Kathleen Crawford and Teddy Meyer served as waiters the first week, with Glynes Thornton acting as head waitress.

School Notes (This Week)

Our new librarian, Kathleen Crawford, has been spending much of her spare time in re-arranging our library and putting it in first-class order.

New window curtains of white and yellow were put up this week by Barbara Silflow, schoolroom commissioner.

This week's showings in Visual Education included the following films: "People of the Congo," which showed the homes, dress and customs of the natives, which were very interesting. The photography of this film, along with the commentary, were excellent. "Help Wanted" showed very clearly, with demonstrations and comments, the essentials of First Aid. Three things were stressed in connection with first aid — Learn what is wrong, know what to do, and know how to do it. "Magic Fibers" traced the story of paper from the forests of the Pacific Northwest through one of the newest and most modern pulp mills of Washington, until the finished product was in evidence. "4-H Club, What It Is and What It Does" was another interesting film, especially to the members of our 4-H clubs. "Protection Against Invasion," a colored Walt Disney cartoon, explained very interestingly the value of vaccinations. It appealed especially to the smaller students.

WHEAT MARKETS QUIET — TRADING VOLUME DOWN

The wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest were quiet and slightly easier, with reduced trading during the past week, according to reports to the Production and Marketing Administration by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Uncertainty prevailed in the cash wheat markets in this area for a few days during the week as a result of the Commodity Credit Corporation announcing a change in their method of buying wheat. Some members of the trade were fearful that the C. C. might withdraw from the market temporarily and without this support, prices could well decline to around the loan value. The volume of trading was somewhat reduced according to reports in the trade, but the C. C. continued to accept offerings. The car situation has greatly improved and the suspension of the C. C. service Order No. 454 will permit the feed trade, flour mills and seed trade, as well as other industries, to share in the supply of available box cars. Wheat prices are practically unchanged from the previous week except for the highest milling qualities, which are 2c to 5c per bushel higher.

Wheat shipments by water from the Pacific Northwest ports during August amounted to 1,494,000 bushels — from Portland, 474,000; Longview, 377,000; Vancouver, 275,000; and Tacoma, 370,000 bushels. The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced on September 12 that a total of 875,000 long tons of U. S. grain and grain products had been exported during the month of August. In addition about 9,000 long tons of Canadian wheat milled in bond had been shipped, making a total of 884,000 long tons shipped from the U. S. during August, raising the total exports of U. S. grain and grain products since July 1, to 1,817,000 long tons.

Cash wheat prices in the Portland market during the week were unchanged for the ordinary grades of wheat, but the highest milling types were 2c to 5c per bushel higher. The increase of 20c per 100 during the week on flour ceilings resulted in the flour mills becoming more active in the wheat market, and no doubt the flour production in this area will be greatly increased. Wheat receipts at Pacific Northwest terminals during the past week were the largest for any week so far this crop year, consisting of 1,088 cars at Columbia river and 852 cars at Puget Sound terminals, compared with 585 and 401 cars, respectively, for the previous week.

Bid prices on the Portland Grain Exchange were as follows: Soft white, soft white (no Rex), white club, western red and hard red winter, all $1.82 per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade, bulk, 15-day shipment, coast delivery.

The San Francisco wheat market was quiet and appeared barely steady during the past week. Local demand was far from active and while central California wheat marketings remained small, offerings from the Pacific Northwest and Intermountain shippers appeared somewhat larger than other recent weeks. Receipts from these out-of-state markets apparently would have been considerably larger except for difficulties in securing freight cars, since quotations were well in line with the San Francisco market. Bay region demand for feed wheat was considerably smaller than a year ago, due to decreased poultry flocks and less satisfactory feeding ratios. Feeders were also hesitant in making any important purchases of wheat for later needs because of the prospect of other feeds at cheaper prices. Bay region mills continued to fill most of their wheat needs in Pacific Northwestern and Intermountain markets. Markets were: California No. 1 hard or soft white wheats, $3.50 to $3.55, sacked; Washington-Oregon No. 2 soft white $3.35, bulk.

At Kansas City cash wheat prices were moderately higher compared with a week ago. However, trading held closely to previously established channels and apparently was un-moved by the announcement of higher flour ceilings. While good demand prevailed for wheat throughout the week, buyers showed considerable shyness in view of the uncertainty regarding competitive government buying. Mill buying indicated only a moderate improvement after the announcement of new flour ceilings. Very conservative buying was also in evidence by warehousemen and feed manufacturers. At the close of the week dealings were based largely on $1.96 for No. 1 hard wheat.

Minneapolis mills did a large flour business following upward revision in flour ceilings, and mill demand was reported as active. Receipts were moderately good at 2,574 cars at Minneapolis and 2,292 at Duluth. Best grades of spring wheat for milling were up about 3c per bushel. At Minneapolis no C. C. buying of wheat under the new purchase program took place during the week. General rains in most of the northern states and great plains area furnished adequate soil moisture for fall plowing and seeding of grain. Seeded grains in New Mexico and Texas are up to a good stand and looking excellent.

In western Europe wet and unsettled weather slowed up completion of the harvest in some areas, but thus far there are no reports of lower estimates of production. Official reports from the United Kingdom on September 1, show weather conditions as unusually wet and stormy and harvest prospects declined very rapidly. Unless the weather quickly improves, indications are that wheat yields will be lowered materially.

Suffers Severe Leg Injury

Edgar Dammarell is nursing a very severe set of bruises on his left ankle these days, as a result of injuries suffered Monday while assisting in the installation of a new hydraulic grease lift for cars at Bob's Garage.

The big cylinder for the hoist was being lowered into its hole from an A-frame hoist mounting, when suddenly the framework "kicked" out at the bottom, striking Mr. Dammarell and throwing him against an air compressor. One of the heavy timbers struck his ankle, and it was thought that he had suffered a broken leg. However, an X-ray showed no bones broken — just severe bruises.

MEYER-SILFLOW NUPTIALS HIGHLIGHT FALL SEASON

In a setting of asters, dahlias, and lighted candelabra, Miss Margaret Doris Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer of Cameron, and Marvin F. Silflow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Silflow of Cameron, were united in marriage on Monday, September 16, at 2:00 o'clock at the Emmanuel Lutheran church in Cameron. The Rev. Theo Meske officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony, in the presence of numerous relatives and intimate friends.

Miss Beverly Schupfer played the wedding march, and accompanied Miss Dorothy Meyer, a sister of the bride, who sang, "God Gave Me You" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. Mrs. Meske played the prelude.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of the traditional white satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and leg's-mutton sleeves with bouffant skirt extending into a long train. She wore gold earrings which have been in her family for three hundred years. Net and lace made up her finger-tip veil. Her bouquet was of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Miss Ida Marie Silflow, a sister of the groom, attired in an aqua net gown, and Miss Dorothy Meyer, a sister of the bride, dressed in a gown of peach crepe, were bridesmaids. They each carried nosegays.

Emil Silflow, brother of the groom, served as best man, and ushers were Harold Silflow, another brother, and Sherman Schmidt, the bride's uncle.

Loueda Meyer, baby sister of the bride, made a darling flower girl, accompanied by her handsome little cousin, Lyle Parks, who was ring bearer.

Mrs. Meyer, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black and white. Mrs. Silflow, the groom's mother, wore gold and brown, and each had a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was given following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table, lace covered, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. After the bridal couple had cut the first piece, the remainder was cut and served by Mrs. Margaret Parks, an aunt of the bride; Miss Gertrude Widmer, the bride's cousin. Mrs. Harold and coffee urn. Other assistants were the Messe Marjorie Wendt, Esther Wendt, Gladys Silflow and Irene Heimgartner.

Mrs. Silflow is a graduate of the Southwick high school, and was just recently graduated as a registered nurse from the Deconess hospital, Spokane.

Mr. Silflow received his education at the Kendrick High school, and was discharged from the army last spring.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Yellowstone Park. For traveling Mrs. Silflow wore a suit of cherry-coke color with alligator accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Cameron, where Mr. Silflow is engaged in farming with his father and brothers.

There were about 100 guests present at the wedding. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Widmer, daughter Gertrude and son Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Wegner; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wegner; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hanson; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Huntton; Mrs. Alvina Groh; Mrs. Lena Koopp; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Havercroft; Mrs. Ernestine Riggers and Mrs. Marie Larson.

The scheduled departure of the newlyweds was interrupted by pranksters, who jacked-up their car, etc., detaining them far enough into the evening to tender them a "tin-can serenade."

Hall In Kendrick Tuesday Eve

Kendrick was visited by a brief but very heavy hall storm Tuesday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, and when the brief storm ended and a heavy rain began falling, the ground was white with the stones, which were about the size of peas.

So heavy was the fall that despite the rain the stones were visible in protected areas a good hour after they had ceased falling.

The hard rain continued for about an hour, filling storm gutters in town to capacity, and causing many farmers living off graveled roads to trip on chains before attempting the trip home.

Many say that this combination storm means the end of all harvesting operations with the exception of beans.

Mrs. D. A. Christensen will entertain the Kenneth Brocke Circle at 2:00 Friday afternoon. Members are urged to be present.

Campaign Warming Up

In this issue of the Gazette appear the first ads. in the forthcoming political campaign — and no doubt there will be many more of them between now and election day.

Appreciating this fact, we again want to say that whatever politics appear in the Kendrick Gazette it will be paid matter. We take no sides, so far as the paper is concerned in local, state or national politics.

However, we do not think we are stepping over this line when we mention the fact that the names of two local residents will appear on the county ballot this fall — those of G. F. Brocke and King D. Ingle, both on the Democratic ticket.

Scientists have reached the conclusion through astronomical, geological and chemical studies, that the earth's hard crust was formed not less than 1,600,000,000 years ago.

March Of Dimes Campaign
Ben Johnson, attorney of Preston, has been named campaign chairman for the annual March of Dimes in Idaho, to be held Jan. 14 through 31, inclusive.

Recipient of the Distinguished Service Award for the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Johnson has also served as state president and as a national director of the Jacec organization. He was also Franklin county war bond chairman for all bond drives.

During the 1946 campaign, Idaho residents contributed $50,277.05 to the March of Dimes campaign. Motion picture collections totaled $12,936.12, while the county committees received $37,340.93.

Although Idaho has not as yet experienced an epidemic this year, the number of cases has tripled over those of last year. On Aug. 25 of last year, there were three cases listed in Idaho against 10 for this year to that date. Since Aug. 25th, six more cases have been reported, making this year's total 16, two of which were visitors now returned to other states.

"Once a year, in the period Jan. 14 to 31, everyone has the opportunity, by contributing to the March of Dimes, to take part in the fight against polio, the enemy of childhood," Johnson points out.

"To carry out its program, whether of aid to individuals, special assistance to epidemic areas, education or research, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is dependent on the continued interest and contributions of the American public."

Mrs. Lester Nelson is teaching in the Deary schools again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Rode (nee Neva Nelson) of Great Falls, Mont., have purchased Mrs. Bennett's Grocery store in Deary.

Mrs. Olaf Burnvick spent several days in the Gritman hospital in Moscow, recently.

Miss Beverly Carol Garner of Kellogg, Idaho, and Deryl Ingle, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ingle, were united in marriage at the Federated church in Kellogg last week. Several relatives from here attended the ceremony. After a wedding trip to coast cities the couple will live in Moscow, where they will resume their college studies. The groom, a B-24 bomber pilot during the war, was commissioned a first lieutenant.

Miss Elsie Knutson of Spokane recently visited her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowers are visiting Mr. Bower's parents in Pasco, Wn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleth, Ingvald Kleth and Mrs. Floyd McGraw spent Tuesday at the L. Morrison home in Moscow.

Strike Good Water Flow

The Oscar Slind family is feeling very happy these days, after a well drilling outfit hit water at their home last Saturday at a depth of 147 feet, the test pumping showed a flow of between 125 and 150 gallons per hour.

Last spring a hole was punched to a depth of about 400 feet at another spot on the ranch, but only a mere trickle of water was found — not enough to be worth installing a pump.

The new shaft is sunk into porous rock, so no sand difficulties will be encountered.

Double Feature Scheduled

This week's offering at the local theatre will be a double feature. First of these is a ship-board musical comedy entitled "Sing Your Way Home," which details the adventures of a war correspondent with a troop of traveling entertainers.

The second offering is entitled "Dick Tracy" and is, as the name suggests, a detective and murder mystery that is said to be a "chiller." The usual cartoon and news will round out the entertainments.

Better Check Your Wiring

In the September issue of the Ladies Home Journal appears a splendid article entitled, "Watch Your Wiring."

In the September issue of McCall's there appears another, entitled: "Don't Starve Your Appliances."

Every home owner should read at least one of these articles, not only as a safety and fire prevention measure, but also to secure more efficient operation of the appliances he now has or may soon add to his home.

Undergo Surgery

Tuesday morning Mrs. Howard Southwick, Southwick, underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston.

On that same day, Mrs. Lyle Harrison, a former resident of Leland, entered the hospital for the same purpose. Both are getting along very nicely.

Youth Fellowship Meeting

The Youth Fellowship group met last Wednesday evening at the home of Agnes Baker, where choir practice was held, after which the devotional services took place. Games and refreshments followed — with fun for all.

THE PEOPLE PAY ALL OF THE COSTS

Despite many theories to the contrary, the Seattle Times observes: "The government of a nation is wholly dependent upon the people for financial support. . . . Government produces nothing. People pay the costs of their government — all the costs."

The Times goes on to describe the enormous inroads made by government into the pocketbooks of the people. In the early days, the government found sufficient support in indirect taxation — the "duties, imports and excises" specified in the Constitution. Then came direct taxation in the form of the income tax, with its steadily ascending rates. After that came the withholding tax idea — under which a certain proportion of each worker's weekly or monthly pay check is paid into the Federal treasury to support some service or other. The Social Security law which, as the Times says, is based on the premise that "all the people were too unthrifty to provide for their own welfare and old age," is the prize example of this.

Now the country is threatened with one more bite in the form of the proposed, compulsory National Health Bill, generally known as the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill. To quote the Times again: "The President, some members of Congress and some government agencies have decided that the people, as a whole, are unable to take care of their health, and government must do it for them. . . . After the health bill, the logical succession of laws must be for more pay roll withholding to provide the balanced diet, the proper apparel and the right kind of homes for all the people — all prescribed by some government official.

"What the government may try to do from there on is anybody's guess; but the safest guess is that by that time there will be nothing more of earned income to withhold."

If the American people are at last willing to admit that they are completely incapable of caring for themselves, and for making their own decisions as free agents, government will of course step in and order our lives. And, if the American people accept that premise, everything that the country stood for, everything that made the country great — private opportunity and personal liberty — is irretrievably gone!

Canned Vegetables

Consumer prices for canned vegetables of the 1946 pack will generally remain unchanged except where approved industry wage increases have been granted. Producers ceiling, effective June 24, will apply to principal canned vegetables remaining under price control — corn, peas, asparagus, tomatoes, lima beans, etc., including tomato products, such as catsup, chili sauce, purees, tomato juice and tomato sauce. Other fruit items processed with sugar and on catsup and chili sauce, ceilings will reflect a recent 1/2c per pound increase in the cost of sugar.

If one should follow precisely the needle of a compass he would travel an irregular curve leading eventually to the north magnetic pole, though not usually by a "great circle route."

R. O. T. C. Be Stepped Up

Plans to increase the military staff at the University of Idaho have been formulated by Col. B. H. Hensley to take care of the increased enrollment in Military Science for the school year 1946-1947.

The new plan is based on the War Department proposal to make funds available for payment, to each student in the Elementary course, in an amount equal to the daily ration now in effect for the army (about 68c per day). For students taking the advanced course in R. O. T. C., the payment will be in a like amount plus $1.25 per day in lieu of quarters and uniform. For veterans the above allowances are in addition to amounts received under the G. I. Bill.

Col. Hensley stated that his plan for additional instructors is subject to approval by higher headquarters and depends also on whether or not the proposed payment is made effective by congressional action. Radical changes in the programs of instruction have been instituted by the war department commencing this academic year. Subjects designed to further the development of junior officers in other than purely military matters are given a prominent place in the instruction. These subjects include: Physical development methods, geographical foundations of national power, occupied territories, psychology, personnel management and psychological warfare.

Plenty Of Oil

There is a saying that "more oil has been found in the laboratory than by the drill." This simply means that scientific developments in oil conservation and utilization have enormously expanded our present and potential supply.

Every so often some pessimist "authoritatively" forecasts that within a few years this country's oil reserves will be exhausted. All through the oil industry's 87 years of colorful history such predictions have been proven groundless. Additions to proved reserves have always been greater than current production. Further, proved reserves have uniformly turned out to be greater than original estimates indicated. A good example is the great East Texas field, discovered in 1930. It was estimated to produce a grand total of 2,000,000,000 barrels. It has already produced more than that — and its remaining reserves are estimated at about 3,000,000,000 barrels.

At this time, our proved reserves amount to more than 20,000,000,000 barrels of oil and up to 200 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. However, only about half of the 1,500,000 square miles that geologists consider potential oil territory have been explored. There is plenty of room for new discoveries, and in addition, reserves are constantly being "upped" by deeper drilling in old areas to open deeper and new sands.

Research is the backbone of the oil industry — both in producing and conserving crude oils, and in perfecting better fuels and lubricants for thousands of purposes. There is no danger of a shortage of supply here.

P.U.D. GAMBLE
COSTS TAXPAYERS OF OKANOGAN
COUNTY $40,474.26
IN ONE YEAR

Okanogan County Public Utility District No. 1 acquired the electric utility property of the Washington Water Power Company in that county in May, 1945. Figures prove that this move will cost the taxpayers of the county over $40,000 in the year 1946 alone—and there has been no reduction in rates nor increase in quality of service!

HERE ARE THE FIGURES:

Tax levied against the taxpayers of the county by the P.U.D. in 1946	$24,050.00
Loss of ad valorem tax which would have been paid to the county by Washington Water Power in 1946 had it continued to operate	$25,424.26
Less estimated receipt of privilege tax from P.U.D. in 1946	9,000.00
	16,424.26
TOTAL LOSS TO TAXPAYERS OF COUNTY IN 1946	$40,474.26

Faulty Gun May Be Cause for 'Flinching'

One of the most provoking afflictions which can visit trap and skeet shooters, and field shooters, too, for that matter, is the abominable habit of "flinching."

Flinching, according to experts, is an elusive nervous reaction which might well be termed "shooting paralysis." The "flinch" causes the shooter to react in several different ways. Sometimes he "freezes" just before he intends to pull the trigger, causing a slow shot or making it necessary that he get on the target again. At other times he closes his eyes or raises his head to get his face away from the gun stock. The most common fault, however, is to jerk the shoulder away from the butt of the gun to avoid the recoil. Sometimes the confirmed flincher combines all of these reactions.

It is sometimes hard to determine the cause of "flinching." It may be that the comb of the stock is too high, causing the shooter to take considerable of the recoil on his cheek. This can be remedied by scraping the comb down to the proper height. At any rate the first thing the flincher should do is to check his gun and find out if it fits him properly. The stock may be too long or too short. These are matters of easy correction. It may be that the grip of the gun does not fit the hand properly, thereby cramping the hand. If it is too large, it can easily be sanded down to fit. If too small it can be built up.

Find Pointed Bullets Superior in Velocity

In big or small game hunting with a rifle, the shape of the bullet plays an important part. There is a very definite reason for each bullet shape. Accuracy, shocking power and mushrooming qualities are all factors of prime consideration to the hunter.

The primary advantage of the pointed bullet is the improved ballistic performance which accompanies it, experts say. Air resistance does not cause the bullet to lose velocity as rapidly with a pointed bullet as is the case when a bullet has a round nose.

Initially, traditional lead bullets and subsequently jacketed soft point bullets had more or less round noses. At a later time pointed bullets were developed in order to gain the ballistic advantage associated with the pointed bullet. In such designs, it was necessary to try to retain the mushrooming qualities associated with the traditional soft lead point bullet. Sporting bullets with sharp lead points have not proved satisfactory because the softness of the metal tends to permit deformation in handling and in the feeding of cartridges from rifle magazine into the chamber, resulting in inaccuracy.

Mark Deer

An unusual use of paint with bows and arrows, for marking deer, was reported in six feeding ranges near Gunnison, Colo.

Rangers paint-marked 300 deer of the 4,000 in that area to determine the amount of migration during the winter from feeding station to feeding station by shooting with regular target arrows which had sponge rubber balls on the tip to hold the paint. Paint thicker than usual was used to keep it from leaving the arrow while in flight. The best color so far as visibility was concerned was yellow; blue was the poorest. The paint splattered on the deer's hide when it hit and left a spot about four inches in diameter. This could be seen a quarter of a mile away with binoculars, and it stayed on until the deer shed its winter coat.

Old Isolationist

Egyptian myths about Queen Daluka, who established effective isolation for her country more than 1,600 years before Christ, form the basis for a study of "Saitic Myths in Arabic Tradition" by Dr. H. L. F. Lutz of the University of California. Daluka, he notes in his summary of the myths, was elected queen of Egypt by the women of that country after it had been depopulated of its men when the Red sea closed over Pharaoh's armies in their pursuit of the Jews. Her policy of isolating Egypt from the rest of the ancient world was felt for almost 400 years. To achieve this isolation, Queen Daluka built a wall completely around the nation, built a corresponding moat, and placed guards and supplies of weapons at three mile intervals.

Kitchen Storage

Provide plenty of well-arranged cupboard and drawer space for convenient storage in kitchens. The width of the cupboard shelves and the space between them should be planned to fit the equipment to be stored. Shelves for dishes and food supplies may be 12 inches wide but narrower shelves are more convenient for spices and cooking supplies. Shallow drawers are excellent for silver and small tools, while deeper ones are better for towels, aprons and larger equipment. Flower and sugar bins should be large enough to hold 25 pounds. There should be a working surface 20 to 24 inches wide and a 15-inch space between the working surface and the cupboard above it.

Platforms

On a train going from one cotton picking job to another a couple of colored boys were talking politics. Rastus, who wanted to see one of the local incumbents reelected, was giving his friend, Sam, a red hot sales talk on his candidate.

"Well," Sam agreed after listening for some time, "Ah guess he's all right — but ah sho don't like his platform."

"Platfo'm!" snorted Rastus — "Platfo'm! Say, don't you know dat a political platfo'm is jes like a platfo'm on one of dese yere railroad cahs — hit ain't meant to stand on, hit's jes meant to git in on!"

Follow that Boxcar!

1. OFF TO NEW YORK. Never have so many NP boxcars been so widely scattered. To help speed famine relief food, they've been dashing off to such distant ports as New York and New Orleans. But because boxcars are scarce as new houses, it's awfully hard to get them back. Everybody wants 'em! In August, when we needed them most for grain, boxcars of all lines on our rails totaled only 65% of NP ownership. Now, however, more and more empties are becoming available.

2. SOS FROM WICHITA. The urgent need to move record grain crops struck earlier in the Southwest. There, equinoctial rains threatened heavy spoilage to harvested grain heaped high on the ground. NP boxcars had to answer this SOS. But soon we will be able to devote all our grain-moving facilities to the Northwest where ideal threshing weather plus streamlined combine crews have advanced the normal harvest deadline by more than a full month.

3. PITTSBURGH CALLING. There's another big harvest in America today—the canning of fruits and vegetables. But you can't can without tin plate, which must be moved in boxcars from eastern steel-producing areas. And that's another reason why fewer boxcars are available for hauling grain. But you can bet on this. Whenever a boxcar unloads in a grain-producing area—be it tin cans, builders' hardware or farm equipment—she goes back packed with grain!

4. LOST WEEKEND. But what's this? A precious NP boxcar standing idle? How come? Well, it seems most everyone (except farmers and the railroads) operates on a 5-day week. Result: hundreds of NP boxcars are stopped dead in their tracks from Friday afternoon until Monday morning waiting to load or unload. What can we do about that one? The Office of Defense Transportation, Shippers Advisory Boards and the railroads are urging all shippers to stagger the work weeks of their loading crews.

5. TIME OUT FOR REPAIRS. On V-J Day freight trains never even stopped for breath. This summer the railroads actually loaded more boxcars than during peak wartime days. Preparing for this terrific postwar drain we've built as many new cars as steel and lumber shortages permitted (7,000 boxcars since 1940). We keep boxcars rolling when they obviously need a rest; those that must be repaired we rush through our shops in record time.

6. BACK ON MAIN STREET. Nobody is happier than we are when a boxcar goes back to work on Main Street. Hauling grain has always been one of our best sources of revenue. We need that revenue today just as badly as grain shippers need our cars. No wonder we are doing all we can to speed the movement of Northwest grain in this greatest of all great crop years! Our patient patrons will soon see the results of these efforts.

QUALITY SERVICE at QUANTITY PRICE

READ WHAT ED KOHLS OF OMAK SAYS

QUALITY in electric service means UNIFORM FLOW of current 24 hours a day the year around . . . WELL-BUILT AND MAINTAINED lines from power plant to your community and home . . . EXPERIENCED, COMPETENT STAFF always at your service . . . QUICKLY RESTORED SERVICE when storm or disaster causes unavoidable interruptions.

PRICE in electric service is what you pay for the electricity you use. The average residential cost to Washington Water Power customers is only 1.47¢ per kwh. Compare this with the 2.05¢ paid by the average P.U.D. residential customer in the State of Washington, as reported by the Bonneville Administration . . . and you will agree that in electric service business management counts—and counts for you! It is worth keeping.

A SELF-SUPPORTING, TAX-PAYING, BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

"Since the P.U.D. was voted in, in Okanogan County in 1936, we taxpayers have paid $146,000 in taxes to support its activities and since the P.U.D. has been operating the electric system we are continually being taxed $24,000 annually to make up a deficit. There has been no rate reduction under P.U.D. operation and interruptions to electric service have been longer and more frequent. Extensions to serve new customers have not been made as quickly under P.U.D. ownership. The plan of the P.U.D. to reduce rates and improve service has not materialized. What is the difference—well, under W.W.P. Company management the Company paid $18,000 annually to the County—under P.U.D. we taxpayers pay $24,000 in taxes to the P.U.D."

Too Much Sense

Those who forecast that the demise of the OPA at the end of June would result in immediate and uncontrolled inflation, showed insufficient faith in the wisdom of the American people — and in the efficiency of the production and distribution machines which serve them.

Prices, of course, rose in many instances. This was due in a number of cases to the elimination of government subsidies — the consumer simply starting to pay all the costs out of his pocket at the time of purchase, instead of the government paying part of his living costs through taxes. In other cases, some OPA prices have been too low, and increases were justified and inevitable. But in no instance did the upward spiral go on and on without end.

One reason for that is consumer resistance. The average American isn't a sucker. If prices for certain commodities go too high, he simply goes without them or buys substitutes.

Another reason is a slow but definite increase in supply in many basic lines. As more goods enter the free market, the opportunities for the black marketer and chisler diminish. They prosper only in an economy of scarcity.

A third reason is the fine work done by small merchants in voluntarily doing their best to control prices, stopping hoarding, and limiting purchases by customers. On the whole, retail merchandising is amazingly free of profiteering greed.

We believe you will find that since the return of OPA, prices have risen faster than they did during the month when there was no OPA — for then the chislers hesitated to increase prices due to public sentiment. When legalized by OPA they do not fear this public feeling.

Vet Mail In 42 Languages
 An American Legion survey of the Veterans Administration disclosed the astonishing fact that correspondence in 42 different languages is being received by that agency.
 Spanish predominated in the foreign language mail, with Italian a runner-up. Veterans Administration translators, however, handle Arabic, Japanese, Chinese, Croatian, Hindustani, Persian, Icelandic, Hawaiian, French, Portuguese, German, Russian and many other foreign language communications.
 Foreign language letters arrive not only from veterans of American armed forces, but from their heirs, beneficiaries or dependents. Other foreign language mail includes medical reports and legal documents regarding claims and other benefits gained for veterans by the American Legion.
 Experiments by an Illinois farmer have revealed that from 340 to 350 squirts from a cow result in a gallon of milk.

Short Duck Season

The shortest duck season in many years has been ordered for 1946 by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Idaho's dates will be October 26 to December 9. That is a spread of 45 days, compared with 80 days last year.

"Population of most species of wild ducks has declined within two years from a peak of 125,350,000 in 1944, to 80,000,000 — a dangerous level," said J. A. Krug, secretary of the interior, in announcing the seasons and regulations. "With a 36 per cent decrease in ducks, coupled with a 50 per cent increase in the number of hunters from 1944 to 1946, we invite disaster if we dig any deeper into our breeding stocks."

Bag limit of ducks has been reduced from 10 a day and 20 in possession to seven a day, and 14 in possession. Bag and possession limit for geese is two. Only one wood duck may be shot in a day or kept in possession.

Not only will the season be shorter, but the the shooting time each day will be reduced, according to the new regulations. It will begin one-half hour before sunrise and end one-half hour before sunset. Last year the shooting day ended at sunset.

The usual regulations on hunting methods will be continued and strictly enforced. Shotguns must not hold more than three shells, including barrel. Live decoys and baiting are forbidden. Federal duck stamps are required of all hunters 16 or older. Hunters 12 and older must have a state license. Children under 12 may not carry a gun in the field.

How Idaho will fare on the duck migration in this year of scarcity is unknown. Scattered reports from the field indicate an average crop of local ducks that will keep hunting lively during the first week or two — even though the flight from Canada promises to be light and late.

Good Campaign Literature
We believe that a thorough and complete explanation of the present sugar situation would be one of the finest campaign literature that either political party could present. It might not make much impression in the big cities, but in the rural communities it would be read with avid interest — and might mean the throwing of many hundreds of thousands of votes to one side or the other.
