DIGEST OF THE RECENT PEABODY SCHOOL SURVEY

Does Reorganization Mean Elimination of All Small Schools? — No. A reorganized district becomes one administrative unit with one board, one tax levy, and a professional superintendent. Combining districts doesn't necessarily mean doing away with a neighborhood or community school. — But, local schools may be maintained wherever there is need for a school. Schools that are natural community centers may be preserved and still become part of a larger district. This larger administrative unit would broaden the tax base, increase the educational opportunities of children and provide better professional leadership.

Are Small High Schools Expensive? — Small high schools are Idaho's most expensive schools. In 1945-46 the average annual cost per pupil was as follows: Fewer than 50, cost per pupil, $209.25; 50 to 149 pupils, $167.85; 150 to 299, $145.62; 300 to 2,000, $122.85. Usually small high schools offer very limited opportunities to pupils. They cannot afford to offer agriculture, vocational home economics, trades and industries, distributive education. They are seldom able to offer instrumental and vocal music, art, a wide choice of sciences, and many other educational opportunities that pupils should have. Yet, they are the most expensive schools in the state.

Who Pays The Cost? The major burden of the cost of education is borne by the local county and school districts. In 1944-45 the state paid only 17 cents out of every dollar for operating schools. The neighboring states assume a greater share of the cost of operating schools, as follows: Washington, 63 per cent; Utah, 43; Oregon, 32; Wyoming, 32; Montana, 21; Idaho, 17. According to the Idaho Constitution the state must provide equal educational opportunities for its youth. This can be done only by providing greater support from the state level.

Do All Children Have Equal Educational Opportunities? Educational opportunities are measured in part by the ability of school districts to provide good schools for all children. Look at the difference in wealth of two school districts in one county: District X has $6,717 valuation per teacher; District Y $970,520 valuation per teacher. Average for the state is $103,000 valuation per teacher. District Y has 144 times as much wealth per teacher as district X. The Idaho Constitution states that it is the duty of the Legislature to "establish and maintain a general, uniform and thorough system of public free common schools."

Property Valuation Trend — In the year 1917 the state assessed valuation was $444,875,675.00; in 1921, $502,305,903.00; in 1934, $372,635,966, and in 1944, $411,893,675.00. So in the years 1917 through 1944 the highest assessed valuation was in 1921, and the lowest in 1934. Is it reasonable to believe that the total property values in 1944 were below the 1917 level and only 11 per cent above the valuations in the depths of the depression? And since the largest portion of school income is dependent upon property tax, should not the method of appraisal be re-examined?

Is All Property Contributing Its Share of the Cost of Education? — In Idaho the local school district assumes the greater part of the burden of school support, but there is a great variation in the rate of tax levied for this purpose. For example: Property carrying heavy tax load (assessed valuation with 20 or more mills of tax for school support) $158,862,800. Property carrying a light tax load (assessed valuation with 1 to 10 mills for school support) $66,583,868. And, assessed valuation with no school tax $2,338,215. So we see that if this $68,922,083 of assessed valuation were carrying its share of the tax load, the high levies on the other property could be lowered.

Expenditure Per Classroom Unit: In 1939-40 Idaho ranked twenty-ninth among the 48 states in the amount spent per classroom unit. But, take a look at the rank of her neighbors: California, rank 2nd, expenditure, $3,500; Nevada, 8th, $2,300; Washington, 10th, $2,200; Oregon, 17th, $1,800; Wyoming, 18th, $1,800; Montana, 22nd, $1,700; Utah, 24th, $1,700; Idaho, 29th, $1,400.

Supervision of Building Construction: Idaho has no school plant specialist responsible for supervising construction of school buildings. As a result: Children's lives are endangered. Out of 207 buildings of two or more stories, 109 have either wooden stairs for fire escapes or no escapes at all. Two hundred sixty-nine schools were reported having outdoor privies and 54 secure drinking water from springs or streams. A total of 257 classrooms were reported having windows in front of pupils or on the wrong side; 284 classrooms were reported having improper window shades; 173 buildings were reported using bare electric bulbs for artificial light, and 76 schools were reported having classrooms in poorly lighted basements.

Cost of Pupil Transportation: The major cost of transportation is on the local district. In 1944-45 the total cost of transportation was $988,270.00. The minimum program allotment was $338,334.00, so the cost of transportation to local districts can assume this cost; poor districts cannot.

Idaho Teachers Salaries: Idaho teachers are poorly paid, the average salary being $1,626.00. The average salary paid to teachers in

Snow And Cold Continue

The snow and cold which hit this territory last week has continued almost unabated, although rising temperatures, beginning Sunday evening, have been welcomed.

Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock snow began falling, and when we say falling, we mean just that for by the time it had ceased Monday morning, seven inches of the soft, white stuff had been added to what was already on the ground, for a total of 8 1/2 inches in the canyon, and up to 14 inches on the ridges.

The state snow-fighting crew, consisting of Ed. Long, Ed. Brown and Emulus Brown "made a night of it," working in shifts, and all state maintained roads were open and ready for the school busses Monday morning.

The storm was evidently quite general, for Ed. Long reported seven inches of new snow at Arrow and seven at the end of his section on Big Bear ridge.

Jack Kuykendall, city marshal, had quite a busy week-end and Sunday, too, as he reported using the city thawing machine on 15 homes.

Almost all roads are open to travel, but are icy and slippery, and chains and caution are urged.

Has Book Of Poetry Published

Edna James Kayser well known here by her maiden name, Edna James, daughter of the late Rev. A. E. James, has just had a book of poetry, "Sunlight and Shadow" published by the Avalon Press of Rogers, Arkansas. Some of these poems have been published in twenty-five different national poetry magazines. Lilith Lorraine, editor of "Different" and founder-director of The Avalon National Poetry Shrine, has written the Foreword to Mrs. Kayser's book.

Mrs. Kayser has studied poetry under Lilith Lorraine of Rogers, Arkansas, and is at present studying under Lucia Trent, Litt. D. of San Antonio, Texas.

An original scrap book of Mrs. Kayser's poetry and art work has been placed in Avalon National Poetry Shrine. This is a cultural center of contemporary art and poetry work. An article written by her has also been placed in the Literature files of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League (Missouri Synod) for reference material, at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

With her permission we reprint the following:

"An Equal Heir"
I wander down the maple lighted street

To watch the men with courage in their eyes,

Who warmly clasp the hand of all they meet

Reminding me of my lost paradise.

Their smiling faces help me realize That I can greet a more resplendent dawn,

Within the circle of their friendly ties,

And grieve no more for kinsmen who are gone.

I am a refugee, to carry on The dreams bequeathed the people over there,

Now patterned on a greener, spacious lawn

In the land where I became an equal heir.

I am surrounded by prosperity Because America is kind to me.

—The above poem by Edna James Kayser was given the Carl Durst Award in "The Chipmunk" at Shreveport, Louisiana.

Give To "March Of Dimes"

A most vigorous participation in the effort and a most generous response in the March of Dimes campaign for 1947, is urged upon the people of Idaho by Gov. C. A. Robbins in one of his first statements after taking office last Monday morning.

"In the past, Idahoans have distinguished themselves by their record of sympathetic reaction to all humanitarian activities," said Gov. Robbins. "This is a wonderful opportunity to apply our energies in a worthy cause."

The March of Dimes must be greater than ever, because Idaho has spent $32,000 for the care of polio patients last year, including $4,000 advanced from the National Foundation, because of depleted county

How much LIGHT is enough to read a newspaper?

It's good to settle down with your favorite newspaper when you have better lighting at your elbow for easier, smoother seeing.

Under modern lighting you'll be seeing more and seeing faster without straining your eyes or inviting fatigue. And eye comfort is important. For reading or writing... wherever eyes are called on to see quickly and surely... try a three-light lamp that brings you 100-200-300-watt lighting in a single bulb.

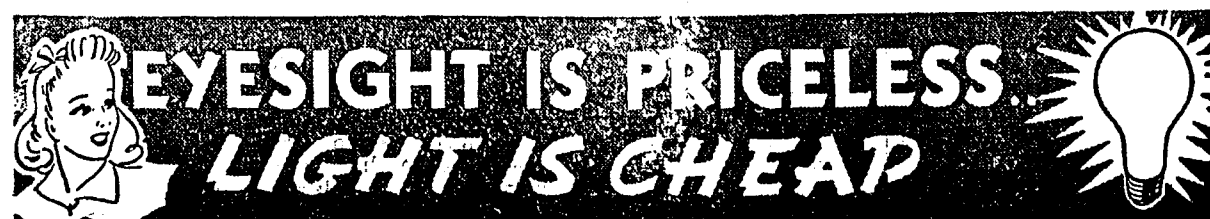

You owe it to your eyes to find out about better lighting now.

Don't sit on good light. Outdoors in shade, natural light gives better than 1000 footcandles.

You can get free advice and helpful suggestions on how to improve your home lighting by calling The Washington Water Power Company.

funds. Fifty percent of the funds raised remain in the county where they are raised, with the remaining portion going to the National Foundation—and this program must go on wherever an emergency exists.

The 1946 epidemics were the greatest in history, with over 25,000 cases being reported. The average cost of treatment per victim is computed at close to $1,200.00.

Keep Box Approach Clean

From Fred Stedman, local postmaster, comes the following information on what to do when snow and ice hinder the rural carriers:

"Patrons should promptly remove obstructions, including snow, which render it difficult or impossible for the carrier to deliver mail to boxes without alighting from his vehicle.

If not cleared within a reasonable time, the delivery by carrier may be withheld temporarily until the approaches have been cleaned. "Carriers are not required to perform service on foot when roads cannot be traveled with the conveyances ordinarily used by them."

W. S. C. S. To Meet

The W. S. C. S. of the Community church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Craig, with Mrs. R. H. Easterbrook as co-hostess.

This is the regular monthly business meeting, and all are cordially invited.

Kendrick is your home town — and mine. Support it with your loyalty as well as your trade — and it will repay you.

Some of the ladies from our community attended the shower honoring Mrs. Gordon Harris, Friday afternoon. We know words could not express the thanks she felt — but it was only a way for us to show our sympathy.

Mrs. Roy Martin and children returned to Lewiston Saturday to re-enter school, after spending the holiday vacation here.

George Finke, Jr., returned Saturday from his trip to the coast.

Our school board — Helen Cowger, Mary Laurence and D. V. Kuykendall attended a trustees meeting held in Orofino Saturday.

The Abner Cowger family spent Sunday evening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jennings, Southwick.

The W. A. Cowger family took Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carter to Lewiston Friday, where they began their return trip to their home in California.

To Fight Tussock Moth
Coeur d'Alene — Destruction of $47,000,000 worth of timber in north Idaho next summer is threatened by a Douglas fir tussock moth infestation. An ambitious project of spraying 350,000 acres with DDT from airplanes is held by J. C. Evendon, of the Federal Bureau of Entomology and plant quarantine, as the only feasible possibility of control.

No New Plates Till February
Boise — Idaho 1947 license plates will not be available until February 1. The 1946 plates do not expire until March 31. The new plates, adorned with the figure of a skier, and carrying the words "Vacation Wonderland," are reported as much in demand.

Watch That Wiring

Pointing the way to better living through adequate electric wiring in homes and offices, local electrical dealers and representatives of The Washington Water Power company are urging home owners to take stock of their electrical wiring needs and adjust to the new demands placed through the quickened tempo of modern appliances.

They have reported that installation of radios, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines and numerous other electrical appliances of recent years, has created too heavy a load on wiring and outlets once intended for lighting purposes only, and has made the traffic of electricity along those lines a factor in need of careful attention.

Alarm has been expressed over the indication from recent national polls that only 5 percent of America's homes have adequate wiring, and has compared home wiring to highways, that need constant re-planning and repair to keep up with increased speeds and load weights.

"Too many homes include wiring designed for electrical loads of the horse and buggy days," electrical men have stated. "And war-time restrictions have prevented proper wiring of many new homes in the past few years." In some instances there have been as many as 15 appliances served from one outlet, constituting both danger and inconvenience.

The bright spot on the horizon, however, spring from the knowledge that the time has come when something constructive may be done about such a serious drawback to better living. It has been pointed out that industry, striding forward in this post-war era, now stands ready with both new ideas and coming adequate supplies to give aid to the housewives and house owners who wish to bring their homes up-to-date, and make them better and safer places in which to live.

Arrest Record Hits New High
James O. Beck, director of the state fish and game department, reported today that 913 arrests for violation of game laws were made

NOTICE OF LETTING

Sealed proposals will be received by the Commissioner of Public Works of the State of Idaho, at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works in Boise, Idaho, until two (2) o'clock p. m. on the 17th day of January, 1947, for constructing the roadbed, drainage structures and a crushed rock surface course on 2,990 miles of the Kendrick-Troy Road, Brady Gulch Section known as Idaho Federal Aid Project No. S-75(1) in Latah County.

Proposals will be opened and publicly read at the above stated hour. Plans, specifications, form of contract, proposal forms and other information may be obtained at the office of the Bureau of Highways, Boise, Idaho and from James Reid District Engineer at Lewiston, Idaho.

A charge of five dollars ($5.00) will be made for each set of plans, payment to be made by check payable to the Department of Public Works, State of Idaho.

All proposals must be made on the forms furnished, and must be signed by the bidder with his name and postoffice address.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals, or to accept the proposal or proposals deemed best for the State of Idaho.

No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by an acceptable proposal guaranty in an amount not less than 5 per cent of the total amount of the proposal. This guaranty may be in the form of (a) cash, (b) a certified check or cashier's check drawn on an Idaho bank made payable to the Commissioner, or (c) a bidder's bond.

Prospective bidders shall be licensed in the State of Idaho by the State Contractors License Board, except on projects involving Federal Funds. The successful bidder on projects involving Federal Funds shall obtain such a license before the contract will be executed, as provided in Subsection 107.02 of the Idaho Standard Specifications, Edition of 1941.

Bidders will be required to submit a letter attached to the proposal giving a complete list of uncompleted work upon which they are presently engaged in Idaho or elsewhere. The proposal may be rejected if this information is not submitted with the proposal.

No bids will be eligible for award except those from contractors who are ascertained to be experienced and responsible.

The Idaho Bureau of Highways may reject a proposal, after due consideration, if the evidence revealed by questionnaire and other factors indicates the bidder is incapable of performing the work contemplated to the satisfaction of this department within the time limit as specified by the proposal.

The Idaho Bureau of Highways may reject the proposal if past work performed by the bidder for this department has been unsatisfactory, either from the standpoint of workmanship, or progress, or if he has work under contract which is incomplete and which may, in the judgment of the Director of Highways, prevent completion of the work herein contemplated, within the time limit specified.

It is the purpose of the Director to build the improvement in the shortest time consistent with good construction. Necessary equipment and an effective organization will be insisted upon.

The attention of the bidders is directed to Section 108.01 of the 1941 State Standard Specifications covering subletting or assigning the contract.

The minimum wage paid to all unskilled labor employed on this contract shall be $0.85 per hour. The minimum wage paid to all intermediate grade labor employed on this contract shall be $1.00 per hour. The minimum wage paid to all skilled labor employed on this contract shall be $1.25 per hour. Dated 30 December 1946.

in 1946. The number of violators taken to court was the largest annual total in the history of the department. A year ago there were 628 arrests.

"The year of 1946 may be described at the best or worst, depending on the viewpoint," Beck commented. "Conservation officers were diligent in their enforcement. They have done their duty well. In that respect it has been a good year. On the other hand, the increase in violations of fish and game laws has been deplorable. A large number of hunters and fishermen have shown rank disregard for all the rules of sportsmanship. Their attitude, sorry to say, has been to get all they can while nobody is looking. As long as this feeling prevails it is discouraging to produce more fish and birds. Officers will continue to arrest violators in carrying out the enforcement program, which is one of the foundation stones of conservation."

Violations of fishing regulations were most frequent in 1946. There were 386 charges in that category. Others were: 211 for big game; 274 for birds, and 32 for fur.

George caused his teacher so much trouble that she wrote to his mother: "Your son is one of the brightest boys in school, but also one of the worst behaved. What shall I do with him?"

Back came the mother's reply: "Do whatever you think best. I'm having my own troubles with his father."

A little colored boy was sitting slumped down in a chair with his feet resting on top of the table, when his mammy came into the room and said: "Lord, you sho' is a lazy boy. Youse zackly like yo' pappy. Thank de Lord I didn't marry dat man."

PEABODY SURVEY

the nation is $1,786 (estimated). Idaho's neighboring states are employing Idaho's teachers because they pay higher salaries. The average paid to teachers in Idaho and in neighboring states are: Washington, $2,303; Oregon, $1,997; Utah, $1,869; Montana, $1,723; Wyoming, $1,630; Idaho, $1,626.00. So we see that Idaho cannot hope to attract and hold competent teachers without increasing salaries.

Do Teachers Remain Long Enough To Do Effective Work? — In Idaho a school may have an entirely new faculty every four years. Look at the teacher "turnover" in 1945-46: Thirty-nine per cent of the teachers were new in present positions; 20 per cent were serving the second year in present positions. Thus 59 per cent of all Idaho teachers have served two years or less in their present positions. Principals and superintendents change positions almost as frequently as teachers.

Do Teachers Plan To Continue Teaching? — Only 45 percent plan to continue teaching; 55 per cent plan to quit, according to their own statements. Here are the reasons given by the teachers: "Salaries are too low"; "There is no security"; "Married women are not permitted to teach"; "Plan to earn more in another state"; "There is no opportunity for advancement"; "Living conditions are poor."

Are Idaho Teachers Well Trained? — No. The accepted standard in the nation is four years of college for all teachers. Of approximately 4,000 teachers employed in Idaho only 34.5 percent have college degrees or better; more than 50 per cent have two years or less of college education. Furthermore, nearly all of Idaho's adequately trained teachers are in the high schools. Judging by the four-year college standard, 91.3 per cent of all the elementary teachers are below the national qualifications.

Are The Offerings Of School Adequate? — The majority of schools have offerings which are much too narrow to meet the interests, hopes, aspirations, problems and capacities of pupils. Idaho is an agricultural state, yet in 1945-46 only 24 schools offered agriculture. Every girl needs some knowledge of homemaking, yet 39 schools are not able to offer this work. Many youth will have to begin earning a living when they leave high school, yet only a few schools offer work in trades and industry, and only one offers training in salesmanship. Every pupil needs to know how to care for his body, yet only one pupil out of every 14 in high school is taking a course in health.

Who Controls The Certification Of Teachers? — The state legislature and the State Board of Education. Certificates are issued both by the State Department of Education and by the State Normal Schools. The requirements for these two agencies are different. For the state certificate, the requirements are determined by the legislature and the State Board of Education; for the normal certificate, the requirements are determined only by the State Board of Education. The usual practice in the nation is for the legislature to delegate to the State Board of Education the full responsibility for determining all requirements for certificates, and to have only one certifying agent.

It is our suggestion that if you are really interested in this report—and you should be, that you pick up a complete copy at the high school and read it!
