PORTLAND CASH WHEAT REMAINS AT CEILING

The prices in the domestic grain markets were practically unchanged during the past week. The supply situation became more difficult with reduced movement from producing areas, and the demand at terminal markets was greatly increased, according to the P & M administration of the U. S. D. A. Flour millers and feed manufacturers in some areas were reported unable to secure sufficient stocks of wheat to keep their inventories up to the limits permissible under their manufacturing quotas. Trading in futures markets was practically at a standstill, largely confined to occasional trades in May option as per market reports.

The cash wheat situation at Portland was unchanged, with practically no trading. Trade reports indicate that the day-to-day offerings from country warehouse and elevator operators and country grain dealers were extremely light for this season of the year when stocks should be moving from country storage to make room for new crop. The receipts of wheat at the Pacific Northwest terminals were somewhat lower the past week, consisting of 974 cars to Columbia river and 834 to Puget Sound terminals. A large percentage of this wheat is reported to be going to terminal elevators for export.

Cash wheat prices in the Portland Grain Exchange showed: Soft white, soft white (no Rex), white club, western white, western red and hard red winter all at $1.66 1/4 per bushel, basis No. 1 grade, in bulk, 15-day shipment for coast delivery. No asked prices were posted.

The San Francisco wheat market held firm at ceiling prices during the week. Demand was keen from all classes of trade, but offerings were increasingly scarce and were far short of market needs. Bay region flour mills were actively in the wheat market while the keen demand from mixed feed manufacturers and dealers reflected the scarcity of other important feed items. Most users were endeavoring to maintain their wheat inventories up to the maximum limits provided in marketing regulations. Central California marketings also remained small with the old crop out of first hands and with the new crop still several months away. Rains improved the outlook for central California crops and growers sold additional supplies at ceilings at the time of shipment. Bids to California growers generally were on the basis of around $2.95 per 100 lbs. No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white wheat, sacked, country warehouse receipt basis.

The cash grain market at Kansas City was entirely bare of offerings. Decidedly reduced receipts indicated dwindling farm marketings. There were scant offerings to buyers in a position to meet requirements of the control order. Receipts totaled 597 cars compared with 902 a week ago. Shipments of wheat from terminal elevator storage under directive of the CCC totaled 1,561 cars. Public elevator stocks decreased 1,585,162 bushels and stood at 6,326,349. Wheat receipts at the nine principal southwestern markets totaled 1,580 cars for the week as compared with 2,655 cars a week ago.

The Minneapolis grain supply situation showed further tightening during the week as country movement decreased and demand became more intensified. Mills ground wheat faster than they received it and with most of them carrying inventories below specified limits, amounts of "excess" wheat made available to the CCC was quite light in view of the scheduled export program. The wheat movement of the past few weeks following improved car situation represented almost entirely elevator clean outs, and country advices indicate that new farm marketings are almost negligible. Impassable roads and spring field work were factors working against country deliveries of the small stocks still remaining on farms. However, prompt liquidation of these farm holdings is urgent.

Weather conditions during the week were generally favorable for root and top growth of all small grains. Winter wheat is greening to the northern border states with considerable general improvement noted. Rains brought some relief to the crop in the dry areas in the western plains and in some sections of the Rocky mountain states and the southwest. In Kansas and Nebraska progress of the wheat crop was good to excellent with considerable improvement in the west as a result of additional moisture. Spring wheat is being seeded in Washington state and preparations are under way in the north central states. Early sown oats in the main belt are up to a good stand and are heading in the more southern districts.

Indicated planting of 18,961,000 acres of all spring wheats are in prospect this year, or 1.6 per cent larger than the 18,658,000 acres planted last year, and about 450,000 acres less than the average. Of the spring wheat plantings, 2,447,000 acres will be in durum wheats this year, compared with only 2,010,000 acres planted last year.

Large Crowd At Dance

What is believed to be the largest dance crowd in Kendrick since last Fourth of July, was present for the baseball benefit dance at the gym. last Friday evening. Rocky Star and his orchestra turned out good music, and the floor was good — what more could any dance addict ask?

It is sincerely to be hoped that as large a crowd will attend the Junior Prom, scheduled for Wednesday evening, May 8, at the gym., when Carl Painter and his seven-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Fine Progress On Pool

M. C. Halliday, Orville and Walter Sparber and Jack Kuykendall made fine progress on the Area Living War Memorial Swim Pool the past week. Besides getting the big anchor block set on bedrock, they also were able to put in a considerable portion of the base plate forms and twist in the re-inforcing steel, install the bottom drain, and get some other footage forms started.

The million-dollar rain which began falling early Monday morning effectively cancelled work for a couple of days, as it turned the bottom of the excavation into a very slippery place.

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

Shong-Fu, Korea
April 18, 1946

Dear Mac and Bill:
I have been moving around quite a lot lately and have acquired a new address again.

We left Seattle, Washington, on March 15 on the "Le Grande Victory." Nearly everyone got seasick the first two days out. We hit a pretty bad storm during that time. The lights went out, the ship lost two cargo booms and about a dozen life-rafts, which weren't securely lashed down. One of the Merchant Marine crewmen died aboard ship, so our course was changed and we stopped at Honolulu, Hawaii, for one night. We sure wanted to get off the ship and see the city, but of course, weren't allowed to.

A couple of days later I was out on deck watching some flying fish, when a mine came into sight — we just missed it by about 100 feet! I could see the points sticking out from it. They sure clamped down on us then and there and saw to it that we carried or wore our life jackets at all times.

We finally sailed into the Yellow Sea and anchored at Jinsen, Korea. Since the Sea is very shallow here we had to go ashore in landing barges. After landing we stood around on shore for about two hours and waited for a train — which finally came and we boarded it, and rode to Yongdurgpo. While we were there we slept in an old silk factory, with our cots set up amongst the machinery. This place is a processing center, and I got separated from all my buddies and sent down here to Chong-Ju.

We are receiving some additional training here, and everyone is sure disgusted with it, as it is just a review of what we had in basic. There is to be eleven weeks of this — and besides our training, we have regular guard duty in town.

I haven't seen any modern stores of any kind. The people are filthy dirty. Some of the things they sell at their market places have such an odor that you have to hold your nose as you walk by. There isn't anything to buy here, and if there was, it would be expensive, as there is quite an extensive black market and inflation. About the only place one can go here is to the Red Cross hut, there they serve free coffee and doughnuts.

I was surely glad to hear that Kendrick won the Northern Division Championship in the basketball tournament. It is too bad they were defeated in the State — but they did mighty fine. I surely wish I could have been there to see the games, and I hope to be there to see them in the state tourney next year.

I'm going to try to get a pass this week-end to look up Tom Long. I have his address and he isn't so very far from here. It sure would be grand to see someone I know.

I haven't received a copy of the paper since I left Fort Ord, and I'm sure anxious to receive some of the home-town news. A fellow really misses that.

Sincerely,
Wally Newman.

My address is:
Pvt. Wallace R. Newman 39496426
Co. M, 17th Regt., APO No. 7
c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Cal.
Our note: Thanks for the letter, Wally, and we're going to do our best to get the paper to you. They tell us that since the end of the war G. I. mail service is particularly rotten, but imagine they will get there in time.

From his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sillow, comes the following new address for their son:
Sgt. Roy O. Sillow 39483202
Hq. Co., 1179 Eng. Constn. Group
APO 503, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Our Note: We suggest that parents, relatives or friends cut out and forward these new addresses to overseas men, as they will reach them by regular mail considerably in advance of the paper.

Wheat Crop Outlook Good

At the quarterly meeting of the North Pacific Grain Growers in Spokane recently, it was brought out that the prospects are good for a huge wheat crop in the Pacific Northwest.

The North Pacific organization is the marketing agency for about 40 grain growers' cooperatives in Washington, Oregon and northern Idaho.

It is reported that consideration was given at the meeting to a campaign to force railroads serving the Pacific Northwest to grant lower freight rates on wheat, based on the reduced transportation cost when wheat is shipped by rail to Pasco and reshipped by barge to Portland. The reduction in rail rates would amount to about 2 1/2¢ a bushel for Palouse country growers, it is understood.

Remodeling Going On

Walter Hartung has been busy this week installing some new back bar fixtures and cabinets and remodeling the booths in Burt's Confectionery. The high backs are being cut from the booths, making them to regular height.

At White's Confectionery two new chrome and leather tables and chair sets have been installed, as well as a late-model, thermostatically controlled electric cooking grill.

At the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery Maribel Schupfer has been redecorating the office and serving bar in the outer office and serving new ice cream cabinet they recently installed. The appearance is very neat and clean.

Kendrick Drops Ball Game

Last Sunday the Kendrick baseball team went to Orofino for a game, and were defeated 2-1.

It is said that there were a number of fumbles on the part of both teams, but the score would seem to bear out reports that errors and fumbles alike were minor — for a 1-2 score always indicates a good game.

We are sorry that we have no further "dope" available at this time.

The car was almost a total wreck. The cause of the accident is unknown.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

I. E. A. Convention Reports

At the I. E. A. Delegate Teachers' convention held at Boise, April 25 and 26, the following recommendations were made:

"It was proposed to make the minimum salary for a teacher of no experience, with two years' training, $1,800.00. The salary schedule was to increase in proportion to training and experience. At the end of each third year, summer school attendance to be required.

"It was recommended that the minimum training for all teachers be four years; that certification laws be changed to do away with the 'blanket over-all certificate', and certificates be granted for educational fields.

"Teachers' contracts to be on a continuous basis, and that unless notified to the contrary by a certain date (such as March 1st or April 1st) the teacher is automatically rehired."

The federal Senate Bill No. 181 would provide $1,127,000 for the state of Idaho, and this was to be used for teachers' salaries.

There will be a levy of 1/2 of 1 per cent of all teacher's salaries for the fighting fund in education and this also includes the I. E. A. dues.

Many County Improvements

Expenditures totaling more than $788,000 will be made in the next few years by home owners on farms and in small communities of Latah county to improve present electric facilities and water systems.

These outlays will mean additional income to practically every local business and will include wiring, bathroom and general water system improvements and new electrical equipment for many of the county's 2,448 farm and rural homes already served with electricity, according to a recent survey.

Introduction of running water, installation of modern bathrooms and replacement of many outmoded fixtures, heads the list of most wanted farm home features.

Additional wiring or re-wiring is needed in practically every farm home with electricity, according to the study. A huge market likewise exists for milking machines, quick freezing units, electrical power fixtures, baby chick brooders, etc.

Need Game Refuges

Studies looking to the selection of several game bird refuges where pheasants may be raised under natural conditions have been undertaken by Maurice Lundy, biologist of the state fish and game department. It is the hope of the department to obtain 10 large refuges, two in each game district.

Refuges are to be operated in conjunction with the game farm program. The idea is a new departure for Idaho, but has been tried successfully in several states.

Co-operation of Pittman-Robertson authorities in obtaining suitable cover and conducting scientific investigation, is being sought by the department. Federal funds administered by Pittman-Robertson men and the states are available for wildlife restoration projects.

It's That Time Again!

With the political pot beginning to boil, and the air-waves and columns of many papers full of politics of this color and that, we again believe we should set fourth our ideas in political dealings. They are simply this: "Whenever politics appear in the columns of the Kendrick Gazette they do so as paid advertising!"

Naturally we have our own beliefs, but we feel that every man's politics and religion is his own business, and far be it from us to try to thrust our ideas upon him. Therefore, we repeat: "When politics appear in the columns of the Gazette, it is paid advertising."

Birthday Party

A group of six-year old children were invited guests at a birthday anniversary party for Jean Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, at 2:00 o'clock last Thursday afternoon.

The six-year-old guests were Paula Hall, Ray Onstott, Sharron Powell, Jerry Bateman, Patty Weaver and the honoree, Jean Jones.

Other guests were Lorraine Clemenhagen, Geraldine Onstott, Freddie Foster, Mrs. Arthur Foster, Mrs. Grant Bateman and Mrs. Manning Onstott.

Refreshments of fruit jello, ice cream and birthday cake were served at the close of the afternoon.

Brings Home "Champs' Belt"

Jack Maynard, Kendrick, and Sunny Turman of John Day, Ore., tied for first place in bareback riding at the Daniels Rodeo, Lewiston, last week-end. The two first place winners added up and split the first and second place money, and then flipped a coin to see who would get the "Champs' Belt." And Jack won the coin toss.

Kendrick and vicinity is mighty proud of Mr. Maynard's performance, in that Sunny Turman won the world's championship for bareback riding last year.

The belt, a beautiful hand-tooled one with sterling silver buckle, clasp and end guard is now on display at the Gazette office.

Twenty-Seven Law Violations

Twenty-seven arrests were reported during March by conservation officers of the Idaho Fish and Game department.

People who couldn't wait for open fishing season made up the largest group of offenders. Ten were charged with fishing in closed waters. Three arrests were made for fishing without a license. There were two arrests each for seining game fish, illegal killing of deer, and shooting from a highway. An assortment of charges made up the balance of the report.

Bounty To Be Paid

Each coyote or wildcat that bites the dust this summer is worth $3.00 to its killer, James O. Beck, director of the Idaho Fish and Game department announces. The bounty was authorized at the April meeting of the fish and game commission and was effective April 15. The bounty will be paid until November 15, or until the $22,000 set aside for the program is exhausted in case that should occur before the middle of November.

Young and old predators are worth the same amount.

To receive bounty, the hunter must present the four feet of the animal to a conservation officer. The two front feet should have the cannon bone attached.

Cougar bounty continues at $50 each throughout the year. Skulls of cougar must be presented in order to obtain the premium for their destruction.

Bounty on magpies from the middle of April to October 15, will be 5c per head, the commission decided.

Weather Changeable

Following Wednesday of last week, the hottest day so far this year, with the temperature locally reaching a high of 90 degrees, Old Sol gradually "turned off the heat," the thermometer going down to a low of 36 degrees above on Tuesday morning of this week.

The hot, weather of Wednesday through Sunday sapped surface moisture in fields and pastures quite badly, and the rain which began falling Monday morning and continued for about 14 hours, was very welcome.

It was a boon to everyone, but especially to pea and clover raisers.

Joint Stock Pre-View

On May 4 there will be a pre-showing of Latah County 4-H and FFA livestock exhibits, which are to be shown at the Spokane Junior Livestock Show on May 7 to 10. There will be fifteen 4-H and twelve FFA members exhibiting 21 head of steers, fourteen head of swine and ten head of sheep entered in this pre-showing at Moscow.

Local entering are: Walter Bruce May, Kendrick; Alex Weaver, Southwick; George Lyons, Southwick and Juanita Bahr, Southwick.

Berries Off Price Controls

Fresh strawberries, red and black raspberries, dewberries and blackberries are suspended from price control for an indefinite period, OPA has announced.

The Department of Agriculture estimates the 1946 crop of berries will be 35 to 40 per cent larger than that produced in 1945, and this will tend to bring available supplies nearer into balance with demand. However, should prices raise unduly, all price controls will be immediately reinstated.

Cancer Drive Successful

In the drive for cancer control funds which just closed, the sum of $222.00 was raised in Kendrick and vicinity. Of this sum $100.00 was taken up in collections at the local theatre.

Mrs. Harley Eichner, local drive chairman, comments that this is an exceptionally fine record, and she wishes to extend her personal as well as official drive thanks to all. She adds that of this sum 60 per cent remains in Idaho, the balance going to national headquarters.

Art Exhibition In Spokane

From May 8 to May 22, the city of Spokane will be host to the Third Annual Pacific Northwest Art Exhibition which will present the works of many of the leading artists of the Pacific Northwest, and many of which are nationally recognized.

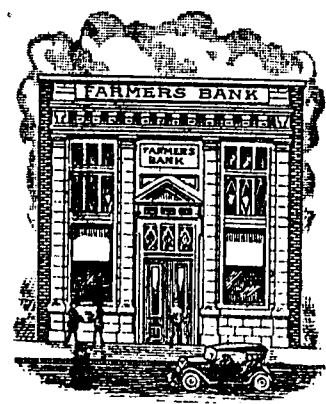

This is expected to be the most noteworthy exhibit ever assembled in Spokane, and will consist of oils, water colors and sculpture by artists from the states of Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming.

The entire exhibition is open to the public without admission charge from 10:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m. each day, May 8 through May 22, with May 19 being featured as a special

Sugar Rations

Spare stamp 49 in family ration books is good for five pounds of sugar beginning May 1, says OPA.

Based on the April 23, 1946, report of the combined food board on sugar supply, OPA expects the same consumer ration of five pounds of sugar per person for each four months can be maintained. If such is the case, the next spare stamp for regular consumer purchases of sugar will be invalidated Sept. 1, 1946.

At a theatre a man fell asleep while the curtain-raiser was being played. When the main play came on, his daughter nudged him and whispered, "Charley's Aunt."

Work Clothing Prices

As a result of increases in raw cotton prices and textile and apparel wages, the OPA has increased the prices of staple work clothing purchased by laborers and farmers, to meet the requirements of law. The action, effective April 17, raises manufacturers' prices of overalls, work shirts, overall jackets, etc., approximately 12 to 15 per cent above previous prices. Since it has been found that wholesalers and retailers will be unable to absorb the increase, it will mean that consumers will pay, for example, $1.70 instead of $1.40 at most independent stores for a sanitized chambray work shirt, and $2.72 instead of $2.44 for sanforized denim bib overalls. It is believed that this increase will result in a more plentiful supply.
