P-T. A. MOMS AND DADS PERFORM AT STYLE SHOW

A big crowd turned out Tuesday evening to witness the P-T. A. fun program put on by the Moms and Dads of the local organization.

Madamoselle DePeache (Tom Keene) just returned from "gay Paree" had with him a group of celebrities, who modeled the latest fashion creations — those Milady will be "wearing" in 1948! (We hope not).

Madamoselle DePeache, a buxom lass, gave a few pertinent remarks about each model as "she" introduced them, describing their garments and showing how it was suited to their personality. As each was announced they tripped across the stage to the lilting music of the piano, furnished by that famous pianist, Madame Octave (Dick Coulter).

First came that demure little Miss, Shirley Temple (Ira Foster) wearing an afternoon frock. Then jaunty Clara Bow (Don Miller), who swished around in an "elegant" bathrobe. She was followed in turn by Lena Belle (Rev. Coulter), who gracefully modeled a three-quarter length evening gown. She was followed in turn by a clever mother-daughter ensemble worn by Madamoselle and Estrella (Supt. Nutting and son).

Following that came the darling of Hollywood Betty Grable (Don Damarell) with her gorgeous "gams," flashing beneath a street dress as she danced across the stage to the delight of everyone present.

Not to be outdone by Miss Betty, that vivacious chatter-box, Vera Vague (ever looking for a man) made her appearance, peeking out from under a divine picture hat (Manning Onstott). To add color to the scene, Lena the Hyena, (Fred Stedman) made her appearance, dashing across the stage with her bright red curls waving in the breeze. Then exotic "Tokyo Rose" (Frank Abrams), straight from the Orient (and prison) minced daintily about before the assembly.

But that lovable star of the silent picture days, Mary Pickford (Lester Crocker) captured the hearts of everyone in a sweet little afternoon dress. Her triumph was short-lived, however, for as she turned to leave the stage, something slipped, and her darling pink unmentionables came slithering down to the floor. The sympathy of the entire crowd went out to her in no uncertain terms.

To add variety to the revue Mme. DePeache brought forth a model clad in a daring bathing suit, a style forecast for popularity in 1948, which was modeled by that scintillating gossip Gracie Allen (Bill White).

That jaunty well-known figure for the past century, Lydia E. Pinkham (Claude Jones) held everyone's interest as she ambled across the floor in a forest green dress — almost the color of her famous potion.

The final number was glamorous Hedy LeMar (Roy Ramey) who held everyone's spell-bound attention with her regal beauty as she modeled a pair of orchid silk lounging pajamas. A negro minstrel followed, with the mothers dressed as darkies from the "deep south," singing old favorite negro spirituals in a group, with Mrs. Herman Schupfer at the piano. Special numbers were a trio by Mesdames Floyd Millard, George Brocke and E. M. White; a tap dance by a cunning pickaninny, Mrs. E. A. Deobald, and Old Black Joe, (Mrs. Roy Ramey) singing "Open The Door Richard."

Then the whole group danced the Virginia Reel, so popular in the deep south. Mothers taking part were the Mesdames Jasper Nutting, Herman Travis, Wm. Holt, E. A. Deobald, D. A. Christensen, Lester Crocker, J. H. Coulter, Floyd Millard, George Brocke, E. M. White, Roy Ramey, Jack Maynard and A. O. Kanikkeberg.

Ralph Joslyn Meets Death

Boise, Idaho, Mar. 23 (AP) — Ralph Joslyn, 24, Boise, drowned and Jane Meyer, 23, Emmett, escaped death last night when an automobile driven by Joslyn, veered from the Boise-Idaho City highway and plunged into the turbulent waters of More's creek, swollen by the spring run-off.

Joslyn was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. Joslyn of Boise. His father is secretary-treasurer of the Morrison-Knudson Company, a construction firm.

Miss Meyer was reported "resting well" tonight at St. Luke's hospital in Boise.

Boise county and Ada county sheriff's officers were searching the stream tonight for Joslyn's body after recovering the automobile.

The accident occurred about 18 miles south of Idaho City. —Spokane-Man-Review

Mr. Joslyn was very well known here, having taught last term in the local high school. It is with real regret that residents will learn of his untimely death.

KENDRICK TIGERS WIN THE NORTHERN DIVISION CROWN

For the fourth consecutive year the Kendrick Tigers won the Northern Division Class B Basketball Championship crown by defeating Plummer at Coeur d'Alene Saturday evening before a crowd estimated at from 1,600 to 2,000 people, standing room being at a distinct premium.

The opening game at the Division tournament at Coeur d'Alene Thursday evening saw Kendrick romp over Post Falls 42 to 28 in the opening class "B" game, after the ball-stealing tactics of Herb Millard, Kendrick forward, broke up a tight defensive first half — and upset play after play planned by Post Falls.

Post Falls held a 17-16 lead at the end of the first half — a period marked by numerous personal fouls and some close defense work by both teams.

Midway in the third quarter, Forward Herb Millard, assisted by Ray Easterbrook, launched a ball-hawking campaign which shook Post Falls confidence and netted Millard high scoring honors with 14 points, with Ray Easterbrook adding another 11 points — and once the Tigers started rolling, the pan-handle quintet was unable to stop the tide.

Clarence Marshall with 10 points and Paul White with nine were high for Post Falls.

Friday Evening's Play
Friday evening's play saw Genesee matched with Plummer for the 7:30 game — a game which saw Plummer defeat the Genesee Bulldogs 33 to 28.

By this defeat Genesee was removed from district play, to meet Post Falls in a consolation game Saturday afternoon — while Kendrick and Plummer moved to the finals Saturday evening.

Saturday Play

(By Jordan Kanikkeberg)
In the Saturday afternoon consolation tilt, Genesee won from Post Falls by a three-point margin, with two overtime periods being required to settle the issue.

In the 7:30 championship game, Kendrick downed Plummer 32 to 21 — to capture their fourth consecutive North Idaho Class B championship crown.

The first quarter opened slowly with the Tigers scoring first on a tip-in by center Frank Dammarell. From there on Kendrick was in control of the game and were never headed. Nelson, Plummer center, made the first Plummer tally on a fast break. The Tigers missed many shots in the first period, and while Plummer was able to get but few shots, due to close, deep checking by the Tigers, they made them count and the first period ended: Kendrick, 8; Plummer, 7.

Easterbrook opened the second quarter with a one-handed pusher from the key-hole. Neither team was able to score very much in the second period, however, the Tigers put in two field goals and a pair of gift tosses while Plummer garnered a single basket and a single free throw. At the half-time Brocke was leading the Kendrick scoring with 5 points, and Nelson topped the first-half for Plummer with 4. Half time score was: Kendrick 14; Plummer

Plummer scored first in the second half to move within two points of the Tigers, but Brocke countered with a fast-break lay-in for Kendrick, and the team went on from there to lead 21 to 16 at the three-quarter mark, with Miller, Dammarell and Brocke controlling both back-boards.

Millard opened the final period with a gift toss, and the Tigers moved out to a 10-point lead. With the Tigers intercepting many passes and checking deep, they held the Plummer Pirates scoreless for the first 6½ minutes of the fourth stanza. The final score, with Kendrick on top, was 32 to 21, with Plummer making only two field goals and one free throw during the final eight minutes of play.

Score by quarters, with Kendrick leading throughout, was: 8 to 7; 14 to 10; 21 to 16 and the final 32 to 21.

G. Brocke led the Kendrick scoring with 11, followed by Millard and Dammarell with 7 each. Eaton was tops for Plummer with 6.

After the final game, that between Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston, for the "A" Division crown, the championship trophies were presented to Coeur d'Alene and Kendrick, and the Runner-up awards to Lewiston and Plummer. The trophy presented to the Tigers was accepted by Dee Miller, captain, who spoke a few words over the loud speaker and Coeur d'Alene radio station. Gold miniature basketball were presented to the Champions, with silver awards going to the "Runners-up." As each individual award was given out, the player receiving it was given an opportunity to say a few words.

A yell leaders award was given to the Coeur d'Alene High school yell team, composed of two girls and a boy.

Genesee and Kellogg won the afternoon consolation games, with Genesee going two overtime periods to edge Post Falls 33 to 35.

Leave For Twin Falls

The Tigers left early Wednesday morning to take part in the state tournament at Twin Falls, going in the cars of Edgar Dammarell, George Brocke, E. M. White, Floyd Millard and Ross Armitage — in each case the driver's wife accompanied them. The Tigers will meet Moreland, south Idaho regional champs, on Friday and Saturday nights for the state title. A third game will be played in case the two teams split on Friday and Saturday nights.

The Kendrick team is in excellent shape with the possible exception of Herb Millard and George Brocke, Jr. The former is suffering from a slight "charley horse" received in a rough shape under the basket in the finals at Coeur d'Alene, and the latter from a small boil on one leg.

Coach Armitage expressed the opinion that these two stellar performers would be in good shape by the time the finals of the state begin.

The coach feels the players will be in better shape if they go one day early and get a chance to re-day from the stiffness resulting from a car ride of nearly 400 miles. Plans now call for a work-out on the Twin Falls floor Thursday afternoon to become acquainted with game surroundings.

Armitage feels that the Tigers played much better ball several times during the season than at Coeur d'Alene. The floor and lights were excellent at the pavilion at Coeur d'Alene, but the seating capacity could not handle the crowd that final night. The officiating was excellent, and the hospitality of the north Idaho city left nothing to be desired.

The high scores the south Idaho teams have been piling up are rather astounding, and, although no basis of comparison exists, the higher scores from the regional class B tournament in south Idaho would seem to favor the Moreland squad, Armitage said.

"The boys are primed to do their best," Armitage said. "They are looking forward to the trip and hope to bring the championship back to north Idaho."

Funeral Services For Mrs. Long
Funeral services for Mrs. Flora Lenna (Grandma) Long were held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. from the Kendrick Community church, with the Rev. J. H. Coulter as officiant.

Mrs. J. H. Coulter, accompanied by her son, Dick, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Sunset and Evening Star." Pallbearers, all old-time friends of the deceased and the family were: Honorary — Walter Cook, K. L. Brocke, Archie A. May, L. J. Herres, Paul Lind and John Darby; active — L. A. Wallace, Lester Crocker, R. L. Blewett, Frank Nesbit, E. A. Deobald and Wade T. Keene.

The packed church and multitude of floral offerings gave mute testimony to the high standing Mrs. Long held in this community. The services themselves, were exactly in accord with her wishes.

Interment was in the Mountain Gem Abbey in Lewiston, by the side of her husband.

Short's Chapel, Moscow, was in charge.

Idaho Club To Make Change

It will not completely correct the unbalanced ratio of men to women students at the U. of I. — 2,700 men to 800 women — but addition of 118 women next fall will help.

An increase in Idaho co-eds was assured when the university administration decided to transfer the Idaho club from a men's to a women's residence, starting next fall.

"This shift is the university's first step to correct the three-to-one ration of men to women students," explains H. E. Lattig, director of student welfare.

Last fall the university was forced to turn down applications of nearly enough women students to fill the Idaho club because living quarters were not available.

This method of meeting the women's housing problem is temporary. Just as soon as building conditions become more favorable, a new, permanent women's hall will be constructed. No state funds will be needed, since it will be financed by a bond issue to be retired with room rentals. Seven of the eight dormitories now on the campus have been financed this way.

Brick Through Church Window

The Church of the Nazarene, Juliaetta, bore the brunt of an attack by Saturday night merry-makers, the resulting damage was a large and valuable plate glass window broken, and interior damage from falling glass.

A friend of the church has offered $25.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who broke the window.

In Appreciation

We wish to express at this time our sincere thanks to all who so willingly and generously assisted us during the illness and passing of our dearly beloved mother, Flora L. Long. — The Long Family.

According to information received here Ossie Kanikkeberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Kanikkeberg, has been named as a member of the U. of I. baseball team. Congratulations, Ossie.

About Flour-Bin Weevils

Ever have any weevils in your flour bin? If you have had, you know it's a much easier job to keep them out than to get rid of them.

H. C. Manis, chief entomologist at the U. of I., Moscow, says you can usually keep them away by a very careful cleaning of all bins and other containers about once every three months. Be sure to get all the flour out of the crevices and scrub the bins with hot, soapy water. This makes it much more difficult for the weevil to get started. Also it's a good idea to check up and make sure there are no other breeding places near the flour containers where the pests can get started.

If your bin is full of flour and you must save it, here's how: Sift the flour carefully, and then raise the temperature to 170 degrees. This can be done most easily in the oven. Keep the temperature at 170 for several hours and stir the flour occasionally to keep it from scorching. If you remove your bin, dump the flour and then fumigate the bin, do not put it back into use for at least two weeks — and then only after a very thorough airing, preferably in bright sunshine.

Production Line Is Adapted to Farms

Mechanical Age Proves Benefit to Agriculture

The production line generally is considered to exist only in city factories but many farmers today have borrowed a leaf from industry's book by putting their grain handling operations on approximately the same automatic basis.

A by-product of the electro-agriculture age, a system of this nature is applicable to both small and large farms. Here's how it works: Grain-laden wagons are driven into the barn or adjacent to a building in which the produce is to be stored. Stationary or portable elevators,

DDT Proves Effective In Destroying Typhus Louses

DDT is deadly to the typhus flea, as well as to the typhus louse. Epidemic typhus is carried by the body louse, and DDT first made a world reputation by checking epidemic typhus that threatened the Italian city of Naples. Endemic typhus is transmitted to man by several kinds of fleas that live most of their lives on rats. Department of agriculture research shows that DDT is deadly to these fleas and tests show that it may sometimes be easier to kill the fleas than to kill the rats.

To control endemic typhus, the first emphasis is always on eradication of the rats that are infested by the carrier fleas. But rat eradication has always proved difficult. Research reported by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine shows that it is possible to kill nearly all of the typhus-carrying fleas in a rat-infested building by dusting rat holes, rat runs and cellar floors with DDT.

Harry K. Gouck, who developed these findings, has also devised an ingenious, simple, inexpensive and effective way of helping the rats to dust themselves with DDT and so get rid of their dangerous fleas. He rolls building paper to form a 3-inch cylinder. Inside the cylinder, he arranges a strip of folded cheesecloth containing DDT powder so that it lies along the wall of the cylinder. He leaves several of these cylinders in a raty cellar or infested room. Rats naturally run through such tunnel-like arrangements and as they pass under the dusted cloth along the top of the cylinder they get enough DDT to kill the fleas on them.

This blower - equipped hammer mill can be fed from overhead bins and later re-elevate the ground feed into adjoining bins, located over the mixer.

powered by electric motors as small as one-third horsepower (although one or, preferably, two horsepower motors are recommended by most agricultural specialists) raise the grain into bins located above the grinder and mixer. Electric hoists often are used to tilt up the front end of the wagon, allowing the grain to pour out of the end gate into the elevator hopper.

Unground grain flows by gravity through chutes to a blower-equipped grinder, which blows the ground grain back into another overhead bin, from which it again gravitates by chute to the mixer. Mixed feed is either fed out immediately, sacked, re-elevated into storage bins or blown directly into the feed lot. Tests show that one man can unload 40 loads of corn per day, or a load of grain in from two to three minutes, with an electrically operated elevator.

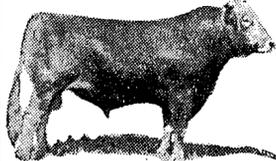

Scalding Latest Technique In Drying Wet Dishes

If you are an average homemaker, you probably wash six tons of dishes in a year, estimates Mrs. Ethel Self of Kansas State college, who recommends some shortcuts in this Cinderella task of the kitchen.

Dishes may be rinsed in scalding water, placed on a dish drainer and allowed to dry by themselves. It is only necessary to dry silver and glassware. A tall tomato juice can which has had the bottom perforated toward the outside with small nail holes makes a handy drainer for the silverware. A wooden disc with small holes bored over its surface and slipped into the base of the can will keep the silver from being scratched. This can, containing the silver, can be immersed into the scalding water and lifted out again, saving burned fingers.

Tongs may be used for lifting dishes out of the scalding water to place them on dish drainer. Plenty of good hot sudsy water and boiling hot rinse water will leave your dishes actually much cleaner than when dried with a towel.

Know Your Breed Brown Swiss

First importation of Brown Swiss into the United States was in 1869. The breed is well adapted to intensive dairying conditions. Brown Swiss, due to their ruggedness and ability to consume large quantities of coarse roughages as well as their carcass value, are an ideal general farm breed.

The milk is white and the fat globules of medium size. The average test is 4 per cent butterfat.

Brown Swiss are second only to the Holstein in size among the dairy breeds. Mature cows will weigh about 1,850 pounds. They are heavier muscled, blockier and more fleshy and angular than other dairy breeds.

Inoculate Soybeans

To Get Ride of Weeds

The best way to help soybeans stay ahead of weeds is to inoculate the seed. The presence of large numbers of effective bacteria right from the start enables the young plants to draw nitrogen from the air for faster growth.

They quickly fill the row and shade the ground, preventing weed growth, conserving moisture, and lessening the need for cultivation. The effectiveness of soybean inoculation was demonstrated at an eastern experiment station. The inoculated test plots matured into a highly profitable crop due to better stands, aided by abundant supply of immediately available nitrogen.

How to Overcome Soft Corn Winter Problem

While putting whole corn plant in a silo offers the most satisfactory method of preserving maximum feed value. If silo capacity is insufficient, the ears may be snapped and made into ear corn silage which will keep well and produce about the same amount of beef. If the soft corn is not put in a silo, it will be advisable to use one of the improved artificial methods of drying the corn.

Remove Fruit Stains

Hold the kettle high when using boiling water to remove fruit, coffee or tea stains. The added force given to boiling water when poured from a height of two or three feet makes it more effective in driving out stains. Place the stained fabric over a large bowl or bucket on the floor, then pour boiling water from a kettle held several feet above. It is difficult to remove stains after they dry, so treat them at once if possible. Boiling water is one of the simplest remedies to use, if it doesn't hurt the cloth. Even warm water may remove the stain. However, never use soap. The alkali in it may set the stain and cause the removal to be even more difficult. If boiling water doesn't take out all the stain, use a mild bleach such as sunshine, hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate.

Come, Come, Eleanor!
We have no desire to pick on the former first lady who recently said: "Russia hasn't started any wars." Nor have we any desire to pick on Russia. With all due respect to said lady and Uncle Joe Stalin, however, we think the facts of history should not be tossed around so carelessly. Russia has started wars — ask Finland. That doesn't make her unique, since many other nations, including our own in 1846, have been guilty of the same offense. But to keep the record straight it should be remembered that Stalin's non-aggression pact with Hitler in 1939 helped set the stage for World War II.

During 1939 England and France had worked belatedly but desperately to prevent war by organizing a "Stop Hitler" bloc of nations around Germany, Turkey, Romania, Greece and Poland joined but Moscow refused. This refusal spurred the Nazis to go ahead with their war plans. Just one week after the Russo-German non-aggression pact was signed the Nazis rolled into Poland. And the Russians came in from the other direction. Shortly thereafter Stalin's troops took over the three Baltic states and then attacked Finland when the Finns balked at the Russian ultimatum. President Roosevelt left no doubt that he thought Russia the aggressor. That's the record, despite the good lady's views to the contrary.

Big Game Doing Nicely
Big game in the Selway region of northern Idaho is enjoying an unusually mild winter, and reports for a large 1947 calf crop are good, says an Idaho Fish and Game department report.

Snowfall is lighter than usual, and most south slopes are bare. Elk and deer are moving freely to fairly high levels and appear to be finding plenty of browse without concentrating on winter feed areas. Because game is widely dispersed and can move about freely, there has been little loss to predators.

It is very fortunate that the winter is mild, says the report, because there was an alarmingly large kill by hunters last fall. If a severe winter had followed that heavy harvest the outlook would have been serious. The weather has certainly given the game a good break.

A STRONG AMERICA BEST HOPE OF WORLD PEACE

The new U. S. army is maintained on the national belief that the best insurance of peace is an able force of men in a state of preparedness. Although the United States is more than willing to participate in world disarmament, her armed forces must be preserved until that time when world disarmament begins as an actual fact — until that time when there is no longer the danger of either another Pearl Harbor attack or a disruption of our committed policies and duties in occupied territories overseas.

This was the announcement yesterday of Recruiting Headquarters, 6th Army, Presidio, of San Francisco, which called upon the citizens of America to back up the preparedness program by according the professional soldier who is performing a necessary service for his government, the stature and importance which is his due.

A high percentage of the membership of our new regular army at present are high school and college graduates, the announcement pointed out. The army needs many more men of this type, to be trained and become career officers and non-commissioned officers. They now have adequate pay, security in employment and in retirement, but they lack one thing — the all important thing — acceptance by our citizenry of their stature and importance, which dignifies their profession to the point where they can announce to the world: "I am a professional soldier, and proud of it!"

At the same time recruiting headquarters announced that hundreds of partially disabled veterans of World War II, who were wounded in combat, are being given an opportunity to participate in the essential task of keeping America strong. Hundreds of army jobs, falling into 103 different categories are now open to them, not as a sympathy move, but because of the conviction that they can perform a satisfactory job. Of the 103 MOS, only 23 require previous, qualified experience. Applicants who meet the revised physical requirements will receive training in the other 80 MOS.

Any price is too high if it can be reduced

Jawler McBurnett

International Harvester announces $20,000,000 price reductions

We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods that people buy.

The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry. Not all business can reduce prices now. Not all can reduce by the same amount.

Our company has felt a duty to act as promptly as possible. In our case, the business outlook now makes it possible to move toward the goal of lower prices. The only way out of the vicious circle of higher and higher prices is to break through.

We have taken this step not because of present competitive conditions nor because of a drop in demand from customers. We have taken it because of our belief that ANY PRICE IS TOO HIGH IF IT CAN BE REDUCED.

These reductions, which will save the users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year, will become effective before April 1, and will apply to a selected list of tractor, farm machine, motor truck, and industrial power products. Since we lose money on a few of our products, and barely break even on some others, these reductions will not apply to our entire line. Reductions will be made individually on products. Some will be cut more than others. Exact details will be announced as soon as possible.

Our ability to maintain this lower level of prices will depend in part on what happens to the prices and flow of materials that we buy from others. Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks that are involved.

prices had not gone up as much or as fast as many others

Here are Average Price Increases since 1941

All Manufactured Products (U. S. Government Reports)	63.7%
Metals and Metal Products (U. S. Government Reports)	41.2%
Motor Trucks	35%
Industrial Power Products	34%
Farm Machines	25%

These benefits to customers will depend, too, on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels. This is not a program that can be carried out if it is hampered by strikes or work stoppages.

Our employees have had substantial increases in pay, and wage questions are currently being discussed with many of the unions with which we deal. Stockholders have recently had an increase in dividend rate. Having considered the interests of these two groups, we are now making these price reductions for the benefit of the third group—our customers.

Business, to our way of thinking, has a social as well as an economic responsibility. This company has long followed the policy of operating in the interests of three groups—its customers, its employees and its stockholders. The duty of the management is to see that equal justice is done as between the three groups.

This price reduction program is another demonstration of our policy in action.
