To Put Cinders On Path

Today (Thursday, Oct. 11) has been set as the time for the distributing of cinders on the school house-hill path, and all local business men are asked to assemble at the depot at that hour, armed with shovels, garden rakes and pitchforks as tools to do this work.

Cinders must be loaded on the trucks at the depot. Some growth must be cut from the trail and all rocks of any size removed.

Ross Armitage has been asked to bring a group of high school boys to assist. If we all turn out this job won't take long.

Come on — let's go!

FOURTEEN ATTEND COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

With quite a number of local business men out in the hills in search of big game but fourteen were present at the Commercial Club meeting held Monday evening of this week.

The members gathered at 6:30 at Burt's Confectionery for a steak dinner, proceeding from there to the City hall for the regular business session.

In the absence of Geo. Brocke, chairman, Frank G. Harris presided, and W. L. McCreary acted as secretary in the absence of Floyd Millard.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting and the allowance of bills, committee reports were called for.

Marvin Long of the Fish & Game committee reported that the new fish transportation truck described in a previous issue was in town one day last week on its way to Elk creek, a tributary of Elk River, with 10,000 3 to 5 inch trout. Fish of this size, he said, would be a doubt survive.

All were in excellent condition when the truck stopped here. In speaking of the game he reported, and all who have hunted agree with him, that there are no Chinese pheasants in this area in any numbers, despite the unusually large number planted. He believes that a disease, poison or perhaps worms has accounted for them, as many farmers have reported finding dead birds around their property.

He asks that anyone finding such a bird (provided not in a decomposed state) please bring it to him. He will send it to W. S. C. to determine the reason for death. Also, he asks hunters who may kill a diseased or wormy bird to bring it to him for the same purpose. Marvin also stated that an inspection of fish at Atwater lake has shown they have grown but little in the past year — and their size should have been twice that of the previous inspection. He is asking an investigation by fish department men.

Roy Glenn, of Texas ridge, bore out all of Mr. Long's statements regarding the chinks. He says there just aren't any birds left on that ridge in comparison to the former numbers. He believes coyotes may be responsible to some extent, as there are very numerous, but other causes must have contributed.

Bearing out Mr. Glenn's remarks Marvin announced that the payment of coyote bounty ceased September 30 — but that the results obtained through its payment had been good.

F. G. Harris suggested writing the state Fish & Game department urging the construction of the proposed dam and recreation area above town. The dam being highly beneficial in keeping trash fish from the waters above it.

J. G. Travis of the Membership committee reported that a number of area farmers had expressed a desire to become club members, and would begin attending regularly as soon as ban harvest was over.

A. O. Kanikkeberg suggested that the club secretary write Compton I. White asking for a flood control measure report for this area, since such a move seems to be of vital importance.

A. O. Kanikkeberg, War Memorial Swimming Pool drive chairman reported that funds were coming in steadily for this project, and that as long as farmers were busy with bean harvest no committee calls would be made. He says he considers the progress made to date as "excellent."

In conjunction with the village today (Thursday, Oct. 11) at 3:30 p. m. was set as the time for the distribution of cinders on the school house hill trail. Roy Ramey reported a carload available.

There being no further business to come before the group, on motion it adjourned.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

Hugh McDowell Married
Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McDowell received a telegram from their son, Pfc. Hugh McDowell, stationed in England, telling of his marriage on September 20 to Miss May Mason, 60 Maidenhall Road, Luton Beds, England.
Congratulations, Hugh!

FM 3/c Walter C. McCall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCall, left Tuesday to report to San Diego, Calif., for permanent duty assignment, following a 30-day leave spent at his home here.

Walter has enlisted for regular navy service on a three-year "hitch" and says his time will be up on August 16th, 1948.

Walter called at the Gazette office just before leaving to express his thanks to all for the Gazette.

Leave For Camp Adair
Lt. and Mrs. Rex Blewett, who had spent a short furlough at their home here left Tuesday morning for Camp Adair, Oregon, where Rex has been stationed the past several months. He called at the Gazette office Monday to thank all for the paper, and said that shortly after their return to Camp Adair he expected to be transferred to Camp Pickett, Virginia — a prospect he does not particularly relish.

Brings Home Discharge
Lt. and Mrs. Wm. A. Deobald arrived home last Thursday afternoon from Louisiana — Bill bringing with him his honorable discharge papers from the A. A. P.

Bill, a veteran of 18 missions as pilot of a B-24 in the Italian theatre of operations, says his plans for the immediate future are incomplete, but he may enroll in the U. of I. at the beginning of the second semester in an effort to complete his interrupted education. In the meantime he is "piloting" a tractor on the farm of his father-in-law, Bob Draper.

Bill says the tractor is a good one and not bound by any particular runway lengths — but its take-off abilities are rather poor.

Home For Keeps
Cpl. Walter A. Sparber arrived home last Thursday afternoon from Camp Polk, Louisiana, where he has been stationed for the past several months — in fact, since his return from the Aleutians, where he was stationed for many months, and where he took place in the Battle of Attu, being with an anti-aircraft unit stationed on the beach on that island — a really rugged battle — in fact, it was conceded to be the most vicious of all the Pacific battles until Iwo Jima.

Walter brought with him his honorable discharge papers, and has been engaged since his return in cleaning up the Sparber home and buildings and getting ready for resumption of normal civilian life. He says that he expects his brother, Orville, home within the net few weeks — also with his discharge papers.

Brings Home Discharge
Cpl. Felix Holt arrived home early last week after nearly two years of service in the South Pacific and Pacific with the 14th Air Corps, as a ground crew member — and on his arrival home saw his little two-year-old daughter for the first time.

When he left for service his outfit was stationed in Mississippi, and the six-day furlough allotted did not give him any time to get home — and from then on, of course, there was no opportunity.

The unit of which Felix was a member was stationed first on New Guinea, and moved northward with the advancing and victorious American forces, his last battle station being on the former Jap island of Ie Shima, from which point he was relieved to go home.

Life at the various air bases, Felix said, varied greatly with the ability of the Japs in that particular section to strike back. On New Guinea the ground crew men lived in fox holes just the same, as every one else, and the regular nightly bombings by Jap planes broke up rest as added to the regular jungle discomforts. However, as they moved north things got better, their best station being in the Philippines, not too far from the city of Manila.

Here life was pretty good, as there were sufficient American planes and flying fields to keep the Japs well cleaned out of the air with the exception of an occasional stray which managed to slip through. Here he was privileged to visit the city of Manila three different times, and he says that the Japs did a very thorough job of destruction, not only on the old walled city, but in the new and modern one — beautiful buildings being senselessly and needlessly destroyed. If a building was of fireproof construction and wouldn't burn the Japs dynamited it. They also systematically destroyed water mains, sewers and power and telephone lines — and these services are just now coming back into use.

As a result the city was very dirty — and as a place to spend a furlough was not particularly appealing. Felix said he also visited several smaller towns in the area — some of these were clean and neat, others filthy.

Leaving the Manila area their final assignment was on the former Jap island of Ie Shima — and here again Felix said life was plenty rugged. They again lived in fox holes, and did their work in shifts in order that necessary rest could be obtained. They were rest close to plenty of Jap plane bases, and caught many bombing and strafing raids.

Also, the Japs were not particularly noted for their cleanliness, and their former camp grounds were filthy — and had to be cleaned up — as well as obliterating the marks of battle which were still raging on the island when his unit landed and began the servicing of planes — for they had to be kept flying. And here he got his first shot at a Jap (not in a plane), but didn't think he had much luck, as he had only a .45-calibre service pistol. At that, he found it considerably more exciting than hunting big game here at home.

In late August his outfit was relieved of duty, flown to Manila, where they underwent physical examinations. They were issued new clothes and spent a couple of weeks in rest camp before boarding a transport for home. On the way home Felix said he literally "swept" his way across the Pacific to Tacoma — for he was assigned to a deck sweeping detail — and boy, those transports have big decks and several of them!

At Fort Lewis they were again given physical examinations, turned in their tropical clothes and drew the regular winter and sun-tan uniforms, shoes, etc., and best of all, their discharge papers.

So it's home for keeps for Felix, and mighty glad he is to get here. He is back on the ranch again.

Felix said that while overseas he had several tame parrots, and even a couple of monkeys. The parrots were stolen by the natives — and the monkeys he was not allowed to bring home — so he brought back few souvenirs with him (money, and small items). He had several Jap rifles at various times, but either had to abandon them due to transportation space, or they were swiped.

Felix expressed his since thanks to all for the Gazette, which he received more or less regularly while in the service. He said that every copy was read from front to back not once, but twice, and that when he was through with it, it was passed on to other members of the unit, and read until it was completely worn out — even though the boys didn't know a soul mentioned in the columns — but at least, it was a "paper from the states" to them!

Sgt. Everett L. Fey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fey, arrived home last week from England, where he had spent the past two years as a ground crew mechanic on the Eighth Air Force — bringing home with him his "sheepskin" or honorable discharge papers. Enroute home he met his wife at Spokane, and both came home together.

Everett says that he hasn't anything in particular to report — it was the same old grind day after day — "keep 'em flying," and that when the air battle before, during and just after D-Day were taking place it was indeed a grind — and a few hours sleep was something to be treasured indeed — and remembered through the long hours following.

Sgt. Fey says England is all right if you like — but so far as he is concerned the English can keep it. The damp, cold weather, the fogs, the rain — and the English "lord and lady" systems just don't appeal to him. It's Idaho, with its hills and pines and bright sunshine for him from now on.

His plans for the future are rather indefinite, but for the time being at least, he is going to spend three or four weeks resting, visiting, fishing and hunting.

Fort Dix, N. J.
October 4, 1945

Dear Mac and Bill:
Well, I'm way up here at Fort Dix, N. J., still long ways from home, but it's still nice to be in the states after being overseas, even if it is this far from home.

I'm not doing much, a little office work helping out in trying to get the men's discharge papers ready as quick as possible.

It's sure cold around these joints now too, but a lot better than being in the hot south.

Well, this has been just a few lines to let you know where I am so I can get the home-town paper. I "sorta" miss good old Kendrick.

Eye now to all
Everett Neumann.

Bronze Star Posthumously Awarded

1 October, 1945

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Knight:

An additional bazooka team was attached to the leading rifle company and Private Knight volunteered to serve as a member of this team. Throughout the entire action Private Knight displayed superior qualities of courage and initiative, reflecting the highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

The decoration will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Ninth Service Command, Fort Douglas,

Sales Day Is Saturday

Kendrick's Annual Sales Day falls on Saturday of this week. On an inside page will be found the large announcement ad., and the prize list for the various displays of garden vegetables, beans, seeds and flowers. Owing to the lateness of the season, together with the long dry spell experienced during the past summer, not as many exhibits are expected, nor is the quality. However, if it came from the Potlatch section, we know it will be good.

The exhibits will be held in the Blewett Building, but if you desire to bring them in at any other time, tag them with your name and leave at White's Confectionery.

miles from here. Since we landed I haven't done much of anything but walk. Nine miles one day, eleven the next, twelve the next, six the next (which was today) and tomorrow's Sunday, so there's no hike, and I just finished walking two hours of guard, so its a damn good thing because my feet are killing me.

The Japs really get pampered around here. We have to be careful not to offend the little bastards. Sometimes I wonder who in hell won the war anyway. I guess it doesn't matter much, and anyway, my feet still hurt.

How do you like this fancy stationery. These people use the damndest things to write on. I don't know what these planks are for, because the Japs do have some pretty good kinds of paper lying around, but I thought this stuff was pretty tricky, don't you?

Well Mom, I'm awfully tired, so I think I'll sign off and hit the hay. Lots of love to you all. Sid and I are both feeling good, except that my feet hurt.

Note: The "tricky" stationery mentioned is nothing but very thin, smooth yellowish colored wood shavings. They are about four inches wide and 15 inches long. The wood is also tough and soft, as it was folded to go into the envelope.

Cpl. and Mrs. Donald Fraser of the Walla Walla army air base, and S/c Bob Fraser, Sandpoint Naval Air Station, Seattle, spent the week-end here in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fraser.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald have received word from their son, Charles who is now in Germany, to have his paper discontinued, as he is moving soon — and he believes that move in the direction of home!

Troy Defeats Kendrick

In the return game with Troy at Troy, Tuesday of this week, the Trojans took the measure of Kendrick 27-0. Everything went smoothly until the third quarter, when Troy broke loose for two touchdowns and converted on both tries for point.

The Tigers were tiring rapidly as they went into the fourth quarter, and during this time Troy made two more touchdowns, but failed in one try for point.

It was a rough game from start to finish, and several boys were limping after the game.

Our next game will be with the Lapwai Wildcats on Sales Day, Saturday, October 13, at 2:30, on the local field.

Bean Harvest Going Fine

Ideal weather has prevailed the past ten days for bean harvesting work, and farmers are certainly making the most of it. Owing to the heavy fall of dew at night, not much work can be done during the morning, so they work until total darkness each day. When morning comes Kendrick's side streets are lined with loaded bean trucks waiting to unload. Dealers say the quality of the beans threshed the past three days is excellent — rain having done but little, if any, damage.

Community Sing October 17

The G. S. C. S., under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Clarence Johnston, are sponsoring a pot-luck supper and community sing Wednesday evening, October 17, in the Community church.

Everyone interested is invited to come and bring a covered dish.

Injured In Hunting Accident

Albert Dorendorf, 47, Kellogg miner, is in the Orofino hospital at Orofino, as the result of a hunting accident.

Dorendorf was shot through the left shoulder about 9:00 Sunday morning while hunting on Indian mountain about 70 miles north of Pierce. The bullet was fired by either John Horth or Glen Schiller, both of Emmett, who mistook Dorendorf for an elk, they told officials at the Clearwater county sheriff's office. The accident occurred in a clear space on the mountain. The two were about 100 feet from Dorendorf when they fired, they told officials.

The Kellogg miner was given first aid by Dr. C. H. Bryan, Kamiah, hunting in the area, and later was carried about five miles by C. R. Mulch and Roy Burkhardt, also of Kellogg, and the two Emmett men. He was transferred to a pick-up which arrived at the Orofino hospital at 3:30 in the afternoon. His left arm and hand are paralyzed, although he is not in a critical condition, according to reports from hospital officials. — Lewiston Tribune.

Mr. Dorendorf is well known here, having resided in the Southwick area for many years before going to Kellogg a few years ago. His friends will indeed be sorry to learn of his misfortune.

Word received Wednesday morning states that Mr. Dorendorf passed away Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Dorendorf arrived from Kellogg when informed that her husband had been shot, and was at the bedside when death came. Other survivors include a daughter, 12, and two sons in the service, also several brothers and sisters. The body was taken to Kellogg Tuesday night.

When burning stubble

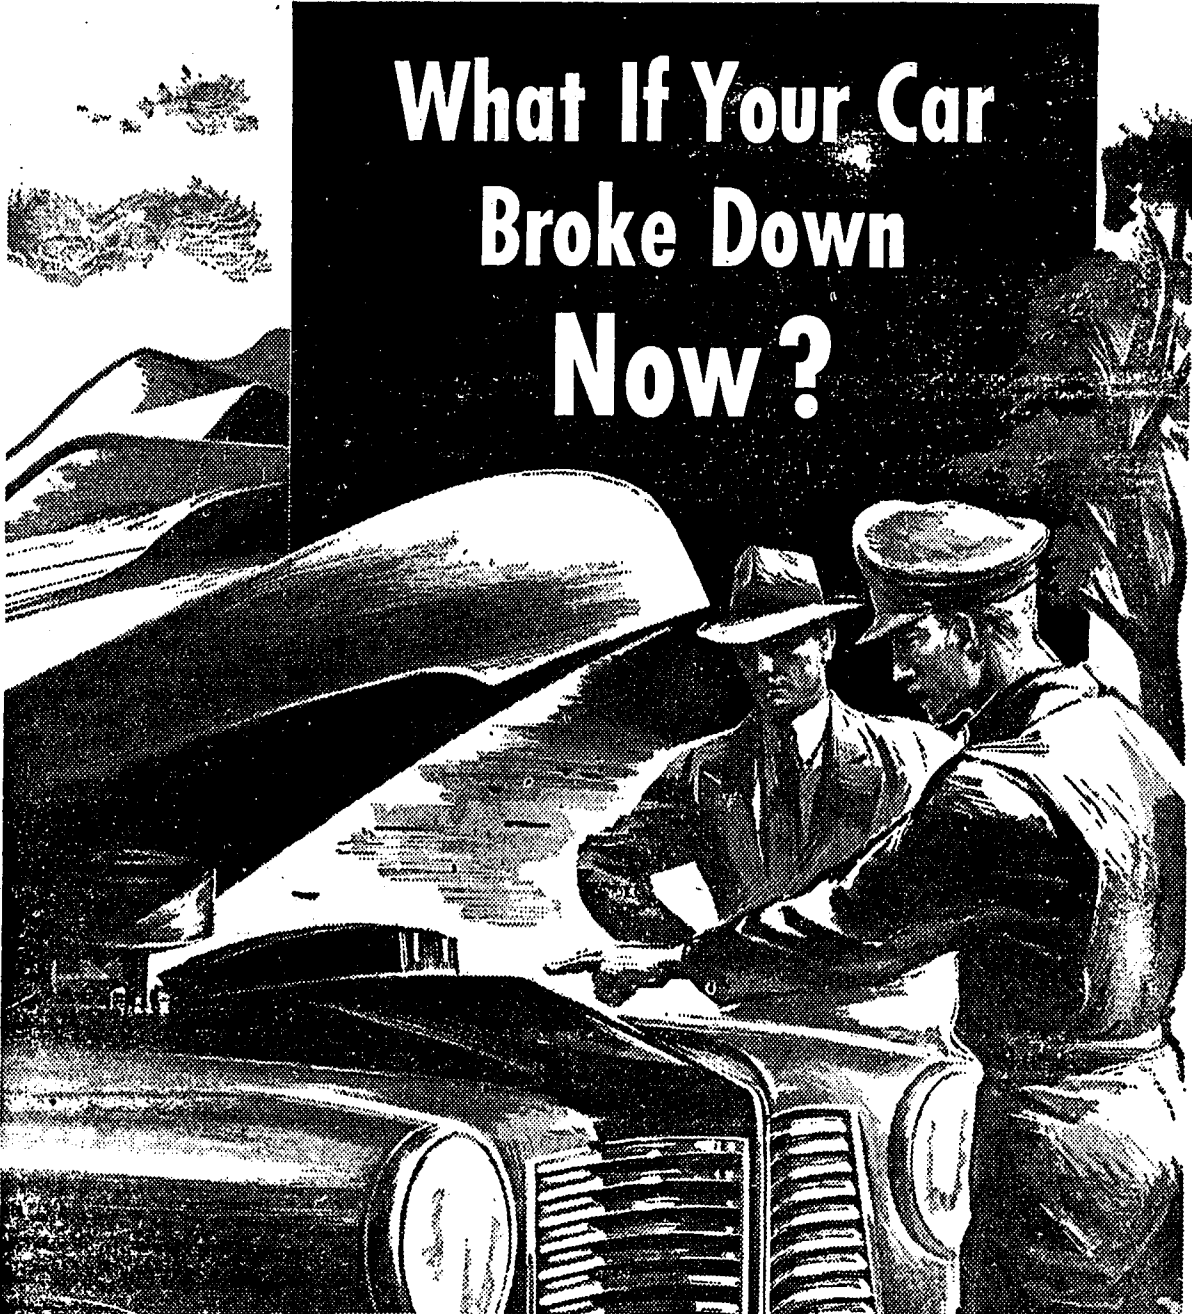

PLEASE BE CAREFUL

Stubble fires can be dangerous in unexpected ways. For instance an electric pole burned down may stop electric service over a wide area. It may mean darkness in a hospital operating room when a life is at stake. It may mean failure of your own or a neighbor's electric pump at a time when fire threatens. It may put a whole community in dangerous darkness.

Just as one good neighbor to another, when burning stubble let's be careful to keep the fire under control and a safe distance away from electric poles. If you see an electric pole is in danger, phone the nearest Washington Water Power office at once. And it would be right neighborly to make every effort to put out the fire. Reddy Kilowatt appreciates your cooperation . . . your help might save trouble for many, valuable property and even human lives.

FELLOWSHIP MEETING ENJOYED AT LOCAL CHURCH
 The fellowship meeting of the Assemblies of God in this section, held Monday afternoon and evening at the local Full Gospel church was an outstanding success, according to Lester W. Damron, pastor. The large crowd overflowed the church in the afternoon when Rev. W. H. Boyles, pastor of the Glad Tidings Temple, Spokane, delivered the message, taking for his subject the "Old Time Power of Pentecost."
 A fellowship dinner was served at 6:00 p. m. by the local church, and over 90 persons were served, according to an estimate made by the pastor. In the evening a crowd of 125 assembled in the Fraternal Hall to hear Rev. E. D. Greely speak on the subject of "Why God Hated Esau." In the afternoon meeting a substantial offering was taken to help the local church in repairing and remodeling the parsonage recently purchased. Rev. Damron reports that the parsonage has been completely paid for by members of the local congregation, with a surplus left to be used in remodeling. As soon as this work is completed the congregation plans extensive remodeling of the present church.
 Visiting ministers and members of the congregation listened with great interest to a report by Rev. W. H. Boyles on the General Council of the Assemblies of God, held at Springfield, Mo., recently. Visiting ministers included: Rev. Bert L. Swort, Kennewick; Rev. Wendell Pasco; Rev. Ralph E. Mader, Colfax; Rev. W. C. Cole, Lewiston; Rev. E. D. Greely, Pomeroy; Rev. Merle Glew, Dayton; Rev. W. H. Boyles, Spokane; Rev. King, Latah; Rev. Werner Uhlman, Moscow; Rev. George Skaret, Lewiston Orchards Community.

FEED WATKINS MINERALS
 Feed Watkins Stock Mineral Compound and save twice. Since your animals get more of the nourishment from their feed, less of it is wasted. That makes one saving for you. You'll save on veterinary bills too, for animals are more resistant to disease when they get the minerals they need. They'll produce better, too. Cows produce more on less feed. Compare the Watkins 100 per cent open formula with other mineral mixtures on the market. See what you get for your money and be sure the minerals are in easily digestible form. You can depend on Watkins Minerals.
 Let your Watkins Dealer, Mr. Edwards, tell you more about Watkins Mineral Compounds. Better yet, let him leave a supply.

New Device Aids Planes
 Hundreds of planes with priceless cargo, troops and crews are being flown safely across the Pacific as the result of a heretofore secret device at Ogden Air Technical Service command.

This device is a high-frequency, long-range direction finder which can pick up the signals and give a geographical fix to a lost plane half-way between Hill Field and Honolulu, Hawaii.

This is the way it works: Any plane finding itself in navigating trouble radios Hill Field and a few other military installations in the western United States which are equipped with these sets. Each field that hears the signal takes a bearing on the plane by means of the direction finder and sends the reports to an evaluation center on the Pacific coast.

Here, the reports from all the fields that have picked up the plane's distress signal are checked and then charted on a map. Then, by simple triangulation and pin-pointing the spot where all lines meet on the map, the evaluation center figures out the exact position of the stricken aircraft and radios the information to it.

Handling planes that are in trouble is only one of the jobs of the army airways communication system, who man the direction finding equipment. Four men work on six-hour shifts, so that someone is on duty 24 hours a day, giving bearings and tracking routine traffic.

About Hunting And Fishing
 Servicemen stationed in Idaho are reminded today by the fish and game department that they may fish and hunt on resident licenses. The privilege was granted in 1943 and is still in effect. Men and women of the armed forces who are stationed and lodged in Idaho may fish or hunt after obtaining the regular license for Idaho residents at a cost of $2.00.

This applies, the department said, to all members of the armed forces on duty within Idaho from Idaho bases, regardless of previous residence. However, it does not include wives or other relatives of such servicemen. If the wife of a soldier or sailor stationed in Idaho has lived in the state six months and is a citizen of the United States, she may obtain a resident license, otherwise a non-resident license will be required.

For servicemen who were residents of Idaho before joining the armed forces there is an additional privilege. While at home on furlough or leave they may fish or hunt without cost. They can obtain free permits for the time of their furlough from the conservation officer nearest their home town. These permits expire at the end of the furlough. They are not available to discharged veterans.

Servicemen who are based in states other than Idaho, and who were not previously residents of Idaho, can fish and hunt in this state on purchase of non-resident licenses. The non-resident fishing license costs $2.00. The non-resident bird license costs $1.00; and the non-resident fish and game license (covering fishing, game birds and big game hunting) costs $5.00.

All are warned that the daily bag and possession limit is 20 fish or 15 pounds and one fish. Phamplets giving fishing and hunting seasons and regulations may be obtained from conservation officers or license vendors.

W. W. P. CO. WINS SECOND PLACE SAFETY HONORS

The working hazards of bringing electric service to the homes and farms of the Palouse have been largely eliminated, according to H. C. Schupfer, local manager of the Washington Water Power company, who reports that his company has been awarded second place in the National Safety Council's contest for the year ending June 30. According to word received yesterday from the national council, 21 large operating companies competed for top honors.

"The record achieved by our organization speaks very highly for the company's attitude toward safety," said Mr. Schupfer. "Last year the company won first place, and it has been among the top five for several years. The Washington Water Power had a frequency accident rate of only 3.88, while one company in the contest group dropped as low as 29.60."

Mr. Schupfer pointed out that the company's safety program was promoted through a central safety council committee, headed by the company's vice president and general manager, J. E. E. Royer, who has always had a very strong interest in safety. A month by month inspection of working conditions, the distribution of information through regular meetings and bulletins, and close supervision by foremen responsible for the well-being of fellow workers is given as the reason for the low injury record.

New Gasoline Gives Performance
 Reaction of motorists to the new postwar gasoline has been unusual, according to C. S. Beesmyer, vice president and director of marketing for General Petroleum corporation. Startling results brought about a far greater than usual inquiry and curiosity as to the reasons back of the new performance.

"It may be," stated Beesmyer, "that motorists were 'performance hungry,' because of the type of motor fuel which they had been compelled to use in order that the finest products might go to our fighting forces to win the war. This was evidenced by the fact that after restrictions were lifted — but before the new gasolines came out — there was such a rush for 'premium grade' that it created a serious stock situation for a short time. Then the new gasolines coming along did such an outstanding job that the motorist wanted to know 'how come?'"

"The answer is simple in spite of the fact that it took 12 years of research and a 90 million dollar investment on the part of Mobilgas manufacturers to develop the processes used in making our new Mobilgas Special and new Mobilgas. These products come from the new refineries employing our recently discovered Thermofor Catalytic cracking and magic head processes, and contain the very same ingredients that made our super-100-octane aviation gasoline, known as Flying Horsepower, so superior in take off, maneuverability, mileage and bomb carrying capacity.

The Happy Home Demonstration club, Big Bear ridge, had a well attended meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Nelson Friday afternoon.

Miss Esther Nystrom, Home Demonstration agent gave a very interesting talk on Mexican foods and its preparation.

An educational paper was prepared and read by Mrs. Walter Olson (nee Betty Ingle) about Mexico, its people, customs and resources. She also showed some colored pictures, which added interest.

The table was covered with a Mexican designed table cloth, and a large cactus belonging to Mrs. A. C. Wilson, made an appropriate centerpiece. The "Fiesta" pottery dishes added color.

The lunch, including Mexican food (a red bean dish, vegetable salad and custard) prepared by Miss Nystrom, was served with the lunch of corn bread, sandwiches and doughnuts prepared by the hostess. During the lunch Miss Betty Halseth sang "Down Mexico Way," with a guitar accompaniment.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Henry Kortemeier. Miss Nystrom will demonstrate Russian foods, and roll call will be answered by "Facts About Russia."

Mrs. Grant Clemenhagen was chosen as a delegate to a "Sweet Bread" demonstration November 2.

It was decided to hold a card and Chinese checker party at the Hall on October 26, to raise funds for Club expenses.

Mrs. K. D. Ingle has some fruit jars to be filled and sent to the Children's Home in Lewiston. The fruit can be canned without sugar. Your contribution will be appreciated very much.

IT'S NOT EVEN too far to hobble, when you're leaving the blank walls of a hospital room for a brief while, on your way to a place of laughter and song and play.

The welcoming doors of a U.S.O. lounge club are just outside the hospital grounds—at more than 500 hospitals.

Here, at the house of smiles, war-shattered veterans escape from hospital routine, from the smell of ether and disinfectants. Here they enjoy their favorite phonograph records, today's newspaper, the checker-board that you gave them when you gave to your Idaho war fund.

These are little things, but they're good medicine! The nearby U.S.O. lounge is theater, club—almost home—to the shocked and hurt boy whose present home is a hospital room. And your dollars keep these lounges going—the dollars you give to your Idaho war fund.

It's time to give again—for the men who gave a lot. Give generously! Make your donation twice as big—the need is more than twice as great.

Your donation to the Idaho war fund supports the U.S.O. and does many other worth-while things beside. You help many who can't help themselves, yet you are asked for only one gift. Let your heart decide how big it should be.

S/S Sgt. Pete Tschantz, who has been stationed at Wilmington, Delaware, with the A. T. C., is now home on furlough, and called at the Gazette office Monday afternoon to thank all concerned for the Gazette. He says he has been receiving it regularly until the past few weeks, when he was transferred temporarily to Fort Dix, New Jersey — and since then it has been on a "catch-as-catch can" basis.

At the conclusion of his present furlough he returns to Fort Dix — and expects soon to return home to stay. He also said he expected his brother, Chris, to be home soon, also with his discharge papers.

Yokohama, Japan
 Sept. 20, 1945

Dear Mac and Bill:
 Time has gone by since I dropped a few lines to you, so now will attempt a few lines again.

Finally have arrived at the end of the road and it's really a surprise to me that we are here as soon as this. And what's more, glad it's peaceful here now, as it would have been a rough go to come in here any other way.

Came up on an L. S. T. again, my second trip in one of them and made it fine, only came through a small typhoon. Believe me, I never want to see a big one because as it were, every six to ten seconds the L. S. T. would make a complete roll, and my insides turned over about four times in the same amount of time.

Fortunately though, I never really felt too bad, as most everyone was down and out for several days.

Have only been here three days now, so as for any description of this country — I cannot give it. Only the climate here is wonderful after 26 months in the tropics. Even now we are using sleeping bags to keep warm at night and they are really the thing.

We are set up in a former factory for depot operation and have quarters to sleep in — the first since we left the U. S. A., so you can see very well it's some change from what we have had the past six months.

Another thing, the people here are very willing to co-operate with us, at least the class we have around us here, and have had no trouble what-so-ever. It seems as though they are glad it's over.

We are only four miles from the city of Yokohama, and about eight from Tokyo. Might as well say we are in both cities. And from what I can gather there is not too much left of either place. Here in our vicinity it is all standing as before, with very little damage.

Now all I'm waiting for is one more boat ride and have hopes now it will not be very long before they tell me to pack my bag in short order and hit the trail for home. Do not know how soon yet, but from the news it won't be long — I hope.

Must close for now, so once more again, thanks for the paper the past few years, and hope that before long I can drop in and say "hello" in person.

Guess I might as well ask you to stop sending the paper, as by the time it reaches my new address I expect to be on my way home.

Sincerely
 S/Sgt. Joe Forest.

Dear Mac and Bill:

Just a few lines to let you know that you can now stop my paper, as I will be on my way home soon. I sincerely want to thank you and all the others for sending it to me. It sure will be great to get back to Idaho again. I can hardly wait for the boat.

Yours truly
 Robert Shores.

Sgt. Rupert K. Hayward, who wears five battle stars for service in the E. T. O., has returned to his home at Southwick, after receiving his honorable discharge at Fort Douglas, Utah.

Sgt. Hayward was in the service for 41 months — overseas 32 months. He served with the Seventh and Fifth Armies in Africa, Sicily and Italy. Almost two years were spent in Italy.

In describing their course, Sgt. Hayward said: "We entered Italy at Reggio, which is at the very tip of the boot, and made a zig-zag advance northward, being at Bassano, which is at the northern end of the Po valley, on V-E Day."

After V-E day he returned to Florence, where he was attached to a re-deployment unit for a time. Shortly before returning to the states he had an opportunity to make a week's tour of Switzerland. He has a number of snap-shots which give a pretty good history of the course of the Fifth Army in Italy, and a number of interesting souvenirs.

This is Sgt. Hayward's first visit home since induction.

Dear Friends:

Having received your paper over the greater part of the world in my tours of duty with the navy in the past five years, I have the honor and opportunity to thank you, one and all very much for your generosity and kindness, believe me the paper was sincerely appreciated.

My new address, not as a sailor, but as a civilian, is and will be P. O. Box 894, Redwood City, Calif.

I am at present located at Shoemaker, Calif., awaiting discharge, which will come through in about five days.

May I say thank you, one and all, again.

Sincerely
 J. D. Langdon.
