Work Begins On Swim Pool

Monday of this week M. C. Halliday, Jack Kuykendall and Orville and Walter Sparber began pouring the first concrete for the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool. First to be poured was the big concrete anchor block in the bottom of the deepest part of the pool. This block forms the anchor for the apron or sloping portion of the pool, and was set on the bed rock of what was once the creek bottom — so there is no doubt whatever but what it is really solid. At this depth a steady flow of creek water was encountered, and a pump was borrowed from J. G. Travis to keep the water out so that the pouring might be done. Above this depth no water was encountered.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

San Diego, Calif. April 16, 1946 Dear Bill: This is just a note to thank you for the Gazette. I sure appreciate it. It would seem from your paper that California isn't the only state that has rain. But it wouldn't be the baseball season without rain, I guess. I had a little trouble with a cold but plan on being out of sick bay soon. I have four weeks of boot training left, so until I get home, thanks again for the paper. Sincerely Jack Bencotter. Alaska April 13, 1946 Leaving today enroute to the United States. Blewett, in Kendrick, Idaho, and senior Army Ground Forces Liaison Officer at the War Department Personnel Center, Fort Douglas, Utah, today received the Army Commendation Ribbon for meritorious service at Fort Douglas, from May 11, 1945, to March 8, 1946. The presentation, made by Col. Frank LaRue, commanding officer of Fort Douglas, took place at headquarters of the Personnel Center in the presence of the headquarters staff and members of the AGF liaison staff. Signed by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding general of the Army Ground Forces, the citation stated, in part: "Major Blewett, through exercise of sound judgement, initiative and resourcefulness, with a limited number of personnel and ever-changing directives, organized the Army Ground Forces Liaison section into an outstanding administrative unit which contributed materially to the successful reconversion and demobilization of AGF personnel at that station." With 37 months of service in the Aleutian Islands, Major Blewett came to Fort Douglas last May, after serving as an instructor at the Infantry school, Fort Benning, Ga. A native of Culedas, Idaho, the major was an honor military graduate of the University of Idaho at Moscow in June of 1939, with a BS degree in agriculture. He entered the army on July 1, 1939, at Vancouver Barracks, Wash. While in the Aleutians, he was company commander of headquarters company, Fourth Infantry regiment. Major Blewett also holds the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon with one bronze star, the American Defense Ribbon with bronze star, the American Theatre ribbon and the Victory ribbon. Milton, who has been in service in the Pacific for the past two years, including the Islands and Japan, says home sure looks swell, and he is expecting to enjoy the freedom of civilian clothes a lot. He wishes to thank all for the paper — its arrival was "spotty," but when it did get it was thoroughly read and just as thoroughly enjoyed. Milton looks the picture of health and says he feels just as good as he looks. His plans for the future are indefinite, but for the time being at least, he is going to work with his father on the farm. First And Second Grades

Pre-school youngsters visiting the Primary room Friday were Patty Candler, Douglas Hudson and LeRoy Brocke.

The following second graders scored high in the reading test given in the "Weekly Reader": Kathryn Abrams, Shelia Westendahl, Howard Holt, Wanda Travis, Roger Christensen, Kenny Brocke and Dorothy Stephens. Their grade score was 4.0.

The first graders have read 15 readers. This includes pre-primers, primers and first readers. As there aren't any more first readers available, they are now reading a second grade reader.

Bridge Party
 The Bridge club enjoyed a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey Tuesday evening, when the season's low-scorers entertained the "highs."

The guests found their places with novel place cards from magazine illustrations. A delicious supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts, Mrs. Roy Ramey, Bill McCreary, Ralph Josly, G. W. McKeever, Mrs. D. A. Christensen and Russell Smith.

High scores for the evening went to Mrs. D. A. Christensen and E. A. Deobald; lows to Dr. D. A. Christensen and Mrs. Estella Leith.

At the close of play the group enjoyed a showing of technicolor pictures by Ralph Joslyn, taken by him in the mountains adjoining McCall and in the Sawtooths.

Suffers Injured Hand
 Wednesday afternoon of last week Harry Bohrens suffered a severe puncture of the left hand when a ratchet-type screwdriver he was using slipped, and the spinning bit dug into the fleshy part of his hand. Harry was sinking brass screws into the hull of the good ship "Pepsi-Cola" which he was building for George Brocke when the accident occurred.

The "Pepsi-Cola" is probably one of the first boats ever built in Kendrick. It is constructed of shaped and laminated strips of pine, and should make a dandy for that fishing trip George says he is planning for this summer.

P.-T. A. Meeting Monday Eve.

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick P.-T. A. was held on Monday evening of this week with Mrs. Ross Armitage, presiding.

Following the reading of the treasurer's report by Mrs. Manning Onstott and its approval, the business of the evening was taken up.

Mrs. Herman Travis, chairman of the Hot Lunch committee, lead a discussion of this important matter, and it was the consensus of opinion that the organization could best help through the canning of vegetables and fruits for this work, but that the canning should be done at Lapat, rather than in the private homes of members. On motion the organization voted to inform the school trustees that they would undertake this work provided the vegetables and fruit were provided them. The group deemed it best, at this time, to ask all in this area to plant an extra row or two of vegetables, corn, etc., for the Hot Lunch program.

The treasurer's report revealed an unused balance of $10.54 in the library fund, and the group voted to give this money to the school for the purchase of library books in the grades.

Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, chairman of the nominating committee installed the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Herman Travis, president; Mrs. Andrew Cox, vice president; Mrs. Manning Onstott, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Ross Armitage, retiring president, gave a brief talk, thanking all for their fine co-operation during the past year.

Mrs. Herman Travis then addressed the organization, stating that it was her intention to carry on the good work of years past.

Following the business session all adjourned to the chemistry lab., where pinochle was played at six tables, which in turn was followed by refreshments in the Home Ec. room.

Easter Sunday Cool, Cloudy

Topcoats and raincoats were in excellent taste in Kendrick and vicinity Easter Sunday, for the day was quite cool and cloudy, the sun breaking through the overcast only for brief periods during the day.

Sunday evening, following a brief windstorm, clouds cleared away and Monday morning we were greeted with a thick white frost, the thermometer reaching a low of 34 degrees above zero.

The same performance was repeated Monday night, with the same temperature being recorded Tuesday morning.

It is not known at this time if cherry, pear and peach trees in blossom here in the valley were injured or not, but it would seem that they might have been.

Play Greatly Enjoyed

The high school play, "Brother Goose," directed by Mrs. Werner Brammer, was presented Wednesday evening in the high school gym. to a good-sized and appreciative audience, the gales of laughter often drowning out the players. The cast of characters was composed of Roy White, Marybeth Benscoter, Agnes Baker, Patty McCreary, Maurice Long, Helen Harris, Chloe McKeever, June Brown, Eldon Wegner, Annabel Cuddy and Ruth Lettenmaier.

Cleaning Cemetery

Work was begun Tuesday on the cemetery at Cameron. A plow and disc have been used and work will be continued every Thursday afternoon through the month of May. If enough men with shovels will turn out our cemetery will be weedless by Decoration Day, says our Cameron correspondent.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. Clarence Johnston was very pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon, when her Sunday school class called at her home with gifts and refreshments, honoring her birthday anniversary.

Surplus Property Disposal

Farmers and rural areas generally are assured equal opportunity to supply their needs out of surplus property as it becomes available, the Surplus Property Board says. The Board's Regulation No. 3, effective June 1, 1945, sets up procedure for channeling critically needed trucks, machinery and equipment in agricultural uses. Farmers, however, must not expect a flood of surpluses at give-away prices, the board warns.

First and second purchase priorities given by the Surplus Property Act of 1944, to federal and state and local governments, will absorb many surplus items, but trucks, machinery and equipment in critical short supply will be distributed on the basis of greatest need. Disposal agencies designated by the board are directed to cause appropriate quantities of surplus materials to be sold or channeled into rural areas so that farmers and farmers' cooperative associations will be given an opportunity to buy.

Sales will be made to distributors, dealers, wholesalers, farmers co-operative associations or retailers who customarily distribute in rural areas and who certify that surpluses being purchased will be so distributed.

Surpluses will be sold mainly through dealers and distributors, not to individual distributors. An exception to that rule is the provision for direct sales to veterans who wish to buy surpluses to establish themselves in business, the professions or agriculture.

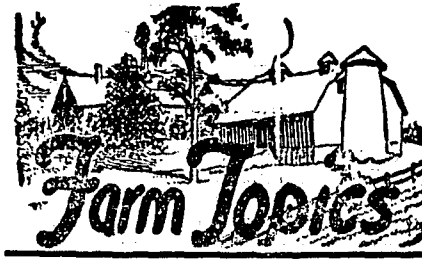

Catching Up

Justice is making further progress toward catching up with some of the "small fry" war criminals as well as with a few of the bigger ones. The execution of the Belsen murder camp leaders and the sentencing to death of 36 Germans for their part in the Dachau prison camp crimes has boosted the number of war criminals now under sentence or already executed.

Meanwhile, at Nuremberg the 21 Nazi "big shots" are getting a very snug feeling around their necks as Allied prosecutors build the case against them. However, the showing of motion pictures taken during their "days of glory" temporarily revived their spirits. The pictures were not for their entertainment, but part of the evidence showing a long-prepared plot to commit international treachery and to use armed forces in unprovoked attacks. When those pictures were taken the "boys" had dreams of ruling the world. Right now they would settle for any kind of a ruling that would spare them from the gallows or the firing squad.

Prices On Linoleum

Farm housewives and other consumers will not have to pay more than 1942 prices for linoleum and like felt-base products although the manufacturers have been given a nine per cent increase in their prices to offset cost increases that have taken place since March, 1942. OPA, it appears, believes wholesalers and retailers can absorb the price increase without hardship.

Treat Frozen Combs Early to Stop Loss

Fertility Decreased If Males Are Victims

While prevention of frozen combs in the poultry flock is always the best cure, once this condition has been brought about every effort should be made to reduce its ill effects.

When roosters' combs are badly frozen their ability to fertilize eggs is either greatly decreased, or in some cases entirely lost. At any rate, until the comb is completely healed, high fertility cannot be expected.

A more rapid recovery may be brought about if the frozen parts are amputated. Sharp scissors, razor or sharp snips may be used. The cut should be made in the unfrozen portion. To prevent bleeding, apply an astringent such as tincture of ferric chloride. It is usually necessary to remove the wattles as well as the comb.

Frozen combs and wattles can be prevented by dubbing the cockerels in the summer when from 6 to 12 weeks of age, when loss will be negligible.

Before placing a cockerel or rooster in the breeding pen, it should be first ascertained that his comb and wattles were not frozen the previous winter, or that he has completely recovered. In many cases, it may be a wise move to market all males with frozen combs and wattles.

U. S. Prevents Spread of Destructive Gypsy Moth

More than 300,000 Christmas trees and 25,000 bales of evergreen boughs and sprays for trimming were inspected and certified as free of gypsy moth eggs by agents of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, department of agriculture, during the past Christmas season in New England and New York state. More than a hundred carloads of Christmas trees were fumigated.

This big job is done by federal agents each year to supply Christmas markets with the fine spruces, hemlocks and other evergreens of the Northeast without danger of carrying eggs of the destructive gypsy moth to other parts of the country. The caterpillar of this moth feeds on leaves of many woodland and ornamental trees and often completely defoliates the trees. At the present this insect is confined to an area of the Northeast, and the entomologists are doing their utmost to keep it from spreading. Inspection and certification of all plant material going out of this area is necessary because one small cluster of eggs on an evergreen bough may contain as many as 400 eggs. Christmas trees and greens from the Northeast are shipped not only to eastern markets but often as far west as St. Louis.

From mid-November until Christmas, inspection centers are busy. Many of them are at convenient centers on important highways where farmers and other truckers can drive in and have their trees inspected.

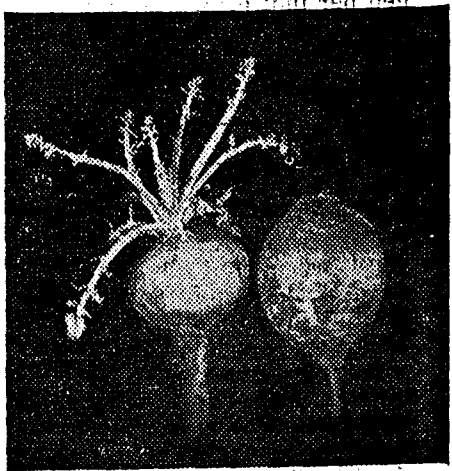

Retarding Sprout Growth in Storage

Loss With Root Crops Eliminated by Process

By Ora Smith, Cornell University

All who have stored any of the root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips and rutabagas know that two of the most important storage difficulties with these crops are sprouting and shriveling. The higher the humidity of the storage air, the lesser the amount of shriveling. However, if at high humidities the temperature also is much above 40 degrees F., the foot and top growth will be excessive, often resulting in decay of the stored product.

By a very simple procedure, it is now possible to prevent or greatly retard root and top growth of these root crops in storage. Methyl ester of alpha naphthalene acetic acid, which prevents or retards sprout growth in potatoes also will retard root and top growth in the root Treating turnips to prevent sprout spilage has proved effective. Left, treated; right, untreated turnips.

Sweden Long Known For Quality Iron

Sweden has been noted as a producer of high-quality products for most of its 600 years as an iron-making nation. For a time, too, it was one of the leading producing countries in the world, although now it produces less than 1 per cent of world output.

The military successes of Gustavus Adolphus in the first half of the 17th century have been attributed in large part to the superior munitions produced from Swedish ore and Swedish iron. Not for two centuries afterwards was the principal reason for this superiority discovered—the chemical composition of certain of the iron ores found in Sweden.

Those ores were not only rich in iron, they were also very low in phosphorus or even almost free of that steel-contaminating element. Further, because of the lack of coal, charcoal has been widely used as a fuel for the Swedish iron industry—thus avoiding possible further contamination of the iron by sulphur.

Double-Blade Saw

Two buck-saw blades are desirable on the farm, with one fine and one coarse blade. The combined tightener consists of two straight bars mortised loosely and bolted in the frame at one end, while at the other end they are movable in a groove on the inside of the frame.

Benefit of Artificial Insemination of Bees

Artificial insemination is not new. It has stood the test and is being successfully applied in animal husbandry. Its use with bees was delayed until recent work by the federal experiment stations pointed the way to artificial insemination to improve honey yield.

The advantages will be possible to improve stock to a high degree. The practice will not immediately be practiced by bee raisers but will be limited to experiment stations and specialists who are now in a position to furnish improved honeybee stock by this method of breeding. The necessity for increased bee population may be aided by this method. It is also important that farmers time their spraying so as not to kill off large numbers of bees, as has been the case in the past.

Use High Frequency in Sterilization of Eggs

By sterilizing the egg, killing the germ, better keeping quality is secured from market eggs when subjected to high frequency. The principle is somewhere between radio and diathermy.

Certain bacteria on the shell are also destroyed and the white of the egg is slightly stiffened, so that when broken in the frying pan the yolk stands out above it, producing a better cooking egg.

Towel Care

A few suggestions for the care of towels include rotating supplies by putting freshly laundered towels on the bottom of the pile. Mend snags or worn places in towels before they go into the wash to avoid further tearing. If the selvage shows wear, check fraying by taking several rows of stitches along the edge to strengthen it. Wash towels before they become too soiled and require extra rubbing and bleaching. Drying outdoors in the sunshine is a safe and effective way to whiten towels. Bring them in as soon as they are dry. Whipping by the wind may loosen yarns at corners and cause fraying. Whipping in the wind is especially hard on towels if they freeze on the line. Ironing makes turkish towels less absorbent and is wasted energy. Avoid spitting towels along creases by folding sometimes in halves and sometimes in thirds. And last but not least, men in the family should not use towels to wipe off razor blades.

Effective Use of DDT In the Poultry House

While DDT offers little encouragement for the control of the common chicken mite, it has proven effective in the control of other insects that infest the poultry house.

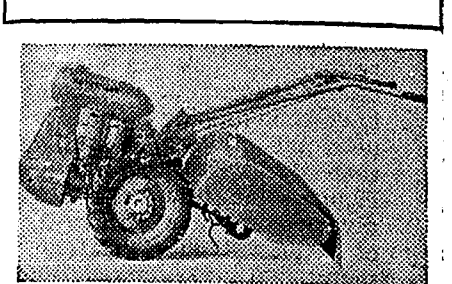

When 3 per cent DDT is added to kerosene and painted on the roosts it is effective in controlling bed bugs. New Jersey station found the 3 per cent dust combination effective when applied to nests.

When sprayed over the roosts and droppings it has proven effective against maggots.

For the control of flies and mosquitoes, a 5 per cent solution should be used during the height of the season. At other times a 2 1/2 per cent solution will prove satisfactory.

A 2 per cent suspension or dust with 5 per cent DDT powder will rid poultry of blue bugs.

Improved Machinery Rototiller

Instead of turning the ground over as the plow does, the Rototiller churns and thoroughly crumbles the soil with steel claws which rotate rapidly in paddlewheel fashion. The depth of tillage is adjustable. This new rototiller is produced by Graham-Paige Motors at Willow Run, Mich.

Carrots Keep Better With Foliage Removed

Carrots placed in storage will keep considerably better if the tops are removed first, according to results ascertained at Cornell University. There are other advantages, saving in space and in shipping and handling cost when the carrots are marketed.

By removing the tops, the moisture is conserved for the roots. The saving in moisture is reported at about 40 per cent.

What is your GUESS? on our profits...

SOMETIMES, although an idea is wrong, it does no harm. Like the idea that a square jaw is the sign of will power. That winters aren't as severe as they used to be, or that red hair denotes quick temper.

But there are other wrong ideas, which are definitely harmful to public confidence in and understanding of industry. One such idea is the current "guessing" about profits made by large business organizations.

Many people are apt to grossly exaggerate the money made by business. So Opinion Research Corporation (an independent organization) made a survey to learn just what the public thinks about profits. Compare these guesses and yours with the International Harvester profit figures given below.

Public guess on war profits... 30.0%
 I H four war year average profit... 4.9%

In this survey, the average of the guesses by the public of the war-time profits made by industry was... thirty per cent (30%).

But in the four war years of 1942, 1943, 1944, and 1945, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged only... 4.9% on sales. Less than one sixth of what the general public "guessed" for all industry.

For this period, the year by year per cent of profits on sales was: 1942—7.34, 1943—5.59, 1944—3.95, 1945—3.93.

Public guess on peace profits 18.0%
 I H four pre-war year average profit... 7.17%

In the four peace years of 1938, 1939, 1940, and 1941, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged... 7.17%. This is well under half of what the public "guessed" for all industry.

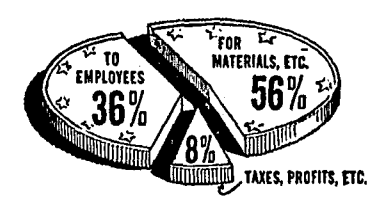

Majority think fair profit in normal times is... 10%
 I H ten-year average is less than 7%

The survey indicates the public knows that in our economy profits are indispensable. And the majority regard 10% as a fair rate of profit in normal times. Many large businesses, including ourselves, would consider it a banner year if we could reach this figure. Our average profit for the last ten years—four war and six peace—was 6.43%—more than a third less than what the public considers fair.

All these figures show that our profits are not high. As a matter of fact, the entire farm machinery industry is a low profit industry. In 1944, the Federal Trade Commission published a list of 76 industries ranked in order of their ratio of profits to sales. The farm machinery industry was 57th on the list.

When the War ended and we planned our peace-time production, we had hoped to be able to serve our farmer customers at the same level which has held since 1942, regardless of war-time increases in costs of wages and materials up to that time. But recent developments have forced a change in our plans.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

Germany Led in Prewar Output, Use of Nitrogen

The leading prewar producers of nitrogen were Germany, Chile, Japan and the United States. German production was nearly three times that of Chile and in fact slightly exceeded the combined production of Chile, Japan and the United States. The production of these latter three varied from each other by less than 20,000 tons a year. Germany also was the largest consumer of chemical nitrogen; the United States, Japan and France followed in order. German consumption was about 70 per cent greater than that of the United States, more than double that of Japan and nearly 3 1/2 times that of France.

Germany ranked fifth with regard to the quantity of nitrogen used per unit area of arable land and fourth on the basis of arable land and permanent meadows and pastures. Consumers of more nitrogen than Germany per unit of arable land were: The Netherlands, more than twice as much; the Belgo-Luxemburg Economic union, 50 per cent more; Japan, about 40 per cent more; and Egypt, about 11 per cent more. Germany in turn used more than 12 times as much nitrogen per unit of arable land as the United States, which ranked 22nd. The Belgo-Luxemburg Economic union, the Netherlands and Japan exceeded Germany in the use of nitrogen per unit area of arable land and permanent meadows and pastures. The United States ranked 13th in this category.

Good Management Brings High Farm Woodlot Return

Cash returns from farm woodlots of $1.33 per hour for labor, $8.50 per acre or 12 1/2 per cent interest on capital investment can be expected when the woodland is properly and efficiently managed, Herbert A. Flueck, state conservationist for the soil conservation service, said. This was the average net income realized by 25 "high income group" operators out of a total of 89 farmers in Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota who kept records on their woodlot operations the past six years.

Records represent the first large-scale source of information on just how much a farmer can expect to profit from his woodland. Net incomes of 39 farmers in the "medium" group and the remaining 25 in the "low" group were correspondingly lower but still high enough to prove that farmers can profit from their woodlot operations, Flueck said. Some management conclusions drawn from the records are: (1) Ordinary farm woodlots produced surprisingly high returns when the operator fully utilized his own labor in getting out wood products. (2) Growing wood is important but utilization is more important. When farmers harvest posts, logs, fuel and other products for sale, they make higher incomes. (3) The more a farmer works in his woodlot, the higher the net return.

Chemical Warfare

The chemical warfare service grew from a temporary expedient in World War I to meet the challenge of German introduction of gas, flamethrowers and aerial incendiaries. The CWS was formally established July 1, 1920, under the provisions of the National Defense act of that year, and is unique among the branches of the army in that it is identified with its own material from the test tube to the battlefield. It conceives, manufactures and uses its own weapons. Though its basic items were designed originally for gas warfare, many of them have been put to highly effective current use. Its bombs now are carrying fire instead of gas to the enemy, other containers release smoke in lieu of lethal fumes and the chemical mortar fires incendiary, smoke and high explosive instead of gas.

Tax Diversions

Oregon in 1919 was the first state to tax gasoline for highway purposes and others rapidly adopted this means of raising revenue. In 1925, this tax was used for something else for the first time. Up to 1932, raiding the gas tax was nominal, but in the past 12 years, the states have been dipping in more and more until the staggering total of more than $2,000,000,000 was reached. Figures for 1943 show $155,455,000 diverted from a net total receipt of $1,108,849,000 which came from motor fuel taxes, motor vehicle fees and fines, motor carrier taxes and the like. Among the states making the greatest diversions were New York, California, Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Georgia and Illinois.

London Bridge

There are 15 passenger bridges over the Thames in London county. Oldest and most famous is the so-called London bridge which, though frequently rebuilt, has occupied about the original site of Roman days. It was London's only bridge over the Thames until 1750. The historic bridge, razed in 1831, had been the first of London's stone bridges. It served the city for more than six centuries. Over it crossed the hundreds of Canterbury pilgrims, since before Chaucer's time. Holiday crowds passed over it to the Globe and other theaters, and to the bear-baitings in Southwark. It was the gateway into London for travelers landing at channel ports,

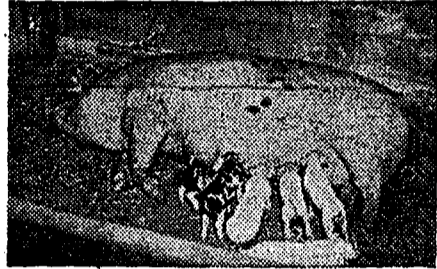

Hog Health Improved With Phenothiazine

Food Saved and Better Pigs Will Be Produced

As a worm-infested pig will require one-fifth more feed to reach the same weight as an uninfested one, any program that will do away with this enemy will result in financial gains.

Phenothiazine, a synthetic coal-tar chemical, has won first place among the drugs used for the removal of internal parasites from farm animals. It may be easily administered to a group of pigs at one time by incorporating the required amount into almost any feed given them.

Good litters cannot be raised when hogs are worm-infested.

When administered in the feed it should be given at the rate of about 0.1 gram per pound of live weight, or about 4 grams each pig weighing about 40 pounds. Phenothiazine should be thoroughly mixed into the grain, milk or other food. Pigs under three months of age are susceptible to various toxic reactions following treatment, so care should be taken to prevent overdosing. Individual doses of pellets, tabs, or drench with a syringe, are also commonly used.

Tests have proven that phenothiazine is also partially effective against several other parasites of livestock. The USDA have estimated that this new drug is worth more than 10 million dollars annually to the livestock industry in making it possible to produce better stock, free from worms.

Soybean Stem Rot May Be Greatly Reduced

Big yields from healthy vines.

Soybeans are a soil-building crop and will bring about some improvement in the soil when grown for seed or forage in rotation with other crops, if the straw is plowed under and returned to the soil as manure.

They should not, however, be planted in the same field two years in a row if stem rot is to be avoided. The fungus that causes the disease is unknown. It is perhaps the most serious disease that has yet attacked the soybean. Like most new crops, soybeans have been relatively free from disease.

Agriculture In the News
Sheep and Wool

By W. J. DRYDEN

Catgut does not come from cats but from sheep and the chamois skin comes from sheep, not the chamois. The leather of the future may be produced from sheep pelts, formerly wasted.

In ancient times bells were tied to sheep; it was believed that the sheep grew fat on the sound of the bells.

Modern science has discovered that the glands of sheep weigh from two to four grams. The iodine content is from 0.2 to 0.3 per cent. This small amount is often the difference between health and sickness, profit and loss or success or failure.

The U. S. army found that sheepskin is the warmest of all furs. They can now be made to look like expensive furs, similar to beavers, to retail at about $150—less than one-fourth the cost of genuine beaver.

Time to Plan for Next Year's Sweet Potato Crop

If planning to grow sweet potatoes, now is the time to purchase certified seed stock. If old bed is to be utilized, it should be renewed as soon as the frost has left the soil.

To secure the best returns, use hotbeds to start the plants. More sweet potato plants can be obtained per bushel of seed bedded when electric or fire-heated beds are used. As manure is a source of disease spread, it should not be used on beds.

What Ails Butter Production

Excerpts from "News For Dairy Co-ops," a publication for Co-operative creameries, may shed some light on the mystery of what has become of milk, cream and butter. "Recommendations given by the co-op association include: 'No maximum prices on any food product unless prospective production is less than the average of official estimates of actual production for the preceding 10 years.'

"Maximum prices to milk producers at not less than cost of production on a seasonal and regional basis, plus a reasonable profit; and maximum prices on manufactured dairy products at not less than the cost of producing the milk or its products, plus a weighted average of processing costs, plus a reasonable profit."

"And, from the House itself: 'Delay in announcing a comprehensive and properly adjusted dairy program is contributing to the defeat of the stabilization program, warned Stephen Pace, chairman of the House food investigating committee, in a letter this week to President Truman, which went on to urge his active intervention.'

"Pace charged that the principal, if not the sole cause of the delay, is in the O. P. A. and the Office of the Stabilization director.

"As this is in full keeping with the expectations of this committee, you will observe that we strongly recommend that full authority as to production, pricing and distribution of milk and milk products be placed in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture. . . We hope very much that you can concur in our recommendation. . . We do now most earnestly beg you to see that immediate and appropriate action is taken to remedy the increasingly critical situation.

"An amendment to the price control bill will be offered on the floor of the House to consolidate in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture all government authority in the field of dairy products." One of the main troubles, of course is the placing of a definite ceiling on wholesale and retail dairy products, without the placing of a corresponding ceiling on the raw products, or feed and labor entering into them.

Boosting Government Salaries

There are a lot of politicians serving the government in top posts receiving $10,000 a year. Congress is putting the "O. K." on the continuance of those high salaries. The House of Representatives recently voted to give a $400 yearly pay boost to each of 980,000 government employees. A sort of "face-saver" was sprung at the same time in congress when a bill was introduced by a congressman from Illinois that provided for dropping some 200,000 federal workers from the payroll.

That is an oft-repeated suggestion on Capitol Hill, but it never goes through—apparently just the same old bluff!

"HOW'D YOU LIKE TO CUT DIESEL REPAIRS 50%?"

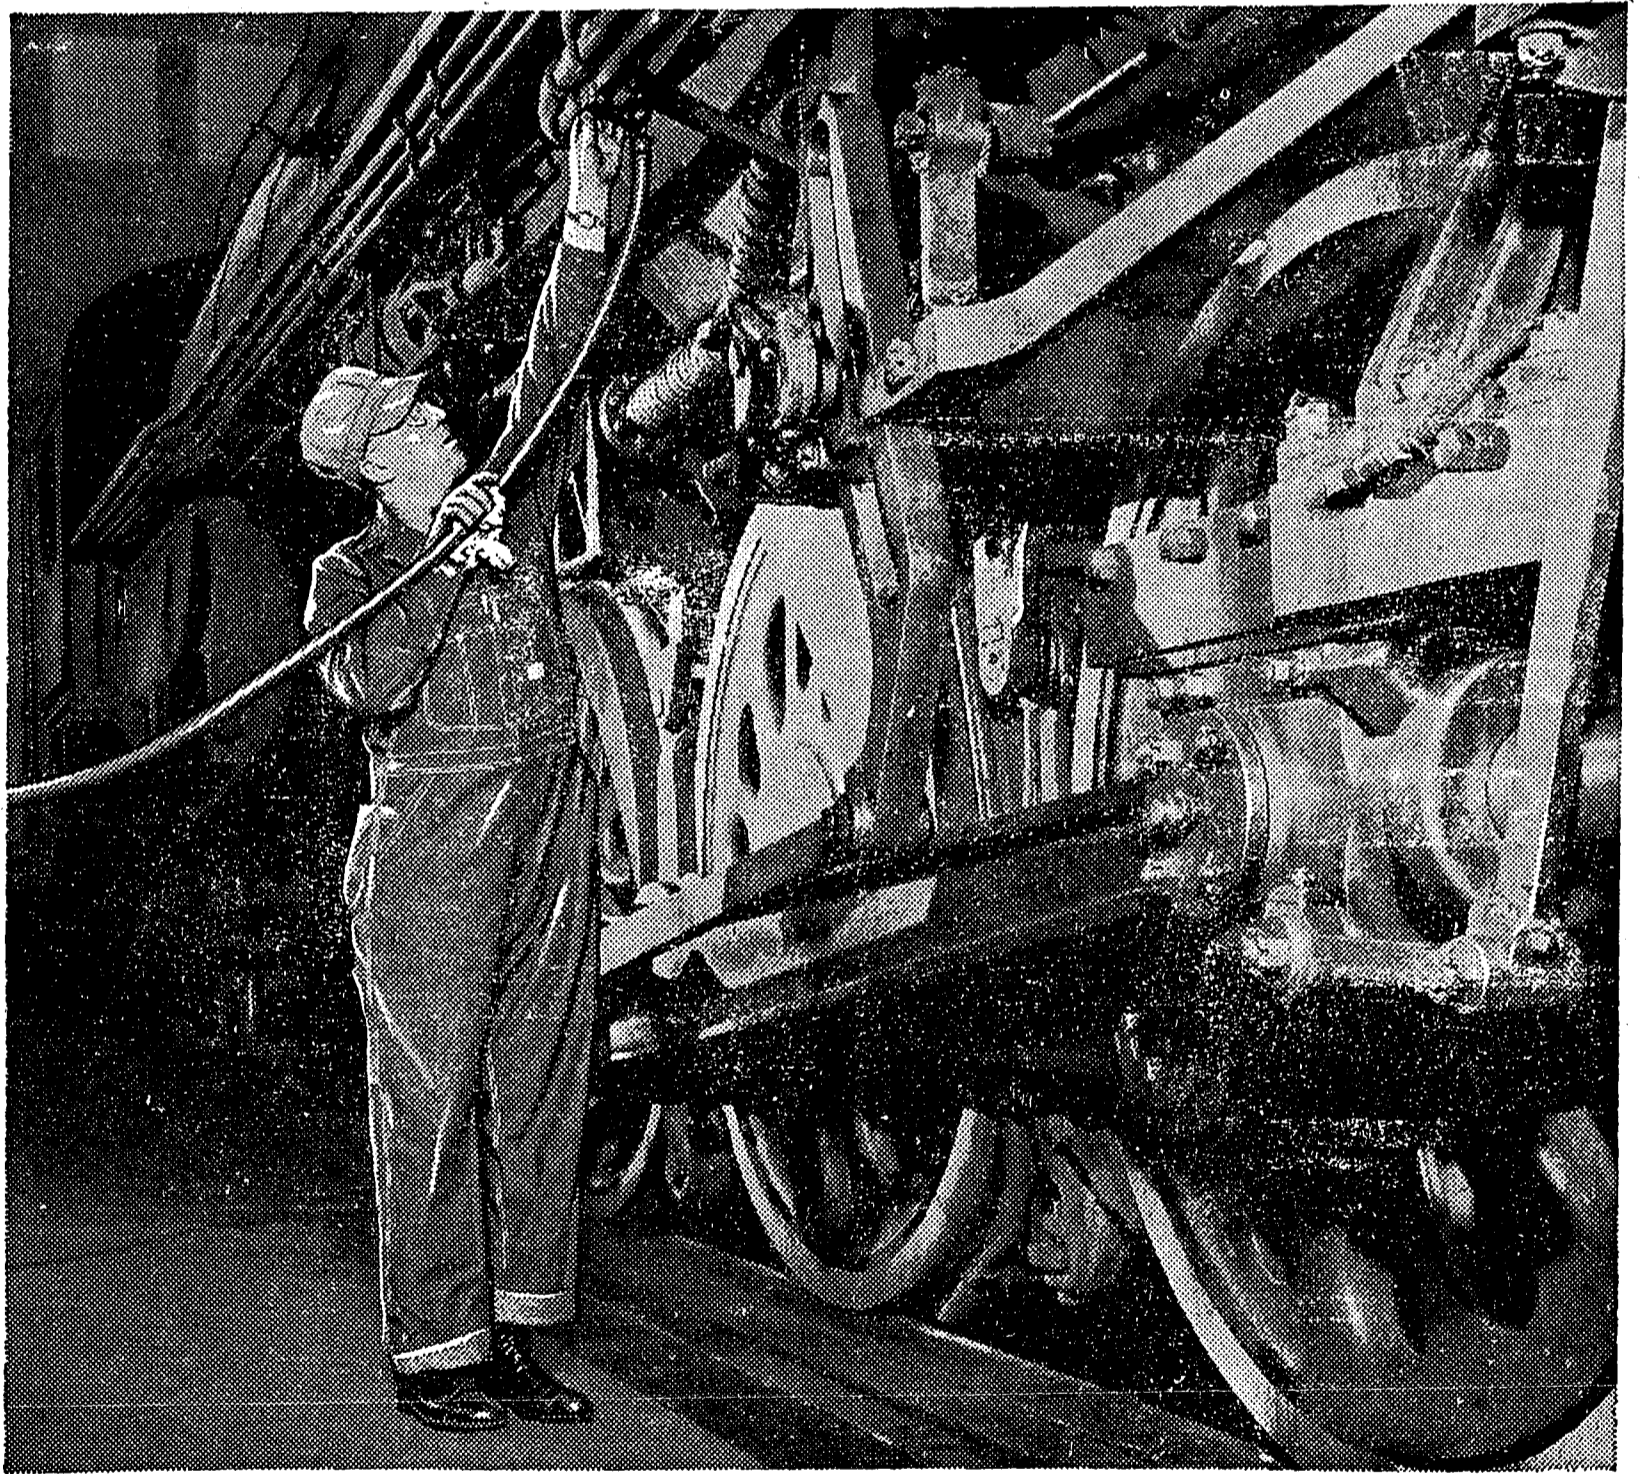

Folks using RPM DELO, the Diesel Engine Lubricating Oil that stretches time between overhauls, say it cuts repairs as much as 50%. And that's right, neighbors—RPM DELO Oil protects your Diesel, gives it longer life. Compounds in RPM DELO Oil make it stop ring-sticking and corrosion, cut carbon and sludge, stick to hot spots. The Navy uses it, too. Try it today!

MAIN STREET

The rubber hitching post on Main Street

As compressed air in that slender hose sets the brakes, roundhouse mechanics will give this 250-ton Northern Pacific locomotive a whirlwind going-over . . . cleaning, greasing, adjusting or complete overhauling.

These "hitching posts," symbols of train-maintenance on the Main Street Of The Northwest, are part of a vast backstage world in railroading . . . a world of locomotive pits, roundhouses, turntables, car shops; plants fully equipped to provide everything from upholstery tacks to driving wheels. Year after year, N. P. invests huge sums in new, ultra-modern shop facilities.

All of this is a gilt-edged investment in the community we call Main Street. In three-quarters of a century, we have seen this region grow from wilderness to a rich domain of farms, orchards, mines, forests and factories. By efficient service to shippers and travelers, we have a part in making Main Street's future brighter still.

Waiter: "May I help you with the soup, sir?"

Diner: "What do you mean, help me? I don't need any help."

Waiter: "Sorry, sir. From the sound I thought you might wish to be dragged ashore."

"What is the difference," asked the teacher, "between caution and cowardice?"

Johnny: "Caution is when you are afraid, and cowardice is when the other fellow's afraid."

The average American isn't doing so badly these days. He has a nice price ceiling over his head; confusion to clothe him; labor-management differences to keep him warm; his own words to eat, and promises to protect his future.

Philosopher: "It is hard indeed, to lose all one's relatives."

Financier: "Hard? It's impossible!"
