SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Tigers "Robin" Runners-up
Frank Dammarell, captain of the Kendrick High school basketball team presented the trophy won by the team at the Round Robin play in Genesee Saturday evening, to Leonard Roberts, Student Body president. Roberts accepted the trophy and wished the team many more victories, and told them he hoped that this would not be the only award he would accept from them this season. Kendrick won second place, losing to the hard-fighting Lapwai Wildcats.

The first game in which Kendrick participated was with the Polkatch Loggers, the Tigers winning by the close score of 8-5. Don Millard, guard, was top-scorer with three.

The second game was with the Genesee Bulldogs, long-time rivals of the Kendrick team. The rivalry showed up in the scoring with a large number of points coming from foul shots. Top-scorer was Eugene Brocke with six points.

The final tussel was between Lapwai and Kendrick, with the Wildcats being the victors, the final score reading 5-16. The Tigers fell far behind when they failed to score a single basket, all their points being made from free throws. Frank Dammarell, team captain, led with a score of two.

Don Farris, Lewiston, presented the trophies to the winning and runner-up teams, with Frank Dammarell accepting for the Tigers.

Tigers Win From Trojans
The Tigers invaded Trojan territory Friday night at the Troy High school gym., with both "A" and "B" teams coming home victorious.

Luther Parks began the scoring for the Tigers, sinking a basket in the first minute of play from the free throw line.

The score at the half was 21-11 with the Tigers taking a 10-point lead. The final score was 45-31. Dick White, forward, was the top-point man of the evening with 18. Top men of the "B" squad were Parker McCreary and Stanley Smith, both having nine points. The final score in this tussel was 33-27.

He also had with him a display of lamps and candles and light globes that have been used throughout the country in store windows to explain the story of light. There were actual replicas of the light bulbs that have marked the history of electric lights.

Members of the Pinochle club had asked the Millards to show some of their movies at a get-together that evening — so it was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Millard when the group started singing their congratulations and removed the screens which hid a beautiful lace covered table, centered with a three-tier wedding cake.

A gift of sterling candle sticks was presented the honored guests at the close of the evening.

Pay Huge Tax Bill

Latah county tax collector Edna M. Theriault, received a check for $17,185.18 on Tuesday, Dec. 14, representing the first half payment of the Washington Water Power company's 1948 property taxes. Full payment to the county for the year will amount to $34,370.35, a 21.5 percent increase over last year.

Total tax payment by the W. W. P. Co. in nine Idaho counties for this period amounted to $180,536.68, according to V. S. Casebolt, Moscow district manager, who presented Edna M. Theriault with Latah county's payment.

"The company's total property tax in Idaho for 1948 will be $364,253.61, a 6 percent increase over last year," Casebolt said. Major portion of the increase is due to new property construction by the W. W. P., which was added to the tax rolls this year, he explained, and also due to a general increase in the tax levies by the various taxing districts.

Following is the amount of property tax paid Tuesday to eight other Idaho counties in which W. W. P. has sizeable holdings: Benewah, $8,302.67; Bonner, $1,528.15; Clearwater, $6,122.25; Idaho, $9,205.19; Kootenai, $59,332.14; Lewis, $4,764; Nez Perce, $50,299.17 and Shoshone, $23,797.39.

Snow Continues To Fall

Snow, which began falling Sunday of last week, is still with us, and more is being added daily.

Heaviest fall came on Wednesday of last week, blocking roads on American ridge, and at Southwick, and forced the American ridge school bus to travel but a portion of its route Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and stalled the Southwick bus Thursday.

Snow fighting equipment of the Kendrick Highway district, plus a bulldozer, opened up American ridge, and Nez Perce county opened the Southwick road.

Since that time the state snowplow and that of the Kendrick Highway district have been operated almost continuously — day and night, and had roads in very good shape, although they were slick from icy snow, until Tuesday of this week, when a day-long snowfall, plus wind on the ridges, again threatened to close the roads.

In Kendrick we have about four inches on the level ground, while on the ridges the depth ranges from 18 inches to three feet!

TWENTY ATTEND KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

Nineteen business men and farmers sat down to a steak dinner at the Kendrick Cafe Wednesday evening of last week, to be joined by one more at the business meeting which followed in the city hall.

Following the reading and approval of the Minutes of the previous meeting and allowance of bills, committee reports were called for.

The matter of the annual dues of the local Scout troop, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the first item considered. It seems that the Kendrick troop is assessed $150.00 as its share of national dues, and after a bit of round-table discussion the club voted to match the V. F. W. money of $50.00.

Next came a report of the Kendrick Volunteer Fire Department, made by Frank Abrams, who stated that Dick Cuddy, Walter Brocke, Jud Lee, Bill White, Gilbert Candler, Howard Hoffman, Bill Johnson, Jack Klundt and himself had driven to Asotin on the previous Sunday to inspect that town's new fire truck, and then came back to Lewiston to see a new truck under construction for Pomeroy at Gray's Auto Shop.

Mr. Abrams said that Mr. Gray expected to make delivery to the village about the middle of May, and until such time as a frost-proof building to house it could be built, the vehicle would be stored at Burt's Garage.

Continuing his report of the Volunteer Fire Department Frank said that Schupfer Brothers had donated to the village a lot adjoining the telephone office, to be used to build the fire truck building.

Tom Long, reporting for the Highway committee, stated that the maps of necessary right-of-way in the Kendrick Highway district and the village had been received, together with the necessary deed papers, and that a title search was now under way at Moscow preparatory to securing the necessary right-of-way. This title search is paid for by the state. Mr. Long estimated the search would take about ten days, and that after deeds had been secured some six to eight weeks would have to elapse before actual construction of the 1.1-mile link could begin.

Next came a discussion of the Annual Christmas tree and treats, and the date was set for Saturday, Dec. 18, at 2:30. The Merchant's committee, Dick Cuddy, Frank Abrams and Walter Brocke are in charge of this event.

Dick Cuddy then brought up the matter of getting a state traffic officer located in Kendrick, stating that Mr. Pierce, at present located in Lewiston, liked Kendrick and would prefer to live here should it be possible to effect his transfer.

The club thereupon passed a resolution asking that a state traffic officer be located here, and instructed the secretary to forward the same to Boise at once.

The matter of the December meeting of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce, originally scheduled for Kendrick, Dec. 15, but postponed, was taken under consideration, and the Chambers invited to meet here Dec. 22, for the annual legislative session.

Mr. Romans of the W. W. P. company was then introduced by H. C. Schupfer, and Mr. Romans presented to the club a talk on the "History of Light." He had with him exact replicas of all the lighting instruments known to man from 100 B. C. to the present. From 100 B. C. to 1800 there was but little change, all being open-wick jars containing olive oil or fats for fuel.

In 1800 the candle, as we know it today, made its appearance; in 1830, refined oil; in 1870 the coal oil lamp with its glass chimney; in 1879 the first electric light, as given the world by Thomas A. Edison, and so on, until our present fluorescent, neon and zeon tubes — infra red, violet ray, etc. Mr. Romans also had with him, and demonstrated to the group, the new "seeing eye" switch which is to be employed by the company to turn on and off street lights and other public lighting.

The talk was highly interesting and much enjoyed by the assembly.

At the close of the business session the club extended to Schupfer Brothers a rising vote of thanks for their donation of the lot on which to construct a fire department building. Adjournment was then taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd will make their home at Kendrick, where he operates Shepherd's Sawmill.

The money realized from this dance will be used to purchase fire fighting equipment — so don't be afraid to say "Sure" when asked to purchase a ducat.

Chattering Grousebeaks Here

A flock of about 75 Western evening Grousebeaks paid Kendrick a visit this week, and picked out the ash trees at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Long, to take up their residence. They have been on American ridge for about two weeks, and when food grew scarce, moved down where the snow isn't so deep and there was food. Small wonder they picked the Long's residence, for evidently the word is passed along in the feathered kingdom, about the goodies available at the bird feeding station there.

Mr. Long confesses she has a hard time getting her housework done now that the birds are here, for it's so much fun to watch the antics of their feathered friends.

The Western Evening Grousebeaks are gay and noisy, their predominating color being a mustard yellow. They are also mercenary little fellows and will move on, probably to Lewiston, when the food is gone here — but there will be others to take their place.

The feeding station is popular with many varieties of birds, the chief food being dispensed is sunflower seeds, and regular visits are made by the House and Purple Finches, Black Cap Chickadees, Juncos, Song Sparrows and the noisy Downey Woodpecker.

It seems that most birds know a good thing when they find it.

Snowed In

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harris and family, living in the Jones canyon on Big Bear ridge have been really snowed in the past several days. The snow is two feet deep on the level and no telling how deep in the drifts on the road leading to their home.

The Kendrick Highway district found it impossible to keep the road open, so the road crew will assist the family in moving to the Fairfield place, where they will spend the balance of the winter.

The move will have to be made by sled, and when search began for the necessary horses, it was found, to the amazement of everyone, that there was but one team on Big Bear ridge!

Birds In Danger Of Starvation

Reports coming into town from all the surrounding ridges indicate that what few Chinese pheasants there are in this territory are in danger of starvation, and feed should be distributed to them at once.

Farmers in the area state they are more than willing to feed the birds, provided someone pays for the feed — and this would seem to be a "job" for the state fish and game department, inasmuch as they are now collecting high license fees, fees for special hunts, etc., and have plenty of money to parachute beaver into mountain areas, etc.

GRAIN MARKETS SHOW UNSETTLED CONDITION

Wheat markets were unsettled during the past week, while feed grains, with the exception of barley and milo, made further slight gains at most markets, according to reports to the Department of Agriculture. The embargo on shipments to ports resulting from the longshoremen's strike, the closing of lake navigation and the announcement rescinding the plan to turn exports under the Marshall plan back to private traders, were the principal disturbing factors in the wheat market. Winter wheat prices made some slight gains but spring wheat dropped 2c to 4c per bushel, while corn advanced to the loan level in central western markets as arrivals became less burdensome. Light receipts were the strengthening influence in oats prices. Barley was somewhat weaker from the pressure of low quality offerings, and grain sorghums were in plentiful supply and the price declined slightly.

In the world wheat market, prospective supplies in the southern hemisphere are becoming an important influence. The 1948-49 wheat harvest has begun in Australia. The crop in that country is officially estimated at 189,820,000 bushels compared with 225,000,000 bushels for the previous year. Trade estimates place the Argentine crop at about 184,000,000 bushels which could make a total for these two countries of 373,820,000 bushels this season compared with 478,000,000 bushels last year. On the basis of official and trade estimates, exports of wheat from Australia and Argentina for the 11 months, December 1947, through October 1948, amounted to approximately 188,000,000 bushels. The president of the National Economic Council of Argentina has recommended that the government purchase this season's wheat crop at a price equivalent to $1.86 per bushel.

The Commodity Credit Corporation purchased 4,175,602 bushels of wheat; 1,037,500 bushels of corn and 500 bushels of oats during the period from noon of November 12 through November 19. Flour purchases last week totaled 17,640,000 pounds, equal to 504,035 bushels of wheat. Wheat purchases last week consisted of 1,550,000 bushels in Kansas City; 1,911,000 through Minneapolis; 278,942 through Chicago and 435,660 through Portland, Ore. Cumulative purchases since July 1, 1948, total: Wheat, 160,255,194 bushels; flour, 869,010,000 pounds (equivalent to 19,567,510 bushels); barley, 11,216,017 bushels; grain sorghums, 10,502,150; rye, 900,857; oats, 3,340,500, and corn 10,313,500 bushels.

Marketings of wheat were moderate but demand was rather slow. Milling inquiry was not particularly active and embargoes against shipments to ports limited buying by shippers and warehousemen. Prices of winter wheat, however, advanced 2c to 3c per bushel at most markets. At the close of the week No. 2 hard winter wheat sold at Chicago at $2.39 and at Kansas City at $2.31 per bushel. The closing of lake navigation reduced demand at Minneapolis and prices of spring wheat declined 3c to 4c per bushel, with No. 1 dark northern spring quoted at $2.35 to $2.38 per bushel. Rain and snow were beneficial to wheat in the western plains during the week and the crop, as a whole, was reported in a satisfactory condition. However, additional moisture is still needed in the western plains.

Offerings of cash wheat at Pacific Northwest markets were slightly improved over the past several weeks. Prices at the close of the week were up to a high for the week of $2.28 per bushel for ordinary No. 1 white or red wheat. However, at the close of the market prices to the country were down to $2.25 per bushel, the same price as a week ago. Milling demand was strong the first part of the period but was somewhat slower at the close. The Commodity Credit Corporation purchased 135,603 bushels of wheat during the six-day period. This makes their total purchases since July 1, 18,393,905 bushels. Feed buyers were light buyers as in other recent weeks. On the other hand, mill operation was much improved. A trade report indicated that local mills are operating at approximately 90 percent of capacity.

Receipts of wheat at the Columbia river markets during the week totaled 86 cars, and at Puget Sound markets 207 cars, compared with 80 cars and 455 cars, respectively, last week and 524 cars and 410 cars for the corresponding period a year ago.

Bid prices on the Portland Exchange were $2.24 per bushel for ordinary No. 1 white or red wheat, f. o. b. Portland.

The San Francisco wheat market held firm and prices were unchanged from a week ago. Offerings were light and demand only moderately active. California grown No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white was quoted at $2.34 to $2.37 per bushel at the close of the week.

The Pacific Northwest barley markets were slightly stronger during the week and No. 2 western barley, 45-lb. test, sold for $56.00 per ton. Market receipts were light and totaled only 53 cars, compared with 77 a week ago. A strong demand existed for good quality feed barley. Trade reports indicated that a considerable portion of the local barley is carrying a high moisture content. Offerings of Montana and Idaho barley were extremely slow, and good to choice malting barley continued to be a scarce item.

Safety Is Urged

In contemplation of the Christmas season Gov. C. A. Robins today urged the interest of Idaho's citizens in safety.

The Governor said: "One cannot think of the approaching holiday season without entertaining the hope that for everyone it may be a happy, joyous occasion. But the sobering thought that one's own carelessness or thoughtlessness may destroy that happiness for an entire family, or several families, ought to result in a determination to lend our best efforts to a campaign to reduce the hazards of holiday travel. And this applies alike to driver and pedestrian, for safety is such a personal thing. We all have a grave responsibility in this respect, and I'm happy to join in the current effort of the National Safety Council and over hundred other co-operating organizations to reduce this holiday traffic toll, by thus urging individual interest in it."

New Forestry Buildings

Henry Jones has been busy the past three weeks hauling sand and gravel and other items for the construction of two new state forestry buildings on the lots at the rear of the home of Mrs. Estella Leith, the ground being given by the village to the department.

There are to be two buildings, one 20x22 feet in size to be used as an office and sleeping quarters during the fire season.

The other is to be 40x44 feet in size, and will house the two state forestry trucks, pumper, tools and other equipment.

The buildings are to be of frame construction, with cement foundation and floors, and roofs of aluminum. Vern Specker, deputy fire warden from Craigmont, has been transferred here for a couple of months to help in their construction.

Coasting Popular

Coasting, one of winter's favorite sports, is on in full swing. The snow does not usually stay on long here in the canyon, but it is just right now, and the kids are taking advantage of the icy run-ways, to pile up thrills as well as spills.

Sunday and Monday evenings kids were tobogganing on the hill near Lukens' flat, and with a bright moon to light their way, were really having fun.

Christmas Party

INFANTILE PARALYSIS FIGHT COSTS ALMOST A MILLION

Boise — Idaho's fight against infantile paralysis, where one of the nation's greatest polio outbreaks occurred in 1947, has resulted in a $1,000,000 investment since the beginning of the March of Dimes campaign ten years ago.

Kenyon R. (Ken.) Bennett, Boise, state chairman for the 1949 March of Dimes drive to raise funds to battle the crippling disease, today announced the $1,000,000 figure.

During the last ten years, Bennett said, Idaho has sent to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a total of $249,448.23 for polio research and emergency money, retaining a like amount within Idaho's 44 National Foundation county chapters. Fifty percent of every March of Dimes collection is retained by the county chapter, he explained.

The National Foundation, however, has advanced during that time to Idaho's chapters a total of $732,863.59 as of November 30, 1948, to fight polio, care for patients and provide the expensive equipment required in treating the crippling disease — a 3-to-1 return.

Eighty percent of the $732,863.59 was spent by the National Foundation in Idaho since June, 1947, when Idaho suffered its most severe polio outbreak in history. More than 350 contracted the disease that year, and 114 during 1948, to date.

Mr. Bennett pointed out that the figures represent an expenditure of $2.00 per capita in Idaho in the last decade.

With county chairmen already selected and preliminary organization complete, Idaho's 1949 March of Dimes campaign will be launched on January 14, continuing through January 31.

About That Income Tax

Owing to the heavy postal service during Christmas and New Year, the head office of the Collector of Internal Revenue at Boise has released to the public, and has mailed, suitable Federal income tax forms to thousands of Idaho taxpayers as of December 1st. However, no return can be filed at any federal revenue office, or placed in the mail, before January 1, 1949.

One of the important changes in the 1948 revenue law is that form W-2 (the slip given to the employee by the employer) cannot be used as a tax return, but Form No. 1040-A or form No. 1040 must be attached. These federal forms may be obtained from any deputy and from most post-offices and banks.

Another change is that the personal exemption for 1948 is $600, instead of $500.00.

The exemption for dependents is $600.00, but any person earning $500.00 cannot be taken as a dependent. Also, under the new law, taxpayers who are or will be 65 years of age on the last day of the taxable year, are entitled to an extra exemption of $600.00.

Big Game Kill Terrific

Big game hunters in the Selway and Lochsa areas numbered a record 15,929 and killed the second largest total of deer, elk and bear in the past six years during the 1948 Idaho hunting season, Harry Palmer, Lewiston, second district conservation officer, reported this week.

The number of hunters has increased 500 percent, with the game kill up 100 percent since six years ago. The number of out-of-state hunters in 1948 was a ration of 1-to-16.

Kill totals were: Elk, 3,675 compared with 4,386 in the record year of 1946, and 1,851 six years ago; deer, 1,178 compared with 2,800 in 1946 and 1,071 six years ago. Bear killed numbered 77, compared with 99 in 1946 and 131 in 1943.

The Koonkia station led with 3,036 hunters checking through. Other stations were located at Deep Creek, South Fork, Weippe, Powell, Cedars and Lost Horse.

Don't Forget Your Taxes

Edna M. Theriault, county tax collector wishes to call the attention of everyone to the fact that Monday, December 20, is the final date for first half payments of taxes — and that two days delinquency will bring a 2 percent penalty and an 8 percent interest charge.

Tax payments may be made at the Farmers Bank, Kendrick, or at the court house, Moscow, or by mail.

In a case of this kind it will pay you to be prompt.

Practices Scheduled

No Snow At Pendleton

In renewing his subscription to the Gazette Verner Davis writes as follows:

"So far this winter (Dec. 10) it has been quite nice except for a lot of wind and rain. We haven't had any snow yet, but there is plenty to be seen on the Blue Mountains."

Add the final "touch of approval" to that Christmas dinner by serving fresh frozen vegetables and fruits from the display case at Biewett's Grocery-Market. Their "Bird's Eye" brand of course. 1-adv.

To Study White-tail Deer
U. of I., Moscow — Scientific studies of white-tail deer will be conducted by University of Idaho wildlife researchers, but the animals will not feel closely confined in the "laboratory" to be built for them. A thousand acres will be fenced off in the university's 7,000-acre experimental forest in the Moscow mountains, it has been announced by D. S. Jeffers, dean of the school of forestry, following approval by the board of regents.

The fish and game commission, under the Federal Aid to Wildlife Restoration Act, has approved a grant of $12,000 for the project, which will extend over several years. In charge of the project will be Dr. Paul D. Dalke, leader of the Idaho Cooperative Wildlife Research unit.

"When the fence is mostly up next spring, we will conduct a drive through the 1,000-acre area, clearing out all other big game except white-tail deer," said Dr. Dalke. "We expect to flush some mule deer, bear, and perhaps elk or two in the drive."

The wildlife expert explained that little research has been done previously in the northern sections on white-tail deer under controlled conditions. The Idaho researchers have the following goals:

1. Development of techniques to determine age classes of deer in normal herds. These techniques can then be applied to data collected during hunting season as to herd composition and therefore improved management.
2. Development of techniques to evaluate range conditions.
3. Determining the relationship of seasonal use of browse to nutritive value of key species.
4. Developing and improving upon census techniques now in use.

Invasion of Insects By Air Poses Threat Pests, Plant Diseases Survive Shorter Trips

Danger of invasion by undesirable alien insects grows apace in every agricultural country of the world as air transport, which is accounting for an ever increasing share of traffic, cuts the time of travel between them from days to hours, and as airplanes take over a larger share of traffic.

Pests that might not withstand a long sea voyage may survive the shorter air ride in good shape. Reaching new lands where conditions favor their development they soon may build up a strong colony that could become as costly as the Hessian fly, the European corn borer, the Japanese beetle, the codling moth or the cotton boll weevil.

The department of agriculture is charged with this country's defenses against the entry of dangerous foreign insects and plant diseases. Even toys have been found to be carriers.

Farmers must be sure that all mail and express from foreign countries have been inspected and passed free of any insects or diseases before being permitted on their land.

been centered in the breed in recent years because of the fact that the stallions are suitable for all types of farm work.

The breed has shown proper temperament, strength and resistance to disease, and while light in weight has proven an excellent draft horse. It is exceptionally strong, tame and docile.

Sexing of Baby Chicks Proves Difficult Task

Chick sexing is difficult to learn, and in order to become proficient it is necessary to receive expert instruction and to have considerable practice and experience with thousands of chickens.

Reliable authorities have stated that a student must sex at least 250,000 cockerels before the male genital eminence can be accurately recognized. The expert sexer appears to be endowed with a natural ability to recognize and classify the various types of genital eminence to be found in chickens, but accuracy is obtained only by regular practice, investigation of errors and a liking for the job.

Fertilizer Won't Solve Entire Farm Problem

Many farmers are inclined to use fertilizer as a crutch by attempting to make it substitute for good soil management.

Vital as fertilizer is, it cannot do the entire job. It must be backed up by other practices that add organic matter, build soil structure and boost crop yields.

New Insecticides Are Non-Poisonous to Bees

One serious cause of bee poisoning has been that bees have taken dusts containing arsenic and have stored this poison in combination with pollen in the hives. Arsenic remains permanently poisonous but newer insecticidal dusts and sprays, such as DDT, DN and D.D.D., are less dangerous to beneficial insects as the toxic effect will break down gradually.

Rats Equipped with Radio Aid in Behavior Studies

Laboratory rats with miniature radio receivers built into their heads soon may be providing psychologists with new information about the behavior effects of electrical stimulation of the brain.

By devising a way of "broadcasting" short wave impulses to rats, Dr. Joseph A. Gengerelli, associate professor of psychology in the University of California at Los Angeles, appears to have cracked a bottleneck which has long plagued investigators in this field.

Heretofore, electric stimulation of the brain required wiring the subject to a source of electricity. The direct physical connection necessarily restricted the subject's movements.

It was to overcome this objection, said Dr. Gengerelli, that he designed a means of stimulating nerves by radiant energy.

The rats are equipped with what is actually the receiving end of a miniature "walkie-talkie." Dr. Gengerelli "sends" to the rats by means of a small signal generator which emits short wave impulses of a very high frequency.

Rats and transmitter are enclosed in a pen equipped with "learning boxes" through which he animals run at will.

Speed of learning, retention and other behavior traits which might be influenced by electric shock can be observed under rigidly controlled conditions, Dr. Gengerelli said.

Take Precautions to Avoid Heat Exhaustion, Sunstroke

Heat exhaustion and sun stroke are two entirely different things, even though both may seem to result from exposure to high external heat. With heat exhaustion, the patient's skin is cold and clammy, while with sun stroke, the skin is hot and dry. A simple rule may serve as a guide and avoid confusion regarding he treatment. Briefly, it is this: If the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cool.

You can protect yourself against heat sickness by following these National Safety council recommendations:

Avoid overexertion, particularly in the early part of the heat wave.

Avoid too much exposure to direct sun rays or extreme indoor temperatures and high humidity; wear a hat while out of doors.

Wear light, porous clothing and avoid tight fitting clothes.

Increase the use of salt on food, or use salt tablets or salt in drinking water to offset the excessive loss of salt from the body through perspiration.

Drink water often throughout the day, one glass at a time.

Eat nutritious food but avoid overeating; vitamin C lost through perspiration should be replaced with fruit juices.

Get plenty of sleep and bathe regularly.

Avoid ice cold water and alcohol.

Short History of Portugal

Diminutive Portugal, through the efforts of Prince Henry, the Navigator, ushered in the age of the maritime discoveries. Her early sixteenth century monarch entitled himself, for very good reasons, Lord of the Navigation, Conquest and Commerce of Ethiopia, Arabia, Persia and India. Until 1822, Brazil was her colony. For many centuries Portugal has played a prominent role in European politics. As far back as pre-Christian times the Lusitanian Viratus acquired fame as leader in the resistance movement against the might of Rome. Crusaders en route to the Holy Land aided the still struggling Portuguese in eliminating the Moorish yoke. The eternal conflict with Spain, accompanied by its succession of wars, treaties and dynastic marriages, has on more than one occasion all but eliminated the little nation.

Refinishing Stained Oak

When it is desired to refinish stained oak, any old varnish should be taken off with paint and varnish remover. Then, all traces of the removers should be eliminated by a thorough wiping with benzine or turpentine. Be careful to avoid smoking and see that there is no open flame in the room while doing the job. Then use a prepared wood bleach, which is obtainable from paint dealers. When bleached to the desired tint and thoroughly dry, the surface then can be finished with clear varnish, lacquer, shellac or wax, or wax can be applied over the clear finish.

History's Storehouse in Washington

Since the National Archives was created by an act of congress in 1934, it has accumulated 840,000 cubic feet of "permanently valuable" records. Among them are more than one million photographs, 30 million running feet of motion picture film, 250,000 discs of sound recordings, more than 500,000 maps and charts and uncounted millions of individual documents. The first job of National Archives is to work with other governmental agencies and congress to decide which of the records now in existence should be kept indefinitely and when the rest may be destroyed.

Opened Historic Mine

Peter Hosenclever was one of the iron pioneers in New Jersey. He opened the Ringwood iron mines, but was a man of such expensive tastes that he more than spent the profits. However, Ringwood mines have been operated intermittently since 1763 and may yield 300,000 tons of ore a year with modern equipment.

The Truth About Advertising
William Wrigley, the Chewing-gum king, was riding in an airliner when his seat companion and friend said, "I just can't understand, Bill, why you keep pouring millions of dollars every year into advertising when everyone is already aware of your product."
Wrigley pondered briefly, then asked, "How fast would you say this plane is traveling?"
"About three hundred miles an hour," was the answer.
"Then," asked Wrigley, "why don't they just throw out the motors and let it continue on its own momentum?"

White Pines Being Watched
U. of I., Moscow—Three hundred and six white pine trees in three national forests — the Kaniksu, the Coeur d'Alene and the St. Joe — probably are the most closely watched trees in the whole state of Idaho. And the story they tell the watchers may play an important role in outwitting white pine blister rust in the rest of Idaho's far-flung stands of this valuable species.
On 475 limbs on these 306 trees are 1,349 blister rust cankers, all the result of artificial inoculation with blister rust spores by forest pathologists at the University of Idaho. The spores they used seldom travel more than half a mile to infect a pine. Another type of spore, however, may travel 400 miles in the air from diseased pine to wild currant or gooseberry bushes, host plants which are necessary in the spread of the disease.
The selected trees, in nine experimental plots, were inoculated between 1938 and 1942, as part of the state-federal white pine research program.
From the time the branches were inoculated they have been closely watched for data on how fast a canker grows and how long it takes to move to the trunk of the tree, which eliminates that tree so far as the lumber industry is concerned.

Ownership of Falklands Disputed by Three Nations
Possession of the Falkland Islands has been in dispute by Britain, Chile and Argentina. This disma archipelago was unheard of for a hundred years after Columbus discovered America. John Davis and Sir Richard Hawkins touched there, but no British landings were made until 1690. Thereafter sovereignty fluctuated between Britain, France and Spain. Argentina did not develop an interest in the islands until 1829, when she landed a few soldiers and colonists, maintaining them there until Britain expelled them in 1833.
The islands are bleak fragments of rock scattered off the eastern tip of South America. In theory they protected the Cape Horn passage and guarded the southern entrance to the Atlantic. However, in World War I they proved their overwhelming strategic importance.
In the Battle of Coronel, off Chile, Admiral von Spee had destroyed a British squadron under Admiral Craddock, dispatched to drive him from the Pacific. This seemed to open a way into the Atlantic and von Spee apparently determined to seize the Falklands. Unfortunately for him, he arrived a day too late, just as two great British battle cruisers the inflexible and invincible, sent by the admiralty to intercept him, had finished coaling. The ensuing battle was one-sided. Out-matched in speed and range, von Spee fought until his flagship went down with all hands under Admiral Sturdee's guns. Of the entire German squadron only the Dresden escaped. This action gave the British full command of the outer seas four months after the war started.

Air Force Accept Married Men
Married men may now apply for Aviation Cadet training under a policy recently announced by the United States Air Force.
Qualified men between the ages of 20 and 26 1/2 years, with two years of college education or the ability to pass an equivalent examination, in good physical condition, and with high moral and personal qualifications, now will be eligible for flying training, regardless of marital status.
The basic classes begin three times yearly, in March, July and October, extending 32 to 37 weeks, after which each class is divided for advanced twin-engine training and advanced single-engine training. The advanced training extends 15 to 20 weeks, to complete the year of Aviation Cadet training.
Graduates are commissioned second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and assigned to three years of active duty with the Air Force at a salary of approximately $4,000 a year. Outstanding graduates are offered a regular commission upon graduation and all graduates have the opportunity to be considered for one of the many regular commissions given each year.

Thin-Shelled Egg Problem
Research men have come to another conclusion about thin-shelled eggs. New studies, recently reported in veterinary journals, indicate that thin-shelled eggs are a natural penalty of heavy production. Investigating the problem of losses caused when soft-shelled eggs are broken in transit, research men have come to this conclusion:
The trouble may occur, not because of any lack of calcium in the feed, but because the hen's shell-making mechanism can't keep up with her production of egg white and yolks. When this happens, according to these investigators, it doesn't do much good to feed calcium to an over-worked layer. This not only fails to thicken the egg shells, but also impairs the hen's appetite. Even on a well-balanced ration, it seems the hen may lay thin-shelled eggs if she gets to producing too fast.

Many Wanted Admittance
U. of I., Moscow — Fourteen hundred out-of-state new students from all parts of the nation wanted to attend the University of Idaho this year, but only 250 were admitted under the university's selective policy, it was revealed in a report issued this week by D. D. DuSault, registrar.
The maximum possible enrollment with existing class-room and housing facilities was estimated at 3,700. Actual fall registration was 3,672. Under university policy, provision was made first to take care of all Idaho residents. In selecting new out-of-state students, priority was given to sons and daughters of University of Idaho graduates and to outstanding students desiring to enroll in forestry or mining, two fields in which there is an acute shortage in the state of university trained men.

Home Dry Cleaning of Rugs And Garments Is Hazardous
The three terms, gasoline, benzene and naphtha, are applied to hydrocarbon liquids that from a fire and explosion standpoint differs only slightly. At low temperatures they give off highly combustible vapors or gases which form mixtures with air that are decidedly explosive. They are the most hazardous flammable liquids used about the home.
Washing garments, rugs or other articles by immersing them in gasoline never should be done in the house under any circumstances because the gases or vapors may be readily ignited by a nearby stove or other source of ignition and because the friction of the garments being cleaned may produce a static spark sufficient to ignite the vapors or gases with serious, sometimes fatal, results.
If gasoline is used for such cleaning, it should be used out of doors in a place where fresh air is circulating freely. It is less hazardous to use a nonflammable cleaning liquid such as carbon tetrachloride or, better yet, to send the articles to a dry-cleaning establishment where the hazards of any cleaning are understood and where they are avoided by use of special apparatus.

Amino Acids
The amino acids are destined to play an important role in building new tissue and in speeding recovery for the patient in many types of surgery. They are chemical compounds which are capable of combining to form complex proteins. In human and animal digestion proteins are broken down into their amino acid constituents and carried unchanged by the blood to build tissue. Surpluses are converted into by-products by the liver to be used as a source of energy. The story of their discovery spreads over a century of persistent research by chemists and doctors in several nations. Recent work with both man and animal has shown that there are eight amino acids essential to men and 10 to most animals. Histidine, for example, is indispensable to the rat, as is glycine to the chick, but man thrives without either, since the human body can synthesize them.

Why Clothes Get Dirty
Textile scientists at the institute of textile technology in Charlottesville, Va., are trying to discover sound, scientific reasons why clothes get dirty. When these reasons have been found, better soaps and cleansing agents may be produced and more wear may be expected from many a garment. For example, if coffee stains stay in a tablecloth longer than prune juice stains, the scientists make elaborate tests to ascertain what chemical changes account for the difference. Some substances, such as grease or oil, make dirt penetrate deeper into the fabric or cling longer in it. The laboratory wants to know why, and how to remedy it. Every day, assistants in the laboratory run samples of various kinds of cloth through rollers that smear them with all kinds of "dirt." Then these samples are washed in a "laundrometer," a machine which duplicates washing conditions in a home or laundry. Finally, each sample is tested for color fastness, staining, shrinkage and resistance of the fabric to laundry action.

HELLO, FOLKS —

How Do You Like The Winter?

Watching people hurry up and down the slippery streets with their hands in their pockets and shoulders hunched up for warmth, makes one think that winter must be here.

Of course if we were bears and spent the winter in hibernation, we wouldn't have to worry about getting out our winter clothes, or preparing hot, nourishing, wholesome meals for the family.

And — Speaking of hot, wholesome meals — a good "lunch tip" is milk toast. It's simple, delicious when served with lots of piping hot Potlatch Chief Pasteurized Milk and topped off with a nice big hunk of golden Potlatch Chief Butter. Serve it to those hungry "younguns" of yours often. They'll love it!

Keep Stocked Up:
Be wise, and always keep well

Two battered old wrecks of humanity were sitting on a bench when one remarked: "I'm a man who never took advice from anybody."

"Shake, brother," said the other. "I'm a man who took everybody's advice."

The customers fled in a hall of bullets — all except an Englishman, who stood at the bar calmly finishing his drink.

"Well?" snapped the gangster, waving his smoking gun. "Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly were a lot of them, weren't there?"

The name "Potlatch Chief" is your assurance of quality.

Phil Bahr and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Arnett left Saturday for a short visit with relatives in and around Oakland, Calif. We understand they plan to be away about two weeks.

Snow "in these here parts" is from two to four feet deep, depending on whether it drifted or not — and more is falling as we write these lines.
