE THINGS BOUNCE!

You may find this hard to believe, but it's a fact: That burning cigarette stub you flick away may cost you some money... and delay the building of your new home... and take some of the food right off your table. In addition, it can waste and destroy your own beautiful countryside... and rob your neighbors of food and shelter.

The careless smoker is not a criminal, by any means. Nor is a carefree family picnic ever planned as sabotage. Yet it's good people—and perfectly innocent outings in the woods—that cause endless forest fires.

During the next 24 hours, America will have to fight 575 such fires. During 1945, our charred, smoking woodlands will lose enough timber to build 215,000 five-room homes. Out of your pocket, somehow or other, must come money to help pay for 1,000,000 man-days of labor needed to fight those fires. This year's crop of blazes will destroy still more grass... kill still more beef and mutton on the hoof... and ruin still more land where food and shelter grow.

Do you want to help? Just remember these rules: (1) CRUSH OUT each cigarette; (2) BREAK each match in two... and pinch it dead; (3) DROWN your campfire... and stir and soak the ashes; (4) CHECK UP on the law, and the laws of common sense, before you build any fire outdoors.

Forest fires were shocking sabotage in war... they are criminal waste in peace.

Peace brings increased civilian demands for plastics, building materials, and shipping containers... and that means more PULPWOOD must be cut. It's still on the urgent list. Pulpwood is a profitable cash crop still needed badly at home and overseas.

Kendrick May Get Air Marker Following the recent announcement by the Civil Air patrol that it has secured the aid of General Petroleum corporation in initiating an air marker program in the far western states, a list of critical points has been compiled by General survey. Kendrick is named as one of the points at which the company is prepared to commence work immediately on an official marker. According to E. M. Dammarell, Mobilgas distributor in this area, General's storage tanks and warehouse, located at Kendrick may be used as a base for the markings unless the C. A. P. survey shows that another location would be more desirable from the standpoint of visibility from the air. Dammarell explained that official markers would carry the name of the place, its latitude and longitude in degrees and minutes, and if space permits, an arrow enclosing the name of the nearest hard-surfaced runway airport with the number of miles at the head of the arrow. The marking should be legible under good visibility conditions from a height of at least 3,000 feet.

New Radio Program Coming International Harvester Co. offers what may be considered a new concept in radio entertainment in its "Harvest of Stars," which goes on the air over all NBC stations for a half hour broadcast at 2:00 p. m., eastern time, Sunday, October 7th, and regularly thereafter. Woven in a dramatic and musically colorful pattern are the people, the place and events that are America, under the talented hand of Raymond Massey, in the dual role of narrator and actor. With him will be noted Howard Barlow as conductor of the 70-piece International Harvester orchestra. A choir of 20 mixed voices under the direction of Lynn Murray, will lend vocal support to the production. Jan Pearce, noted tenor of opera and radio, will be the first guest star on this program. Resigns As Janitor "Hank" Emery, faithful custodian of school property and janitor for the past 12 years, resigned his post the first of this month. He will spend the next few weeks at the Arne Kloster home, and then go to Clarkston for the winter. His place has been taken by Harry Baker.

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

DO YOU KEEP THAT REFRIGERATOR STOCKED?

Is your refrigerator well stocked with Potlatch Chief Dairy Products?

— Such as Potlatch Chief butter, so rich in color and flavor, and so delicious on hot buns, rolls or hot cakes?

— Do you have plenty of Potlatch Chief ice cream in your ice box? For that unexpected company it is ready to serve and always makes a "hit" with everyone.

— Do you have an ample supply of Potlatch Chief pasteurized milk on hand? There is not a healthier food on the market, or one so refreshing.

— How about some Potlatch Chief whipping cream for that green apple pie or up-side-down cake you are having for dinner? Just a few short weeks ago it was impossible to buy, but now you can have all you want. Why not fill the family up on whipping cream, for an extra special treat?

Mrs. Margaret Cox.

Lt. and Mrs. Rex Blewett of Camp Adair, Oregon, arrived in town Sunday night to spend a brief furlough here with his brother, R. L. Blewett. The Blewetts were at the Gifford ranch, however, so Rex and wife left for that point Monday.

Pfc. and Mrs. Donald Christensen came to Kendrick Friday for a brief visit with friends. Don has been overseas with the 30th infantry for some months. His unit saw action in France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Czechoslovakia — having taken part in three major campaigns. He is now home on a 45-day furlough.

Pfc. Christensen wears the stars of five major battles — Rhineland, Ardennes, Central Europe, Germany and Eastern Rhine. During these battles he was wounded twice—both times on his hands.

He does not expect to again be sent overseas as he has amassed a total of 65 points. Anyway, he is mighty glad to still be alive — and very happy to again be with his folks.

Dear Mac and Bill:

Another change of address — another note. That seems to be the way it goes in my case. We left the Great Lakes naval training station in somewhat of a hurry. They gave us exactly 20 minutes to lash gear, get into "blues" and catch a N. A. T. S. plane for the west coast. A draft of about 75 men all came out in two brand new army transport planes. We came via Los Angeles and Oakland, dropping men off at various discharge centers along the coast. As it happened, I was at Great Lakes for exactly three weeks.

This navy yard is a much bigger place than I'd imagined. They're shipping men in for discharge a great deal faster than they can be handled. I'm on a night shift from 4:00 p. m. until midnight, and work seven nights a week.

If anyone from Kendrick is here, I'd certainly like to look them up. I'll probably be here anywhere from a year to 18 months.

Being close to home doesn't make the paper a bit less welcome. Thanks again to all responsible.

Sincerely
Bill Davidson

Note: Sorry, Bill, but no other local fellows are at Bremerton. However, Robert (Bob) Fraser is stationed at the Sandpoint Naval Air station, Seattle, and Pvt. Ike Shore in the 3789th Q. M. truck company at Fort Lawton. They are the closest.

Receive Son's Commendation
On Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farrington received the following, which is self explanatory:

From: The Commanding General.
To: Cpl. Everett Louis Farrington, U. S. Marine Corps.

Via: (1) The commanding officer, First Amphibian Tractor Battalion.
Subject: Commendation.

1. The commanding general, First Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, takes pleasure in commending you for meritorious and efficient performance of duty in action against enemy Japanese forces on Okinawa, Ryukyu Islands.

2. During the period 1 April to 6 June, 1945, while serving with the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion, as a welder, you performed your duties in an outstanding manner. You assisted the battalion surgeon and the battalion maintenance officer in the conversion of an amphibian tractor into a covered moving aid station, and the installation of racks in other tractors to accommodate additional casualties. Your skilled work and unflagging interest contributed greatly to the success of these tractors which led to a speedier and more efficient handling of casualties during the operation. Your conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

but after some of the things you have seen them do you can't feel the least bit of pity.

Before we pulled into the dock we dropped the hook opposite the Yokahama industrial area, the biggest in Japan. The B-29s certainly found their mark. The factories weren't leveled — just immense skeletons, the result of incendiaries. For all of me I think it would be best if the whole island was the same way, but I guess that isn't America's way.

There are still many Jap fanatics around and the night we were there a sailor was killed on the dock. For that reason we couldn't get off the pier and so no souvenirs. Much to my disgust.

We are now back at Leyte awaiting further orders. I will write more in a couple of days but am going to sign off now as I have a headache and will have to get some sleep.

Lots of love
— Ray.

P. S. Tell everyone hello for me as it seems like they tell you to tell me hello! Figure that one out.

What the people heard over the radio about the Goshen being one of the transports entering Sagami bay was, of course, correct. Several of the guys relatives heard it and of course wrote telling of it. We joined the convoy in the Philippines, being ahead of most of the other A. P.s and P. A.s, as you know Guam is only 90 miles from Saipan. Note: Ray is aboard the U. S. S. "Goshen," a transport.

Cpl. Dale Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, leaves today (Thursday) to report back to his outfit at the Muroc Army Air Field, Muroc, Calif. He does not expect to stay there very long, as they are closing that field. Just where he will be sent he does not know, but doesn't expect to go overseas, as he has now had over three years of service — but says he wouldn't mind getting a look at Japan.

From Mrs. Paul S. Cox (nee Margaret Halseh) comes a more or less personal letter to the Gazette. However, we have taken the liberty of using excerpts from it:

I am glad to see so many are getting home and are well. Both my brothers are home and it's surely swell.

I have seen Arnold and Helen the past two weeks. They have visited us and we have had some swell times. Ervin was here also before going home and being discharged.

I'm very glad to see Kendrick is active in erecting a Living Memorial to the Veterans of World War No. 2. I think a swimming pool is about the best form of amusement for young and old — especially the children. It's nice for them to learn to swim.
Thank you all so very much for

Dear McCrearys:
It is about time I wrote to you to thank you and those who helped make it possible for me in the service to receive the home-town paper. It is deeply appreciated by all of us,
I assure you.
I also wish to let you know that I am getting my discharge as soon as I get to the good old U. S. A., and hope to be home to stay before November 15. So, please do not send the paper to me anymore, as it will never catch up with me.
Again, thanks a million to all for the paper.
Sincerely
