MORE ABOUT BASKETBALL

were awarded the various teams. Each member of the Tigers was given a golden basketball watch charm, and the team as a whole was awarded a beautiful, large cup, the finest they have yet received in their three years of championship play.

The Kamiah Kubs were awarded the second place cup, it in itself a real beauty, and Rathdrum, winners of the consolation game, a corresponding trophy.

Real sportsmanship and fellowship was exhibited by the Kamiah boys during the six games played with Kendrick this year, and it is to be regretted that Kamiah cannot accompany Kendrick to the state tournament finals in Pocatello Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

In the event that each team should win one game and a play-off be necessary, it will be held on Monday evening of next week.

It is not known at this time if the games will be broadcast, but it might be well to try your radios on KRLC, KWSC, and on Boise, though it is doubtful if Boise can be received here now. It is not known whether or not a broadcasting station is located at Pocatello.

Cars taking the Tigers to Pocatello are: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Brocke, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White, Mr and Mrs. Floyd Millard and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage. Players going are: Capt. Charles Easterbrook, Ray Easterbrook, Herbie Millard, Maurice Long, Dick McCall, Roy White, George Brocke, Jr., Boyd Thornton, John Deobald and Dee Miller. It is probable that "other civilian passengers" went in the cars, of whom we did not learn.

Peace Or The Sword?

We are not among those who attribute a sinister motive to every move made by the Kremlin, nor do we deny that Russia's suspicions of the western powers have some historical justification.

Nevertheless, we feel that there was no excuse for the Hitlerian tone and technique used both by Stalin and other Soviet leaders in their recent election speeches. Stalin's charge that the capitalistic world economy was responsible for starting the two great wars undoubtedly made good political copy in communistic Russia, but it rather overlooked the fact that the out-and-out military ambitions of Germany in two wars and Japan in the last one also had something to do with the two world conflicts.

What is more, Premier Stalin can hardly deny that it was his "go-ahead" signal to Germany, expressed in the "friendship" pact with Hitler in August of 1939 that opened the way for the attack on Poland.

The cry that Russia is still "encircled" by capitalistic powers and that she must become self-sufficient to "guarantee (herself) against any eventualities," is the same theme that the former Austrian house painter used to harp on when he was building up Germany for aggressive conquest.

The election outburst of Soviet leaders undoubtedly was linked to the clash between Russia and Britain at the UNO meeting, arising out of their conflicting interests in the Balkans and Middle East. This conflict of economic interests need not be dangerous to the peace, however, if the nations involved are willing to work it out by peaceful means.

It seems to us that a country which has suffered so terribly from war as Russia would be a leader in seeking peaceful solutions.

On the other hand, we believe it would be much better if the airways and newspapers were not so filled with references to the scourge of our modern civilization — the atomic bomb. It would seem to us that it would help a lot if this matter was hushed up, at least until some definite decision was reached regarding its handling by the three powers who own the secret — the U. S. A., Britain and Canada. It looks like we are waving the red flag of "have not" in our former ally's face each time we talk about its terrible power and what can be done with it in the future as "bigger and better bombs" are developed.

The vast wire defense system established in Europe by the United States army, if strung out in a single strand, would circle the globe 35 times, states an army dispatch.

"Hey, Ref-arent you out of bounds?"

IN basketball or business, Americans expect fair play.

In basketball, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not a player.

In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations for fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a PLAYER, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all other players in the game.

Take government-owned electric power systems, for example. They pay little or no taxes. When they need money, they call on the U. S. Treasury and get it at little or no interest. If they have losses, why worry? You, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

BUSINESS-managed power systems, on the other hand, do not have these special privileges. They pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on any loans.

For dependable—and cheap—electric service for a post-war world, BUSINESSMEN CAN DO THE JOB BETTER THAN BUREAUCRATS.

Crude Methods By Chinese
 Chinese geologists played an important part in the early mining of Idaho with their "hard-rock" mining in the extraction of gold and silver from the ores of mines near the headwaters of the west fork of Jack creek, about 20 miles east of Silver City, then a flourishing mining town in Owyhee county in the late 60's and early 70's, but now one of the many old "ghost towns" of the Gem state, says a review of some of the early history of Idaho. This observation is based upon the report concerning the discovery of the old rustic retorts found a few years ago in the Owyhee mountains. Four of the old retorts, or furnaces, were constructed by the miners, from the Celestial Kingdom, who came to the United States and helped in the early mining and railroad building. These furnaces were about five feet high and six feet wide. An opening at the top held about 1500 pounds of ore from the nearby quartz-bearing ledges. This ore was piled on top of the fire and hot ashes made from the roots and limbs of mountain mahogany. Then the ashes of the silver sulphide and oxidized gold ores were panned for values. The heat of the ashes was fanned with a huge bellows made with deer hides. With this forced draft, the crushed rock yielded the ores for melting. The gold and silver was sent to San Francisco. It was from Silver City that Idaho's first telegraph line to the San Francisco stock market was constructed in the year 1865. Much of the wealth from the mines in Owyhee county was shipped by stages to the west coast. The road to Winnemucca joined the original overland trail to the coast and was one of the outlets from southwestern Idaho to the coast, and was the foundation of the present trans-continental highways.

 "Yes."
 "And you stopped smoking for the same reason?"
 "I did."
 "And it was for her that you gave up dancing, card parties and billiards?"
 "Correct."
 "Then why didn't you marry her?"
 "Well, after all that reforming, I decided I could do better."

SON IS BACK

Hello, Son. You are back; then the war is over. I am proud, Son. Do you remember the last night you were home on your short furlough just before leaving the states? You asked Jane for her horse to ride early the next morning. You said you were going out on the hills to watch the sun come up. I knew what you were thinking, I knew the feeling you had on leaving the place. I wanted to make that ride with you, Son.

I did not sleep that night. And there've been plenty of sleepless nights since. Somehow, before the morning I felt you were coming back — back to the land that you loved and wanted to be alone with at sunrise, back to the land where you spent your boyhood days in play and work, back to the land that has kept us so long and kept us well.

It was worth fighting for then, Son. It is worth fighting for now. It might not have been if you and millions more like you had not done what you did. That is one reason I am proud, Son. We never fared badly the years you were gone. We did not suffer any severe hardships. We worked hard, yes. But the land — we still have it and our freedom to own it. That's part of what you and others have helped to do.

We are land-lovers, Son. Our forefathers have always lived on and tilled the soil and grazed cattle on it. Yes, the city has its fascinations, but not the freedom and the pure air.

I see you have battle scars. You are much thinner than when you went away. You have been spared, Son, for some particular purpose, and I want to think it is to stay on this very land. Take care of the land, Son, and it will always take care of you. —Anonymous. — Northwest Farm News.

Make Haste Slowly

Congress needs a "cooling off" period of some sort of its own before considering new labor legislation. The continuation of strikes and the dismal outlook for any improvement in the general situation of labor and needed consumer goods has prompted the lawmakers to consider some of the most drastic labor laws yet presented.

We think there is need for better labor legislation and that labor unions should be made responsible for their acts, but we deplore hasty and ill-conceived measures which do more harm than good.

The Smith-Connolly Act, for example, was passed when congress was hot about sudden and frequent wartime walk-outs in vital war industries. The law was intended to reduce the number of strikes by requiring a strike vote among workers and a 30-day "cooling off" period. Actually it has not accomplished that purpose but has imposed on government labor agencies the task of conducting costly strike ballots whose results are a foregone conclusion.

Congress can and should act swiftly on many of the measures now before it. But speed of action should not arise out of confused and angry thinking. Instead, it should come from cool-headed consideration of the nation's legislative needs.

The fact remains, however, that the American public is getting very roughly fed up with strikes and the lack of consumer goods — and some one needs to act.

1945 Crop Third Largest

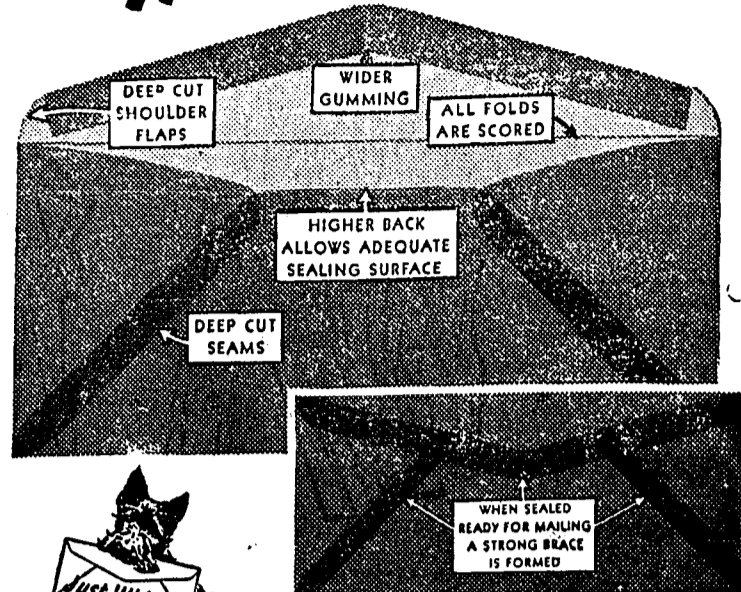

American farmers came through with another tremendous production record for 1945, falling only slightly short of the mammoth harvests of 1942 and 1944. New production records were established in a number of crops including wheat, hops, rice, peaches, pears, almonds and grapefruit. High yields per acre were said to be the principal reason for the generally excellent results.

The dark spot in the report of the U. S. D. A. concerns cotton, which, with the exception of 1921, had the smallest crop in the last half century. But the over-all results of 1945 show that our farmers came through again in the "pinch" in spite of labor shortages and inadequate farm machinery with which to do the job.

Outing Flannel

Consumers will pay no more for outing flannels given earlier price increases at the manufacturing level under a new pricing method requiring absorption of the increase by the wholesalers and retailers, says an OPA dispatch. This action also removed knit underwear made entirely of rayon yarn from the fixed, mark-up method covering other types of knit underwear. Our note: First, find the outing flannel and the underwear!

THE KENDRICK GAZETTE

How would you CHART YOUR COURSE?

Pictured here are the records of four "life lines" of our business—four things which largely control the destiny of any business, whether it be a farm, a factory or a store. They are Wages, Materials Costs, Prices, and Profits. Suppose these were pictures of what is going on in your own affairs. How would you chart your future course from these facts?

With the proposed increase, wage rates will have risen from $0.85 1/2 per hour in 1941 to $1.33 1/2 in 1946—a gain of 56.1%. Weekly average would be $53.40.

By the end of 1945, prices on all commodities other than farm products and food had come up 19.9% since 1941. Chart does not show effect of 1946 increases.

Using U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics with 1941 prices equalling 100, prices of farm machinery in 1945 were only 104.9.

Profit per dollar of sale has declined until in 1945 it was slightly less than four cents, as against 8.4 cents in 1941.

What about wages?

Wages have risen steadily for five years. Before the strike which began on January 21 in ten of our plants and which has choked off nearly all farm machinery production, earnings of employees of these plants averaged $1.15 1/2 an hour, not including any overtime. The Union demanded a 34 cents per hour increase and a Government board has now recommended a general increase of 18 cents an hour, which would make average earnings $1.33 1/2 an hour. Weekly average would be $53.40.

What about materials?

No one seems to know how high materials costs will go. The Government has increased steel prices as much as $12.00 a ton, with an average increase for all grades of 3.2%. Steel is the most important material we buy, but prices on other materials are also increasing.

What about prices?

There has been no general increase in our prices since they were frozen by the Government in early 1942. Since then a few small increases have been allowed where particular machines were substantially changed in design.

What about profits?

Risk is part of the American profit and loss system, so we do not, of course, ask either our customers or the Government to guarantee each year. The chart tells the story of our profits during the war. Although Harvester produced more goods than ever before, it had no desire to get rich out of war, so our rate of profit has steadily gone down. What our 1946 profit will be is extremely uncertain.

What is the next step?

As you can see, our present situation is that with frozen prices and declining profits, we are asked to pay higher materials costs and to make the biggest wage increase in the history of the Company. Can we do this? Wages and materials consume all but a few cents of every dollar we take in. If our prices continue frozen, and cost of wages and materials continues to rise, obviously our Company will begin to operate at a loss at some point.

The exact point at which operating at a loss would start is a matter of judgment. Government agencies and union leaders may have opinions as to where that point is. But if they turn out to be wrong, they can shrug their shoulders and say: "Well, it wasn't my responsibility. I didn't make the decision."

The management of this Company cannot and will not say that. It does not gamble. It has to be sure. Continuation of our service to millions of customers, the future jobs of thousands of employees, and the safety of the investments of 39,000 stockholders depend on our making as correct a decision as is humanly possible.

What about future prices on farm machinery?

The judgment of Harvester's management now is that we cannot safely make the huge wage increase recommended by the Government until the Government authorizes adequate increases in the prices of farm machinery to cover the resulting increased costs.

That is not a judgment that makes us happy. The Company does not want to raise prices. We prefer to lower prices, when possible, and we know our customers prefer to have us do that. We have produced at 1942 prices, and hoped we could continue to do so. We have delayed seeking general price relief in the hope that it could be avoided. Now we are convinced that it cannot be avoided any longer. The price question must be settled. Until it is settled we do not see how we can settle the wage question. Until the wage question is settled we do not see how we can resume production and begin turning out the farm machines which we know our farmer customers need.

Because of the important stake which both farmers and city dwellers have in this controversy, we are bringing these matters to your attention. Through the cross currents of today's conditions, we are trying to chart a course that is fair to our employees, to our farmer customers, and to our stockholders.

MAIN STREET

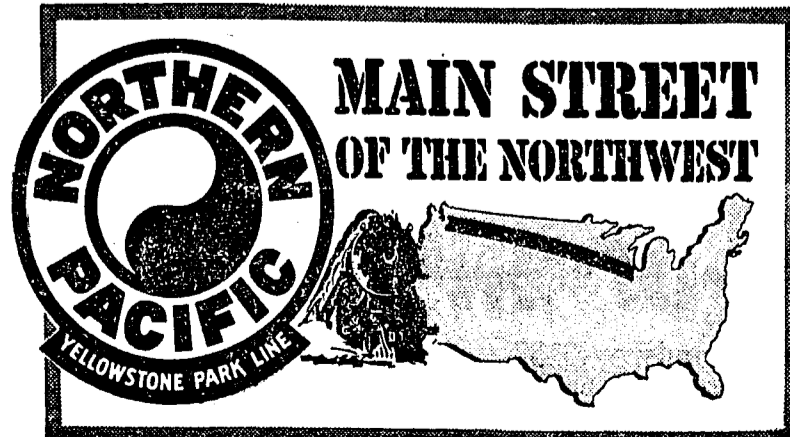

Main Street means the new roof over your head

At this moment, Main Street rumbles with trainloads of logs and finished lumber, framing, siding, shingles, flooring, wonder-working plywood and other building materials for that home you plan to build. Your lumber won't arrive tomorrow, perhaps... but it's on the way!

Because the N. P. is privileged to help turn Washington and Oregon trees into homes for the nation, Montana and Minnesota minerals into tools, plumbing and hardware, and Northwest farm products into bread and butter, we know how richly America is served by the great community that we call Main Street. It is Northern Pacific's purpose to give that community, and its far-flung customers and suppliers, reliable transportation.

The O. P. A. In Action
 Here is an example of what business men are up against in dealing with the OPA. In this case a company wanted to make door knobs for new homes, so it was necessary to get OPA to set a price on the product.
 The following is a condensed version of what happened:
 June 12 — Mailed forms and exhibits to Washington.
 July 31 — OPA asked for photos.
 August 21 — Photos and samples sent to Washington.

Sept. 3 — Company wired OPA: "Production stopped, workers laid off."
 Sept. 7 — OPA wired: "Expect decision next week."
 Sept. 13 — OPA phoned from Washington: "What is kirksite?"
 Sept. 15 — Kirksite samples sent to Washington.
 Oct. 3 — OPA announces price which is exactly equal to the cost of production, or about half of the competitors prices.
 Oct. 12 — OPA denies appeal for relief.
 The door knobs? You guessed it. They're not being made!
 However, don't get us wrong. We believe the OPA has done a very good job in holding the price line against inflation. But we do believe that it needs a thorough re-vamping and overhauling before it starts another year of life, which begins on June 30th.

"I Do Not Choose — ?"
 In spite of denials by Democratic chairman Robert Hannigan that President Truman has already made a private "I do not choose to run" statement regarding the 1948 elections, rumors persist that the Chief Executive wants to step down when this term is finished. According to reports, Mr. Truman tells many of his closest friends that he did not want to be president and that he finds the job too trying and burdensome. He longs for the comparatively carefree life he enjoyed as a senator and vice-president.
 Hannigan's denial of the President's desire to quit in 1948 was to be expected since a silence on the rumor or an affirmation of it would further weaken Mr. Truman's control of the Democratic party, badly shaken by many inner conflicts.
 It still remains to be seen if Mr. Truman will actually emulate Calvin Coolidge.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

CM 2/c Joe Langdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langdon, arrived home Monday of last week after some eight months in Japan, bringing with him his honorable discharge papers from the Sea Bees.

Joe, it is to be remembered, is also a veteran of the E. T. O., taking part in the great floating port construction and installation while in that area, a report of which was previously carried in these columns.

He says that he hasn't anything new to report, but we'll wager there are some things of real interest when we get a chance to have a talk with him.

At any rate, he is home for good, and says he is having the time of his life eating, sleeping and visiting.

Farragut, Idaho

March 14, 1946

Dear Bill, Mac and Friends:
I arrived here at Farragut for my medical treatments yesterday. This morning we had snow when we arose, but now it is raining. They tell me it has been raining lots here.

Last night I talked to a PhM 1/c I used to do duty with up here. It was quite a surprise for him to see me. However, I knew he was here.

The doctor has looked me over and I anticipate staying here for about a month. However, I cannot be too sure.

I feel quite at home here, working in the ward. They are very short handed, so I have been assigned to giving the "shots."

My address is: Lester C. Slead, U. S. Naval Hospital, Patient Ward B-3, Farragut, Idaho.

May God bless you folks, always.

Sincerely,
Lester C. (Doc) Slead.

P. S.: Will get my operation tomorrow morning.

S 1/c Donald R. Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bateman, Kendrick, arrived home last week from Bremerton, Wash., bringing with him his honorable discharge papers from Uncle Sam's navy.

Don, who wears the stars of six major battles, has been stationed for the past several months on a mine sweeper along the coast, and says it was the most monotonous and humdrum months he ever put in, and he is mighty glad to again be a civilian.

Don plans to work with his father in farming when spring work opens up, but in the meantime he is thoroughly enjoying lots of good home cooking and a real bed to sleep in.

An issue some months ago contained an account of Don's travels.

"I saved 25½ Quarts of oil in 325 hours .. with a FRAM."

Says Darryl C. Grover
Riceville, Iowa

Mr. Grover also says: "Until now I have changed the oil every 60 hours."

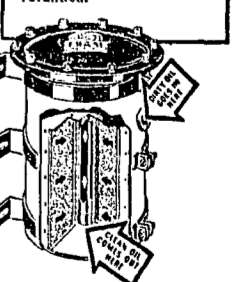

SAVED 45 GALLONS THE FIRST YEAR
Fred North of Blackwell, Okla., saved 45 gallons of oil the first year after installing a FRAM.

SAVED ITS COST IN 40 DAYS
A Caterpillar Diesel 75, formerly changed oil every 35 hours. Now, with FRAM, they change oil every 20 days.

SAVED 7 OIL CHANGES IN 400 HOURS
C. D. Goyen of Pratt, Kansas, used to change oil every 50 to 60 hours. Now, with FRAM, he changes oil 400 hours.

EASY TO INSTALL
New specially designed brackets, Fullflex oil-lines, make installations simple as A-B-C.

GUARANTEE
Install a FRAM. If within 90 days you feel you can afford to be without it, bring it back and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Successful farmers are saving money on oil . . . saving the time commonly wasted changing oil . . . and protecting their motors by installing FRAMS on their tractors.

There is no doubt that clean oil will last longer than dirty oil, nor that motors lubricated constantly with clean oil will cost less in repairs. The FRAM Oil and Motor Cleaner keeps both oil and motor clean and free of dust, dirt, abrasives, sludge and harmful acids. That is why successful farmers are equipping their tractors with FRAMS — saving money — saving their motors — saving time. Why don't you investigate?
