WHAT STONY POINT FOLKS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Wins At Portland International
Eugene Heimgartner, 12, Juliaetta, Tuesday, October 5, proved himself to be the northwest's best junior producer of ham on the hoof. His fat barrow was judged grand champion of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition swine show at Portland.

Eugene's Chester White barrow first topped his breed division, and returned to cop the purple rosette and the grand champion title, according to the Associated Press at Portland.
Eugene, on Wednesday, sold the fat barrow that won him grand champion 4-H honors at the Exposition, receiving $556.00, or $2.65 a pound for the animal he raised on his parents' Juliaetta farm.
Eugene and the other 4-H club members from Nez Perce county who attended the Portland show arrived home last Thursday.

Getting Something For Something
A man who has had a lot of experience with the unemployment compensation program has been wondering why, as he puts it, "we can't get something for the dollars that are paid out to the unemployed." Maybe his proposal is too simple to be understood by government, but he suggests that when Joe Doakes becomes eligible for unemployment compensation and there is no work in his particular classification, that he be permitted to cut a few weeds along the highway right-of-way, do some odd jobs at the county warehouse, or help the city clerk get caught up on the work that seems to pile up.

The recipient of unemployment compensation would then be doing something for what he receives, the city, county or state would be getting something for it, and possibly there would be an added incentive to get back to work and off unemployment compensation.

But, probably most important of all would be the self respect that the recipient of the compensation would be able to maintain. It would take away that "dole" feeling. — Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

FEEL THAT WORLD CHURCH WORK CAN BRING PEACE

Post-war conditions over the world present many new and difficult problems to the churches. These problems offer a great challenge to the churches through their very solution. In the solving of these questions of common interest the churches are gaining a new strength and unity.

This was the crux of the message brought from the Assembly of World Council of Churches meeting in Amsterdam, as presented by Wesley F. Rennie, associate general secretary of the International Y. M. C. A., before the Council of Churches and Christian Education at its monthly luncheon meeting last week at Seattle.

"Against a background of ancient splendor, the World Council of Churches convened in Amsterdam during the festivities honoring the fiftieth anniversary of the reign of Queen Wilhelmina. While we were attending receptions in that great city, honoring those in attendance at the Assembly, it was as though war had never happened to disturb the serenity and solidarity of the city until one talked with the people," stated Rennie.

"Then one realized that, despite the gala decorations and illuminations on all sides, life was hard for the majority of the residents of the city and the inhabitants of that plucky little country. As one listened to the reports from those in attendance at the Assembly, concerning the needs of the people in the war-stricken countries, it was to understand a little better the multitude of serious problems the war had left as an aftermath for the Churches to work out."

It was reported at the Assembly session that at least 15,000,000 people, the majority of them Protestants, have been rendered homeless and friendless in various European countries by the war.

"Giving assistance to these people is something the churches cannot sidestep," Rennie pointed out. "Nor do the churches desire to escape from this great responsibility. It presents a wonderful opportunity to them and their people to put Christian ethics into action."

What is equally important is that the churches are being brought closer together than ever before, finding that in "union there is strength" in the working out of many affairs.

"The Amsterdam meeting of hundreds of Church representatives from over the world was an impressive sight and a great step forward toward world unity and world peace," he added. "It will take many such meetings and time to do the great task of assisting in re-charting life for millions of war refugees through Church aid. They have already accomplished much in this direction. I would heartily recommend that every church member in this area read the documented minutes and happenings of the Amsterdam Assembly and study them well. In that way they will get an idea of the future plans of the World Council of Churches, in which in time the churches of Washington and northern Idaho will be asked to participate."

Europeans Interested In Idaho
Boise — Europeans of all nationalities continue their interest in Idaho, Earl W. Murphy, secretary of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce said, pointing to the following letter from Charles H. Freuler of Zuerich, Switzerland:

"My wife and I are interested in the living conditions as private citizens in your state. We have the promise for immigration to the United States of America and wish to establish in a nice neighborhood where there is a possibility for hunting and fishing. We would build a home near a town with good communications, hospital, stores, etc. I am living from my fortune now, which is already in the United States."

Displaced persons, too, are seeking information about Idaho, Murphy said. The movement of displaced persons to the United States will begin next month with a few farm hands and garment workers. Later on she-makers, woodworkers, masons, carpenters and other skilled tradesmen will be brought to America. Murphy said he did not know how many of them would reach Idaho.

About This Time Of Year
Wife: "I shall miss you while you are on your hunting trip."
Husband: "Thank you, dear."
Wife: "And I shall pray that all the hunters you are going with will do the same."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS S. J. R. NO. 5

"Shall Section 6 of Article XVIII of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows: "Section 6. County Officers.—The legislature by general and uniform laws shall, commencing with the general election in 1950, provide for the election biennially in each of the several counties of the state, of county commissioners, a sheriff, a county treasurer, who is ex-officio public administrator, a probate judge, a county assessor, a coroner and surveyor. All taxes shall be collected by the officer or officers designated by law. The clerk of the district court shall be ex-officio auditor and recorder. No other county offices shall be established, but the legislature by general and uniform laws shall provide for such township, precinct and municipal officers as public convenience may require, and shall prescribe their duties, and fix their terms of office. The legislature shall provide for the strict accountability of county township, precinct and municipal officers for all fees which may be collected by them, and for all public and municipal moneys which may be paid to them, or officially come into their possession. The county commissioners may employ counsel when necessary. The sheriff, county assessor, county treasurer, and ex-officio tax collector, auditor and recorder and clerk of the district court shall be empowered by the county commissioners to appoint such deputies and clerical assistants as the business of their offices may require, said deputies and clerical assistants to receive such compensation as may be fixed by the county commissioners."

S. J. R. NO. 6

"Shall Section 3 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows: "SECTION 3. QUALIFICATIONS OF OFFICERS.—No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant governor unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years at the time of his election; nor to the office of secretary of state, state auditor, or state treasurer, unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-five years; nor to the office of attorney general unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and have been admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the state or territory of Idaho, and be in good standing at the time of his election. In addition to the qualifications above described each of the officers named shall be a citizen of the United States and shall have resided within the state or territory two years next preceding his election?" Which election shall be open at eight (8) o'clock in the morning and will continue until seven (7) o'clock in the evening of the same day. Dated at Moscow, Idaho, this 2nd day of October, 1948. BESSIE BABCOCK, Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners in and for Latah County, Idaho.

Are Enjoying Mill Trip
Lewiston — Many visitors to the North Idaho Scenic land are enjoying a conducted tour through the Clearwater mill of Potlatch Forests, Inc., largest pine sawmill in the world. They are given a booklet showing the route of the tour and a general description of the process. Most spectacular part of the trip is through the main sawmill, which cuts enough lumber every eight-hour shift to build 35 to 40 average homes. About 80 carloads of logs reach the 310-acre pond every day in addition to a river drive of 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 feet each spring. Visitors are shown the Presto-log plant, planing mill, unstacker building, loading docks, dry kilns, box and crate factory and the guelug machine which can produce in two minutes a wider board than nature could grow in 200 years.

Potlatch Chief Sez

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

HELLO, FOLKS —

About Lockers:

If you have been hunting or are planning on going hunting and need a locker, stop at the creamery. We have three different size lockers available at popular prices — $8.00; $10.00 and $12.00. Why waste space and money by renting a large locker when a small one would fit your needs?

Also, by paying for your locker one year in advance you are allowed a 10 percent discount. Take advantage of this saving and get your locker at the creamery.

We have a large variety of locker supplies available, too, such as cellophane bags, locker paper and string.

About Happiness:

Here are six ways to Happiness! Healthy people are happy people, so keep healthy and be happy by serving Potlatch Chief Butter, Eggs, Ice Cream, Milk, Cream and Cottage Cheese at you table daily.

Heard Again:

Drawing a deep breath the drill sergeant faced the particularly awkward new enlistee. "Look here," he barked. "I don't mind when you turn to the right when I say left; I don't mind you turning up on parade with your jacket unbuttoned; I don't even mind when you drop your rifle, but" — he glared in silence at the shivering culprit before he added: "But for the love of mike, will you stop saying, 'Sorry, my dear?'"

Today's Quip: "Cutting prices on today's market is a good deal like trying to cut off part of the cat's tail without hurting the cat!"

Remember: Always ask for "Potlatch Chief" Dairy Products by name. It is your assurance of quality.
