Invited To Attend Meeting All persons interested in the promotion of travel and tourist business to North Idaho, are invited by J. Harry Lucas, president of the North Idaho Scenic-Land association, to attend a special meeting of that crganization Friday, Sept. 10, at 10:30 a. m. at Moscow.

The meeting will be held just ahead of the special natinal affairs meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commence. ber of Commerce. Lucas said there would be a discussion of plans for the future, including a winter membership campaign, advertising for next spring, and the publication of a road map of the 10 northern counties.

Sunday Hottest Day Of Year Sunday was, without a doubt, the hottest day to date this year, with the mercury hitting 92 degrees during the afternoon, staying there from about 2:00 until 4:30.

Temperatures begain raising Friday, and continued upward until the "heat" of Sunday. Monday was cooler, a high of 83 being recrded. Farmers have certainly appreciated the "heat wave" and most of them took full advantage of Sunday to keep the combines whirring and the grain trucks on the roll. Many more days such as Sunday and Monday are needed to "cure" beans and clover. Let's hope we get

Lots Of Rain On Coast In renewing his subscription for the Gazette Bill Mattoon, now of Graham. Wash., says: "We are having plenty of rain, in fact it rains almost all the time. I have all my grass hay in the barn but the oats are still in the field. Guess I will have to pasture them as the ground is so wet I don't think they would cure if I cut them — but I have plenty of hay, anyway."
